[15]Dost thou know how +God hath disposed them, and how he causeth the lightning of his cloud to flash?

[16]Dost thou know about the balancings of the clouds, the wondrous works of him that is perfect in knowledge?

[17]How thy garments become warm when he quieteth the earth by the south wind?

[18]Hast thou with him spread out the sky, firm, like a molten mirror?

[19]Teach us what we shall say unto him! We cannot order [our words] by reason of darkness.

[20]Shall it be told him if I would speak? if a man [so] say, surely he shall be swallowed up.

[21]And now [men] see not the light as it gleameth, it is [hidden] in the skies. But the wind passeth by and cleareth them.

[22]From the north cometh gold; with +God is terrible majesty.

[23]The Almighty, we cannot find him out: excellent in power, and in judgment, and in abundance of justice, he doth not afflict.

[24]Men do therefore fear him: he respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

38 And Jehovah answered Job out of the whirlwind and said,

2 Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loins like a man; and I will demand of thee, and inform thou me.

4 Where wast thou when I founded the earth? Declare, if thou hast understanding.

5 Who set the measures thereof -- if thou knowest? or who stretched a line upon it?

6 Whereupon were the foundations thereof sunken? or who laid its corner-stone,

7 When the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy?

8 And who shut up the sea with doors, when it burst forth, issuing out of the womb?

9 When I made the cloud its garment, and thick darkness a swaddling band for it;

10 When I cut out for it my boundary, and set bars and doors,

11 And said, Hitherto shalt thou come and no further, and here shall thy proud waves be stayed?

12 Hast thou since thy days commanded the morning? hast thou caused the dawn to know its place, 13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, and the wicked might be shaken out of it?

14 It is changed like the signet-clay; and [all things] stand forth as in a garment:

15 And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the uplifted arm is broken.

16 Hast thou entered as far as the springs of the sea? and hast thou walked in the recesses of the deep?

17 Have the gates of death been revealed unto thee? and hast thou seen the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Hath thine understanding compassed the breadths of the earth? Declare if thou knowest it all.

19 Where is the way to where light dwelleth? and the darkness, where is its place, 20 That thou shouldest take it to its bound, and that thou shouldest know the paths to its house?

21 Thou knowest, for thou wast then born, and the number of thy days is great!

22 Hast thou entered into the storehouses of the snow, and hast thou seen the treasuries of the hail,

23 Which I have reserved for the time of distress, for the day of battle and war?

24 By what way is the light parted, [and] the east wind scattered upon the earth?

25 Who hath divided a channel for the rain-flood, and a way for the thunder's flash;

26 To cause it to rain on the earth, where no one is; on the wilderness wherein there is not a man;

27 To satisfy the desolate and waste [ground], and to cause the sprout of the grass to spring forth?

28 Hath the rain a father? or who begetteth the drops of dew?

29 Out of whose womb cometh the ice? and the hoary frost of heaven, who bringeth it forth?

30 When the waters lie hidden as in stone, and the face of the deep holdeth fast together.

31 Canst thou fasten the bands of the Pleiades, or loosen the cords of Orion?

32 Dost thou bring forth the constellations each in its season? or dost thou guide the Bear with her sons?

33 Knowest thou the ordinances of the heavens? dost thou determine their rule over the earth?

34 Dost thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that floods of waters may cover thee?

35 Dost thou send forth lightnings that they may go, and say unto thee, Here we are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the mind?

37 Who numbereth the clouds with wisdom? or who poureth out the bottles of the heavens, 38 When the dust runneth as into a molten mass, and the clods cleave fast together?

39 Dost thou hunt the prey for the lioness, and dost thou satisfy the appetite of the young lions, 40 When they crouch in [their] dens, [and] abide in the thicket to lie in wait?

41 Who provideth for the raven his food, when his young ones cry unto [God], [and] they wander for lack of meat?

39 Knowest thou the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth? dost thou mark the calving of the hinds?

2 Dost thou number the months that they fulfil? and knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

3 They bow themselves, they give birth to their young ones, they cast out their pains;

4 Their young ones become strong, they grow up in the open field, they go forth, and return not unto them.

[5]Who hath sent out the wild ass free? and who hath loosed the bands of the onager,

[6]Whose house I made the wilderness, and the salt plain his dwellings?

[7]He laugheth at the tumult of the city, and heareth not the shouts of the driver;

[8]The range of the mountains is his pasture, and he searcheth after every green thing.

[9]Will the buffalo be willing to serve thee, or will he lodge by thy crib?

[10]Canst thou bind the buffalo with his cord in the furrow? or will he harrow the valleys after thee?

[11]Wilt thou put confidence in him, because his strength is great? and wilt thou leave thy labour to him?

[12]Wilt thou trust him to bring home thy seed, and gather it into thy threshing-floor?

[13]The wing of the ostrich beats joyously -- But is it the stork's pinion and plumage?

[14]For she leaveth her eggs to the earth, and warmeth them in the dust,

[15]And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the beast of the field may trample them.

[16]She is hardened against her young ones, as though they were not hers; her labour is in vain, without her concern.

[17]For God hath deprived her of wisdom, and hath not furnished her with understanding.

[18]What time she lasheth herself on high, she scorneth the horse and his rider.

[19]Hast thou given strength to the horse? hast thou clothed his neck with the quivering mane?

[20]Dost thou make him to leap as a locust? His majestic snorting is terrible.

[21]He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in [his] strength; he goeth forth to meet the armed host.

[22]He laugheth at fear, and is not affrighted; neither turneth he back from before the sword.

[23]The quiver rattleth upon him, the glittering spear and the javelin.

[24]He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage, and cannot contain himself at the sound of the trumpet:

[25]At the noise of the trumpets he saith, Aha! and he smelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the shouting.

[26]Doth the hawk fly by thine intelligence, [and] stretch his wings toward the south?

[27]Doth the eagle mount up at thy command, and make his nest on high?

[28]He inhabiteth the rock and maketh his dwelling on the point of the cliff, and the fastness:

[29]From thence he spieth out the prey, his eyes look into the distance;

[30]And his young ones suck up blood; and where the slain are, there is he.

40 And Jehovah answered Job and said,

[2]Shall he that will contend with the Almighty instruct [him]? he that reproveth +God, let him answer it.

[3]And Job answered Jehovah and said,

[4]Behold, I am nought: what shall I answer thee? I will lay my hand upon my mouth.

[5]Once have I spoken, and I will not answer; yea twice, but I will proceed no further.

[6]And Jehovah answered Job out of the whirlwind and said,

[7]Gird up now thy loins like a man: I will demand of thee, and inform thou me.

[8]Wilt thou also annul my judgment? wilt thou condemn me that thou mayest be righteous?

[9]Hast thou an arm like [God]? or canst thou thunder with a voice like him?

[10]Deck thyself now with glory and excellency, and clothe thyself with majesty and splendour.

[11]Cast abroad the ragings of thine anger, and look on every one that is proud, and abase him:

[12]Look on every one that is proud, bring him low, and tread down the wicked in their place:

[13]Hide them in the dust together; bind their faces in secret.

[14]Then will I also praise thee, because thy right hand saveth thee.

[15]See now the behemoth, which I made with thee: he eateth grass as an ox.

[16]Behold now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the muscles of his belly.

[17]He bendeth his tail like a cedar; the sinews of his thighs are woven together.

[18]His bones are tubes of bronze, his members are like bars of iron.

[19]He is the chief of [God]'s ways: he that made him gave him his sword.

[20]For the mountains bring him forth food, where all the beasts of the field play.

[21]He lieth under lotus-bushes, in the covert of the reed and fen:

[22]Lotus-bushes cover him with their shade; the willows of the brook surround him.

[23]Lo, the river overfloweth -- he startleth not: he is confident though a Jordan break forth against his mouth.

[24]Shall he be taken in front? will they pierce through [his] nose in the trap?

41 Wilt thou draw out the leviathan with the hook, and press down his tongue with a cord?

[2]Wilt thou put a rush-rope into his nose, and pierce his jaw with a spike?

[3]Will he make many supplications unto thee? or will he speak softly unto thee?

[4]Will he make a covenant with thee? wilt thou take him as a bondman for ever?

[5]Wilt thou play with him as with a bird, and wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?

[6]Shall partners make traffic of him, will they divide him among merchants?

[7]Wilt thou fill his skin with darts, and his head with fish-spears?

[8]Lay thy hand upon him; remember the battle, -- do no more!

[9]Lo, hope as to him is belied: is not one cast down even at the sight of him?

[10]None is so bold as to stir him up; and who is he that will stand before me?

[11]Who hath first given to me, that I should repay [him]? [Whatsoever is] under the whole heaven is mine.

[12]I will not be silent as to his parts, the story of his power, and the beauty of his structure.

[13]Who can uncover the surface of his garment? who can come within his double jaws?

[14]Who can open the doors of his face? Round about his teeth is terror.

[15]The rows of his shields are a pride, shut up together [as with] a close seal.

[16]One is so near to another that no air can come between them;

[17]They are joined each to its fellow; they stick together, and cannot be sundered.

[18]His sneezings flash light, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.

[20]Out of his nostrils goeth smoke, as out of a boiling pot and cauldron.

[21]His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth.

[22]In his neck lodgeth strength, and terror danceth before him.

[23]The flakes of his flesh are joined together: they are fused upon him, they cannot be moved.

[24]His heart is firm as a stone, yea, firm as the nether [millstone].

25 When he raiseth himself up, the mighty are afraid: they are beside themselves with consternation.

26 If any reach him with a sword, it cannot hold; neither spear, nor dart, nor harpoon.

27 He esteemeth iron as straw, bronze as rotten wood.

28 The arrow will not make him flee; slingstones are turned with him into stubble.

29 Clubs are counted as stubble; he laugheth at the shaking of a javelin.

30 His under parts are sharp potsherds: he spreadeth a threshing-sledge upon the mire.

31 He maketh the deep to boil like a pot; he maketh the sea like a pot of ointment;

32 He maketh the path to shine after him: one would think the deep to be hoary.

33 Upon earth there is not his like, who is made without fear.

34 He beholdeth all high things; he is king over all the proud beasts.

42 And Job answered Jehovah and said,

2 I know that thou canst do everything, and that thou canst be hindered in no thought of thine.

3 Who is he that obscureth counsel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered what I did not understand; things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.

4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, and inform me.

5 I had heard of thee by the hearing of the ear, but now mine eye seeth thee:

6 Wherefore I abhor [myself], and repent in dust and ashes.

7 And it came to pass after Jehovah had spoken these words to Job, that Jehovah said to Eliphaz the Temanite, Mine anger is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends; for ye have not spoken rightly of me, like my servant Job.

8 And now, take for yourselves seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt-offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you, for him will I accept: lest I deal with you [after your] folly, for ye have not spoken of me rightly, like my servant Job.

9 Then Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went and did according as Jehovah had said unto them; and Jehovah accepted Job.

10 And Jehovah turned the captivity of Job, when he had prayed for his friends; and Jehovah gave Job twice as much as he had before.

[11]And all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, came to him, and they ate bread with him in his house, and they condoled with him, and comforted him concerning all the evil that Jehovah had brought upon him; and every one gave him a piece of money, and every one a golden ring.

[12]And Jehovah blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning; and he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses.

[13]And he had seven sons and three daughters.

[14]And he called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.

[15]And in all the land were no women found [so] fair as the daughters of Job; and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

[16]And Job lived after this a hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, four generations.

[17]And Job died, old and full of days.

Psalms

PSALM 1

[1]Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the wicked, and standeth not in the way of sinners, and sitteth not in the seat of scorners;

[2]But his delight is in Jehovah's law, and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

[3]And he [is] as a tree planted by brooks of water, which giveth its fruit in its season, and whose leaf fadeth not; and all that he doeth prospereth.

[4]The wicked are not so; but are as the chaff which the wind driveth away.

[5]Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

[6]For Jehovah knoweth the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked shall perish.

PSALM 2

[1]Why are the nations in tumultuous agitation, and [why] do the peoples meditate a vain thing?

[2]The kings of the earth set themselves, and the princes plot together, against Jehovah and against his anointed:

[3]Let us break their bonds asunder, and cast away their cords from us!

[4]He that dwelleth in the heavens shall laugh, the Lord shall have them in derision.

[5]Then will he speak to them in his anger, and in his fierce displeasure will he terrify them:

[6]And I have anointed my king upon Zion, the hill of my holiness.

[7]I will declare the decree: Jehovah hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; I this day have begotten thee.

[8]Ask of me, and I will give thee nations for an inheritance, and for thy possession the ends of the earth:

[9]Thou shalt break them with a sceptre of iron, as a potter's vessel thou shalt dash them in pieces.

[10]And now, O kings, be ye wise, be admonished, ye judges of the earth.

[11]Serve Jehovah with fear, and rejoice with trembling.

[12]Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way, though his anger burn but a little. Blessed are all who have their trust in him.

PSALM 3

[1]Jehovah, how many are they that trouble me, many they that rise up against me!

[2]Many say of my soul, There is no salvation for him in God. Selah.

[3]But thou, Jehovah, art a shield about me; my glory, and the lifter up of my head.

[4]With my voice will I call to Jehovah, and he will answer me from the hill of his holiness. Selah.

[5]I laid me down and slept; I awaked, for Jehovah sustaineth me.

[6]I will not fear for myriads of the people that have set themselves against me round about.

[7]Arise, Jehovah; save me, my God! For thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheekbone, thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

[8]Salvation is of Jehovah; thy blessing is upon thy people. Selah.

PSALM 4

[1]When I call, answer me, O God of my righteousness: in pressure thou hast enlarged me; be gracious unto me, and hear my prayer.

[2]Ye sons of men, till when is my glory [to be put] to shame? [How long] will ye love vanity, will ye seek after a lie? Selah.

[3]But know that Jehovah hath set apart the pious [man] for himself: Jehovah will hear when I call unto him.

[4]Be moved with anger, and sin not; meditate in your own hearts upon your bed, and be still. Selah.

[5]Offer sacrifices of righteousness, and confide in Jehovah.

[6]Many say, Who shall cause us to see good? Lift up upon us the light of thy countenance, O Jehovah.

[7]Thou hast put joy in my heart, more than in the time that their corn and their new wine was in abundance.

[8]In peace will I both lay me down and sleep; for thou, Jehovah, alone makest me to dwell in safety.

PSALM 5

[1]Give ear to my words, O Jehovah; consider my meditation.

[2]Hearken unto the voice of my crying, my king and my God; for to thee will I pray.

[3]Jehovah, in the morning shalt thou hear my voice; in the morning will I address myself to thee, and will look up.

[4]For thou art not a [God] that hath pleasure in wickedness; evil shall not sojourn with thee.

[5]Insolent fools shall not stand before thine eyes; thou hatest all workers of iniquity.

[6]Thou wilt destroy them that speak lies: Jehovah abhorreth a man of blood and deceit.

[7]But as for me, in the greatness of thy loving-kindness will I enter thy house; I will bow down toward the temple of thy holiness in thy fear.

[8]Lead me, Jehovah, in thy righteousness, because of my foes; make thy way plain before me.

[9]For there is no certainty in their mouth; their inward part is perversion, their throat is an open sepulchre; they flatter with their tongue.

[10]Bring guilt upon them, O God; let them fall by their own counsels: drive them out in the multitude of their transgressions, for they have rebelled against thee.

[11]And all that trust in thee shall rejoice: for ever shall they shout joyously, and thou wilt protect them; and they that love thy name shall exult in thee.

[12]For thou, Jehovah, wilt bless the righteous [man]; with favour wilt thou surround him as [with] a shield.

PSALM 6

[1]Jehovah, rebuke me not in thine anger, and chasten me not in thy hot displeasure.

[2]Be gracious unto me, Jehovah, for I am withered; Jehovah, heal me, for my bones tremble.

[3]And my soul trembleth exceedingly: and thou, Jehovah, till how long?

[4]Return, Jehovah, free my soul; save me for thy loving-kindness' sake.

[5]For in death there is no remembrance of thee; in Sheol who shall give thanks unto thee?

[6]I am wearied with my groaning; all the night make I my bed to swim; I dissolve my couch with my tears.

[7]Mine eye wasteth away through grief; it hath grown old because of all mine oppressors.

[8]Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; for Jehovah hath heard the voice of my weeping.

[9]Jehovah hath heard my supplication; Jehovah receiveth my prayer.

[10]All mine enemies shall be ashamed and tremble exceedingly; they will turn, they will be ashamed suddenly.

PSALM 7

[1]Jehovah my God, in thee have I trusted: save me from all my pursuers, and deliver me;

[2]Lest he tear my soul like a lion, crushing it while there is no deliverer.

[3]Jehovah my God, if I have done this, if there be iniquity in my hands;

[4]If I have rewarded evil to him that was at peace with me; (indeed I have freed him that without cause oppressed me;)

[5]Let the enemy pursue after my soul, and take [it], and let him tread down my life to the earth, and lay my glory in the dust. Selah.

[6]Arise, Jehovah, in thine anger; lift thyself up against the raging of mine oppressors, and awake for me: thou hast commanded judgment.

[7]And the assembly of the peoples shall encompass thee; and for their sakes return thou on high.

[8]Jehovah shall minister judgment to the peoples. Judge me, Jehovah, according to my righteousness, and according to mine integrity which is in me.

[9]Oh let the wrong of the wicked come to an end, and establish thou the righteous [man]; even thou that triest the hearts and reins, the righteous God.

[10]My shield is with God, who saveth the upright in heart.

[11]God is a righteous judge, and a [God] who is indignant all the day.

[12]If one turn not, he will sharpen his sword; he hath bent his bow and made it ready, [13]And he hath prepared for him instruments of death; his arrows hath he made burning.

[14]Behold, he travaileth with iniquity, yea, he hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood:

[15]He digged a pit, and hollowed it out, and is fallen into the hole that he made.

[16]His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violence shall come down upon his own pate.

[17]I will praise Jehovah according to his righteousness, and will sing forth the name of Jehovah the Most High.

PSALM 8

[1]Jehovah our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy majesty above the heavens.

[2]Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou established praise because of thine adversaries, to still the enemy and the avenger.

[3]When I see thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and stars, which thou hast established;

[4]What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?

[5]Thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and splendour.

[6]Thou hast made him to rule over the works of thy hands; thou hast put everything under his feet:

[7]Sheep and oxen, all of them, and also the beasts of the field;

[8]The fowl of the heavens, and the fishes of the sea, [whatever] passeth through the paths of the seas.

[9]Jehovah our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

PSALM 9

[1]I will praise Jehovah with my whole heart; I will recount all thy marvellous works.

[2]I will be glad and rejoice in thee; I will sing forth thy name, O Most High.

[3]When mine enemies turned back, they stumbled and perished at thy presence:

[4]For thou hast maintained my right and my cause. Thou sittest on the throne, judging righteously.

[5]Thou hast rebuked the nations, thou hast destroyed the wicked; thou hast put out their name for ever and ever.

[6]O enemy! destructions are ended for ever. -- Thou hast also destroyed cities, even the remembrance of them hath perished.

[7]But Jehovah sitteth for ever; he hath ordained his throne for judgment.

[8]And it is he that will judge the world with righteousness; he shall execute judgment upon the peoples with equity.

[9]And Jehovah will be a refuge to the oppressed one, a refuge in times of distress.

[10]And they that know thy name will confide in thee; for thou, Jehovah, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.

[11]Sing psalms to Jehovah who dwelleth in Zion; tell among the peoples his doings.

[12]For when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth them; the cry of the afflicted ones hath he not forgotten.

[13]Be gracious unto me, O Jehovah; consider mine affliction from them that hate me, lifting me up from the gates of death:

[14]That I may declare all thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion. I will be joyful in thy salvation.

[15]The nations are sunk down in the pit [that] they made; in the net that they hid is their own foot taken.

[16]Jehovah is known [by] the judgment he hath executed: the wicked is ensnared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah.

[17]The wicked shall be turned into Sheol, all the nations that forget God.

[18]For the needy one shall not be forgotten alway; the hope of the meek shall not perish for ever.

[19]Arise, Jehovah; let not man prevail: let the nations be judged in thy sight.

[20]Put them in fear, Jehovah: that the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah.

PSALM 10

[1]Why, Jehovah, standest thou afar off? [Why] hidest thou thyself in times of distress?

[2]The wicked, in his pride, doth hotly pursue the afflicted. They shall be taken in the devices that they have imagined.

[3]For the wicked boasteth of his soul's desire, and he blesseth the covetous; he contemneth Jehovah.

[4]The wicked [saith], in the haughtiness of his countenance, He doth not search out: all his thoughts are, There is no God!

[5]His ways always succeed; thy judgments are far above out of his sight; [as for] all his adversaries, he puffeth at them.

[6]He saith in his heart, I shall not be moved; from generation to generation I shall be in no adversity.

[7]His mouth is full of cursing, and deceit, and oppression; under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.

[8]He sitteth in the lurking-places of the villages; in the secret places doth he slay the innocent: his eyes watch for the wretched.

[9]He lieth in wait secretly, like a lion in his thicket; he lieth in wait to catch the afflicted: he doth catch the afflicted, drawing him into his net.

[10]He croucheth, he boweth down, that the wretched may fall by his strong ones.

[11]He saith in his heart, [God] hath forgotten, he hideth his face, he will never see [it].

[12]Arise, Jehovah; O [God], lift up thy hand: forget not the afflicted.

[13]Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? He hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not require [it].

[14]Thou hast seen [it], for thou thyself beholdest trouble and vexation, to requite by thy hand. The wretched committeth himself unto thee; thou hast been the helper of the fatherless.

[15]Break thou the arm of the wicked, and as for the evil man, seek out his wickedness [till] thou find none.

[16]Jehovah is King for ever and ever: the nations have perished out of his land.

[17]Jehovah, thou hast heard the desire of the meek, thou hast established their heart: thou causest thine ear to hear,

[18]To do justice to the fatherless and the oppressed one, that the man of the earth may terrify no more.

PSALM 11

[1]In Jehovah have I put my trust: how say ye to my soul, Flee [as] a bird to your mountain?

[2]For behold, the wicked bend the bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may in darkness shoot at the upright in heart.

[3]If the foundations be destroyed, what shall the righteous do?

[4]Jehovah [is] in the temple of his holiness; Jehovah, -- his throne is in the heavens: his eyes behold, his eyelids try the children of men.

[5]Jehovah trieth the righteous one; but the wicked, and him that loveth violence, his soul hateth.

[6]Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone; and scorching wind shall be the portion of their cup.

[7]For righteous is Jehovah; he loveth righteousness, his countenance doth behold the upright.

[1]Save, Jehovah, for the godly man is gone; for the faithful have failed from among the children of men.

[2]They speak falsehood every one with his neighbour: [with] flattering lip, with a double heart, do they speak.

[3]Jehovah will cut off all flattering lips, the tongue that speaketh proud things,

[4]Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail, our lips are our own: who [is] lord over us?

[5]Because of the oppression of the afflicted, because of the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith Jehovah, I will set [him] in safety, at whom they puff.

[6]The words of Jehovah are pure words, silver tried in the furnace of earth, purified seven times.

[7]Thou, Jehovah, wilt keep them, thou wilt preserve them from this generation for ever.

[8]The wicked walk about on every side, when vileness is exalted among the children of men.

PSALM 13

[1]How long, Jehovah, wilt thou forget me for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

[2]How long shall I take counsel in my soul, with sorrow in my heart daily? how long shall mine enemy be exalted over me?

[3]Consider, answer me, O Jehovah my God! lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the [sleep of] death;

[4]Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him! [lest] mine adversaries be joyful when I am moved.

[5]As for me, I have confided in thy loving-kindness; my heart shall be joyful in thy salvation.

[6]I will sing unto Jehovah, for he hath dealt bountifully with me.

PSALM 14

[1]The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They have corrupted themselves, they have done abominable works: there is none that doeth good.

[2]Jehovah looked down from the heavens upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek God.

[3]They have all gone aside, they are together become corrupt: there is none that doeth good, not even one.

[4]Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge, eating up my people [as] they eat bread? They call not upon Jehovah.

[5]There were they in great fear; for God is in the generation of the righteous.

[6]Ye have shamed the counsel of the afflicted, because Jehovah [was] his refuge.

[7]Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When Jehovah turneth again the captivity of his people, Jacob shall be glad, Israel shall rejoice.

PSALM 15

[1]Jehovah, who shall sojourn in thy tent? who shall dwell in the hill of thy holiness?

[2]He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth from his heart.

[3][He that] slandereth not with his tongue, doeth not evil to his companion, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour;

[4]In whose eyes the depraved person is contemned, and who honoureth them that fear Jehovah; who, if he have sworn to his own hurt, changeth it not;

[5][He that] putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these [things] shall never be moved.

PSALM 16

[1]Preserve me, O [God]: for I trust in thee.

[2]Thou [my soul] hast said to Jehovah, Thou art the Lord: my goodness [extendeth] not to thee; --

[3]To the saints that are on the earth, and to the excellent [thou hast said], In them is all my delight.

[4]Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another: their drink-offerings of blood will I not offer, and I will not take up their names into my lips.

[5]Jehovah is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot.

[6]The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.

[7]I will bless Jehovah, who giveth me counsel; even in the nights my reins instruct me.

[8]I have set Jehovah continually before me; because [he is] at my right hand, I shall not be moved.

[9]Therefore my heart rejoiceth, and my glory exulteth; my flesh moreover shall dwell in hope.

[10]For thou wilt not leave my soul to Sheol, neither wilt thou allow thy Holy One to see corruption.

[11]Thou wilt make known to me the path of life: thy countenance is fulness of joy; at thy right hand are pleasures for evermore.

PSALM 17

[1]Hear the right, O Jehovah, attend unto my cry; give ear unto my prayer, which is not out of feigned lips.

[2]Let my judgment come forth from thy presence, let thine eyes regard equity.

[3]Thou hast proved my heart, thou hast visited me by night; thou hast tried me, thou hast found nothing: my thought goeth not beyond my word.

[4]Concerning the works of men, by the word of thy lips I have kept from the paths of the violent [man].

[5]When thou holdest my goings in thy paths, my footsteps slip not.

[6]I have called upon thee, for thou answerest me, O [God]. Incline thine ear unto me, hear my speech.

[7]Shew wondrously thy loving-kindnesses, O thou that savest by thy right hand them that trust [in thee] from those that rise up [against them].

[8]Keep me as the apple of the eye, hide me under the shadow of thy wings, [9]From the wicked that destroy me, my deadly enemies, who compass me about.

[10]They are enclosed in their own fat; with their mouth they speak proudly.

[11]They have now encompassed us in our steps; their eyes have they set, bowing down to the earth.

[12]He is like a lion that is greedy of its prey, and as a young lion lurking in secret places.

[13]Arise, Jehovah, anticipate him, cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked, thy sword;

[14]From men [who are] thy hand, O Jehovah, from men of this age: their portion is in [this] life, and their belly thou fillest with thy hid [treasure]; they have their fill of sons, and leave the rest of their [substance] to their children.

[15]As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness; I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness.

PSALM 18

[1]I will love thee, O Jehovah, my strength.

[2]Jehovah is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my [God], my rock, in whom I will trust; my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.

[3]I will call upon Jehovah, who is to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

[4]The bands of death encompassed me, and torrents of Belial made me afraid.

[5]The bands of Sheol surrounded me, the cords of death encountered me.

[6]In my distress I called upon Jehovah, and I cried out to my God; he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, into his ears.

[7]Then the earth shook and quaked, and the foundations of the mountains trembled and shook, because he was wroth.

[8]There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals burned forth from it.

[9]And he bowed the heavens, and came down; and darkness was under his feet.

[10]And he rode upon a cherub and did fly; yea, he flew fast upon the wings of the wind.

[11]He made darkness his secret place, his tent round about him: darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.

[12]From the brightness before him his thick clouds passed forth: hail and coals of fire.

[13]And Jehovah thundered in the heavens, and the Most High uttered his voice: hail and coals of fire.

[14]And he sent his arrows, and scattered [mine enemies]; and he shot forth lightnings, and discomfited them.

[15]And the beds of the waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were uncovered at thy rebuke, Jehovah, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.

[16]He reached forth from above, he took me, he drew me out of great waters:

[17]He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them that hated me; for they were mightier than I.

[18]They encountered me in the day of my calamity, but Jehovah was my stay.

[19]And he brought me forth into a large place; he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

[20]Jehovah hath rewarded me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.

[21]For I have kept the ways of Jehovah, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

[22]For all his ordinances were before me, and I did not put away his statutes from me;

[23]And I was upright with him, and kept myself from mine iniquity.

[24]And Jehovah hath recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his sight.

[25]With the gracious thou dost shew thyself gracious; with the upright man thou dost shew thyself upright;

[26]With the pure thou dost shew thyself pure; and with the perverse thou dost shew thyself contrary.

[27]For it is thou that savest the afflicted people; but the haughty eyes wilt thou bring down.

[28]For it is thou that makest my lamp to shine: Jehovah my God enlighteneth my darkness.

[29]For by thee I have run through a troop; and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

[30]As for [God], his way is perfect; the word of Jehovah is tried: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

[31]For who is +God save Jehovah? and who is a rock if not our God?

[32]The [God] who girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect,

[33]Who maketh my feet like hinds' [feet], and setteth me upon my high places;

[34]Who teacheth my hands to war, and mine arms bend a bow of brass;

[35]And thou didst give me the shield of thy salvation, and thy right hand held me up; and thy condescending gentleness hath made me great.

[36]Thou didst enlarge my steps under me, and mine ankles have not wavered.

[37]I pursued mine enemies, and overtook them; and I turned not again till they were consumed.

[38]I crushed them, and they were not able to rise: they fell under my feet.

[39]And thou girdedst me with strength to battle; thou didst subdue under me those that rose up against me.

[40]And mine enemies didst thou make to turn their backs unto me, and those that hated me I destroyed.

[41]They cried, and there was none to save; -- unto Jehovah, and he answered them not.

[42]And I did beat them small as dust before the wind; I did cast them out as the mire of the streets.

[43]Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people; thou hast made me the head of the nations: a people I knew not doth serve me.

[44]At the hearing of the ear, they obey me: strangers come cringing unto me.

[45]Strangers have faded away, and they come trembling forth from their close places.

[46]Jehovah liveth; and blessed be my rock; and exalted be the God of my salvation,

[47]The [God] who hath avenged me, and hath subjected the peoples to me;

[48]Who hath delivered me from mine enemies: yea, thou hast lifted me up above them that rose up against me; from the man of violence hast thou delivered me.

[49]Therefore will I give thanks to thee, Jehovah, among the nations, and will sing psalms to thy name.

[50][It is he] who giveth great deliverances to his king, and sheweth loving-kindness to his anointed, to David, and to his seed for evermore.

PSALM 19

[1]The heavens declare the glory of [God]; and the expanse sheweth the work of his hands.

[2]Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.

[3]There is no speech and there are no words, yet their voice is heard.

[4]Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their language to the extremity of the world. In them hath he set a tent for the sun,

[5]And he is as a bridegroom going forth from his chamber; he rejoiceth as a strong man to run the race.

[6]His going forth is from the end of the heavens, and his circuit unto the ends of it; and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

[7]The law of Jehovah is perfect, restoring the soul; the testimony of Jehovah is sure, making wise the simple;

[8]The precepts of Jehovah are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of Jehovah is pure, enlightening the eyes;

[9]The fear of Jehovah is clean, enduring for ever; the judgments of Jehovah are truth, they are righteous altogether:

[10]They are more precious than gold, yea, than much fine gold; and sweeter than honey and the dropping of the honeycomb.

[11]Moreover, by them is thy servant enlightened; in keeping them there is great reward.

[12]Who understandeth [his] errors? Purify me from secret [faults].

[13]Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous [sins]; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be perfect, and I shall be innocent from great transgression.

[14]Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Jehovah, my rock, and my redeemer.

PSALM 20

[1]Jehovah answer thee in the day of trouble; the name of the God of Jacob protect thee;

[2]May he send thee help from the sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion;

[3]Remember all thine oblations, and accept thy burnt-offering; Selah.

[4]Grant thee according to thy heart, and fulfil all thy counsels.

[5]We will triumph in thy salvation, and in the name of our God will we set up our banners. Jehovah fulfil all thy petitions!

[6]Now know I that Jehovah saveth his anointed; he answereth him from the heavens of his holiness, with the saving strength of his right hand.

[7]Some make mention of chariots, and some of horses, but we of the name of Jehovah our God.

[8]They are bowed down and fallen; but we are risen and stand upright.

[9]Save, Jehovah! Let the king answer us in the day we call.

PSALM 21

[1]The king shall joy in thy strength, Jehovah; and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice.

[2]Thou hast given him his heart's desire, and hast not withholden the request of his lips. Selah.

[3]For thou hast met him with the blessings of goodness; thou hast set a crown of pure gold on his head.

[4]He asked life of thee; thou gavest [it] him, length of days for ever and ever.

[5]His glory is great through thy salvation; majesty and splendour hast thou laid upon him.

[6]For thou hast made him to be blessings for ever; thou hast filled him with joy by thy countenance.

[7]For the king confideth in Jehovah: and through the loving-kindness of the Most High he shall not be moved.

[8]Thy hand shall find out all thine enemies; thy right hand shall find out those that hate thee.

[9]Thou shalt make them as a fiery furnace in the time of thy presence; Jehovah shall swallow them up in his anger, and the fire shall devour them:

[10]Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men.

[11]For they intended evil against thee; they imagined a mischievous device, which they could not execute.

[12]For thou wilt make them turn their back; thou wilt make ready thy bowstring against their face.

[13]Be thou exalted, Jehovah, in thine own strength: we will sing and celebrate thy power.

PSALM 22

[1]My [God], my [God], why hast thou forsaken me? [why art thou] far from my salvation, from the words of my groaning?

[2]My God, I cry by day, and thou answerest not; and by night, and there is no rest for me:

[3]And thou art holy, thou that dwellest amid the praises of Israel.

[4]Our fathers confided in thee: they confided, and thou didst deliver them.

[5]They cried unto thee, and were delivered; they confided in thee, and were not confounded.

[6]But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and the despised of the people.

[7]All they that see me laugh me to scorn; they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, [saying:]

[8]Commit it to Jehovah -- let him rescue him; let him deliver him, because he delighteth in him!

[9]But thou art he that took me out of the womb; thou didst make me trust, upon my mother's breasts.

[10]I was cast upon thee from the womb; thou art my [God] from my mother's belly.

[11]Be not far from me, for trouble is near; for there is none to help.

[12]Many bulls have encompassed me; Bashan's strong ones have beset me round.

[13]They gape upon me with their mouth, [as] a ravening and a roaring lion.

[14]I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is become like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels.

[15]My strength is dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue cleaveth to my palate; and thou hast laid me in the dust of death.

[16]For dogs have encompassed me; an assembly of evil-doers have surrounded me: they pierced my hands and my feet.

[17]I may count all my bones. They look, they stare upon me;

[18]They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

[19]But thou, Jehovah, be not far [from me]; O my strength, haste thee to help me.

[20]Deliver my soul from the sword; my only one from the power of the dog;

[21]Save me from the lion's mouth. Yea, from the horns of the buffaloes hast thou answered me.

[22]I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.

[23]Ye that fear Jehovah, praise him; all ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him; and revere him, all ye the seed of Israel.

[24]For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him: but when he cried unto him, he heard.

[25]My praise is from thee, in the great congregation; I will pay my vows before them that fear him.

[26]The meek shall eat and be satisfied; they shall praise Jehovah that seek him: your heart shall live for ever.

[27]All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn unto Jehovah, and all the families of the nations shall worship before thee:

[28]For the kingdom is Jehovah's, and he ruleth among the nations.

[29]All the fat ones of the earth shall eat and worship; all they that go down to the dust shall bow before him, and he that cannot keep alive his own soul.

[30]A seed shall serve him; it shall be accounted to the Lord for a generation.

[31]They shall come, and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done [it].

PSALM 23

[1]Jehovah is my shepherd; I shall not want.

[2]He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside still waters.

[3]He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

[4]Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.

[5]Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou hast anointed my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

[6]Surely, goodness and loving-kindness shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of Jehovah for the length of the days.

PSALM 24

[1]The earth is Jehovah's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

[2]For it was he that founded it upon seas, and established it upon floods.

[3]Who shall ascend into the mount of Jehovah? and who shall stand in his holy place?

[4]He that hath blameless hands and a pure heart; who lifteth not up his soul unto vanity, nor sweareth deceitfully:

[5]He shall receive blessing from Jehovah, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

[6]This is the generation of them that seek unto him, that seek thy face, O Jacob. Selah.

[7]Lift up your heads, ye gates, and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of glory shall come in.

[8]Who is this King of glory? Jehovah strong and mighty, Jehovah mighty in battle.

[9]Lift up your heads, ye gates; yea, lift up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of glory shall come in.

[10]Who is he, this King of glory? Jehovah of hosts, he is the King of glory. Selah.

PSALM 25

[1]Unto thee, Jehovah, do I lift up my soul.

[2]My God, I confide in thee; let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me.

[3]Yea, none that wait on thee shall be ashamed: they shall be ashamed that deal treacherously without cause.

[4]Make me to know thy ways, O Jehovah; teach me thy paths.

[5]Make me to walk in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.

[6]Remember, Jehovah, thy tender mercies and thy loving-kindnesses; for they are from everlasting.

[7]Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions; according to thy loving-kindness remember thou me, for thy goodness' sake, Jehovah.

[8]Good and upright is Jehovah; therefore will he instruct sinners in the way:

[9]The meek will he guide in judgment, and the meek will he teach his way.

[10]All the paths of Jehovah are loving-kindness and truth for such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.

[11]For thy name's sake, O Jehovah, thou wilt indeed pardon mine iniquity; for it is great.

[12]What man is he that feareth Jehovah? him will he instruct in the way [that] he should choose.

[13]His soul shall dwell in prosperity, and his seed shall inherit the earth.

[14]The secret of Jehovah is with them that fear him, that he may make known his covenant to them.

[15]Mine eyes are ever toward Jehovah; for he will bring my feet out of the net.

[16]Turn toward me, and be gracious unto me; for I am solitary and afflicted.

[17]The troubles of my heart are increased: bring me out of my distresses;

[18]Consider mine affliction and my travail, and forgive all my sins.

[19]Consider mine enemies, for they are many, and they hate me [with] cruel hatred.

[20]Keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed; for I trust in thee.

[21]Let integrity and uprightness preserve me; for I wait on thee.

[22]Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSALM 26

[1]Judge me, O Jehovah, for I have walked in mine integrity, and I have confided in Jehovah: I shall not slip.

[2]Prove me, Jehovah, and test me; try my reins and my heart:

[3]For thy loving-kindness is before mine eyes, and I have walked in thy truth.

[4]I have not sat with vain persons, neither have I gone in with dissemblers;

[5]I have hated the congregation of evil-doers, and I have not sat with the wicked.

[6]I will wash my hands in innocency, and will encompass thine altar, O Jehovah,

[7]That I may cause the voice of thanksgiving to be heard, and declare all thy marvellous works.

[8]Jehovah, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place where thy glory dwelleth.

[9]Gather not my soul with sinners, nor my life with men of blood;

[10]In whose hands are evil devices, and their right hand is full of bribes.

[11]But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity. Redeem me, and be gracious unto me.

[12]My foot standeth in an even place; in the congregations will I bless Jehovah.

PSALM 27

[1]Jehovah is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? Jehovah is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

[2]When evil-doers, mine adversaries and mine enemies, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

[3]If a host encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; if war rise against me, in this will I be confident.

[4]One [thing] have I asked of Jehovah, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of Jehovah all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of Jehovah, and to inquire [of him] in his temple.

[5]For in the day of evil he will hide me in his pavilion; in the secret of his tent will he keep me concealed: he will set me high upon a rock.

[6]And now shall my head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me; and I will offer in his tent sacrifices of shouts of joy: I will sing, yea, I will sing psalms unto Jehovah.

[7]Hear, Jehovah; with my voice do I call; be gracious unto me, and answer me.

[8]My heart said for thee, Seek ye my face. Thy face, O Jehovah, will I seek.

[9]Hide not thy face from me; put not thy servant away in anger: thou hast been my help; cast me not off, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

[10]For had my father and my mother forsaken me, then had Jehovah taken me up.

[11]Teach me thy way, Jehovah, and lead me in an even path, because of mine enemies.

[12]Deliver me not over to the will of mine adversaries; for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out violence.

[13]Unless I had believed to see the goodness of Jehovah in the land of the living ...!

[14]Wait for Jehovah; be strong and let thy heart take courage: yea, wait for Jehovah.

[1]Unto thee, Jehovah, do I call; my rock, be not silent unto me, lest, [if] thou keep silence toward me, I become like them that go down into the pit.

[2]Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee, when I lift up my hands toward the oracle of thy holiness.

[3]Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity, who speak peace to their neighbours, and mischief is in their heart.

[4]Give them according to their doing, and according to the wickedness of their deeds; give them after the work of their hands, render to them their desert.

[5]For they regard not the deeds of Jehovah, nor the work of his hands: he will destroy them, and not build them up.

[6]Blessed be Jehovah, for he hath heard the voice of my supplications.

[7]Jehovah is my strength and my shield; my heart confided in him, and I was helped: therefore my heart exulteth, and with my song will I praise him.

[8]Jehovah is their strength; and he is the stronghold of salvation to his anointed one.

[9]Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance; and feed them, and lift them up for ever.

PSALM 29

[1]Give unto Jehovah, ye sons of the mighty ones, give unto Jehovah glory and strength;

[2]Give unto Jehovah the glory of his name; worship Jehovah in holy splendour.

[3]The voice of Jehovah is upon the waters: the [God] of glory thundereth, -- Jehovah upon great waters.

[4]The voice of Jehovah is powerful; the voice of Jehovah is full of majesty.

[5]The voice of Jehovah breaketh cedars; yea, Jehovah breaketh the cedars of Lebanon:

[6]And he maketh them to skip like a calf, Lebanon and Sirion like a young buffalo.

[7]The voice of Jehovah cleaveth out flames of fire.

[8]The voice of Jehovah shaketh the wilderness; Jehovah shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh.

[9]The voice of Jehovah maketh the hinds to calve, and layeth bare the forests; and in his temple doth every one say, Glory!

[10]Jehovah sitteth upon the flood; yea, Jehovah sitteth as king for ever.

[11]Jehovah will give strength unto his people; Jehovah will bless his people with peace.

PSALM 30

[1]I will extol thee, Jehovah; for thou hast delivered me, and hast not made mine enemies to rejoice over me.

[2]Jehovah my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me.

[3]Jehovah, thou hast brought up my soul from Sheol, thou hast quickened me from among those that go down to the pit.

[4]Sing psalms unto Jehovah, ye saints of his, and give thanks in remembrance of his holiness.

[5]For a moment [is passed] in his anger, a life in his favour; at even weeping cometh for the night, and at morn there is rejoicing.

[6]As for me, I said in my prosperity, I shall never be moved.

[7]Jehovah, by thy favour thou hadst made my mountain to stand strong: thou didst hide thy face; I was troubled.

[8]I called to thee, Jehovah, and unto the Lord did I make supplication:

[9]What profit is there in my blood, in my going down to the pit? shall the dust praise thee? shall it declare thy truth?

[10]Hear, O Jehovah, and be gracious unto me; Jehovah, be my helper.

[11]Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing; thou hast loosed my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness;

[12]That [my] glory may sing psalms of thee, and not be silent. Jehovah my God, I will praise thee for ever.

PSALM 31

[1]In thee, Jehovah, do I trust; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness.

[2]Incline thine ear to me, deliver me speedily; be a strong rock to me, a house of defence to save me.

[3]For thou art my rock and my fortress; and, for thy name's sake, thou wilt lead me and guide me.

[4]Draw me out of the net that they have hidden for me; for thou art my strength.

[5]Into thy hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, Jehovah, [thou] [God] of truth.

[6]I have hated them that observe lying vanities; and as for me, I have confided in Jehovah.

[7]I will be glad and rejoice in thy loving-kindness, for thou hast seen mine affliction; thou hast known the troubles of my soul,

[8]And hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy: thou hast set my feet in a large place.

[9]Be gracious unto me, Jehovah, for I am in trouble: mine eye wasteth away with vexation, my soul and my belly.

[10]For my life is spent with sorrow, and my years with sighing; my strength faileth through mine iniquity, and my bones are wasted.

[11]More than to all mine oppressors, I am become exceedingly a reproach, even to my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that see me without flee from me.

[12]I am forgotten in [their] heart as a dead man; I am become like a broken vessel.

[13]For I have heard the slander of many -- terror on every side -- when they take counsel together against me: they plot to take away my life.

[14]But I confided in thee, Jehovah; I said, thou art my God.

[15]My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from my persecutors.

[16]Make thy face to shine upon thy servant; save me in thy loving-kindness.

[17]Jehovah, let me not be ashamed; for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be ashamed, let them be silent in Sheol.

[18]Let the lying lips become dumb, which speak insolently against the righteous in pride and contempt.

[19][Oh] how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee, [which] thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee, before the sons of men!

[20]Thou keepest them concealed in the secret of thy presence from the conspiracies of man; thou hidest them in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.

[21]Blessed be Jehovah; for he hath shewn me wondrously his loving-kindness in a strong city.

[22]As for me, I said in my haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes; nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto thee.

[23]Love Jehovah, all ye his saints. Jehovah preserveth the faithful, and plentifully requiteth the proud doer.

[24]Be strong, and let your heart take courage, all ye that hope in Jehovah.

PSALM 32

[1]Blessed is he [whose] transgression is forgiven, [whose] sin is covered!

[2]Blessed is the man unto whom Jehovah reckoneth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile!

[3]When I kept silence, my bones waxed old, through my groaning all the day long.

[4]For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me; my moisture was turned into the drought of summer. Selah.

[5]I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity I covered not; I said, I will confess my transgressions unto Jehovah, and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah.

[6]For this shall every one that is godly pray unto thee at a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the floods of great waters they will not reach him.

[7]Thou art a hiding-place for me; thou preservest me from trouble; thou dost encompass me with songs of deliverance. Selah.

[8]I will instruct thee and teach thee the way in which thou shalt go; I will counsel [thee] with mine eye upon thee.

[9]Be ye not as a horse, as a mule, which have no understanding: whose trappings must be bit and bridle, for restraint, or they will not come unto thee.

[10]Many sorrows hath the wicked; but he that confideth in Jehovah, loving-kindness shall encompass him.

[11]Rejoice in Jehovah, and be glad, ye righteous; and shout for joy, all ye upright in heart.

PSALM 33

[1]Exult, ye righteous, in Jehovah: praise is comely for the upright.

[2]Give thanks unto Jehovah with the harp; sing psalms unto him with the ten-stringed lute.

[3]Sing unto him a new song; play skilfully with a loud sound.

[4]For the word of Jehovah is right, and all his work is in faithfulness.

[5]He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the loving-kindness of Jehovah.

[6]By the word of Jehovah were the heavens made, and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.

[7]He gathereth the waters of the sea together as a heap; he layeth up the deeps in storehouses.

[8]Let all the earth fear Jehovah; let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.

[9]For he spoke, and it was [done]; he commanded, and it stood fast.

[10]Jehovah frustrateth the counsel of the nations; he maketh the thoughts of the peoples of none effect.

[11]The counsel of Jehovah standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart from generation to generation.

[12]Blessed is the nation whose God is Jehovah, the people that he hath chosen for his inheritance!

[13]Jehovah looketh from the heavens; he beholdeth all the sons of men:

[14]From the place of his habitation he looketh forth upon all the inhabitants of the earth;

[15]He who fashioneth the hearts of them all, who considereth all their works.

[16]The king is not saved by the multitude of [his] forces; a mighty man is not delivered by much strength.

[17]The horse is a vain thing for safety; neither doth he deliver by his great power.

[18]Behold, the eye of Jehovah is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his loving-kindness, [19]To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.

[20]Our soul waiteth for Jehovah: he is our help and our shield.

[21]For in him shall our heart rejoice, because we have confided in his holy name.

[22]Let thy loving-kindness, O Jehovah, be upon us, according as we have hoped in thee.

PSALM 34

[1]I will bless Jehovah at all times; his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

[2]My soul shall make its boast in Jehovah: the meek shall hear, and rejoice.

[3]Magnify Jehovah with me, and let us exalt his name together.

[4]I sought Jehovah, and he answered me, and delivered me from all my fears.

[5]They looked unto him, and were enlightened, and their faces were not confounded.

[6]This afflicted one called, and Jehovah heard [him], and saved him out of all his troubles.

[7]The angel of Jehovah encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.

[8]Taste and see that Jehovah is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him!

[9]Fear Jehovah, ye his saints; for there is no want to them that fear him.

[10]The young lions are in need and suffer hunger; but they that seek Jehovah shall not want any good.

[11]Come, ye sons, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of Jehovah.

[12]What man is he that desireth life, [and] loveth days, that he may see good?

[13]Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile;

[14]Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.

[15]The eyes of Jehovah are upon the righteous, and his ears are toward their cry;

[16]The face of Jehovah is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth:

[17][The righteous] cry, and Jehovah heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

[18]Jehovah is nigh to those that are of a broken heart, and saveth them that are of a contrite spirit.

[19]Many are the adversities of the righteous, but Jehovah delivereth him out of them all:

[20]He keepeth all his bones; not one of them is broken.

[21]Evil shall destroy the wicked; and they that hate the righteous shall bear their guilt.

[22]Jehovah redeemeth the soul of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall bear guilt.

PSALM 35

[1]Strive, O Jehovah, with them that strive with me; fight against them that fight against me:

[2]Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for my help;

[3]And draw out the spear, and stop [the way] against my pursuers: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

[4]Let them be put to shame and confounded that seek after my life; let them be turned backward and brought to confusion that devise my hurt:

[5]Let them be as chaff before the wind, and let the angel of Jehovah drive [them] away;

[6]Let their way be dark and slippery, and let the angel of Jehovah pursue them.

[7]For without cause have they hidden for me their net [in] a pit; without cause they have digged [it] for my soul.

[8]Let destruction come upon him unawares, and let his net which he hath hidden catch himself: for destruction let him fall therein.

[9]And my soul shall be joyful in Jehovah; it shall rejoice in his salvation.

[10]All my bones shall say, Jehovah, who is like unto thee, who deliverest the afflicted from one stronger than he, yea, the afflicted and the needy from him that spoileth him!

[11]Unrighteous witnesses rise up; they lay to my charge things which I know not.

[12]They reward me evil for good, [to] the bereavement of my soul.

[13]But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth; I chastened my soul with fasting, and my prayer returned into mine own bosom:

[14]I behaved myself as though [he had been] a friend, a brother to me; I bowed down in sadness, as one that mourneth [for] a mother.

[15]But at my halting they rejoiced, and gathered together: the slanderers gathered themselves together against me, and I knew [it] not; they did tear [me], and ceased not:

[16]With profane jesters for bread, they have gnashed their teeth against me.

[17]Lord, how long wilt thou look on? Rescue my soul from their destructions, my only one from the young lions.

[18]I will give thee thanks in the great congregation; I will praise thee among much people.

[19]Let not them that are wrongfully mine enemies rejoice over me; let them not wink with the eye that hate me without cause.

[20]For they speak not peace; and they devise deceitful words against the quiet in the land.

[21]And they opened their mouth wide against me; they said, Aha! aha! our eye hath seen [it].

[22]Thou hast seen [it], Jehovah: keep not silence; O Lord, be not far from me.

[23]Stir up thyself, and awake for my right, for my cause, my God and Lord!

[24]Judge me, Jehovah my God, according to thy righteousness, and let them not rejoice over me.

[25]Let them not say in their heart, Aha! so would we have it. Let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

[26]Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together that rejoice at mine adversity; let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.

[27]Let them exult and rejoice that delight in my righteousness; and let them say continually, Jehovah be magnified, who delighteth in the prosperity of his servant.

[28]And my tongue shall talk of thy righteousness, [and] of thy praise, all the day.

PSALM 36

[1]The transgression of the wicked uttereth within my heart, There is no fear of God before his eyes.

[2]For he flattereth himself in his own eyes, [even] when his iniquity is found to be hateful.

[3]The words of his mouth are wickedness and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, to do good.

[4]He deviseth wickedness up on his bed; he setteth himself in a way that is not good: he abhorreth not evil.

[5]Jehovah, thy loving-kindness is in the heavens, and thy faithfulness [reacheth] unto the clouds.

[6]Thy righteousness is like the high mountains; thy judgments are a great deep: thou, Jehovah, preservest man and beast.

[7]How precious is thy loving-kindness, O God! So the sons of men take refuge under the shadow of thy wings.

[8]They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou wilt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.

[9]For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light.

[10]Continue thy loving-kindness unto them that know thee, and thy righteousness to the upright in heart;

[11]Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked drive me away.

[12]There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are cast down, and are not able to rise.

PSALM 37

[1]Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, and be not envious of them that work unrighteousness;

[2]for they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and fade as the green herb.

[3]Confide in Jehovah, and do good; dwell in the land, and feed on faithfulness;

[4]and delight thyself in Jehovah, and he will give thee the desires of thy heart.

[5]Commit thy way unto Jehovah, and rely upon him: he will bring [it] to pass;

[6]and he will bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.

[7]Rest in Jehovah, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him that prospereth in his way, because of the man that bringeth mischievous devices to pass.

[8]Cease from anger, and forsake wrath; fret not thyself: it [would be] only to do evil.

[9]For evil-doers shall be cut off; but those that wait on Jehovah, they shall possess the land.

[10]For yet a little while, and the wicked is not; and thou considerest his place, but he is not.

[11]But the meek shall possess the land, and shall delight themselves in the abundance of prosperity.

[12]The wicked plotteth against the righteous, and gnasheth his teeth against him.

[13]The Lord laugheth at him; for he seeth that his day is coming.

[14]The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the afflicted and needy, to slay those that are upright in [the] way:

[15]their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.

[16]The little that the righteous hath is better than the abundance of many wicked;

[17]for the arms of the wicked shall be broken, but Jehovah upholdeth the righteous.

[18]Jehovah knoweth the days of the perfect; and their inheritance shall be for ever:

[19]they shall not be ashamed in the time of evil, and in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.

[20]For the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of Jehovah shall be as the fat of lambs: they shall consume, like smoke shall they consume away.

[21]The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again; but the righteous is gracious and giveth:

[22]for those blessed of him shall possess the land, and they that are cursed of him shall be cut off.

[23]The steps of a man are established by Jehovah, and he delighteth in his way:

[24]though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down, for Jehovah upholdeth his hand.

[25]I have been young, and now am old, and I have not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed seeking bread:

[26]all the day he is gracious and lendeth, and his seed shall be a blessing.

[27]Depart from evil, and do good, and dwell for evermore;

[28]for Jehovah loveth judgment, and will not forsake his saints: They are preserved for ever; but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

[29]The righteous shall possess the land, and dwell therein for ever.

[30]The mouth of the righteous proffereth wisdom, and his tongue speaketh judgment;

[31]the law of his God is in his heart; his goings shall not slide.

[32]The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him:

[33]Jehovah will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is judged.

[34]Wait for Jehovah, and keep his way, and he will exalt thee to possess the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see [it].

[35]I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading like a green tree in its native soil:

[36]but he passed away, and behold, he was not; and I sought him, but he was not found.

[37]Mark the perfect, and behold the upright, for the end of [that] man is peace;

[38]but the transgressors shall be destroyed together; the future of the wicked shall be cut off.

[39]But the salvation of the righteous is of Jehovah: he is their strength in the time of trouble.

[40]And Jehovah will help them and deliver them: he will deliver them from the wicked, and save them; for they trust in him.

PSALM 38

[1]Jehovah, rebuke me not in thy wrath; neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

[2]For thine arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand cometh down upon me.

[3]There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine indignation; no peace in my bones, because of my sin.

[4]For mine iniquities are gone over my head: as a heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

[5]My wounds stink, they are corrupt, because of my foolishness.

[6]I am depressed; I am bowed down beyond measure; I go mourning all the day.

[7]For my loins are full of burning, and there is no soundness in my flesh.

[8]I am faint and broken beyond measure; I roar by reason of the agitation of my heart.

[9]Lord, all my desire is before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

[10]My heart throbbeth, my strength hath left me; and the light of mine eyes, it also is no more with me.

[11]My lovers and mine associates stand aloof from my stroke; and my kinsmen stand afar off.

[12]And they that seek after my life lay snares [for me]; and they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and meditate deceits all the day long.

[13]But I, as a deaf [man], hear not; and am as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.

[14]Yea, I am as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.

[15]For in thee, Jehovah, do I hope: thou wilt answer, O Lord my God.

[16]For I said, Let them not rejoice over me! When my foot slipped, they magnified [themselves] against me.

[17]For I am ready to halt, and my pain is continually before me.

[18]For I will declare mine iniquity, I am grieved for my sin.

[19]But mine enemies are lively, they are strong; and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied:

[20]And they that render evil for good are adversaries unto me; because I pursue what is good.

[21]Forsake me not, Jehovah; O my God, be not far from me.

[22]Make haste to help me, O Lord, my salvation.

[1]I said, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth with a muzzle, while the wicked is before me.

[2]I was dumb with silence, I held my peace from good; and my sorrow was stirred.

[3]My heart burned within me; the fire was kindled in my musing: I spoke with my tongue,

[4]Make me to know, Jehovah, mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is: I shall know how frail I am.

[5]Behold, thou hast made my days [as] hand-breadths, and my lifetime is as nothing before thee; verily, every man, [even] the high placed, is altogether vanity. Selah.

[6]Verily, man walketh in a vain show; verily they are disquieted in vain; he heapeth up [riches], and knoweth not who shall gather them.

[7]And now, what wait I for, Lord? my hope is in thee.

[8]Deliver me from all my transgressions; make me not the reproach of the foolish.

[9]I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; for thou hast done [it].

[10]Remove thy stroke away from me: I am consumed by the blow of thy hand.

[11]When thou with rebukes dost correct a man for iniquity, thou makest his beauty to consume away like a moth: surely, every man is vanity. Selah.

[12]Hear my prayer, Jehovah, and give ear unto my cry; be not silent at my tears: for I am a stranger with thee, a sojourner, like all my fathers.

[13]Look away from me, and let me recover strength, before I go hence and be no more.

PSALM 40

[1]I waited patiently for Jehovah; and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

[2]And he brought me up out of the pit of destruction, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock; he hath established my goings:

[3]And he hath put a new song in my mouth, praise unto our God. Many shall see it, and fear, and shall confide in Jehovah.

[4]Blessed is the man that hath made Jehovah his confidence, and turneth not to the proud, and to such as turn aside to lies.

[5]Thou, O Jehovah my God, hast multiplied thy marvellous works, and thy thoughts toward us: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee; would I declare and speak [them], they are more than can be numbered.

[6]Sacrifice and oblation thou didst not desire: ears hast thou prepared me. Burnt-offering and sin-offering hast thou not demanded;

[7]Then said I, Behold, I come, in the volume of the book it is written of me --

[8]To do thy good pleasure, my God, is my delight, and thy law is within my heart.

[9]I have published righteousness in the great congregation: behold, I have not withheld my lips, Jehovah, thou knowest.

[10]I have not hidden thy righteousness within my heart; I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy loving-kindness and thy truth from the great congregation.

[11]Withhold not thou, Jehovah, thy tender mercies from me; let thy loving-kindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

[12]For innumerable evils have compassed me about: mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, so that I cannot see; they are more than the hairs of my head: and my heart hath failed me.

[13]Be pleased, O Jehovah, to deliver me; Jehovah, make haste to my help.

[14]Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together that seek after my soul to destroy it; let them be turned backward and confounded that take pleasure in mine adversity;

[15]Let them be desolate, because of their shame, that say unto me, Aha! Aha!

16 Let all those that seek thee be glad and rejoice in thee; let such as love thy salvation say continually, Jehovah be magnified!

17 But I am afflicted and needy: the Lord thinketh upon me. Thou art my help and my deliverer: my God, make no delay.

PSALM 41

1 Blessed is he that understandeth the poor: Jehovah will deliver him in the day of evil.

2 Jehovah will preserve him, and keep him alive; he shall be made happy in the land; and thou wilt not deliver him to the will of his enemies.

3 Jehovah will sustain him upon the bed of languishing: thou turnest all his bed in his sickness.

4 As for me, I said, Jehovah, be gracious unto me: heal my soul; for I have sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies wish me evil: When will he die, and his name perish?

6 And if one come to see [me], he speaketh falsehood; his heart gathereth wickedness to itself: he goeth abroad, he telleth [it].

7 All that hate me whisper together against me; against me do they devise my hurt.

8 A thing of Belial cleaveth fast unto him; and now that he is laid down, he will rise up no more.

9 Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I confided, who did eat of my bread, hath lifted up [his] heel against me.

10 But thou, Jehovah, be gracious unto me, and raise me up, that I may requite them.

11 By this I know that thou delightest in me, because mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

12 But as for me, thou upholdest me in mine integrity, and settest me before thy face for ever.

13 Blessed be Jehovah, the God of Israel, from eternity to eternity! Amen, and Amen.

PSALM 42

1 As the hart panteth after the water-brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God.

2 My soul thirsteth for God, for the living [God]: when shall I come and appear before God?

3 My tears have been my bread day and night, while they say unto me all the day, Where is thy God?

4 These things I remember and have poured out my soul within me: how I passed along with the multitude, how I went on with them to the house of God, with the voice of joy and praise, a festive multitude.

5 Why art thou cast down, my soul, and art disquieted in me? hope in God; for I shall yet praise him, [for] the health of his countenance.

[6]My God, my soul is cast down within me; therefore do I remember thee from the land of the Jordan, and the Hermons, from mount Mizar.

[7]Deep calleth unto deep at the noise of thy cataracts; all thy breakers and thy billows are gone over me.

[8]In the day-time will Jehovah command his loving-kindness, and in the night his song shall be with me, a prayer unto the [God] of my life.

[9]I will say unto [God] my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

[10]As with a crushing in my bones mine adversaries reproach me, while they say unto me all the day, Where is thy God?

[11]Why art thou cast down, my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God; for I shall yet praise him, [who is] the health of my countenance, and my God.

PSALM 43

[1]Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation; deliver me from the deceitful and unrighteous man.

[2]For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou cast me off? why go I about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

[3]Send out thy light and thy truth: they shall lead me, they shall bring me to thy holy mount, and unto thy habitations.

[4]Then will I go unto the altar of God, unto the [God] of the gladness of my joy: yea, upon the harp will I praise thee, O God, my God.

[5]Why art thou cast down, my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God; for I shall yet praise him, [who is] the health of my countenance, and my God.

PSALM 44

[1]O God, with our ears have we heard, our fathers have told us, the work thou wroughtest in their days, in the days of old:

[2]Thou, by thy hand, didst dispossess the nations, but them thou didst plant; thou didst afflict the peoples, but them didst thou cause to spread out.

[3]For not by their own sword did they take possession of the land, neither did their own arm save them; but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst delight in them.

[4]Thou thyself art my king, O God: command deliverance for Jacob.

[5]Through thee will we push down our adversaries; through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us.

[6]For I will not put confidence in my bow, neither shall my sword save me.

[7]For thou hast saved us from our adversaries, and hast put them to shame that hate us.

[8]In God will we boast all the day, and we will praise thy name for ever. Selah.

[9]But thou hast cast off, and put us to confusion, and dost not go forth with our armies;

[10]Thou hast made us to turn back from the adversary, and they that hate us spoil for themselves;

[11]Thou hast given us over like sheep [appointed] for meat, and hast scattered us among the nations;

[12]Thou hast sold thy people for nought, and hast not increased [thy wealth] by their price;

[13]Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbours, a mockery and a derision for them that are round about us;

[14]Thou makest us a byword among the nations, a shaking of the head among the peoples.

[15]All the day my confusion is before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me, [16]Because of the voice of him that reproacheth and blasphemeth; by reason of the enemy and the avenger.

[17]All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falsely against thy covenant:

[18]Our heart is not turned back, neither have our steps declined from thy path;

[19]Though thou hast crushed us in the place of jackals, and covered us with the shadow of death.

[20]If we had forgotten the name of our God, and stretched out our hands to a strange god, [21]Would not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

[22]But for thy sake are we killed all the day long; we are reckoned as sheep for slaughter.

[23]Awake, why sleepest thou, Lord? arise, cast [us] not off for ever.

[24]Wherefore hidest thou thy face, [and] forgettest our affliction and our oppression?

[25]For our soul is bowed down to the dust; our belly cleaveth unto the earth.

[26]Rise up for our help, and redeem us for thy loving-kindness' sake.

PSALM 45

[1]My heart is welling forth [with] a good matter: I say what I have composed touching the king. My tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

[2]Thou art fairer than the sons of men; grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.

[3]Gird thy sword upon [thy] thigh, O mighty one, [in] thy majesty and thy splendour;

[4]And [in] thy splendour ride prosperously, because of truth and meekness [and] righteousness: and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

[5]Thine arrows are sharp -- peoples fall under thee -- in the heart of the king's enemies.

[6]Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever; a sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of thy kingdom:

[7]Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated wickedness; therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy companions.

[8]Myrrh and aloes, cassia, are all thy garments; out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made thee glad.

[9]Kings' daughters are among thine honourable women; upon thy right hand doth stand the queen in gold of Ophir.

[10]Hearken, daughter, and see, and incline thine ear; and forget thine own people and thy father's house:

[11]And the king will desire thy beauty; for he is thy Lord, and worship thou him.

[12]And the daughter of Tyre with a gift, the rich ones among the people, shall court thy favour.

[13]All glorious is the king's daughter within; her clothing is of wrought gold:

[14]She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of embroidery; the virgins behind her, her companions, shall be brought in unto thee:

[15]With joy and gladness shall they be brought; they shall enter into the king's palace.

[16]Instead of thy fathers shall be thy sons; princes shalt thou make them in all the earth.

[17]I will make thy name to be remembered throughout all generations; therefore shall the peoples praise thee for ever and ever.

PSALM 46

[1]God is our refuge and strength, a help in distresses, very readily found.

[2]Therefore will we not fear though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the heart of the seas;

[3]Though the waters thereof roar [and] foam, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. Selah.

[4]There is a river the streams whereof make glad the city of God, the sanctuary of the habitations of the Most High.

[5]God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her at the dawn of the morning.

[6]The nations raged, the kingdoms were moved; he uttered his voice, the earth melted.

[7]Jehovah of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our high fortress. Selah.

[8]Come, behold the works of Jehovah, what desolations he hath made in the earth:

[9]He hath made wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariots in the fire.

[10]Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth.

[11]Jehovah of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our high fortress. Selah.

PSALM 47

[1]All ye peoples, clap your hands; shout unto God with the voice of triumph!

[2]For Jehovah, the Most High, is terrible, a great king over all the earth.

[3]He subdueth the peoples under us, and the nations under our feet.

[4]He hath chosen our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved. Selah.

[5]God is gone up amid shouting, Jehovah amid the sound of the trumpet.

[6]Sing psalms of God, sing psalms; sing psalms unto our King, sing psalms!

[7]For God is the King of all the earth; sing psalms with understanding.

[8]God reigneth over the nations; God sitteth upon the throne of his holiness.

[9]The willing-hearted of the peoples have gathered together, [with] the people of the God of Abraham. For unto God [belong] the shields of the earth: he is greatly exalted.

PSALM 48

[1]Great is Jehovah, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the hill of his holiness.

[2]Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth, is mount Zion, [on] the sides of the north, the city of the great King.

[3]God is known in her palaces as a high fortress.

[4]For behold, the kings assembled themselves, they passed by together;

[5]They saw, -- so they marvelled; they were troubled, they fled in consternation:

[6]Trembling took hold upon them there; anguish, as of a woman in travail.

[7]With an east wind thou hast broken the ships of Tarshish.

[8]As we have heard, so have we seen, in the city of Jehovah of hosts, in the city of our God: God doth establish it for ever. Selah.

[9]We have thought, O God, of thy loving-kindness, in the midst of thy temple.

[10]According to thy name, O God, so is thy praise unto the ends of the earth: thy right hand is full of righteousness.

[11]Let mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah be glad, because of thy judgments.

[12]Walk about Zion, and go round about her: count the towers thereof;

[13]Mark ye well her bulwarks, consider her palaces: that ye may tell it to the generation following.

[14]For this God is our God for ever and ever; he will be our guide until death.

PSALM 49

[1]Hear this, all ye peoples; give ear, all inhabitants of the world:

[2]Both men of low and men of high degree, rich and poor alike.

[3]My mouth shall speak wisdom, and the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding:

[4]I will incline mine ear to a parable, I will open my riddle upon the harp.

[5]Wherefore should I fear in the days of adversity, [when] the iniquity of my supplanters encompasseth me? --

[6]They depend upon their wealth, and boast themselves in the abundance of their riches. ...

[7]None can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him,

[8](For the redemption of their soul is costly, and must be given up for ever,)

[9]That he should still live perpetually, [and] not see corruption.

[10]For he seeth that wise men die; all alike, the fool and the brutish perish, and they leave their wealth to others.

[11]Their inward thought is, that their houses are for ever, their dwelling-places from generation to generation: they call the lands after their own names.

[12]Nevertheless, man being in honour abideth not: he is like the beasts that perish.

[13]This their way is their folly, yet they that come after them delight in their sayings. Selah.

[14]Like sheep are they laid in Sheol: Death feedeth on them; and the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning; and their comeliness shall be for Sheol to consume, that there be no habitation for them.

[15]But God will redeem my soul from the power of Sheol: for he will receive me. Selah.

[16]Be not afraid when a man becometh rich, when the glory of his house is increased:

[17]For when he dieth, he shall carry nothing away; his glory shall not descend after him.

[18]Though he blessed his soul in his lifetime, -- and men will praise thee when thou doest well to thyself, --

[19]It shall go to the generation of his fathers: they shall never see light.

[20]Man that is in honour, and understandeth not, is like the beasts that perish.

PSALM 50

[1][God], Elohim-Jehovah, hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof.

[2]Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined forth.

[3]Our God will come, and will not keep silence: fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.

[4]He will call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people:

[5]Gather unto me my godly ones, those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice!

[6]And the heavens shall declare his righteousness; for God executeth judgment himself. Selah.

[7]Hear, my people, and I will speak; O Israel, and I will testify unto thee: I am God, thy God.

[8]I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt-offerings, continually before me;

[9]I will take no bullock out of thy house, [nor] he-goats out of thy folds:

[10]For every beast of the forest is mine, the cattle upon a thousand hills;

[11]I know all the fowl of the mountains, and the roaming creatures of the field are mine:

[12]If I were hungry, I would not tell thee; for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.

[13]Should I eat the flesh of bulls, and drink the blood of goats?

[14]Offer unto God thanksgiving, and perform thy vows unto the Most High;

[15]And call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.

[16]But unto the wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldest take my covenant into thy mouth, [17]Seeing thou hast hated correction and hast cast my words behind thee?

[18]When thou sawest a thief, thou didst take pleasure in him, and thy portion was with adulterers;

[19]Thou lettest thy mouth loose to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit;

[20]Thou sittest [and] speakest against thy brother, thou revilest thine own mother's son:

[21]These [things] hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether as thyself: [but] I will reprove thee, and set [them] in order before thine eyes.

[22]Now consider this, ye that forget +God, lest I tear in pieces, and there be no deliverer.

[23]Whoso offereth praise glorifieth me; and to him that ordereth [his] way will I shew the salvation of God.

PSALM 51

[1]Be gracious unto me, O God, according to thy loving-kindness; according to the abundance of thy tender mercies, blot out my transgressions.

[2]Wash me fully from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.

[3]For I acknowledge my transgressions, and my sin is continually before me.

[4]Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done what is evil in thy sight; that thou mayest be justified when thou speakest, be clear when thou judgest.

[5]Behold, in iniquity was I brought forth, and in sin did my mother conceive me.

[6]Behold, thou wilt have truth in the inward parts; and in the hidden [part] thou wilt make me to know wisdom.

[7]Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

[8]Make me to hear gladness and joy; [that] the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.

[9]Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.

[10]Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me.

[11]Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not the spirit of thy holiness from me.

[12]Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, and let a willing spirit sustain me.

[13]I will teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners shall return unto thee.

[14]Deliver me from blood-guiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation: my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

[15]Lord, open my lips, and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

[16]For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou hast no pleasure in burnt-offering.

[17]The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

[18]Do good in thy good pleasure unto Zion; build the walls of Jerusalem.

[19]Then shalt thou have sacrifices of righteousness, burnt-offering, and whole burnt-offering; then shall they offer up bullocks upon thine altar.

PSALM 52

[1]Why boastest thou thyself in evil, thou mighty man? The loving-kindness of [God] [abideth] continually.

[2]Thy tongue deviseth mischievous things, like a sharp razor, practising deceit.

[3]Thou hast loved evil rather than good, lying rather than to speak righteousness. Selah.

[4]Thou hast loved all devouring words, O deceitful tongue!

[5][God] shall likewise destroy thee for ever; he shall take thee away, and pluck thee out of [thy] tent, and root thee out of the land of the living. Selah.

[6]The righteous also shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him, [saying,]

[7]Behold the man that made not God his strength, but put confidence in the abundance of his riches, [and] strengthened himself in his avarice.

[8]But as for me, I am like a green olive-tree in the house of God: I will confide in the loving-kindness of God for ever and ever.

[9]I will praise thee for ever, because thou hast done [it]; and I will wait on thy name, before thy godly ones, for it is good.

PSALM 53

[1]The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God! They have corrupted themselves, and have done abominable iniquity: there is none that doeth good.

[2]God looked down from the heavens upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek God.

[3]Every one of them is gone back, they are together become corrupt: there is none that doeth good, not even one.

[4]Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge, eating up my people [as] they eat bread? they call not upon God.

[5]There were they in great fear, where no fear was; for God scattereth the bones of him that encampeth against thee. Thou hast put [them] to shame, for God hath despised them.

[6]Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When God turneth again the captivity of his people, Jacob shall be glad, Israel shall rejoice.

PSALM 54

[1]O God, by thy name save me, and by thy strength do me justice.

[2]O God, hear my prayer; give ear to the words of my mouth.

[3]For strangers are risen up against me, and the violent seek after my life: they have not set God before them. Selah.

[4]Behold, God is my helper; the Lord is among them that uphold my soul.

[5]He will requite evil to mine enemies: in thy truth cut them off.

[6]I will freely sacrifice unto thee; I will praise thy name, O Jehovah, because it is good.

[7]For he hath delivered me out of all trouble; and mine eye hath seen [its desire] upon mine enemies.

PSALM 55

[1]Give ear to my prayer, O God; and hide not thyself from my supplication.

[2]Attend unto me, and answer me: I wander about in my plaint, and I moan aloud,

[3]Because of the voice of the enemy; because of the oppression of the wicked: for they cast iniquity upon me, and in anger they persecute me.

[4]My heart is writhing within me, and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

[5]Fear and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath overwhelmed me.

[6]And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove! I would fly away, and be at rest;

[7]Behold, I would flee afar off, I would lodge in the wilderness; Selah;

[8]I would hasten my escape from the stormy wind, from the tempest.

[9]Swallow [them] up, Lord; divide their tongue: for I have seen violence and strife in the city.

[10]Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof; and iniquity and mischief are in the midst of it.

[11]Perversities are in the midst thereof; and oppression and deceit depart not from its streets.

[12]For it is not an enemy that hath reproached me -- then could I have borne it; neither is it he that hateth me that hath magnified [himself] against me -- then would I have hidden myself from him;

[13]But it was thou, a man mine equal, mine intimate, my familiar friend. ...

[14]We who held sweet intercourse together. To the house of God we walked amid the throng.

[15]Let death seize upon them, let them go down alive into Sheol. For wickedness is in their dwellings, in their midst.

[16]As for me, unto God will I call; and Jehovah will save me.

[17]Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray and moan aloud; and he will hear my voice.

[18]He hath redeemed my soul in peace from the battle against me: for there were many about me.

[19][God] will hear, and afflict them: he that is seated of old, (Selah) ... because there is no change in them, and they fear not God.

[20]He hath put forth his hands against such as are at peace with him; he hath profaned his covenant.

[21]Smooth were the milky [words] of his mouth, but his heart was war; his words were softer than oil, yet are they drawn swords.

[22]Cast thy burden upon Jehovah, and he will sustain thee: he will never suffer the righteous to be moved.

[23]And thou, O God, wilt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days. But as for me, I will confide in thee.

PSALM 56

[1]Be gracious unto me, O God; for man would swallow me up: all the day long fighting he oppresseth me.

[2]Mine enemies would swallow [me] up all the day long; for they are many that fight against me haughtily.

[3]In the day that I am afraid, I will confide in thee.

[4]In God will I praise his word, in God I put my confidence: I will not fear; what can flesh do unto me?

[5]All the day long they wrest my words; all their thoughts are against me for evil.

[6]They gather themselves together, they hide themselves; they mark my steps, because they wait for my soul.

[7]Shall they escape by iniquity? In anger cast down the peoples, O God.

[8]Thou countest my wanderings; put my tears into thy bottle: are they not in thy book?

[9]Then shall mine enemies return backward in the day when I call: this I know, for God is for me.

[10]In God will I praise [his] word; in Jehovah will I praise [his] word.

[11]In God have I put my confidence: I will not fear; what can man do unto me?

[12]Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render thanks unto thee.

[13]For thou hast delivered my soul from death; [wilt thou] not [keep] my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

PSALM 57

[1]Be gracious unto me, O God, be gracious unto me; for my soul taketh refuge in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings do I take refuge, until the calamities be overpast.

[2]I will call unto God, the Most High; unto [God] that performeth [all] for me.

[3]He will send from the heavens and save me; he hath covered with reproach him that would swallow me up. Selah. God hath sent forth his loving-kindness and his truth.

[4]My soul is in the midst of lions; I lie down [among] them that breathe out flames, the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

[5]Be exalted above the heavens, O God; let thy glory be above all the earth!

[6]They have prepared a net for my steps; my soul was bowed down: they have digged a pit before me; they are fallen into the midst thereof. Selah.

[7]My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing, yea, I will sing psalms.

[8]Awake, my glory; awake, lute and harp: I will wake the dawn.

[9]I will give thee thanks among the peoples, O Lord; of thee will I sing psalms among the nations:

[10]For thy loving-kindness is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.

[11]Be exalted above the heavens, O God; let thy glory be above all the earth!

PSALM 58

[1]Is righteousness indeed silent? Do ye speak it? Do ye judge with equity, ye sons of men?

[2]Yea, in heart ye work wickedness; ye weigh out the violence of your hands in the earth.

[3]The wicked go astray from the womb; they err as soon as they are born, speaking lies.

[4]Their poison is like the poison of a serpent: [they are] like the deaf adder which stoppeth her ear;

[5]Which doth not hearken to the voice of enchanters, of one charming ever so wisely.

[7]Let them melt away as waters that flow off; when he aimeth his arrows, let them be as blunted:

[8]Let them be as a snail that melteth as it passeth away; [like] the untimely birth of a woman, let them not see the sun.

[9]Before your pots feel the thorns, green or burning, -- they shall be whirled away.

[10]The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance; he shall wash his footsteps in the blood of the wicked:

[11]And men shall say, Verily there is fruit for the righteous; verily there is a God that judgeth in the earth.

PSALM 59

[1]Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God; secure me on high from them that rise up against me.

[2]Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and save me from men of blood.

[3]For behold, they lie in wait for my soul; strong ones are gathered against me: not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O Jehovah.

[4]They run and prepare themselves without [my] fault: awake to meet me, and behold.

[5]Yea, do thou, Jehovah, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, arise to visit all the nations: be not gracious to any plotters of iniquity. Selah.

[6]They return in the evening; they howl like a dog, and go round about the city:

[7]Behold, they belch out with their mouth; swords are in their lips: for who [say they] doth hear?

[8]But thou, Jehovah, wilt laugh at them; thou wilt have all the nations in derision.

[9]Their strength! ... I will take heed to thee; for God is my high fortress.

[10]God, whose loving-kindness will come to meet me, -- God shall let me see [my desire] upon mine enemies.

[11]Slay them not, lest my people forget; by thy power make them wander, and bring them down, O Lord, our shield.

[12][Because of] the sin of their mouth, the word of their lips, let them even be taken in their pride; and because of cursing and lying which they speak.

[13]Make an end in wrath, make an end, that they may be no more; that they may know that God ruleth in Jacob, unto the ends of the earth. Selah.

[14]And in the evening they shall return, they shall howl like a dog, and go round about the city.

[15]They shall wander about for meat, and stay all night if they be not satisfied.

[16]But as for me, I will sing of thy strength; yea, I will sing aloud of thy loving-kindness in the morning; for thou hast been to me a high fortress, and a refuge in the day of my trouble.

[17]Unto thee, my strength, will I sing psalms; for God is my high fortress, the God of my mercy.

PSALM 60

[1]O God, thou hast cast us off, thou hast scattered us, thou hast been displeased: restore us again.

[2]Thou hast made the earth to tremble, thou hast rent it: heal the breaches thereof; for it shaketh.

[3]Thou hast shewn thy people hard things; thou hast made us to drink the wine of bewilderment.

[4]Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee, that it may be displayed because of the truth, (Selah,)

[5]That thy beloved ones may be delivered. Save with thy right hand, and answer me.

[6]God hath spoken in his holiness: I will exult, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

[7]Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine, and Ephraim is the strength of my head; Judah is my law-giver;

[8]Moab is my wash-pot; upon Edom will I cast my sandal; Philistia, shout aloud because of me.

[9]Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me unto Edom?

[10][Wilt] not thou, O God, who didst cast us off? and didst not go forth, O God, with our armies?

[11]Give us help from trouble; for vain is man's deliverance.

[12]Through God we shall do valiantly; and he it is that will tread down our adversaries.

PSALM 61

[1]Hear, O God, my cry; attend unto my prayer.

[2]From the end of the earth will I call unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: thou wilt lead me on to a rock which is too high for me.

[3]For thou hast been a refuge for me, a strong tower from before the enemy.

[4]I will sojourn in thy tent for ever; I will take refuge in the covert of thy wings. Selah.

[5]For thou, O God, hast heard my vows; thou hast given [me] the inheritance of those that fear thy name.

[6]Thou wilt add days to the days of the king: his years shall be as many generations.

[7]He shall abide before God for ever: bestow loving-kindness and truth, that they may preserve him.

[8]So will I sing forth thy name for ever, performing my vows from day to day.

PSALM 62

[1]Upon God alone doth my soul rest peacefully; from him is my salvation.

[2]He only is my rock and my salvation; my high fortress: I shall not be greatly moved.

[3]How long will ye assail a man; will ye [seek], all of you, to break him down as a bowing wall or a tottering fence?

[4]They only consult to thrust [him] down from his excellency; they delight in lies; they bless with their mouth, but in their inward part they curse. Selah.

[5]Upon God alone, O my soul, rest peacefully; for my expectation is from him.

[6]He only is my rock and my salvation; my high fortress: I shall not be moved.

[7]With God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, my refuge is in God.

[8]Confide in him at all times, ye people; pour out your heart before him: God is our refuge. Selah.

[9]Men of low degree are only vanity; men of high degree, a lie: laid in the balance, they go up together [lighter] than vanity.

[10]Put not confidence in oppression, and become not vain in robbery; if wealth increase, set not your heart upon it.

[11]Once hath God spoken, twice have I heard this, that strength [belongeth] unto God.

[12]And unto thee, O Lord, [belongeth] loving-kindness; for thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63

[1]O God, thou art my [God]; early will I seek thee. My soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh languisheth for thee, in a dry and weary land without water:

[2]To see thy power and thy glory, as I have beheld thee in the sanctuary;

[3]For thy loving-kindness is better than life: my lips shall praise thee.

[4]So will I bless thee while I live; I will lift up my hands in thy name.

[5]My soul is satisfied as with marrow and fatness, and my mouth shall praise [thee] with joyful lips.

[6]When I remember thee upon my bed, I meditate on thee in the night-watches:

[7]For thou hast been my help, and in the shadow of thy wings will I sing for joy.

[8]My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.

[9]But those that seek my soul, to destroy [it], shall go into the lower parts of the earth;

[10]They shall be given over to the power of the sword; they shall be the portion of foxes.

[11]But the king shall rejoice in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory: for the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

PSALM 64

[1]Hear, O God, my voice in my plaint; preserve my life from fear of the enemy:

[2]Hide me from the secret counsel of evil-doers, from the tumultuous crowd of the workers of iniquity,

[3]Who have sharpened their tongue like a sword, [and] have aimed their arrow, a bitter word;

[4]That they may shoot in secret at the perfect: suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.

[5]They encourage themselves in an evil matter, they concert to hide snares; they say, Who will see them?

[6]They devise iniquities: We have it ready, the plan is diligently sought out. And each one's inward [thought] and heart is deep.

[7]But God will shoot an arrow at them: suddenly are they wounded;

[8]By their own tongue they are made to fall over one another: all that see them shall flee away.

[9]And all men shall fear, and shall declare God's doing; and they shall wisely consider his work.

[10]The righteous shall rejoice in Jehovah, and trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65

[1]Praise waiteth for thee in silence, O God, in Zion; and unto thee shall the vow be performed.

[2]O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come.

[3]Iniquities have prevailed against me: our transgressions, thou wilt forgive them.

[4]Blessed is he whom thou choosest and causest to approach: he shall dwell in thy courts. We shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, of thy holy temple.

[5]By terrible things in righteousness wilt thou answer us, O God of our salvation, thou confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of the distant regions of the sea. ...

[6]Who by his strength established the mountains, being girded with power;

[7]Who stilleth the raging of the seas, the raging of their waves, and the tumult of the peoples.

[8]And they that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens; thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.

[9]Thou hast visited the earth, thou hast watered it; thou greatly enrichest it: the river of God is full of water; thou providest their corn, when thou hast so prepared it:

[10]Thou dost satiate its furrows, thou smoothest its clods, thou makest it soft with showers; thou blessest the springing thereof.

[11]Thou crownest the year with thy goodness, and thy paths drop fatness:

[12]They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness, and the hills are girded with gladness.

[13]The meadows are clothed with flocks, and the valleys are covered over with corn; they shout for joy, yea, they sing.

PSALM 66

[1]Shout aloud unto God, all the earth:

[2]Sing forth the glory of his name, make his praise glorious;

[3]Say unto God, How terrible are thy works! because of the greatness of thy strength, thine enemies come cringing unto thee.

[4]All the earth shall worship thee, and sing psalms unto thee: they shall sing forth thy name. Selah.

[5]Come and see the works of God: he is terrible in [his] doings toward the children of men.

[6]He turned the sea into dry [land]; they went through the river on foot: there did we rejoice in him.

[7]He ruleth by his power for ever; his eyes observe the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah.

[8]Bless our God, ye peoples, and make the voice of his praise to be heard;

[9]Who hath set our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.

[10]For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.

[11]Thou broughtest us into a net, thou didst lay a heavy burden upon our loins;

[12]Thou didst cause men to ride over our head; we went through fire and through water: but thou hast brought us out into abundance.

[13]I will go into thy house with burnt-offerings; I will perform my vows to thee, [14]Which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble.

[15]I will offer up unto thee burnt-offerings of fatted beasts, with the incense of rams; I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah.

[16]Come, hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.

[17]I called unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.

[18]Had I regarded iniquity in my heart, the Lord would not hear.

[19]But God hath heard; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.

[20]Blessed be God, who hath not turned away my prayer, nor his loving-kindness from me!

PSALM 67

[1]God be gracious unto us, and bless us, [and] cause his face to shine upon us; Selah,

[2]That thy way may be known upon earth, thy salvation among all nations.

[3]Let the peoples praise thee, O God, let all the peoples praise thee.

[4]Let the nations rejoice and sing for joy: for thou wilt judge the peoples equitably; and the nations upon earth, thou wilt guide them. Selah.

[5]Let the peoples praise thee, O God; let all the peoples praise thee.

[6]The earth will yield her increase; God, our God, will bless us:

[7]God will bless us; and all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

PSALM 68

[1]Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered, and let them that hate him flee before him.

[2]As smoke is driven, thou wilt drive them away; as wax melteth before the fire, the wicked shall perish at the presence of God.

[3]But the righteous shall rejoice: they shall exult before God and be glad with joy.

[4]Sing unto God, sing forth his name; cast up a way for him that rideth in the deserts: his name is Jah; and rejoice before him.

[5]A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.

[6]God maketh the solitary into families; those that were bound he bringeth out into prosperity: but the rebellious dwell in a parched [land].

[7]O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou didst march through the wilderness -- (Selah) --

[8]The earth trembled, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God, yon Sinai, at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

[9]Thou, O God, didst pour a plentiful rain upon thine inheritance, and when it was weary thou strengthenedst it.

[10]Thy flock hath dwelt therein: thou hast prepared in thy goodness, for the afflicted, O God!

[11]The Lord gives the word: great the host of the publishers.

[12]Kings of armies flee; they flee, and she that tarrieth at home divideth the spoil.

[13]Though ye have lain among the sheepfolds, [ye shall be as] wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with green gold.

[14]When the Almighty scattered kings in it, it became snow-white as Zalmon.

[15][As] mount Bashan is the mount of God, a many-peaked mountain, [as] mount Bashan.

[16]Why do ye look with envy, ye many-peaked mountains, upon the mount that God hath desired for his abode? yea, Jehovah will dwell [there] for ever.

[17]The chariots of God are twenty thousand, thousands upon thousands; the Lord is among them: it is a Sinai in holiness.

[18]Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts in Man, and even [for] the rebellious, for the dwelling [there] of Jah Elohim.

[19]Blessed be the Lord: day by day doth he load us [with good], the [God] who is our salvation. Selah.

[20]Our [God] is the [God] of salvation; and with Jehovah, the Lord, are the goings forth [even] from death.

[21]Verily God will smite the head of his enemies, the hairy scalp of him that goeth on still in his trespasses.

[22]The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring [them] again from the depth of the sea;

[23]That thou mayest dip thy foot in blood: the tongue of thy dogs has its portion from enemies.

[24]They have seen thy goings, O God, the goings of my [God], my King, in the sanctuary.

[25]The singers went before, the players on stringed instruments after, in the midst of maidens playing on tabrets.

[26]In the congregations bless ye God, the Lord, -- [ye] from the fountain of Israel.

[27]There is little Benjamin, their ruler; the princes of Judah, their company; the princes of Zebulun, the princes of Naphtali.

[28]Thy God hath commanded thy strength: strengthen, O God, that which thou hast wrought for us.

[29]Because of thy temple at Jerusalem shall kings bring presents unto thee.

[30]Rebuke the beast of the reeds, the assembly of the strong, with the calves of the peoples: [every one] submitteth himself with pieces of silver. Scatter the peoples that delight in war.

[31]Great ones shall come out of Egypt; Ethiopia shall quickly stretch out her hands unto God.

[32]Ye kingdoms of the earth, sing unto God; sing psalms of the Lord, (Selah,)

[33]Of him that rideth upon the heavens, the heavens which are of old: lo, he uttereth his voice, a mighty voice.

[34]Ascribe ye strength unto God: his excellency is over Israel, and his strength is in the clouds.

[35]Terrible art thou, O God, out of thy sanctuaries, -- the [God] of Israel! He it is that giveth strength and might unto the people. Blessed be God!

PSALM 69

[1]Save me, O God; for the waters are come in unto [my] soul.

[2]I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing; I am come into the depths of waters, and the flood overfloweth me.

[3]I am weary with my crying, my throat is parched; mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.

[4]They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head; they that would destroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away.

[5]Thou, O God, knowest my foolishness, and my trespasses are not hidden from thee.

[6]Let not them that wait on thee, Lord, Jehovah of hosts, be ashamed through me; let not those that seek thee be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

[7]Because for thy sake I have borne reproach; confusion hath covered my face.

[8]I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mother's sons;

[9]For the zeal of thy house hath devoured me, and the reproaches of them that reproach thee have fallen upon me.

[10]And I wept, my soul was fasting: that also was to my reproach; --

[11]And I made sackcloth my garment: then I became a proverb to them.

[12]They that sit in the gate talk of me, and [I am] the song of the drunkards.

[13]But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, Jehovah, in an acceptable time: O God, in the abundance of thy loving-kindness answer me, according to the truth of thy salvation:

[14]Deliver me out of the mire, let me not sink; let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the depths of waters.

[15]Let not the flood of waters overflow me, neither let the deep swallow me up; and let not the pit shut its mouth upon me.

[16]Answer me, O Jehovah; for thy loving-kindness is good: according to the abundance of thy tender mercies, turn toward me;

[17]And hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble: answer me speedily.

[18]Draw nigh unto my soul, be its redeemer; ransom me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou knowest my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am overwhelmed: and I looked for sympathy, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 Yea, they gave me gall for my food, and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table become a snare before them, and their very welfare a trap;

23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not, and make their loins continually to shake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let the fierceness of thine anger take hold of them.

25 Let their habitation be desolate; let there be no dweller in their tents.

26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten, and they talk for the sorrow of those whom thou hast wounded.

27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity, and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of life, and not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am afflicted and sorrowful: let thy salvation, O God, set me secure on high.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving;

31 And it shall please Jehovah more than an ox, -- a bullock with horns and cloven hoofs.

32 The meek shall see it, they shall be glad; ye that seek God, your heart shall live.

33 For Jehovah heareth the needy, and despiseth not his prisoners.

34 Let heavens and earth praise him; the seas, and everything that moveth therein.

35 For God will save Zion, and will build the cities of Judah; and they shall dwell there, and possess it:

36 And the seed of his servants shall inherit it, and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

PSALM 70

1 Make haste, O God, to deliver me; Jehovah, [hasten] to my help.

2 Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion that seek after my soul; let them be turned backward and confounded that take pleasure in mine adversity;

3 Let them turn back because of their shame that say, Aha! Aha!

[4]Let all those that seek thee be glad and rejoice in thee, and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified!

[5]But I am afflicted and needy: make haste unto me, O God. Thou art my help and my deliverer: O Jehovah, make no delay.

PSALM 71

[1]In thee, Jehovah, do I trust: let me never be ashamed.

[2]Deliver me in thy righteousness, and rescue me; incline thine ear unto me, and save me.

[3]Be to me a rock of habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress.

[4]My God, rescue me out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

[5]For thou art my hope, O Lord Jehovah, my confidence from my youth.

[6]On thee have I been stayed from the womb; from the bowels of my mother thou didst draw me forth: my praise shall be continually of thee.

[7]I have been as a wonder unto many; but thou art my strong refuge.

[8]My mouth shall be filled with thy praise, with thy glory, all the day.

[9]Cast me not off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength faileth.

[10]For mine enemies speak against me, and they that watch for my soul consult together, [11]Saying, God hath forsaken him; pursue and seize him, for there is none to deliver.

[12]O God, be not far from me; my God, hasten to my help.

[13]Let them be ashamed, let them be consumed, that are adversaries to my soul; let them be covered with reproach and dishonour that seek my hurt.

[14]But as for me, I will hope continually, and will praise thee yet more and more.

[15]My mouth shall declare thy righteousness, [and] thy salvation all the day: for I know not the numbers [thereof].

[16]I will go in the might of the Lord Jehovah; I will recall thy righteousness, thine alone.

[17]O God, thou hast taught me from my youth, and hitherto have I proclaimed thy marvellous works:

[18]Now also, when I am old and greyheaded, O God, forsake me not, until I have proclaimed thine arm unto [this] generation, thy might to every one that is to come.

[19]And thy righteousness, O God, reacheth on high, thou who hast done great things: O God, who is like unto thee?

[20]Thou, who hast shewn us many and sore troubles, wilt revive us again, and wilt bring us up again from the depths of the earth;

[21]Thou wilt increase my greatness, and comfort me on every side.

[22]I will also praise thee with the psaltery, even thy truth, my God; unto thee will I sing psalms with the harp, thou holy One of Israel.

[23]My lips shall exult when I sing psalms unto thee; and my soul, which thou hast redeemed.

[24]My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day; for they shall be ashamed, for they shall be brought to confusion, that seek my hurt.

PSALM 72

[1]O God, give the king thy judgments, and thy righteousness unto the king's son.

[2]He will judge thy people with righteousness, and thine afflicted with judgment.

[3]The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the hills, by righteousness.

[4]He will do justice to the afflicted of the people; he will save the children of the needy, and will break in pieces the oppressor.

[5]They shall fear thee as long as sun and moon endure, from generation to generation.

[6]He shall come down like rain on the mown grass, as showers that water the earth.

[7]In his days shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace till the moon be no more.

[8]And he shall have dominion from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth.

[9]The dwellers in the desert shall bow before him, and his enemies shall lick the dust.

[10]The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall render presents; the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer tribute:

[11]Yea, all kings shall bow down before him; all nations shall serve him.

[12]For he will deliver the needy who crieth, and the afflicted, who hath no helper;

[13]He will have compassion on the poor and needy, and will save the souls of the needy:

[14]He will redeem their souls from oppression and violence, and precious shall their blood be in his sight.

[15]And he shall live; and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba; and prayer shall be made for him continually: all the day shall he be blessed.

[16]There shall be abundance of corn in the earth, upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon; and they of the city shall bloom like the herb of the earth.

[17]His name shall endure for ever; his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and [men] shall bless themselves in him; all nations shall call him blessed.

[18]Blessed be Jehovah Elohim, the God of Israel, who alone doeth wondrous things!

[19]And blessed be his glorious name for ever! and let the whole earth be filled with his glory! Amen, and Amen.

[20]The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

PSALM 73

[1]Truly God is good to Israel, to such as are of a pure heart.

[2]But as for me, my feet were almost gone, my steps had well nigh slipped;

[3]For I was envious at the arrogant, seeing the prosperity of the wicked.

[4]For they have no pangs in their death, and their body is well nourished;

[5]They have not the hardships of mankind, neither are they plagued like [other] men:

[6]Therefore pride encompasseth them as a neck-chain, violence covereth them [as] a garment;

[7]Their eyes stand out from fatness, they exceed the imaginations of their heart:

[8]They mock and speak wickedly of oppression, they speak loftily:

[9]They set their mouth in the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

[10]Therefore his people turn hither, and waters in fulness are wrung out to them.

[11]And they say, How can [God] know, and is there knowledge in the Most High?

[12]Behold, these are the wicked, and they prosper in the world: they heap up riches.

[13]Truly have I purified my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency:

[14]For all the day have I been plagued, and chastened every morning.

[15]If I said, I will speak thus, behold, I should be faithless to the generation of thy children.

[16]When I thought to be able to know this, it was a grievous task in mine eyes;

[17]Until I went into the sanctuaries of [God]; [then] understood I their end.

[18]Truly thou settest them in slippery places, thou castest them down in ruins.

[19]How are they suddenly made desolate! they pass away, consumed with terrors.

[20]As a dream, when one awaketh, wilt thou, Lord, on arising despise their image.

[21]When my heart was in a ferment, and I was pricked in my reins, [22]Then I was brutish and knew nothing; I was [as] a beast with thee.

[23]Nevertheless I am continually with thee: thou hast holden my right hand;

[24]Thou wilt guide me by thy counsel, and after the glory, thou wilt receive me.

[25]Whom have I in the heavens? and there is none upon earth I desire beside thee.

[26]My flesh and my heart faileth: God is the rock of my heart and my portion for ever.

[27]For behold, they that are far from thee shall perish; thou destroyest every one that goeth a whoring from thee.

[28]But as for me, it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord Jehovah, that I may declare all thy works.

PSALM 74

[1]Why, O God, hast thou cast off for ever? [why] doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?

[2]Remember thine assembly, which thou hast purchased of old, which thou hast redeemed [to be] the portion of thine inheritance, this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

[3]Lift up thy steps unto the perpetual desolations: everything in the sanctuary hath the enemy destroyed.

[4]Thine adversaries roar in the midst of thy place of assembly; they set up their signs [for] signs.

[5][A man] was known as he could lift up axes in the thicket of trees;

[6]And now they break down its carved work altogether, with hatchets and hammers.

[7]They have set on fire thy sanctuary, they have profaned the habitation of thy name to the ground.

[8]They said in their heart, Let us destroy them together: they have burned up all [God]'s places of assembly in the land.

[9]We see not our signs; there is no more any prophet, neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.

[10]How long, O God, shall the adversary reproach? Shall the enemy contemn thy name for ever?

[11]Why withdrawest thou thy hand, and thy right hand? [pluck it] out of thy bosom: consume [them].

12 But God is my king of old, accomplishing deliverances in the midst of the earth.

13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength; thou didst break the heads of the monsters on the waters:

14 Thou didst break in pieces the heads of leviathan, thou gavest him to be meat to those that people the desert.

15 Thou didst cleave fountain and torrent, thou driedst up ever-flowing rivers.

16 The day is thine, the night also is thine; thou hast prepared the moon and the sun:

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth; summer and winter -- thou didst form them.

18 Remember this, that an enemy hath reproached Jehovah, and a foolish people have contemned thy name.

19 Give not up the soul of thy turtle-dove unto the wild beast; forget not the troop of thine afflicted for ever.

20 Have respect unto the covenant; for the dark places of the earth are full of the dwellings of violence.

21 Oh let not the oppressed one return ashamed; let the afflicted and needy praise thy name.

22 Rise up, O God, plead thine own cause: remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee all the day;

23 Forget not the voice of thine adversaries: the tumult of those that rise up against thee ascendeth continually.

PSALM 75

1 Unto thee we give thanks, O God, we give thanks; and thy name is near: thy marvellous works declare it.

2 When I shall receive the assembly, I will judge with equity.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: I have established its pillars. Selah.

4 I said unto the boastful, Boast not; and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn:

5 Lift not up your horn on high; speak not arrogantly with a [stiff] neck.

6 For not from the east nor from the west, nor yet from the south doth exaltation [come]:

7 For God is the judge; he putteth down one and exalteth another.

8 For in the hand of Jehovah there is a cup, and it foameth with wine, it is full of mixture; and he poureth out of the same; yea, the dregs thereof shall all the wicked of the earth drain off, [and] drink.

9 But as for me, I will declare for ever; I will sing psalms to the God of Jacob.

10 And all the horns of the wicked will I cut off; [but] the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.

PSALM 76

[1]In Judah is God known, his name is great in Israel;

[2]And in Salem is his tent, and his dwelling-place in Zion.

[3]There broke he the flashings of the bow, shield and sword and battle. Selah.

[4]More glorious art thou, more excellent, than the mountains of prey.

[5]The stout-hearted are made a spoil, they have slept their sleep; and none of the men of might have found their hands.

[6]At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.

[7]Thou, thou art to be feared, and who can stand before thee when once thou art angry?

[8]Thou didst cause judgment to be heard from the heavens; the earth feared, and was still,

[9]When God rose up to judgment, to save all the meek of the earth. Selah.

[10]For the fury of man shall praise thee; the remainder of fury wilt thou gird on thyself.

[11]Vow and pay unto Jehovah your God: let all that are round about him bring presents unto him that is to be feared.

[12]He cutteth off the spirit of princes; [he] is terrible to the kings of the earth.

PSALM 77

[1]My voice is unto God, and I will cry; my voice is unto God, and he will give ear unto me.

[2]In the day of my trouble, I sought the Lord: my hand was stretched out in the night, and slacked not; my soul refused to be comforted.

[3]I remembered God, and I moaned; I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah.

[4]Thou holdest open mine eyelids; I am full of disquiet and cannot speak.

[5]I consider the days of old, the years of ancient times.

[6]I remember my song in the night; I muse in mine own heart, and my spirit maketh diligent search.

[7]Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favourable no more?

[8]Hath his loving-kindness ceased for ever? hath [his] word come to an end from generation to generation?

[9]Hath [God] forgotten to be gracious? or hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? Selah.

[10]Then said I, This is my weakness: -- the years of the right hand of the Most High

[11]Will I remember, -- the works of Jah; for I will remember thy wonders of old, [12]And I will meditate upon all thy work, and muse upon thy doings.

[13]O God, thy way is in the sanctuary: who is so great a god as God?

[14]Thou art the [God] that doest wonders; thou hast declared thy strength among the peoples.

[15]Thou hast with [thine] arm redeemed thy people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah.

[16]The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee; they trembled, yea, the depths were troubled:

[17]The thick clouds poured out water; the skies sent out a sound, yea, thine arrows went abroad:

[18]The voice of thy thunder was in the whirlwind, lightnings lit up the world; the earth was troubled and it quaked.

[19]Thy way is in the sea, and thy paths are in the great waters; and thy footsteps are not known.

[20]Thou leddest thy people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

PSALM 78

[1]Give ear, O my people, to my law; incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

[2]I will open my mouth in a parable; I will utter riddles from of old,

[3]Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us:

[4]We will not hide [them] from their sons, shewing forth to the generation to come the praises of Jehovah, and his strength, and his marvellous works which he hath done.

[5]For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children;

[6]That the generation to come might know [them], the children that should be born; that they might rise up and tell [them] to their children,

[7]And that they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of [God], but observe his commandments;

[8]And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation that prepared not their heart, and whose spirit was not stedfast with [God].

[9]The sons of Ephraim, armed bowmen, turned back in the day of battle.

[10]They kept not the covenant of God, and refused to walk in his law;

[11]And forgot his doings, and his marvellous works which he had shewn them.

[12]In the sight of their fathers had he done wonders, in the land of Egypt, the field of Zoan.

[13]He clave the sea, and caused them to pass through; and made the waters to stand as a heap;

[14]And he led them with a cloud in the daytime, and all the night with the light of fire.

[15]He clave rocks in the wilderness, and gave [them] drink as out of the depths, abundantly;

[16]And he brought streams out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.

[17]Yet they still went on sinning against him, provoking the Most High in the desert;

[18]And they tempted [God] in their heart, by asking meat for their lust;

[19]And they spoke against God: they said, Is [God] able to prepare a table in the wilderness?

[20]Behold, he smote the rock, and waters gushed out, and streams overflowed; is he able to give bread also, or provide flesh for his people?

[21]Therefore Jehovah heard, and was wroth; and fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also went up against Israel:

[22]Because they believed not in God, and confided not in his salvation;

[23]Though he had commanded the clouds from above, and had opened the doors of the heavens,

[24]And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them the corn of the heavens.

[25]Man did eat the bread of the mighty; he sent them provision to the full.

[26]He caused the east wind to rise in the heavens, and by his strength he brought the south wind;

[27]And he rained flesh upon them as dust, and feathered fowl as the sand of the seas,

[28]And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations:

[29]And they did eat, and were well filled; for that they lusted after, he brought to them.

[30]They were not alienated from their lust, their meat was yet in their mouths, [31]When the anger of God went up against them; and he slew the fattest of them, and smote down the chosen men of Israel.

[32]For all this, they sinned still, and believed not in his marvellous works;

[33]And he consumed their days in vanity, and their years in terror.

[34]When he slew them, then they sought him, and returned and sought early after [God];

[35]And they remembered that God was their rock, and [God], the Most High, their redeemer.

[36]But they flattered him with their mouth, and lied unto him with their tongue;

[37]For their heart was not firm toward him, neither were they stedfast in his covenant.

[38]But he was merciful: he forgave the iniquity, and destroyed [them] not; but many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his fury:

[39]And he remembered that they were flesh, a breath that passeth away and cometh not again.

[40]How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert!

[41]And they turned again and tempted [God], and grieved the Holy One of Israel.

[42]They remembered not his hand, the day when he delivered them from the oppressor,

[43]How he set his signs in Egypt, and his miracles in the field of Zoan;

[44]And turned their rivers into blood, and their streams, that they could not drink;

[45]He sent dog-flies among them, which devoured them, and frogs, which destroyed them;

[46]And he gave their increase unto the caterpillar, and their labour unto the locust;

[47]He killed their vines with hail, and their sycamore trees with hail-stones;

[48]And he delivered up their cattle to the hail, and their flocks to thunderbolts.

[49]He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and distress, -- a mission of angels of woes.

[50]He made a way for his anger; he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life over to the pestilence;

[51]And he smote all the firstborn in Egypt, the first-fruits of their vigour in the tents of Ham.

[52]And he made his own people to go forth like sheep, and guided them in the wilderness like a flock;

[53]And he led them safely, so that they were without fear; and the sea covered their enemies.

[54]And he brought them to his holy border, this mountain, which his right hand purchased;

[55]And he drove out the nations before them, and allotted them for an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

[56]But they tempted and provoked God, the Most High, and kept not his testimonies, [57]And they drew back and dealt treacherously like their fathers: they turned like a deceitful bow.

[58]And they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images.

[59]God heard, and was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel:

[60]And he forsook the tabernacle at Shiloh, the tent where he had dwelt among men,

[61]And gave his strength into captivity, and his glory into the hand of the oppressor;

[62]And delivered up his people unto the sword, and was very wroth with his inheritance:

[63]The fire consumed their young men, and their maidens were not praised in [nuptial] song;

[64]Their priests fell by the sword, and their widows made no lamentation.

[65]Then the Lord awoke as one out of sleep, like a mighty man that shouteth aloud by reason of wine;

[66]And he smote his adversaries in the hinder part, and put them to everlasting reproach.

[67]And he rejected the tent of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim,

[68]But chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved;

[69]And he built his sanctuary like the heights, like the earth which he hath founded for ever.

[70]And he chose David his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds:

[71]From following the suckling-ewes, he brought him to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

[72]And he fed them according to the integrity of his heart, and led them by the skilfulness of his hands.

PSALM 79

[1]O God, the nations are come into thine inheritance: thy holy temple have they defiled; they have laid Jerusalem in heaps.

[2]The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowl of the heavens, the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth:

[3]Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury [them].

[4]We are become a reproach to our neighbours, a mockery and a derision to them that are round about us.

[5]How long, O Jehovah? wilt thou be angry for ever? Shall thy jealousy burn like fire?

[6]Pour out thy fury upon the nations that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that call not upon thy name:

[7]For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his habitation.

[8]Remember not against us the iniquities of [our] forefathers; let thy tender mercies speedily come to meet us: for we are brought very low.

[9]Help us, O God of our salvation, because of the glory of thy name; and deliver us, and forgive our sins, for thy name's sake.

[10]Wherefore should the nations say, Where is their God? Let the avenging of the blood of thy servants that is shed be known among the nations in our sight.

[11]Let the groaning of the prisoner come before thee; according to the greatness of thine arm, preserve those that are appointed to die;

[12]And render unto our neighbours, sevenfold into their bosom, their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

[13]And we, thy people and the sheep of thy pasture, will give thanks unto thee for ever; we will shew forth thy praise from generation to generation.

PSALM 80

[1]Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock; thou that sittest [between] the cherubim, shine forth.

[2]Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, stir up thy strength, and come to our deliverance.

[3]O God, restore us; and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

[4]Jehovah, God of hosts, how long will thine anger smoke against the prayer of thy people?

[5]Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, and given them tears to drink in large measure:

[6]Thou hast made us a strife unto our neighbours, and our enemies mock among themselves.

[7]Restore us, O God of hosts; and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

[8]Thou broughtest a vine out of Egypt; thou didst cast out the nations, and plant it:

[9]Thou preparedst space before it, and it took deep root, and filled the land;

[10]The mountains were covered with its shadow, and the branches thereof were [like] cedars of [God];

[11]It sent out its boughs unto the sea, and its shoots unto the river.

[12]Why hast thou broken down its fences, so that all who pass by the way do pluck it?

[13]The boar out of the forest doth waste it, and the beast of the field doth feed off it.

[14]O God of hosts, return, we beseech thee; look down from the heavens, and behold, and visit this vine;

[15]Even the stock which thy right hand hath planted, and the young plant thou madest strong for thyself.

[16]It is burned with fire, it is cut down; they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

[17]Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou hast made strong for thyself.

[18]So will we not go back from thee. Revive us, and we will call upon thy name.

[19]Restore us, O Jehovah, God of hosts; cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

PSALM 81

[1]Sing ye joyously unto God our strength, shout aloud unto the God of Jacob;

[2]Raise a song, and sound the tambour, the pleasant harp with the lute.

[3]Blow the trumpet at the new moon, at the set time, on our feast day:

[4]For this is a statute for Israel, an ordinance of the God of Jacob;

[5]He ordained it in Joseph [for] a testimony, when he went forth over the land of Egypt, [where] I heard a language that I knew not.

[6]I removed his shoulder from the burden; his hands were freed from the basket.

[7]Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee; I answered thee in the secret place of thunder; I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah.

[8]Hear, my people, and I will testify unto thee; O Israel, if thou wouldest hearken unto me!

[9]There shall no strange god be in thee, neither shalt thou worship any foreign god.

[10]I am Jehovah thy God, that brought thee up out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

[11]But my people hearkened not to my voice, and Israel would none of me.

[12]So I gave them up unto their own hearts' stubbornness: they walked after their own counsels.

[13]Oh that my people had hearkened unto me, that Israel had walked in my ways!

[14]I would soon have subdued their enemies, and turned my hand against their adversaries.

[15]The haters of Jehovah would have come cringing unto him; but their time would have been for ever.

[16]And he would have fed them with the finest of wheat; yea, with honey out of the rock would I have satisfied thee.

PSALM 82

[1]God standeth in the assembly of [God], he judgeth among the gods.

[2]How long will ye judge unrighteously, and accept the person of the wicked? Selah.

[3]Judge the poor and the fatherless, do justice to the afflicted and the destitute;

[4]Rescue the poor and needy, deliver them out of the hand of the wicked.

[5]They know not, neither do they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are moved.

[6]I have said, Ye are gods, and all of you are children of the Most High;

[7]But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes.

[8]Arise, O God, judge the earth; for thou shalt inherit all the nations.

PSALM 83

[1]O God, keep not silence; hold not thy peace, and be not still, O [God]:

[2]For behold, thine enemies make a tumult; and they that hate thee lift up the head.

[3]They take crafty counsel against thy people, and consult against thy hidden ones:

[4]They say, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation, and let the name of Israel be mentioned no more.

[5]For they have consulted together with one heart: they have made an alliance together against thee.

[6]The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Hagarites;

[7]Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek; Philistia, with the inhabitants of Tyre;

[8]Asshur also is joined with them: they are an arm to the sons of Lot. Selah.

[9]Do unto them as to Midian; as to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the torrent of Kishon:

[10]Who were destroyed at Endor; they became as dung for the ground.

[11]Make their nobles as Oreb and as Zeeb; and all their chiefs as Zebah and as Zalmunna.

[12]For they have said, Let us take to ourselves God's dwelling-places in possession.

[13]O my God, make them like a whirling thing, like stubble before the wind.

[14]As fire burneth a forest, and as the flame setteth the mountains on fire, [15]So pursue them with thy tempest, and terrify them with thy whirlwind.

[16]Fill their faces with shame, that they may seek thy name, O Jehovah.

[17]Let them be put to shame and be dismayed for ever, and let them be confounded and perish:

[18]That they may know that thou alone, whose name is Jehovah, art the Most High over all the earth.

PSALM 84

[1]How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Jehovah of hosts!

[2]My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of Jehovah; my heart and my flesh cry out for the living [God].

[3]Yea, the sparrow hath found a house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she layeth her young, thine altars, O Jehovah of hosts, my King and my God.

[4]Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be constantly praising thee. Selah.

[5]Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee, -- they, in whose heart are the highways.

[6]Passing through the valley of Baca, they make it a well-spring; yea, the early rain covereth it with blessings.

[7]They go from strength to strength: [each one] will appear before God in Zion.

[8]Jehovah, God of hosts, hear my prayer; give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.

[9]Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine anointed.

[10]For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather stand at the threshold of the house of my God, than dwell in the tents of wickedness.

[11]For Jehovah Elohim is a sun and shield: Jehovah will give grace and glory; no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

[12]Jehovah of hosts, blessed is the man that confideth in thee!

PSALM 85

[1]Thou hast been favourable, Jehovah, unto thy land; thou hast turned the captivity of Jacob:

[2]Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people; thou hast covered all their sin. Selah.

[3]Thou hast withdrawn all thy wrath; thou hast turned from the fierceness of thine anger.

[4]Bring us back, O God of our salvation, and cause thine indignation toward us to cease.

[5]Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger from generation to generation?

[6]Wilt thou not revive us again, that thy people may rejoice in thee?

[7]Shew us thy loving-kindness, O Jehovah, and grant us thy salvation.

[8]I will hear what [God], Jehovah, will speak; for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his godly ones: but let them not turn again to folly.

[9]Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him, that glory may dwell in our land.

[10]Loving-kindness and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other:

[11]Truth shall spring out of the earth, and righteousness shall look down from the heavens.

[12]Jehovah also will give what is good, and our land shall yield its increase.

[13]Righteousness shall go before him, and shall set his footsteps on the way.

PSALM 86

[1]Incline thine ear, Jehovah, answer me; for I am afflicted and needy.

[2]Keep my soul, for I am godly; O thou my God, save thy servant who confideth in thee.

[3]Be gracious unto me, O Lord; for unto thee do I call all the day.

[4]Rejoice the soul of thy servant; for unto thee, Lord, do I lift up my soul.

[5]For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive, and art of great loving-kindness unto all that call upon thee.

[6]Give ear, O Jehovah, unto my prayer, and attend to the voice of my supplications.

[7]In the day of my distress I will call upon thee, for thou wilt answer me.

[8]Among the gods there is none like unto thee, Lord, and there is nothing like unto thy works.

[9]All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord, and shall glorify thy name.

[10]For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God, thou alone.

[11]Teach me thy way, Jehovah; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

[12]I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with my whole heart; and I will glorify thy name for evermore.

[13]For great is thy loving-kindness toward me, and thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest Sheol.

[14]O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assembly of the violent seek after my soul, and they have not set thee before them.

[15]But thou, Lord, art a [God] merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and abundant in goodness and truth.

16 Turn toward me, and be gracious unto me; give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the son of thine handmaid.

17 Shew me a token for good, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed; for thou, Jehovah, hast helped me and comforted me.

PSALM 87

1 His foundation is in the mountains of holiness.

2 Jehovah loveth the gates of Zion more than all the habitations of Jacob.

3 Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God. Selah.

4 I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon among them that know me; behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia: this [man] was born there.

5 And of Zion it shall be said, This one and that one was born in her; and the Most High himself shall establish her.

6 Jehovah will count, when he inscribeth the peoples, This [man] was born there. Selah.

7 As well the singers as the dancers [shall say], All my springs are in thee.

PSALM 88

1 Jehovah, God of my salvation, I have cried by day [and] in the night before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee; incline thine ear unto my cry.

3 For my soul is full of troubles, and my life draweth nigh to Sheol.

4 I am reckoned with them that go down into the pit; I am as a man that hath no strength:

5 Prostrate among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave; whom thou rememberest no more, and who are cut off from thy hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in dark places, in the deeps.

7 Thy fury lieth hard upon me, and thou hast afflicted [me] with all thy waves. Selah.

8 Thou hast put my familiar friends far from me; thou hast made me an abomination unto them: I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 Mine eye consumeth by reason of affliction. Upon thee, Jehovah, have I called every day; I have stretched out my hands unto thee.

10 Wilt thou do wonders to the dead? shall the shades arise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving-kindness be declared in the grave? thy faithfulness in Destruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

[13]But as for me, Jehovah, I cry unto thee, and in the morning my prayer cometh before thee.

[14]Why, O Jehovah, castest thou off my soul? [why] hidest thou thy face from me?

[15]I am afflicted and expiring from my youth up; I suffer thy terrors, [and] I am distracted.

[16]Thy fierce anger hath gone over me; thy terrors have brought me to nought:

[17]They have surrounded me all the day like water; they have compassed me about together.

[18]Lover and associate hast thou put far from me: my familiar friends are darkness.

PSALM 89

[1]I will sing of the loving-kindness of Jehovah for ever; with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness from generation to generation.

[2]For I said, Loving-kindness shall be built up for ever; in the very heavens wilt thou establish thy faithfulness.

[3]I have made a covenant with mine elect, I have sworn unto David my servant:

[4]Thy seed will I establish for ever, and build up thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

[5]And the heavens shall celebrate thy wonders, O Jehovah, and thy faithfulness in the congregation of the saints.

[6]For who in the heaven can be compared to Jehovah? [who] among the sons of the mighty shall be likened to Jehovah?

[7][God] is greatly to be feared in the council of the saints, and terrible for all that are round about him.

[8]Jehovah, God of hosts, who is like unto thee, the strong Jah? And thy faithfulness is round about thee.

[9]Thou rulest the pride of the sea: when its waves arise, thou stillest them.

[10]Thou hast crushed Rahab as one that is slain; thou hast scattered thine enemies with the arm of thy strength.

[11]Thine are the heavens, the earth also is thine; the world and its fulness, thou hast founded them.

[12]The north and the south, thou hast created them: Tabor and Hermon triumph in thy name.

[13]Thine is the arm of might: strong is thy hand, high is thy right hand.

[14]Righteousness and judgment are the foundation of thy throne; loving-kindness and truth go before thy face.

[15]Blessed is the people that know the shout of joy: they walk, O Jehovah, in the light of thy countenance.

[16]In thy name are they joyful all the day, and in thy righteousness are they exalted.

[17]For thou art the glory of their strength; and in thy favour our horn shall be exalted.

[18]For Jehovah is our shield, and the Holy One of Israel, our king.

[19]Then thou spakest in vision of thy Holy One, and saidst, I have laid help upon a mighty one; I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

[20]I have found David my servant; with my holy oil have I anointed him:

[21]With whom my hand shall be established; and mine arm shall strengthen him.

[22]No enemy shall exact upon him, nor the son of wickedness afflict him;

[23]But I will beat down his adversaries before his face, and will smite them that hate him.

[24]And my faithfulness and my loving-kindness shall be with him, and by my name shall his horn be exalted.

[25]And I will set his hand in the sea, and his right hand in the rivers.

[26]He shall call unto me, Thou art my father, my [God], and the rock of my salvation;

[27]And as to me, I will make him firstborn, the highest of the kings of the earth.

[28]My loving-kindness will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him;

[29]And I will establish his seed for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven.

[30]If his sons forsake my law, and walk not in mine ordinances;

[31]If they profane my statutes, and keep not my commandments:

[32]Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes.

[33]Nevertheless my loving-kindness will I not utterly take from him, nor belie my faithfulness;

[34]My covenant will I not profane, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

[35]Once have I sworn by my holiness; I will not lie unto David:

[36]His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the sun before me;

[37]It shall be established for ever as the moon, and the witness in the sky is firm. Selah.

[38]But thou hast rejected and cast off; thou hast been very wroth with thine anointed:

[39]Thou hast made void the covenant of thy servant; thou hast profaned his crown to the ground:

[40]Thou hast broken down all his hedges; thou hast brought his strongholds to ruin.

[41]All that pass by the way plunder him; he is become a reproach to his neighbours.

[42]Thou hast exalted the right hand of his oppressors; thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice:

[43]Yea, thou hast turned back the edge of his sword, and hast not made him stand in the battle.

[44]Thou hast made his brightness to cease, and cast his throne down to the ground;

[45]The days of his youth hast thou shortened; thou hast covered him with shame. Selah.

[46]How long, Jehovah, wilt thou hide thyself for ever? shall thy fury burn like fire?

[47]Remember, as regards me, what life is. Wherefore hast thou created all the children of men to be vanity?

[48]What man liveth, and shall not see death? Shall he deliver his soul from the power of Sheol? Selah.

[49]Where, Lord, are thy former loving-kindnesses, [which] thou swarest unto David in thy faithfulness?

[50]Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy servants -- that I bear in my bosom [that of] all the mighty peoples --

[51]Wherewith thine enemies, O Jehovah, have reproached, wherewith they have reproached the footsteps of thine anointed.

[52]Blessed be Jehovah for evermore! Amen, and Amen.

PSALM 90

[1]Lord, thou hast been our dwelling-place in all generations.

[2]Before the mountains were brought forth, and thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from eternity to eternity thou art [God].

[3]Thou makest [mortal] man to return to dust, and sayest, Return, children of men.

[4]For a thousand years, in thy sight, are as yesterday when it is past, and [as] a watch in the night.

[5]Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are [as] a sleep: in the morning they are like grass [that] groweth up:

[6]In the morning it flourisheth and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down and withereth.

[7]For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy fury are we troubled.

[8]Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret [sins] in the light of thy countenance.

[9]For all our days pass away in thy wrath: we spend our years as a [passing] thought.

[10]The days of our years are threescore years and ten; and if, by reason of strength, they be fourscore years, yet their pride is labour and vanity, for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

[11]Who knoweth the power of thine anger? and thy wrath according to the fear of thee?

[12]So teach [us] to number our days, that we may acquire a wise heart.

[13]Return, Jehovah: how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.

[14]Satisfy us early with thy loving-kindness; that we may sing for joy and be glad all our days.

[15]Make us glad according to the days [wherein] thou hast afflicted us, according to the years [wherein] we have seen evil.

[16]Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy majesty unto their sons.

[17]And let the beauty of Jehovah our God be upon us; and establish thou the work of our hands upon us: yea, the work of our hands, establish thou it.

PSALM 91

[1]He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

[2]I say of Jehovah, My refuge and my fortress; my God, I will confide in him.

[3]Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, [and] from the destructive pestilence.

[4]He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou find refuge: his truth is a shield and buckler.

[5]Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night, for the arrow that flieth by day,

[6]For the pestilence that walketh in darkness, for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

[7]A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; [but] it shall not come nigh thee.

[8]Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold, and see the reward of the wicked.

[9]Because thou hast made Jehovah, my refuge, the Most High, thy dwelling-place, [10]There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy tent.

[11]For he shall give his angels charge concerning thee, to keep thee in all thy ways:

[12]They shall bear thee up in [their] hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

[13]Thou shalt tread upon the lion and the adder; the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under foot.

[14]Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him; I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

[15]He shall call upon me, and I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him and honour him.

[16]With length of days will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

PSALM 92

[1]It is good to give thanks unto Jehovah, and to sing psalms unto thy name, O Most High;

[2]To declare thy loving-kindness in the morning, and thy faithfulness in the nights,

[3]Upon an instrument of ten strings and upon the lute; upon the Higgaion with the harp.

[4]For thou, Jehovah, hast made me glad through thy work; I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

[5]Jehovah, how great are thy works! Thy thoughts are very deep:

[6]A brutish man knoweth not, neither doth a fool understand it.

[7]When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity flourish, it is that they may be destroyed for ever.

[8]And thou, Jehovah, art on high for evermore.

[9]For lo, thine enemies, O Jehovah, for lo, thine enemies shall perish; all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

[10]But my horn shalt thou exalt like a buffalo's: I shall be anointed with fresh oil.

[11]And mine eye shall see [its desire] on mine enemies; mine ears shall hear [it] of the evil-doers that rise up against me.

[12]The righteous shall shoot forth like a palm-tree; he shall grow like a cedar on Lebanon.

[13]Those that are planted in the house of Jehovah shall flourish in the courts of our God:

[14]They are still vigorous in old age, they are full of sap and green;

[15]To shew that Jehovah is upright: [he is] my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

PSALM 93

[1]Jehovah reigneth, he hath clothed himself with majesty: Jehovah hath clothed himself, he hath girded himself with strength; yea, the world is established, it shall not be moved.

[2]Thy throne is established of old; thou art from eternity.

[3]The floods lifted up, O Jehovah, the floods lifted up their voice; the floods lifted up their roaring waves.

[4]Jehovah on high is mightier than the voices of many waters, than the mighty breakers of the sea.

[5]Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thy house, O Jehovah, for ever.

PSALM 94

[1]O [God] of vengeances, Jehovah, [God] of vengeances, shine forth;

[2]Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth, render the reward to the proud.

[3]How long shall the wicked, O Jehovah, how long shall the wicked triumph?

[4][How long] shall they utter [and] speak insolence -- all the workers of iniquity boast themselves?

[5]They crush thy people, O Jehovah, and afflict thine inheritance;

[6]They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless,

[7]And say, Jah will not see, neither will the God of Jacob regard [it].

[8]Understand, ye brutish among the people; and ye fools, when will ye be wise?

[9]He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? He that formed the eye, shall he not see?

[10]He that instructeth the nations, shall not he correct -- he that teacheth man knowledge?

[11]Jehovah knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

[12]Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O Jah, and whom thou teachest out of thy law;

[13]That thou mayest give him rest from the days of evil, until the pit be digged for the wicked.

[14]For Jehovah will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance;

[15]For judgment shall return unto righteousness, and all the upright in heart shall follow it.

[16]Who will rise up for me against the evil-doers? who will stand for me against the workers of iniquity?

[17]If Jehovah had not been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.

[18]When I said, My foot slippeth, thy loving-kindness, O Jehovah, held me up.

[19]In the multitude of my anxious thoughts within me thy comforts have delighted my soul.

[20]Shall the throne of wickedness be united to thee, which frameth mischief into a law?

[21]They band together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn innocent blood.

[22]But Jehovah will be my high tower; and my God the rock of my refuge.

[23]And he will bring upon them their iniquity, and will cut them off in their own evil: Jehovah our God will cut them off.

PSALM 95

[1]Come, let us sing aloud to Jehovah, let us shout for joy to the rock of our salvation;

[2]Let us come before his face with thanksgiving; let us shout aloud unto him with psalms.

[3]For Jehovah is a great [God], and a great king above all gods.

[4]In his hand are the deep places of the earth; the heights of the mountains are his also:

[5]The sea is his, and he made it, and his hands formed the dry [land].

[6]Come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before Jehovah our Maker.

[7]For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand. To-day if ye hear his voice,

[8]Harden not your heart, as at Meribah, as [in] the day of Massah, in the wilderness;

[9]When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work.

[10]Forty years was I grieved with the generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways;

[11]So that I swore in mine anger, that they should not enter into my rest.

PSALM 96

[1]Sing ye unto Jehovah a new song: sing unto Jehovah, all the earth.

[2]Sing unto Jehovah, bless his name; publish his salvation from day to day.

[3]Declare his glory among the nations, his wondrous works among all the peoples.

[4]For Jehovah is great and exceedingly to be praised; he is terrible above all gods.

[5]For all the gods of the peoples are idols; but Jehovah made the heavens.

[6]Majesty and splendour are before him; strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.

[7]Give unto Jehovah, ye families of peoples, give unto Jehovah glory and strength;

[8]Give unto Jehovah the glory of his name; bring an oblation and come into his courts;

9 Worship Jehovah in holy splendour; tremble before him, all the earth.

10 Say among the nations, Jehovah reigneth! yea, the world is established, it shall not be moved; he will execute judgment upon the peoples with equity.

11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad; let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof;

12 Let the field exult and all that is therein. Then shall all the trees of the forest sing for joy, 13 Before Jehovah, for he cometh; for he cometh to judge the earth: he will judge the world with righteousness, and the peoples in his faithfulness.

PSALM 97

1 Jehovah reigneth: let the earth be glad, let the many isles rejoice.

2 Clouds and darkness are round about him; righteousness and judgment are the foundation of his throne.

3 A fire goeth before him, and burneth up his adversaries round about.

4 His lightnings lightened the world: the earth saw, and trembled.

5 The mountains melted like wax at the presence of Jehovah, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the peoples see his glory.

7 Ashamed be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols. Worship him, all ye gods.

8 Zion heard, and rejoiced; and the daughters of Judah were glad, because of thy judgments, O Jehovah.

9 For thou, Jehovah, art the Most High above all the earth; thou art exalted exceedingly above all gods.

10 Ye that love Jehovah, hate evil: he preserveth the souls of his saints, he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

11 Light is sown for the righteous, and joy for the upright in heart.

12 Rejoice in Jehovah, ye righteous; and give thanks in remembrance of his holiness.

PSALM 98

1 Sing ye unto Jehovah a new song: for he hath done wondrous things; his right hand and his holy arm hath wrought salvation for him.

2 Jehovah hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the nations.

3 He hath remembered his loving-kindness and his faithfulness toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

[4]Shout aloud unto Jehovah, all the earth; break forth and shout for joy, and sing psalms.

[5]Sing psalms unto Jehovah with the harp: with the harp, and the voice of a song;

[6]With trumpets and sound of cornet, make a joyful noise before the King, Jehovah.

[7]Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein;

[8]Let the floods clap [their] hands; let the mountains sing for joy together,

[9]Before Jehovah, for he cometh to judge the earth: he will judge the world with righteousness, and the peoples with equity.

PSALM 99

[1]Jehovah reigneth: let the peoples tremble. He sitteth [between the] cherubim: let the earth be moved.

[2]Jehovah is great in Zion, and he is high above all the peoples.

[3]They shall praise thy great and terrible name, -- it is holy! --

[4]And the strength of the king that loveth justice. Thou hast established equity: it is thou that executest judgment and righteousness in Jacob.

[5]Exalt Jehovah our God, and worship at his footstool. He is holy!

[6]Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call upon his name: they called unto Jehovah, and he answered them.

[7]He spoke unto them in the pillar of cloud: they kept his testimonies, and the statute that he gave them.

[8]Jehovah, our God, thou answeredst them: a forgiving [God] wast thou unto them, though thou tookest vengeance of their doings.

[9]Exalt Jehovah our God, and worship at the hill of his holiness; for holy is Jehovah our God.

PSALM 100

[1]Shout aloud unto Jehovah, all the earth!

[2]Serve Jehovah with joy: come before his presence with exultation.

[3]Know that Jehovah is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; [we are] his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

[4]Enter into his gates with thanksgiving [and] into his courts with praise; give thanks unto him, bless his name:

[5]For Jehovah is good; his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever; and his faithfulness from generation to generation.

PSALM 101

[1]I will sing of loving-kindness and judgment: unto thee, Jehovah, will I sing psalms.

[2]I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way. When wilt thou come unto me? I will walk within my house in the integrity of my heart.

[3]I will set no thing of Belial before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aside; it shall not cleave to me.

[4]A perverse heart shall depart from me; I will not know evil.

[5]Whoso secretly slandereth his neighbour, him will I destroy; him that hath a high look and a proud heart will I not suffer.

[6]Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me; he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.

[7]He that practiseth deceit shall not dwell within my house; he that speaketh falsehoods shall not subsist in my sight.

[8]Every morning will I destroy all the wicked of the land: to cut off all workers of iniquity from the city of Jehovah.

PSALM 102

[1]Jehovah, hear my prayer, and let my cry come unto thee.

[2]Hide not thy face from me: in the day of my trouble, incline thine ear unto me; in the day I call, answer me speedily.

[3]For my days are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burned as a firebrand.

[4]My heart is smitten and withered like grass; yea, I have forgotten to eat my bread.

[5]By reason of the voice of my groaning, my bones cleave to my flesh.

[6]I am become like the pelican of the wilderness, I am as an owl in desolate places;

[7]I watch, and am like a sparrow alone upon the housetop.

[8]Mine enemies reproach me all the day; they that are mad against me swear by me.

[9]For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping, [10]Because of thine indignation and thy wrath; for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.

[11]My days are like a lengthened-out shadow, and I, I am withered like grass.

[12]But thou, Jehovah, abidest for ever, and thy memorial from generation to generation.

[13]Thou wilt rise up, thou wilt have mercy upon Zion: for it is the time to be gracious to her, for the set time is come.

[14]For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and favour her dust.

[15]And the nations shall fear the name of Jehovah, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

[16]When Jehovah shall build up Zion, he will appear in his glory.

[17]He will regard the prayer of the destitute one, and not despise their prayer.

[18]This shall be written for the generation to come; and a people that shall be created shall praise Jah:

[19]For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary; from the heavens hath Jehovah beheld the earth,

[20]To hear the groaning of the prisoner, to loose those that are appointed to die;

[21]That the name of Jehovah may be declared in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem, [22]When the peoples shall be gathered together, and the kingdoms, to serve Jehovah.

[23]He weakened my strength in the way, he shortened my days.

[24]I said, My [God], take me not away in the midst of my days! ... Thy years are from generation to generation.

[25]Of old hast thou founded the earth, and the heavens are the work of thy hands:

[26]They shall perish, but thou continuest; and all of them shall grow old as a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

[27]But thou art the Same, and thy years shall have no end.

[28]The children of thy servants shall abide, and their seed shall be established before thee.

PSALM 103

[1]Bless Jehovah, O my soul; and all that is within me, [bless] his holy name!

[2]Bless Jehovah, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:

[3]Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases;

[4]Who redeemeth thy life from the pit, who crowneth thee with loving-kindness and tender mercies;

[5]Who satisfieth thine old age with good [things]; thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

[6]Jehovah executeth righteousness and justice for all that are oppressed.

[7]He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel.

[8]Jehovah is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and abundant in loving-kindness.

[9]He will not always chide, neither will he keep [his anger] for ever.

[10]He hath not dealt with us according to our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

[11]For as the heavens are high above the earth, so great is his loving-kindness toward them that fear him.

[12]As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

[13]As a father pitieth [his] children, so Jehovah pitieth them that fear him.

[14]For himself knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust.

[15]As for man, his days are as grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth:

[16]For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone, and the place thereof knoweth it no more.

[17]But the loving-kindness of Jehovah is from everlasting and to everlasting, upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children, [18]To such as keep his covenant and to those that remember his precepts to do them.

[19]Jehovah hath established his throne in the heavens, and his kingdom ruleth over all.

[20]Bless Jehovah, ye his angels, mighty in strength, that execute his word, hearkening unto the voice of his word.

[21]Bless Jehovah, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his that do his will.

[22]Bless Jehovah, all his works, in all places of his dominion. Bless Jehovah, O my soul!

PSALM 104

[1]Bless Jehovah, O my soul! Jehovah my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with majesty and splendour;

[2]Covering thyself with light as with a garment, stretching out the heavens like a tent-curtain; --

[3]Who layeth the beams of his upper chambers in the waters, who maketh clouds his chariot, who walketh upon the wings of the wind;

[4]Who maketh his angels spirits; his ministers a flame of fire.

[5]He laid the earth upon its foundations: it shall not be removed for ever.

[6]Thou hadst covered it with the deep, as with a vesture; the waters stood above the mountains:

[7]At thy rebuke they fled, at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away; --

[8]The mountains rose, the valleys sank, unto the place which thou hadst founded for them; --

[9]Thou hast set a bound which they may not pass over, that they turn not again to cover the earth.

[10]He sendeth the springs into the valleys: they run among the mountains;

[11]They give drink to every beast of the field; the wild asses quench their thirst.

[12]The birds of heaven dwell by them; they give forth their voice from among the branches.

[13]He watereth the mountains from his upper-chambers: the earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.

[14]He maketh the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man; bringing forth bread out of the earth,

[15]And wine which gladdeneth the heart of man; making [his] face shine with oil; and with bread he strengtheneth man's heart.

[16]The trees of Jehovah are satisfied, the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted, [17]Where the birds make their nests; [as for] the stork, the fir trees are her house.

[18]The high mountains are for the wild goats; the cliffs, a refuge for the rock-badgers.

[19]He made the moon for seasons: the sun knoweth its going down.

[20]Thou makest darkness, and it is night, wherein all the beasts of the forest creep forth:

[21]The young lions roar after the prey, and to seek their food from [God].

[22]The sun ariseth, they retreat, and lay them down in their dens.

[23]Man goeth forth unto his work, and to his labour until the evening.

[24]How manifold are thy works, O Jehovah! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

[25]Yonder is the great and wide sea: therein are moving things innumerable, living creatures small and great.

[26]There go the ships; [there] that leviathan, which thou hast formed to play therein.

[27]These all look unto thee, that thou mayest give their food in its season:

[28]That thou givest unto them, they gather; thou openest thy hand, they are filled with good.

[29]Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled; thou takest away their breath, they expire and return to their dust.

[30]Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth.

[31]The glory of Jehovah will endure for ever; Jehovah will rejoice in his works.

[32]He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth; he toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.

[33]I will sing unto Jehovah as long as I live; I will sing psalms to my God while I have my being.

[34]My meditation shall be pleasant unto him; I will rejoice in Jehovah.

[35]Sinners shall be consumed out of the earth, and the wicked shall be no more. Bless Jehovah, O my soul. Hallelujah!

PSALM 105

[1]Give ye thanks unto Jehovah, call upon his name; make known his acts among the peoples.

[2]Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him; meditate upon all his wondrous works.

[3]Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek Jehovah.

[4]Seek Jehovah and his strength, seek his face continually;

[5]Remember his wondrous works which he hath done, his miracles and the judgments of his mouth:

[6]Ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye sons of Jacob, his chosen ones.

[7]He, Jehovah, is our God; his judgments are in all the earth.

[8]He is ever mindful of his covenant, -- the word which he commanded to a thousand generations, --

[9]Which he made with Abraham, and of his oath unto Isaac;

[10]And he confirmed it unto Jacob for a statute, unto Israel for an everlasting covenant,

[11]Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance;

[12]When they were a few men in number, of small account, and strangers in it.

[13]And they went from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another people.

[14]He suffered no man to oppress them, and reproved kings for their sakes, [15][Saying,] Touch not mine anointed ones, and do my prophets no harm.

[16]And he called for a famine upon the land; he broke the whole staff of bread.

[17]He sent a man before them: Joseph was sold for a bondman.

[18]They afflicted his feet with fetters; his soul came into irons;

[19]Until the time when what he said came about: the word of Jehovah tried him.

[20]The king sent and loosed him -- the ruler of peoples -- and let him go free.

[21]He made him lord of his house, and ruler over all his possessions:

[22]To bind his princes at his pleasure, and teach his elders wisdom.

[23]And Israel came into Egypt, and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.

[24]And he made his people exceeding fruitful, and made them mightier than their oppressors.

[25]He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal subtilly with his servants.

[26]He sent Moses his servant, [and] Aaron whom he had chosen:

[27]They set his signs among them, and miracles in the land of Ham.

[28]He sent darkness, and made it dark; and they rebelled not against his word.

[29]He turned their waters into blood, and caused their fish to die.

[30]Their land swarmed with frogs, -- in the chambers of their kings.

[31]He spoke, and there came dog-flies, [and] gnats in all their borders.

[32]He gave them hail for rain, [and] flaming fire in their land;

[33]And he smote their vines and their fig-trees, and broke the trees of their borders.

[34]He spoke, and the locust came, and the cankerworm, even without number;

[35]And they devoured every herb in their land, and ate up the fruit of their ground.

[36]And he smote every firstborn in their land, the firstfruits of all their vigour.

[37]And he brought them forth with silver and gold; and there was not one feeble among their tribes.

[38]Egypt rejoiced at their departure; for the fear of them had fallen upon them.

[39]He spread a cloud for a covering, and fire to give light in the night.

[40]They asked, and he brought quails, and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.

[41]He opened the rock, and waters gushed forth; they ran in the dry places [like] a river.

[42]For he remembered his holy word, [and] Abraham his servant;

[43]And he brought forth his people with gladness, his chosen with rejoicing;

[44]And he gave them the lands of the nations, and they took possession of the labour of the peoples:

[45]That they might keep his statutes, and observe his laws. Hallelujah!

PSALM 106

[1]Hallelujah! Give ye thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good; for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

[2]Who can utter the mighty acts of Jehovah? [who] can shew forth all his praise?

[3]Blessed are they that keep justice, [and] he that doeth righteousness at all times.

[4]Remember me, O Jehovah, with [thy] favour toward thy people; visit me with thy salvation:

[5]That I may see the prosperity of thy chosen ones, that I may rejoice in the joy of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.

[6]We have sinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.

[7]Our fathers in Egypt considered not thy wondrous works; they remembered not the multitude of thy loving-kindnesses; but they rebelled at the sea, at the Red Sea.

[8]Yet he saved them for his name's sake, that he might make known his might.

[9]And he rebuked the Red Sea, and it dried up; and he led them through the deeps as through a wilderness.

[10]And he saved them from the hand of him that hated [them], and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

[12]Then believed they his words; they sang his praise.

[13]They soon forgot his works; they waited not for his counsel:

[14]And they lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted [God] in the desert.

[15]Then he gave them their request, but sent leanness into their soul.

[16]And they envied Moses in the camp, [and] Aaron, the saint of Jehovah.

[17]The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram;

[18]And fire was kindled in their company; a flame burned up the wicked.

[19]They made a calf in Horeb, and did homage to a molten image;

[20]And they changed their glory into the similitude of an ox that eateth grass.

[21]They forgot [God] their Saviour, who had done great things in Egypt, [22]Wondrous works in the land of Ham, terrible things by the Red Sea.

[23]And he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses, his chosen, stood before him in the breach, to turn away his fury, lest he should destroy [them].

[24]And they despised the pleasant land; they believed not his word, [25]But murmured in their tents: they hearkened not unto the voice of Jehovah.

[26]And he lifted up his hand to them, that he would make them fall in the wilderness;

[27]And that he would make their seed fall among the nations, and disperse them through the countries.

[28]And they joined themselves unto Baal-Peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead;

[29]And they provoked [him] to anger with their doings; and a plague broke out among them.

[30]Then stood up Phinehas and executed judgment, and the plague was stayed;

[31]And that was reckoned unto him for righteousness, from generation to generation, for evermore.

[32]And they moved him to wrath at the waters of Meribah, and it went ill with Moses on their account;

[33]For they provoked his spirit, so that he spoke unadvisedly with his lips.

[34]They did not destroy the peoples, as Jehovah commanded them;

[35]But they mingled with the nations, and learned their works;

[36]And they served their idols; and they were a snare unto them:

[37]And they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto demons,

[38]And shed innocent blood, the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan; and the land was polluted with blood.

[39]And they were defiled with their works, and went a-whoring in their doings.

[40]Then was the anger of Jehovah kindled against his people, and he abhorred his inheritance;

[41]And he gave them into the hand of the nations; and they that hated them ruled over them:

[42]And their enemies oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under their hand.

[43]Often did he deliver them; but as for them they provoked [him] by their counsel, and they were brought low by their iniquity.

[44]But he regarded their distress, when he heard their cry;

[45]And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his loving-kindnesses;

[46]And he caused them to find compassion of all those that had carried them captives.

[47]Save us, Jehovah our God, and gather us from among the nations, to give thanks unto thy holy name, [and] to triumph in thy praise.

[48]Blessed be Jehovah the God of Israel, from eternity and to eternity! And let all the people say, Amen! Hallelujah!

PSALM 107

[1]Give ye thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good; for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

[2]Let the redeemed of Jehovah say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the oppressor,

[3]And gathered out of the countries, from the east and from the west, from the north and from the sea.

[4]They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way, they found no city of habitation;

[5]Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them:

[6]Then they cried unto Jehovah in their trouble, [and] he delivered them out of their distresses,

[7]And he led them forth by a right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

[8]Let them give thanks unto Jehovah for his loving-kindness, and for his wondrous works to the children of men;

[9]For he hath satisfied the longing soul and filled the hungry soul with good.

[10]Such as inhabit darkness and the shadow of death, bound in affliction and iron,

[11]Because they had rebelled against the words of [God], and had despised the counsel of the Most High; ...

[12]And he bowed down their heart with labour; they stumbled, and there was none to help:

[13]Then they cried unto Jehovah in their trouble, [and] he saved them out of their distresses;

[14]He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and broke their bands in sunder.

[15]Let them give thanks unto Jehovah for his loving-kindness, and for his wondrous works to the children of men;

[16]For he hath broken the gates of bronze, and cut asunder the bars of iron.

[17]Fools, because of their way of transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted;

[18]Their soul abhorreth all manner of food, and they draw near unto the gates of death:

[19]Then they cry unto Jehovah in their trouble, [and] he saveth them out of their distresses;

[20]He sendeth his word, and healeth them, and delivereth them from their destructions.

[21]Let them give thanks unto Jehovah for his loving-kindness, and for his wondrous works to the children of men, [22]And let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works in joyful song.

[23]They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters, [24]These see the works of Jehovah, and his wonders in the deep.

[25]For he speaketh, and raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof:

[26]They mount up to the heavens, they go down to the depths; their soul is melted because of trouble;

[27]They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and they are at their wits' end:

[28]Then they cry unto Jehovah in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses;

[29]He maketh the storm a calm, and the waves thereof are still:

[30]And they rejoice because they are quiet; and he bringeth them unto their desired haven.

[31]Let them give thanks unto Jehovah for his loving-kindness, and for his wondrous works to the children of men;

[32]Let them exalt him also in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the session of the elders.

[33]He maketh rivers into a wilderness, and water-springs into dry ground;

[34]A fruitful land into a plain of salt, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

[35]He maketh the wilderness into a pool of water, and the dry land into water-springs;

[36]And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, and they establish a city of habitation;

[37]And sow fields, and plant vineyards, which yield fruits of increase;

[38]And he blesseth them, so that they are multiplied greatly; and he suffereth not their cattle to decrease.

[39]And they are diminished and brought low, through oppression, adversity, and sorrow:

[40]He poureth contempt upon nobles, and causeth them to wander in a pathless waste;

[41]But he secureth the needy one on high from affliction, and maketh [him] families like flocks.

[42]The upright shall see it, and rejoice; and all unrighteousness shall stop its mouth.

[43]Whoso is wise, let him observe these things, and let them understand the loving-kindnesses of Jehovah.

PSALM 108

[1]My heart is fixed, O God: I will sing, yea, I will sing psalms, even [with] my glory.

[2]Awake, lute and harp: I will wake the dawn.

[3]I will give thee thanks among the peoples, O Jehovah; of thee will I sing psalms among the nations:

[4]For thy loving-kindness is great above the heavens, and thy truth is unto the clouds.

[5]Be thou exalted above the heavens, O God, and thy glory above all the earth.

[6]That thy beloved ones may be delivered: save with thy right hand, and answer me.

[7]God hath spoken in his holiness: I will exult, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

[8]Gilead is mine, Manasseh is mine, and Ephraim is the strength of my head; Judah is my law-giver;

[9]Moab is my wash-pot; upon Edom will I cast my sandal; over Philistia will I shout aloud.

[10]Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me unto Edom?

[11][Wilt] not [thou], O God, who didst cast us off? and didst not go forth, O God, with our armies?

[12]Give us help from trouble; for vain is man's deliverance.

[13]Through God we shall do valiantly; and he it is that will tread down our adversaries.

PSALM 109

[1]O God of my praise, be not silent:

[2]For the mouth of the wicked [man] and the mouth of deceit are opened against me: they have spoken against me with a lying tongue,

[3]And with words of hatred have they encompassed me; and they fight against me without a cause.

[4]For my love they are mine adversaries; but I [give myself unto] prayer.

[5]And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.

[6]Set a wicked [man] over him, and let [the] adversary stand at his right hand;

[7]When he shall be judged, let him go out guilty, and let his prayer become sin;

[8]Let his days be few, let another take his office;

[9]Let his sons be fatherless, and his wife a widow;

[10]Let his sons be vagabonds and beg, and let them seek [their bread] far from their desolate places;

[11]Let the usurer cast the net over all that he hath, and let strangers despoil his labour;

[12]Let there be none to extend kindness unto him, neither let there be any to favour his fatherless children;

[13]Let his posterity be cut off; in the generation following let their name be blotted out:

[14]Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with Jehovah, and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out;

[15]Let them be before Jehovah continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth:

[16]Because he remembered not to shew kindness, but persecuted the afflicted and needy man, and the broken in heart, to slay him.

[17]And he loved cursing; so let it come unto him. And he delighted not in blessing; and let it be far from him.

[18]And he clothed himself with cursing like his vestment; so let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones;

[19]Let it be unto him as a garment with which he covereth himself, and for a girdle wherewith he is constantly girded.

[20]Let this be the reward of mine adversaries from Jehovah, and of them that speak evil against my soul.

[21]But do thou for me, Jehovah, Lord, for thy name's sake; because thy loving-kindness is good, deliver me:

[22]For I am afflicted and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.

[23]I am gone like a shadow when it lengtheneth; I am tossed about like the locust;

[24]My knees are failing through fasting, and my flesh hath lost its fatness;

[25]And I am become a reproach unto them; [when] they look upon me they shake their heads.

[26]Help me, Jehovah my God; save me according to thy loving-kindness:

[27]That they may know that this is thy hand; that thou, Jehovah, hast done it.

[28]Let them curse, but bless thou; when they rise up, let them be ashamed, and let thy servant rejoice.

[29]Let mine adversaries be clothed with confusion, and let them cover themselves with their shame as with a mantle.

30 I will greatly celebrate Jehovah with my mouth; yea, I will praise him among the multitude.

31 For he standeth at the right hand of the needy, to save him from those that judge his soul.

PSALM 110

1 Jehovah said unto my Lord, Sit at my right hand, until I put thine enemies [as] footstool of thy feet.

2 Jehovah shall send the sceptre of thy might out of Zion: rule in the midst of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in holy splendour: from the womb of the morning [shall come] to thee the dew of thy youth.

4 Jehovah hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art priest for ever after the order of Melchisedek.

5 The Lord at thy right hand will smite through kings in the day of his anger.

6 He shall judge among the nations; he shall fill [all places] with dead bodies; he shall smite through the head over a great country.

7 He shall drink of the brook in the way; therefore shall he lift up the head.

PSALM 111

1 Hallelujah! I will celebrate Jehovah with [my] whole heart, in the council of the upright, and in the assembly.

2 Great are the works of Jehovah; sought out of all that delight in them.

3 His work is majesty and splendour, and his righteousness abideth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonders to be remembered: Jehovah is gracious and merciful.

5 He hath given meat unto them that fear him; he is ever mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath shewn his people the power of his works, to give them the heritage of the nations.

7 The works of his hands are truth and judgment; all his precepts are faithful:

8 Maintained for ever and ever, done in truth and uprightness.

9 He sent deliverance unto his people; he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and terrible is his name.

10 The fear of Jehovah is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do [his precepts]: his praise abideth for ever.

PSALM 112

1 Hallelujah! Blessed is the man that feareth Jehovah, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.

[2]His seed shall be mighty in the land; the generation of the upright shall be blessed.

[3]Wealth and riches [shall be] in his house; and his righteousness abideth for ever.

[4]Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness; he is gracious, and merciful, and righteous.

[5]It is well with the man that is gracious and lendeth; he will sustain his cause in judgment.

[6]For he shall not be moved for ever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.

[7]He shall not be afraid of evil tidings; his heart is fixed confiding in Jehovah;

[8]His heart is maintained, he is not afraid, until he see [his desire] upon his oppressors.

[9]He scattereth abroad, he giveth to the needy; his righteousness abideth for ever: his horn shall be exalted with honour.

[10]The wicked [man] shall see [it] and be vexed; he shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

PSALM 113

[1]Hallelujah! Praise, ye servants of Jehovah, praise the name of Jehovah.

[2]Blessed be the name of Jehovah, from this time forth and for evermore!

[3]From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same, let Jehovah's name be praised.

[4]Jehovah is high above all nations, his glory above the heavens.

[5]Who is like unto Jehovah our God, who hath placed his dwelling on high;

[6]Who humbleth himself to look on the heavens and on the earth?

[7]He raiseth up the poor out of the dust; from the dung-hill he lifteth up the needy,

[8]To set [him] among nobles, among the nobles of his people.

[9]He maketh the barren woman to keep house, [as] a joyful mother of sons. Hallelujah!

PSALM 114

[1]When Israel went out of Egypt, the house of Jacob from a people of strange language,

[2]Judah was his sanctuary, Israel his dominion.

[3]The sea saw it and fled, the Jordan turned back;

[4]The mountains skipped like rams, the hills like lambs.

[5]What ailed thee, thou sea, that thou fleddest? thou Jordan, that thou turnedst back?

[6]Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams? ye hills, like lambs?

[7]Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the +God of Jacob,

[8]Who turned the rock into a pool of water, the flint into a fountain of waters.

PSALM 115

[1]Not unto us, O Jehovah, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy loving-kindness and for thy truth's sake.

[2]Wherefore should the nations say, Where then is their God?

[3]But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he pleased.

[4]Their idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands:

[5]They have a mouth, and they speak not; eyes have they, and they see not;

[6]They have ears, and they hear not; a nose have they, and they smell not;

[7]They have hands, and they handle not; feet have they, and they walk not; they give no sound through their throat.

[8]They that make them are like unto them, -- every one that confideth in them.

[9]O Israel, confide thou in Jehovah: he is their help and their shield.

[10]House of Aaron, confide in Jehovah: he is their help and their shield.

[11]Ye that fear Jehovah, confide in Jehovah: he is their help and their shield.

[12]Jehovah hath been mindful of us: he will bless, he will bless the house of Israel; he will bless the house of Aaron;

[13]He will bless them that fear Jehovah, both the small and the great.

[14]Jehovah will add unto you more, unto you and unto your children.

[15]Ye are blessed of Jehovah, who made the heavens and the earth.

[16]The heavens are the heavens of Jehovah, but the earth hath he given to the children of men.

[17]The dead praise not Jah, neither any that go down into silence;

[18]But we will bless Jah from this time forth and for evermore. Hallelujah!

PSALM 116

[1]I love Jehovah, for he hath heard my voice [and] my supplications;

[2]For he hath inclined his ear unto me, and I will call upon him during [all] my days.

[3]The bands of death encompassed me, and the anguish of Sheol took hold of me; I found trouble and sorrow:

[4]Then called I upon the name of Jehovah: I beseech thee, Jehovah, deliver my soul.

[5]Gracious is Jehovah and righteous; and our God is merciful.

[6]Jehovah keepeth the simple: I was brought low, and he saved me.

[7]Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for Jehovah hath dealt bountifully with thee.

[8]For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, my feet from falling.

[9]I will walk before Jehovah in the land of the living.

[10]I believed, therefore have I spoken. As for me, I was greatly afflicted.

[11]I said in my haste, All men are liars.

[12]What shall I render unto Jehovah, [for] all his benefits toward me?

[13]I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of Jehovah.

[14]I will perform my vows unto Jehovah, yea, before all his people.

[15]Precious in the sight of Jehovah is the death of his saints.

[16]Yea, Jehovah! for I am thy servant; I am thy servant, the son of thy handmaid: thou hast loosed my bonds.

[17]I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of Jehovah.

[18]I will perform my vows unto Jehovah, yea, before all his people, [19]In the courts of Jehovah's house, in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Hallelujah!

PSALM 117

[1]Praise Jehovah, all ye nations; laud him, all ye peoples;

[2]For his loving-kindness is great toward us, and the truth of Jehovah [endureth] for ever. Hallelujah!

PSALM 118

[1]Give ye thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good; for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

[2]Oh let Israel say, that his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

[3]Oh let the house of Aaron say, that his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

[4]Oh let them that fear Jehovah say, that his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

[5]I called upon Jah in distress; Jah answered me [and set me] in a large place.

[6]Jehovah is for me, I will not fear; what can man do unto me?

[7]Jehovah is for me among them that help me; and I shall see [my desire] upon them that hate me.

[8]It is better to trust in Jehovah than to put confidence in man;

[9]It is better to trust in Jehovah than to put confidence in nobles.

[10]All nations encompassed me; but in the name of Jehovah have I destroyed them.

[11]They encompassed me, yea, encompassed me; but in the name of Jehovah have I destroyed them.

[12]They encompassed me like bees; they are quenched as the fire of thorns: for in the name of Jehovah have I destroyed them.

[13]Thou hast thrust hard at me that I might fall; but Jehovah helped me.

[14]My strength and song is Jah, and he is become my salvation.

[15]The voice of triumph and salvation is in the tents of the righteous: the right hand of Jehovah doeth valiantly;

[17]I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of Jah.

[18]Jah hath chastened me sore; but he hath not given me over unto death.

[19]Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will enter into them; Jah will I praise.

[20]This is the gate of Jehovah: the righteous shall enter therein.

[21]I will give thee thanks, for thou hast answered me, and art become my salvation.

[22][The] stone which the builders rejected hath become the head of the corner:

[23]This is of Jehovah; it is wonderful in our eyes.

[24]This is the day that Jehovah hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it.

[25]Oh save, Jehovah, I beseech thee; Jehovah, I beseech thee, oh send prosperity!

[26]Blessed be he that cometh in the name of Jehovah. We have blessed you out of the house of Jehovah.

[27]Jehovah is [God], and he hath given us light: bind the sacrifice with cords, -- up to the horns of the altar.

[28]Thou art my [God], and I will give thee thanks; my God, I will exalt thee.

[29]Give ye thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good; for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

PSALM 119

[1]ALEPH. Blessed are the perfect in the way, who walk in the law of Jehovah.

[2]Blessed are they that observe his testimonies, that seek him with the whole heart;

[3]Who also do no unrighteousness: they walk in his ways.

[4]Thou hast enjoined thy precepts, to be kept diligently.

[5]Oh that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes!

[6]Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.

[7]I will give thee thanks with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned thy righteous judgments.

[8]I will keep thy statutes: forsake me not utterly.

[9]BETH. Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his path? by taking heed according to thy word.

[10]With my whole heart have I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandments.

[11]Thy word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against thee.

[12]Blessed art thou, Jehovah! teach me thy statutes.

[13]With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth.

[14]I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies, as [much as] in all wealth.

[15]I will meditate upon thy precepts, and have respect unto thy paths.

[16]I delight myself in thy statutes; I will not forget thy word.

[17]GIMEL. Deal bountifully with thy servant [and] I shall live; and I will keep thy word.

[18]Open mine eyes, and I shall behold wondrous things out of thy law.

[19]I am a stranger in the land; hide not thy commandments from me.

[20]My soul breaketh for longing after thy judgments at all times.

[21]Thou hast rebuked the proud [that are] cursed, who wander from thy commandments.

[22]Roll off from me reproach and contempt; for I observe thy testimonies.

[23]Princes also did sit [and] talk together against me: thy servant doth meditate in thy statutes.

[24]Thy testimonies also are my delight [and] my counsellors.

[25]DALETH. My soul cleaveth unto the dust: quicken me according to thy word.

[26]I have declared my ways, and thou hast answered me: teach me thy statutes.

[27]Make me to understand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate upon thy wondrous works.

[28]My soul melteth for sadness: strengthen me according to thy word.

[29]Remove from me the way of falsehood, and graciously grant me thy law.

[30]I have chosen the way of faithfulness; thy judgments have I set [before me].

[31]I cleave unto thy testimonies; Jehovah, let me not be ashamed.

[32]I will run the way of thy commandments when thou shalt enlarge my heart.

[33]HE. Teach me, O Jehovah, the way of thy statutes, and I will observe it [unto] the end.

[34]Give me understanding, and I will observe thy law; and I will keep it with [my] whole heart.

[35]Make me to walk in the path of thy commandments; for therein do I delight.

[36]Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to gain.

[37]Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity; quicken me in thy way.

[38]Establish thy word unto thy servant, who is [devoted] to thy fear.

[39]Turn away my reproach which I fear; for thy judgments are good.

[40]Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: quicken me in thy righteousness.

[41]VAU. And let thy loving-kindness come unto me, O Jehovah, -- thy salvation according to thy word.

[42]So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me; for I confide in thy word.

[43]And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; because I have hoped in thy judgments.

[44]Then will I keep thy law continually, for ever and ever;

[45]And I will walk at liberty, for I have sought thy precepts;

[46]And I will speak of thy testimonies before kings, and will not be ashamed;

[47]And I will delight myself in thy commandments, which I have loved;

[48]And I will lift up my hands unto thy commandments, which I have loved, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

[49]ZAIN. Remember the word for thy servant, upon which thou hast caused me to hope.

[50]This is my comfort in mine affliction; for thy word hath quickened me.

[51]The proud have derided me beyond measure: I have not declined from thy law.

[52]I remembered thy judgments of old, O Jehovah, and have comforted myself.

[53]Burning indignation hath taken hold upon me because of the wicked who forsake thy law.

[54]Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

[55]I have remembered thy name, O Jehovah, in the night, and have kept thy law.

[56]This I have had, because I have observed thy precepts.

[57]CHETH. My portion, O Jehovah, I have said, is to keep thy words.

[58]I have sought thy favour with [my] whole heart: be gracious unto me according to thy word.

[59]I have thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies.

[60]I have made haste, and not delayed, to keep thy commandments.

[61]The bands of the wicked have wrapped me round: I have not forgotten thy law.

[62]At midnight I rise up to give thanks unto thee, because of thy righteous judgments.

[63]I am the companion of all that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts.

[64]The earth, O Jehovah, is full of thy loving-kindness: teach me thy statutes.

[65]TETH. Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O Jehovah, according to thy word.

[66]Teach me good discernment and knowledge; for I have believed in thy commandments.

[67]Before I was afflicted I went astray, but now I keep thy word.

[68]Thou art good, and doest good; teach me thy statutes.

[69]The proud have forged falsehood against me: I will observe thy precepts with [my] whole heart.

[70]Their heart is as fat as grease: as for me, I delight in thy law.

[71]It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I might learn thy statutes.

[72]The law of thy mouth is better unto me than thousands of gold and silver.

[73]YOD. Thy hands have made me and fashioned me: give me understanding, and I will learn thy commandments.

[74]They that fear thee will see me, and rejoice; because I have hoped in thy word.

[75]I know, Jehovah, that thy Judgments are righteousness, and that in faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.

[76]Oh let thy loving-kindness be for my comfort, according to thy word unto thy servant.

[77]Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live; for thy law is my delight.

[78]Let the proud be ashamed; for they have acted perversely towards me with falsehood: as for me, I meditate in thy precepts.

[79]Let those that fear thee turn unto me, and those that know thy testimonies.

[80]Let my heart be perfect in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

[81]CAPH. My soul fainteth for thy salvation; I hope in thy word.

[82]Mine eyes fail for thy word, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

[83]For I am become like a bottle in the smoke; I do not forget thy statutes.

[84]How many shall be the days of thy servant? when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

[85]The proud have digged pits for me, which is not according to thy law.

[86]All thy commandments are faithfulness. They persecute me wrongfully: help thou me.

[87]They had almost consumed me upon the earth; but as for me, I forsook not thy precepts.

[88]Quicken me according to thy loving-kindness, and I will keep the testimony of thy mouth.

[89]LAMED. For ever, O Jehovah, thy word is settled in the heavens.

[90]Thy faithfulness is from generation to generation: thou hast established the earth, and it standeth.

[91]By thine ordinances they stand this day; for all things are thy servants.

[92]Unless thy law had been my delight, I should then have perished in mine affliction.

[93]I will never forget thy precepts; for by them thou hast quickened me.

[94]I am thine, save me; for I have sought thy precepts.

[95]The wicked have awaited me to destroy me; [but] I attend unto thy testimonies.

[96]I have seen an end of all perfection: thy commandment is exceeding broad.

[97]MEM. Oh how I love thy law! it is my meditation all the day.

[98]Thy commandments make me wiser than mine enemies; for they are ever with me.

[99]I have more understanding than all my teachers; for thy testimonies are my meditation.

[100]I understand more than the aged, because I have observed thy precepts.

[101]I have refrained my feet from every evil path, that I might keep thy word.

[102]I have not departed from thy judgments; for it is thou that hast taught me.

[103]How sweet are thy words unto my taste! more than honey to my mouth!

[104]From thy precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false path.

[105]NUN. Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

[106]I have sworn, and I will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments.

[107]I am afflicted very much; O Jehovah, quicken me according to thy word.

[108]Accept, I beseech thee, Jehovah, the voluntary-offerings of my mouth, and teach me thy judgments.

[109]My life is continually in my hand; but I do not forget thy law.

[110]The wicked have laid a snare for me; but I have not wandered from thy precepts.

[111]Thy testimonies have I taken as a heritage for ever; for they are the rejoicing of my heart.

[112]I have inclined my heart to perform thy statutes for ever, unto the end.

[113]SAMECH. The double-minded have I hated; but thy law do I love.

[114]Thou art my hiding-place and my shield: I hope in thy word.

[115]Depart from me, ye evil-doers; and I will observe the commandments of my God.

[116]Uphold me according to thy word, that I may live; and let me not be ashamed of my hope.

[117]Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe; and I will have respect unto thy statutes continually.

[118]Thou hast set at nought all them that wander from thy statutes; for their deceit is falsehood.

[119]Thou puttest away all the wicked of the earth [like] dross; therefore I love thy testimonies.

[120]My flesh shuddereth for fear of thee; and I am afraid of thy judgments.

[121]AIN. I have done judgment and justice: leave me not to mine oppressors.

122 Be surety for thy servant for good; let not the proud oppress me.

123 Mine eyes fail for thy salvation, and for the word of thy righteousness.

124 Deal with thy servant according to thy loving-kindness, and teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy servant; give me understanding that I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is time for Jehovah to work: they have made void thy law.

127 Therefore I love thy commandments above gold, yea, above fine gold.

128 Therefore I regard all [thy] precepts concerning all things to be right: I hate every false path.

129 PE. Thy testimonies are wonderful; therefore doth my soul observe them.

130 The entrance of thy words giveth light, giving understanding unto the simple.

131 I opened my mouth wide and panted; for I longed for thy commandments.

132 Turn unto me, and be gracious unto me, as thou art wont to do unto those that love thy name.

133 Establish my steps in thy word; and let not any iniquity have dominion over me.

134 Deliver me from the oppression of man; and I will keep thy precepts.

135 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant, and teach me thy statutes.

136 Mine eyes run down with streams of water, because they keep not thy law.

137 TZADE. Righteous art thou, Jehovah, and upright are thy judgments.

138 Thou hast commanded thy testimonies in righteousness and exceeding faithfulness.

139 My zeal destroyeth me, because mine oppressors have forgotten thy words.

140 Thy word is exceeding pure, and thy servant loveth it.

141 I am little and despised: thy precepts have I not forgotten.

142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is truth.

143 Trouble and anguish have taken hold upon me: thy commandments are my delights.

144 The righteousness of thy testimonies is for ever: give me understanding, and I shall live.

145 KOPH. I have called with [my] whole heart; answer me, O Jehovah: I will observe thy statutes.

146 I call upon thee; save me, and I will keep thy testimonies.

147 I anticipate the morning-dawn and I cry: I hope in thy word.

148 Mine eyes anticipate the night-watches, that I may meditate in thy word.

149 Hear my voice according to thy loving-kindness: O Jehovah, quicken me according to thy judgment.

150 They have drawn nigh that follow after mischief: they are far from thy law.

151 Thou, Jehovah, art near, and all thy commandments are truth.

152 From thy testimonies, I have known of old that thou hast founded them for ever.

153 RESH. See mine affliction, and deliver me; for I have not forgotten thy law.

154 Plead my cause, and redeem me: quicken me according to thy word.

155 Salvation is far from the wicked; for they seek not thy statutes.

156 Many are thy tender mercies, O Jehovah; quicken me according to thy judgments.

157 Many are my persecutors and mine oppressors; I have not declined from thy testimonies.

158 I beheld them that deal treacherously, and was grieved; because they kept not thy word.

159 See how I have loved thy precepts: quicken me, O Jehovah, according to thy loving-kindness.

160 The sum of thy word is truth, and every righteous judgment of thine is for ever.

161 SHIN. Princes have persecuted me without a cause; but my heart standeth in awe of thy word.

162 I have joy in thy word, as one that findeth great spoil.

163 I hate and abhor falsehood; thy law do I love.

164 Seven times a day do I praise thee because of thy righteous judgments.

165 Great peace have they that love thy law, and nothing doth stumble them.

166 I have hoped for thy salvation, O Jehovah, and have done thy commandments.

167 My soul hath kept thy testimonies, and I love them exceedingly.

168 I have kept thy precepts and thy testimonies; for all my ways are before thee.

169 TAU. Let my cry come near before thee, Jehovah: give me understanding according to thy word.

170 Let my supplication come before thee: deliver me according to thy word.

[171]My lips shall pour forth praise when thou hast taught me thy statutes.

[172]My tongue shall speak aloud of thy word; for all thy commandments are righteousness.

[173]Let thy hand be for my help; for I have chosen thy precepts.

[174]I have longed for thy salvation, O Jehovah, and thy law is my delight.

[175]Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee; and let thy judgments help me.

[176]I have gone astray like a lost sheep: seek thy servant; for I have not forgotten thy commandments.

PSALM 120

[1]In my trouble I called unto Jehovah, and he answered me.

[2]Jehovah, deliver my soul from the lying lip, from the deceitful tongue.

[3]What shall be given unto thee, what shall be added unto thee, thou deceitful tongue?

[4]Sharp arrows of a mighty one, with burning coals of broom-wood.

[5]Woe is me, that I sojourn in Meshech, that I dwell among the tents of Kedar!

[6]My soul hath long dwelt with them that hate peace.

[7]I [am for] peace; but when I speak, they [are] for war.

PSALM 121

[1]I lift up mine eyes unto the mountains: whence shall my help come?

[2]My help [cometh] from Jehovah, who made the heavens and the earth.

[3]He will not suffer thy foot to be moved; he that keepeth thee will not slumber.

[4]Behold, he that keepeth Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

[5]Jehovah is thy keeper, Jehovah is thy shade upon thy right hand;

[6]The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night.

[7]Jehovah will keep thee from all evil; he will keep thy soul.

[8]Jehovah will keep thy going out and thy coming in, from henceforth and for evermore.

PSALM 122

[1]I rejoiced when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of Jehovah.

[2]Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.

[3]Jerusalem, which art built as a city that is compact together,

[4]Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of Jah, a testimony to Israel, to give thanks unto the name of Jehovah.

[5]For there are set thrones for judgment, the thrones of the house of David.

[6]Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.

[7]Peace be within thy bulwarks, prosperity within thy palaces.

[8]For my brethren and companions' sakes I will say, Peace be within thee!

[9]Because of the house of Jehovah our God I will seek thy good.

PSALM 123

[1]Unto thee do I lift up mine eyes, O thou that dwellest in the heavens.

[2]Behold, as the eyes of servants [look] unto the hand of their masters, as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress, so our eyes [are directed] to Jehovah our God, until he be gracious unto us.

[3]Be gracious unto us, O Jehovah, be gracious unto us; for we are exceedingly filled with contempt.

[4]Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, with the contempt of the proud.

PSALM 124

[1]If it had not been Jehovah who was for us -- oh let Israel say --

[2]If it had not been Jehovah who was for us, when men rose up against us,

[3]Then they had swallowed us up alive, when their anger was kindled against us;

[4]Then the waters had overwhelmed us, a torrent had gone over our soul;

[5]Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.

[6]Blessed be Jehovah, who gave us not up a prey to their teeth!

[7]Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we have escaped.

[8]Our help is in the name of Jehovah, the maker of heavens and earth.

PSALM 125

[1]They that confide in Jehovah are as mount Zion, which cannot be moved; it abideth for ever.

[2]Jerusalem! -- mountains are round about her, and Jehovah is round about his people, from henceforth and for evermore.

[3]For the sceptre of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous; lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.

[4]Do good, O Jehovah, unto the good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.

[5]But as for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, Jehovah will lead them forth with the workers of iniquity. Peace be upon Israel!

PSALM 126

[1]When Jehovah turned the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream.

[2]Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with rejoicing: then said they among the nations, Jehovah hath done great things for them.

[3]Jehovah hath done great things for us; [and] we are joyful.

[4]Turn our captivity, O Jehovah, as the streams in the south.

[5]They that sow in tears shall reap with rejoicing:

[6]He goeth forth and weepeth, bearing seed for scattering; he cometh again with rejoicing, bearing his sheaves.

PSALM 127

[1]Unless Jehovah build the house, in vain do its builders labour in it; unless Jehovah keep the city, the keeper watcheth in vain:

[2]It is vain for you to rise up early, to lie down late, to eat the bread of sorrows: so to his beloved one he giveth sleep.

[3]Lo, children are an inheritance from Jehovah, [and] the fruit of the womb a reward.

[4]As arrows in the hand of a mighty man, so are the children of youth.

[5]Happy is the man that hath filled his quiver with them. They shall not be ashamed when they speak with enemies in the gate.

PSALM 128

[1]Blessed is every one that feareth Jehovah, that walketh in his ways.

[2]For thou shalt eat the labour of thy hands; happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.

[3]Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine in the inner part of thy house; thy children like olive-plants round about thy table.

[4]Behold, thus shall the man be blessed that feareth Jehovah.

[5]Jehovah will bless thee out of Zion; and mayest thou see the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life,

[6]And see thy children's children. Peace be upon Israel!

PSALM 129

[1]Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth -- oh let Israel say --

[2]Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth; yet they have not prevailed against me.

[3]The ploughers ploughed upon my back; they made long their furrows.

[4]Jehovah is righteous: he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.

[5]Let them be ashamed and turned backward, all that hate Zion;

[6]Let them be as the grass upon the house-tops, which withereth before it is plucked up,

[7]Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand, nor he that bindeth sheaves his bosom;

[8]Neither do the passers-by say, The blessing of Jehovah be upon you; we bless you in the name of Jehovah!

PSALM 130

[1]Out of the depths do I call upon thee, Jehovah.

[2]Lord, hear my voice; let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplication.

[3]If thou, Jah, shouldest mark iniquities, Lord, who shall stand?

[4]But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

[5]I wait for Jehovah; my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.

[6]My soul [waiteth] for the Lord more than the watchers [wait] for the morning, [more than] the watchers for the morning.

[7]Let Israel hope in Jehovah, because with Jehovah there is loving-kindness, and with him is plenteous redemption;

[8]And he will redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

PSALM 131

[1]Jehovah, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty; neither do I exercise myself in great matters, and in things too wonderful for me.

[2]Surely I have restrained and composed my soul, like a weaned child with its mother: my soul within me is as a weaned child.

[3]Let Israel hope in Jehovah, from henceforth and for evermore.

PSALM 132

[1]Jehovah, remember for David all his affliction;

[2]How he swore unto Jehovah, vowed unto the Mighty One of Jacob:

[3]I will not come into the tent of my house, I will not go up to the couch of my bed;

[4]I will not give sleep to mine eyes, slumber to mine eyelids,

[5]Until I find out a place for Jehovah, habitations for the Mighty One of Jacob. ...

[6]Behold, we heard of it at Ephratah, we found it in the fields of the wood.

[7]Let us go into his habitations, let us worship at his footstool.

[8]Arise, Jehovah, into thy rest, thou and the ark of thy strength.

[9]Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy saints shout for joy.

[10]For thy servant David's sake, turn not away the face of thine anointed.

[11]Jehovah hath sworn [in] truth unto David; he will not turn from it: Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne;

[12]If thy children keep my covenant, and my testimonies which I will teach them, their children also for evermore shall sit upon thy throne.

[13]For Jehovah hath chosen Zion; he hath desired it for his dwelling:

[14]This is my rest for ever; here will I dwell, for I have desired it.

[15]I will abundantly bless her provision; I will satisfy her needy ones with bread;

[16]And I will clothe her priests with salvation, and her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

[17]There will I cause the horn of David to bud forth; I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed.

[18]His enemies will I clothe with shame; but upon himself shall his crown flourish.

PSALM 133

[1]Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!

[2]Like the precious oil upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, upon Aaron's beard, that ran down to the hem of his garments;

[3]As the dew of Hermon that descendeth on the mountains of Zion; for there hath Jehovah commanded the blessing, life for evermore.

PSALM 134

[1]Behold, bless Jehovah, all ye servants of Jehovah, who by night stand in the house of Jehovah.

[2]Lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and bless Jehovah.

[3]Jehovah, the maker of heavens and earth, bless thee out of Zion.

PSALM 135

[1]Hallelujah! Praise the name of Jehovah; praise, ye servants of Jehovah,

[2]Ye that stand in the house of Jehovah, in the courts of the house of our God.

[3]Praise ye Jah; for Jehovah is good: sing psalms unto his name; for it is pleasant.

[4]For Jah hath chosen Jacob unto himself, Israel for his own possession.

[5]For I know that Jehovah is great, and our Lord is above all gods.

[6]Whatsoever Jehovah pleased, he hath done in the heavens and on the earth, in the seas and all deeps;

[7]Who causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; who maketh lightnings for the rain; who bringeth the wind out of his treasuries:

[8]Who smote the firstborn of Egypt, both of man and beast;

[9]Who sent signs and miracles into the midst of thee, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh and upon all his servants;

[10]Who smote great nations, and slew mighty kings,

[11]Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan;

[12]And gave their land for an inheritance, an inheritance unto Israel his people.

[13]Thy name, O Jehovah, is for ever; thy memorial, O Jehovah, from generation to generation.

[14]For Jehovah will judge his people, and will repent in favour of his servants.

[15]The idols of the nations are silver and gold, the work of men's hands:

[16]They have a mouth, and they speak not; eyes have they, and they see not;

[17]They have ears, and they hear not; neither is there any breath in their mouth.

[18]They that make them are like unto them, -- every one that confideth in them.

[19]House of Israel, bless ye Jehovah; house of Aaron, bless ye Jehovah;

[20]House of Levi, bless ye Jehovah; ye that fear Jehovah, bless Jehovah.

[21]Blessed be Jehovah out of Zion, who dwelleth at Jerusalem! Hallelujah!

PSALM 136

[1]Give ye thanks unto Jehovah, for he is good; for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever:

[2]Give thanks unto the God of gods, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[3]Give thanks unto the Lord of lords, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

[4]To him who alone doeth great wonders, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever:

[5]To him that by understanding made the heavens, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[6]To him that stretched out the earth above the waters, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[7]To him that made great lights, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[8]The sun for rule over the day, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever,

[9]The moon and stars for rule over the night, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever:

[10]To him that smote Egypt in their firstborn, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever,

[11]And brought out Israel from among them, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever,

[12]With a powerful hand and with a stretched-out arm, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[13]To him that divided the Red sea into parts, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever,

[14]And made Israel to pass through the midst of it, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever,

[15]And overturned Pharaoh and his host in the Red sea, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[16]To him that led his people through the wilderness, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[17]To him that smote great kings, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever,

[18]And slew famous kings, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[19]Sihon king of the Amorites, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever,

[20]And Og king of Bashan, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[21]And gave their land for an inheritance, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever,

[22]An inheritance unto Israel his servant, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever:

[23]Who hath remembered us in our low estate, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever;

[24]And hath delivered us from our oppressors, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever:

[25]Who giveth food to all flesh, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

[26]Give ye thanks unto the [God] of the heavens; for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever.

PSALM 137

[1]By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down; yea, we wept when we remembered Zion.

[2]We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midst thereof.

[3]For there they that carried us away captive required of us a song; and they that made us wail [required] mirth, [saying,] Sing us [one] of the songs of Zion.

[4]How should we sing a song of Jehovah's upon a foreign soil?

[5]If I forget thee, Jerusalem, let my right hand forget [its skill];

[6]If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to my palate: if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy.

[7]Remember, O Jehovah, against the sons of Edom, the day of Jerusalem; who said, Lay [it] bare, Lay [it] bare, down to its foundation!

[8]Daughter of Babylon, who art to be laid waste, happy he that rendereth unto thee that which thou hast meted out to us.

[9]Happy he that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the rock.

PSALM 138

[1]I will give thee thanks with my whole heart; before the gods will I sing psalms of thee.

[2]I will bow down toward the temple of thy holiness, and celebrate thy name for thy loving-kindness and for thy truth; for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.

[3]In the day when I called thou answeredst me; thou didst encourage me with strength in my soul.

[4]All the kings of the earth shall celebrate thee, Jehovah, when they have heard the words of thy mouth;

[5]And they shall sing in the ways of Jehovah, for great is the glory of Jehovah.

[6]For Jehovah is high; but he looketh upon the lowly, and the proud he knoweth afar off.

[7]Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me: thou wilt stretch forth thy hand against the anger of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

[8]Jehovah will perfect what concerneth me: thy loving-kindness, O Jehovah, [endureth] for ever; forsake not the works of thine own hands.

PSALM 139

[1]Jehovah, thou hast searched me, and known [me].

[2]Thou knowest my down-sitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off;

[3]Thou searchest out my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways;

[4]For there is not yet a word on my tongue, [but] lo, O Jehovah, thou knowest it altogether.

[5]Thou hast beset me behind and before, and laid thy hand upon me.

[6]O knowledge too wonderful for me! it is high, I cannot [attain] unto it.

[7]Whither shall I go from thy Spirit? and whither flee from thy presence?

[8]If I ascend up into the heavens thou art there; or if I make my bed in Sheol, behold, thou [art there];

[9][If] I take the wings of the dawn [and] dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,

[10]Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me.

[11]And if I say, Surely darkness shall cover me, and the light about me be night;

[12]Even darkness hideth not from thee, and the night shineth as the day: the darkness is as the light.

[13]For thou hast possessed my reins; thou didst cover me in my mother's womb.

[14]I will praise thee, for I am fearfully, wonderfully made. Marvellous are thy works; and [that] my soul knoweth right well.

[15]My bones were not hidden from thee when I was made in secret, curiously wrought in the lower parts of the earth.

[16]Thine eyes did see my unformed substance, and in thy book all [my members] were written; [during many] days were they fashioned, when [as yet] there was none of them.

[17]But how precious are thy thoughts unto me, O [God]! how great is the sum of them!

[18][If] I would count them, they are more in number than the sand. When I awake, I am still with thee.

[19]Oh that thou wouldest slay the wicked, O +God! And ye men of blood, depart from me.

[20]For they speak of thee wickedly, they take [thy name] in vain, thine enemies.

[21]Do not I hate them, O Jehovah, that hate thee? and do not I loathe them that rise up against thee?

[22]I hate them with perfect hatred; I account them mine enemies.

[23]Search me, O [God], and know my heart; prove me, and know my thoughts;

[24]And see if there be any grievous way in me; and lead me in the way everlasting.

PSALM 140

[1]Free me, O Jehovah, from the evil man; preserve me from the violent man:

[2]Who devise mischiefs in [their] heart; every day are they banded together for war.

[3]They sharpen their tongues like a serpent; adders' poison is under their lips. Selah.

[4]Keep me, O Jehovah, from the hands of the wicked [man], preserve me from the violent man, who devise to overthrow my steps.

[5]The proud have hidden a snare for me, and cords; they have spread a net by the way-side; they have set traps for me. Selah.

[6]I have said unto Jehovah, Thou art my [God]: give ear, O Jehovah, to the voice of my supplications.

[7]Jehovah, the Lord, is the strength of my salvation: thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.

[8]Grant not, O Jehovah, the desire of the wicked; further not his device: they would exalt themselves. Selah.

[9][As for] the head of those that encompass me, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

[10]Let burning coals fall on them; let them be cast into the fire; into deep waters, that they rise not up again.

[11]Let not the man of [evil] tongue be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the man of violence to [his] ruin.

[12]I know that Jehovah will maintain the cause of the afflicted one, the right of the needy.

[13]Yea, the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name; the upright shall dwell in thy presence.

PSALM 141

[1]Jehovah, I have called upon thee: make haste unto me; give ear unto my voice, when I call unto thee.

[2]Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense, the lifting up of my hands as the evening oblation.

[3]Set a watch, O Jehovah, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips.

[4]Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practise deeds of wickedness with men that are workers of iniquity; and let me not eat of their dainties.

[5]Let the righteous smite me, it is kindness; and let him reprove me, it is an excellent oil which my head shall not refuse: for yet my prayer also is [for them] in their calamities.

[6]When their judges are thrown down from the rocks, they shall hear my words, for they are sweet.

[7]Our bones are scattered at the mouth of Sheol, as when one cutteth and cleaveth [wood] upon the earth.

[8]For unto thee, Jehovah, Lord, are mine eyes; in thee do I trust: leave not my soul destitute.

[9]Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and from the traps of the workers of iniquity.

[10]Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst that I withal pass over.

PSALM 142

[1]I cry unto Jehovah with my voice: with my voice unto Jehovah do I make supplication.

[2]I pour out my plaint before him; I shew before him my trouble.

[3]When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path. In the way wherein I walked have they hidden a snare for me.

[4]Look on the right hand and see; there is no man that knoweth me: refuge hath failed me; no man careth for my soul.

[5]I cried unto thee, Jehovah; I said, Thou art my refuge, my portion in the land of the living.

[6]Attend unto my cry, for I am brought very low; deliver me from my persecutors, for they are stronger than I.

[7]Bring my soul out of prison, that I may celebrate thy name. The righteous shall surround me, because thou dealest bountifully with me.

PSALM 143

[1]Jehovah, hear my prayer; give ear to my supplications: in thy faithfulness answer me, in thy righteousness.

[2]And enter not into judgment with thy servant; for in thy sight no man living shall be justified.

[3]For the enemy persecuteth my soul: he hath crushed my life down to the earth; he hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.

[4]And my spirit is overwhelmed within me; my heart within me is desolate.

[5]I remember the days of old: I meditate on all thy doing; I muse on the work of thy hands.

[6]I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul, as a parched land, [thirsteth] after thee. Selah.

[7]Answer me speedily, O Jehovah; my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, or I shall be like unto them that go down into the pit.

[8]Cause me to hear thy loving-kindness in the morning, for in thee do I confide; make me to know the way wherein I should walk, for unto thee do I lift up my soul.

[9]Deliver me, O Jehovah, from mine enemies: unto thee do I flee for refuge.

[10]Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit lead me in a plain country.

[11]Revive me, O Jehovah, for thy name's sake; in thy righteousness bring my soul out of trouble;

12 And in thy loving-kindness cut off mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppress my soul: for I am thy servant.

PSALM 144

1 Blessed be Jehovah my rock, who teacheth my hands to war, my fingers to fight;

2 My mercy and my fortress, my high tower and my deliverer, my shield and he in whom I trust, who subdueth my people under me!

3 Jehovah, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him, the son of man, that thou takest thought of him?

4 Man is like to vanity; his days are as a shadow that passeth away.

5 Jehovah, bow thy heavens, and come down; touch the mountains, that they smoke;

6 Cast forth lightnings, and scatter them; send forth thine arrows, and discomfit them:

7 Stretch out thy hands from above; rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of aliens,

8 Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 O God, I will sing a new song unto thee; with the ten-stringed lute will I sing psalms unto thee:

10 Who givest salvation unto kings; who rescuest David thy servant from the hurtful sword.

11 Rescue me, and deliver me from the hand of aliens, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

12 That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth; our daughters as corner-columns, sculptured after the fashion of a palace:

13 Our granaries full, affording all manner of store; our sheep bringing forth thousands, ten thousands in our pastures;

14 Our kine laden [with young]; no breaking in and no going forth, and no outcry in our streets.

15 Blessed the people that is in such a case! Blessed the people whose God is Jehovah!

PSALM 145

1 I will extol thee, my God, O King, and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.

2 Every day will I bless thee, and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.

3 Great is Jehovah, and exceedingly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable.

4 One generation shall laud thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts.

[5]I will speak of the glorious splendour of thy majesty, and of thy wondrous works.

[6]And they shall tell of the might of thy terrible acts; and thy great deeds will I declare.

[7]They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

[8]Jehovah is gracious and merciful; slow to anger, and of great loving-kindness.

[9]Jehovah is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works.

[10]All thy works shall praise thee, Jehovah, and thy saints shall bless thee.

[11]They shall tell of the glory of thy kingdom, and speak of thy power;

[12]To make known to the children of men his mighty acts, and the glorious splendour of his kingdom.

[13]Thy kingdom is a kingdom of all ages, and thy dominion is throughout all generations.

[14]Jehovah upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all that are bowed down.

[15]The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their food in its season.

[16]Thou openest thy hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.

[17]Jehovah is righteous in all his ways, and kind in all his works.

[18]Jehovah is nigh unto all that call upon him, unto all that call upon him in truth.

[19]He fulfilleth the desire of them that fear him; he heareth their cry, and saveth them.

[20]Jehovah keepeth all that love him, and all the wicked will he destroy.

[21]My mouth shall speak the praise of Jehovah; and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.

PSALM 146

[1]Hallelujah! Praise Jehovah, O my soul.

[2]As long as I live will I praise Jehovah; I will sing psalms unto my God while I have my being.

[3]Put not confidence in nobles, in a son of man, in whom there is no salvation.

[4]His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth; in that very day his purposes perish.

[5]Blessed is he who hath the [God] of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in Jehovah his God,

[6]Who made the heavens and the earth, the sea and all that is therein; who keepeth truth for ever;

[7]Who executeth judgment for the oppressed, who giveth bread to the hungry. Jehovah looseth the prisoners;

[8]Jehovah openeth [the eyes of] the blind; Jehovah raiseth up them that are bowed down; Jehovah loveth the righteous;

[9]Jehovah preserveth the strangers; he lifteth up the fatherless and the widow; but the way of the wicked doth he subvert.

[10]Jehovah will reign for ever, [even] thy God, O Zion, from generation to generation. Halleluiah!

PSALM 147

[1]Praise ye Jah! for it is good. Sing psalms of our God; for it is pleasant: praise is comely.

[2]Jehovah doth build up Jerusalem: he gathereth the outcasts of Israel.

[3]He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.

[4]He counteth the number of the stars; he giveth names to them all.

[5]Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite.

[6]Jehovah lifteth up the meek; he abaseth the wicked to the earth.

[7]Sing unto Jehovah with thanksgiving; sing psalms upon the harp unto our God:

[8]Who covereth the heavens with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains;

[9]Who giveth to the cattle their food, to the young ravens which cry.

[10]He delighteth not in the strength of the horse, he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man;

[11]Jehovah taketh pleasure in those that fear him, in those that hope in his loving-kindness.

[12]Laud Jehovah, O Jerusalem; praise thy God, O Zion.

[13]For he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates; he hath blessed thy children within thee;

[14]He maketh peace in thy borders; he satisfieth thee with the finest of the wheat.

[15]He sendeth forth his oracles to the earth: his word runneth very swiftly.

[16]He giveth snow like wool, scattereth the hoar frost like ashes;

[17]He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?

[18]He sendeth his word, and melteth them; he causeth his wind to blow -- the waters flow.

[19]He sheweth his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel.

[20]He hath not dealt thus with any nation; and as for [his] judgments, they have not known them. Hallelujah!

PSALM 148

[1]Hallelujah! Praise Jehovah from the heavens; praise him in the heights.

[2]Praise ye him, all his angels; praise ye him, all his hosts.

[3]Praise him, sun and moon; praise him, all ye stars of light.

[4]Praise him, ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that are above the heavens.

[5]Let them praise the name of Jehovah, for he it is that commanded, and they were created:

[6]And he established them for ever and ever; he made [for them] a statute which shall not pass.

[7]Praise Jehovah from the earth, ye sea-monsters, and all deeps;

[8]Fire and hail, snow and vapour, stormy wind fulfilling his word;

[9]Mountains and all hills, fruit-trees and all cedars;

[10]Beasts and all cattle, creeping things and winged fowl;

[11]Kings of the earth and all peoples, princes and all judges of the earth;

[12]Both young men and maidens, old men with youths, --

[13]Let them praise the name of Jehovah: for his name alone is exalted; his majesty is above the earth and the heavens.

[14]And he hath lifted up the horn of his people, the praise of all his saints, [even] of the children of Israel, a people near unto him. Hallelujah!

PSALM 149

[1]Hallelujah! Sing unto Jehovah a new song; [sing] his praise in the congregation of the godly.

[2]Let Israel rejoice in his Maker; let the sons of Zion be joyful in their King.

[3]Let them praise his name in the dance; let them sing psalms unto him with the tambour and harp.

[4]For Jehovah taketh pleasure in his people; he beautifieth the meek with salvation.

[5]Let the godly exult in glory; let them shout for joy upon their beds.

[6]Let the high praises of [God] be in their mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand:

[7]To execute vengeance against the nations, [and] punishment among the peoples;

[8]To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron;

[9]To execute upon them the judgment written. This honour have all his saints. Hallelujah!

PSALM 150

[1]Hallelujah! Praise [God] in his sanctuary; praise him in the firmament of his power.

[2]Praise him in his mighty acts; praise him according to the abundance of his greatness.

[3]Praise him with the sound of the trumpet; praise him with lute and harp;

[4]Praise him with the tambour and dance; praise him with stringed instruments and the pipe;

[5]Praise him with loud cymbals; praise him with high sounding cymbals.

[6]Let everything that hath breath praise Jah. Hallelujah!

Proverbs

1 Proverbs of Solomon, son of David, king of Israel:

2 to know wisdom and instruction; to discern the words of understanding;

3 to receive the instruction of wisdom, righteousness and judgment, and equity;

4 to give prudence to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion.

5 He that is wise will hear, and will increase learning; and the intelligent will gain wise counsels:

6 to understand a proverb and an allegory, the words of the wise and their enigmas.

7 The fear of Jehovah is the beginning of knowledge: fools despise wisdom and instruction.

8 Hear, my son, the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the teaching of thy mother;

9 for they shall be a garland of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

10 My son, if sinners entice thee, consent not.

11 If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk secretly for the innocent without cause;

12 let us swallow them up alive as Sheol, and whole, as those that go down into the pit;

13 we shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil:

14 cast in thy lot among us; we will all have one purse:

15 -- my son, walk not in the way with them, keep back thy foot from their path;

16 for their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed blood.

17 For in vain the net is spread in the sight of anything which hath wings.

18 And these lay wait for their own blood; they lurk secretly for their own lives.

19 So are the paths of every one that is greedy of gain: it taketh away the life of its possessors.

20 Wisdom crieth without; she raiseth her voice in the broadways;

21 she calleth in the chief [place] of concourse, in the entry of the gates; in the city she uttereth her words:

22 How long, simple ones, will ye love simpleness, and scorners take pleasure in their scorning, and the foolish hate knowledge?

[23]Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour forth my spirit unto you, I will make known to you my words.

[24]Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no one regarded;

[25]and ye have rejected all my counsel, and would none of my reproof:

[26]I also will laugh in your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh;

[27]when your fear cometh as sudden destruction, and your calamity cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish come upon you:

[28]-- then will they call upon me, but I will not answer; they will seek me early, and shall not find me.

[29]Because they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of Jehovah;

[30]they would none of my counsel, they despised all my reproof:

[31]therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their way, and be filled with their own devices.

[32]For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of the foolish shall cause them to perish.

[33]But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and shall be at rest from fear of evil.

2My son, if thou receivest my words, and layest up my commandments with thee,

[2]so that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom [and] thou apply thy heart to understanding;

[3]yea, if thou criest after discernment [and] liftest up thy voice to understanding;

[4]if thou seekest her as silver and searchest for her as for hidden treasures:

[5]then shalt thou understand the fear of Jehovah, and find the knowledge of God.

[6]For Jehovah giveth wisdom; out of his mouth [come] knowledge and understanding.

[7]He layeth up sound wisdom for the upright; [he] is a shield to them that walk in integrity;

[8]guarding the paths of just judgment and keeping the way of his godly ones.

[9]Then shalt thou understand righteousness and judgment and equity: every good path.

[10]When wisdom entereth into thy heart and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul,

[11]discretion shall keep thee, understanding shall preserve thee:

12To deliver thee from the way of evil, from the man that speaketh froward things;

13[from those] who leave the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness;

14who rejoice to do evil, [and] delight in the frowardness of evil;

15whose paths are crooked, and who are perverted in their course:

16To deliver thee from the strange woman, from the stranger who flattereth with her words;

17who forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God;

18-- for her house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead;

19none that go unto her return again, neither do they attain to the paths of life:

20-- that thou mayest walk in the way of the good, and keep the paths of the righteous.

21For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it;

22but the wicked shall be cut off from the land, and the unfaithful shall be plucked up out of it.

3My son, forget not my teaching, and let thy heart observe my commandments;

2for length of days, and years of life, and peace shall they add to thee.

3Let not loving-kindness and truth forsake thee; bind them about thy neck, write them upon the tablet of thy heart:

4and thou shalt find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man.

5Confide in Jehovah with all thy heart, and lean not unto thine own intelligence;

6in all thy ways acknowledge him, and he will make plain thy paths.

7Be not wise in thine own eyes; fear Jehovah, and depart from evil:

8it shall be health for thy navel, and moisture for thy bones.

9Honour Jehovah with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase;

10so shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy vats shall overflow with new wine.

11My son, despise not the instruction of Jehovah, neither be weary of his chastisement;

12for whom Jehovah loveth he chasteneth, even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.

13Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.

14For the gain thereof is better than the gain of silver, and her revenue than fine gold.

15She is more precious than rubies; and all the things thou canst desire are not equal unto her.

17Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

18She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her; and happy is he that retaineth her.

19Jehovah by wisdom founded the earth; by understanding he established the heavens.

20By his knowledge the deeps were broken up, and the skies drop down the dew.

21My son, let them not depart from thine eyes; keep sound wisdom and discretion:

22so shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace unto thy neck.

23Then shalt thou walk in thy way securely, and thy foot shall not stumble;

24when thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid, but thou shalt lie down and thy sleep shall be sweet.

25Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the destruction of the wicked, when it cometh;

26for Jehovah shall be thy confidence, and he will keep thy foot from being taken.

27Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thy hand to do it.

28Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to-morrow I will give, when thou hast it by thee.

29Devise not evil against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.

30Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm.

31Envy not the man of violence, and choose none of his ways.

32For the perverse is an abomination to Jehovah; but his secret is with the upright.

33The curse of Jehovah is in the house of the wicked; but he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.

34He indeed scorneth the scorners; but he giveth grace unto the lowly.

35The wise shall inherit glory; but shame shall be the promotion of the foolish.

4Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know intelligence;

2for I give you good doctrine: forsake ye not my law.

[3]For I was a son unto my father, tender and an only one in the sight of my mother.

[4]And he taught me, and said unto me, Let thy heart retain my words; keep my commandments and live.

[5]Get wisdom, get intelligence: forget [it] not; neither decline from the words of my mouth.

[6]Forsake her not, and she shall keep thee; love her, and she shall preserve thee.

[7]The beginning of wisdom [is], Get wisdom; and with all thy getting get intelligence.

[8]Exalt her, and she shall promote thee; she shall bring thee to honour when thou dost embrace her.

[9]She shall give to thy head a garland of grace; a crown of glory will she bestow upon thee.

[10]Hear, my son, and receive my sayings, and the years of thy life shall be multiplied.

[11]I will teach thee in the way of wisdom, I will lead thee in paths of uprightness.

[12]When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.

[13]Take fast hold of instruction, let [her] not go: keep her, for she is thy life.

[14]Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil [men]:

[15]avoid it, pass not by it; turn from it, and pass away.

[16]For they sleep not except they have done mischief, and their sleep is taken away unless they have caused [some] to fall.

[17]For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.

[18]But the path of the righteous is as the shining light, going on and brightening until the day be fully come.

[19]The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble.

[20]My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings.

[21]Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thy heart.

[22]For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh.

[23]Keep thy heart more than anything that is guarded; for out of it are the issues of life.

[24]Put away from thee perverseness of mouth, and corrupt lips put far from thee.

[25]Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee.

[26]Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be well-ordered.

[27]Turn not to the right hand nor to the left; remove thy foot from evil.

5My son, attend unto my wisdom, incline thine ear to my understanding;

[2]that thou mayest keep reflection, and that thy lips may preserve knowledge.

[3]For the lips of the strange woman drop honey, and her mouth is smoother than oil;

[4]but her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.

[5]Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on Sheol.

[6]Lest she should ponder the path of life, her ways wander, she knoweth not [whither].

[7]And now, children, hearken unto me, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

[8]Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house:

[9]lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel;

[10]lest strangers be filled with thy wealth, and the fruits of thy toil [come] into the house of a stranger;

[11]and thou mourn in thine end, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed;

[12]and thou say, How have I hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof!

[13]and I have not hearkened unto the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear to those that instructed me;

[14]I was well nigh in all evil in the midst of the congregation and assembly.

[15]Drink waters out of thine own cistern, and running waters out of thine own well.

[16]Thy fountains shall be poured forth, as water-brooks in the broadways.

[17]Let them be only thine own, and not strangers' with thee.

[18]Let thy fountain be blessed; and have joy of the wife of thy youth.

[19]As a lovely hind and a graceful roe, let her breasts satisfy thee at all times: be thou ravished continually with her love.

[20]And why shouldest thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?

[21]For the ways of man are before the eyes of Jehovah, and he pondereth all his paths.

[22]His own iniquities shall take the wicked, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sin.

[23]He shall die for want of discipline; and in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

6 My son, if thou hast become surety for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand for a stranger,

2 thou art snared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.

3 Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, since thou hast come into the hand of thy friend: go, humble thyself, and be urgent with thy friend.

4 Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids:

5 deliver thyself as a gazelle from the hand [of the hunter], and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways and be wise:

7 which having no chief, overseer, or ruler,

8 provideth her bread in the summer, [and] gathereth her food in the harvest.

9 How long, sluggard, wilt thou lie down? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?

10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest!

11 So shall thy poverty come as a roving plunderer, and thy penury as an armed man.

12 A man of Belial, a wicked person, is he that goeth about with a perverse mouth;

13 he winketh with his eyes, he speaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers;

14 deceits are in his heart; he deviseth mischief at all times, he soweth discords.

15 Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly: in a moment shall he be broken, and without remedy.

16 These six [things] doth Jehovah hate, yea, seven are an abomination unto him:

17 haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood;

18 a heart that deviseth wicked imaginations; feet that are swift in running to mischief;

19 a false witness that uttereth lies, and he that soweth discords among brethren.

20 My son, observe thy father's commandment, and forsake not the teaching of thy mother;

21 bind them continually upon thy heart, tie them about thy neck:

22 when thou walkest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and [when] thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.

23 For the commandment is a lamp, and the teaching a light, and reproofs of instruction are the way of life:

24 to keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.

[25]Lust not after her beauty in thy heart, neither let her take thee with her eyelids;

[26]for by means of a whorish woman [a man is brought] to a loaf of bread, and another's wife doth hunt for the precious soul.

[27]Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his garments not be burned?

[28]Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be scorched?

[29]So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife: whosoever toucheth her shall not be innocent.

[30]They do not despise a thief, if he steal to satisfy his soul when he is hungry:

[31]and if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold; he shall give all the substance of his house.

[32]Whoso committeth adultery with a woman is void of understanding: he that doeth it destroyeth his own soul.

[33]A wound and contempt shall he get; and his reproach shall not be wiped away.

[34]For jealousy is the rage of a man, and he will not spare in the day of vengeance;

[35]he will not regard any ransom, neither will he rest content though thou multipliest [thy] gifts.

7 My son, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee.

[2]Keep my commandments, and live; and my teaching, as the apple of thine eye.

[3]Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the tablet of thy heart.

[4]Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister, and call intelligence [thy] kinswoman:

[5]that they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger who flattereth with her words.

[6]For at the window of my house, I looked forth through my lattice,

[7]and I beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the sons, a young man void of understanding,

[8]passing through the street near her corner; and he went the way to her house,

[9]in the twilight, in the evening of the day, in the blackness of night and the darkness.

[10]And behold, there met him a woman in the attire of a harlot, and subtle of heart.

[11]She is clamorous and unmanageable; her feet abide not in her house:

[12]now without, now in the broadways, -- and she lieth in wait at every corner.

13 And she caught him and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him,

14 I have peace-offerings with me; this day have I paid my vows:

15 therefore came I forth to meet thee, to seek earnestly thy face, and I have found thee.

16 I have decked my bed with tapestry
coverlets of variegated linen from Egypt;

17 I have perfumed my couch with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

18 Come, let us revel in love until the morning, let us delight ourselves with loves.

19 For the husband is not at home, he is gone a long journey;

20 he hath taken the money-bag with him, he will come home on the day of the full moon.

21 With her much enticement she beguiled him; with the smoothness of her lips she constrained him.

22 He went after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, and as stocks [serve] for the correction of the fool;

23 till an arrow strike through his liver: as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for its life.

24 And now, ye sons, hearken unto me, and attend to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thy heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths:

26 for she hath cast down many wounded, and all slain by her were strong.

27 Her house is the way to Sheol, going down to the chambers of death.

8 Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding give forth her voice?

2 On the top of high places by the way, at the cross-paths she taketh her stand.

3 Beside the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors, she crieth aloud.

4 Unto you, men, I call, and my voice is to the sons of man:

5 O ye simple, understand prudence; and ye foolish, understand sense.

6 Hear, for I will speak excellent things, and the opening of my lips shall be right things.

7 For my palate shall meditate truth, and wickedness is an abomination to my lips.

8 All the words of my mouth are in righteousness; there is nothing tortuous or perverse in them.

9 They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge.

[10]Receive my instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather than choice gold:

[11]for wisdom is better than rubies, and all the things that may be desired are not equal to it.

[12]I wisdom dwell [with] prudence, and find the knowledge [which cometh] of reflection.

[13]The fear of Jehovah is to hate evil; pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth do I hate.

[14]Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom: I am intelligence; I have strength.

[15]By me kings reign, and rulers make just decrees;

[16]by me princes rule, and nobles, all the judges of the earth.

[17]I love those that love me; and they that seek me early shall find me.

[18]Riches and honour are with me; durable wealth and righteousness.

[19]My fruit is better than fine gold, yea, than pure gold; and my revenue than choice silver.

[20]I walk in the path of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment:

[21]that I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasuries.

[22]Jehovah possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.

[23]I was set up from eternity, from the beginning, before the earth was.

[24]When there were no depths, I was brought forth, when there were no fountains abounding with water.

[25]Before the mountains were settled, before the hills was I brought forth;

[26]while as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the beginning of the dust of the world.

[27]When he prepared the heavens I was there; when he ordained the circle upon the face of the deep;

[28]when he established the skies above, when the fountains of the deep became strong;

[29]when he imposed on the sea his decree that the waters should not pass his commandment, when he appointed the foundations of the earth:

[30]then I was by him [his] nursling, and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him;

[31]rejoicing in the habitable part of his earth, and my delights [were] with the sons of men.

[32]And now, sons, hearken unto me, and blessed are they that keep my ways:

[33]hear instruction and be wise, and refuse it not.

[34]Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors.

[35]For whoso findeth me findeth life, and obtaineth favour of Jehovah;

[36]but he that sinneth against me doeth violence to his own soul: all they that hate me love death.

9Wisdom hath built her house, she hath hewn out her seven pillars;

[2]she hath slaughtered her cattle, she hath mingled her wine, she hath also prepared her table;

[3]she hath sent forth her maidens: she crieth upon the summits of the high places of the city,

[4]Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither. To him that is void of understanding, she saith,

[5]Come, eat ye of my bread, and drink of the wine that I have mingled.

[6]Forsake follies and live, and go in the way of intelligence.

[7]He that instructeth a scorner getteth to himself shame; and he that reproveth a wicked [man] [getteth] to himself a blot.

[8]Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee; reprove a wise [man], and he will love thee.

[9]Impart to a wise [man], and he will become yet wiser; teach a righteous [man], and he will increase learning.

[10]The fear of Jehovah is the beginning of wisdom; and the knowledge of the Holy is intelligence.

[11]For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and years of life shall be added to thee.

[12]If thou art wise, thou shalt be wise for thyself; and if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it.

[13]The foolish woman is clamorous; she is stupid, and knoweth nothing.

[14]And she sitteth at the entry of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city,

[15]to call passers-by who go right on their ways:

[16]Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither. And to him that is void of understanding she saith, [17]Stolen waters are sweet, and the bread of secrecy is pleasant.

[18]But he knoweth not that the dead are there; [that] her guests are in the depths of Sheol.

10 The Proverbs of Solomon. A wise son maketh a glad father; but a foolish son is the grief of his mother.

2 Treasures of wickedness profit nothing; but righteousness delivereth from death.

3 Jehovah suffereth not the soul of the righteous [man] to famish; but he repelleth the craving of the wicked.

4 He cometh to want that dealeth with a slack hand; but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 He that gathereth in summer is a wise son; he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame.

6 Blessings are upon the head of a righteous [man]; but the mouth of the wicked covereth violence.

7 The memory of the righteous [man] shall be blessed; but the name of the wicked shall rot.

8 The wise in heart receiveth commandments; but a prating fool shall fall.

9 He that walketh in integrity walketh securely; but he that perverteth his ways shall be known.

10 He that winketh with the eye causeth grief, and a prating fool shall fall.

11 The mouth of a righteous [man] is a fountain of life; but the mouth of the wicked covereth violence.

12 Hatred stirreth up strifes; but love covereth all transgressions.

13 In the lips of an intelligent [man] wisdom is found; but a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding.

14 The wise lay up knowledge; but the mouth of the fool is near destruction.

15 The rich man's wealth is his strong city; the destruction of the poor is their poverty.

16 The labour of a righteous [man] [tendeth] to life; the revenue of a wicked [man], to sin.

17 Keeping instruction is the path to life; but he that forsaketh reproof goeth astray.

18 He that covereth hatred hath lying lips, and he that sendeth forth a slander is a fool.

19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not transgression; but he that restraineth his lips doeth wisely.

20 The tongue of the righteous [man] is [as] choice silver; the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of a righteous [man] feed many; but fools die for want of understanding.

22 The blessing of Jehovah, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow to it.

[23]It is as sport to a foolish [man] to do wickedness; but a man of understanding hath wisdom.

[24]The fear of a wicked [man], it shall come upon him; but the desire of the righteous shall be granted.

[25]As a whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no [more]; but the righteous is an everlasting foundation.

[26]As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that send him.

[27]The fear of Jehovah prolongeth days; but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.

[28]The hope of the righteous is joy; but the expectation of the wicked shall perish.

[29]The way of Jehovah is strength to the perfect [man], but destruction to the workers of iniquity.

[30]The righteous [man] shall never be moved; but the wicked shall not inhabit the land.

[31]The mouth of a righteous [man] putteth forth wisdom; but the froward tongue shall be cut out.

[32]The lips of a righteous [man] know what is acceptable; but the mouth of the wicked is frowardness.

11 A false balance is an abomination to Jehovah; but a just weight is his delight.

[2][When] pride cometh, then cometh shame; but with the lowly is wisdom.

[3]The integrity of the upright guideth them; but the crookedness of the unfaithful destroyeth them.

[4]Wealth profiteth not in the day of wrath; but righteousness delivereth from death.

[5]The righteousness of the perfect maketh plain his way; but the wicked falleth by his own wickedness.

[6]The righteousness of the upright delivereth them; but the treacherous are taken in their own craving.

[7]When a wicked man dieth, [his] expectation shall perish; and the hope of evil [men] perisheth.

[8]The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead.

[9]With his mouth a hypocrite destroyeth his neighbour; but through knowledge are the righteous delivered.

[10]When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth; and when the wicked perish, there is shouting.

[11]By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted; but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour is void of heart; but a man of understanding holdeth his peace.

13 He that goeth about talebearing revealeth secrets; but he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth the matter.

14 Where no advice is, the people fall; but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.

15 It goeth ill with him that is surety for another; but he that hateth suretyship is secure.

16 A gracious woman retaineth honour;
and the violent retain riches.

17 The merciful man doeth good to his own soul; but the cruel troubleth his own flesh.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitful work; but he that soweth righteousness hath a sure reward.

19 As righteousness [tendeth] to life, so he that pursueth evil [doeth it] to his own death.

20 The perverse in heart are abomination to Jehovah; but they that are perfect in [their] way are his delight.

21 Hand for hand! an evil [man] shall not be held innocent; but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.

22 A fair woman who is without discretion, is [as] a gold ring in a swine's snout.

23 The desire of the righteous is only good; the expectation of the wicked is wrath.

24 There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is right, but [it tendeth] only to want.

25 The liberal soul shall be made fat, and he that watereth shall be watered also himself.

26 He that withholdeth corn, the people curse him; but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.

27 He that is earnest after good seeketh favour; but he that searcheth for mischief, it shall come upon him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches shall fall;
but the righteous shall flourish as a leaf.

29 He that troubleth his own house shall inherit wind; and the fool shall be servant to the wise of heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and the wise winneth souls.

31 Behold, the righteous shall be requited on the earth: how much more the wicked and the sinner.

12 Whoso loveth discipline loveth knowledge, but he that hateth reproof is brutish.

[2]A good [man] obtaineth favour of Jehovah; but a man of mischievous devices will he condemn.

[3]A man shall not be established by wickedness; but the root of the righteous shall not be moved.

[4]A woman of worth is a crown to her husband; but she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.

[5]The thoughts of the righteous are right; the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

[6]The words of the wicked are a lying-in-wait for blood; but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.

[7]Overthrow the wicked, and they are no [more]; but the house of the righteous shall stand.

[8]A man is commended according to his wisdom; but he that is of a perverted heart shall be despised.

[9]Better is he that is lightly esteemed, and hath a servant, than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread.

[10]A righteous man is concerned for the life of his beast; but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.

[11]He that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread; but he that followeth the worthless is void of understanding.

[12]The wicked desireth the net of evil [men]; but the root of the righteous yieldeth [fruit].

[13]In the transgression of the lips is an evil snare; but a righteous [man] shall go forth out of trouble.

[14]A man is satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth; and the recompense of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.

[15]The way of a fool is right in his own eyes; but he that is wise hearkeneth unto counsel.

[16]The vexation of the fool is presently known; but a prudent [man] covereth shame.

[17]He that uttereth truth sheweth forth righteousness; but a false witness deceit.

[18]There is that babbleth like the piercings of a sword; but the tongue of the wise is health.

[19]The lip of truth shall be established for ever; but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

[20]Deceit is in the heart of them that devise evil; but to the counsellors of peace is joy.

[21]There shall no evil happen to a righteous [man]; but the wicked shall be filled with mischief.

[22]Lying lips are an abomination to Jehovah; but they that deal truly are his delight.

[23]A prudent man concealeth knowledge; but the heart of the foolish proclaimeth folly.

[24]The hand of the diligent shall bear rule; but the slothful [hand] shall be under tribute.

[25]Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop; but a good word maketh it glad.

[26]The righteous guideth his neighbour; but the way of the wicked misleadeth them.

[27]The slothful roasteth not what he took in hunting; but man's precious substance is to the diligent.

[28]In the path of righteousness is life, and in the pathway thereof there is no death.

13A wise son [heareth] his father's instruction; but a scorner heareth not rebuke.

[2]A man shall eat good by the fruit of his mouth; but the soul of the treacherous, violence.

[3]He that guardeth his mouth keepeth his soul; destruction shall be to him that openeth wide his lips.

[4]A sluggard's soul desireth and hath nothing; but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.

[5]A righteous [man] hateth lying; but the wicked maketh himself odious and cometh to shame.

[6]Righteousness preserveth him that is perfect in the way; but wickedness overthroweth the sinner.

[7]There is that feigneth himself rich, and hath nothing; there is that maketh himself poor, and hath great wealth.

[8]The ransom of a man's life is his riches; but the indigent heareth not rebuke.

[9]The light of the righteous rejoiceth; but the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.

[10]By pride there only cometh contention; but with the well-advised is wisdom.

[11]Wealth [gotten] by vanity diminisheth; but he that gathereth by manual-labour shall increase [it].

[12]Hope deferred maketh the heart sick; but the desire [that] cometh to pass is a tree of life.

[13]Whoso despiseth the word shall be held by it; but he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.

[14]The teaching of the wise [man] is a fountain of life, to turn away from the snares of death.

[15]Good understanding procureth favour; but the way of the treacherous is hard.

[16]Every prudent [man] acteth with knowledge; but the foolish layeth open [his] folly.

[17]A wicked messenger falleth into evil; but a faithful ambassador is health.

[18]Poverty and shame shall be [to] him that refuseth instruction; but he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured.

19 The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul; but it is abomination to the foolish to depart from evil.

20 He that walketh with wise [men] becometh wise; but a companion of the foolish will be depraved.

21 Evil pursueth sinners; but to the righteous good shall be repaid.

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children; but the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the righteous [man].

23 Much food is in the tillage of the poor; but there is that is lost for want of judgment.

24 He that spareth his rod hateth his son; but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes.

25 The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul; but the belly of the wicked shall want.

14 The wisdom of women buildeth their house; but folly plucketh it down with her hands.

2 He that walketh in his uprightness feareth Jehovah; but he that is perverted in his ways despiseth him.

3 In the fool's mouth is a rod of pride; but the lips of the wise shall preserve them.

4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean; but much increase is by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithful witness will not lie; but a false witness uttereth lies.

6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and there is none [for him]; but knowledge is easy unto the intelligent.

7 Go from the presence of a foolish man, in whom thou perceivest not the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to discern his way; but the folly of the foolish is deceit.

9 Fools make a mock at trespass; but for the upright there is favour.

10 The heart knoweth its own bitterness, and a stranger doth not intermeddle with its joy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be overthrown; but the tent of the upright shall flourish.

12 There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof is the ways of death.

13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful, and the end of mirth is sadness.

14 The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways, and the good man from what is in himself.

15 The simple believeth every word; but the prudent [man] heedeth his going.

16 A wise [man] feareth and departeth from evil; but the foolish is overbearing and confident.

17 He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly, and a man of mischievous devices is hated.

18 The simple inherit folly; but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The evil bow before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous [man].

20 He that is poor is hated even of his own neighbour; but the rich hath many friends.

21 He that despiseth his neighbour sinneth; but he that is gracious to the afflicted, happy is he.

22 Do they not err that devise evil? but loving-kindness and truth are for those that devise good.

23 In all labour there is profit; but the talk of the lips [tendeth] only to want.

24 The crown of the wise is their riches; the folly of the foolish is folly.

25 A true witness delivereth souls; but deceit uttereth lies.

26 In the fear of Jehovah is strong confidence, and his children shall have a place of refuge.

27 The fear of Jehovah is a fountain of life, to turn away from the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of people is the king's glory; but in the lack of people is the ruin of a prince.

29 He that is slow to anger is of great understanding; but he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly.

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh; but envy the rottenness of the bones.

31 He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker; but he that honoureth Him is gracious to the needy.

32 The wicked is driven away by his evil-doing; but the righteous trusteth, [even] in his death.

33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of the intelligent [man]; but that which is in the foolish maketh itself known.

34 Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to peoples.

35 The king's favour is toward a wise servant; but his wrath is [against] him that causeth shame.

15 A soft answer turneth away fury; but a grievous word stirreth up anger.

2 The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright; but the mouth of the foolish poureth out folly.

3 The eyes of Jehovah are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.

[4]Gentleness of tongue is a tree of life; but crookedness therein is a breaking of the spirit.

[5]A fool despiseth his father's instruction; but he that regardeth reproof becometh prudent.

[6]In the house of a righteous [man] is much treasure; but in the revenue of a wicked [man] is disturbance.

[7]The lips of the wise disperse knowledge, but not so the heart of the foolish.

[8]The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to Jehovah; but the prayer of the upright is his delight.

[9]The way of a wicked [man] is an abomination to Jehovah; but him that pursueth righteousness he loveth.

[10]Grievous correction is for him that forsaketh the path; he that hateth reproof shall die.

[11]Sheol and destruction are before Jehovah; how much more then the hearts of the children of men!

[12]A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him; he will not go unto the wise.

[13]A joyful heart maketh a cheerful countenance; but by sorrow of heart the spirit is broken.

[14]The heart of an intelligent [man] seeketh knowledge; but the mouth of the foolish feedeth on folly.

[15]All the days of the afflicted are evil; but a cheerful heart is a continual feast.

[16]Better is little with the fear of Jehovah than great store and disquietude therewith.

[17]Better is a meal of herbs where love is, than a fatted ox and hatred therewith.

[18]A furious man stirreth up contention; but he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.

[19]The way of the sluggard is as a hedge of thorns; but the path of the upright is made plain.

[20]A wise son maketh a glad father; but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

[21]Folly is joy to him that is void of sense; but a man of understanding regulateth his walk.

[22]Without counsel purposes are disappointed; but in the multitude of counsellors they are established.

[23]A man hath joy by the answer of his mouth; and a word in its season, how good is it!

[24]The path of life is upwards for the wise, that he may depart from Sheol beneath.

[25]Jehovah plucketh up the house of the proud; but he establisheth the boundary of the widow.

[26]The thoughts of the evil [man] are an abomination to Jehovah; but pure words are pleasant.

27 He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house; but he that hateth gifts shall live.

28 The heart of a righteous [man] studieth to answer; but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

29 Jehovah is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 That which enlighteneth the eyes rejoiceth the heart; good tidings make the bones fat.

31 The ear that heareth the reproof of life shall abide among the wise.

32 He that refuseth instruction despiseth his own soul; but he that heareth reproof getteth sense.

33 The fear of Jehovah is the discipline of wisdom, and before honour [goeth] humility.

16 The purposes of the heart are of man, but the answer of the tongue is from Jehovah.

2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; but Jehovah weigheth the spirits.

3 Commit thy works unto Jehovah, and thy thoughts shall be established.

4 Jehovah hath wrought everything on his own account, yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.

5 Every proud heart is an abomination to Jehovah: hand for hand, he shall not be held innocent.

6 By loving-kindness and truth iniquity is atoned for; and by the fear of Jehovah [men] depart from evil.

7 When a man's ways please Jehovah, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.

8 Better is a little with righteousness, than great revenues without right.

9 The heart of man deviseth his way, but Jehovah directeth his steps.

10 An oracle is on the lips of the king: his mouth will not err in judgment.

11 The just balance and scales are Jehovah's; all the weights of the bag are his work.

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness; for the throne is established by righteousness.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings, and they love him that speaketh aright.

14 The fury of a king is [as] messengers of death; but a wise man will pacify it.

15 In the light of the king's countenance is life, and his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.

16 How much better is it to get wisdom than fine gold, and the getting of intelligence to be preferred to silver!

[17]The highway of the upright is to depart from evil: he that taketh heed to his way keepeth his soul.

[18]Pride [goeth] before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall.

[19]Better is it to be of a humble spirit with the meek, than to divide the spoil with the proud.

[20]He that giveth heed to the word shall find good; and whoso confideth in Jehovah, happy is he.

[21]The wise in heart is called intelligent, and the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.

[22]Wisdom is a fountain of life for him that hath it; but the instruction of fools is folly.

[23]The heart of the wise maketh his mouth intelligent, and upon his lips increaseth learning.

[24]Pleasant words are [as] a honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health for the bones.

[25]There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof is the ways of death.

[26]The appetite of the labourer laboureth for him, for his mouth urgeth him on.

[27]A man of Belial diggeth up evil, and on his lips there is as a scorching fire.

[28]A false man soweth contention; and a talebearer separateth very friends.

[29]A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into a way that is not good.

[30]He that shutteth his eyes, [it is] to devise froward things; biting his lips, he bringeth evil to pass.

[31]The hoary head is a crown of glory, [if] it is found in the way of righteousness.

[32]He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.

[33]The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole decision is of Jehovah.

17 Better is a dry morsel, and quietness therewith, than a house full of feasting [with] strife.

[2]A wise servant shall rule over a son that causeth shame, and shall have part in the inheritance among the brethren.

[3]The fining-pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold; but Jehovah trieth the hearts.

[4]The evil-doer giveth heed to iniquitous lips; the liar giveth ear to a mischievous tongue.

[5]Whoso mocketh a poor [man] reproacheth his Maker; he that is glad at calamity shall not be held innocent.

[6]Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers.

[7]Excellent speech becometh not a vile [man]; how much less do lying lips a noble!

[8]A gift is a precious stone in the eyes of the possessor: whithersoever it turneth it prospereth.

[9]He that covereth transgression seeketh love; but he that bringeth a matter up again separateth very friends.

[10]A reproof entereth more deeply into him that hath understanding than a hundred stripes into a fool.

[11]An evil [man] seeketh only rebellion; but a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.

[12]Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man rather than a fool in his folly.

[13]Whoso rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house.

[14]The beginning of contention is [as] when one letteth out water; therefore leave off strife before it become vehement.

[15]He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the righteous, even they both are abomination to Jehovah.

[16]To what purpose is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wisdom, seeing [he] hath no sense?

[17]The friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.

[18]A senseless man striketh hands, becoming surety for his neighbour.

[19]He loveth transgression that loveth a quarrel; he that maketh high his gate seeketh destruction.

[20]He that hath a perverse heart findeth no good; and he that shifteth about with his tongue falleth into evil.

[21]He that begetteth a fool [doeth it] to his sorrow, and the father of a vile [man] hath no joy.

[22]A joyful heart promoteth healing; but a broken spirit drieth up the bones.

[23]A wicked [man] taketh a gift out of the bosom, to pervert the paths of judgment.

[24]Wisdom is before him that hath understanding; but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.

[25]A foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her that bore him.

[26]To punish a righteous [man] is not good, nor to strike nobles because of [their] uprightness.

[27]He that hath knowledge spareth his words; and a man of understanding is of a cool spirit.

[28]Even a fool when he holdeth his peace is reckoned wise, [and] he that shutteth his lips, intelligent.

18 He that separateth himself seeketh [his] pleasure, he is vehement against all sound wisdom.

2 A fool hath no delight in understanding, but only that his heart may reveal itself.

3 When the wicked cometh, there cometh also contempt, and with ignominy reproach.

4 The words of a man's mouth are deep waters, [and] the fountain of wisdom is a gushing brook.

5 It is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to wrong the righteous in judgment.

6 A fool's lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A fool's mouth is destruction to him, and his lips are a snare to his soul.

8 The words of a talebearer are as dainty morsels, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.

9 He also who is indolent in his work is brother of the destroyer.

10 The name of Jehovah is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe.

11 The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as a high wall in his own imagination.

12 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty; and before honour [goeth] humility.

13 He that giveth answer before he heareth, it is folly and shame unto him.

14 The spirit of a man sustaineth his infirmity; but a broken spirit who can bear?

15 The heart of an intelligent [man] getteth knowledge, and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.

16 A man's gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men.

17 He that is first in his own cause [seemeth] just; but his neighbour cometh and searcheth him.

18 The lot causeth contentions to cease, and parteth between the mighty.

19 A brother offended is [harder to be won] than a strong city; and contentions are as the bars of a palace.

20 A man's belly is satisfied with the fruit of his mouth; with the increase of his lips is he satisfied.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Whoso hath found a wife hath found a good thing, and hath obtained favour from Jehovah.

[23]He that is poor speaketh with supplications, but the rich answereth roughly.

[24]A man of [many] friends will come to ruin but there is a friend [that] sticketh closer than a brother.

19 Better is a poor [man] that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

[2]Also that a person be without knowledge is not good; and he that hasteth with his feet maketh false steps.

[3]The folly of man distorteth his way, and his heart is irritated against Jehovah.

[4]Wealth addeth many friends; but the poor is separated from his friend.

[5]A false witness shall not be held innocent, and he that uttereth lies shall not escape.

[6]Many court the favour of a noble; and every one is friend to a man that giveth.

[7]All the brethren of a poor [man] hate him; how much more do his friends go far from him: he pursueth [them] with words, -- they are not [to be found].

[8]He that getteth sense loveth his own soul; he that keepeth understanding shall find good.

[9]A false witness shall not be held innocent, and he that uttereth lies shall perish.

[10]Good living beseemeth not a fool; how much less for a servant to have rule over princes.

[11]The discretion of a man maketh him slow to anger, and it is his glory to pass over a transgression.

[12]The king's displeasure is as the roaring of a lion; but his favour is as dew upon the grass.

[13]A foolish son is the calamity of his father; and the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

[14]House and wealth are an inheritance from fathers; but a prudent wife is from Jehovah.

[15]Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep, and the idle soul shall suffer hunger.

[16]He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his soul; he that is careless of his ways shall die.

[17]He that is gracious to the poor lendeth unto Jehovah; and what he hath bestowed will he repay unto him.

[18]Chasten thy son, seeing there is hope; but set not thy soul upon killing him.

[19]A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment; for if thou deliver [him], yet thou must do it again.

[20]Hear counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.

[21]Many are the thoughts in a man's heart, but the counsel of Jehovah, that doth stand.

[22]The charm of a man is his kindness; and a poor [man] is better than a liar.

[23]The fear of Jehovah [tendeth] to life, and he [that hath it] shall rest satisfied without being visited with evil.

[24]A sluggard burieth his hand in the dish, and will not even bring it to his mouth again.

[25]Smite a scorner, and the simple will beware; reprove the intelligent, and he will understand knowledge.

[26]He that ruineth [his] father and chaseth away [his] mother is a son that causeth shame and bringeth reproach.

[27]Cease, my son, to hear the instruction which causeth to stray from the words of knowledge.

[28]A witness of Belial scorneth judgment, and the mouth of the wicked swalloweth down iniquity.

[29]Judgments are prepared for scorners, and stripes for the back of the foolish.

20 Wine is a scorner, strong drink is raging; and whoso erreth thereby is not wise.

[2]The terror of a king is as the roaring of a lion: he that provoketh him to anger sinneth against his own soul.

[3]It is an honour for a man to cease from strife; but every fool rusheth into it.

[4]The sluggard will not plough by reason of the winter; he shall beg in harvest, and have nothing.

[5]Counsel in the heart of man is deep water, and a man of understanding draweth it out.

[6]Most men will proclaim every one his own kindness; but a faithful man who shall find?

[7]The righteous walketh in his integrity: blessed are his children after him!

[8]A king sitting on the throne of judgment scattereth away all evil with his eyes.

[9]Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?

[10]Divers weights, divers measures, even both of them are abomination to Jehovah.

[11]Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

[12]The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, Jehovah hath made even both of them.

[13]Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty; open thine eyes, [and] thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

[14]Bad! bad! saith the buyer; but when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of rubies; but the lips of knowledge are a precious Jewel.

16 Take his garment that is become surety [for] another, and hold him in pledge for strangers.

17 Bread of falsehood is sweet to a man, but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

18 Plans are established by counsel; and with good advice make war.

19 He that goeth about talebearing revealeth secrets; therefore meddle not with him that openeth his lips.

20 Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in the blackest darkness.

21 An inheritance obtained hastily at the beginning will not be blessed in the end.

22 Say not, I will recompense evil: wait on Jehovah, and he shall save thee.

23 Divers weights are an abomination unto Jehovah; and a false balance is not good.

24 The steps of a man are from Jehovah; and how can a man understand his own way?

25 It is a snare to a man rashly to say, It is hallowed, and after vows to make inquiry.

26 A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth the wheel over them.

27 Man's spirit is the lamp of Jehovah, searching all the inner parts of the belly.

28 Mercy and truth preserve the king; and he upholdeth his throne by mercy.

29 The glory of young men is their strength; and the beauty of old men is the grey head.

30 Wounding stripes purge away evil, and strokes [purge] the inner parts of the belly.

21 The king's heart in the hand of Jehovah is [as] brooks of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.

2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes; but Jehovah weigheth the hearts.

3 To exercise justice and judgment is more acceptable to Jehovah than sacrifice.

4 Lofty eyes, and a proud heart, the lamp of the wicked, is sin.

5 The thoughts of the diligent [tend] only to plenteousness; but of every one that is hasty, only to want.

6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a fleeting breath of them that seek death.

7 The devastation of the wicked sweepeth them away, because they refuse to do what is right.

[8]Very crooked is the way of a guilty man; but as for the pure, his work is upright.

[9]It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop, than with a contentious woman, and a house in common.

[10]The soul of the wicked desireth evil: his neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.

[11]When the scorner is punished, the simple becometh wise; and when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

[12]One that is righteous wisely considereth the house of the wicked: he overthroweth the wicked to [their] ruin.

[13]Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also himself shall cry, and shall not be heard.

[14]A gift in secret pacifieth anger; and a present in the bosom, vehement fury.

[15]It is joy to a righteous [man] to do what is right; but it is ruin for the workers of iniquity.

[16]The man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom shall abide in the congregation of the dead.

[17]He that loveth mirth shall be a poor man; he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.

[18]The wicked is a ransom for the righteous, and a treacherous [man] in the stead of the upright.

[19]It is better to dwell in a desert land. than with a contentious and irritable woman.

[20]There is costly store and oil in the dwelling of a wise [man]; but a foolish man swalloweth it up.

[21]He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour.

[22]A wise [man] scaleth the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof.

[23]Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles.

[24]Proud, arrogant, scorner is his name who dealeth in proud wrath.

[25]The desire of the sluggard killeth him; for his hands refuse to work:

[26]He coveteth greedily all the day long; but the righteous giveth and spareth not.

[27]The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination: how much more when they bring it with a wicked purpose!

[28]A lying witness shall perish; and a man that heareth shall speak constantly.

[29]A wicked man hardeneth his face; but as for the upright, he establisheth his way.

[30]There is no wisdom, nor understanding, nor counsel against Jehovah.

31 The horse is prepared for the day of battle; but safety is of Jehovah.

22 A [good] name is rather to be chosen than great riches; loving favour rather than silver and gold.

2 The rich and poor meet together; Jehovah is the maker of them all.

3 A prudent [man] seeth the evil, and hideth himself; but the simple pass on, and are punished.

4 The reward of humility [and] the fear of Jehovah is riches, and honour, and life.

5 Thorns [and] snares are in the way of the perverse: he that keepeth his soul holdeth himself far from them.

6 Train up the child according to the tenor of his way, and when he is old he will not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth over the poor; and the borrower is servant to the lender.

8 He that soweth unrighteousness shall reap iniquity, and the rod of his wrath shall have an end.

9 He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed, for he giveth of his bread to the poor.

10 Cast out the scorner, and contention will depart, and strife and ignominy shall cease.

11 He that loveth pureness of heart, upon whose lips is grace, the king is his friend.

12 The eyes of Jehovah preserve knowledge; but he overthroweth the words of the unfaithful.

13 The sluggard saith, There is a lion without, I shall be killed in the streets!

14 The mouth of strange women is a deep ditch: he with whom Jehovah is displeased shall fall therein.

15 Folly is bound in the heart of a child; the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.

16 He that oppresseth the poor, it is to enrich him; he that giveth to the rich, [bringeth] only to want.

17 Incline thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thy heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee: they shall be together fitted on thy lips.

19 That thy confidence may be in Jehovah, I have made [them] known to thee this day, even to thee.

20 Have not I written to thee excellent things, in counsels and knowledge, 21 that I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest carry back words of truth to them that send thee?

[22]Rob not the poor, because he is poor, neither oppress the afflicted in the gate;

[23]for Jehovah will plead their cause, and despoil the soul of those that despoil them.

[24]Make no friendship with an angry man, and go not with a furious man;

[25]lest thou learn his paths, and get a snare to thy soul.

[26]Be not of them that strike hands, of them that are sureties for debts:

[27]if thou hast nothing to pay, why should he take away thy bed from under thee?

[28]Remove not the ancient landmark which thy fathers have set.

[29]Hast thou seen a man diligent in his work? He shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before the mean.

23When thou sittest to eat with a ruler, consider well who is before thee;

[2]and put a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite.

[3]Be not desirous of his dainties; for they are deceitful food.

[4]Weary not thyself to become rich;
cease from thine own intelligence:

[5]wilt thou set thine eyes upon it, it is gone; for indeed it maketh itself wings and it flieth away as an eagle towards the heavens.

[6]Eat thou not the food of him that hath an evil eye, neither desire thou his dainties.

[7]For as he thinketh in his soul, so is he.
Eat and drink! will he say unto thee; but his heart is not with thee.

[8]Thy morsel which thou hast eaten must thou vomit up, and thou wilt have wasted thy sweet words.

[9]Speak not in the ears of a foolish [man], for he will despise the wisdom of thy words.

[10]Remove not the ancient landmark; and enter not into the fields of the fatherless:

[11]for their redeemer is mighty; he will plead their cause against thee.

[12]Apply thy heart unto instruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge.

[13]Withhold not correction from the child; for [if] thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die:

[14]thou shalt beat him with the rod, and shalt deliver his soul from Sheol.

[15]My son, if thy heart be wise, my heart shall rejoice, even mine;

[16]and my reins shall exult, when thy lips

17 Let not thy heart envy sinners, but [be thou] in the fear of Jehovah all the day;

18 for surely there is a result, and thine expectation shall not be cut off.

19 Thou, my son, hear and be wise, and direct thy heart in the way.

20 Be not among winebibbers, among riotous eaters of flesh.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty; and drowsiness clotheth with rags.

22 Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.

23 Buy the truth, and sell it not; wisdom, and instruction, and intelligence.

24 The father of a righteous [man] shall greatly rejoice, and he that begetteth a wise [son] shall have joy of him:

25 let thy father and thy mother have joy, and let her that bore thee rejoice.

26 My son, give me thy heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways.

27 For a whore is a deep ditch; and a strange woman is a narrow pit.

28 She also lieth in wait as a robber, and increaseth the treacherous among men.

29 Who hath woe? Who hath sorrow? Who contentions? Who complaining? Who wounds without cause? Who redness of eyes?

30 -- They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to try mixed wine.

31 Look not upon the wine when it is red, when it sparkleth in the cup, and goeth down smoothly:

32 at the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.

33 Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thy heart shall speak froward things;

34 and thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, and as he that lieth down upon the top of a mast:

35 -- "They have smitten me, [and] I am not sore; they have beaten me, [and] I knew it not. When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again."

24 Be not thou envious of evil men, neither desire to be with them;

2 for their heart studieth destruction, and their lips talk of mischief.

3 Through wisdom is a house built, and by understanding it is established;

4 and by knowledge are the chambers filled with all precious and pleasant substance.

5 A wise man is strong, and a man of knowledge increaseth strength.

[6]For with good advice shalt thou make thy war; and in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.

[7]Wisdom is too high for a fool: he will not open his mouth in the gate.

[8]He that deviseth to do evil shall be called a master of intrigues.

[9]The purpose of folly is sin, and the scorner is an abomination to men.

[10][If] thou losest courage in the day of trouble, thy strength is small.

[11]Deliver them that are taken forth unto death, and withdraw not from them that stagger to slaughter.

[12]If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not, will not he that weigheth the hearts consider it? And he that preserveth thy soul, he knoweth it; and he rendereth to man according to his work.

[13]Eat honey, my son, for it is good; and a honeycomb is sweet to thy taste:

[14]so consider wisdom for thy soul; if thou hast found it, there shall be a result, and thine expectation shall not be cut off.

[15]Lay not wait, O wicked [man], against the dwelling of the righteous; lay not waste his resting-place.

[16]For the righteous falleth seven times, and riseth up again; but the wicked stumble into disaster.

[17]Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thy heart be glad when he stumbleth;

[18]lest Jehovah see it, and it be evil in his sight, and he turn away his anger from him.

[19]Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, [and] be not envious of the wicked:

[20]for there shall be no future to the evil [man]; the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.

[21]My son, fear Jehovah and the king: meddle not with them that are given to change.

[22]For their calamity shall rise suddenly; and who knoweth the ruin of them both?

[23]These things also come from the wise. It is not good to have respect of persons in judgment.

[24]He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous, peoples shall curse him, nations shall abhor him;

[25]but to them that rebuke [him] shall be delight, and a good blessing cometh upon them.

[26]He kisseth the lips who giveth a right answer.

[27]Prepare thy work without, and put thy field in order, and afterwards build thy house.

[28]Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause; and wouldest thou deceive with thy lips?

[29]Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me, I will render to the man according to his work.

[30]I went by the field of a sluggard, and by the vineyard of a man void of understanding;

[31]and lo, it was all grown over with thistles, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and its stone wall was broken down.

[32]Then I looked, I took it to heart; I saw, I received instruction:

[33]-- A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest!

[34]So shall thy poverty come [as] a roving plunderer, and thy penury as an armed man.

25These are also proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah transcribed.

[2]It is the glory of God to conceal a thing; but the glory of kings is to search out a thing.

[3]The heavens for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unsearchable.

[4]Take away the dross from the silver, and there cometh forth a vessel for the refiner:

[5]take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.

[6]Put not thyself forward in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of the great;

[7]for better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither, than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes see.

[8]Go not forth hastily to strive, lest [thou know not] what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

[9]Debate thy cause with thy neighbour, but reveal not the secret of another;

[10]lest he that heareth [it] disgrace thee, and thine evil report turn not away.

[11][As] apples of gold in pictures of silver, is a word spoken in season.

[12]An ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, is a wise reprover upon an attentive ear.

[13]As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, [so] is a faithful messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soul of his masters.

[14]Clouds and wind without rain, [so] is a man that boasteth himself of a false gift.

15 By long forbearing is a ruler persuaded, and a soft tongue breaketh the bone.

16 Hast thou found honey? Eat so much as is sufficient for thee, lest thou be surfeited therewith, and vomit it.

17 Let thy foot be seldom in thy neighbour's house; lest he be weary of thee and hate thee.

18 A maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow, is a man that beareth false witness against his neighbour.

19 A broken tooth, and a tottering foot, is confidence in an unfaithful [man] in the day of trouble.

20 [As] he that taketh off a garment in cold weather, [and as] vinegar upon nitre, so is he that singeth songs to a sad heart.

21 If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink:

22 for thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and Jehovah shall reward thee.

23 The north wind bringeth forth rain, and the angry countenance a backbiting tongue.

24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop, than with a contentious woman, and a house in common.

25 [As] cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country.

26 A troubled fountain, and a defiled well, is a righteous [man] that giveth way before the wicked.

27 It is not good to eat much honey; and to search into weighty matters is [itself] a weight.

28 He that hath no rule over his own spirit is [as] a city broken down, without walls.

As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, so honour beseemeth not a fool.

2 As the sparrow for flitting about, as the swallow for flying, so a curse undeserved shall not come.

3 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the back of fools.

4 Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him.

5 Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own eyes.

6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool cutteth off [his own] feet, [and] drinketh damage.

7 The legs of the lame hang loose; so is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

8 As a bag of gems in a stoneheap, so is he that giveth honour to a fool.

9 [As] a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

[10]A master roughly worketh every one: he both hireth the fool and hireth passers-by.

[11]As a dog turneth back to its vomit, [so] a fool repeateth his folly.

[12]Hast thou seen a man wise in his own eyes? There is more hope of a fool than of him.

[13]The sluggard saith, There is a fierce lion in the way; a lion is in the midst of the streets!

[14][As] the door turneth upon its hinges, so the sluggard upon his bed.

[15]The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish: it wearieth him to bring it again to his mouth.

[16]A sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven [men] that answer discreetly.

[17]He that passing by vexeth himself with strife belonging not to him, is [like] one that taketh a dog by the ears.

[18]As a madman who casteth firebrands, arrows, and death,

[19]so is a man that deceiveth his neighbour, and saith, Am I not in sport?

[20]Where no wood is, the fire goeth out; and where there is no talebearer, the contention ceaseth.

[21][As] coals for hot coals, and wood for fire, so is a contentious man to inflame strife.

[22]The words of a talebearer are as dainty morsels, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.

[23]Ardent lips, and a wicked heart, are [as] an earthen vessel overlaid with silver dross.

[24]He that hateth dissembleth with his lips, but he layeth up deceit within him:

[25]when his voice is gracious, believe him not, for there are seven abominations in his heart.

[26]Though [his] hatred is covered by dissimulation, his wickedness shall be made manifest in the congregation.

[27]Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein; and he that rolleth a stone, it shall return upon him.

[28]A lying tongue hateth those that are injured by it, and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

27 Boast not thyself of to-morrow, for thou knowest not what a day will bring forth.

[2]Let another praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips.

[3]A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty; but a fool's vexation is heavier than them both.

[4]Fury is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to stand before jealousy?

[5]Open rebuke is better than hidden love.

[6]Faithful are the wounds of a friend; but the kisses of an enemy are profuse.

[7]The full soul trampleth on a honeycomb; but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.

[8]As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place.

[9]Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart; and the sweetness of one's friend is [the fruit] of hearty counsel.

[10]Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, forsake not; and go not into thy brother's house in the day of thy calamity: better is a neighbour that is near than a brother far off.

[11]Be wise, my son, and make my heart glad, that I may have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me.

[12]A prudent [man] seeth the evil, [and] hideth himself; the simple pass on, [and] are punished.

[13]Take his garment that is become surety [for] another, and hold him in pledge for a strange woman.

[14]He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be reckoned a curse to him.

[15]A continual dropping on a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike:

[16]whosoever will restrain her restraineth the wind, and his right hand encountereth oil.

[17]Iron is sharpened by iron; so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.

[18]Whoso keepeth the fig-tree shall eat the fruit thereof; and he that guardeth his master shall be honoured.

[19]As [in] water face [answereth] to face, so the heart of man to man.

[20]Sheol and destruction are insatiable; so the eyes of man are never satisfied.

[21]The fining-pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold; so let a man be to the mouth that praiseth him.

[22]If thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a pestle, yet will not his folly depart from him.

[23]Be well acquainted with the appearance of thy flocks; look well to thy herds:

[24]for wealth is not for ever; and doth the crown [endure] from generation to generation?

[25]The hay is removed, and the tender grass sheweth itself, and herbs of the mountains are gathered in.

[26]The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of a field;

[27]and there is goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household, and sustenance for thy maidens.

28The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion.

[2]By the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof; but by a man of understanding [and] of knowledge, [its] stability is prolonged.

[3]A poor man who oppresseth the helpless is a sweeping rain which leaveth no food.

[4]They that forsake the law praise the wicked; but such as keep the law contend with them.

[5]Evil men understand not judgment; but they that seek Jehovah understand everything.

[6]Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse, double in ways, though he be rich.

[7]Whoso observeth the law is a son that hath understanding; but he that is a companion of profligates bringeth shame to his father.

[8]He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance gathereth it for him that is gracious to the poor.

[9]He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer is an abomination.

[10]Whoso causeth the upright to go astray in an evil way, shall himself fall into his own pit; but the perfect shall inherit good.

[11]A rich man is wise in his own eyes; but the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.

[12]When the righteous triumph, there is great glory; but when the wicked rise, men conceal themselves.

[13]He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh [them] shall obtain mercy.

[14]Happy is the man that feareth always; but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into evil.

[15]A roaring lion, and a ranging bear, is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

[16]The prince void of intelligence is also a great oppressor: he that hateth covetousness shall prolong [his] days.

[17]A man laden with the blood of [any] person, fleeth to the pit: let no man stay him.

[18]Whoso walketh in integrity shall be saved; but he that is perverted in [his] double ways, shall fall in one [of them].

[19]He that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread; but he that followeth the worthless shall have poverty enough.

[20]A faithful man aboundeth with blessings; but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent.

21To have respect of persons is not good; but for a piece of bread will a man transgress.

22He that hath an evil eye hasteth after wealth, and knoweth not that poverty shall come upon him.

23He that rebuketh a man shall afterwards find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue.

24Whoso robbeth his father and his mother, and saith, It is no transgression, the same is the companion of a destroyer.

25He that is puffed up in soul exciteth contention; but he that relieth upon Jehovah shall be made fat.

26He that confideth in his own heart is a fool; but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.

27He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack; but he that withdraweth his eyes shall have many a curse.

28When the wicked rise, men hide themselves; but when they perish, the righteous increase.

29He that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and without remedy.

2When the righteous increase, the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

3Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father; but he that is a companion of harlots destroyeth [his] substance.

4A king by just judgment establisheth the land; but he that taketh gifts overthroweth it.

5A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his steps.

6In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare; but the righteous shall sing and rejoice.

7The righteous taketh knowledge of the cause of the poor; the wicked understandeth not knowledge.

8Scornful men set the city in a flame; but the wise turn away anger.

9If a wise man contendeth with a fool, whether he rage or laugh, [he] hath no rest.

10The bloodthirsty hate the perfect, but the upright care for his soul.

11A fool uttereth all his mind; but a wise [man] keepeth it back.

12If a ruler hearken to lying words, all his servants are wicked.

13The indigent and the oppressor meet together; Jehovah lighteneth the eyes of them both.

14A king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever.

15 The rod and reproof give wisdom; but a child left [to himself] bringeth his mother to shame.

16 When the wicked increase, transgression increaseth; but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 Chasten thy son, and he shall give thee rest, and shall give delight unto thy soul.

18 Where there is no vision the people cast off restraint; but happy is he that keepeth the law.

19 A servant is not corrected by words: he understandeth indeed, but he will not answer.

20 Hast thou seen a man hasty in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child, shall in the end have him as a son.

22 An angry man exciteth contention; and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

23 A man's pride bringeth him low; but the humble in spirit shall obtain honour.

24 Whoso shareth with a thief hateth his own soul: he heareth the adjuration, and declareth not.

25 The fear of man bringeth a snare; but whoso putteth his confidence in Jehovah is protected.

26 Many seek the ruler's face; but a man's right judgment is from Jehovah.

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous; and he that is of upright way is an abomination to the wicked [man].

30 The words of Agur the son of Jakeh; the prophecy uttered by the man unto Ithiel, [even] unto Ithiel and Ucal:

2 Truly I am more stupid than any one; and I have not a man's intelligence.

3 I have neither learned wisdom, nor have I the knowledge of the Holy.

4 Who hath ascended up into the heavens, and descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fists? Who hath bound the waters in a mantle? Who hath established all the ends of the earth? What is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou knowest?

5 Every word of +God is pure: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him.

6 Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things do I ask of thee; deny me [them] not before I die:

8 Remove far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with the bread of my daily need:

[9]lest I be full and deny [thee], and say, Who is Jehovah? or lest I be poor and steal, and outrage the name of my God.

[10]Speak not too much about a servant to his master, lest he curse thee, and thou be held guilty.

[11]There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother;

[12]there is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, yet are not washed from their filthiness;

[13]there is a generation, -- how lofty are their eyes, how their eyelids are lifted up!

[14]-- a generation whose teeth are swords, and their jaw-teeth knives, to devour the afflicted from off the earth, and the needy from [among] men.

[15]The leech hath two daughters: Give, give. There are three [things] never satisfied; four which say not, It is enough:

[16]-- Sheol, and the barren womb; the earth which is not filled with water, and the fire which saith not, It is enough.

[17]The eye that mocketh at a father, and despiseth to obey a mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.

[18]There are three [things] too wonderful for me, and four that I know not:

[19]The way of an eagle in the heavens, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

[20]Such is the way of an adulterous woman: she eateth, and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickedness.

[21]Under three [things] the earth is disquieted, and under four it cannot bear up:

[22]Under a servant when he reigneth, and a churl when he is filled with meat;

[23]under an odious [woman] when she is married, and a handmaid when she is heir to her mistress.

[24]There are four [things] little upon the earth, and they are exceeding wise:

[25]The ants, a people not strong, yet they provide their food in the summer;

[26]the rock-badgers are but a feeble folk, yet they make their house in the cliff;

[27]the locusts have no king, yet they go forth all of them by bands;

[28]thou takest hold of the lizard with the hands, yet is she in kings' palaces.

[29]There are three [things] which have a stately step, and four are comely in going:

[30]The lion, mighty among beasts, which turneth not away for any;

[31]a [horse] girt in the loins; or the he-goat; and a king, against whom none can rise up.

[32]If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, [lay] the hand upon thy mouth.

[33]For the pressing of milk bringeth forth butter, and the pressing of the nose bringeth forth blood; and the pressing of anger bringeth forth strife.

31 The words of king Lemuel, the prophecy that his mother taught him:

[2]What, my son? and what, O son of my womb? and what, O son of my vows?

[3]Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy ways to them that destroy kings.

[4]It is not for kings, Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for rulers [to say], Where is the strong drink?

[5]-- lest they drink and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the children of affliction.

[6]Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto the bitter of soul:

[7]let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.

[8]Open thy mouth for the dumb, for the cause of all those that are left desolate.

[9]Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and minister justice to the afflicted and needy.

[10]Who can find a woman of worth? for her price is far above rubies.

[11]The heart of her husband confideth in her, and he shall have no lack of spoil.

[12]She doeth him good, and not evil, all the days of her life.

[13]She seeketh wool and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.

[14]She is like the merchants' ships: she bringeth her food from afar;

[15]And she riseth while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and the day's work to her maidens.

[16]She considereth a field, and acquireth it; of the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.

[17]She girdeth her loins with strength, and maketh strong her arms.

[18]She perceiveth that her earning is good; her lamp goeth not out by night.

[19]She putteth her hands to the distaff, and her hands hold the spindle.

[20]She stretcheth out her hand to the afflicted, and she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.

[21]She is not afraid of the snow for her household; for all her household are clothed with scarlet.

[22]She maketh herself coverlets; her clothing is byssus and purple.

[23]Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land.

[24]She maketh body linen and selleth it, and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.

[25]Strength and dignity are her clothing, and she laugheth [at] the coming day.

[26]She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and upon her tongue is the law of kindness.

[27]She surveyeth the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.

[28]Her children rise up and call her blessed; her husband [also], and he praiseth her:

[29]Many daughters have done worthily, but thou excellest them all.

[30]Gracefulness is deceitful and beauty is vain; a woman [that] feareth Jehovah, she shall be praised.

[31]Give her of the fruit of her hands, and let her own works praise her in the gates.

Ecclesiastes

1 The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.

2 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities! all is vanity.

3 What profit hath man of all his labour wherewith he laboureth under the sun?

4 [One] generation passeth away, and [another] generation cometh, but the earth standeth for ever.

5 The sun also riseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to its place where it ariseth.

6 The wind goeth towards the south, and turneth about towards the north: it turneth about continually, and the wind returneth again to its circuits.

7 All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full: unto the place whither the rivers go, thither they go again.

8 All things are full of toil; none can express it. The eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 That which hath been is that which shall be; and that which hath been done is that which will be done: and there is nothing new under the sun.

10 Is there a thing whereof it may be said, See, this is new? It hath been already in the ages which were before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be remembrance of things that are to come with those who shall live afterwards.

12 I, the Preacher, was king over Israel in Jerusalem.

13 And I applied my heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under the heavens: this grievous occupation hath God given to the children of men to weary themselves therewith.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun, and behold, all is vanity and pursuit of the wind.

15 That which is crooked cannot be made straight; and that which is wanting cannot be numbered.

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I have become great and have acquired wisdom more than all they that have been before me over Jerusalem; and my heart hath seen much of wisdom and knowledge.

17 And I applied my heart to the knowledge of wisdom, and to the knowledge of madness and folly: I perceived that this also is a striving after the wind.

[18]For in much wisdom is much vexation, and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

2 I said in my heart, Come now, I will try thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure. But behold, this also is vanity.

[2]I said of laughter, Madness! and of mirth, What availeth it?

[3]I searched in my heart how to cherish my flesh with wine, while practising my heart with wisdom; and how to lay hold on folly, till I should see what was that good for the children of men which they should do under the heavens all the days of their life.

[4]I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards;

[5]I made me gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of every kind of fruit;

[6]I made me ponds of water, to water therewith the wood, where the trees are reared.

[7]I acquired servants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all that had been in Jerusalem before me.

[8]I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces; I got me men-singers and women-singers, and the delights of the children of men, a wife and concubines.

[9]And I became great, and increased more than all that had been before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

[10]And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them: I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoiced in all my labour, and this was my portion from all my labour.

[11]Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that it had cost me to do [them]; and behold, all was vanity and pursuit of the wind, and there was no profit under the sun.

[12]And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly; for what shall the man [do] that cometh after the king? -- that which hath already been done.

[13]And I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as light excelleth darkness.

[14]The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walketh in darkness; but I myself also perceived that one event happeneth to them all.

[15]And I said in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool so will it happen even to me; and why was I then so wise? Then I said in my heart that this also is vanity.

[16]For there shall be no remembrance of the wise more than of the fool for ever; because everything is already forgotten in the days which come. And how dieth the wise even as the fool?

17 And I hated life; for the work that is wrought under the sun was grievous unto me; for all is vanity and pursuit of the wind.

18 And I hated all my labour wherewith I had been toiling under the sun, because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he will be a wise [man] or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour at which I have laboured, and wherein I have been wise under the sun. This also is vanity.

20 Then I went about to cause my heart to despair of all the labour wherewith I had laboured under the sun.

21 For there is a man whose labour hath been with wisdom, and with knowledge, and with skill, and who leaveth it to a man that hath not laboured therein, to be his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil.

22 For what will man have of all his labour and of the striving of his heart, wherewith he hath wearied himself under the sun?

23 For all his days are sorrows, and his travail vexation: even in the night his heart taketh no rest. This also is vanity.

24 There is nothing good for man, but that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.

25 For who can eat, or who be eager, more than I?

26 For he giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he giveth travail to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good in God's sight. This also is vanity and pursuit of the wind.

3 To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heavens:

2 A time to be born, and a time to die; A time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

3 A time to kill, and a time to heal; A time to break down, and a time to build up;

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh; A time to mourn, and a time to dance;

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

6 A time to seek, and a time to lose; A time to keep, and a time to cast away;

7 A time to rend, and a time to sew; A time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

8 A time to love, and a time to hate; A time of war, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath he that worketh from that wherein he laboureth?

10 I have seen the travail that God hath given to the sons of men to toil in.

11 He hath made everything beautiful in its time; also he hath set the world in their heart, so that man findeth not out from the beginning to the end the work that God doeth.

12 I know that there is nothing good for them but to rejoice and to do well in their life;

13 yea also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy good in all his labour, it is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatever God doeth, it shall be for ever; there is nothing to be added to it, nor anything to be taken from it; and God doeth [it], that [men] should fear before him.

15 That which is was long ago, and that which is to be hath already been; and God bringeth back again that which is past.

16 And moreover I saw under the sun, that in the place of judgment, wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, wickedness was there.

17 I said in my heart, God will judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work.

18 I said in my heart, It is thus with the children of men, that God may prove them, and that they should see that they themselves are but beasts.

19 For what befalleth the children of men befalleth beasts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other, and they have all one breath; and man hath no pre-eminence above the beast: for all is vanity.

20 All go unto one place: all are of the dust, and all return to dust.

21 Who knoweth the spirit of the children of men? Doth it go upwards? and the spirit of the beasts, doth it go downwards to the earth?

22 And I have seen that there is nothing better than that man should rejoice in his own works; for that is his portion; for who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

4 And I returned and saw all the oppressions that are done under the sun: and behold, the tears of the oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors was power, and they had no comforter.

2 Then I praised the dead who are already dead more than the living who are yet alive;

3 and more fortunate than both is he who hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.

4 And I saw all labour, and all success of work, that it is man's jealousy of his neighbour. This also is vanity and pursuit of the wind.

[5]The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh.

[6]Better is a handful with quietness, than both hands full with labour and pursuit of the wind.

[7]And I returned and saw vanity under the sun.

[8]There is one [alone] and without a second; also he hath neither son nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye satisfied with riches, and [he saith not], For whom then am I labouring, and depriving my soul of good? This also is vanity and a grievous occupation.

[9]Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour.

[10]For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him that is alone when he falleth, and who hath not another to lift him up!

[11]Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth; but how can one alone be warm?

[12]And if a [man] overpower the one, the two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

[13]Better is a poor but wise youth than an old and foolish king, who knoweth no more how to be admonished.

[14]For out of the prison-house he came forth to reign, although he was born poor in his kingdom.

[15]I saw all the living that walk under the sun, with the child, the second, that should stand up in his stead.

[16][There is] no end of all the people, of all that stood before them; those however that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after the wind.

5Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and draw near to hear, rather than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they know not that they do evil.

[2]Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thy heart be hasty to utter anything before God: for God is in the heavens, and thou upon earth; therefore let thy words be few.

[3]For a dream cometh through the multitude of business, and a fool's voice through a multitude of words.

[4]When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed.

[5]Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay.

[6]Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the angel, that it was an inadvertence. Wherefore should God be wroth at thy voice, and destroy the work of thy hands?

[7]For in the multitude of dreams are vanities; so with many words: but fear God.

[8]If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter; for a higher than the high is watching, and there are higher than they.

[9]Moreover the earth is every way profitable: the king [himself] is dependent upon the field.

[10]He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver, nor he that loveth abundance with increase. This also is vanity.

[11]When goods increase, they are increased that eat them; and what profit is there to the owner thereof, except the beholding [of them] with his eyes?

[12]The sleep of the labourer is sweet, whether he have eaten little or much; but the fulness of the rich doth not suffer him to sleep.

[13]There is a grievous evil that I have seen under the sun: riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt;

[14]or those riches perish by some evil circumstance, and if he have begotten a son, there is nothing in his hand.

[15]As he came forth from his mother's womb, naked shall he go away again as he came, and shall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

[16]And this also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came so doth he go away, and what profit hath he, in having laboured for the wind?

[17]All his days also he eateth in darkness, and hath much vexation, and sickness, and irritation.

[18]Behold what I have seen good and comely: [it is] to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labour wherewith [man] laboureth under the sun, all the days of his life which God hath given him: for that is his portion.

[19]Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and power to eat thereof, and to take his portion and to rejoice in his labour: that is a gift of God.

[20]For he will not much remember the days of his life, because God answereth [him] with the joy of his heart.

6 There is an evil that I have seen under the sun, and it is frequent among men:

[2]one to whom God giveth riches, wealth, and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it: this is vanity, and a sore evil.

[3]If a man beget a hundred [sons], and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, but his soul be not filled with good, and also he have no burial, I say an untimely birth is better than he.

[4]For it cometh in vanity, and departeth in darkness, and its name is covered with darkness;

[5]moreover it hath not seen nor known the sun: this hath rest rather than the other.

[6]Yea, though he live twice a thousand years, yet hath he seen no good: do not all go to one place?

[7]All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled.

[8]For what advantage hath the wise above the fool? what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?

[9]Better is the seeing of the eyes than the wandering of the desire: this also is vanity and pursuit of the wind.

[10]That which is hath already been named; and what man is, is known, and that he cannot contend with him that is mightier than he.

[11]For there are many things that increase vanity: what is man advantaged?

[12]For who knoweth what is good for man in life, all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as a shadow? for who can tell man what shall be after him under the sun?

7 A [good] name is better than precious ointment, and the day of death than the day of one's birth.

[2]It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting: in that that is the end of all men, and the living taketh it to heart.

[3]Vexation is better than laughter; for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better.

[4]The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of fools in the house of mirth.

[5]It is better for a man to hear the rebuke of the wise, than to hear the song of fools.

[6]For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool. This also is vanity.

[7]Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad, and a gift destroyeth the heart.

[8]Better is the end of a thing than its beginning; better is a patient spirit than a proud spirit.

[9]Be not hasty in thy spirit to be vexed; for vexation resteth in the bosom of fools.

[10]Say not, How is it that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this.

[11]Wisdom is as good as an inheritance, and profitable to them that see the sun.

[12]For wisdom is a defence [as] money is a defence; but the excellency of knowledge is, [that] wisdom maketh them that possess it to live.

13 Consider the work of God; for who can make straight what he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperity enjoy good, and in the day of adversity consider: God hath also set the one beside the other, to the end that man should find out nothing [of what shall be] after him.

15 All [this] have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a righteous [man] that perisheth by his righteousness, and there is a wicked [man] that prolongeth [his days] by his wickedness.

16 Be not righteous overmuch; neither make thyself overwise: why shouldest thou destroy thyself?

17 Be not overmuch wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou die before thy time?

18 It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this; yea, also from that withdraw not thy hand: for he that feareth God cometh forth from them all.

19 Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty [men] that are in a city.

20 Surely there is not a righteous man upon earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

21 Also give not heed unto all words that are spoken, lest thou hear thy servant curse thee.

22 For also thine own heart knoweth that oftentimes thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.

23 All this have I tried by wisdom: I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me.

24 Whatever hath been, is far off, and exceeding deep: who will find it out?

25 I turned, I and my heart, to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom and reason, and to know wickedness to be folly, and foolishness to be madness;

26 and I found more bitter than death the woman whose heart is nets and snares, [and] whose hands are bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be caught by her.

27 See this which I have found, saith the Preacher, [searching] one by one to find out the reason;

28 which my soul yet seeketh, and I have not found: one man among a thousand have I found, but a woman among all those have I not found.

29 Only see this which I have found: that God made man upright, but they have sought out many devices.

8 Who is as the wise? and who knoweth the explanation of things? A man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the boldness of his face is changed.

2 I [say], Keep the king's commandment, and [that] on account of the oath of God.

3 Be not hasty to go out of his sight; persist not in an evil thing: for he doeth whatever pleaseth him,

[4]because the word of a king is power; and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

[5]Whoso keepeth the commandment shall know no evil thing; and a wise man's heart knoweth time and manner.

[6]For to every purpose there is time and manner. For the misery of man is great upon him;

[7]for he knoweth not that which shall be; for who can tell him how it shall be?

[8]There is no man who hath control over the spirit to retain the spirit; and no one hath control over the day of death; and there is no discharge in that war, neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it.

[9]All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time when man ruleth man to his hurt.

[10]And I have also seen the wicked buried and going away; and such as had acted rightly went from [the] holy place, and were forgotten in the city. This also is vanity.

[11]Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to do evil.

[12]Though a sinner do evil a hundred times, and prolong his [days], yet I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, because they fear before him;

[13]but it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong [his] days as a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

[14]There is a vanity which is done upon the earth; that there are righteous [men] unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked; and there are wicked [men] to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity.

[15]And I commended mirth, because there is nothing better for man under the sun than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry; for that shall abide with him of his labour the days of his life, which God hath given him under the sun.

[16]When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes),

[17]then I saw that all [is] the work of God, [and] that man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because however man may labour to seek [it] out, yet doth he not find [it]; and even, if a wise [man] think to know [it], he shall not be able to find [it] out.

9For all this I laid to my heart and [indeed] to investigate all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God; man knoweth neither love nor hatred: all is before them.

[2]All things [come] alike to all: one event to the righteous and to the wicked, to the good, and to the clean, and to the unclean, to him that sacrificeth and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

[3]This is an evil among all that is done under the sun, that one thing befalleth all: yea, also the heart of the children of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live; and after that, [they have to go] to the dead.

[4]For to him that is joined to all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

[5]For the living know that they shall die; but the dead know not anything, neither have they any more a reward, for the memory of them is forgotten.

[6]Their love also, and their hatred, and their envy is already perished; neither have they any more for ever a portion in all that is done under the sun.

[7]Go, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God hath already accepted thy works.

[8]Let thy garments be always white, and let not thy head lack oil.

[9]Enjoy life with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity; for that is thy portion in life, and in thy labour wherein thou art labouring under the sun.

[10]Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in Sheol, whither thou goest.

[11]I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to the intelligent, nor yet favour to men of knowledge; but time and chance happeneth to them all.

[12]For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are taken with the snare, like them are the children of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

[13]This also have I seen as wisdom under the sun, and it was great unto me.

[14]There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and encompassed it, and built great bulwarks against it:

[15]and there was found in it a poor wise man, who by his wisdom delivered the city; but no man remembered that poor man.

[16]Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength; but the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

[17]The words of the wise are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

[18]Wisdom is better than weapons of war; but one sinner destroyeth much good.

10 Dead flies cause the ointment of the apothecary to stink [and] ferment; [so] a little folly is weightier than wisdom [and] honour.

2 The heart of a wise [man] is at his right hand; but a fool's heart at his left.

3 Yea also, when he that is a fool walketh by the way, his sense faileth [him], and he saith to every one [that] he is a fool.

4 If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for quietness pacifieth great offences.

5 There is an evil that I have seen under the sun, as an error [that] proceedeth from the ruler:

6 folly is set in great dignities, but the rich sit in a low place.

7 I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.

8 He that diggeth a pit falleth into it; and whoso breaketh down a hedge, a serpent biteth him.

9 Whoso removeth stones is hurt therewith; he that cleaveth wood is endangered thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and one do not whet the edge, then must he apply more strength; but wisdom is profitable to give success.

11 If the serpent bite before enchantment, then the charmer hath no advantage.

12 The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool swallow up himself.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is folly; and the end of his talk is mischievous madness.

14 And the fool multiplieth words: [yet] man knoweth not what shall be; and what shall be after him, who will tell him?

15 The labour of fools wearieth them, because they know not how to go to the city.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning!

17 Happy art thou, O land, when thy king is a son of nobles, and thy princes eat in [due] season, for strength, and not for drunkenness!

18 By much sloth fulness the framework falleth in; and through idleness of the hands the house drippeth.

19 A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh life merry; but money answereth everything.

20 Curse not the king, no, not in thy thought; and curse not the rich in thy bedchamber: for the bird of the air will carry the voice, and that which hath wings will tell the matter.

11 Cast thy bread upon the waters;
for thou shalt find it after many days.

2 Give a portion to seven, and also to eight; for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.

3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth; and if a tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that observeth the wind will not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds will not reap.

5 As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, how the bones [grow] in the womb of her that is with child, even so thou knowest not the work of God who maketh all.

6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thy hand; for thou knowest not which shall prosper, whether this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.

7 Now the light is sweet, and pleasant is it to the eyes to see the sun;

8 but if a man live many years, [and] rejoice in them all, yet let him remember the days of darkness; for they shall be many: all that cometh is vanity.

9 Rejoice, young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; but know that for all these [things] God will bring thee into judgment.

10 Then remove discontent from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh; for childhood and youth are vanity.

12 And remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth, before the evil days come, and the years draw nigh, of which thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them;

2 before the sun, and the light, and the moon, and the stars, be darkened, and the clouds return after the rain;

3 in the day when the keepers of the house tremble, and the strong men bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows are darkened,

4 and the doors are shut toward the street; when the sound of the grinding is subdued, and they rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of song are brought low;

5 they are also afraid of what is high, and terrors are in the way, and the almond is despised, and the grasshopper is a burden, and the caper-berry is without effect; (for man goeth to his age-long home, and the mourners go about the streets;)

6 -- before the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be shattered at the fountain, or the wheel be broken at the cistern;

[7]and the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit return unto God who gave it.

[8]Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher: all is vanity.

[9]And moreover, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; and he pondered, and sought out, [and] set in order many proverbs.

[10]The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words; and that which was written is upright, words of truth.

[11]The words of the wise are as goads, and the collections [of them] as nails fastened in: they are given from one shepherd.

[12]And besides, my son, be warned by them: of making many books there is no end, and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

[13]Let us hear the end of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole of man.

[14]For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil.

Song of Solomon

1 The song of songs, which is Solomon's.

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth; For thy love is better than wine.

3 Thine ointments savour sweetly; Thy name is an ointment poured forth: Therefore do the virgins love thee.

4 Draw me, we will run after thee! -- The king hath brought me into his chambers -- We will be glad and rejoice in thee, We will remember thy love more than wine. They love thee uprightly.

5 I am black, but comely, daughters of Jerusalem, As the tents of Kedar, As the curtains of Solomon.

6 Look not upon me, because I am black; Because the sun hath looked upon me. My mother's children were angry with me: They made me keeper of the vineyards; Mine own vineyard have I not kept.

7 Tell me, thou whom my soul loveth, Where thou feedest [thy flock], Where thou makest it to rest at noon; For why should I be as one veiled Beside the flocks of thy companions?

8 If thou know not, thou fairest among women, Go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, And feed thy kids beside the shepherds' booths.

9 I compare thee, my love, To a steed in Pharaoh's chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with bead-rows, Thy neck with ornamental chains.

11 We will make thee bead-rows of gold With studs of silver.

12 While the king is at his table, My spikenard sendeth forth its fragrance.

13 A bundle of myrrh is my beloved unto me; He shall pass the night between my breasts.

14 My beloved is unto me a cluster of henna-flowers In the vineyards of Engedi.

15 Behold, thou art fair, my love; Behold, thou art fair: thine eyes are doves.

16 Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant; Also our bed is green.

17 The beams of our houses are cedars, Our rafters are cypresses.

2 I am a narcissus of Sharon, A lily of the valleys.

2 As the lily among thorns, So is my love among the daughters.

3 As the apple-tree among the trees of the wood, So is my beloved among the sons: In his shadow have I rapture and sit down; And his fruit is sweet to my taste.

4 He hath brought me to the house of wine, And his banner over me is love.

5 Sustain ye me with raisin-cakes, Refresh me with apples; For I am sick of love.

6 His left hand is under my head, And his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, By the gazelles, or by the hinds of the field, That ye stir not up, nor awake [my] love, till he please.

8 The voice of my beloved! Behold, he cometh Leaping upon the mountains, Skipping upon the hills.

9 My beloved is like a gazelle or a young hart. Behold, he standeth behind our wall, He looketh in through the windows, Glancing through the lattice.

10 My beloved spake and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For behold, the winter is past, The rain is over, it is gone:

12 The flowers appear on the earth; The time of singing is come, And the voice of the turtle-dove is heard in our land;

13 The fig-tree melloweth her winter figs, And the vines in bloom give forth [their] fragrance. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away!

14 My dove, in the clefts of the rock, In the covert of the precipice, Let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice; For sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.

15 Take us the foxes, The little foxes, that spoil the vineyards; For our vineyards are in bloom.

16 My beloved is mine, and I am his; He feedeth [his flock] among the lilies, 17 Until the day dawn, and the shadows flee away. Turn, my beloved: be thou like a gazelle or a young hart, Upon the mountains of Bether.

3 On my bed, in the nights, I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise now, and go about the city; In the streets and in the broadways Will I seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me: -- Have ye seen him whom my soul loveth?

4 -- Scarcely had I passed from them, When I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, Until I had brought him into my mother's house, And into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, By the gazelles, or by the hinds of the field, That ye stir not up, nor awake [my] love, till he please.

6 Who is this, [she] that cometh up from the wilderness Like pillars of smoke, Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, With all powders of the merchant? ...

7 Behold his couch, Solomon's own: Threescore mighty men are about it, Of the mighty of Israel.

8 They all hold the sword, Experts in war; Each hath his sword upon his thigh Because of alarm in the nights.

9 King Solomon made himself a palanquin Of the wood of Lebanon.

10 Its pillars he made of silver, Its support of gold, Its seat of purple; The midst thereof was paved [with] love By the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Go forth, daughters of Zion, And behold king Solomon With the crown wherewith his mother crowned him In the day of his espousals, And in the day of the gladness of his heart.

4 Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; Thine eyes are doves behind thy veil; Thy hair is as a flock of goats, On the slopes of mount Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of shorn sheep, Which go up from the washing; Which have all borne twins, And none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, And thy speech is comely; As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples Behind thy veil.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David, Built for an armoury: A thousand bucklers hang thereon, All shields of mighty men.

5 Thy two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle, Which feed among the lilies.

6 Until the day dawn, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, And to the hill of frankincense.

7 Thou art all fair, my love; And there is no spot in thee.

8 [Come] with me, from Lebanon, [my] spouse, With me from Lebanon, -- Come, look from the top of Amanah, From the top of Senir and Hermon, From the lions' dens, From the mountains of the leopards.

9 Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, [my] spouse; Thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, With one chain of thy neck.

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, [my] spouse! How much better is thy love than wine! And the fragrance of thine ointments than all spices!

11 Thy lips, [my] spouse, drop [as] the honeycomb; Honey and milk are under thy tongue; And the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

12 A garden enclosed is my sister, [my] spouse; A spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

[13]Thy shoots are a paradise of pomegranates, with precious fruits; Henna with spikenard plants;

[14]Spikenard and saffron; Calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense; Myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices:

[15]A fountain in the gardens, A well of living waters, Which stream from Lebanon.

[16]Awake, north wind, and come, [thou] south; Blow upon my garden, [that] the spices thereof may flow forth. Let my beloved come into his garden, And eat its precious fruits.

5 I am come into my garden, my sister, [my] spouse; I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk. Eat, O friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, beloved ones!

[2]I slept, but my heart was awake. The voice of my beloved! he knocketh: Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, mine undefiled; For my head is filled with dew, My locks with the drops of the night.

[3]-- I have put off my tunic, how should I put it on? I have washed my feet, how should I pollute them? --

[4]My beloved put in his hand by the hole [of the door]; And my bowels yearned for him.

[5]I rose up to open to my beloved; And my hands dropped with myrrh, And my fingers with liquid myrrh, Upon the handles of the lock.

[6]I opened to my beloved; But my beloved had withdrawn himself; he was gone: My soul went forth when he spoke. I sought him, but I found him not; I called him, but he gave me no answer.

[7]The watchmen that went about the city found me; They smote me, they wounded me; The keepers of the walls took away my veil from me.

[8]I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, If ye find my beloved, ... What will ye tell him? -- That I am sick of love.

[9]What is thy beloved more than [another] beloved, Thou fairest among women? What is thy beloved more than [another] beloved, That thou dost so charge us?

[10]My beloved is white and ruddy, The chiefest among ten thousand.

[11]His head is [as] the finest gold; His locks are flowing, black as the raven;

[12]His eyes are like doves by the water-brooks, Washed with milk, fitly set;

[13]His cheeks are as a bed of spices, raised beds of sweet plants; His lips lilies, dropping liquid myrrh.

[14]His hands gold rings, set with the chrysolite; His belly is bright ivory, overlaid [with] sapphires;

15 His legs, pillars of marble, set upon bases of fine gold: His bearing as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars;

16 His mouth is most sweet: Yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, yea, this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

6 Whither is thy beloved gone, Thou fairest among women? Whither is thy beloved turned aside? And we will seek him with thee.

2 My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, To feed in the gardens and to gather lilies.

3 I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: He feedeth [his flock] among the lilies.

4 Thou art fair, my love, as Tirzah,
Comely as Jerusalem, Terrible as troops with banners:

5 Turn away thine eyes from me, For they overcome me. Thy hair is as a flock of goats On the slopes of Gilead.

6 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep
Which go up from the washing; Which have all borne twins, And none is barren among them.

7 As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples Behind thy veil.

8 There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, And virgins without number:

9 My dove, mine undefiled, is but one;
She is the only one of her mother, She is the choice one of her that bore her.
The daughters saw her, and they called her blessed; The queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10 Who is she that looketh forth as the dawn, Fair as the moon, clear as the sun, Terrible as troops with banners?

11 I went down into the garden of nuts,
To see the verdure of the valley, To see whether the vine budded, Whether the pomegranates blossomed.

12 Before I was aware, My soul set me upon the chariots of my willing people.

13 Return, return, O Shulamite; Return, return, that we may look upon thee. --
What would ye look upon in the Shulamite? -- As it were the dance of two camps.

7 How beautiful are thy footsteps in sandals, O prince's daughter! The roundings of thy thighs are like jewels,
The work of the hands of an artist.

2 Thy navel is a round goblet, [which] wanteth not mixed wine; Thy belly a heap of wheat, set about with lilies;

3 Thy two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle;

4 Thy neck is as a tower of ivory; Thine eyes, [like] the pools in Heshbon, By the gate of Bath-rabbim; Thy nose like the tower of Lebanon, Which looketh toward Damascus;

5 Thy head upon thee is like Carmel, And the locks of thy head like purple; The king is fettered by [thy] ringlets!

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou, [my] love, in delights!

7 This thy stature is like to a palm-tree, And thy breasts to grape clusters.

8 I said, I will go up to the palm-tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof; And thy breasts shall indeed be like clusters of the vine, And the fragrance of thy nose like apples,

9 And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine, ... That goeth down smoothly for my beloved, And stealeth over the lips of them that are asleep.

10 I am my beloved's, And his desire is toward me.

11 -- Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the fields; Let us lodge in the villages.

12 We will go up early to the vineyards, We will see if the vine hath budded, [If] the blossom is opening, And the pomegranates are in bloom: There will I give thee my loves.

13 The mandrakes yield fragrance; And at our gates are all choice fruits, new and old: I have laid them up for thee, my beloved.

8 Oh that thou wert as my brother, That sucked the breasts of my mother! Should I find thee without, I would kiss thee; And they would not despise me.

2 I would lead thee, bring thee into my mother's house; Thou wouldest instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine, Of the juice of my pomegranate.

3 His left hand would be under my head, And his right hand embrace me.

4 I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, ... Why should ye stir up, why awake [my] love, till he please?

5 Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, Leaning upon her beloved? I awoke thee under the apple-tree: There thy mother brought thee forth; There she brought thee forth [that] bore thee.

6 Set me as a seal upon thy heart, As a seal upon thine arm: For love is strong as death; Jealousy is cruel as Sheol: The flashes thereof are flashes of fire, Flames of Jah.

7 Many waters cannot quench love, Neither do the floods drown it: Even if a man gave all the substance of his house for love, It would utterly be contemned.

8 We have a little sister, And she hath no breasts: What shall we do for our sister In the day when she shall be spoken for? --

9 If she be a wall, We will build upon her a turret of silver; And if she be a door, We will enclose her with boards of cedar.

[10]I am a wall, and my breasts like towers;
Then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.

[11]Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon:
He let out the vineyard unto keepers;
Every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand silver-pieces.

[12]My vineyard, which is mine, is before me:
The thousand [silver-pieces] be to thee, Solomon;
And to the keepers of its fruit, two hundred.

[13]Thou that dwellest in the gardens,
The companions hearken to thy voice:
Let me hear [it].

[14]Haste, my beloved,
And be thou like a gazelle or a young hart
Upon the mountains of spices.

Isaiah

1 The vision of Isaiah the son of Amos, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 Hear, [ye] heavens, and give ear, [thou] earth! for Jehovah hath spoken: I have nourished and brought up children; and they have rebelled against me.

3 The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib; Israel doth not know, my people hath no intelligence.

4 Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that corrupt themselves! They have forsaken Jehovah; they have despised the Holy One of Israel; they are turned away backward.

5 Why should ye be smitten any more? ye will revolt more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in him; wounds, and weals, and open sores: they have not been dressed, nor bound up, nor mollified with oil.

7 Your country is desolate; your cities are burned with fire; your land, strangers eat it up in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers.

8 And the daughter of Zion is left, as a booth in a vineyard, as a night-lodge in a cucumber-garden, as a besieged city.

9 Unless Jehovah of hosts had left us a very small residue, we should have been as Sodom, we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 Hear the word of Jehovah, rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, people of Gomorrah!

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith Jehovah. I am sated with burnt-offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and in the blood of bullocks, and of lambs, and of he-goats I take no pleasure.

12 When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this from your hand -- to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more vain oblations! Incense is an abomination unto me, -- new moon and sabbath, the calling of convocations -- wickedness and the solemn meeting I cannot bear.

14 Your new moons and your set feasts my soul hateth: they are a burden to me; I am wearied of bearing [them].

15 And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you; yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.

16 Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; -- cease to do evil, 17 learn to do well: seek judgment, gladden the oppressed, do justice to the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, let us reason together, saith Jehovah: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

19 If ye be willing and hearken, ye shall eat the good of the land;

20 but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken.

21 How is the faithful city become a harlot! It was full of judgment; righteousness used to lodge in it, but now murderers.

22 Thy silver is become dross, thy wine is mixed with water:

23 thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves; every one loveth presents, and hunteth after rewards; they judge not the fatherless, and the cause of the widow cometh not unto them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel: Ah! I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies.

25 And I will turn my hand upon thee, and will thoroughly purge away thy dross, and take away all thine alloy;

26 and I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning. Afterwards thou shalt be called, Town of righteousness, Faithful city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and they that return of her with righteousness.

28 But the ruin of the transgressors and of the sinners [shall be] together; and they that forsake Jehovah shall be consumed.

29 For they shall be ashamed of the terebinths that ye have desired, and ye shall blush for the gardens that ye have chosen.

30 For ye shall be as a terebinth whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be for tow, and his work a spark; and they shall both burn together, and there shall be none to quench [them].

2 The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 And it shall come to pass in the end of days, [that] the mountain of Jehovah's house shall be established on the top of the mountains, and shall be lifted up above the hills; and all the nations shall flow unto it.

3 And many peoples shall go and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of Jehovah, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths. For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and Jehovah's word from Jerusalem.

[4]And he shall judge among the nations, and shall reprove many peoples; and they shall forge their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into pruning-knives: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

[5]House of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of Jehovah.

[6]For thou hast cast off thy people, the house of Jacob, because they are filled [with what comes] from the east, and use auguries like the Philistines, and ally themselves with the children of foreigners.

[7]And their land is full of silver and gold, and there is no end of their treasures: their land also is full of horses, and there is no end of their chariots.

[8]And their land is full of idols; they bow themselves down to the work of their own hands, to that which their fingers have made.

[9]And the mean man shall be bowed down, and the great man shall be brought low: and do not thou forgive them!

[10]Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, from before the terror of Jehovah, and from the glory of his majesty.

[11]The lofty eyes of man shall be brought low, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and Jehovah alone shall be exalted in that day.

[12]For there shall be a day of Jehovah of hosts upon everything proud and lofty, and upon everything lifted up, and it shall be brought low;

[13]and upon all the cedars of Lebanon, high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan;

[14]and upon all the lofty mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up;

[15]and upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall;

[16]and upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant works of art.

[17]And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low; and Jehovah alone shall be exalted in that day:

[18]and the idols shall utterly pass away.

[19]And they shall go into the caves of the rocks, and into the holes of the earth, from before the terror of Jehovah, and from the glory of his majesty, when he shall arise to terrify the earth.

[20]In that day men shall cast away their idols of silver and their idols of gold, which they made [each] for himself to worship, to the moles and to the bats;

[21]to go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the fissures of the cliffs, from before the terror of Jehovah, and from the glory of his majesty, when he shall arise to terrify the earth.

22 Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils; for what account is to be made of him?

3 For behold, the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, will take away from Jerusalem and from Judah stay and staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water,

2 the mighty man and the man of war, the judge and the prophet, and the diviner and the elder,

3 the captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the clever among artificers, and the one versed in enchantments.

4 And I will appoint youths as their princes, and children shall rule over them.

5 And the people shall be oppressed one by the other, and each by his neighbour; the child will be insolent against the elder, and the base against the honourable.

6 When a man shall take hold of his brother, in his father's house, [and shall say:] Thou hast clothing; be our chief, and let this ruin be under thy hand;

7 he will lift up [his hand] in that day, saying, I cannot be a healer, and in my house there is neither bread nor clothing; ye shall not make me a chief of the people.

8 For Jerusalem stumbleth and Judah falleth, because their tongue and their doings are against Jehovah, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The look of their face doth witness against them, and they declare their sin as Sodom: they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have brought evil upon themselves.

10 Say ye of the righteous that it shall be well [with him], for they shall eat the fruit of their doings.

11 Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill [with him], because the desert of his hands shall be rendered unto him.

12 [As for] my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. My people! they that guide thee mislead [thee], and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 Jehovah setteth himself to plead, and standeth to judge the peoples.

14 Jehovah will enter into judgment with the elders of his people and their princes, [saying:] It is ye that have eaten up the vineyard: the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15 What mean ye that ye crush my people, and grind the faces of the afflicted? saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts.

16 And Jehovah said, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched-out neck and wanton eyes, and go along mincing, and making a tinkling with their feet;

17 therefore the Lord will make bald the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and Jehovah will lay bare their secret parts.

18 In that day the Lord will take away the ornament of anklets, and the little suns and crescents,

19 the pearl-drops, and the bracelets, and the veils,

20 the head-dresses, and the stepping chains, and the girdles, and the scent-boxes, and the amulets;

21 the finger-rings, and the nose-rings;

22 the festival-robes, and the tunics, and the mantles, and the wallets;

23 the mirrors, and the fine linen bodices, and the turbans, and the flowing veils.

24 And it shall come to pass, instead of perfume there shall be rottenness; and instead of a girdle, a rope; and instead of well-set hair, baldness; and instead of a robe of display, a girding of sackcloth; brand instead of beauty.

25 Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy mighty in the fight;

26 and her gates shall lament and mourn; and, stripped, she shall sit upon the ground.

4 And seven women shall take hold of one man in that day, saying, Our own bread will we eat, and with our own garments will we be clothed; only let us be called by thy name; -- take away our reproach!

2 In that day there shall be a sprout of Jehovah for beauty and glory, and the fruit of the earth for excellency and for ornament for those that are escaped of Israel.

3 And it shall come to pass that he who remaineth in Zion, and he that is left in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, -- every one that is written among the living in Jerusalem;

4 when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have scoured out the blood of Jerusalem from its midst, by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And Jehovah will create over every dwelling-place of mount Zion, and over its convocations, a cloud by day and a smoke, and the brightness of a flame of fire by night: for over all the glory shall be a covering.

6 And there shall be a tabernacle for shade by day from the heat, and for a shelter and for a covert from storm and from rain.

5 I will sing to my well-beloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard: My well-beloved had a vineyard upon a fruitful hill.

[2]And he dug it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine; and he built a tower in the midst of it, and also hewed out a winepress therein; and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, but it brought forth wild grapes.

[3]And now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, between me and my vineyard.

[4]What was there yet to do to my vineyard that I have not done in it? Wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes? --

[5]And now, let me tell you what I am about to do to my vineyard: I will take away its hedge, and it shall be eaten up; I will break down its wall, and it shall be trodden under foot;

[6]and I will make it a waste -- it shall not be pruned nor cultivated, but there shall come up briars and thorns; and I will command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

[7]For the vineyard of Jehovah of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah the plant of his delight: and he looked for justice, and behold, blood-shedding; for righteousness, and behold, a cry.

[8]Woe unto them that add house to house, that join field to field, until there is no more room, and that ye dwell yourselves alone in the midst of the land!

[9]In mine ears Jehovah of hosts [hath said], Many houses shall assuredly become a desolation, great and excellent ones, without inhabitant.

[10]Yea, ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and a homer of seed shall yield an ephah.

[11]Woe unto them that, rising early in the morning, run after strong drink; that linger till twilight, [till] wine inflameth them!

[12]And harp and lyre, tambour and flute, and wine are in their banquets; but they regard not the work of Jehovah, nor do they see the operation of his hands.

[13]Therefore my people are led away captive from lack of knowledge, and their nobility die of famine, and their multitude are parched with thirst.

[14]Therefore doth Sheol enlarge its desire, and open its mouth without measure; and her splendour shall descend [into it], and her multitude, and her tumult, and [all] that is joyful within her.

[15]And the mean man shall be bowed down, and the great man brought low, and the eyes of the lofty shall be brought low;

[16]and Jehovah of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and the holy [God] hallowed in righteousness.

[17]And the lambs shall feed as on their pasture, and the waste places of the fat ones shall strangers eat.

18 Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as with cart-ropes!

19 who say, Let him hasten, let him speed his work, that we may see [it]; and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it!

20 Woe unto them who call evil good, and good evil; who put darkness for light, and light for darkness; who put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

21 Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and intelligent in their own esteem!

22 Woe unto them that are mighty for drinking wine, and men valiant to mix strong drink;

23 who justify the wicked for a bribe, and turn away the righteousness of the righteous from them!

24 Therefore as a tongue of fire devoureth the stubble, and dry grass sinketh down in the flame, their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust; for they have rejected the law of Jehovah of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

25 Therefore is the anger of Jehovah kindled against his people, and he hath stretched out his hand against them and hath smitten them; and the mountains trembled, and their carcases are become as dung in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger is not turned away, and his hand is stretched out still.

26 And he will lift up a banner to the nations afar off, and will hiss for one from the end of the earth; and behold, it will come rapidly [and] lightly.

27 None among them is weary, none stumbleth; they slumber not, nor sleep;
none hath the girdle of his loins loosed,
nor the thong of his sandals broken;

28 their arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent; their horses' hoofs are reckoned as the flint, and their wheels as a whirlwind.

29 Their roaring is like a lioness, they roar as the young lions; yea, they growl, and snatch the prey, and carry it away safe, and there is none to deliver;

30 and they shall roar against them in that day like the roaring of the sea. And if one look upon the earth, behold darkness [and] distress, and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof.

6 In the year of the death of king Uzziah, I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up; and his train filled the temple.

2 Seraphim were standing above him:
each had six wings; with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he flew.

3 And one called to the other and said,
Holy, holy, holy is Jehovah of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory!

[4]And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

[5]And I said, Woe unto me! for I am undone; for I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, Jehovah of hosts.

[6]And one of the seraphim flew unto me, and he had in his hand a glowing coal, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar;

[7]and he made it touch my mouth, and said, Behold, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin expiated.

[8]And I heard the voice of the Lord saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? And I said, Here am I; send me.

[9]And he said, Go; and thou shalt say unto this people, Hearing ye shall hear and shall not understand, and seeing ye shall see and shall not perceive.

[10]Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and blind their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and be converted, and healed.

[11]And I said, Lord, how long? And he said, Until the cities be wasted, without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land become an utter desolation, [12]and Jehovah have removed men far away, and the solitude be great in the midst of the land.

[13]But a tenth part shall still be therein, and it shall return and be eaten; as the terebinth and as the oak whose trunk [remaineth] after the felling: the holy seed shall be the trunk thereof.

7 And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz, the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, [that] Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, came up to Jerusalem to make war against it, but they were not able to fight against it.

[2]And it was told the house of David saying, Syria is allied with Ephraim. Then his heart and the heart of his people shook, as the trees of the forest are shaken with the wind.

[3]And Jehovah said to Isaiah, Go out now to meet Ahaz, thou and thy son Shear-jashub, at the end of the aqueduct of the upper pool, on the highway of the fuller's field;

[4]and thou shalt say unto him, Take heed and be quiet; fear not, and let not thy heart faint before these two ends of smoking firebrands, because of the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the son of Remaliah.

[5]Inasmuch as Syria hath taken evil counsel against thee, Ephraim [also] and the son of Remaliah, saying,

[6]Let us go up against Judah, and harass it, and make a breach therein for us, and set up a king therein -- the son of Tabeal;

[7]thus saith the Lord Jehovah: It shall not stand, nor come to pass;

[8]for the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within sixty-five years shall Ephraim be broken, so as to be no [more a] people;

[9]and the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye believe not, surely ye shall not be established.

[10]And Jehovah spoke again to Ahaz, saying,

[11]Ask for thee a sign from Jehovah thy God; ask for it in the deep, or in the height above.

[12]And Ahaz said, I will not ask, and will not tempt Jehovah.

[13]And he said, Hear then, house of David: Is it a small matter for you to weary men, that ye weary also my God?

[14]Therefore will the Lord himself give you a sign: Behold, the virgin shall conceive and shall bring forth a son, and call his name Immanuel.

[15]Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and to choose the good.

[16]For before the child knoweth to refuse the evil and to choose the good, the land whose two kings thou fearest shall be forsaken.

[17]Jehovah will bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days which have not come since the day when Ephraim turned away from Judah -- [even] the king of Assyria.

[18]And it shall come to pass in that day, that Jehovah will hiss for the fly which is at the extremity of the streams of Egypt, and for the bee which is in the land of Assyria;

[19]and they shall come and settle all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and on all thorn-bushes, and on all the pastures.

[20]In that day will the Lord, with a razor which is hired beyond the river, with the king of Assyria, shave the head and the hair of the feet, yea, the beard also will it take away.

[21]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] a man shall nourish a young cow and two sheep,

[22]and it shall come to pass, from the abundance of milk they shall give, [that] he shall eat butter; for every one that remaineth in the midst of the land shall eat butter and honey.

[23]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] every place, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silver pieces, shall become briars and thorns:

[24]with arrows and with the bow shall they come thither, for the whole land shall become briars and thorns.

[25]And all mountains that have been dug up with the hoe -- thither will they not come, from fear of briars and thorns; and they shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of small cattle.

8And Jehovah said to me, Take thee a great tablet, and write thereon with a man's style, concerning Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

[2]And I took unto me to witness, sure witnesses, Urijah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

[3]And I came near to the prophetess, and she conceived and bore a son; and Jehovah said unto me, Call his name, Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

[4]For before the lad knoweth to cry, My father! and, My mother! the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.

[5]And Jehovah spoke again to me, saying,

[6]Forasmuch as this people refuseth the waters of Shiloah which flow softly, and rejoiceth in Rezin and in the son of Remaliah,

[7]therefore behold, the Lord will bring up upon them the waters of the river, strong and many, the king of Assyria and all his glory; and he shall mount up over all his channels, and go over all his banks:

[8]and he shall pass through Judah; he shall overflow it and go further, he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel!

[9]Rage, ye peoples, and be broken in pieces! And give ear, all ye distant parts of the earth: Gird yourselves, and be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and be broken in pieces!

[10]Settle a plan, and it shall come to nought; speak a word, and it shall not stand: for [God] is with us.

[11]For Jehovah spoke thus to me with a strong hand, and he instructed me not to walk in the way of this people, saying, [12]Ye shall not say, Conspiracy, of everything of which this people saith, Conspiracy; and fear ye not their fear, and be not in dread.

[13]Jehovah of hosts, him shall ye sanctify; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

[14]And he will be for a sanctuary; and for a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

[15]And many among them shall stumble, and fall, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.

17 And I will wait for Jehovah, who hideth his face from the house of Jacob; and I will look for him.

18 Behold, I and the children that Jehovah hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel, from Jehovah of hosts, who dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto the necromancers and unto the soothsayers, who chirp and who mutter, [say,] Shall not a people seek unto their God? [Will they go] for the living unto the dead?

20 To the law and the testimony! If they speak not according to this word, for them there is no daybreak.

21 And they shall pass through it, hard pressed and hungry; and it shall come to pass when they are hungry, they will fret themselves, and curse their king and their God, and will gaze upward:

22 and they will look to the earth; and behold, trouble and darkness, gloom of anguish; and they shall be driven into thick darkness.

9 Nevertheless the darkness shall not be as when the distress was in the [land], at the time he at first lightly, and afterwards heavily, visited the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, -- the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations:

2 the people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwelt in the land of the shadow of death, upon them light hath shone.

3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, hast increased its joy: they joy before thee like to the joy in harvest; as [men] rejoice when they divide the spoil.

4 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of Midian.

5 For every boot of him that is shod for the tumult, and the garment rolled in blood, shall be for burning, fuel for fire.

6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name is called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty [God], Father of Eternity, Prince of Peace.

7 Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David and over his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with judgment and with righteousness, from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of Jehovah of hosts will perform this.

8 The Lord sent a word unto Jacob, and it lighteth upon Israel.

9 And all the people shall know [it], Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in pride and stoutness of heart,

10 The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones; the sycamore trees are cut down, but we will replace them with cedars.

[11]And Jehovah will set up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and arm his enemies, [12]the Syrians on the east, and the Philistines on the west; and they shall devour Israel with open mouth. For all this his anger is not turned away, and his hand is stretched out still.

[13]But the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, and they do not seek Jehovah of hosts.

[14]And Jehovah will cut off from Israel head and tail, palm-branch and rush, in one day:

[15]the ancient and honourable, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

[16]For the guides of this people mislead [them]; and they that are guided by them are swallowed up.

[17]Therefore the Lord will not rejoice in their young men, neither will he have mercy on their fatherless and on their widows; for every one is a hypocrite and an evildoer, and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, and his hand is stretched out still.

[18]For wickedness burneth as a fire: it devoureth briars and thorns, and kindleth in the thickets of the forest, and they go rolling up like a pillar of smoke.

[19]Through the wrath of Jehovah of hosts is the land burned up, and the people is as fuel for fire: a man spareth not his brother;

[20]and he snatcheth on the right hand, and is hungry, and eateth on the left hand; and they are not satisfied. They eat every man the flesh of his own arm:

[21]Manasseh, Ephraim, and Ephraim, Manasseh; [and] they together are against Judah. For all this his anger is not turned away, and his hand is stretched out still.

10Woe unto them that decree iniquitous decrees, and to the writers that prescribe oppression,

[2]to turn away the poor from judgment, and to take away the right from the afflicted of my people; that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless!

[3]And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the sudden destruction [which] shall come from far? To whom will ye flee for help, and where will ye leave your glory?

[4]They can but crouch under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain. For all this his anger is not turned away, and his hand is stretched out still.

[5]Ah! the Assyrian! the rod of mine anger! and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.

[6]I will send him against a hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge; to take the spoil, and to seize the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

[7]But he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; for it is in his heart to extirpate and cut off nations not a few.

[8]For he saith, Are not my princes all kings?

[9]Is not Calno as Karkemish? Is not Hamath as Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

[10]As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, -- and their graven images exceeded those of Jerusalem and Samaria, [11]-- shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her images?

[12]And it shall come to pass, when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion and upon Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the stoutness of heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.

[13]For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done [it], and by my wisdom, for I am intelligent; and I have removed the bounds of the peoples, and have robbed their treasures, and, like a valiant man, I have brought down them that sit [on thrones];

[14]and my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the peoples, and as one gathereth forsaken eggs, have I gathered all the earth; and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or chirped.

[15]-- Shall the axe boast itself against him that heweth therewith? shall the saw magnify itself against him that wieldeth it? As if the rod should wield them that lift it up; as if the staff should lift up [him who is] not wood!

[16]Therefore shall the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness, and under his glory he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of a fire:

[17]and the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame; and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briars in one day, [18]and it shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body; and they shall be as when a sick man fainteth.

[19]And the remainder of the trees of his forest shall be few: yea, a child might write them.

[20]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] the remnant of Israel and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob shall no more again rely upon him that smote them; but they shall rely upon Jehovah, the Holy One of Israel, in truth.

[21]The remnant shall return, the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty [God].

[22]For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, [only] a remnant of them shall return: the consumption determined shall overflow in righteousness.

[23]For a consumption, and [one] determined, will the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, accomplish in the midst of all the land.

[24]Therefore thus saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts: O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian; he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt:

[25]for yet a very little while, and the indignation shall be accomplished, and mine anger, in their destruction.

[26]And Jehovah of hosts will stir up a scourge against him, according to the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb; and his rod [shall be] upon the sea, and he will lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

[27]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] his burden shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck; and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing. ...

[28]He is come to Aiath, he hath passed through Migron; at Michmash he layeth up his baggage.

[29]They are gone through the pass; they make their lodging at Geba: Ramah trembleth, Gibeah of Saul is fled.

[30]Lift up thy voice, daughter of Gallim! Hearken, O Laish! -- Poor Anathoth!

[31]Madmenah is fugitive; the inhabitants of Gebim take to flight.

[32]Still a day of halting at Nob; he shaketh his hand [against] the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem. ...

[33]Behold the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, shall lop the boughs with violence; and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the haughty shall be brought low;

[34]and he shall make clearings in the thickets of the forest with iron; and Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

11And there shall come forth a shoot out of the stock of Jesse, and a branch out of his roots shall be fruitful;

[2]and the Spirit of Jehovah shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of Jehovah.

[3]And his delight will be in the fear of Jehovah; and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears;

[4]but with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of his reins, and faithfulness the girdle of his loins.

6 The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the calf and the young lion and the fatted beast together, and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the she-bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the adder, and the weaned child shall put forth its hand to the viper's den.

9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah, as the waters cover the sea.

10 And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, standing as a banner of the peoples: the nations shall seek it; and his resting-place shall be glory.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to acquire the remnant of his people which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea.

12 And he shall lift up a banner to the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.

13 And the envy of Ephraim shall depart, and the troublers of Judah shall be cut off; Ephraim will not envy Judah, and Judah will not trouble Ephraim:

14 but they shall fly upon the shoulder of the Philistines towards the west; together shall they spoil the sons of the east; they shall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab, and the children of Ammon shall obey them.

15 And Jehovah will utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his mighty wind will he shake his hand over the river, and will smite it into seven streams, and make [men] go over dryshod.

16 And there shall be a highway for the remnant of his people which will be left, from Assyria; like as it was to Israel in the day when he went up out of the land of Egypt.

12 And in that day thou shalt say, Jehovah, I will praise thee; for though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou hast comforted me.

2 Behold, [God] is my salvation: I will trust, and not be afraid; for Jah, Jehovah, is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation.

3 And with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation.

4 And in that day shall ye say, Give ye thanks to Jehovah, call upon his name, declare his deeds among the peoples, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing psalms of Jehovah, for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth.

6 Cry out and shout, thou inhabitress of Zion; for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

13 The burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw.

2 Lift up a banner upon a bare mountain, raise the voice unto them, shake the hand, that they may enter the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my hallowed ones, I have also called my mighty men for mine anger, them that rejoice in my highness.

4 The noise of a multitude on the mountains, as of a great people; a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations assembled together: Jehovah of hosts mustereth the host of the battle.

5 They come from a far country, from the end of the heavens -- Jehovah, and the weapons of his indignation -- to destroy the whole land.

6 Howl, for the day of Jehovah is at hand; it cometh as destruction from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be feeble, and every heart of man shall melt,

8 and they shall be terrified: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them, they shall writhe as a woman that travaileth; they shall be amazed one at another, their faces shall be as flames.

9 Behold, the day of Jehovah cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the earth desolate; and he will destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

10 For the stars of the heavens and the constellations thereof shall not give their light; the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will punish the world for evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will make the arrogance of the proud to cease, and will bring low the haughtiness of the violent.

12 I will make a man more precious than fine gold, even man than the gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will make the heavens to shake, and the earth shall be removed out of her place, at the wrath of Jehovah of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be as with a chased roe, and as with a flock that no man gathereth together; every one shall turn to his own people, and every one flee into his own land.

15 All that are found shall be thrust through; and every one that is in league [with them] shall fall by the sword.

16 And their infants shall be dashed in pieces before their eyes, their houses shall be rifled, and their women ravished.

17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, who do not regard silver, and as for gold, they have no delight in it.

18 And [their] bows shall dash the young men to pieces, and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb: their eye shall not spare children.

19 And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in, even to generation and generation; nor shall Arabian pitch tent there, nor shepherds make fold there.

21 But beasts of the desert shall lie there, and their houses shall be full of owls; and ostriches shall dwell there, and wild goats shall dance there.

22 And jackals shall cry to one another in their palaces, and wild dogs in the pleasant castles. And her time is near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

14 For Jehovah will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in rest in their own land; and the stranger shall be united to them, and they shall be joined to the house of Jacob.

2 And the peoples shall take them and bring them to their place; and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of Jehovah for servants and handmaids; and they shall take them captive whose captives they were, and they shall rule over their oppressors.

3 And it shall come to pass in the day that Jehovah shall give thee rest from thy sorrow and from thy trouble and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve,

4 that thou shalt take up this proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased, -- the exactress of gold ceased!

5 Jehovah hath broken the staff of the wicked, the sceptre of the rulers.

6 He that smote the peoples in wrath with a relentless stroke, he that ruled the nations in anger, is persecuted unsparingly.

7 The whole earth is at rest, is quiet: they break forth into singing.

8 Even the cypresses rejoice at thee, the cedars of Lebanon, [saying,] Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us.

9 Sheol from beneath is moved for thee to meet [thee] at thy coming, stirring up the dead for thee, all the he-goats of the earth; making to rise from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

[10]All of them shall answer and say unto thee, Art thou also become powerless as we; art thou become like unto us!

[11]-- Thy pomp is brought down to Sheol, the noise of thy lyres: the maggot is spread under thee, and worms cover thee.

[12]How art thou fallen from heaven, Lucifer, son of the morning! Thou art cut down to the ground, that didst prostrate the nations!

[13]And thou that didst say in thy heart, I will ascend into the heavens, I will exalt my throne above the stars of [God], and I will sit upon the mount of assembly, in the recesses of the north;

[14]I will ascend above the heights of the clouds, I will be like the Most High:

[15]none the less art thou brought down to Sheol, to the recesses of the pit.

[16]They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee; they shall consider thee, [saying,] Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that shook kingdoms;

[17][that] made the world as a wilderness, and overthrew the cities thereof; [that] dismissed not his prisoners homewards?

[18]-- All the kings of the nations, all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house;

[19]but thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, covered with the slain -- those thrust through with the sword, that go down to the stones of the pit: like a carcase trodden under foot.

[20]Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial; for thou hast destroyed thy land, hast slain thy people. Of the seed of evildoers no mention shall be made for ever.

[21]Prepare ye slaughter for his children, because of the iniquity of their fathers; that they may not rise up and possess the earth, nor fill the face of the world with cities.

[22]For I will rise up against them, saith Jehovah of hosts, and cut off from Babylon name and remnant, and scion and descendant, saith Jehovah.

[23]And I will make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water; and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith Jehovah of hosts.

[24]Jehovah of hosts hath sworn saying, Assuredly as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, it shall stand:

[25]to break the Assyrian in my land; and upon my mountains will I tread him under foot; and his yoke shall depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders.

[26]This is the counsel which is purposed concerning the whole earth; and this is the hand which is stretched out upon all the nations.

[27]For Jehovah of hosts hath purposed, and who shall frustrate [it]? And his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

28 In the year of the death of king Ahaz was this burden:

29 Rejoice not thou, Philistia, all of thee, because the rod that smote thee is broken; for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a viper, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent.

30 And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety; but I will kill thy root with famine, and thy remnant shall be slain.

31 Howl, O gate! cry, O city! thou, Philistia, art wholly dissolved; for there cometh from the north a smoke, and none remaineth apart in his gatherings [of troops].

32 And what shall be answered to the messengers of the nation? That Jehovah hath founded Zion, and the afflicted of his people find refuge in it.

15 The burden of Moab: For in the night of being laid waste, Ar of Moab is destroyed; for in the night of being laid waste, Kir of Moab is destroyed!

2 He is gone up to Bajith, and to Dibon, to the high places, to weep; Moab howleth over Nebo, and over Medeba; on all their heads is baldness, every beard is cut off.

3 In their streets they are girded with sackcloth; on their roofs, and in their broadways, every one howleth, melted into tears.

4 And Heshbon crieth, and Elealeh: their voice is heard unto Jahaz. Therefore the armed men of Moab cry out: his soul trembleth in him.

5 My heart crieth out for Moab; their fugitives [have fled] unto Zoar, unto Eglath-Sheli-shijah: for by the ascent of Luhith, with weeping they go up by it; for in the way of Horonaim they raise up a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be desolate; for the herbage is withered away, the grass hath failed, there is no green thing.

7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, do they carry away to the torrent of the willows.

8 For the cry goeth round about the borders of Moab; the howling thereof unto Eglaim, and the howling thereof unto Beer-elim.

9 For the waters of Dimon are full of blood, for I will lay yet more upon Dimon: a lion upon them that are escaped of Moab, and upon that which remaineth of the land.

16 Send the lamb of the ruler of the land from the rock to the wilderness, -- unto the mount of the daughter of Zion.

2 And it shall be [that] as a wandering bird, [as] a scattered nest, so shall the daughters of Moab be at the fords of the Arnon.

3 Bring in counsel, execute justice; make thy shadow as the night in the midst of noonday; hide the outcasts, discover not the fugitive.

4 Let mine outcasts dwell with thee, Moab; be thou a covert to them from the face of the waster. For the extortioner is at an end, the wasting hath ceased, the oppressors are consumed out of the land.

5 And a throne shall be established in mercy: and in the tent of David there shall sit upon it, in truth, one judging and seeking justice and hastening righteousness.

6 We have heard of the arrogance of Moab, -- [he is] very proud, -- of his pride, and his arrogance, and his wrath: his pratings are vain.

7 Therefore shall Moab howl for Moab; every one of them shall howl. For the foundations of Kirhareseth shall ye mourn, verily afflicted.

8 For the fields of Heshbon languish, the vine of Sibmah; the lords of the nations have broken down its choice plants: they reached unto Jaazer, they wandered [through] the wilderness; its shoots stretched out, they went beyond the sea.

9 Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jaazer for the vine of Sibmah; with my tears will I water thee, Heshbon, and Elealeh, for a cry is fallen upon thy summer fruits and upon thy harvest.

10 And joy and gladness is taken away out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there is no singing, neither is there shouting: the treaders tread out no wine in the presses, I have made the cry [of the winepress] to cease.

11 Therefore my bowels sound like a harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kirheres.

12 And it shall come to pass, when Moab shall appear, shall weary himself on the high place, and enter into his sanctuary to pray, that he shall not prevail.

13 This is the word which Jehovah hath spoken from of old concerning Moab.

14 And now Jehovah speaketh saying, Within three years, as the years of a hired servant, and the glory of Moab shall be brought to nothing, with all that great multitude; and the remnant shall be small, few, of no account.

17 The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from [being] a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of Aroer are forsaken: they shall be for flocks; and they shall lie down and there shall be none to make them afraid.

3 The fortress also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria:

they shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith Jehovah of hosts.

4And in that day it shall come to pass, that the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall become lean.

5And it shall be as when the reaper gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm; yea, it shall be as he that gathereth ears in the valley of Rephaim.

6And a gleaning shall be left in it, as at the shaking of an olive-tree: two, three berries above, in the tree-top; four, five in its fruitful boughs, saith Jehovah, the God of Israel.

7In that day shall man look to his Maker, and his eyes shall have regard to the Holy One of Israel.

8And he will not look to the altars, the work of his hands, nor have regard to what his fingers have made, neither the Asherahs nor the sun-images.

9In that day shall his strong cities be as the forsaken tract in the woodland, and the mountain-top which they forsook before the children of Israel; and there shall be desolation.

10For thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy strength; therefore shalt thou plant pleasant plantations, and shalt set them with foreign slips:

11in the day of thy planting wilt thou make [them] to grow, and on the morrow wilt thou make thy seed to flourish; [but] the harvest will flee in the day of taking possession, and the sorrow will be incurable.

12Ha! a tumult of many peoples! they make a noise as the noise of the seas; -- and the rushing of nations! they rush as the rushing of mighty waters.

13The nations rush as the rushing of many waters; but he will rebuke them, and they shall flee far away, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like a whirling [of dust] before the whirlwind:

14behold, at eventide, trouble; before the morning they are not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

18 Ha! land shadowing with wings, which art beyond the rivers of Cush, 2that sendest ambassadors over the sea, and in vessels of papyrus upon the waters, [saying,] Go, swift messengers, to a nation scattered and ravaged, to a people terrible from their existence and thenceforth; to a nation of continued waiting and of treading down, whose land the rivers have spoiled!

3All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, when a banner is lifted up on the mountains, see ye, and when a trumpet is blown, hear ye!

4For thus hath Jehovah said unto me: I will take my rest, and I will observe from my dwelling-place like clear heat upon herbs, like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5For before the harvest, when the blossoming is over, and the flower becometh a ripening grape, he shall both cut off the sprigs with pruning-knives, and take away [and] cut down the branches.

6They shall be left together unto the mountain birds of prey, and to the beasts of the earth; and the birds of prey shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them.

7In that time shall a present be brought unto Jehovah of hosts of a people scattered and ravaged, -- and from a people terrible from their existence and thenceforth, a nation of continued waiting and of treading down, whose land the rivers have spoiled, ... to the place of the name of Jehovah of hosts, the mount Zion.

19The burden of Egypt. Behold, Jehovah rideth upon a swift cloud, and cometh to Egypt; and the idols of Egypt are moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt melteth in the midst of it.

2And I will incite the Egyptians against the Egyptians; and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, kingdom against kingdom.

3And the spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst of it, and I will destroy the counsel thereof; and they shall seek unto the idols and unto the conjurers, and unto the necromancers, and unto the soothsayers.

4And the Egyptians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord, and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts.

5And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up;

6and the rivers shall stink, and the streams of Egypt shall be diminished and drain away: the reeds and sedges shall wither.

7The meadows by the Nile, on the banks of the Nile, and everything sown by the Nile, shall be dried up, be driven away, and be no [more].

8And the fishers shall mourn, and all they that cast fish-hook into the Nile shall lament, and they that spread net upon the waters shall languish.

9And they that work in fine flax, and they that weave white stuffs shall be ashamed.

10And her pillars shall be broken in pieces, and all workers for hire shall be sad of soul.

11They are but fools, the princes of Zoan, the wise counsellors of Pharaoh: [their] counsel is become senseless. How say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?

12 Where are they then, thy wise [men]? Let them now tell thee, and let them make known what Jehovah of hosts hath purposed upon Egypt.

13 The princes of Zoan are become foolish, the princes of Noph are deceived; and the corner-stones of its tribes have caused Egypt to err.

14 Jehovah hath mingled a spirit of perverseness in the midst thereof; and they have caused Egypt to err in every work thereof, as a drunkard staggereth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there be any work for Egypt, which the head or tail, palm-branch or rush, may do.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like unto women; and it shall tremble and fear because of the shaking of the hand of Jehovah of hosts, which he shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Judah shall be a dismay unto Egypt: every one that thinketh of it shall be afraid for himself, because of the counsel of Jehovah of hosts, which he hath purposed against it.

18 In that day shall there be five cities in the land of Egypt speaking the language of Canaan, and swearing by Jehovah of hosts: one shall be called, The city of Heres.

19 In that day shall there be an altar to Jehovah in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to Jehovah:

20 and it shall be for a sign and for a witness to Jehovah of hosts in the land of Egypt; for they shall cry unto Jehovah because of the oppressors, and he will send them a saviour and defender, who shall deliver them.

21 And Jehovah shall be known to the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know Jehovah in that day, and shall serve with sacrifice and oblation; and they shall vow a vow unto Jehovah, and perform it.

22 And Jehovah will smite Egypt; he will smite and heal: and they shall return to Jehovah, and he will be entreated of them, and will heal them.

23 In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria; and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and Egypt shall serve with Assyria.

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing in the midst of the earth;

25 whom Jehovah of hosts will bless, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance!

20 In the year that Tartan came to Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, (and he fought against Ashdod and took it,)

2 at that time spoke Jehovah by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy sandal from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.

3 And Jehovah said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years, a sign and a wonder concerning Egypt and concerning Ethiopia,

4 so shall the king of Assyria lead away the captives of Egypt and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, [to] the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall be terrified and ashamed of Ethiopia their confidence, and of Egypt their boast.

6 And the inhabitants of this coast shall say in that day, Behold, such is our confidence, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria; and how shall we escape?

21 The burden of the desert of the sea. As whirlwinds in the south pass through, so it cometh from the desert, from a terrible land.

2 A grievous vision is declared unto me: the treacherous dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, Elam! besiege, Media! All the sighing thereof have I made to cease.

3 Therefore are my loins filled with pain; anguish hath taken hold upon me, as the anguish of a woman in travail: I am bowed down so as not to hear, I am dismayed so as not to see.

4 My heart panteth, horror affrighteth me: the night of my pleasure hath he turned into trembling unto me.

5 Prepare the table, appoint the watch; eat, drink: arise, ye princes, anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said unto me: Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.

7 And he saw chariots, horsemen by pairs, a chariot with asses, a chariot with camels; and he hearkened diligently with much heed.

8 And he cried [as] a lion, Lord, I stand continually upon the watchtower in the daytime, and I am set in my ward whole nights.

9 -- And behold, there cometh a chariot of men; horsemen by pairs. And he answered and said, Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.

10 O my threshing, and the corn of my floor! What I have heard of Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, have I declared unto you.

11 The burden of Dumah. He calleth to me out of Seir, Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?

12 The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will inquire, inquire; return, come.

13 The burden against Arabia. In the forest of Arabia shall ye lodge, [ye] caravans of Dedanites.

14 Bring ye water to meet the thirsty! The inhabitants of the land of Tema come forth with their bread for him that fleeth.

15 For they flee from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war.

16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me: Within a year, according to the years of a hired servant, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail;

17 and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the sons of Kedar, shall be diminished: for Jehovah, the God of Israel, hath spoken.

22 The burden of the valley of vision. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the housetops?

2 Thou that wast full of stir, a town of tumult, a joyous city: thy slain men are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battle.

3 All thy rulers have fled together, they are taken prisoners without the bow: all that are found of thee are made prisoners together; they were fleeing far off.

4 Therefore said I, Look away from me; let me weep bitterly: labour not to comfort me, because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity, from the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, in the valley of vision; [a day of] breaking down the wall, and of crying to the mountain:

6 -- Elam beareth the quiver with chariots of men [and] horsemen; and Kir uncovereth the shield.

7 And it shall come to pass [that] thy choicest valleys shall be full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in array at the gate.

8 And he uncovereth the covering of Judah: and thou didst look in that day to the armour in the house of the forest;

9 and ye have seen the breaches of the city of David, that they are many; and ye have gathered together the waters of the lower pool;

10 and ye have numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and have broken down the houses to fortify the wall;

11 and ye have made a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool: but ye have not had regard unto the maker thereof, neither have ye looked unto him that fashioned it long ago.

12 And in that day did the Lord Jehovah of hosts call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth;

13 and behold joy and rejoicing, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine: -- Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.

14 And it was revealed in mine ears by Jehovah of hosts: Assuredly this iniquity shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts.

15 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah of hosts: Go, get thee in unto this steward, unto Shebna, who is over the house, [and say,]

16 What hast thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewn thee out a sepulchre here, [as] he that heweth out his sepulchre on high, cutting out in the rock a habitation for himself?

17 Behold, Jehovah will hurl thee with the force of a mighty man, and will cover thee entirely.

18 Rolling thee up completely, he will roll thee as a ball into a wide country: there shalt thou die, and there shall be the chariots of thy glory, O shame of thy lord's house!

19 And I will drive thee from thine office, and from thy station will I pull thee down.

20 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkijah;

21 and I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand; and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah.

22 And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; and he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open.

23 And I will fasten him [as] a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a throne of glory to his father's house:

24 and they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, all the small vessels, as well the vessels of cups as all the vessels of flagons.

25 In that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, shall the nail that is fastened in a sure place be removed, and be cut down, and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off: for Jehovah hath spoken.

23 The burden of Tyre. Howl, ye ships of Tarshish! for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, none entering in. From the land of Chittim it is revealed to them.

2 Be still, ye inhabitants of the isle! The merchants of Sidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished thee.

3 And on great waters, the seed of Shihor, the harvest of the Nile, was her revenue; and she was the market of the nations.

4 Be thou ashamed, Sidon, for the sea hath spoken, the strength of the sea, saying, I have not travailed nor brought forth, neither have I nourished young men [nor] brought up virgins.

[5]-- When the report came into Egypt, they were sorely pained at the news of Tyre.

[6]Pass over to Tarshish; howl, ye inhabitants of the coast!

[7]Is this your joyous [city], whose antiquity is of ancient days? Her feet shall carry her afar off to sojourn.

[8]Who hath purposed this against Tyre, the distributor of crowns, whose merchants were princes, whose dealers were the honourable of the earth?

[9]Jehovah of hosts hath purposed it, to profane the pride of all glory, to bring to nought all the honourable of the earth.

[10]Overflow thy land like the Nile, daughter of Tarshish: there is no more restraint.

[11]He hath stretched out his hand over the sea, he shaketh the kingdoms. Jehovah hath given a commandment concerning Canaan, to destroy the strongholds thereof, [12]and hath said, Thou shalt no more exult, [thou] oppressed virgin, daughter of Sidon: get thee up, pass over to Chittim; even there shalt thou have no rest.

[13]Behold the land of the Chaldeans: this people did not exist; the Assyrian founded it for the dwellers in the desert: they set up their towers, they destroyed the palaces thereof; he brought it to ruin.

[14]Howl, ships of Tarshish! for your fortress is laid waste.

[15]And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king. At the end of seventy years it shall be for Tyre as the harlot's song.

[16]Take a harp, go about the city, thou forgotten harlot! Make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered.

[17]And it shall come to pass at the end of seventy years, that Jehovah will visit Tyre; and she will return to her hire, and will commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the earth upon the face of the ground.

[18]And her merchandise and her hire shall be holy to Jehovah: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before Jehovah, to eat and be sufficed, and for excellent clothing.

24Behold, Jehovah maketh the land empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad its inhabitants.

[2]And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with him from whom usury is taken.

[3]The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled; for Jehovah hath spoken this word.

[4]The land mourneth, it fadeth away; the world languisheth, it fadeth away: the haughty people of the land do languish.

[5]And the land is polluted under the inhabitants thereof; for they have violated the laws, changed the statute, broken the everlasting covenant.

[6]Therefore doth the curse devour the earth, and they that dwell therein are held guilty; therefore the inhabitants of the earth are consumed, and few men are left.

[7]The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all that were merry-hearted do sigh;

[8]the mirth of tambours ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth.

[9]They do not drink wine with a song; strong drink is bitter to them that drink it.

[10]The city of solitude is broken down; every house is shut up, so that none entereth in.

[11]There is a crying for wine in the streets; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone;

[12]desolation remaineth in the city, and the gate is smitten, -- a ruin.

[13]For so will it be in the midst of the land among the peoples, as the shaking of an olive-tree, as the grape-gleanings when the vintage is done.

[14]These shall lift up their voice, they shall shout for the majesty of Jehovah, they shall cry aloud from the sea.

[15]Therefore glorify Jehovah in the east, the name of Jehovah, the God of Israel, in the isles of the west.

[16]From the end of the earth have we heard songs: Glory to the righteous! And I said, My leanness, my leanness, woe unto me! The treacherous have dealt treacherously; yea, the treacherous have dealt very treacherously.

[17]Fear, and the pit, and the snare are upon thee, inhabitant of the land.

[18]And it shall come to pass, [that] he who fleeth from the sound of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare; for the windows on high are open, and the foundations of the earth shake.

[19]The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is completely dissolved, the earth is violently moved.

[20]The earth reeleth to and fro like a drunkard, and is shaken like a night hut; and its transgression is heavy upon it; and it falleth and shall not rise again.

[21]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] Jehovah will punish the host of the high ones on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.

22 And they shall be brought together, [as] an assemblage of prisoners for the pit, and shall be shut up in prison, and after many days shall they be visited.

23 And the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for Jehovah of hosts shall reign on mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, and before his ancients in glory.

25 Jehovah, thou art my God: I will exalt thee; I will celebrate thy name, for thou hast done wonderful things; counsels of old [which are] faithfulness [and] truth.

2 For thou hast made of the city a heap, of the fortified town a ruin, the palace of strangers to be no city; it shall never be built up.

3 Therefore shall the mighty people glorify thee, the city of terrible nations shall fear thee.

4 For thou hast been a fortress to the poor, a fortress for the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat: for the blast of the terrible ones [has been] as the storm [against] a wall.

5 Thou hast subdued the tumult of strangers, as the heat in a dry place; [as] the heat, by the shadow of a cloud, [so] the song of the terrible ones is brought low.

6 And in this mountain will Jehovah of hosts make unto all peoples a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.

7 And he will destroy in this mountain the face of the veil which veileth all the peoples, and the covering that is spread over all the nations.

8 He will swallow up death in victory. And the Lord Jehovah will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the reproach of his people will he take away from off all the earth: for Jehovah hath spoken.

9 And it shall be said in that day, Behold, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is Jehovah, we have waited for him; we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation.

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of Jehovah rest, and Moab shall be trodden down under him, as straw is trodden down in the dunghill;

11 and he shall spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that swimmeth spreadeth them forth to swim; and he shall bring down their pride together with the plots of their hands.

12 And the fortress of the high defences of thy walls will he bring down, lay low, bring to the ground, into the dust.

26 In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah: We have a strong city; salvation doth he appoint for walls and bulwarks.

[2]Open ye the gates, and the righteous nation which keepeth faithfulness shall enter in.

[3]Thou wilt keep in perfect peace the mind stayed [on thee], for he confideth in thee.

[4]Confide ye in Jehovah for ever; for in Jah, Jehovah, is the rock of ages.

[5]For he bringeth down them that dwell on high; the lofty city, he layeth it low, he layeth it low to the ground, he bringeth it even to the dust.

[6]The foot shall tread it down, -- the feet of the afflicted, the steps of the poor.

[7]The way of the just is uprightness: thou, the Upright, dost make the path of the just even.

[8]Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Jehovah, have we waited for thee; the desire of [our] soul is to thy name, and to thy memorial.

[9]With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness.

[10]If favour be shewn to the wicked, he doth not learn righteousness: in the land of uprightness he dealeth unjustly, and beholdeth not the majesty of Jehovah.

[11]Jehovah, thy hand is lifted up, but they do not see: [yet] they shall see [thy] jealousy [for] the people, and be ashamed; yea, the fire which is for thine adversaries shall devour them.

[12]Jehovah, thou wilt ordain peace for us; for thou also hast wrought all our works for us.

[13]Jehovah our God, other lords than thee have had dominion over us; by thee only will we make mention of thy name.

[14][They are] dead, they shall not live; deceased, they shall not rise: for thou hast visited and destroyed them, and made all memory of them to perish.

[15]Thou hast increased the nation, Jehovah, thou hast increased the nation: thou art glorified. Thou hadst removed [it] far [unto] all the ends of the earth.

[16]Jehovah, in trouble they sought thee; they poured out [their] whispered prayer when thy chastening was upon them.

[17]As a woman with child, that draweth near her delivery, is in travail, [and] crieth out in her pangs; so have we been before thee, Jehovah.

[18]We have been with child, we have been in travail, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought the deliverance of the land, neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.

[19]Thy dead shall live, my dead bodies shall arise. Awake and sing in triumph, ye that dwell in dust; for thy dew is the dew of the morning, and the earth shall cast forth the dead.

[20]Come, my people, enter into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee; hide thyself just for a little moment, until the indignation be past.

[21]For behold, Jehovah cometh out of his place to visit the iniquity of the inhabitants of the earth upon them; and the earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain.

27 In that day Jehovah, with his sore and great and strong sword, will visit leviathan the fleeing serpent, and leviathan the crooked serpent; and he will slay the monster that is in the sea.

[2]In that day [there shall be] a vineyard of pure wine; sing concerning it:

[3]I Jehovah keep it, I will water it every moment; lest any harm it, I will keep it night and day.

[4]Fury is not in me. Oh that I had briars [and] thorns in battle against me! I would march against them, I would burn them together.

[5]Or let him take hold of my strength; let him make peace with me: [yea,] let him make peace with me.

[6]In the future Jacob shall take root; Israel shall blossom and bud, and they shall fill the face of the world with fruit.

[7]Hath he smitten him according to the smiting of those that smote him? Is he slain according to the slaughter of those slain by him?

[8]In measure, when sending her away, didst thou contend with her: he hath taken [her] away with his rough wind in the day of the east wind.

[9]By this, therefore, shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged; and this is all the fruit of the taking away of his sin: when he shall make all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are crumbled in pieces, -- the Asherahs and the sun-images shall not stand.

[10]For the fortified city is solitary, a habitation abandoned and forsaken like a wilderness; there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume its boughs.

[11]When its branches are withered they shall be broken off; women shall come [and] set them on fire. For it is a people of no intelligence; therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and he who formed them will shew them no favour.

[12]And it shall come to pass in that day, that Jehovah shall beat out from the flood of the river unto the torrent of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, [ye] children of Israel.

[13]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] the great trumpet shall be blown; and they shall come that were perishing in the land of Assyria, and the outcasts in the land of Egypt, and they shall worship Jehovah in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

28 Woe to the crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim, and to the fading flower of his glorious adornment, which is on the head of the fat valley of them that are overcome with wine.

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one, as a storm of hail [and] a destroying tempest; as a storm of mighty waters overflowing, shall he cast down to the earth with might.

3 The crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim shall be trodden under feet;

4 and the fading flower of his glorious adornment which is on the head of the fat valley shall be like an early fig before the summer: as soon as he that seeth it perceiveth it, scarcely is it in his hand, he swalloweth it down.

5 In that day will Jehovah of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the remnant of his people;

6 and for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength to them that turn the battle to the gate.

7 But these also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are they gone astray. The priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink; they are overpowered by wine, they are gone astray through strong drink; they have erred in vision, they have stumbled [in] judgment.

8 For all tables are full of filthy vomit, so that there is no [more] place.

9 Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand the report? Them that are weaned from the milk, withdrawn from the breasts?

10 For [it is] precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little. ...

11 For with stammering lips and a strange tongue will he speak to this people;

12 to whom he said, This is the rest: cause the weary to rest; and this is the refreshing. But they would not hear.

13 And the word of Jehovah was unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little, there a little: that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 Therefore hear the word of Jehovah, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem.

15 For ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with Sheol have we made an agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us; for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I lay for foundation in Zion a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner-stone, a sure foundation: he that trusteth shall not make haste.

17 And I will appoint judgment for a line, and righteousness for a plummet; and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding-place.

18 And your covenant with death shall be annulled, and your agreement with Sheol shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, ye shall be trodden down by it.

19 As it passeth through it shall take you;
for morning by morning shall it pass through, by day and by night; and it shall be terror only to understand the report.

20 For the bed is too short to stretch oneself on, and the covering too narrow when he would wrap himself in it.

21 For Jehovah will rise up as on mount Perazim, he will be moved with anger as in the valley of Gibeon; that he may do his work, his strange work, and perform his act, his unwonted act.

22 Now therefore be ye not scorners, lest your bonds be made strong; for I have heard from the Lord Jehovah of hosts a consumption, and [one] determined, upon the whole land.

23 Give ear, and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech.

24 Doth the ploughman plough all day to sow? Is he [all day] opening and breaking the clods of his land?

25 Doth he not, when he hath levelled the face thereof, cast abroad dill, and scatter cummin, and set the wheat in rows, and the barley in an appointed place, and the rye in its border?

26 His God doth instruct him in [his] judgment, he doth teach him.

27 For the dill is not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cartwheel turned about upon the cummin; but dill is beaten out with a staff, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread [corn] is crushed, because he will not ever be threshing it; and if he drove the wheels of his cart and his horses [over it], he would not crush it.

29 This also cometh forth from Jehovah of hosts; he is wonderful in counsel, great in wisdom.

29 Woe to Ariel, to Ariel, the city of David's encampment! Add ye year to year; let the feasts come round.

2 But I will distress Ariel, and there shall be sorrow and sadness; and it shall be unto me as an Ariel.

3 And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with watch-posts, and I will raise forts against thee.

4 And thou shalt be brought low, thou shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall come low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust.

[5]And the multitude of thine enemies shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones as chaff that passeth away; and it shall be in an instant, suddenly.

[6]Thou shalt be visited by Jehovah of hosts with thunder and with earthquake and great noise, with whirlwind and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.

[7]And the multitude of all the nations that war against Ariel, even all that war against her and her fortifications, and that distress her, shall be as a dream of a night vision.

[8]It shall even be as when the hungry dreameth, and, behold, he eateth; and he awaketh, and his soul is empty; or as when the thirsty dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh; and he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul craveth: so shall the multitude of all the nations be that war against mount Zion.

[9]Be astounded and astonished, blind yourselves and be blind! They are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.

[10]For Jehovah hath poured out upon you a spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes; the prophets and your chiefs, the seers, hath he covered.

[11]And the whole vision is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which they give to one that can read, saying, Read this, I pray thee; and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed.

[12]And they give the book to him that cannot read, saying, Read this, I pray thee; and he saith, I cannot read.

[13]And the Lord saith, Forasmuch as this people draw near with their mouth, and honour me with their lips, but their heart is removed far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment taught of men;

[14]therefore, behold, I will proceed to do marvellously with this people, to do marvellously, even with wonder, and the wisdom of their wise [men] shall perish, and the understanding of their intelligent ones shall be hid.

[15]Woe unto them that hide deep, far from Jehovah, their counsel! And their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

[16][Oh] your perverseness! -- Shall the potter be esteemed as the clay, so that the work should say of him that made it, He made me not; or the thing formed say of him that formed it, He hath no understanding?

[17]Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest?

[18]And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and, out of obscurity and out of darkness, the eyes of the blind shall see;

[19]and the meek shall increase their joy in Jehovah, and the needy among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.

[20]For the terrible one shall come to nought, and the scorner shall be no more, and all that watch for iniquity shall be cut off, [21]that make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and pervert [the judgment of] the righteous by futility.

[22]Therefore thus saith Jehovah who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob: Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now be pale;

[23]for when he seeth his children, the work of my hands, in the midst of him, they shall hallow my name, and hallow the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.

[24]And they that are of erring spirit shall know understanding, and the disobedient shall learn doctrine.

30Woe to the rebellious children, saith Jehovah, who take counsel, but not of me, and who make leagues, but not by my Spirit, that they may heap sin upon sin;

[2]who walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked of my mouth, -- to take refuge under the protection of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt!

[3]For to you the protection of Pharaoh shall be a shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt a confusion.

[4]For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came to Hanes.

[5]They were all ashamed of a people [that] did not profit them, nor were a help or profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.

[6]-- The burden of the beasts of the south: Through a land of trouble and anguish, whence come the lioness and lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches upon the shoulders of asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to the people that shall not profit [them].

[7]For Egypt shall help in vain, and to no purpose; therefore have I named her, Arrogance, that doeth nothing.

[8]Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and record it in a book, that it may be for the time to come, as a witness for ever,

[9]that this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of Jehovah;

[10]who say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophesy not unto us right things; speak unto us smooth things, prophesy deceits;

[11]get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us!

[12]Therefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel: Because ye reject this word, and confide in oppression and wilfulness, and depend thereon, [13]therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a towering wall, whose breaking shall come suddenly in an instant.

[14]And he shall break it as the breaking of a potter's vessel, that is broken in pieces unsparingly; and in the pieces of it there shall not be found a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to scoop water out of the cistern.

[15]For thus saith the Lord Jehovah, the Holy One of Israel: In returning and rest shall ye be saved, in quietness and confidence shall be your strength; but ye would not.

[16]And ye said, No, but we will flee upon horses, -- therefore shall ye flee; and, We will ride upon the swift, -- therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.

[17]One thousand [shall flee] at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five shall ye flee: till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as a banner on a hill.

[18]And therefore will Jehovah wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he lift himself up, that he may have mercy upon you; for Jehovah is a God of judgment: blessed are all they that wait for him.

[19]For the people shall dwell in Zion, at Jerusalem. Thou shalt weep no more; he will be very gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; as he heareth it, he will answer thee.

[20]And the Lord will give you the bread of adversity, and the water of oppression; yet thy teachers shall not be hidden any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers.

[21]And when ye turn to the right hand or when ye turn to the left, thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it.

[22]And ye shall defile the silver covering of your graven images, and the gold overlaying of your molten images; thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth: Out! shalt thou say unto it.

[23]And he will give the rain of thy seed with which thou shalt sow the ground; and bread, the produce of the ground, and it shall be fat and rich. In that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures;

[24]and the oxen and the asses that till the ground shall eat salted provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

[25]And there shall be upon every high mountain and upon every hill that is lifted up, brooks [and] water-courses, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

[26]And the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that Jehovah bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the wound of their stroke.

[27]Behold, the name of Jehovah cometh from far, burning [with] his anger -- a grievous conflagration; his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a consuming fire;

28 and his breath as an overflowing torrent, which reacheth even to the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction, and [to put] a bridle into the jaws of the peoples, that causeth them to go astray.

29 Ye shall have a song, as in the night when a feast is sanctified; and joy of heart, as of one who goeth with a pipe to come unto the mountain of Jehovah, to the Rock of Israel.

30 And Jehovah will cause the majesty of his voice to be heard, and will shew the lighting down of his arm with indignation of anger, and a flame of consuming fire, with waterflood and storm and hailstones.

31 For through the voice of Jehovah shall the Assyrian be broken down: he will smite [him] with the rod.

32 And wherever shall pass the appointed staff, which Jehovah shall lay upon him, it shall be with tambours and harps; and with tumultuous battles will he fight with it.

33 For Topheth is prepared of old; for the king also it is prepared: he hath made it deep and large; its pile is fire and much wood; the breath of Jehovah, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

31 Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and depend on horses, and confide in chariots because [they are] many, and in horsemen because they are very strong; and who look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek Jehovah!

2 But he also is wise, and he bringeth evil, and recalleth not his words; and he will arise against the house of evildoers, and against the help of workers of iniquity.

3 And the Egyptians are men, and not [God], and their horses flesh, and not spirit; and Jehovah shall stretch forth his hand, and he that helpeth shall stumble, and he that is helped shall fall, and they all shall perish together.

4 For thus hath Jehovah said unto me: Like as the lion and the young lion growling over his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, is not afraid of their voice, nor giveth way before the multitude of them; so will Jehovah of hosts come down to war upon mount Zion, and on the hill thereof.

5 As birds with outstretched wings, so will Jehovah of hosts cover Jerusalem; covering, he will also deliver, passing over, he will rescue [it].

6 Turn unto him from whom ye have deeply revolted, ye children of Israel;

7 for in that day every man shall cast away his idols of silver and his idols of gold, which your sinful hands have made unto you.

8 And Asshur shall fall by the sword, not of a great man; and the sword, not of a mean man, shall devour him: and he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall become tributary;

9and for fear, he shall pass over to his rock, and his princes shall be afraid of the banner, saith Jehovah, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

32 Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgment.

2And a man shall be as a hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the storm; as brooks of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a thirsty land.

3And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken;

4and the heart of the rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly.

5The vile man shall be no more called noble, nor the churl said to be bountiful:

6for the vile man will speak villainy, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against Jehovah, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the meek with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right.

8But the noble deviseth noble things; and to noble things doth he stand.

9Rise up, ye women that are at ease, hear my voice; ye careless daughters, give ear unto my speech.

10In a year and [some] days shall ye be troubled, ye careless women; for the vintage shall fail, the ingathering shall not come.

11Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones; strip you, and make you bare, and gird [sackcloth] on your loins!

12They shall smite on the breasts [in lamentation] for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vineyards.

13Upon the land of my people shall come up thistles [and] briars, yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city.

14For the palace shall be deserted, the multitude of the city shall be forsaken; hill and watchtower shall be caves for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks;

15until the Spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness become a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest.

16And judgment shall inhabit the wilderness, and righteousness dwell in the fruitful field.

17And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever.

[18]And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting-places.

[19]And it shall hail, coming down on the forest; and the city shall be low in a low place.

[20]Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth the feet of the ox and the ass.

33Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and that dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! When thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; when thou shalt make an end of dealing treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.

[2]Jehovah, be gracious unto us; we have waited for thee: be their arm every morning, yea, our salvation in the time of trouble.

[3]At the noise of the tumult the peoples fled; at the lifting up of thyself the nations were scattered.

[4]And your spoil shall be gathered [like] the gathering of the caterpillar: as the running of locusts shall they run upon it.

[5]Jehovah is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with justice and righteousness;

[6]and he shall be the stability of thy times, the riches of salvation, wisdom and knowledge: the fear of Jehovah shall be your treasure.

[7]Behold, their valiant ones cry without; the messengers of peace weep bitterly.

[8]The highways are desolate, the wayfaring man ceaseth. He hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.

[9]The land mourneth, it languisheth; Lebanon is ashamed, is withered; the Sharon is become as a desert, and Bashan and Carmel are stripped.

[10]Now will I arise, saith Jehovah; now will I be exalted, now will I lift up myself.

[11]Ye shall conceive dry grass, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath shall devour you [as] fire.

[12]And the peoples shall be [as] burnings of lime, [as] thorns cut up shall they be burned in the fire.

[13]Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; and ye that are near, acknowledge my might.

[14]The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling hath surprised the hypocrites: Who among us shall dwell with the consuming fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting flames?

[15]-- He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from taking hold of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil:

[16]he shall dwell on high, the fortresses of the rocks shall be his high retreat; bread shall be given him, his water shall be sure.

17 Thine eyes shall see the King in his beauty; they shall behold the land that is far off.

18 Thy heart shall meditate on terror: Where is the scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou shalt no more see the fierce people, a people of a deeper speech than thou canst comprehend, of a stammering tongue that cannot be understood.

20 Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tent that shall not be removed, the stakes whereof shall never be pulled up, neither shall any of its cords be broken;

21 but there Jehovah is unto us glorious, -- a place of rivers, of broad streams: no galley with oars shall go there, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby.

22 For Jehovah is our judge, Jehovah, our lawgiver, Jehovah, our king: he will save us.

23 Thy tacklings are loosed; they strengthen not the socket of their mast, they cannot spread the sail: then is the prey of a great spoil divided; the lame take the prey.

24 And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven [their] iniquity.

34 Come near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye peoples: let the earth hear, and all its fulness; the world, and all that cometh forth of it.

2 For the wrath of Jehovah is against all the nations, and [his] fury against all their armies: he hath devoted them to destruction, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 And their slain shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up from their carcases, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the host of the heavens shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll; and all their host shall fade away, as a leaf fadeth from off the vine, and as the withered [fruit] from the fig-tree.

5 For my sword is bathed in the heavens; behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the people of my ban, to judgment.

6 The sword of Jehovah is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams; for Jehovah hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the buffaloes shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness.

[8]For it is the day of Jehovah's vengeance, the year of recompenses for the controversy of Zion.

[9]And the torrents thereof shall be turned into pitch, and its dust into brimstone; yea, the land thereof shall become burning pitch:

[10]it shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it for ever and ever.

[11]And the pelican and the bittern shall possess it, and the great owl and the raven shall dwell in it. And he shall stretch out upon it the line of waste, and the plummets of emptiness.

[12]Of her nobles who should proclaim the kingdom, none are there; and all her princes shall be nought.

[13]And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in her fortresses; and it shall be a dwelling-place of wild dogs, a court for ostriches.

[14]And there shall the beasts of the desert meet with the jackals, and the wild goat shall cry to his fellow; the lilith also shall settle there, and find for herself a place of rest.

[15]There shall the arrow-snake make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow; there also shall the vultures be gathered one with another.

[16]Search ye in the book of Jehovah and read: not one of these shall fail, one shall not have to seek for the other; for my mouth, it hath commanded, and his Spirit, it hath gathered them.

[17]For he himself hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them with the line: they shall possess it for ever; from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

35The wilderness and the dry land shall be gladdened; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.

[2]It shall blossom abundantly and rejoice even with joy and shouting: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon. They shall see the glory of Jehovah, the excellency of our God.

[3]Strengthen the weak hands and confirm the tottering knees.

[4]Say to them that are of a timid heart, Be strong, fear not; behold your God: vengeance cometh, the recompense of God! He will come himself, and save you.

[5]Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf be unstopped;

[6]then shall the lame [man] leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and torrents in the desert.

[7]And the mirage shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of wild dogs, where they lay down, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

[8]And a highway shall be there and a way, and it shall be called, The way of holiness: the unclean shall not pass through it; but it shall be for these. Those that go [this] way -- even fools, -- shall not err [therein].

[9]No lion shall be there, nor shall ravenous beast go up thereon, nor be found there; but the redeemed shall walk [there].

[10]And the ransomed of Jehovah shall return, and come to Zion with singing; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

36And it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah, and took them.

[2]And the king of Assyria sent Rab-shakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem, to king Hezekiah, with a strong force. And he stood by the aqueduct of the upper pool, on the highway of the fuller's field.

[3]Then came forth to him Eliakim the son of Hilkijah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph, the chronicler.

[4]And Rab-shakeh said to them, Say now to Hezekiah, Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria: What confidence is this in which thou trustest?

[5]Thou sayest, but it is a word of the lips, [There is] counsel and strength for war. Now on whom dost thou rely, that thou hast revolted against me?

[6]Behold, thou reliest upon the staff of that broken reed, upon Egypt, on which if a man lean, it goes into his hand, and pierces it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that rely upon him.

[7]And if thou say to me, We rely upon Jehovah our God: is it not he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has removed, saying to Judah and Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

[8]And now engage, I pray thee, with my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

[9]How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants? And thou reliest upon Egypt for chariots and for horsemen!

[10]And now am I come up without Jehovah against this land to destroy it? Jehovah said to me, Go up against this land and destroy it.

[11]And Eliakim and Shebna and Joah said to Rab-shakeh, Speak, we pray thee, to thy servants in Syriac, for we understand it; and speak not to us in the Jewish [language] in the ears of the people that are upon the wall.

12 And Rab-shakeh said, Is it to thy master and to thee that my master sent me to speak these words? Is it not to the men that sit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own urine with you?

13 And Rab-shakeh stood and cried with a loud voice in the Jewish [language], and said, Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria!

14 Thus says the king: Let not Hezekiah deceive you; for he will not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you rely upon Jehovah, saying, Jehovah will certainly deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah; for thus says the king of Assyria: Make peace with me and come out to me; and eat every one of his vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink every one the waters of his own cistern;

17 until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Let not Hezekiah persuade you, saying, Jehovah will deliver us. Has any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where are the gods of Hamath and of Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they among all the gods of these countries that have delivered their country out of my hand, that Jehovah should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

21 And they were silent, and answered him not a word; for the king's command was, saying, Answer him not.

22 And Eliakim the son of Hilkijah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph, the chronicler, came to Hezekiah, with their garments rent, and told him the words of Rab-shakeh.

37 And it came to pass when king Hezekiah heard [it], that he rent his garments, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of Jehovah.

2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz.

3 And they said to him, Thus says Hezekiah: This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of reviling; for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It may be Jehovah thy God will hear the words of Rab-shakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master has sent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the words which Jehovah thy God hath heard. Therefore lift up a prayer for the remnant that is left.

[5]And the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

[6]And Isaiah said to them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith Jehovah: Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

[7]Behold, I will put a spirit into him, and he shall hear tidings, and shall return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

[8]And Rab-shakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah; for he had heard that he had departed from Lachish.

[9]And he heard say of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He has come forth to make war with thee. And when he heard [it], he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

[10]Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying: Let not thy God, upon whom thou reliest, deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

[11]Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all countries, destroying them utterly; and shalt thou be delivered?

[12]Have the gods of the nations which my fathers have destroyed delivered them, Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden that were in Thelassar?

[13]Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivvah?

[14]And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and Hezekiah went up into the house of Jehovah, and spread it before Jehovah.

[15]And Hezekiah prayed to Jehovah, saying,

[16]Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, who sittest [between] the cherubim, thou, the Same, thou alone art the God of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made the heavens and the earth.

[17]Incline thine ear, O Jehovah, and hear; open, Jehovah, thine eyes, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib, who hath sent to reproach the living God.

[18]Of a truth, Jehovah, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the lands, and their countries, [19]and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; and they have destroyed them.

[20]And now, Jehovah our God, save us out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art Jehovah, thou only.

[21]And Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith Jehovah the God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me concerning Sennacherib king of Assyria, 22this is the word which Jehovah hath spoken against him: The virgin-daughter of Zion despiseth thee, laugheth thee to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem shaketh her head at thee.

23Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted the voice? Against the Holy One of Israel hast thou lifted up thine eyes on high.

24By thy servants thou hast reproached the Lord, and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the recesses of Lebanon; and I will cut down its tall cedars, the choice of its cypresses; and I will enter into its furthest height, [into] the forest of its fruitful field.

25I have digged and drunk water; and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the streams of Matsor.

26Hast thou not heard that long ago I did it, and that from ancient days I formed it? Now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest lay waste fortified cities [into] ruinous heaps.

27And their inhabitants were powerless, they were dismayed and put to shame; they were [as] the grass of the field and the green herb, [as] the grass on the housetops, and grain blighted before it be grown up.

28But I know thine abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy raging against me.

29Because thy raging against me and thine arrogance is come up into mine ears, I will put my ring in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will make thee go back by the way by which thou camest.

30And this [shall be] the sign unto thee: there shall be eaten this year such as groweth of itself; and in the second year that which springeth of the same; but in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards and eat the fruit thereof.

31And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward;

32for out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and out of mount Zion they that escape: the zeal of Jehovah of hosts shall do this.

33Therefore thus saith Jehovah concerning the king of Assyria: He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a bank against it.

34By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith Jehovah.

35And I will defend this city, to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

36And an angel of Jehovah went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and eighty-five thousand. And when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead bodies.

[37]And Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and abode at Nineveh.

[38]And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat. And Esarhaddon his son reigned in his stead.

38 In those days Hezekiah was sick unto death. And the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said to him, Thus saith Jehovah: Set thy house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.

[2]And Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed to Jehovah,

[3]and said, Ah, Jehovah, remember, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept much.

[4]And the word of Jehovah came to Isaiah, saying,

[5]Go and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of David thy father: I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add to thy days fifteen years.

[6]And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city.

[7]And this [shall be] the sign to thee from Jehovah, that Jehovah will do this thing that he hath spoken:

[8]behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees which hath gone down with the sun on the dial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward. So the sun returned on the dial ten degrees, by which it had gone down.

[9]The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick and had recovered from his sickness:

[10]I said, In the meridian of my days I shall go to the gates of Sheol: I am deprived of the rest of my years.

[11]I said, I shall not see Jah, Jah in the land of the living. With those who dwell where all has ceased to be, I shall behold man no more.

[12]Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a shepherd's tent. I have cut off like a weaver my life. He separateth me from the thrum: -- from day to night thou wilt make an end of me.

[13]I kept still until the morning; ... as a lion, so doth he break all my bones. From day to night thou wilt make an end of me.

[14]Like a swallow [or] a crane, so did I chatter; I mourned as a dove; mine eyes failed [with looking] upward: Lord, I am oppressed; undertake for me.

15 What shall I say? He hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done [it]. I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

16 Lord, by these things [men] live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit; and thou hast recovered me, and made me to live.

17 Behold, instead of peace I had bitterness upon bitterness; but thou hast in love delivered my soul from the pit of destruction; for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

18 For not Sheol shall praise thee, nor death celebrate thee; they that go down into the pit do not hope for thy truth.

19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth.

20 Jehovah was [purposed] to save me. -- And we will play upon my stringed instruments all the days of our life, in the house of Jehovah.

21 Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, and he shall recover.

22 And Hezekiah had said, What is the sign that I shall go up into the house of Jehovah?

39 At that time Merodach-Baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent a letter and a present to Hezekiah; for he had heard that he had been sick and had recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver and the gold, and the spices and the fine oil, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found amongst his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah did not shew them.

3 Then came the prophet Isaiah to king Hezekiah, and said to him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They came from a far country to me, from Babylon.

4 And he said, What have they seen in thy house? And Hezekiah said, All that is in my house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewn them.

5 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah, Hear the word of Jehovah of hosts:

6 Behold, days come when all that is in thy house, and that which thy fathers have laid up until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith Jehovah.

7 And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, whom thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

8 And Hezekiah said to Isaiah, Good is the word of Jehovah which thou hast spoken. And he said, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.

40 Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God.

2 Speak to the heart of Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her time of suffering is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned; for she hath received of Jehovah's hand double for all her sins.

3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare ye the way of Jehovah, make straight in the desert a highway for our God!

4 Every valley shall be raised up, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places a plain.

5 And the glory of Jehovah shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see [it] together: for the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken.

6 A voice saith, Cry. And he saith, What shall I cry? -- All flesh is grass, and all the comeliness thereof as the flower of the field.

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, for the breath of Jehovah bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass.

8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth;
but the word of our God abideth for ever.

9 O Zion, that bringest glad tidings, get thee up into a high mountain; O
Jerusalem, that bringest glad tidings, lift up thy voice with strength: lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!

10 Behold, the Lord Jehovah will come with might, and his arm shall rule for him; behold, his reward is with him, and his recompence before him.

11 He will feed his flock like a shepherd:
he will gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom; he will gently lead those that give suck.

12 Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out the heavens with [his] span, and grasped the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in a balance, and the hills in scales?

13 Who hath directed the Spirit of Jehovah, and, [as] his counsellor, hath taught him?

14 With whom took he counsel, and [who] gave him intelligence, and instructed him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and shewed him the way of understanding?

15 Behold, the nations are esteemed as a drop of the bucket, and as the fine dust on the scales; behold, he taketh up the isles as an atom.

16 And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt-offering.

17 All the nations are as nothing before him; they are esteemed by him less than a cipher, and vanity.

18 To whom then will ye liken [God]? and what likeness will ye compare unto him?

19 The workman casteth a graven image, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth silver chains [for it].

20 He that is impoverished, so that he hath no offering, chooseth a tree that doth not rot; he seeketh unto him a skilled workman to prepare a graven image that shall not be moved.

21 -- Do ye not know? Have ye not heard?
Hath it not been told you from the beginning? Have ye not understood the foundation of the earth?

22 [It is] he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the heavens as a gauze curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in;

23 that bringeth the princes to nothing, that maketh the judges of the earth as vanity.

24 Scarcely are they planted, scarcely are they sown, scarcely hath their stock taken root in the earth, but he also bloweth upon them and they wither, and the whirlwind taketh them away as stubble.

25 To whom then will ye liken me, or shall
I be equal? saith the Holy One.

26 Lift up your eyes on high, and see!
Who hath created these things, bringing out their host by number? He calleth them all by name; through the greatness of his might and strength of power, not one faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, Jacob, and speakest,
O Israel, My way is hid from Jehovah, and my right is passed away from my God?

28 Dost thou not know, hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, Jehovah, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not nor tireth? There is no searching of his understanding.

29 He giveth power to the faint; and to him that hath no might he increaseth strength.

30 Even the youths shall faint and shall tire, and the young men shall stumble and fall;

31 but they that wait upon Jehovah shall renew [their] strength: they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not tire; they shall walk, and not faint.

41 Keep silence before me, islands; and let the peoples renew [their] strength: let them come near; then let them speak: let us draw near together to judgment.

2 Who raised up from the east him whom righteousness calleth to its foot? He gave the nations before him, and caused him to have dominion over kings; he gave them as dust to his sword, as driven stubble to his bow.

3 He pursued them, he passed on in safety, by a way he had never come with his feet.

[4]Who hath wrought and done [it], calling the generations from the beginning? I, Jehovah, the first; and with the last, I [am] HE.

[5]The isles saw [it], and feared; the ends of the earth trembled: they drew near, and came.

[6]They helped every one his neighbour, and [each] said to his brother, Take courage.

[7]And the artizan encouraged the founder, he that smootheth [with] the hammer him that smiteth on the anvil, saying of the soldering, It is good; and he fasteneth it with nails, that it be not moved.

[8]But thou, Israel, my servant, Jacob, whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham, my friend

[9]-- thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called from the extremities thereof, and to whom I said, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee and not rejected thee,

[10]-- Fear not, for I [am] with thee; be not dismayed, for I [am] thy God: I will strengthen thee, yea, I will help thee, yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.

[11]Lo, all that are incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded; they that strive with thee shall be as nothing, and shall perish.

[12]Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them -- them that contend with thee; they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

[13]For I, Jehovah, thy God, hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee.

[14]Fear not, thou worm Jacob, ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith Jehovah, and thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.

[15]Behold, I have made of thee a new sharp threshing instrument having double teeth: thou shalt thresh and beat small the mountains, and shalt make the hills as chaff;

[16]thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them; and thou shalt rejoice in Jehovah, thou shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel.

[17]The afflicted and the needy seek water, and there is none; their tongue faileth for thirst: I, Jehovah, will answer them, [I], the God of Israel, will not forsake them.

[18]I will open rivers on the bare heights, and fountains in the midst of the valleys; I will make the wilderness into a pool of water, and the dry land into water-springs.

[19]I will give in the wilderness the cedar, acacia, myrtle, and oleaster; I will set in the desert the cypress, pine, and box-tree together;

[20]that they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of Jehovah hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it.

21 Produce your cause, saith Jehovah; bring forward your arguments, saith the King of Jacob.

22 Let them bring them forward, and declare to us what shall happen: shew the former things, what they are, that we may give attention to them, and know the end of them; -- or let us hear things to come:

23 declare the things that are to happen hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods; yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be astonished, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are less than nothing, and your work is of nought; an abomination is he that chooseth you. ...

25 I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come, -- from the rising of the sun, he who will call upon my name; and he shall come upon princes as on mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay.

26 Who hath declared [it] from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, [It is] right? Indeed, there is none that declareth; no, none that sheweth; no, none that heareth your words.

27 The first, [I said] to Zion, Behold, behold them! and to Jerusalem, I will give one that bringeth glad tidings.

28 And I beheld, and there was no man; even among them, -- and there was no counsellor, that, when I asked of them, could answer a word.

29 Behold, they are all vanity, their works are nought, their molten images are wind and emptiness.

42 Behold my servant whom I uphold, mine elect [in whom] my soul delighteth! I will put my Spirit upon him; he shall bring forth judgment to the nations.

2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment according to truth.

4 He shall not faint nor be in haste, till he have set justice in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.

5 Thus saith [God], Jehovah, he that created the heavens and stretched them out, he that spread forth the earth and its productions, he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein:

6 I, Jehovah, have called thee in righteousness, and will take hold of thy hand; and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the nations,

7 to open the blind eyes, to bring forth the prisoner from the prison, them that sit in darkness out of the house of restraint.

[8]I am Jehovah, that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

[9]Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth will I cause you to hear them.

[10]Sing unto Jehovah a new song, his praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein, the isles and their inhabitants.

[11]Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up [their voice], the villages that Kedar doth inhabit; let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains:

[12]let them give glory unto Jehovah, and declare his praise in the islands.

[13]Jehovah will go forth as a mighty man, he will stir up jealousy like a man of war: he will cry, yea, he will shout; he will shew himself mighty against his enemies.

[14]Long time have I holden my peace; I have been still, I have restrained myself: I will cry like a woman that travaileth; I will blow and pant at once.

[15]I will lay waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs; and I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools.

[16]And I will bring the blind by a way that they know not, in paths that they know not will I lead them; I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.

[17]They shall be turned back, they shall be covered with shame, that confide in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

[18]-- Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may see.

[19]Who is blind, but my servant? and deaf, as my messenger whom I sent? Who is blind as he in whom I have trusted, and blind as Jehovah's servant, [20]-- seeing many things, and thou observest not? With opened ears, he heareth not.

[21]Jehovah had delight [in him] for his righteousness' sake: he hath magnified the law, and made it honourable.

[22]But this is a people robbed and spoiled; they are all of them snared in holes, and hidden in prison-houses; they are become a prey, and none delivereth, -- a spoil, and none saith, Restore.

[23]Who among you will give ear to this, [who] will hearken and hear what is to come?

[24]Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? Did not Jehovah, he against whom we have sinned? And they would not walk in his ways, neither did they hearken unto his law.

[25]And he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle: and it set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he took it not to heart.

43 But now thus saith Jehovah, that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel: Fear not, for I have redeemed thee, I have called [thee] by thy name; thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the waters, I [will be] with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee; when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I [am] Jehovah thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

4 Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee; and I will give men for thee, and peoples for thy life.

5 Fear not, for I [am] with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west;

6 I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from afar, and my daughters from the end of the earth,

7 every one that is called by my name, and whom I have created for my glory: I have formed him, yea, I have made him.

8 Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples be assembled: who among them declareth this, or causeth us to hear former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified; or let them hear, and say, [It is] truth.

10 Ye are my witnesses, saith Jehovah, and my servant whom I have chosen; that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I [am] HE: before me there was no [God] formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, I [am] Jehovah; and besides me there is no saviour.

12 It is I that have declared, and have saved, and have shewed, when there was no strange [god] among you; and ye are my witnesses, saith Jehovah, that I [am] [God].

13 Yea, since the day was, I [am] HE, and there is none that delivereth out of my hand: I will work, and who shall hinder it?

14 Thus saith Jehovah, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and have brought all of them down as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, whose cry is in the ships.

15 I [am] Jehovah, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King.

16 Thus saith Jehovah, who maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters,

17 who bringeth forth chariot and horse, army and power -- they lie down together, they shall not rise; they are extinct, they are quenched as tow:

18 -- Remember not the former things, neither consider the ancient things:

19 behold, I do a new thing; now it shall spring forth: shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, rivers in the waste.

20 The beast of the field shall glorify me, the jackals and the ostriches; for I will give waters in the wilderness, rivers in the waste, to give drink to my people, my chosen.

21 This people have I formed for myself: they shall shew forth my praise.

22 -- But thou hast not called upon me, Jacob; for thou hast been weary of me, O Israel:

23 thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt-offerings, neither hast thou glorified me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to toil with an oblation, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices; but thou hast made me to toil with thy sins, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 -- I, I [am] He that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and I will not remember thy sins.

26 Put me in remembrance, let us plead together; rehearse thine own [cause], that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy mediators have rebelled against me.

28 And I have profaned the princes of the sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the ban, and Israel to reproaches.

44 And now hear, Jacob, my servant, and Israel, whom I have chosen:

2 thus saith Jehovah, that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, who helpeth thee, Fear not, Jacob, my servant, and thou, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground; I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring.

4 And they shall spring up among the grass, as willows by the water-courses.

5 One shall say, I am Jehovah's; and another shall call [himself] by the name of Jacob; and another shall write with his hand: [I am] Jehovah's, and surname [himself] by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith Jehovah, the King of Israel, and his Redeemer, Jehovah of hosts: I [am] the first, and I [am] the last, and beside me there is no God.

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? And the coming things, and those that shall happen, let them declare unto them.

[8]Fear not, neither be afraid. Have I not caused thee to hear from that time, and have declared it? and ye are my witnesses. Is there a +God beside me? yea, there is no Rock: I know not any.

[9]They that form a graven image are all of them vanity, and their delectable things are of no profit; and they are their own witnesses: they see not, nor know; -- that they may be ashamed.

[10]Who hath formed a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing?

[11]Behold, all his fellows shall be ashamed; and the workmen are but men. Let them all be gathered together, let them stand up: they shall fear, they shall be ashamed together.

[12]The iron-smith [hath] a chisel, and he worketh in the coals, and he fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with his strong arm; -- but he is hungry, and his strength faileth; he hath not drunk water, and he is faint.

[13]The worker in wood stretcheth out a line; he marketh it out with red chalk; he formeth it with sharp tools, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of man: that it may remain in the house.

[14]When he heweth him down cedars, he taketh also a holm-oak and a terebinth -- he chooseth for himself among the trees of the forest: he planteth a pine, and the rain maketh [it] grow.

[15]And it shall be for a man to burn, and he taketh thereof, and warmeth himself; he kindleth it also, and baketh bread; he maketh also a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto.

[16]He burneth part thereof in the fire; with part thereof he eateth flesh, he roasteth roast, and is satisfied; yea, he is warm, and saith, Aha, I am become warm, I have seen the fire.

[17]And with the remainder thereof he maketh a god, his graven image; he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me, for thou art my god.

[18]They have no knowledge, and understand not; for he hath plastered their eyes, that they may not see; and their hearts, that they may not understand.

[19]And none taketh it to heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire, and have also baked bread upon the coals thereof, I have roasted flesh, and eaten [it], and with the rest thereof shall I make an abomination? shall I bow down to a block of wood?

[20]He feedeth on ashes; a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

[21]Remember these things, O Jacob, and Israel, for thou art my servant; I have formed thee: thou art my servant, Israel; thou shalt not be forgotten of me.

22 I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee.

23 Sing, ye heavens; for Jehovah hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth; break forth into singing, ye mountains, the forest, and every tree therein! For Jehovah hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel.

24 Thus saith Jehovah, thy Redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb: I [am] Jehovah, the maker of all things; who alone stretched out the heavens, who did spread forth the earth by myself;

25 -- he that frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish;

26 that confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited; and to the cities of Judah, Ye shall be built up, and I will raise up their ruins;

27 that saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers;

28 that saith of Cyrus, [He is] my shepherd, and he shall perform all my pleasure; even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

45 Thus saith Jehovah to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him -- and I will loose the loins of kings; to open before him the two-leaved doors, and the gates shall not be shut:

2 I will go before thee, and make the elevated places plain; I will break in pieces the brazen doors, and cut asunder the bars of iron;

3 and I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places; that thou mayest know that I, Jehovah, who call thee by name, [am] the God of Israel.

4 For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have called thee by thy name; I surnamed thee, though thou didst not know me;

5 I [am] Jehovah, and there is none else; there is no God beside me: I girded thee, and thou hast not known me;

6 -- that they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the going down, that there is none beside me. I [am] Jehovah, and there is none else;

7 forming the light and creating darkness, making peace and creating evil: I, Jehovah, do all these things.

8 Drop down, [ye] heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness; let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and with it let righteousness spring up. I, Jehovah, have created it.

9 Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let a potsherd [strive] with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that formeth it, What makest thou? Or thy work, He hath no hands?

[10]Woe unto him that saith unto [his] father, What begettest thou? Or to [his] mother, What hast thou brought forth?

[11]Thus saith Jehovah, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker: Ask me of the things to come; concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands, command ye me.

[12]It is I that have made the earth, and created man upon it; it is I, my hands, that have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.

[13]It is I that have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make all his ways straight: he shall build my city, and he shall let go my captives, not for price nor reward, saith Jehovah of hosts.

[14]Thus saith Jehovah: The wealth of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia and the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall walk after thee; in chains they shall come over, and they shall bow down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, [saying,] Surely [God] is in thee; and there is none else, no other God. ...

[15]Verily thou art a [God] that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour. ...

[16]They shall be ashamed, and also confounded, all of them; they shall go away in confusion together, the makers of idols.

[17]Israel shall be saved by Jehovah with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded, unto the ages of ages.

[18]For thus saith Jehovah who created the heavens, God himself who formed the earth and made it, he who established it, -- not as waste did he create it: he formed it to be inhabited: -- I [am] Jehovah, and there is none else.

[19]I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth; I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek me in vain: I [am] Jehovah, speaking righteousness, declaring things which are right.

[20]Gather yourselves and come; draw near together, ye that are escaped of the nations. They have no knowledge that carry the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save.

[21]Declare and bring [them] near; yea, let them take counsel together: who hath caused this to be heard from ancient time? [who] hath declared it long ago? Is it not I, Jehovah? And there is no God else beside me; a just [God] and a Saviour, there is none besides me.

[22]Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I [am] [God], and there is none else.

[23]I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth [in] righteousness and shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.

[24]Only in Jehovah, shall one say, have I righteousness and strength. To him shall [men] come; and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

[25]In Jehovah shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

46 Bel is bowed down, Nebo bendeth; their idols are upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: the things ye carried are laid on, a burden to the weary [beast].

[2]They bend, they are bowed down together; they could not deliver the burden, and themselves are gone into captivity.

[3]Hearken unto me, house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, ye who have been borne from the belly, who have been carried from the womb:

[4]Even to old age, I [am] HE, and unto hoary hairs I will carry [you]: It is I that have made, and I will bear, and I will carry, and will deliver.

[5]To whom will ye liken me and make me equal, or compare me, that we may be like?

[6]-- They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance; they hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship.

[7]They bear him on the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place; there he standeth, he doth not remove from his place: yea, one crieth unto him, and he answereth not; he saveth him not out of his trouble.

[8]Remember this, and shew yourselves men; call it to mind, ye transgressors.

[9]Remember the former things of old; for I [am] [God], and there is none else; [I am] God, and there is none like me;

[10]declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure;

[11]calling a bird of prey from the east, the man of my counsel from a far country. Yea, I have spoken, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it.

[12]Hearken unto me, ye stout-hearted, that are far from righteousness:

[13]I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not delay; and I will give salvation in Zion, [and] unto Israel my glory.

47 Come down and sit in the dust, virgin-daughter of Babylon! Sit on the ground, -- [there is] no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans; for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.

[2]Take the millstones, and grind meal; remove thy veil, lift up the train, uncover the leg, pass over rivers:

[3]thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen. I will take vengeance, and I will meet none [to stay me]. ...

4 Our Redeemer, Jehovah of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Israel. ...

5 Sit silent, and get thee into darkness, daughter of the Chaldeans; for thou shalt no more be called, Mistress of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people, I polluted mine inheritance, and gave them into thy hand: thou didst shew them no mercy; upon the aged didst thou very heavily lay thy yoke;

7 and thou saidst, I shall be a mistress for ever; so that thou didst not take these things to heart, thou didst not remember the end thereof.

8 And now hear this, thou voluptuous one, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thy heart, It is I, and there is none but me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know loss of children:

9 yet these two things shall come upon thee in a moment, in one day, loss of children and widowhood; they shall come upon thee in full measure for the multitude of thy sorceries, for the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10 For thou hast confided in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath seduced thee; and thou hast said in thy heart, It is I, and there is none but me.

11 But evil shall come upon thee -- thou shalt not know from whence it riseth; and mischief shall fall upon thee, which thou shalt not be able to ward off; and desolation that thou suspectest not shall come upon thee suddenly.

12 Stand now with thine enchantments and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to turn them to profit, if so be thou mayest cause terror.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the interpreters of the heavens, the observers of the stars, who predict according to the new moons what shall come upon thee, stand up, and save thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble, the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, [nor] fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, they that trafficked with thee from thy youth: they shall wander every one to his own quarter; there is none to save thee.

48 Hear ye this, house of Jacob, who are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah, who swear by the name of Jehovah, and make mention of the God of Israel, not in truth, nor in righteousness.

[2]For they are named after the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel: Jehovah of hosts is his name.

[3]I have declared the former things long ago; and they went forth out of my mouth, and I caused them to be heard: I wrought suddenly, and they came to pass.

[4]Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass,

[5]so I have long ago declared [them] to thee; before they came to pass I caused thee to hear [them]; lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, or my molten image hath commanded them.

[6]Thou heardest, see all this; -- and ye, will not ye declare [it]? I have caused thee to hear new things from this time, and things hidden, and that thou knewest not:

[7]they are created now, and not long ago; and before this day thou hast not heard them, lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

[8]Yea, thou heardest not, yea, thou knewest not, yea, from of old thine ear was not opened; for I knew that thou wouldest ever deal treacherously, and thou wast called a transgressor from the womb.

[9]For my name's sake I will defer mine anger, and [for] my praise will I refrain as to thee, that I cut thee not off.

[10]Behold, I have refined thee, but not as silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

[11]For mine own sake, for mine own sake, will I do [it]; for how should [my name] be profaned? and I will not give my glory unto another.

[12]Hearken unto me, Jacob, and [thou] Israel, my called. I [am] HE; I, the first, and I, the last.

[13]Yea, my hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spread abroad the heavens: I call unto them, they stand up together.

[14]All ye, gather yourselves together, and hear: which among them hath declared these things? He whom Jehovah hath loved shall execute his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm [shall be on] the Chaldeans.

[15]I, [even] I, have spoken; yea, I have called him; I have brought him, and his way shall be prosperous.

[16]Come near unto me, hear ye this: I have not spoken in secret from the beginning; from the time that it was, there am I; and now the Lord Jehovah hath sent me, and his Spirit.

[17]Thus saith Jehovah, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel; I [am] Jehovah thy God, who teacheth thee for [thy] profit, who leadeth thee in the way that thou shouldest go.

[18]Oh that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! Then would thy peace have been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea;

19 and thy seed would have been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravel thereof: their name should not have been cut off nor destroyed from before me.

20 Go ye forth from Babylon, flee from the Chaldeans, with a voice of singing; declare, cause this to be heard, utter it to the end of the earth; say ye, Jehovah hath redeemed his servant Jacob.

21 And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts; he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them; yea, he clave the rock, and the waters gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith Jehovah, unto the wicked.

49 Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye peoples from afar. Jehovah hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, he hath concealed me under the shadow of his hand, and he hath made me a polished shaft: in his quiver hath he hidden me.

3 And he said unto me, Thou art my servant, Israel, in whom I will glorify myself.

4 -- And I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought and in vain; nevertheless my judgment is with Jehovah, and my work with my God.

5 And now, saith Jehovah, that formed me from the womb to be his servant, that I should bring Jacob again to him; (though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorified in the eyes of Jehovah, and my God shall be my strength;)

6 -- and he saith, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel; I have even given thee for a light of the nations, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith Jehovah, the Redeemer of Israel, his Holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to the servant of rulers: Kings shall see and arise, princes, and they shall worship, because of Jehovah who is faithful, the Holy One of Israel, who hath chosen thee.

8 Thus saith Jehovah: In a time of acceptance have I answered thee, and in the day of salvation have I helped thee; and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the land, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 saying to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pasture shall be on all bare hills.

10 They shall not hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor sun smite them; for he that hath mercy on them will lead them, and by the springs of water will he guide them.

[11]And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be raised up.

[12]Behold, these shall come from afar; and behold, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim.

[13]Shout, ye heavens; and be joyful, thou earth; and break forth into singing, ye mountains: for Jehovah hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted ones.

[14]But Zion said, Jehovah hath forsaken me, and the Lord hath forgotten me.

[15]Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Even these forget, but I will not forget thee.

[16]Lo, I have graven thee upon the palms of [my] hands; thy walls are continually before me.

[17]Thy sons shall make haste; thy destroyers and they that laid thee waste shall go forth from thee.

[18]Lift up thine eyes round about and behold: they all gather themselves together, they come to thee. As I live, saith Jehovah, thou shalt indeed clothe thee with them all as with an ornament, and bind them on as a bride doth.

[19]For [in] thy waste and thy desolate places, and thy destroyed land, thou shalt even now be too straitened by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away.

[20]The children of thy bereavement shall yet say in thine ears, The place is too narrow for me: make room for me, that I may dwell.

[21]And thou shalt say in thy heart, Who hath borne me these, seeing I had lost my children and was desolate, an exile, and driven about? and who hath brought up these? behold, I was left alone; these, where were they?

[22]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will lift up my hand to the nations, and set up my banner to the peoples; and they shall bring thy sons in [their] bosom, and thy daughters shall be carried upon the shoulder.

[23]And kings shall be thy nursing-fathers, and their princesses thy nursing-mothers: they shall bow down to thee with the face toward the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet. And thou shalt know that I [am] Jehovah; for they shall not be ashamed who wait on me.

[24]Shall the prey be taken from the mighty? and shall he that is rightfully captive be delivered?

[25]For thus saith Jehovah: Even the captive of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered; and I will strive with him that striveth with thee, and I will save thy children.

[26]And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with new wine. And all flesh shall know that I, Jehovah, [am] thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

50 Thus saith Jehovah: Where is the bill of your mother's divorce, whom I have put away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, through your iniquities have ye sold yourselves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away.

[2]Wherefore did I come, and there was no man? I called, and there was none to answer? Is my hand at all shortened that I cannot redeem, or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make rivers a wilderness; their fish stink because there is no water, and die for thirst.

[3]I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

[4]The Lord Jehovah hath given me the tongue of the instructed, that I should know how to succour by a word him that is weary. He wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the instructed.

[5]The Lord Jehovah hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious; I turned not away back.

[6]I gave my back to smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair; I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

[7]But the Lord Jehovah will help me: therefore shall I not be confounded; therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

[8]He is near that justifieth me: who will contend with me? let us stand together; who is mine adverse party? let him draw near unto me.

[9]Behold, the Lord Jehovah will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? Behold, they all shall grow old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up.

[10]Who is among you that feareth Jehovah, that hearkeneth to the voice of his servant? he that walketh in darkness, and hath no light, -- let him confide in the name of Jehovah, and stay himself upon his God.

[11]Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and among the sparks [that] ye have kindled. This shall ye have of my hand: ye shall lie down in sorrow.

51 Hearken unto me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek Jehovah: look unto the rock [whence] ye were hewn, and to the hole of the pit [whence] ye were digged.

[2]Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bore you; for I called him when he was alone, and blessed him, and multiplied him.

[3]For Jehovah shall comfort Zion, he shall comfort all her waste places; and he will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of Jehovah: gladness and joy shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of song.

[4]Listen unto me, my people; and give ear unto me, my nation: for a law shall proceed from me, and I will establish my judgment for a light of the peoples.

[5]My righteousness is near, my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the peoples: the isles shall wait for me, and in mine arm shall they trust.

[6]Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look on the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall grow old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner; but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

[7]Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear not the reproach of men, and be not afraid of their revilings.

[8]For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool; but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.

[9]Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of Jehovah; awake, as in the days of old, [as in] the generations of passed ages. Is it not thou that hath hewn Rahab in pieces, [and] pierced the monster?

[10]Is it not thou that dried up the sea, the waters of the great deep; that made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over?

[11]So the ransomed of Jehovah shall return, and come to Zion with singing; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy; sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

[12]I, [even] I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou fearest a man that shall die, and the son of man that shall become as grass;

[13]and forgettest Jehovah thy Maker, who hath stretched out the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and thou art afraid continually all the day because of the fury of the oppressor, when he prepareth to destroy? And where is the fury of the oppressor?

[14]He that is bowed down shall speedily be loosed, and he shall not die in the pit, nor shall his bread fail.

[15]And I am Jehovah thy God, who raiseth the sea, so that its waves roar: Jehovah of hosts is his name.

[16]And I have put my words in thy mouth, and covered thee with the shadow of my hand, to plant the heavens, and to lay the foundations of the earth, and to say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

[17]Arouse thyself, arouse thyself, stand up, Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of Jehovah the cup of his fury. Thou hast drunk, hast drained out the goblet-cup of bewilderment:

18 -- there is none to guide her among all the children that she hath brought forth; neither is there any to take her by the hand of all the children that she hath brought up.

19 These two [things] are come unto thee; who will bemoan thee? -- desolation and destruction, and famine and sword: how shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy children have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as an oryx in a net: they are full of the fury of Jehovah, the rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine:

22 thus saith thy Lord, Jehovah, and thy God, who pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I take out of thy hand the cup of bewilderment, the goblet-cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again:

23 and I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; who have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over; and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street to them that went over.

52 Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

2 Shake thyself from the dust; arise, sit down, Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus saith Jehovah: Ye have sold yourselves for nought, and ye shall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: My people went down at the first into Egypt to sojourn there, and Assyria oppressed them without cause;

5 and now, what have I here, saith Jehovah, that my people hath been taken away for nought? They that rule over them make them to howl, saith Jehovah; and continually all the day is my name scorned.

6 Therefore my people shall know my name; therefore [they shall know] in that day that I [am] HE, that saith, Here am I.

7 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that announceth glad tidings, that publisheth peace; that announceth glad tidings of good, that publisheth salvation, that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 -- The voice of thy watchmen, they lift up the voice, they sing aloud together; for they shall see eye to eye, when Jehovah shall bring again Zion.

9 Break forth, sing aloud together, waste places of Jerusalem; for Jehovah comforteth his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 Jehovah hath made bare his holy arm in the sight of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

11 -- Depart, depart, go out from thence, touch not what is unclean; go out of the midst of her, be ye clean, that bear the vessels of Jehovah.

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight; for Jehovah will go before you, and the God of Israel will be your rear-guard.

13 Behold, my servant shall deal prudently; he shall be exalted and be lifted up, and be very high.

14 As many were astonished at thee -- his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the children of men

15 -- so shall he astonish many nations; kings shall shut their mouths at him: for what had not been told them shall they see, and what they had not heard shall they consider.

53 Who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of Jehovah been revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender sapling, and as a root out of dry ground: he hath no form nor lordliness, and when we see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He is despised and left alone of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief, and like one from whom [men] hide their faces; -- despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows; and we, we did regard him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray, we have turned every one to his own way; and Jehovah hath laid upon him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, but he opened not his mouth; he was led as a lamb to the slaughter, and was as a sheep dumb before her shearers, and he opened not his mouth.

8 He was taken from oppression and from judgment; and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living; for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

9 And [men] appointed his grave with the wicked, but he was with the rich in his death, because he had done no violence, neither was there guile in his mouth.

10 Yet it pleased Jehovah to bruise him; he hath subjected [him] to suffering. When thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see a seed, he shall prolong [his] days, and the pleasure of Jehovah shall prosper in his hand.

11 He shall see of [the fruit of] the travail of his soul, [and] shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant instruct many in righteousness; and he shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I assign him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong: because he hath poured out his soul unto death, and was reckoned with the transgressors; and he bore the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

54 Exult, thou barren, that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and shout for joy, thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife, saith Jehovah.

2 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thy habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt spread abroad on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall possess nations, and they shall make desolate cities to be inhabited.

4 Fear not, for thou shalt not be ashamed; neither be thou confounded, for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.

5 For thy Maker is thy husband: Jehovah of hosts is his name, and thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: the God of the whole earth shall he be called.

6 For Jehovah hath called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, and as a wife of youth, that hath been refused, saith thy God.

7 For a small moment have I forsaken thee; but with great mercies will I gather thee.

8 In the outpouring of wrath have I hid my face from thee for a moment; but with everlasting loving-kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith Jehovah, thy Redeemer.

9 For this is [as] the waters of Noah unto me, since I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth: so have I sworn that I will no more be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my loving-kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall my covenant of peace be removed, saith Jehovah, that hath mercy on thee.

11 [Thou] afflicted, tossed with tempest, not comforted! Behold, I will set thy stones in antimony, and lay thy foundations with sapphires;

12 and I will make thy battlements of rubies, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy borders of precious stones.

[13]And all thy children [shall be] taught of Jehovah, and great shall be the peace of thy children.

[14]In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from terror, for it shall not come near thee.

[15]Behold, they shall surely gather together, [but] not by me: whosoever gathereth together against thee shall fall because of thee.

[16]Behold, it is I who have created the smith that bloweth in the fire of coal, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work; and I have created the destroyer to ravage.

[17]No weapon that is prepared against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that riseth against thee in judgment, thou shalt condemn. This is the inheritance of the servants of Jehovah; and their righteousness is of me, saith Jehovah.

55Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters; and he that hath no money, come ye, buy, and eat: yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price!

[2]Wherefore do ye spend money for [that which is] not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? Hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye [that which is] good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

[3]Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, the sure mercies of David.

[4]Behold, I have given him [for] a witness to the peoples, a prince and commander to the peoples.

[5]Behold, thou shalt call a nation thou knowest not, and a nation [that] knew not thee shall run unto thee, because of Jehovah thy God, and the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee.

[6]Seek ye Jehovah while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.

[7]Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto Jehovah, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

[8]For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith Jehovah.

[9]For [as] the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

[10]For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater:

[11]so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall do that which I please, and it shall accomplish that for which I send it.

12For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace; the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13Instead of the thorn shall come up the cypress, and instead of the nettle shall come up the myrtle; and it shall be to Jehovah for a name, for an everlasting sign [that] shall not be cut off.

56 Thus saith Jehovah: Keep ye judgment and do righteousness; for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

2Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that holdeth fast to it; that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3And let not the son of the alien, that hath joined himself to Jehovah, speak saying, Jehovah hath entirely separated me from his people; neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree;

4for thus saith Jehovah: Unto the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and hold fast to my covenant, 5even unto them will I give in my house and within my walls a place and a name better than of sons and daughters; I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6Also the sons of the alien, that join themselves to Jehovah, to minister unto him and to love the name of Jehovah, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and holdeth fast to my covenant;

7even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer; their burnt-offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar: for my house shall be called a house of prayer for all the peoples.

8The Lord Jehovah, who gathereth the outcasts of Israel, saith: Yet will I gather [others] to him, with those of his that are gathered.

9All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, all ye beasts in the forest.

10His watchmen are all of them blind, they are without knowledge; they are all dumb dogs that cannot bark, dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber:

11and the dogs are greedy, they know not to be satisfied, and these are shepherds that know not how to discern: they all turn to their own way, every one for his gain, even to the last of them:

12Come, [say they,] I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to-morrow shall be as this day, [and] much more abundant.

57 The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart; and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from before the evil.

[2]He entereth into peace: they rest in their beds, [each one] that hath walked in his uprightness.

[3]But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the adulterer and the harlot.

[4]Against whom do ye sport yourselves? Against whom do ye make a wide mouth, [and] draw out the tongue? Are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood,

[5]inflaming yourselves with idols under every green tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the clefts of the rocks?

[6]Among the smooth [stones] of the torrent is thy portion; they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured out a drink-offering, thou hast offered an oblation. Shall I be comforted myself as to these things?

[7]Upon a lofty and high mountain hast thou set thy bed: even thither didst thou go up to offer sacrifice.

[8]Behind the doors also and the posts hast thou set up thy remembrance: for apart from me, thou hast uncovered thyself, and art gone up; thou hast enlarged thy bed, and hast made agreement with them; thou lovedst their bed, thou sawest their nakedness.

[9]And thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst multiply thy perfumes, and didst send thy messengers afar off, and didst debase thyself unto Sheol.

[10]Thou wast wearied by the multitude of thy ways; [but] thou saidst not, It is of no avail. Thou didst find a quickening of thy strength; therefore thou wast not sick [of it].

[11]And of whom hast thou been afraid or feared, that thou hast lied, and hast not remembered me, nor taken it to heart? Have not I even of long time held my peace, and thou fearest me not?

[12]I will declare thy righteousness, and thy works; and they shall not profit thee.

[13]When thou criest, let them that are gathered by thee deliver thee! But a wind shall carry them all away, a breath shall take them; but he that putteth his trust in me shall inherit the land, and possess my holy mountain.

[14]And it shall be said, Cast up, cast up, prepare the way, take up the stumbling-blocks out of the way of my people.

[15]For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, and whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy [place], and with him that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

[16]For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth; for the spirit would fail before me, and the souls [which] I have made.

17For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him; I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on backslidingly in the way of his heart.

18I have seen his ways, and will heal him; and I will lead him, and will restore comforts unto him and to those of his that mourn.

19I create the fruit of the lips: peace, peace to him [that is] afar off, and to him [that is] nigh, saith Jehovah; and I will heal him.

20But the wicked are like the troubled sea, which cannot rest, and whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

58 Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and declare unto my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins.

2Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that doeth righteousness, and hath not forsaken the ordinance of their God; they ask of me the ordinances of righteousness, they take delight in approaching to God:

3-- Wherefore have we fasted, and thou seest not; have afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find what pleaseth [you], and exact all your labours.

4Behold, ye have fasted for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness; ye do not at present fast, to cause your voice to be heard on high.

5Is such the fast that I have chosen, a day for a man to afflict his soul, -- that he should bow down his head as a bulrush, and spread sackcloth and ashes [under him]? Wilt thou call this a fast, and a day acceptable to Jehovah?

6Is not this the fast which I have chosen: to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the thongs of the yoke, and to send forth free the crushed, and that ye break every yoke?

7Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring to thy house the needy wanderers; when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?

8Then shall thy light break forth as the dawn, and thy health shall spring forth speedily; and thy righteousness shall go before thee, the glory of Jehovah shall be thy rearguard.

9Then shalt thou call, and Jehovah will answer; thou shalt cry, and he will say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger and the unjust speech,

10and thou proffer thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul: then shall thy light rise in the darkness, and thine obscurity be as midday;

[11]and Jehovah will guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and strengthen thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a water-spring, whose waters deceive not.

[12]And they [that come] of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations [that have remained] from generation to generation; and thou shalt be called, Repairer of the breaches, restorer of frequented paths.

[13]If thou turn back thy foot from the sabbath, [from] doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the sabbath a delight, the holy [day] of Jehovah, honourable; and thou honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking [idle] words;

[14]then shalt thou delight thyself in Jehovah, and I will cause thee to ride on the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken.

59 Behold, Jehovah's hand is not shortened that it cannot save, neither his ear heavy that it cannot hear;

[2]but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid [his] face from you, that he doth not hear.

[3]For your hands are stained with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips speak lies, your tongue muttereth unrighteousness:

[4]none calleth for justice, none pleadeth in truthfulness. They trust in vanity, and speak falsehood; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

[5]They hatch serpents' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.

[6]Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works; their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

[7]Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood; their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths;

[8]the way of peace they know not, and there is no judgment in their goings; they have made their paths crooked: whoso goeth therein knoweth not peace.

[9]Therefore is justice far from us, and righteousness overtaketh us not: we wait for light, and behold darkness; for brightness, [but] we walk in obscurity.

[10]We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as if we had no eyes: we stumble at midday as in the twilight; amongst the flourishing we are as the dead.

[11]We roar all like bears, and mourn grievously like doves: we look for judgment, and there is none; for salvation, [but] it is far from us.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us;
and our iniquities, we know them:

13 in transgressing and lying against Jehovah, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.

14 And judgment is turned away backward, and righteousness standeth afar off; for truth stumbleth in the street, and uprightness cannot enter.

15 And truth faileth; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey. And Jehovah saw [it], and it was evil in his sight that there was no judgment.

16 And he saw that there was no man, and he wondered that there was no intercessor; and his arm brought him salvation, and his righteousness, it sustained him.

17 And he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and a helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on garments of vengeance [for] clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloak.

18 According to deeds, so will he repay:
fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompence.

19 And they shall fear the name of Jehovah from the west, and from the rising of the sun, his glory. When the adversary shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of Jehovah will lift up a banner against him.

20 And the Redeemer will come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith Jehovah.

21 And as for me, this is my covenant with them, saith Jehovah: My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith Jehovah, from henceforth and for ever.

60 Arise, shine! for thy light is come, and the glory of Jehovah is risen upon thee.

2 For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the peoples; but Jehovah will arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen on thee.

3 And the nations shall walk by thy light, and kings by the brightness of thy rising.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and see:
all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons come from afar, and thy daughters are carried upon the side.

5 Then thou shalt see, and shalt be brightened, and thy heart shall throb, and be enlarged; for the abundance of the sea shall be turned unto thee, the wealth of the nations shall come unto thee.

[6]A multitude of camels shall cover thee, young camels of Midian and Ephah; all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense; and they shall publish the praises of Jehovah.

[7]All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered unto thee, the rams of Nebaioth shall serve thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will beautify the house of my magnificence.

[8]Who are these that come flying as a cloud, and as doves to their dove-cotes?

[9]For the isles shall await me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from afar, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of Jehovah thy God, and to the Holy One of Israel, for he hath glorified thee.

[10]And the sons of the alien shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee. For in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

[11]And thy gates shall stand open continually: (they shall not be shut day nor night,) that the wealth of the nations may be brought unto thee, and that their kings may be led [to thee].

[12]For the nation and the kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; and those nations shall be utterly wasted.

[13]The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the cypress, pine, and box-tree together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

[14]And the children of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee The city of Jehovah, the Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

[15]Instead of thy being forsaken and hated, so that no one went through [thee], I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy from generation to generation.

[16]And thou shalt suck the milk of the nations, and shalt suck the breast of kings; and thou shalt know that I, Jehovah, [am] thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

[17]For bronze I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood bronze, and for stones iron; and I will make thine officers peace, and thy rulers righteousness.

[18]Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise.

[19]The sun shall be no more thy light by day, neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee; but Jehovah shall be thine everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

[20]Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself; for Jehovah shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous:
they shall possess the land for ever -- the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

22 The little one shall become a thousand,
and the smallest a mighty nation: I,
Jehovah, will hasten it in its time.

61 The Spirit of the Lord Jehovah is upon me, because Jehovah hath anointed me to announce glad tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and opening of the prison to them that are bound;

2 to proclaim the acceptable year of Jehovah, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn;

3 to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, that beauty should be given unto them instead of ashes, the oil of joy instead of mourning, the garment of praise instead of the spirit of heaviness: that they might be called terebinths of righteousness, the planting of Jehovah, that he may be glorified.

4 And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the places desolate from generation to generation.

5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your ploughmen and your vinedressers.

6 But as for you, ye shall be called priests of Jehovah; it shall be said of you:
Ministers of our God. Ye shall eat the wealth of the nations, and into their glory shall ye enter.

7 Instead of your shame [ye shall have] double; instead of confusion they shall celebrate with joy their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double; everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For I, Jehovah, love judgment, I hate robbery with wrong; and I will give their recompence in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the nations, and their offspring among the peoples: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are a seed that Jehovah hath blessed.

10 I will greatly rejoice in Jehovah, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with the priestly turban, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as a garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth, so the Lord Jehovah will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

62 For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not be still, until her righteousness go forth as brightness, and her salvation as a torch that burneth.

[2]And the nations shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory; and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of Jehovah will name.

[3]And thou shalt be a crown of beauty in the hand of Jehovah, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

[4]Thou shalt no more be termed, Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed, Desolate: but thou shalt be called, My delight is in her, and thy land, Married; for Jehovah delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married.

[5]For [as] a young man marrieth a virgin, shall thy sons marry thee; and with the joy of the bridegroom over the bride, shall thy God rejoice over thee.

[6]I have set watchmen upon thy walls, Jerusalem; all the day and all the night they shall never hold their peace: ye that put Jehovah in remembrance, keep not silence,

[7]and give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

[8]Jehovah hath sworn by his right hand and by the arm of his strength, I will indeed no more give thy corn [to be] food for thine enemies; and the sons of the alien shall not drink thy new wine, for which thou hast laboured;

[9]for they that have garnered it shall eat it, and praise Jehovah; and they that have gathered it shall drink it in the courts of my holiness.

[10]Go through, go through the gates; prepare the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up a banner for the peoples.

[11]Behold, Jehovah hath proclaimed unto the end of the earth, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his recompence before him.

[12]And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of Jehovah; and thou shalt be called, The sought out, The city not forsaken.

63 Who is this that cometh from Edom, with deep-red garments from Bozrah, this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? -- I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.

[2]-- Wherefore is redness in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winevat?

[3]I have trodden the winepress alone, and of the peoples not a man was with me; and I have trodden them in mine anger, and trampled them in my fury; and their blood is sprinkled upon my garments, and I have stained all mine apparel.

[4]For the day of vengeance was in my heart, and the year of my redeemed had come.

[5]And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: and mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.

[6]And I have trodden down the peoples in mine anger, and made them drunk in my fury; and their blood have I brought down to the earth.

[7]I will record the loving-kindnesses of Jehovah, the praises of Jehovah, according to all that Jehovah hath bestowed upon us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel which he hath bestowed upon them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving-kindnesses.

[8]And he said, They are indeed my people, children that will not lie; and he became their Saviour.

[9]In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the Angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bore them and carried them all the days of old.

[10]But they rebelled and grieved his holy Spirit: and he turned to be their enemy; himself, he fought against them.

[11]But he remembered the days of old, Moses [and] his people: Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherds of his flock? Where is he that put his holy Spirit within him,

[12]his glorious arm leading them by the right hand of Moses, dividing the waters before them, to make himself an everlasting name, [13]-- who led them through the depths, like a horse in the wilderness, [and] they stumbled not?

[14]As cattle go down into the valley, the Spirit of Jehovah gave them rest; so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name.

[15]Look down from the heavens, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory! Where is thy zeal and thy strength, the sounding of thy bowels and of thy tender mercies? Are they restrained toward me?

[16]For thou art our Father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not: thou, Jehovah, art our Father; our Redeemer, from everlasting, is thy name.

[17]Why, O Jehovah, hast thou made us to err from thy ways, hast hardened our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance.

[18]Thy holy people have possessed [it] but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary.

[19]We have become [like those] over whom thou never barest rule, those not called by thy name.

64 Oh, that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, -- that the mountains might flow down at thy presence,

2 -- as fire kindleth brushwood, as the fire causeth water to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations might tremble at thy presence!

3 When thou didst terrible things [which] we looked not for, thou camest down, and the mountains flowed down at thy presence.

4 Never have [men] heard, nor perceived by the ear, nor hath eye seen a God beside thee, who acteth for him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou meetest him that rejoiceth to do righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: (behold, thou wast wroth, and we have sinned:) in those is perpetuity, and we shall be saved.

6 And we are all become as an unclean [thing], and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all fade as a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, have carried us away;

7 and there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee; for thou hast hidden thy face from us, and hast caused us to melt away through our iniquities.

8 And now, Jehovah, thou art our Father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand.

9 Be not wroth very sore, O Jehovah, neither remember iniquity for ever. Behold, see, we beseech thee, we are all thy people.

10 Thy holy cities are become a wilderness, Zion is a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burnt up with fire, and all our precious things are laid waste.

12 Wilt thou restrain thyself in presence of these things, Jehovah? Wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

65 I am sought out of them that inquired not [for me], I am found of them that sought me not; I have said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.

2 I have stretched out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, who walk in a way not good, after their own thoughts;

3 the people that provoke me to anger continually to my face, sacrificing in gardens and burning incense upon the bricks;

4 who sit down among the graves, and lodge in the secret places; who eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things [is in] their vessels;

5 who say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me; for I am holier than thou.

These are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day.

[6]Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosom,

[7]your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith Jehovah, who have burned incense upon the mountains, and outraged me upon the hills; and I will measure their former work into their bosom.

[8]Thus saith Jehovah: As the new wine is found in the cluster, and it is said, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it; so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy [them] all.

[9]And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah a possessor of my mountains; and mine elect shall possess it, and my servants shall dwell there.

[10]And the Sharon shall be a fold for flocks, and the valley of Achor a couching-place of the herds, for my people that have sought me.

[11]But ye who forsake Jehovah, who forget my holy mountain, who prepare a table for Gad, and fill up mixed wine unto Meni:

[12]I will even assign you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down in the slaughter; because I called, and ye did not answer, I spoke, and ye did not hear; but ye did what was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delight not.

[13]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, my servants shall eat, and ye shall be hungry; behold, my servants shall drink, and ye shall be thirsty; behold, my servants shall rejoice, and ye shall be ashamed;

[14]behold, my servants shall sing aloud for gladness of heart, and ye shall cry out for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit.

[15]And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto mine elect; for the Lord Jehovah will slay thee, and will call his servants by another name:

[16]so that he who blesseth himself in the land shall bless himself by the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the land shall swear by the God of truth: because the former troubles shall be forgotten, and because they shall be hidden from mine eyes.

[17]For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

[18]But be glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create. For behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

[19]And I will rejoice over Jerusalem, and will joy in my people; and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

[20]There shall be no more thenceforth an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not completed his days; for the youth shall die a hundred years old, and the sinner being a hundred years old shall be accursed.

[21]And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof:

[22]they shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree shall be the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

[23]They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for terror; for they are the seed of the blessed of Jehovah, and their offspring with them.

[24]And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; while they are yet speaking, I will hear.

[25]The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox; and dust shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith Jehovah.

66 Thus saith Jehovah: The heavens are my throne, and the earth is my footstool: what is the house that ye will build unto me? and what is the place of my rest?

[2]Even all these things hath my hand made, and all these things have been, saith Jehovah. But to this man will I look: to the afflicted and contrite in spirit, and who trembleth at my word.

[3]He that slaughtereth an ox, smiteth a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, breaketh a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, [it is as] swine's blood; he that presenteth a memorial of incense, [is as] he that blesseth an idol. As they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations,

[4]I also will choose their calamities, and will bring their fears upon them; because I called, and none answered, I spoke, and they did not hear, but did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delight not.

[5]Hear the word of Jehovah, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my name's sake, said, Let Jehovah be glorified, and let us see your joy! but they shall be ashamed.

[6]A voice of tumult from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of Jehovah that rendereth recompence to his enemies!

[7]Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man-child.

[8]Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Can a land be made to bring forth in one day? shall a nation be born at once? For as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her sons.

[9]Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith Jehovah; I who cause to bring forth, shall I shut [the womb]? saith thy God.

[10]Rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all ye that love her; rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn over her:

[11]because ye shall suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; because ye shall drink out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory.

[12]For thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing torrent; and ye shall suck, ye shall be carried upon the side, and be dandled upon the knees.

[13]As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

[14]And ye shall see [this], and your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like the grass; and the hand of Jehovah shall be known toward his servants, and he will have indignation toward his enemies.

[15]For behold, Jehovah will come with fire, and his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

[16]For by fire and by his sword will Jehovah enter into judgment with all flesh: and the slain of Jehovah shall be many.

[17]They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens behind one in the midst; that eat swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse, shall perish together, saith Jehovah.

[18]And I, -- their works and their thoughts [are before me]. ... [The time] cometh for the gathering of all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and see my glory.

[19]And I will set a sign among them, and I will send those that escape of them unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bow; to Tubal and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory: and they shall declare my glory among the nations.

[20]And they shall bring all your brethren out of all the nations as an oblation unto Jehovah, upon horses, and in chariots, and in covered waggons, and upon mules, and upon dromedaries, to my holy mountain, to Jerusalem, saith Jehovah, as the children of Israel bring an oblation in a clean vessel into the house of Jehovah.

[21]And I will also take of them for priests [and] for Levites, saith Jehovah.

[22]For as the new heavens and the new earth which I will make shall remain before me, saith Jehovah, so shall your seed and your name remain.

[23]And it shall come to pass from new moon to new moon, and from sabbath to sabbath, all flesh shall come to worship before me, saith Jehovah.

[24]And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorrence unto all flesh.

Jeremiah

1 The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkijah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin:

2 to whom the word of Jehovah came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign;

3 it came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive, in the fifth month.

4 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

5 Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I hallowed thee, I appointed thee a prophet unto the nations.

6 And I said, Alas, Lord Jehovah! behold, I cannot speak; for I am a child.

7 But Jehovah said unto me, Say not, I am a child; for thou shalt go to whomsoever I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.

8 Be not afraid of them; for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith Jehovah.

9 And Jehovah put forth his hand and touched my mouth; and Jehovah said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up, and to break down, and to destroy, and to overthrow, to build and to plant.

11 And the word of Jehovah came to me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond-tree.

12 And Jehovah said unto me, Thou hast well seen; for I am watchful over my word to perform it.

13 And the word of Jehovah came to me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething-pot, and its face is from the north.

14 And Jehovah said unto me, Out of the north shall evil break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For behold, I am calling all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith Jehovah, and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah:

16 and I will pronounce my judgments against them for all their wickedness, in that they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 Thou, therefore, gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I shall command thee: be not dismayed at them, lest I cause thee to be dismayed before them.

18 And I, behold, I appoint thee this day as a strong city, and an iron pillar, and brazen walls, against the whole land; against the kings of Judah, against its princes, against its priests, and against the people of the land.

19 And they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith Jehovah, to deliver thee.

2 And the word of Jehovah came to me, saying,

2 Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: I remember for thee the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land not sown.

3 Israel was holiness unto Jehovah, the first-fruits of his increase: all that devour him are guilty; evil shall come upon them, saith Jehovah.

4 Hear the word of Jehovah, house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith Jehovah: What injustice have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and become vain?

6 And they said not, Where is Jehovah, that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us in the wilderness, in a land of deserts and of pits, in a land of drought and of the shadow of death, in a land that no one passeth through, and where no man dwelleth?

7 And I brought you into a fruitful land, to eat the fruit thereof and the good thereof; and ye entered and defiled my land, and made my heritage an abomination.

8 The priests said not, Where is Jehovah? and they that handled the law knew me not; and the shepherds transgressed against me; and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after [things that] do not profit.

9 Therefore will I yet plead with you, saith Jehovah, and with your children's children will I plead.

10 For pass over to the isles of Chittim, and see; and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently, and see if there have been such a thing.

11 Hath a nation changed [its] gods? and they are no gods; -- but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.

12 Be astonished, ye heavens, at this, and shudder; be amazed very much, saith Jehovah.

13 For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, to hew them out cisterns, broken cisterns that hold no water.

[14]Is Israel a bondman? Is he a home-born [slave]? Why is he become a spoil?

[15]The young lions roared against him, they gave forth their voice, and they made his land desolate: his cities are burned, without inhabitant.

[16]Even the children of Noph and Tahapanes have fed on the crown of thy head.

[17]Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken Jehovah thy God, at the time he was leading thee in the way?

[18]And now, what hast thou to do with the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Shihor? And what hast thou to do with the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the River?

[19]Thine own wickedness chastiseth thee, and thy backslidings reprove thee: know then and see that it is an evil thing and bitter that thou hast forsaken Jehovah thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts.

[20]For of old thou hast broken thy yoke, [and] burst thy bands; and thou saidst, I will not serve. For upon every high hill, and under every green tree, thou bowest down, playing the harlot.

[21]And I, -- I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed; how then art thou turned into the degenerate shoots of a strange vine unto me?

[22]For though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much potash, thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[23]How sayest thou, I am not defiled, I have not gone after the Baals? See thy way in the valley, acknowledge what thou hast done -- a swift dromedary traversing her ways!

[24]-- a wild ass, used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind in her desire! In her ardour, who shall turn her away? All they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her month they shall find her.

[25]Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst. But thou saidst, There is no hope; no, for I love strangers, and after them will I go.

[26]As a thief is ashamed when he is found, so shall the house of Israel be ashamed -- they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets --

[27]saying to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth; for they have turned the back unto me, and not the face; and in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us!

[28]Where then are thy gods that thou hast made for thyself? let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for as the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Wherefore would ye contend with me? Ye all have transgressed against me, saith Jehovah.

30 In vain have I smitten your children: they received no correction. Your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion.

31 O generation, mark ye the word of Jehovah. Have I been a wilderness unto Israel, or a land of thick darkness? Wherefore say my people, We have dominion; we will come no more unto thee?

32 Doth a virgin forget her ornaments, a bride her attire? But my people have forgotten me days without number.

33 How dost thou trim thy way to seek love! Therefore hast thou also accustomed thy ways to wickedness.

34 Yea, in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the innocent poor, whom thou didst not encounter breaking in, but [it is found] upon all these.

35 And thou sayest, Indeed I am innocent; his anger will turn from me. Behold, I will enter into judgment with thee because thou sayest, I have not sinned.

36 Why dost thou gad about so much, and change thy way? Thou shalt also be brought to shame by Egypt, as thou wast brought to shame by Assyria.

37 Thou shalt indeed go forth from her with thy hands upon thy head; for Jehovah hath rejected those thou confidest in, and thou shalt not prosper by them.

3 They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? Would not that land be utterly polluted? But thou hast committed fornication with many lovers; yet return to me, saith Jehovah.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the heights and see, where hast thou not been lain with? In the ways hast thou sat for them, as an Arab in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy fornications and with thy wickedness.

3 And the showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain; but thou hast a harlot's forehead, thou refusest to be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keep [his anger] for ever? Will he preserve it perpetually? Behold, thou hast spoken and hast done evil things, and thou art [so] determined.

6 And Jehovah said unto me in the days of Josiah the king, Hast thou seen what backsliding Israel hath done? She hath gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath committed fornication.

[7]And I said, After she hath done all these [things], she will return unto me; but she returned not. And her sister Judah, the treacherous, saw [it].

[8]And I saw that when for all the causes wherein backsliding Israel committed adultery I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce, yet the treacherous Judah, her sister, feared not, but went and committed fornication also.

[9]And it came to pass through the lightness of her fornication that she polluted the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.

[10]And even for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not returned unto me with her whole heart, but with falsehood, saith Jehovah.

[11]And Jehovah said unto me, Backsliding Israel hath shewn herself more just than treacherous Judah.

[12]Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith Jehovah: I will not make my face dark upon you; for I am merciful, saith Jehovah; I will not keep [anger] for ever.

[13]Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against Jehovah thy God, and hast turned thy ways hither and thither to the strangers under every green tree; and ye have not hearkened to my voice, saith Jehovah.

[14]Return, backsliding children, saith Jehovah; for I am a husband unto you, and I will take you, one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion.

[15]And I will give you shepherds according to my heart, and they shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.

[16]And it shall come to pass, when ye are multiplied in the land and become fruitful, in those days, saith Jehovah, they shall say no more, Ark of the covenant of Jehovah! neither shall it come to mind, nor shall they remember it, nor shall they visit [it]; neither shall it be done any more.

[17]At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of Jehovah; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of Jehovah, to Jerusalem; and they shall no more walk after the stubbornness of their evil heart.

[18]In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel; and they shall come together out of the land of the north, to the land which I caused your fathers to inherit.

[19]And as for me, I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee the pleasant land, the goodly inheritance of the hosts of the nations? And I said, Thou shalt call me, My father; and shalt not turn away from following me.

[20]Surely [as] a woman treacherously departeth from her companion, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith Jehovah.

21 A voice is heard upon the heights, the weeping supplications of the children of Israel; for they have perverted their way, they have forgotten Jehovah their God.

22 -- Return, backsliding children; I will heal your backslidings. ... Behold, we come unto thee; for thou art Jehovah our God.

23 Truly in vain [is salvation looked for] from the hills, [and] the multitude of mountains; truly in Jehovah our God is the salvation of Israel.

24 But shame hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us; for we have sinned against Jehovah our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not hearkened to the voice of Jehovah our God.

4 If thou wilt return, O Israel, saith Jehovah, return unto me; and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not be a wanderer;

2 -- and thou shalt in truth, in justice, and in righteousness swear, [As] Jehovah liveth! and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.

3 For thus saith Jehovah to the men of Judah and Jerusalem: Break up for you a fallow ground, and sow not among thorns.

4 Circumcise yourselves for Jehovah, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my fury come forth like fire and burn, and there be none to quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5 Declare ye in Judah, and cause it to be heard in Jerusalem, and say, ... and blow the trumpet in the land, cry aloud and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the fenced cities.

6 Set up a banner toward Zion; take to flight, stay not! For I am bringing evil from the north, and a great destruction.

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, the destroyer of the nations is on his way; he is gone forth from his place, to make thy land desolate; thy cities shall be laid waste, without inhabitant.

8 For this, gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl! for the fierce anger of Jehovah is not turned away from us.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith Jehovah, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall be amazed.

10 And I said, Alas, Lord Jehovah! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A hot wind [cometh] from the heights in the wilderness, on the way of the daughter of my people, not for fanning, nor for cleansing.

12 A wind more vehement than that shall come from me: now will I also pronounce judgments against them.

13 Behold, he cometh up as clouds, and his chariots are as a whirlwind; his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are destroyed.

14 Wash thy heart, Jerusalem, from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Inform the nations; behold, make Jerusalem to hear: Besiegers come from a far country, and raise their voice against the cities of Judah.

17 As keepers of a field are they against her round about; for she hath been rebellious against me, saith Jehovah.

18 Thy way and thy doings have procured these [things] unto thee; this is thy wickedness, yea, it is bitter, yea, it reacheth unto thy heart.

19 My bowels! my bowels! I am in travail! [Oh,] the walls of my heart! My heart maketh a noise in me; I cannot hold my peace: for thou hearest, my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the clamour of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is proclaimed; for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tents laid waste, my curtains, in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, [and] hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have no intelligence; they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and lo, it was waste and empty; and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills shook violently.

25 I beheld, and lo, man was not, and all the fowl of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitful land was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down, before Jehovah, before his fierce anger.

27 For thus saith Jehovah: The whole land shall be a desolation; but I will not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black; because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back therefrom.

29 At the noise of the horsemen and bowmen, every city fleeth; they go into the thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city is forsaken and no man dwelleth therein.

30 -- And thou, wasted one, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rendest thine eyes with paint, in vain dost thou make thyself fair: [thy] lovers despise thee, they seek thy life.

31 For I hear a voice, as of a woman in travail, anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion: she moaneth, she spreadeth forth her hands, [saying], Woe unto me! for my soul faileth because of murderers.

5 Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broadways thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be [any] that doeth justice, that seeketh fidelity; and I will pardon it.

2 And if they say, [As] Jehovah liveth! surely they swear falsely.

3 Jehovah, are not thine eyes upon fidelity? Thou hast smitten them, but they are not sore; thou hast consumed them, they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.

4 And I said, Surely these are the wretched ones, they are foolish; for they know not the way of Jehovah, the judgment of their God.

5 I will go unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they know the way of Jehovah, the judgment of their God; but these have altogether broken the yoke, have burst the bonds.

6 Therefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, a wolf of the evenings shall waste them; the leopard lurketh against their cities, every one that goeth out thence is torn in pieces: for their transgressions are multiplied, their backslidings are increased.

7 Wherefore should I pardon thee? Thy children have forsaken me, and swear by them that are not God. I have satiated them, and they have committed adultery, and they troop to the harlots' house.

8 [As] well fed horses, they roam about, every one neigheth after his neighbour's wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things? saith Jehovah, and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 Go up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end; take away her battlements, for they are not Jehovah's.

11 For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith Jehovah.

12 They have denied Jehovah, and say, He is not; and evil shall not come upon us, nor shall we see sword nor famine;

13 and the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

[14]Therefore thus saith Jehovah, the God of hosts: Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

[15]Behold, I bring a nation upon you from afar, house of Israel, saith Jehovah: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest thou what they say.

[16]Their quiver is as an open sepulchre; they are all mighty men.

[17]And they shall eat up thy harvest and thy bread, they shall eat up thy sons and thy daughters, they shall eat up thy flocks and thy herds, they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig-trees; they shall destroy with the sword thy strong cities, wherein thou trustedst.

[18]Nevertheless in those days, saith Jehovah, I will not make a full end with you.

[19]And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore hath Jehovah our God done all these things unto us? then shalt thou say to them, As ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

[20]Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, [21]Hear now this, O foolish and heartless people, who have eyes and see not; who have ears, and hear not.

[22]Will ye not fear me? saith Jehovah. Will ye not tremble at my presence, who have set the sand a bound for the sea by a perpetual decree, and it shall not pass it? and its waves toss themselves, but they do not prevail; and they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

[23]But this people hath a stubborn and a rebellious heart; they have turned aside and are gone.

[24]And they say not in their heart, Let us now fear Jehovah our God, that giveth rain, both the early and the latter, in its season; who preserveth unto us the appointed weeks of harvest.

[25]Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden from you what is good.

[26]For among my people are found wicked [men]: they lay wait, as fowlers stoop down; they set a trap, they catch men.

[27]As a cage full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and have enriched themselves.

[28]They are become fat, they shine, yea, they surpass in deeds of wickedness; they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, and they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not adjudge.

[29]Shall I not visit for these things? saith Jehovah; shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 An appalling and horrible thing is committed in the land:

31 the prophets prophesy falsehood, and the priests rule by their means; and my people love [to have it] so. But what will ye do in the end thereof?

6 Flee for safety, ye children of Benjamin, out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and set up a signal in Beth-haccerem; for evil appeareth out of the north, and a great destruction.

2 The comely and delicate one do I cut off, the daughter of Zion.

3 Shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her; they shall pitch [their] tents against her round about; they shall feed every one in his place.

4 Prepare war against her. Arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us! for the day hath declined, for the shadows of the evening are lengthening.

5 Arise, and let us go up by night, and let us destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath Jehovah of hosts said: Hew ye down trees, and cast a mound against Jerusalem. She is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression in the midst of her.

7 As a well poureth forth her waters, so she poureth forth her wickedness: violence and destruction are heard in her; before me continually are grief and wounds.

8 Be thou instructed, Jerusalem, lest my soul be alienated from thee; lest I make thee a desolation, a land not inhabited.

9 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: They shall thoroughly glean like a vine the remnant of Israel: turn back thy hand, as a grape-gatherer unto the baskets.

10 To whom shall I speak and testify, that they may hear? Behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of Jehovah is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it.

11 And I am full of the fury of Jehovah, I am weary with holding in. Pour it out upon the children in the street, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken; the aged with him [that is] full of days.

12 And their houses shall be turned unto others, [their] fields and wives together; for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith Jehovah.

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them, every one is given to covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest, every one dealeth falsely.

14 And they have healed the breach of the daughter of my people lightly, saying, Peace, peace! when there is no peace.

15 Are they ashamed that they have committed abomination? Nay, they are not at all ashamed, neither know they what it is to blush. Therefore they shall fall among them that fall; at the time that I visit them they shall stumble, saith Jehovah.

16 Thus saith Jehovah: Stand in the ways and see, and ask for the ancient paths, which is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk [therein].

17 Also I have set watchmen over you: -- Hearken ye to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.

18 Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O assembly, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, the fruit of their thoughts; for they have not hearkened unto my words, and as to my law, they have rejected it.

20 To what purpose should there come to me incense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? Your burnt-offerings are not acceptable, nor are your sacrifices pleasing unto me.

21 Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will lay stumbling-blocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall over them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, a people cometh from the north country, and a great nation is stirred up from the uttermost parts of the earth.

23 They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea; and they ride upon horses, set in array as a man for the battle, against thee, daughter of Zion.

24 We have heard the report thereof: our hands are grown feeble; anguish hath taken hold of us, pain as of a woman that travaileth.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for [there is] the sword of the enemy, terror is on every side.

26 Daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and roll thyself in ashes: make mourning, [as] for an only son -- bitter lamentation; for the spoiler cometh suddenly upon us.

27 I have set thee among my people as an assayer, a fortress, that thou mayest know and try their way.

28 They are all the most rebellious of rebels, going about with slander: they are bronze and iron; they are all corrupters.

29 The bellows are burned, the lead is consumed by the fire; they have melted, and melted in vain; and the bad are not plucked away.

30 Reprobate silver shall they call them, for Jehovah hath rejected them.

7 The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying,

2 Stand in the gate of Jehovah's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear ye the word of Jehovah, all Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship Jehovah.

[3]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

[4]Confide ye not in words of falsehood, saying, Jehovah's temple, Jehovah's temple, Jehovah's temple is this.

[5]But if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings, if ye really do justice between a man and his neighbour,

[6][if] ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt;

[7]then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers from of old even for ever.

[8]Behold, ye confide in words of falsehood that cannot profit.

[9]What? steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not ...

[10]then ye come and stand before me, in this house which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered, -- in order to do all these abominations!

[11]Is this house, which is called by my name, a den of robbers in your eyes? Even I, behold, I have seen it, saith Jehovah.

[12]For go now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I caused my name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it, for the wickedness of my people Israel.

[13]And now, because ye have done all these works, saith Jehovah, and I spoke unto you, rising up early and speaking, and ye heard not, and I called you, and ye answered not;

[14]I will even do unto the house which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh;

[15]and I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, all the seed of Ephraim.

[16]And thou, pray not for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, and make not intercession to me; for I will not hear thee.

[17]Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

[18]The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

[19]Is it I whom they provoke to anger? saith Jehovah; is it not themselves, to the shame of their own face?

[20]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place; upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

21 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Add your burnt-offerings to your sacrifices, and eat the flesh.

22 For I spoke not unto your fathers, nor commanded them concerning burnt-offerings and sacrifices, in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt;

23 but I commanded them this thing, saying, Hearken unto my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people; and walk in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you.

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the counsels, in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt, unto this day, have I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them;

26 but they have not hearkened unto me, nor inclined their ear; and they have hardened their neck: they have done worse than their fathers.

27 And thou shalt speak all these words unto them, but they will not hearken unto thee; and thou shalt call unto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 And thou shalt say unto them, This is the nation which hath not hearkened unto the voice of Jehovah their God, nor received correction; fidelity is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 Cut off thy hair, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on the heights; for Jehovah hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Judah have done evil in my sight, saith Jehovah; they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it.

31 And they have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded not, neither did it come up into my mind.

32 Therefore, behold, days are coming, saith Jehovah, when it shall no more be said, Topheth, and Valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter; for they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place.

33 And the carcases of this people shall be food for the fowl of the heavens, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall scare [them] away.

34 And I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride; for the land shall become a waste.

8 At that time, saith Jehovah, they shall bring forth the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves;

2 and they shall spread them out to the sun and to the moon and to all the host of the heavens, which they have loved, and which they have served, and after which they have walked, and which they have sought, and which they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the ground.

3 And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, in all the places whither I have driven those that remain, saith Jehovah of hosts.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah: Do [men] fall, and not rise up? Doth one turn away, and not return?

5 Why hath this people of Jerusalem slidden back with a perpetual backsliding? They hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard: they speak not what is right; there is no man who repenteth him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? Every one turneth to his course, like a horse rushing into the battle.

7 Even a stork in the heavens knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle-dove and the swallow and the crane observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of Jehovah.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of Jehovah is with us? Behold, certainly the lying pen of the scribes hath made it falsehood.

9 The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: behold, they have rejected Jehovah's word; and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, their fields to those that shall possess [them]; for every one, from the least even unto the greatest, is given to covetousness; from the prophet even unto the priest, every one dealeth falsely.

11 And they have healed the breach of the daughter of my people lightly, saying, Peace, peace! when there is no peace.

12 Are they ashamed that they have committed abomination? Nay, they are not at all ashamed, and they know not how to blush. Therefore shall they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall stumble, saith Jehovah.

13 I will utterly take them away, saith Jehovah: there are no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig-tree; and the leaf is faded: and I will give them up to those that shall pass over them.

14 Why do we sit still? Assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the fenced cities, and let us be silent there: for Jehovah our God hath put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against Jehovah.

15 Peace is looked for, and there is no good; a time of healing, and behold, terror.

16 The snorting of his horses is heard from Dan: the whole land trembleth at the sound of the neighing of his steeds, and they come, and devour the land, and all it contains, the city and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I send among you serpents, vipers against which there is no charm, and they shall bite you, saith Jehovah.

18 My comfort in my sadness! my heart is faint in me!

19 Behold the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people, from a very far country: Is not Jehovah in Zion? Is not her king in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, with foreign vanities?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.

21 -- For the breach of the daughter of my people am I crushed; I go mourning; astonishment hath taken hold of me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? Why then is there no dressing applied for the healing of the daughter of my people?

9 Oh that my head were waters, and mine eye a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

2 Oh that I had in the wilderness a traveller's lodging-place, that I might leave my people, and go away from them! For they are all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

3 And they bend their tongue, their bow of falsehood, and not for fidelity are they valiant in the land; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith Jehovah.

4 Take ye heed every one of his friend, and confide not in any brother; for every brother only supplanteth, and every friend goeth about with slander.

5 And they act deceitfully every one with his neighbour, and speak not the truth: they teach their tongue to speak falsehood, they weary themselves with perverse dealing.

6 Thy habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith Jehovah.

7 Therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how else could I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is a murderous arrow; it speaketh deceit. [A man] speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth his ambush.

[9]Shall I not visit them for these [things]? saith Jehovah; shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

[10]For the mountains will I take up weeping and wailing, and for the pastures of the wilderness, a lamentation; for they are burnt up, so that none passeth through them; and the voice of the cattle is not heard. Both the fowl of the heavens and the beasts are fled; they are gone.

[11]And I will make Jerusalem heaps, a dwelling-place of jackals; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

[12]Who is a wise man, that he may understand this? and he to whom the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken, that he may declare it? Why is the land perished, burnt up like a wilderness, so that none passeth through?

[13]And Jehovah saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not hearkened unto my voice, nor walked in it,

[14]but have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after the Baals, as their fathers taught them;

[15]therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed this people with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink,

[16]and will scatter them among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them.

[17]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Consider, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for the skilful women, that they may come;

[18]and let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids pour forth waters.

[19]For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled, sorely put to shame! For we have forsaken the land, for they have cast down our dwellings.

[20]Hear then the word of Jehovah, ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and each one her companion lamentation.

[21]For death is come up through our windows, is entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from the street, the young men from the broadways.

[22]Speak, Thus saith Jehovah: Yea, the carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the reaper, and there shall be none to gather.

[23]Thus saith Jehovah: Let not the wise glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty glory in his might; let not the rich glory in his riches:

[24]but let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I [am] Jehovah, who exercise loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness in the earth; for in these things I delight, saith Jehovah.

25 Behold, days are coming, saith Jehovah, when I will visit all [them that are] circumcised with the uncircumcised;

26 Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that have the corners [of their beard] cut off, that dwell in the wilderness: for all the nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.

10 Hear the word that Jehovah speaketh unto you, house of Israel.

2 Thus saith Jehovah: Learn not the way of the nations, and be not dismayed at the signs of the heavens; for the nations are dismayed at them.

3 For the statutes of the peoples are vanity; for [it is] a tree cut out of the forest, worked with a chisel by the hands of the artizan;

4 they deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

5 They are as a palm-column of turned work, and they speak not; they are carried, for they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good.

6 There is none like unto thee, Jehovah; thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 Who would not fear thee, O King of nations? For to thee doth it appertain; for among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee.

8 But they are one and all senseless and foolish; the teaching of vanities is a stock.

9 Silver spread into plates is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the artizan and of the hands of the founder; blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of skilful [men].

10 But Jehovah Elohim is truth; he is the living God, and the King of eternity. At his wrath the earth trembleth, and the nations cannot abide his indignation.

11 Thus shall ye say unto them: The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, these shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens.

12 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his understanding.

13 When he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the end of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasuries.

14 Every man is become brutish, bereft of knowledge; every founder is put to shame by the graven image, for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Jacob is not like them; for it is he that hath formed all [things], and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: Jehovah of hosts is his name.

17 Gather up thy baggage out of the land, O inhabitress of the fortress.

18 For thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will this time sling out the inhabitants of the land, and will distress them, that they may be found.

19 Woe is me, for my wound! My stroke is hard to heal, and I had said, Yea, this is [my] grief, and I will bear it.

20 My tent is despoiled, and all my cords are broken; my children are gone forth from me, and they are not; there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the shepherds are become brutish, and have not sought Jehovah; therefore have they not acted wisely, and all their flock is scattered.

22 The voice of a rumour! Behold, it cometh, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a dwelling-place of jackals.

23 I know, Jehovah, that the way of man is not his own; it is not in a man that walketh to direct his steps.

24 Jehovah, correct me, but with judgment; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Pour out thy fury upon the nations that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name; for they have eaten up Jacob, yea, they have eaten him up and consumed him, and have laid waste his dwelling-place.

11 The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying,

2 Hear ye the words of this covenant; and speak ye unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

3 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel: Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant

4 which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Hearken unto my voice and do them, according to all that I command you; so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 that I may perform the oath that I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. And I answered and said, Amen, Jehovah!

[6]And Jehovah said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying: Hear the words of this covenant, and do them.

[7]For I earnestly protested unto your fathers, in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Hearken unto my voice.

[8]But they have not hearkened, nor inclined their ear, but have walked every one in the stubbornness of their evil heart; and I have brought upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded [them] to do, and they have not done.

[9]And Jehovah said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

[10]They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear my words; and they have gone after other gods to serve them. The house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

[11]Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will bring evil upon them, from which they shall not be able to escape; and they will cry unto me, and I will not hearken unto them.

[12]Then shall the cities of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry unto the gods unto whom they have burned incense; but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble.

[13]For [as] the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Judah; and [as] the number of the streets of Jerusalem, have ye set up altars to the Shame, altars to burn incense unto Baal.

[14]And thou, pray not for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them; for I will not hear in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.

[15]What hath my beloved to do in my house, seeing that the more part practise their evil devices, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? When thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest.

[16]Jehovah had called thy name, A green olive-tree, fair, of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and its branches are broken.

[17]For Jehovah of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have done for themselves, to provoke me to anger in burning incense unto Baal.

[18]And Jehovah hath given me knowledge, and I know [it]; then thou shewedst me their doings.

[19]And I was like a tame lamb [that] is led to the slaughter; and I knew not that they devised devices against me, [saying,] Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

[20]But thou, Jehovah of hosts, who judgest righteously, who triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

21 Therefore thus saith Jehovah concerning the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophesy not in the name of Jehovah, that thou die not by our hand,

22 -- therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Behold, I punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine;

23 and there shall be no remnant of them; for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, in the year of their visitation.

12 Righteous art thou, Jehovah, when I plead with thee; yet will I speak with thee of [thy] judgments. Wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? [wherefore] are all they at ease that deal very treacherously?

2 Thou hast planted them, they also have taken root: they advance, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou art near in their mouth, but far from their reins.

3 But thou, Jehovah, knowest me; thou hast seen me, and proved my heart toward thee. Drag them out like sheep for the slaughter, and set them apart for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of all the fields wither? Because of the wickedness of them that dwell therein, the beasts and the birds perish; for they say, He will not see our end.

5 If thou hast run with footmen, and they have wearied thee, how wilt thou then contend with horses? And if in a land of peace thou thinkest thyself in security, how wilt thou then do in the swelling of the Jordan?

6 For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee, even they have cried aloud after thee. Believe them not, though they speak good [words] unto thee.

7 I have forsaken my house, I have cast off my heritage, I have given the beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

8 My heritage is become unto me as a lion in the forest; it hath raised its voice against me: therefore have I hated it.

9 My heritage is unto me [as] a speckled bird of prey; the birds of prey round about are against her. Go, assemble all the beasts of the field, bring them to devour.

10 Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness:

11 they have made it a desolation; desolate, it mourneth unto me: the whole land is made desolate, for no man layeth it to heart.

12 Spoilers are come upon all heights in the wilderness; for the sword of Jehovah devoureth from one end of the land even to the [other] end of the land: no flesh hath peace.

13 They have sown wheat, and they reap thorns; they have put themselves to pain, [and] do not profit. Be ye therefore ashamed of your revenues, because of the fierce anger of Jehovah.

14 Thus saith Jehovah against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit: Behold, I will pluck them up out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

15 And it shall come to pass, after I have plucked them up, I will return, and have compassion on them, and will bring them back, each one to his inheritance, and each one to his land.

16 And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, [As] Jehovah liveth -- even as they taught my people to swear by Baal -- they shall be built up in the midst of my people.

17 And if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, saith Jehovah.

13 Thus said Jehovah unto me: Go and buy thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins; but dip it not in water.

2 And I bought a girdle according to the word of Jehovah, and put it upon my loins.

3 And the word of Jehovah came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to the Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.

5 So I went and hid it by the Euphrates, as Jehovah had commanded me.

6 And it came to pass at the end of many days, that Jehovah said unto me, Arise, go to the Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 And I went to the Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it; and behold, the girdle was spoiled, it was good for nothing.

8 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith Jehovah: After this manner will I spoil the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.

10 This evil people, who refuse to hear my words, who walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and go after other gods, to serve them and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle which is good for nothing.

11 For as a girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith Jehovah; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.

[12]And thou shalt speak unto them this word: Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, Every skin shall be filled with wine. And they will say unto thee, Do we not very well know that every skin shall be filled with wine?

[13]And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, and the kings that sit for David upon his throne, and the priests and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness.

[14]And I will dash them one against another, both the fathers and the sons together, saith Jehovah; I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy so as not to destroy them.

[15]Hear ye, and give ear, be not lifted up; for Jehovah hath spoken.

[16]Give glory to Jehovah your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the mountains of twilight; and ye shall look for light, but he will turn it into the shadow of death, and make [it] gross darkness.

[17]And if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for [your] pride; and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because Jehovah's flock is gone into captivity.

[18]Say unto the king and to the queen: Humble yourselves, sit down low; for from your heads shall come down the crown of your magnificence.

[19]The cities of the south are shut up, and there is none to open [them]; all Judah is carried away captive: it is wholly carried away captive.

[20]Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north. Where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?

[21]What wilt thou say when he shall visit thee, since thou thyself hast trained them to be princes in chief over thee? Shall not sorrows take thee, as a woman in travail?

[22]And if thou say in thy heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts uncovered, [and] thy heels have suffered violence.

[23]Can an Ethiopian change his skin, or a leopard his spots? [Then] may ye also do good, who are accustomed to do evil.

[24]And I will scatter them as stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wilderness.

[25]This shall be thy lot, thy measured portion from me, saith Jehovah; because thou hast forgotten me, and confided in falsehood.

[26]Therefore will I also turn thy skirts over thy face, and thy shame shall be seen.

[27]Thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy fornication, on the hills, in the fields, -- thine abominations, have I seen. Woe unto thee, Jerusalem! Wilt thou not be made clean? after how long a time yet?

14 The word of Jehovah that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought.

2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they are black unto the ground; and the cry of Jerusalem goeth up.

3 And their nobles send their little ones for water: they come to the pits, they find no water; they return with their vessels empty; they are ashamed, they are confounded, and have covered their heads.

4 Because the ground is chapt, for there hath been no rain on the earth, the ploughmen are ashamed, they cover their heads.

5 For the hind also calveth in the field, and forsaketh [its young], because there is no grass.

6 And the wild asses stand on the heights, they snuff up the wind like jackals; their eyes fail, because there is no herbage.

7 Jehovah, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou act for thy name's sake; for our backslidings are many -- we have sinned against thee.

8 Thou hope of Israel, its Saviour in the time of trouble, why wilt thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a traveller that turneth aside to stay a night?

9 Why wilt thou be as a man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? Yet thou, Jehovah, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name: leave us not.

10 Thus saith Jehovah to this people: Even so have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet; and Jehovah hath no delight in them: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

11 And Jehovah said unto me, Pray not for this people for their good.

12 When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer up burnt-offering and oblation, I will not accept them: for I will consume them by sword, and by famine, and by pestilence.

13 And I said, Alas, Lord Jehovah! Behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; for I will give you assured peace in this place.

14 And Jehovah said unto me, The prophets prophesy falsehood in my name; I have not sent them, neither have I commanded them, nor spoken unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision, and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

15 Therefore thus saith Jehovah concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, and who say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land: By sword and by famine shall those prophets be consumed;

16 and the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem, because of the famine and the sword; and there shall be none to bury them, them, their wives, and their sons, and their daughters; and I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17 And thou shalt say this word unto them: Let mine eyes run down with tears, night and day, and not cease; for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into the field, behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, behold them that pine away with famine! For both prophet and priest shall go about into a land that they know not.

19 -- Hast thou then utterly rejected Judah? Doth thy soul loathe Zion? Why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? Peace is looked for, and there is no good, -- and a time of healing, and behold terror!

20 Jehovah, we acknowledge our wickedness, the iniquity of our fathers; for we have sinned against thee.

21 For thy name's sake, do not spurn [us], do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the nations that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? Art not thou HE, Jehovah, our God? And we wait upon thee; for thou hast made all these things.

15 And Jehovah said unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, my soul [would] not [turn] toward this people. Send [them] out of my sight, and let them go forth.

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith Jehovah: Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to captivity.

3 For I will visit them with four kinds [of punishments], saith Jehovah: the sword to slay, and dogs to tear, and the fowl of the heavens, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and to destroy.

4 And I will give them over to be driven hither and thither amongst all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.

5 For who shall have pity upon thee, Jerusalem? and who shall bemoan thee? and who shall turn aside to ask after thy welfare?

6 Thou hast cast me off, saith Jehovah, thou art gone backward; and I have stretched out my hand against thee, and will destroy thee: I am become weary of repenting.

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land; I will bereave of children [and] destroy my people: they have not returned from their ways.

[8]Their widows are increased to me more than the sand of the seas; I have brought upon them, against the mother of the young men, a spoiler at noonday; I have caused anguish and terror to fall upon her suddenly.

[9]She that hath borne seven languisheth, she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it is yet day; she is put to shame and confounded. And the residue of them will I give up to the sword before their enemies, saith Jehovah.

[10]Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole land! I have not lent on usury, nor have they lent to me on usury; [yet] every one of them doth curse me.

[11]Jehovah said, Verily I will set thee free for [thy] good; verily I will cause the enemy to meet thee kindly in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

[12]Will iron break? iron from the north? and bronze?

[13]Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, and in all thy borders;

[14]and I will make [them] to pass with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger; it shall burn upon you.

[15]Jehovah, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and avenge me of my persecutors; in thy long-suffering take me not away: know that for thy sake I bear reproach.

[16]Thy words were found, and I did eat them, and thy words were unto me the joy and rejoicing of my heart; for I am called by thy name, O Jehovah, God of hosts.

[17]I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor exulted: I sat alone because of thy hand; for thou hast filled me with indignation.

[18]Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable? It refuseth to be healed. Wilt thou be altogether unto me as a treacherous [spring], [as] waters that fail?

[19]Therefore thus saith Jehovah: If thou return, then will I bring thee again, thou shalt stand before me; and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth. Let them return unto thee; but return not thou unto them.

[20]And I will make thee unto this people a strong brazen wall; and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, to save thee and to deliver thee, saith Jehovah;

[21]yea, I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

16And the word of Jehovah came to me, saying,

[2]Thou shalt not take thee a wife, and thou shalt not have sons nor daughters in this place.

[3]For thus saith Jehovah concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bear them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land:

[4]They shall die of painful deaths; they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried; they shall be as dung upon the face of the ground, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carcases shall be food for the fowl of the heavens and for the beasts of the earth.

[5]For thus saith Jehovah: Enter not into the house of wailing, neither go to lament or bemoan them; for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith Jehovah, the loving-kindness and the tender mercies.

[6]Both great and small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried; and none shall lament for them, or cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

[7]Nor shall they break [bread] for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead; neither shall they give them the cup of consolations to drink for their father or for their mother.

[8]And thou shalt not go into the house of feasting, to sit with them, to eat and to drink.

[9]For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place, before your eyes, and in your days, the voice of mirth and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride.

[10]And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt declare unto this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath Jehovah pronounced all this great evil against us? and what is our iniquity? and what is our sin which we have committed against Jehovah our God?

[11]then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith Jehovah, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law;

[12]and you, ye have done still worse than your fathers; and there ye are walking every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart, not to hearken unto me:

[13]and I will cast you forth out of this land, into a land that ye know not, ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night: because I will shew you no favour.

[14]Therefore, behold, days are coming, saith Jehovah, that it shall no more be said, [As] Jehovah liveth, who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

[15]but, [As] Jehovah liveth, who brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them. For I will bring them again into their land, which I gave unto their fathers.

16 Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith Jehovah, and they shall fish them; and afterwards will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them, from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways; they are not concealed from my face, neither is their iniquity hidden from before mine eyes.

18 But first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double, because they have profaned my land with the carcases of their detestable things, and with their abominations have they filled mine inheritance.

19 Jehovah, my strength and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of distress, unto thee shall the nations come from the ends of the earth, and they shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited falsehood [and] vanity; and in these things there is no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no-gods?

21 Therefore, behold, I will this once cause them to know, I will cause them to know my hand and my might; and they shall know that my name is Jehovah.

17 The sin of Judah is written with a style of iron, with the point of a diamond, engraven upon the tablet of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars;

2 whilst their children remember their altars and their Asherahs, by the green trees, upon the high hills.

3 My mountain in the field, thy substance, all thy treasures will I give for a spoil, -- thy high places, because of sin throughout thy borders.

4 And of thyself thou shalt let go thine inheritance which I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in a land that thou knowest not; for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, -- it shall burn for ever.

5 Thus saith Jehovah: Cursed is the man that confideth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from Jehovah.

6 And he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but he shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, a salt land and not inhabited.

7 Blessed is the man that confideth in Jehovah, and whose confidence Jehovah is.

8 For he shall be like a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out its roots by the stream, and he shall not see when heat cometh, but his leaf shall be green; and in the year of drought he shall not be careful, neither shall he cease to yield fruit.

9 The heart is deceitful above all things, and incurable; who can know it?

[10]I Jehovah search the heart, I try the reins, even to give each one according to his ways, according to the fruit of his doings.

[11][As] the partridge sitteth on [eggs] it hath not laid, [so] is he that getteth riches and not by right: in the midst of his days shall he leave them, and at his end shall be a fool.

[12]A throne of glory, [set] on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary.

[13]Thou hope of Israel, Jehovah! all that forsake thee shall be ashamed. They that depart from me shall be written in the earth; because they have forsaken Jehovah, the fountain of living waters.

[14]Heal me, Jehovah, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

[15]Behold, these say unto me, Where is the word of Jehovah? let it then come!

[16]But as for me, I have not hastened from being a shepherd in following thee, neither have I desired the fatal day, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was before thy face.

[17]Be not a terror unto me: thou art my refuge in the day of evil.

[18]Let them be ashamed that persecute me, but let not me be ashamed; let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed; bring upon them the day of evil, and break them with a double breaking.

[19]Thus hath Jehovah said unto me: Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, by which the kings of Judah come in, and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem;

[20]and say unto them, Hear the word of Jehovah, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates;

[21]thus saith Jehovah: Take heed to your souls, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, and bring nothing in through the gates of Jerusalem;

[22]and carry forth no burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do any work; but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers, [23]but they hearkened not, neither inclined their ear, but hardened their neck, that they might not hear nor receive instruction.

[24]And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith Jehovah, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, and to hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein;

[25]then shall there enter in, through the gates of this city, kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they and their princes, the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and this city shall be inhabited for ever.

[26]And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places around

Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the lowland, and from the hill-country, and from the south, bringing burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and oblations, and incense, and bringing thanksgiving unto the house of Jehovah.

27 But if ye will not hearken unto me, to hallow the sabbath day and not to bear a burden and enter in through the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

18 The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying,

2 Arise and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words.

3 And I went down to the potter's house; and behold, he wrought a work on the wheels.

4 And the vessel that he made was marred, as clay, in the hand of the potter; and he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make.

5 And the word of Jehovah came to me, saying,

6 House of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith Jehovah. Behold, as the clay in the potter's hand, so are ye in my hand, house of Israel.

7 At the moment that I speak concerning a nation and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, and to break down, and to destroy,

8 if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turn from their evil, then I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at the moment that I speak concerning a nation and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant,

10 if it do evil in my sight, that it hearken not unto my voice, then I will repent of the good wherewith I said I would benefit them.

11 And now, speak to the men of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I prepare evil against you, and devise a device against you: turn ye then every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings.

12 But they say, There is no hope; for we will walk after our own devices, and we will each one do [according to] the stubbornness of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Ask ye now among the nations, Who hath heard such things? The virgin of Israel hath done a very horrible thing.

14 Shall the snow of Lebanon cease from the rock of the field? Shall the cool flowing waters coming from afar be dried up?

15 For my people hath forgotten me: they burn incense to vanity; and they have caused them to stumble in their ways, the ancient paths, to walk in by-paths of a way not cast up;

16 to make their land an astonishment, a perpetual hissing: every one that passeth by shall be astonished, and shake his head.

17 As with an east wind will I scatter them before the enemy; I will shew them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity.

18 And they said, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; for law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor word from the prophet. Come and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Jehovah, give heed to me, and listen to the voice of those that contend with me.

20 Shall evil be recompensed for good? For they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember how I stood before thee to speak good for them, to turn away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore give up their children to the famine, and deliver them over to the power of the sword; and let their wives be bereaved of children and be widows; and let their men be swept off by death, their young men be smitten by the sword in battle.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them; for they have digged a pit to take me, and have hidden snares for my feet.

23 And thou, Jehovah, knowest all their counsel against me to slay me. Forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee: deal with them in the time of thine anger.

19 Thus saith Jehovah: Go and buy a potter's earthen flagon, and [take] of the elders of the people, and of the elders of the priests;

2 and go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the pottery-gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee,

3 and say, Hear the word of Jehovah, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem. Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle;

4 because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place [from me], and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah; and have filled this place with the blood of innocents;

5 and they have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons in the fire as burnt-offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it up into my mind:

6 therefore behold, days come, saith Jehovah, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor Valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seek their life, and their carcases will I give as food to the fowl of the heavens and to the beasts of the earth.

8 And I will make this city an astonishment and a hissing; every one that passeth by shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat everyone the flesh of his friend, in the siege and in the straitness wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 And thou shalt break the flagon in the sight of the men that go with thee,

11 and shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again. And they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith Jehovah, and to the inhabitants thereof, and make this city as Topheth.

13 And the houses of Jerusalem and the houses of the kings of Judah shall be as the place of Topheth, defiled, all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of the heavens, and have poured out drink-offerings unto other gods.

14 And Jeremiah came from Topheth, whither Jehovah had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of Jehovah's house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her cities all the evil that I have spoken against it; for they have hardened their necks, not to hear my words.

20 And Pashur the son of Immer, the priest -- and he was chief officer in the house of Jehovah -- heard Jeremiah prophesy these things.

2 And Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of Jehovah.

3 And it came to pass the next day, that Pashur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks; and Jeremiah said unto him, Jehovah hath not called thy name Pashur, but Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends; and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall see [it]; and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive into Babylon, and shall smite them with the sword.

5And, I will give all the wealth of this city, and all its gains, and all its precious things, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah, will I give into the hand of their enemies; and they shall make them a prey, and take them, and carry them to Babylon.

6And thou, Pashur, and all that dwell in thy house shall go into captivity; and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and there thou shalt be buried, thou and all thy friends to whom thou hast prophesied falsehood.

7Jehovah, thou hast enticed me, and I was enticed; thou hast laid hold of me, and hast prevailed; I am become a derision the whole day: every one mocketh me.

8For as oft as I speak, I cry out; I proclaim violence and spoil; for the word of Jehovah is become unto me a reproach and a derision all the day.

9And I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name: but it was in my heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones; and I became wearied with holding in, and I could not.

10For I have heard the defaming of many, terror on every side: Report, and we will report it. All my familiars are watching for my stumbling: Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him; and we shall take our revenge on him.

11But Jehovah is with me as a mighty terrible one; therefore my persecutors shall stumble and shall not prevail; they shall be greatly ashamed, for they have not prospered: it shall be an everlasting confusion that shall not be forgotten.

12And thou, Jehovah of hosts, who triest the righteous, who seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

13Sing ye unto Jehovah, praise Jehovah, for he hath delivered the soul of the needy from the hand of evildoers.

14Cursed be the day wherein I was born; let not the day wherein my mother bore me be blessed!

15Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee; making him very glad!

16And let that man be as the cities which Jehovah overthrew, and repented not; and let him hear a cry in the morning, and a shouting at noonday, 17because he slew me not from the womb. Or would that my mother had been my grave, and her womb always great [with me]!

18Wherefore came I forth from the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed in shame?

21The word that came unto Jeremiah from Jehovah, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashur the son of Malchijah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, saying,

[2]Inquire, I pray thee, of Jehovah for us; for Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon maketh war against us; if so be that Jehovah will deal with us according to all his marvellous works, that he may go up from us.

[3]And Jeremiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah:

[4]Thus saith Jehovah the God of Israel: Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, with which ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans who besiege you, outside the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.

[5]And I myself will fight against you with a stretched-out hand, and with a strong arm, and in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

[6]And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

[7]And afterwards, saith Jehovah, I will give Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

[8]And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

[9]He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth out, and deserteth to the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey.

[10]For I have set my face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith Jehovah: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

[11]And touching the house of the king of Judah, hear ye the word of Jehovah.

[12]House of David, thus saith Jehovah: Judge with justice in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go forth like fire and burn, and there be none to quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

[13]Behold, I am against thee, inhabitress of the valley, the rock of the plain, saith Jehovah; ye that say, Who shall come down against us, or who shall enter into our dwellings?

[14]And I will visit you according to the fruit of your doings, saith Jehovah; and I will kindle a fire in her forest, and it shall devour all that is round about her.

22Thus saith Jehovah: Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word,

[2]and say, Hear the word of Jehovah, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people who enter in through these gates.

[3]Thus saith Jehovah: Execute judgment and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor; and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, or the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place.

[4]For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in through the gates of this house kings sitting in the place of David upon his throne, riding in chariots and on horses, -- he, and his servants, and his people.

[5]But if ye will not hear these words, I have sworn by myself, saith Jehovah, that this house shall become a waste.

[6]For thus saith Jehovah concerning the house of the king of Judah: Thou art a Gilead unto me, the summit of Lebanon: verily I will make thee a wilderness, cities not inhabited.

[7]And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons; and they shall cut down the choice of thy cedars, and cast [them] into the fire.

[8]And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath Jehovah done thus unto this great city?

[9]And they shall say, Because they have forsaken the covenant of Jehovah their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

[10]Weep not for the dead, neither bemoan him; [but] weep sore for him that goeth away, for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

[11]For thus saith Jehovah concerning Shallum the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father, who went forth out of this place: He shall not return thither any more;

[12]for he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

[13]Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his upper chambers by injustice; that taketh his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not his earning;

[14]that saith, I will build me a wide house, and spacious upper chambers; and he cutteth out for himself windows; and it is wainscoted with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

[15]Shalt thou reign, because thou viest with the cedar? Did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgment and justice? Then it was well with him.

[16]He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Was not this to know me? saith Jehovah.

[17]But thine eyes and thy heart are only on thine extortion, and on the blood of the innocent, to shed it, and on oppression and on violence, to do it.

[18]Therefore thus saith Jehovah concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah: They shall not lament for him, Ah, my brother! or, Ah, sister! They shall not lament for him, Ah, lord! or Ah, his glory!

[19]He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, dragged along and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

[20]Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and give forth thy voice in Bashan, and cry from [the heights of] Abarim: for all thy lovers are destroyed.

[21]I spoke unto thee in thy prosperity; [but] thou saidst, I will not hear. This hath been thy way from thy youth, that thou hearkenedst not unto my voice.

[22]The wind shall feed on all thy shepherds, and thy lovers shall go into captivity; surely, then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness.

[23]Thou inhabitress of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how pitiful shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, pain as of a woman in travail!

[24][As] I live, saith Jehovah, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, were a signet upon my right hand, yet will I pluck thee thence;

[25]and I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them before whom thou art afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

[26]And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die.

[27]And into the land whereunto they lift up their souls to return, thither shall they not return.

[28]Is this man Coniah a despised broken vase? a vessel wherein is no delight? Wherefore are they thrown out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not?

[29]O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of Jehovah!

[30]Thus saith Jehovah: Write this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days; for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

23 Woe unto the shepherds that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith Jehovah.

[2]Therefore thus saith Jehovah the God of Israel concerning the shepherds that feed my people: Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith Jehovah.

[3]And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their pastures; and they shall be fruitful and shall multiply.

[4]And I will raise up shepherds over them, who shall feed them; and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be missing, saith Jehovah.

[5]Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, when I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, who shall reign as king, and act wisely, and shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

[6]In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell in safety; and this is his name whereby he shall be called, Jehovah our Righteousness.

[7]Therefore behold, days are coming, saith Jehovah, that they shall no more say, [As] Jehovah liveth, who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

[8]but, [As] Jehovah liveth, who brought up and who led back the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all countries whither I had driven them. And they shall dwell in their own land.

[9]Concerning the prophets: My heart within me is broken; all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome; because of Jehovah, and because of the words of his holiness.

[10]For the land is full of adulterers; for because of execration the land mourneth. The pastures of the wilderness are dried up; for their course is evil, and their force is not right.

[11]For both prophet and priest are profane: even in my house have I found their wickedness, saith Jehovah.

[12]Therefore their way shall be unto them as slippery places in the darkness; they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them in the year of their visitation, saith Jehovah.

[13]And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria: they prophesied by Baal, and caused my people Israel to err.

[14]And in the prophets of Jerusalem have I seen a horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in falsehood, and strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that none doth return from his wickedness. They are all become unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

[15]Therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts concerning the prophets: Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink water of gall; for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land.

[16]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: they lead you to vanity; they speak a vision of their own heart, not out of the mouth of Jehovah.

[17]They say constantly unto them that despise me, Jehovah hath said, Ye shall have peace. And they say unto every one that walketh in the stubbornness of his heart, No evil shall come upon you.

[18]For who hath stood in the council of Jehovah, so that he hath perceived and heard his word? who hath hearkened to his word and listened?

[19]Behold, a tempest of Jehovah, fury is gone forth, yea, a whirling storm: it shall whirl down upon the head of the wicked.

[20]The anger of Jehovah shall not return, until he have executed, and until he have performed the purposes of his heart: at the end of the days ye shall understand it clearly.

[21]I did not send the prophets, yet they ran; I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

[22]But if they had stood in my council, and had caused my people to hear my words, then would they have turned them from their evil way and from the wickedness of their doings.

[23]Am I a God at hand, saith Jehovah, and not a God afar off?

[24]Can any hide himself in secret places, that I shall not see him? saith Jehovah. Do not I fill the heavens and the earth? saith Jehovah.

[25]I have heard what the prophets say, who prophesy falsehood in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

[26]How long shall [this] be in the heart of the prophets who prophesy falsehood, and who are prophets of the deceit of their own heart?

[27]who think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour: as their fathers have forgotten my name for Baal.

[28]The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell the dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat? saith Jehovah.

[29]Is not my word like a fire, saith Jehovah; and like a hammer [that] breaketh the rock in pieces?

[30]Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith Jehovah, that steal my words every one from his neighbour.

[31]Behold, I am against the prophets, saith Jehovah, that use their tongues, and say, He hath said.

[32]Behold, I am against them that prophesy false dreams, saith Jehovah, and that tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies and by their boasting; and I have not sent them, nor commanded them; and they profit not this people at all, saith Jehovah.

[33]And when this people, or a prophet, or a priest, ask thee, saying, What is the burden of Jehovah? thou shalt then say unto them, What burden? I will even cast you off, saith Jehovah.

[34]And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of Jehovah, I will even punish that man and his house.

[35]Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother: What hath Jehovah answered? and, What hath Jehovah spoken?

[36]And the burden of Jehovah shall ye mention no more; for every man's own word shall be his burden: for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of Jehovah of hosts, our God.

[37]Thus shalt thou say to the prophet: What hath Jehovah answered thee? and, What hath Jehovah spoken?

[38]But since ye say, The burden of Jehovah, therefore thus saith Jehovah: Because ye say this word, The burden of Jehovah, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of Jehovah;

[39]therefore behold, I will utterly forget you, and I will cast you off, far from my face, and the city that I gave to you and to your fathers.

[40]And I will bring everlasting reproach upon you, and everlasting shame, that shall not be forgotten.

24Jehovah shewed me, and behold, two baskets of figs, set before the temple of Jehovah, after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive from Jerusalem, Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, and the craftsmen and smiths, and had brought them to Babylon.

[2]One basket had very good figs, like the figs first ripe; and the other basket had very bad figs, which could not be eaten for badness.

[3]And Jehovah said unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs: the good figs very good; and the bad very bad, which cannot be eaten for badness.

[4]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[5]Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel: Like these good figs, so will I regard for good them that are carried away captive of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans;

[6]and I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land; and I will build them and not pull them down, and I will plant them and not pluck them up.

[7]And I will give them a heart to know me, that I am Jehovah; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.

[8]And as the bad figs, which cannot be eaten for badness, surely, thus saith Jehovah: So will I make Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the remnant of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt.

[9]And I will give them over to be driven hither and thither unto all the kingdoms of the earth for evil, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them;

10 and I will send among them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, until they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

25 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah (that is, the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon),

2 which Jeremiah the prophet spoke unto all the people of Judah and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying:

3 From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, the king of Judah, even unto this day, these three and twenty years, the word of Jehovah hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking; but ye have not hearkened.

4 And Jehovah hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising early and sending; but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear,

5 when they said, Turn again now every one from his evil way, and from the wickedness of your doings, and dwell in the land that Jehovah hath given unto you and to your fathers from of old even for ever.

6 And go not after other gods, to serve them and to worship them; and provoke me not to anger with the work of your hands; and I will do you no hurt.

7 But ye have not hearkened unto me, saith Jehovah; that ye might provoke me to anger with the work of your hands, to your own hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Because ye have not listened to my words,

9 behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith Jehovah, and [I will send] to Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about; and I will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and a hissing, and perpetual wastes.

10 And I will cause to perish from them the voice of mirth and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones and the light of the lamp.

11 And this whole land shall become a waste, an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

12 And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, [that] I will visit on the king of Babylon and on that nation, saith Jehovah, their iniquity, and on the land of the Chaldeans, and I will make it perpetual desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations.

14 For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them also; and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their hands.

15 For thus hath Jehovah the God of Israel said unto me: Take the cup of the wine of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations to whom I send thee to drink it.

16 And they shall drink, and reel to and fro, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 And I took the cup at Jehovah's hand, and made all the nations to drink, to whom Jehovah had sent me:

18 Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a waste, an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse, as it is this day;

19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people;

20 and all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gazah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod;

21 Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon;

22 and all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the isles that are beyond the sea;

23 Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that have the corners [of their beard] cut off;

24 and all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the desert;

25 and all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes;

26 and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth; and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

27 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink, and be drunken, and vomit, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword that I will send among you.

28 And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup from thy hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Ye shall certainly drink.

29 For behold, I begin to bring evil on the city that is called by my name, and should ye be altogether unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished; for I call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith Jehovah of hosts.

30 And thou, prophesy unto them all these words, and say unto them,

Jehovah will roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he will mightily roar upon his dwelling-place, he will give a shout, as they that tread [the vintage], against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The noise shall come to the end of the earth: for Jehovah hath a controversy with the nations, he entereth into judgment with all flesh; as for the wicked, he will give them up to the sword, saith Jehovah.

32 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great storm shall be raised up from the uttermost parts of the earth.

33 And the slain of Jehovah shall [be] at that day from [one] end of the earth even unto the [other] end of the earth: they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried; they shall be dung upon the face of the ground.

34 Howl, ye shepherds, and cry; and wallow yourselves [in the dust], noble ones of the flock: for the days of your slaughter are accomplished, and I will disperse you; and ye shall fall like a precious vessel.

35 And refuge shall perish from the shepherds, and escape from the noble ones of the flock.

36 There shall be a voice of the cry of the shepherds, and a howling of the noble ones of the flock: for Jehovah layeth waste their pasture;

37 and the peaceable enclosures shall be desolated, because of the fierce anger of Jehovah.

38 He hath forsaken his covert as a young lion; for their land is a desolation because of the fierceness of the oppressor, and because of his fierce anger.

26 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, came this word from Jehovah, saying,

2 Thus saith Jehovah: Stand in the court of Jehovah's house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in Jehovah's house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them: diminish not a word.

3 Peradventure they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way, that I may repent me of the evil which I purpose to do unto them because of the wickedness of their doings.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah: If ye will not hearken unto me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you,

5 to hearken unto the words of my servants the prophets, whom I have sent unto you, even rising early and sending [them], but ye have not hearkened,

6 -- then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.

[7]And the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of Jehovah.

[8]And it came to pass when Jeremiah had ended speaking all that Jehovah had commanded [him] to speak unto all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people seized him, saying, Thou shalt certainly die.

[9]Why hast thou prophesied in the name of Jehovah, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant? And all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of Jehovah.

[10]And the princes of Judah heard these things; and they went up from the king's house unto the house of Jehovah, and sat in the entry of the new gate of Jehovah.

[11]And the priests and the prophets spoke unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die, for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

[12]And Jeremiah spoke to all the princes and to all the people, saying, Jehovah sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard.

[13]And now, amend your ways and your doings, and hearken to the voice of Jehovah your God; and Jehovah will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you.

[14]But as for me, behold, I am in your hand; do unto me as seemeth good and right in your eyes:

[15]only know for certain that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof; for of a truth Jehovah hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears.

[16]And the princes and all the people said unto the priests and to the prophets, This man is not worthy to die; for he hath spoken to us in the name of Jehovah our God.

[17]And there rose up certain of the elders of the land and spoke to all the congregation of the people, saying,

[18]Micah the Morasthite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spoke to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Zion shall be ploughed [as] a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

[19]Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? Did he not fear Jehovah, and supplicate Jehovah, and Jehovah repented him of the evil that he had pronounced against them? And we should be doing a great evil against our souls.

[20]And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of Jehovah, Urijah the son of Shemaiah of Kirjath-jearim: and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah;

21and Jehoiakim the king, and all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, and the king sought to put him to death; but Urijah heard it, and he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt.

22And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and men with him, into Egypt;

23and they fetched forth Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him to Jehoiakim the king; and he slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the children of the people.

24-- Nevertheless the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

27 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, came this word to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying,

2Thus hath Jehovah said unto me: Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck;

3and send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the children of Ammon, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers that come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah king of Judah.

4And give them a charge unto their masters, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say unto your masters:

5I have made the earth, man and beast that are upon the face of the earth, by my great power and by my outstretched arm; and I give them unto whom it seemeth right in mine eyes.

6And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, my servant; and the beasts of the field also have I given him to serve him.

7And all the nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the time of his land also come, when many nations and great kings shall reduce him to servitude.

8And it shall come to pass, that the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I visit, saith Jehovah, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand.

9And ye, hearken not to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreamers, nor to your soothsayers, nor to your sorcerers, who speak unto you saying: Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon.

10For they prophesy falsehood unto you, to remove you far from your land, and that I should drive you out, and ye should perish.

[11]But the nation that bringeth its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon and serveth him, will I let remain still in its own land, saith Jehovah; and they shall till it, and dwell therein.

[12]And I spoke to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live.

[13]Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as Jehovah hath spoken concerning the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon?

[14]And hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon; for they prophesy falsehood unto you.

[15]For I have not sent them, saith Jehovah, yet they prophesy falsely in my name; in order that I should drive you out, and that ye should perish, ye, and the prophets who prophesy unto you.

[16]And I spoke to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of Jehovah's house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon; for they prophesy falsehood unto you.

[17]Hearken not unto them; serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city become a waste?

[18]But if they be prophets, and if the word of Jehovah be with them, let them now make intercession to Jehovah of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of Jehovah, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon.

[19]For thus saith Jehovah of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the rest of the vessels that are left in this city,

[20]which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, along with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem;

[21]yea, thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of Jehovah, and in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem:

[22]They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be until the day of my visiting them, saith Jehovah; then I will bring them up, and restore them to this place.

28And it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, [that] Hananiah the son of Azzur, the prophet, who was of Gibeon, spoke to me in the house of Jehovah, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying,

[2]Thus speaketh Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

[3]Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of Jehovah's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried to Babylon;

[4]and I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, the king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah that went to Babylon, saith Jehovah: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

[5]And the prophet Jeremiah spoke unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of Jehovah.

[6]And the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen, may Jehovah do so! may Jehovah perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again from Babylon, into this place, the vessels of Jehovah's house, and all them of the captivity!

[7]Nevertheless, hear, I pray thee, this word which I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people:

[8]The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old, prophesied also concerning many countries and concerning great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence.

[9]The prophet that prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, shall be known as the prophet whom Jehovah hath really sent.

[10]And the prophet Hananiah took the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and broke it.

[11]And Hananiah spoke in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: So will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon within two full years from off the neck of all the nations. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

[12]And the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah, after that the prophet Hananiah had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, [13]Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, and thou hast made in their place yokes of iron.

[14]For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also.

[15]And the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah, Hear now, Hananiah: Jehovah hath not sent thee; and thou makest this people to trust in falsehood.

[16]Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, for thou hast spoken revolt against Jehovah.

17 And the prophet Hananiah died in the same year in the seventh month.

29 And these are the words of the letter that the prophet Jeremiah sent from Jerusalem to the residue of the elders of the captivity, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon

2 (after that Jeconiah the king, and the queen, and the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen, and the smiths, had departed from Jerusalem);

3 by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkijah (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon, unto Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), saying,

4 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the captivity, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jerusalem unto Babylon:

5 Build houses, and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

6 Take wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; and multiply there, and be not diminished.

7 And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray unto Jehovah for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

8 For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets that are in your midst, nor your diviners deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams, which ye like to dream.

9 For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith Jehovah.

10 For thus saith Jehovah: When seventy years shall be accomplished for Babylon I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in bringing you back to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith Jehovah, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you in your latter end a hope.

12 And ye shall call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you;

13 and ye shall seek me and find me, for ye shall search for me with all your heart,

14 and I will be found of you, saith Jehovah. And I will turn your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith Jehovah; and I will bring you again into the place whence I have caused you to be carried away captive.

15 If ye say, Jehovah hath raised us up prophets in Babylon;

16 yea, thus saith Jehovah concerning the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and concerning all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity;

17 thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Behold, I will send against them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like the vile figs, that cannot be eaten for badness.

18 And I will pursue them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will give them over to be driven hither and thither into all the kingdoms of the earth, to be an execration, and an astonishment, and a hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I will drive them:

19 because they have not hearkened to my words, saith Jehovah, wherewith I sent unto them my servants the prophets, rising early and sending; but ye have not hearkened, saith Jehovah.

20 But ye, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon, hear the word of Jehovah.

21 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy falsehood unto you in my name: Behold, I will give them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall smite them before your eyes.

22 And of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Judah that are in Babylon, saying, Jehovah make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire;

23 because they have committed infamy in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken words of falsehood in my name, which I had not commanded them: and I [am] he that knoweth, and [am] witness, saith Jehovah.

24 And thou shalt speak to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

26 Jehovah hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that there should be officers [in] the house of Jehovah, over every madman and self-made prophet, that thou shouldest put him in the stocks and in the shackles.

27 And now, why hast thou not reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, who maketh himself a prophet to you?

28 Forasmuch as he hath sent unto us in Babylon, saying, It will be long; build houses, and dwell [in them], and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

29 -- And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of the prophet Jeremiah.

30 And the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith Jehovah concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he hath caused you to trust in falsehood;

32 therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people; neither shall he see the good that I will do for my people, saith Jehovah; because he hath spoken revolt against Jehovah.

30 The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying,

2 Thus speaketh Jehovah the God of Israel, saying, Write thee in a book all the words that I have spoken unto thee.

3 For behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, when I will turn the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith Jehovah; and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 And these are the words that Jehovah hath spoken concerning Israel and concerning Judah;

5 for thus saith Jehovah: We have heard a voice of trembling, there is fear, and no peace.

6 Ask ye now, and see, whether a male doth travail with child? Wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail; and all faces are turned into paleness?

7 Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble; but he shall be saved out of it.

8 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more reduce him to servitude.

9 But they shall serve Jehovah their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them.

10 And thou, my servant Jacob, fear not, saith Jehovah; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for behold, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and at ease, and none shall make [him] afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith Jehovah, to save thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have scattered thee; yet of thee will I not make a full end, but I will correct thee with judgment, and will not hold thee altogether guiltless.

12 For thus saith Jehovah: Thy bruise is incurable, thy wound is grievous.

13 There is none to plead thy cause, to bind up [thy wound]; thou hast no healing medicines.

14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not. For I have smitten thee with the stroke of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the greatness of thine iniquity: thy sins are manifold.

15 Why criest thou because of thy bruise? thy sorrow is incurable; for the greatness of thine iniquity, [because] thy sins are manifold, I have done these things unto thee.

16 Therefore all that devour thee shall be devoured, and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee shall be for a spoil; and all they that prey upon thee will I give to be a prey.

17 For I will apply a bandage unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith Jehovah; for they have called thee an outcast: This is Zion that no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will turn the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have mercy on his habitations; and the city shall be built upon her own heap; and the palace shall be inhabited after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceed thanksgiving, and the voice of them that make merry: and I will multiply them, and they shall not be diminished; and I will honour them, and they shall not be small.

20 And their sons shall be as aforetime; and their assembly shall be established before me; and I will punish all that oppress them.

21 And their prince shall be of themselves, and their ruler shall proceed from the midst of them; and I will cause him to approach, and he shall draw near unto me. For who is this that engageth his heart to draw near unto me? saith Jehovah.

22 And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, a tempest of Jehovah, fury is gone forth, a sweeping storm: it shall whirl down upon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce anger of Jehovah shall not return, until he have executed, and until he have performed the purposes of his heart. At the end of the days ye shall consider it.

31 At that time, saith Jehovah, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

2 Thus saith Jehovah: The people [that were] left of the sword have found grace in the wilderness, [even] Israel, when I go to give him rest.

3 Jehovah hath appeared from afar unto me, [saying,] Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving-kindness have I drawn thee.

4 I will build thee again, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel! Thou shalt again be adorned with thy tambours, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.

[5]Thou shalt again plant vineyards upon the mountains of Samaria; the planters shall plant, and shall eat the fruit.

[6]For there shall be a day, when the watchmen upon mount Ephraim shall cry, Arise, and let us go up to Zion, unto Jehovah our God.

[7]For thus saith Jehovah: Sing aloud [with] gladness for Jacob, and shout at the head of the nations; publish ye, praise ye, and say, Jehovah, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.

[8]Behold, I bring them from the north country, and gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth; [and] among them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together: a great assemblage shall they return hither.

[9]They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them; I will cause them to walk by water-brooks, in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble; for I will be a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn.

[10]Hear the word of Jehovah, ye nations, and declare [it] to the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd his flock.

[11]For Jehovah hath ransomed Jacob, and redeemed him from the hand of one stronger than he.

[12]And they shall come and sing aloud upon the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of Jehovah, for corn, and for new wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd; and their soul shall be as a watered garden, and they shall not languish any more at all.

[13]Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, and the young men and old together; for I will turn their mourning into gladness, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice after their sorrow.

[14]And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith Jehovah.

[15]Thus saith Jehovah: A voice hath been heard in Ramah, the wail of very bitter weeping, -- Rachel weeping for her children, refusing to be comforted for her children, because they are not.

[16]Thus saith Jehovah: Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears; for there is a reward for thy work, saith Jehovah; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy.

[17]And there is hope for thy latter end, saith Jehovah, and thy children shall come again to their own border.

[18]I have indeed heard Ephraim bemoaning himself [thus]: Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised as a bullock not trained: turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art Jehovah my God.

[19]Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after I knew myself, I smote upon [my] thigh. I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, for I bear the reproach of my youth.

[20]Is Ephraim a dear son unto me? is he a child of delights? For whilst I have been speaking against him, I do constantly remember him still. Therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will certainly have mercy upon him, saith Jehovah.

[21]Set up waymarks, make for thyself signposts; set thy heart toward the highway, the way by which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities.

[22]How long wilt thou wander about, thou backsliding daughter? For Jehovah hath created a new thing on the earth, a woman shall encompass a man.

[23]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: They shall again use this speech, in the land of Judah and in the cities thereof, when I shall turn their captivity: Jehovah bless thee, O habitation of righteousness, mountain of holiness!

[24]And therein shall dwell Judah, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen, and they that go about with flocks.

[25]For I have satiated the weary soul, and every languishing soul have I replenished.

[26]-- Upon this I awaked, and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me.

[27]Behold, days come, saith Jehovah, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah [with] the seed of man and the seed of beast.

[28]And it shall come to pass, as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to overthrow, and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them to build, and to plant, saith Jehovah.

[29]In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge:

[30]for every one shall die for his own iniquity; every man that eateth the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge.

[31]Behold, days come, saith Jehovah, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:

[32]not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day of my taking them by the hand, to lead them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they broke, although I was a husband unto them, saith Jehovah.

[33]For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, after those days, saith Jehovah: I will put my law in their inward parts, and will write it in their heart; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

[34]And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know Jehovah; for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith Jehovah: for I will pardon their iniquity, and their sin will I remember no more.

35 Thus saith Jehovah, who giveth the sun for light by day, the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for light by night, who stirreth up the sea so that the waves thereof roar, -- Jehovah of hosts is his name:

36 If those ordinances depart from before me, saith Jehovah, the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever.

37 Thus saith Jehovah: If the heavens above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off the whole seed of Israel, for all that they have done, saith Jehovah.

38 Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that the city shall be built to Jehovah, from the tower of Hananeel unto the corner-gate.

39 And the measuring line shall yet go forth before it unto the hill Gareb, and shall turn toward Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the torrent Kidron, unto the corner of the horse-gate toward the east, shall be holy unto Jehovah: it shall not be plucked up, nor overthrown any more for ever.

32 The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah: that year was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar.

2 And the king of Babylon's army was then besieging Jerusalem; and the prophet Jeremiah was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah's house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Why dost thou prophesy and say, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it;

4 and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans; for he shall certainly be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes;

5 and he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith Jehovah: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper?

6 And Jeremiah said, The word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanameel, the son of Shallum thine uncle, shall come unto thee, saying, Buy for thyself my field which is in Anathoth; for thine is the right of redemption, to buy [it].

8 And Hanameel, mine uncle's son, came to me in the court of the guard according to the word of Jehovah, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin; for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine: buy [it] for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of Jehovah.

[9]And I bought of Hanameel, mine uncle's son, the field which is in Anathoth, and weighed him the money, seventeen shekels of silver.

[10]And I subscribed the writing, and sealed it, and took witnesses, and weighed the money in the balances.

[11]And I took the writing of the purchase, that which was sealed [according to] the law and the statutes, and that which was open;

[12]and I gave the writing of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Nerijah, the son of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine uncle's [son], and in the presence of the witnesses that had subscribed the writing of purchase, before all the Jews that were sitting in the court of the guard.

[13]And I charged Baruch in their presence, saying,

[14]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these writings, this writing of the purchase, both that which is sealed and this writing which is open; and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may remain many days.

[15]For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall again be purchased in this land.

[16]And after I had given the writing of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Nerijah, I prayed unto Jehovah saying,

[17]Alas, Lord Jehovah! Behold, thou hast made the heavens and the earth by thy great power and stretched-out arm; there is nothing too hard for thee:

[18]who shewest mercy unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them, thou, the great, the mighty [God], -- Jehovah of hosts is his name;

[19]great in counsel and mighty in work, whose eyes are open upon all the ways of the children of men, to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:

[20]who hast displayed signs and wonders unto this day, in the land of Egypt and in Israel and among [other] men; and hast made thee a name, as at this day.

[21]And thou broughtest forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt by signs, and by wonders, and by a powerful hand, and by a stretched-out arm, and by great terror;

[22]and didst give them this land, which thou hadst sworn unto their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey.

[23]And they came in and possessed it: but they hearkened not unto thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do; so that thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them.

[24]Behold the mounds, they are come unto the city for taking it; and the city is given over into the hand of the Chaldeans, that fight against it, by the sword, and the famine, and the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and behold, thou seest [it].

[25]And thou, Lord Jehovah, thou hast said unto me, Buy for thyself the field for money, and take witnesses; -- and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

[26]And the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah, saying,

[27]Behold, I am Jehovah, the God of all flesh: is there anything too hard for me?

[28]Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

[29]And the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come in and set fire to this city, and shall burn it, and the houses upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink-offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

[30]For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have been doing only evil in my sight from their youth; for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith Jehovah.

[31]For this city hath been to me [a provocation] of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day; that I should remove it from before my face, [32]because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

[33]And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face; and though I taught them, rising early and teaching, they hearkened not to receive instruction.

[34]And they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it;

[35]and they have built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause to pass through [the fire] their sons and their daughters unto Molech: which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.

[36]And now therefore Jehovah, the God of Israel, saith thus concerning this city, whereof ye say, It hath been given over into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence:

37 Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries whither I have driven them, in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me all [their] days, for the good of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not draw back from them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their heart, that they may not turn aside from me.

41 And I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will assuredly plant them in this land with my whole heart and with my whole soul.

42 For thus saith Jehovah: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have spoken concerning them.

43 And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

44 [Men] shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the writings, and seal them, and take witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the environs of Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill-country, and in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the south: for I will turn their captivity, saith Jehovah.

33 And the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah the second time, while he was still shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

2 Thus saith Jehovah the doer of it, Jehovah that formeth it to establish it, Jehovah is his name:

3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and I will shew thee great and hidden things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith Jehovah the God of Israel concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are thrown down because of the mounds and because of the sword:

5 They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but to fill them with the dead bodies of the men whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city.

6 Behold, I will apply a healing dressing to it and cure, and I will heal them, and will reveal unto them an abundance of peace and truth.

7 And I will turn the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel, and will build them, as at the beginning.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me, and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me, and whereby they have transgressed against me.

[9]And it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and a glory before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear of all the good that I do unto them; and they shall fear and tremble for all the good and for all the prosperity that I procure unto it.

[10]Thus saith Jehovah: In this place of which ye say, It is waste, without man and without beast! in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate, without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast, [11]there shall again be heard the voice of mirth and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that say, Give ye thanks unto Jehovah of hosts; for Jehovah is good, for his loving-kindness [endureth] for ever, -- of them that bring thanksgiving unto the house of Jehovah. For I will turn the captivity of the land as in the beginning, saith Jehovah.

[12]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: In this place which is waste, without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, there shall again be a habitation of shepherds causing [their] flocks to lie down.

[13]In the cities of the hill-country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the environs of Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks pass again under the hands of him that counteth [them], saith Jehovah.

[14]Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will perform the good word which I have spoken unto the house of Israel and unto the house of Judah.

[15]In those days, and at that time, will I cause a Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

[16]In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell in safety. And this is the name wherewith she shall be called: Jehovah our Righteousness.

[17]For thus saith Jehovah: There shall never fail to David a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel;

[18]neither shall there fail to the priests the Levites a man before me to offer up burnt-offerings, and to burn oblations, and to do sacrifice continually.

[19]And the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah, saying,

[20]Thus saith Jehovah: If ye can break my covenant [in respect] of the day, and my covenant [in respect] of the night, so that there should not be day and night in their season,

[21][then] shall also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites, the priests, my ministers.

[22]As the host of the heavens cannot be numbered, nor the sand of the sea measured, so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

[23]And the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah, saying,

[24]Hast thou not seen what this people have spoken, saying, The two families that Jehovah had chosen, he hath even cast them off? And they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

[25]Thus saith Jehovah: If my covenant of day and night [stand] not, if I have not appointed the ordinances of the heavens and the earth, [26][then] will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David my servant, so as not to take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will turn their captivity, and will have mercy on them.

34The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth under his dominion, and all the peoples, fought against Jerusalem and against all the cities thereof, saying,

[2]Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel: Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

[3]And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt certainly be taken, and given into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and his mouth shall speak with thy mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon.

[4]Only, hear the word of Jehovah, O Zedekiah king of Judah. Thus saith Jehovah as to thee: Thou shalt not die by the sword;

[5]thou shalt die in peace, and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings that were before thee, so shall they burn for thee; and they will lament for thee, Ah, lord! for I have spoken the word, saith Jehovah.

[6]And the prophet Jeremiah spoke all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah, in Jerusalem.

[7]And the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish, and against Azekah; for these were amongst the cities of Judah, the fenced cities that were left.

[8]The word that came unto Jeremiah from Jehovah, after that king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people that were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them:

[9]that every man should let his bondman, and every man his bondmaid, the Hebrew and the Hebrewess, go free, that none should exact service of them, [that is,] of a Jew his brother.

[10]And all the princes and all the people that had entered into the covenant obeyed, every man letting his bondman and every man his bondmaid go free, that none should exact service of them any more: they obeyed, and let [them] go.

[11]But afterwards they turned, and caused the bondmen and the bondmaids whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for bondmen and for bondmaids.

[12]And the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying,

[13]Thus saith Jehovah the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying,

[14]At the end of seven years ye shall let go every man his brother, a Hebrew, who hath sold himself unto thee; when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee. But your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear.

[15]And you, ye had this day turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name:

[16]but ye have turned and profaned my name, and caused every man his bondman, and every man his bondmaid, whom ye had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and ye have brought them into subjection, to be unto you for bondmen and for bondmaids.

[17]Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith Jehovah, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will give you over to be driven hither and thither among all the kingdoms of the earth.

[18]And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, who have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, -- the calf which they cut in twain, and passed between the parts thereof,

[19]-- the princes of Judah and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, that passed between the parts of the calf;

[20]them will I give into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of them that seek their life; and their carcases shall be food for the fowl of the heavens and for the beasts of the earth.

[21]And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you.

[22]Behold, I command, saith Jehovah, and I will cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

35 The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, saying,

2 Go to the house of the Rechabites, and speak with them, and bring them into the house of Jehovah, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.

3 And I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 and I brought them into the house of Jehovah, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah, the man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the threshold.

5 And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites bowls full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink wine.

6 And they said, We will drink no wine; for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, ye nor your sons for ever;

7 neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor shall ye have [any]; but all your days ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may live many days in the land where ye sojourn.

8 And we have hearkened unto the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he commanded us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, and our daughters,

9 and not to build houses for us to dwell in; neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed;

10 but we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

11 And it came to pass when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come and let us go into Jerusalem because of the army of the Chaldeans, and because of the army of Syria; and we dwell at Jerusalem.

12 And the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Go and say to the men of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken unto my words? saith Jehovah.

14 The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons not to drink wine, are performed; and to this day they have drunk none, for they have obeyed their father's commandment. But I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking, and ye have not hearkened unto me.

15 And I have sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early and sending, saying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them; and ye shall dwell in the land that I have given to you and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear nor hearkened unto me.

16 Yea, the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me;

17 therefore thus saith Jehovah the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them, because I have spoken unto them, but they have not hearkened, and I have called unto them, but they have not answered.

18 And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his injunctions, and have done according unto all that he hath commanded you;

19 therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, There shall not fail to Jonadab the son of Rechab a man to stand before me, for ever.

36 And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, [that] this word came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying,

2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spoke unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be the house of Judah will hear all the evil that I purpose to do unto them, that they may return every man from his evil way, and that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.

4 And Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Nerijah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of Jehovah, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up, I cannot go into the house of Jehovah; but go thou in,

6 and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of Jehovah in the ears of the people in the house of Jehovah upon the fast day; and thou shalt also read them in the ears of all Judah that come from their cities.

7 It may be they will present their supplication before Jehovah, and that they will return every one from his evil way; for great is the anger and the fury that Jehovah hath pronounced against this people.

8 And Baruch the son of Nerijah did according to all that the prophet Jeremiah commanded him, reading in the book the words of Jehovah in Jehovah's house.

9 And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, in the ninth month, [that] they proclaimed a fast before Jehovah, for all the people in Jerusalem, and for all the people that came from the cities of Judah to Jerusalem.

10 And Baruch read in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of Jehovah, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the new gate of the house of Jehovah, in the ears of all the people.

11 And Micah the son of Gemariah the son of Shaphan heard out of the book all the words of Jehovah;

12 and he went down to the king's house, into the scribe's chamber, and behold, all the princes were sitting there: Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 And Micah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read in the book in the ears of the people.

14 And all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thy hand the roll in which thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. And Baruch the son of Nerijah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. And Baruch read [it] in their ears.

16 And it came to pass, when they heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said unto Baruch, We will certainly report to the king all these words.

17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words from his mouth?

18 And Baruch said unto them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote [them] with ink in the book.

19 And the princes said unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; that none may know where ye are.

20 And they went in unto the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they told all the words in the ears of the king.

21 And the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll, and he fetched it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes that stood beside the king.

22 Now the king was sitting in the winter-house in the ninth month, and with the fire-pan burning before him.

23 And it came to pass, that when Jehudi had read three or four columns, he cut it with the scribe's knife, and cast it into the fire that was in the pan until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was in the pan.

[24]And they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, [neither] the king nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

[25]Moreover, Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll; but he would not hear them.

[26]And the king commanded Jerahmeel the son of Hammelech, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet; but Jehovah hid them.

[27]And after that the king had burned the roll, and the words that Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah, saying, [28]Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned.

[29]And thou shalt say to Jehoiakim king of Judah, Thus saith Jehovah: Thou hast burned this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from it man and beast?

[30]Therefore thus saith Jehovah concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David; and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

[31]And I will visit their iniquity upon him, and upon his seed, and upon his servants; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them; and they have not hearkened.

[32]And Jeremiah took another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Nerijah; and he wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah, all the words of the book that Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and there were added besides unto them many like words.

37 And king Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon having made him king in the land of Judah.

[2]And neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, hearkened unto the words of Jehovah, which he had spoken through the prophet Jeremiah.

[3]And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now unto Jehovah our God for us.

[4]And Jeremiah came in and went out among the people; for they had not put him into prison.

[5]And Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt; and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they went up from Jerusalem.

[6]And the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

[7]Thus saith Jehovah the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me: Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land.

[8]And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city, and take it, and burn it with fire.

[9]Thus saith Jehovah: Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans are certainly gone away from us; for they are not gone.

[10]For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained [but] wounded men among them, [yet] should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

[11]And it came to pass when the army of the Chaldeans was gone up from Jerusalem because of Pharaoh's army, [12]that Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to have his portion there among the people.

[13]And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the guard was there whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he laid hold on the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Thou art deserting to the Chaldeans.

[14]And Jeremiah said, It is false: I am not deserting to the Chaldeans. But he hearkened not to him; and Irijah laid hold on Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.

[15]And the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in the place of confinement in the house of Jonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

[16]When Jeremiah was come into the dungeon and into the vaults, and Jeremiah had remained there many days, [17]king Zedekiah sent and took him out. And the king asked of him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from Jehovah? And Jeremiah said, There is; and he said, Thou shalt be given into the hand of the king of Babylon.

[18]And Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in the prison?

[19]And where are your prophets that prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

[20]And now hear, I pray thee, my lord, O king: let my supplication, I pray thee, come before thee; and cause me not to return into the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

[21]Then Zedekiah the king commanded, and they committed Jeremiah into the court of the guard, and they gave him daily a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was spent. And Jeremiah abode in the court of the guard.

38 And Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the son of Malchijah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith Jehovah: He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live; and he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith Jehovah: This city shall certainly be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, and he shall take it.

4 And the princes said unto the king, Let this man, we pray thee, be put to death; for why should he weaken the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking to them according to these words? for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 And king Zedekiah said, Behold, he is in your hand; for the king is not he that can do a thing against you.

6 Then they took Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchijah the son of Hammelech, which was in the court of the guard, and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire; and Jeremiah sank in the mire.

7 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, a eunuch who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon -- now the king was sitting in the gate of Benjamin,

8 -- and Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spoke to the king, saying,

9 My lord, O king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to the prophet Jeremiah, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and he will die by reason of the famine in the place where he is; for there is no more bread in the city.

10 And the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die.

11 And Ebed-melech took the men under his order, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old shreds and worn-out clothes, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, Put, I pray, [these] old shreds and rags under thine armholes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so.

13 And they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and brought him up out of the dungeon; and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

14 And king Zedekiah sent and took the prophet Jeremiah unto him, into the third entry that is in the house of Jehovah; and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 And Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare [it] unto thee, wilt thou not certainly put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hearken unto me.

16 And king Zedekiah swore secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, [As] Jehovah liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

17 And Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, Thus saith Jehovah the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If thou wilt freely go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thy house.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand.

19 And king Zedekiah said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that have deserted to the Chaldeans, lest they give me over into their hand, and they mock me.

20 And Jeremiah said, They shall not give [thee] over. Hearken, I beseech thee, unto the voice of Jehovah, in that which I speak unto thee; so shall it be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

21 But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word which Jehovah hath shewn me:

22 Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes; and they shall say, Thy familiar friends have set thee on, and have prevailed over thee; thy feet are sunk in the mire, they are turned away back.

23 And they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chaldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand; for thou shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon, and thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire.

24 And Zedekiah said unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 And if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; and what hath the king said unto thee?

26 then thou shalt say unto them, I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there.

27 -- And all the princes came to Jeremiah, and asked him; and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. And they withdrew quietly from him; for the matter was not reported.

[28]And Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

39And it came to pass when Jerusalem was taken, in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and they besieged it.

[2]In the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, on the ninth of the month, the city was broken into;

[3]and all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate: Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebu, Sarsechim, chief chamberlain, Nergal-sharezer, chief magian, and all the rest of the princes of the king of Babylon.

[4]And it came to pass when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, that they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate between the two walls; and he went out the way of the plain.

[5]And the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and they took him, and brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, unto Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he pronounced judgment upon him.

[6]And the king of Babylon slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes, and the king of Babylon slaughtered all the nobles of Judah;

[7]and he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with chains of brass, to carry him to Babylon.

[8]And the Chaldeans burned the king's house and the houses of the people with fire, and broke down the walls of Jerusalem.

[9]And Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard carried away captive into Babylon the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the deserters that had deserted to him, with the rest of the people that were left.

[10]But Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard left [certain] of the people, the poor who had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

[11]And Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had given charge concerning Jeremiah by Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard, saying, [12]Take him, and keep an eye upon him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.

[13]So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard sent, and Nebushazban, chief chamberlain, and Nergal-sharezer, chief magian, and all the king of Babylon's princes, [14]even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard and committed him to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, that he should conduct him away home. And he dwelt among the people.

15 And the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the guard, saying,

16 Go and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good, and they shall come to pass before thy face in that day.

17 And I will deliver thee in that day, saith Jehovah; and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid;

18 for I will certainly save thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thou shalt have thy life for a prey; for thou hast put thy confidence in me, saith Jehovah.

40 The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, after that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him, being bound in chains, among all the captivity of Jerusalem and Judah, that were carried away captive to Babylon.

2 And the captain of the body-guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, Jehovah thy God pronounced this evil upon this place,

3 and Jehovah hath brought [it about] and done according as he said; for ye have sinned against Jehovah, and have not hearkened unto his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains that are upon thy hand. If it seem good in thy sight to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will keep mine eye upon thee; but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me to Babylon, forbear. See, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and right in thy sight to go, thither go.

5 And while he had not yet given answer; [he said,] Yea, go back to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath appointed over the cities of Judah, and abide with him in the midst of the people; or go wheresoever it seemeth right in thy sight to go. And the captain of the body-guard gave him provisions and a present, and let him go.

6 And Jeremiah came unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and abode with him among the people that remained in the land.

7 And all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam over the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that had not been carried away captive to Babylon.

8 And they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah; even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.

[9]And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan swore unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

[10]And as for me, behold, I dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans, who will come unto us; and ye, gather wine, and summer fruits, and oil, and put [them] in your vessels, and dwell in your cities which ye have taken.

[11]Likewise all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the children of Ammon and in Edom, and that were in all the lands, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah, and that he had appointed over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan;

[12]and all the Jews returned out of all the places whither they had been driven, and came to the land of Judah to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits in great abundance.

[13]And Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, [14]and said unto him, Dost thou indeed know that Baalis the king of the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to smite thee to death? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not.

[15]And Johanan the son of Kareah spoke to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will smite Ishmael the son of Nethaniah and no man shall know it: why should he take thy life, and all they of Judah who are gathered unto thee be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish?

[16]But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing; for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

41And it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah the son of Elishama, of the royal seed, and [one] of the king's chief men, and ten men with him, came to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam unto Mizpah, and there they ate bread together, in Mizpah.

[2]And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah arose, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and killed him, whom the king of Babylon had appointed over the land.

[3]And Ishmael smote all the Jews that were with him, with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, the men of war.

[4]And it came to pass the second day after he had killed Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

[5]that there came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, eighty men, having their beards shaven and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves; with oblations and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of Jehovah.

[6]And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went; and it came to pass when he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.

[7]And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, he and the men that were with him, slew them, [and cast them] into the midst of the pit.

[8]But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Do not kill us, for we have hidden stores in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and did not kill them among their brethren.

[9]And the pit into which Ishmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain by the side of Gedaliah was the one which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel: Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with the slain.

[10]And Ishmael carried away captive all the remnant of the people that were in Mizpah, the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the children of Ammon.

[11]And Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done;

[12]and they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are at Gibeon.

[13]And it came to pass when all the people that were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

[14]And all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned about and came back, and went to Johanan the son of Kareah.

[15]But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the children of Ammon.

[16]Then Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, took all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the mighty men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon;

[17]and they departed, and dwelt at Geruth-Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt, [18]because of the Chaldeans; for they feared them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had smitten Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed over the land.

42 And all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,

2 came near and said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we beseech thee, our supplication come before thee, and pray for us unto Jehovah thy God, for all this remnant (for we are left a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us);

3 that Jehovah thy God may shew us the way wherein we should walk, and the thing that we should do.

4 And Jeremiah the prophet said unto them, I have heard; behold, I will pray unto Jehovah your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass [that] whatsoever thing Jehovah shall answer you, I will declare it unto you: I will keep nothing back from you.

5 And they said to Jeremiah, Jehovah be a true and faithful witness amongst us, if we do not even according to all the word for which Jehovah thy God shall send thee to us.

6 Whether it be good or whether it be evil, we will hearken unto the voice of Jehovah our God, to whom we send thee; that it may be well with us when we hearken unto the voice of Jehovah our God.

7 And it came to pass at the end of ten days, that the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah.

8 And he called Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest,

9 and said unto them, Thus saith Jehovah the God of Israel, to whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him:

10 If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not overthrow [you], and I will plant you, and not pluck [you] up; for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

11 Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, saith Jehovah; for I will be with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And I will grant mercies to you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land.

13 But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land; so as not to hearken unto the voice of Jehovah your God,

14 saying, No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger for bread; and there will we dwell;

15 -- and now, therefore, hear the word of Jehovah, ye remnant of Judah: thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: If ye really set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there, 16then it shall come to pass, that the sword which ye fear shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, whereof ye are afraid, shall follow hard after you there in Egypt; and there ye shall die.

17And it shall be that all the men that have set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

18For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: As mine anger and my fury have been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt; and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach, and ye shall see this place no more.

19Jehovah hath said concerning you, the remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt. Know certainly that I have admonished you this day.

20For ye deceived yourselves in your own souls, when ye sent me unto Jehovah your God, saying, Pray for us unto Jehovah our God; and according to all that Jehovah our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it.

21And I have this day declared [it] to you; but ye have not obeyed the voice of Jehovah your God, nor anything for which he hath sent me unto you.

22And now know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go to sojourn.

43And it came to pass, when Jeremiah had ended speaking unto all the people all the words of Jehovah their God, with which Jehovah their God had sent him to them -- all these words,

2-- then spoke Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying to Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: Jehovah our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to sojourn there;

3but Baruch the son of Nerijah is setting thee on against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.

4So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, hearkened not unto the voice of Jehovah to abide in the land of Judah;

5but Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations whither they had been driven, to sojourn in the land of Judah;

6men, and women, and children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Nerijah;

[7]and they came into the land of Egypt: for they hearkened not unto the voice of Jehovah. And they came as far as Tahpanhes.

[8]And the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

[9]Take great stones in thy hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick-kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the Jews,

[10]and say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones which I have hidden, and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.

[11]And he shall come and smite the land of Egypt: such as are for death to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity; and such as are for the sword to the sword.

[12]And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burn them, and carry them away captive; and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace.

[13]And he shall break the pillars of Beth-shemesh, which is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of Egypt shall he burn with fire.

44The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews who dwelt in the land of Egypt, who dwelt at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,

[2]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and behold they are, this day, a waste, and no man dwelleth therein,

[3]because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense to serve other gods which they knew not, they, [nor] ye, nor your fathers.

[4]And I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early and sending, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing which I hate!

[5]But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods.

[6]And my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are become a waste, a desolation, as at this day.

[7]And now thus saith Jehovah the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Wherefore commit ye great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and suckling, out of the midst of Judah, to leave you no remnant;

[8]provoking me to anger with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye are come to sojourn, that ye should be cut off, and that ye should be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?

[9]Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

[10]They are not humbled unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes which I set before you and before your fathers.

[11]Therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.

[12]And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to enter into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed: in the land of Egypt shall they fall; they shall be consumed by the sword [and] by the famine, from the least even unto the greatest; they shall die by the sword and by the famine, and they shall be an execration, an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.

[13]And I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence;

[14]and none of the remnant of Judah, that have come into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, so as to return into the land of Judah, whither they have a desire to return to dwell there; for none shall return but such as shall escape.

[15]Then all the men who knew that their wives burned incense to other gods, and all the women who stood by, a great assemblage, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying,

[16][As for] the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of Jehovah, we will not hearken unto thee,

[17]but we will certainly do every word that is gone forth out of our mouth, to burn incense to the queen of the heavens, and to pour out drink-offerings to her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and we had plenty of bread, and were well, and saw no evil.

[18]But since we left off burning incense to the queen of the heavens, and pouring out drink-offerings to her, we have wanted everything, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.

[19]And when we burned incense to the queen of the heavens and poured out drink-offerings to her, did we make for her cakes to portray her, and pour out drink-offerings to her, without our husbands?

[20]And Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people that had given him that answer, saying,

[21]Is it not the incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes and the people of the land, that Jehovah remembered, and that came into his mind?

[22]And Jehovah could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, [and] because of the abominations that ye had committed; and your land is become a waste, and an astonishment, and a curse, without inhabitant, as at this day.

[23]Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against Jehovah, and have not hearkened unto the voice of Jehovah, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil hath come upon you, as at this day.

[24]And Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear ye the word of Jehovah, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt.

[25]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hands, saying, We will certainly perform our vows which we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of the heavens, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her. Ye will certainly establish your vows, and entirely perform your vows.

[26]Therefore hear ye the word of Jehovah, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith Jehovah, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, [As] the Lord Jehovah liveth.

[27]Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good; and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them.

[28]And they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, a very small company; and all the remnant of Judah, that have come into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose word shall stand, mine or theirs.

[29]And this shall be the sign unto you, saith Jehovah, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall certainly stand against you for evil:

[30]thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will give Pharaoh-Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

45The word that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Nerijah, when he wrote these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah, saying,

[2]Thus sayeth Jehovah, the God of Israel, concerning thee, Baruch:

[3]Thou didst say, Woe unto me! for Jehovah hath added grief to my sorrow; I am weary with my sighing, and I find no rest.

[4]Thus shalt thou say unto him, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, what I have built do I overthrow, and what I have planted I pluck up, even this whole land.

[5]And seekest thou great things for thyself? seek [them] not; for behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith Jehovah; but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou shalt go.

46 The word of Jehovah that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the nations.

[2]Of Egypt: concerning the army of Pharaoh-Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates at Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah.

[3]Make ready buckler and shield, and draw near to battle!

[4]Harness the horses, and mount ye horsemen, and stand forth with helmets; polish the spears, put on the coats of mail!

[5]Why do I see them dismayed, turned away back? And their mighty ones are beaten down, and take to flight, and look not back? Terror [is] on every side, saith Jehovah.

[6]Let not the swift flee away, neither let the mighty man escape! -- Toward the north, hard by the river Euphrates, they have stumbled and fallen.

[7]Who is this [that] riseth up as the Nile, whose waters toss themselves like the rivers?

[8]It is Egypt that riseth up as the Nile, and [his] waters toss themselves like the rivers; and he saith, I will rise up, I will cover the earth; I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof.

[9]Go up, ye horses, and drive furiously, ye chariots; and let the mighty men go forth: Cush and Phut that handle the shield, and the Ludim that handle the bow [and] bend it.

[10]For this is the day of the Lord Jehovah of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may be avenged of his adversaries; and the sword shall devour, and it shall be sated and made drunk with their blood; for the Lord Jehovah of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north country, by the river Euphrates.

[11]Go up to Gilead, and fetch balm, O virgin-daughter of Egypt! In vain shalt thou multiply remedies: there is no healing for thee.

[12]The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the earth; for the mighty man stumbleth against the mighty, they are both fallen together.

[13]The word that Jehovah spoke to Jeremiah the prophet, concerning the coming of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon to smite the land of Egypt:

[14]Declare in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph, and in Tahpanhes; say, Stand fast, and prepare thee; for the sword devoureth round about thee.

[15]Why are thy valiants swept away? They stood not, for Jehovah did thrust them down.

[16]He made many to stumble, yea, one fell upon another; and they said, Arise, and let us return to our own people and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword.

[17]There did they cry, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath let the time appointed go by.

[18][As] I live, saith the King, whose name is Jehovah of hosts, surely as Tabor among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea, so shall he come.

[19]Thou, inhabitress, daughter of Egypt, furnish for thyself a captive's baggage, for Noph shall be a desolation and shall be ruined, so that none shall dwell therein.

[20]Egypt is a very fair heifer; the gad-fly cometh, it cometh from the north.

[21]Also her hired men in the midst of her are like fatted bullocks; for they also have turned back, they have fled away together, they did not stand; for the day of their calamity is come upon them, the time of their visitation.

[22]Her voice shall go like a serpent's; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

[23]They shall cut down her forest, saith Jehovah, though it be impenetrable; for they are more than the locusts, and are innumerable.

[24]The daughter of Egypt is put to shame; she is delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

[25]Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, saith, Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, and her gods, and her kings; yea, Pharaoh and them that confide in him.

[26]And I will give them into the hand of those that seek their life, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants; but afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith Jehovah.

[27]But thou, my servant Jacob, fear not, neither be dismayed, Israel: for behold, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make [him] afraid.

[28]Fear thou not, my servant Jacob, saith Jehovah: for I am with thee; for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgment, and I will not hold thee altogether guiltless.

47 The word of Jehovah that came to the prophet Jeremiah concerning the Philistines, before Pharaoh smote Gazah.

2 Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing flood, and shall overflow the land, and all that is therein; the city, and them that dwell therein: and the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl,

3 at the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his steeds, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels: fathers shall not look back for [their] children, from feebleness of hands;

4 because of the day that cometh to lay waste all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Sidon every helper that remaineth; for Jehovah will lay waste the Philistines, the remnant of the island of Caphtor.

5 Baldness is come upon Gazah; Ashkelon is cut off, the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyself?

6 Alas! sword of Jehovah, how long wilt thou not be quiet? Withdraw into thy scabbard, rest, and be still.

7 How shouldest thou be quiet? -- For Jehovah hath given it a charge: against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore, there hath he appointed it.

48 Concerning Moab. Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Woe unto Nebo! for it is spoiled; Kirjathaim is put to shame, it is taken; Misgab is put to shame and dismayed.

2 Moab's praise is no more; in Heshbon they have devised evil against her: Come, and let us cut her off from [being] a nation. Thou also, O Madmen, shalt be cut down; the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying from Horonaim; wasting and great destruction!

4 Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

5 For by the ascent of Luhith continual weeping shall go up; for in the descent of Horonaim is heard the anguish of the cry of destruction.

6 Flee, save your lives, and be like a shrub in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast confided in thy works and in thy treasures, thou also shalt be taken, and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity, his priests and his princes together.

8 And the waster shall come upon every city, that not a city shall escape; and the valley shall perish, and the plateau shall be destroyed: as Jehovah hath said.

9 Give wings unto Moab, that she may flee and get away; and the cities thereof shall become a desolation, without inhabitant.

[10]Cursed be he that doeth the work of Jehovah negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood!

[11]Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and hath settled on his lees; he hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste hath remained in him, and his scent is not changed.

[12]Therefore behold, days come, saith Jehovah, that I will send unto him pourers that shall pour him off, and shall empty his vessels, and break in pieces his flagons.

[13]And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel, their confidence.

[14]How do ye say, We are mighty, and men of valour for the war?

[15]Moab is laid waste, and his cities are gone up [in smoke], and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose name is Jehovah of hosts.

[16]The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.

[17]All ye that are about him, bemoan him; and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staff broken, the beautiful rod!

[18]Come down from [thy] glory and sit in the drought, O inhabitress, daughter of Dibon; the spoiler of Moab is come up against thee, thy strongholds hath he destroyed.

[19]Stand by the way, and watch, inhabitress of Aroer; ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth; say, What is done?

[20]Moab is put to shame; for he is broken down: howl and cry; tell it in Arnon, that Moab is laid waste.

[21]And judgment is come upon the country of the plateau; upon Holon, and upon Jahzah, and upon Mephaath;

[22]and upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim;

[23]and upon Kirjathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon;

[24]and upon Kerijoth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far and near.

[25]The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith Jehovah.

[26]Make him drunken, for he magnified himself against Jehovah; and Moab shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

[27]For was not Israel a derision unto thee? Was he found among thieves, that as oft as thou didst speak of him, thou didst shake the head?

[28]Leave the cities, and dwell in the rocks, ye inhabitants of Moab, and be like the dove, that maketh her nest in the sides of the cave's mouth.

[29]We have heard of the arrogance of Moab, -- [he is] very proud; -- his loftiness, and his arrogance, and his pride, and the haughtiness of his heart.

[30]I know his wrath, saith Jehovah; his pratings are vain: they do not as [they say].

[31]Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab: for the men of Kir-heres shall there be moaning.

[32]O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee with more than the weeping of Jaazer: thy shoots passed over the sea, they reached to the sea of Jaazer. The spoiler is fallen upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage.

[33]And joy and gladness is taken away from the fruitful field and from the land of Moab; and I have caused wine to fail from the winepresses: they shall no more tread with shouting; the shouting shall be no shouting.

[34]Because of the cry from Heshbon, unto Elaleh, unto Jahaz have they uttered their voice, from Zoar unto Horonaim, [unto] Eglath-shelishijah: for even the waters of Nimrim shall become desolations.

[35]And I will cause to cease in Moab, saith Jehovah, him that offereth in the high place, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

[36]Therefore my heart shall sound for Moab like pipes, and my heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kir-heres; because the abundance that he hath gotten is perished.

[37]For every head is bald, and every beard clipped; upon all the hands are cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.

[38]It is wholly lamentation upon all the housetops of Moab, and in the public places thereof; for I have broken Moab, like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith Jehovah.

[39]They howl, How is it broken down! how hath Moab turned the back with shame! And Moab shall be a derision and a terror to all that are round about him.

[40]For thus saith Jehovah: Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread forth his wings over Moab.

[41]Kerijoth is taken, and the strongholds are seized, and at that day the heart of the mighty men of Moab shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

[42]And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against Jehovah.

[43]Fear, and the pit, and the snare shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith Jehovah.

[44]He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon her, upon Moab, the year of their visitation, saith Jehovah.

45 They that fled stood under the shadow of Heshbon powerless; for a fire hath come forth from Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and hath consumed the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the sons of tumult.

46 Woe to thee, Moab! The people of Chemosh is undone; for thy sons are taken away in captivity, and thy daughters are captives.

47 But I will turn the captivity of Moab at the end of the days, saith Jehovah. Thus far is the judgement of Moab.

49 Concerning the children of Ammon. Thus saith Jehovah: Hath Israel no sons? hath he no heir? Why is Malcam heir of Gad, and his people dwell in the cities thereof?

2 Therefore behold, days come, saith Jehovah, that I will cause the clamour of war to be heard in Rabbah of the children of Ammon; and it shall be a desolate heap; and her towns shall be burned with fire; and Israel shall possess them that possessed him, saith Jehovah.

3 Howl, Heshbon! for Ai is laid waste; cry, daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth, lament and run to and fro within the enclosures: for Malcam shall go into captivity, his priests and his princes together.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys? Thy valley shall flow down, O backsliding daughter, that trusteth in her treasures, [saying,] Who shall come against me?

5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord Jehovah of hosts, from all that are about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth; and none shall assemble the fugitives.

6 And afterwards I will turn the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith Jehovah.

7 Concerning Edom. Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Is there no more wisdom in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom spent?

8 Flee, turn back, dwell deep down, ye inhabitants of Dedan! For I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I visit him.

9 If grape-gatherers had come to thee, would they not have left a gleaning? If thieves by night, they would destroy only till they had enough.

10 But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, that he is unable to hide himself: his seed is wasted, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and he is not.

11 Leave thine orphans, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith Jehovah: Behold, they whose judgment was not to drink of the cup shall assuredly drink; and thou indeed, shouldest thou be altogether unpunished? Thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink.

[13]For I have sworn by myself, saith Jehovah, that Bozrah shall become an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

[14]I have heard a rumour from Jehovah, and an ambassador is sent among the nations: -- Gather yourselves together, and come against her and rise up for the battle.

[15]For behold, I have made thee small among the nations, despised among men.

[16]Thy terribleness, the pride of thy heart, hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill. Though thou shouldest make thy nest high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith Jehovah.

[17]And Edom shall be an astonishment: every one that goeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss, because of all the plagues thereof.

[18]As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, and their neighbour cities, saith Jehovah, no one shall dwell there, neither shall a son of man sojourn therein.

[19]Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of the Jordan against the strong habitation; for I will make them suddenly run away from it; and who is a chosen [man] whom I shall appoint over her? For who is like me? and who will assign me a time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

[20]Therefore hear the counsel of Jehovah, which he hath taken against Edom, and his purposes which he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: The little ones of the flock shall certainly draw them away; he shall certainly make their habitation desolate for them.

[21]The earth quaketh at the sound of their fall; there is a cry, the sound whereof is heard in the Red sea.

[22]Behold, he shall come up, and fly as an eagle, and spread forth his wings against Bozrah; and at that day the heart of the mighty men of Edom shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

[23]Concerning Damascus. Hamath is put to shame, and Arpad; for they have heard evil tidings, they are melted away: there is distress on the sea; it cannot be quiet.

[24]Damascus is grown feeble: she turneth herself to flee, and terror hath seized on her; trouble and sorrows have taken hold of her as of a woman in travail.

[25]How is not the town of praise forsaken, the city of my joy!

[26]Therefore shall her young men fall in her streets, and all the men of war be cut off in that day, saith Jehovah of hosts.

[27]And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

[28]Concerning Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote. Thus saith Jehovah: Arise, go up to Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.

[29]Their tents and their flocks shall they take; their curtains and all their vessels, and their camels, shall they carry away for themselves; and they shall cry unto them, Terror on every side!

[30]Flee, wander very far, dwell deep down, ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith Jehovah; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

[31]Arise, get you up against the nation at ease, that dwelleth securely, saith Jehovah, which hath neither gates nor bars: they dwell alone.

[32]And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil; and I will scatter to every wind them that have the corners [of their beard] cut off, and I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof, saith Jehovah.

[33]And Hazor shall be a dwelling-place of jackals, a desolation for ever. No one shall dwell there, neither shall a son of man sojourn therein.

[34]The word of Jehovah that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, [35]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might.

[36]And upon Elam will I bring the four winds, from the four ends of the heavens, and I will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Elam shall not come.

[37]And I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life; and I will bring evil upon them, my fierce anger, saith Jehovah; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them.

[38]And I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence king and princes, saith Jehovah.

[39]But it shall come to pass at the end of the days, I will turn the captivity of Elam, saith Jehovah.

50 The word that Jehovah spoke concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chaldeans, through Jeremiah the prophet.

[2]Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and lift up a banner; publish, conceal not! Say, Babylon is taken, Bel is put to shame, Merodach is dismayed: her images are put to shame, her idols are dismayed.

[3]For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: both man and beast are fled; they are gone.

[4]In those days, and at that time, saith Jehovah, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together, going and weeping as they go, and shall seek Jehovah their God.

[5]They shall inquire concerning Zion, with their faces thitherward, [saying,] Come, and let us join ourselves to Jehovah, in an everlasting covenant that shall not be forgotten.

[6]My people are lost sheep; their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they turned them away on the mountains: they went from mountain to hill, they forgot their resting-place.

[7]All that found them devoured them, and their adversaries said, We are not guilty, because they have sinned against Jehovah, the habitation of righteousness, even Jehovah, the hope of their fathers.

[8]Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flock.

[9]For behold, I will raise and cause to come up against Babylon, an assemblage of great nations from the north country; and they shall set themselves in array against her: from thence shall she be taken. Their arrows shall be as those of a mighty expert man: none shall return empty.

[10]And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all the spoilers thereof shall be satiated, saith Jehovah.

[11]For ye rejoiced, for ye triumphed, ye plunderers of my heritage; for ye have been wanton as the heifer at grass, and neighed as steeds.

[12]Your mother hath been sorely put to shame; she that bore you hath been covered with reproach: behold, [she is become] hindmost of the nations, a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.

[13]Because of the wrath of Jehovah, it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate; every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and shall hiss, because of all her plagues.

[14]Put yourselves in array against Babylon round about, all ye that bend the bow; shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against Jehovah.

[15]Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand; her ramparts are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for this is the vengeance of Jehovah. Take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her.

[16]Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest. For fear of the oppressing sword let them turn every one to his people, and let them flee every one to his own land.

[17]Israel is a hunted sheep; the lions have driven him away: first the king of Assyria devoured him, and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones.

[18]Therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will visit the king of Babylon and his land, like as I have visited the king of Assyria.

[19]And I will bring Israel again to his pasture, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ephraim and in Gilead.

[20]In those days, and at that time, saith Jehovah, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon those whom I leave remaining.

[21]Go up against the land of double rebellion, against it, and against the inhabitants of visitation; waste and utterly destroy after them, saith Jehovah, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.

[22]A sound of battle is in the land, and great destruction.

[23]How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! How is Babylon become an astonishment among the nations!

[24]I have laid a snare for thee, and thou, Babylon, art also taken, and thou wast not aware; thou art found, and also caught, for thou hast contended with Jehovah.

[25]Jehovah hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation; for this is a work for the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, in the land of the Chaldeans.

[26]Come ye against her from every quarter, open her storehouses; pile her up like sheaves, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

[27]Slay all her bullocks; let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them! for their day is come, the time of their visitation.

[28]The voice of them that flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of Jehovah our God, the vengeance of his temple.

[29]Call together the archers against Babylon, all those that bend the bow: encamp against her round about; let there be no escaping: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath acted proudly against Jehovah, against the Holy One of Israel.

[30]Therefore shall her young men fall in her streets; and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith Jehovah.

[31]Behold, I am against thee, proud one, saith the Lord Jehovah of hosts; for thy day is come, the time that I visit thee:

[32]and the proud one shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up; yea, I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all that are round about him.

[33]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah were together oppressed; and all that took them captives held them fast: they refused to let them go.

34 Their Redeemer is strong; Jehovah of hosts is his name: he will thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

35 The sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith Jehovah, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men;

36 the sword is upon the liars, and they shall become fools; the sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed;

37 the sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and they shall become as women; the sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed:

38 a drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up; for it is a land of graven images, and they are mad after frightful idols.

39 Therefore wild beasts of the desert with jackals shall dwell there, and ostriches shall dwell therein; and it shall be no more inhabited for ever, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

40 As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and their neighbour cities, saith Jehovah, no one shall dwell there, neither shall a son of man sojourn therein.

41 Behold, a people cometh from the north, and a great nation. And many kings shall arise from the uttermost parts of the earth.

42 They lay hold of bow and spear; they are cruel, and will not shew mercy; their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses -- set in array like a man for the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon.

43 The king of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands wax feeble; trouble hath taken hold of him, pangs as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of the Jordan against the strong habitation; for I will make him suddenly run away from it; and who is a chosen [man] whom I may appoint over her? For who is like me? and who will assign me a time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore hear the counsel of Jehovah, which he hath taken against Babylon, and his purposes which he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: The little ones of the flock shall certainly draw them away; he shall certainly make their habitation desolate for them.

46 At the sound of the taking of Babylon the earth hath quaked, and the cry is heard among the nations.

51 Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in the heart of those that rise against me, a destroying wind;

[2]and I will send unto Babylon strangers, who shall fan her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

[3]Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his coat of mail; and spare not her young men: destroy utterly all her host.

[4]And the slain shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

[5]For Israel is not forsaken, nor Judah of his God, of Jehovah of hosts; for their land is full of guilt against the Holy One of Israel.

[6]Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and save every man his life; be ye not cut off in her iniquity: for this is the time of Jehovah's vengeance: he shall render unto her a recompence.

[7]Babylon hath been a golden cup in Jehovah's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunk of her wine; therefore have the nations become mad.

[8]Babylon is suddenly fallen and ruined. Howl over her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

[9]We have treated Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country; for her judgment reacheth unto the heavens, and is lifted up to the skies.

[10]Jehovah hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of Jehovah our God.

[11]Sharpen the arrows; take the shields. Jehovah hath stirred up the spirit of the kings of the Medes; for his purpose is against Babylon, to destroy it; for this is the vengeance of Jehovah, the vengeance of his temple.

[12]Lift up a banner towards the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set the watchmen, prepare the ambushes; for Jehovah hath both devised and done that which he spoke against the inhabitants of Babylon.

[13]Thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, the measure of thy rapacity.

[14]Jehovah of hosts hath sworn by himself, I will assuredly fill thee with men, as with caterpillars; and they shall raise a shout against thee.

[15]He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his understanding.

[16]When he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the end of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

[17]Every man is become brutish, so as to have no knowledge; every founder is put to shame by the graven image, for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

[18]They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

[19]The portion of Jacob is not like them; for it is he that hath formed all things: and [Israel] is the rod of his inheritance: Jehovah of hosts is his name.

[20]Thou art my maul, [my] weapons of war: and with thee I will break in pieces the nations, and I will with thee destroy kingdoms;

[21]and with thee I will break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with thee I will break in pieces the chariot and its driver;

[22]and with thee will I break in pieces man and woman; and with thee will I break in pieces old and young; and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid;

[23]and with thee will I break in pieces the shepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen; and with thee will I break in pieces governors and rulers.

[24]And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea, in your sight, all their evil which they have done in Zion, saith Jehovah.

[25]Behold, I am against thee, mount of destruction, saith Jehovah, which destroyest all the earth; and I will stretch out my hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burning mountain.

[26]And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations; for thou shalt be desolate for ever, saith Jehovah.

[27]Lift up a banner in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare nations against her; call together against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz; appoint a captain against her; cause the horses to come up as the bristly caterpillars.

[28]Prepare nations against her, the kings of the Medes, their governors and all their rulers, yea, all the land of their dominion.

[29]And the land trembleth and is in pain; for the purposes of Jehovah against Babylon do stand, to make the land of Babylon a desolation, without inhabitant.

[30]The mighty men of Babylon have ceased to fight, they are sitting in the fortresses; their might hath failed, they are become as women: they have set her dwelling places on fire; her bars are broken.

[31]Courier runneth to meet courier, and messenger to meet messenger, to announce to the king of Babylon that his city is taken from end to end;

[32]and the passages are seized, and the reedy places are burnt with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.

[33]For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor, at the time of its being trodden; yet a little while, and the time of harvest shall come for her.

[34]Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel; he hath swallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicates, he hath cast me out.

[35]The violence done to me and to my flesh be upon Babylon, shall the inhabitress of Zion say; and, My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall Jerusalem say.

[36]Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her spring dry.

[37]And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling-place of jackals, an astonishment, and a hissing, without inhabitant.

[38]They shall roar together like young lions, growl as lions' whelps.

[39]When they are heated, I will prepare their drink, and I will make them drunken, that they may exult, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith Jehovah.

[40]I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats.

[41]How is Sheshach taken! and how is the praise of the whole earth seized! How is Babylon become an astonishment among the nations!

[42]The sea is come up upon Babylon: she is covered with the multitude of its waves.

[43]Her cities are become a desolation, a dry land, and a desert, a land wherein no one dwelleth, neither doth a son of man pass thereby.

[44]And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth what he hath swallowed up; and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon is fallen.

[45]Go ye out of the midst of her, my people, and deliver every man his soul from the fierce anger of Jehovah!

[46]lest your heart faint, and ye fear for the rumour that shall be heard in the land; for a rumour shall come [one] year, and after that a rumour in [another] year, and violence in the earth, ruler against ruler.

[47]Therefore behold, days are coming when I will punish the graven images of Babylon; and her whole land shall be put to shame, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

[48]And the heavens and the earth, and all that is therein, shall shout aloud over Babylon; for out of the north the spoilers shall come against her, saith Jehovah.

[49]As Babylon caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the earth.

[50]Ye that have escaped the sword, go, stand not still: remember Jehovah from afar, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.

[51]-- We are put to shame, for we have heard reproach; confusion hath covered our face: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of Jehovah's house.

[52]-- Therefore behold, days come, saith Jehovah, that I will punish her graven images; and throughout her land the wounded shall groan.

[53]Though Babylon should mount up to the heavens, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith Jehovah.

[54]The sound of a cry [cometh] from Babylon, and great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans;

[55]for Jehovah spoileth Babylon, and he will destroy out of her the great voice; and their waves roar like great waters, the noise of their voice resoundeth.

[56]For the spoiler is come against her, against Babylon, and her mighty men are taken; their bows are broken in pieces; for Jehovah, the [God] of recompences, will certainly requite.

[57]And I will make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her governors, and her rulers, and her mighty men; and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is Jehovah of hosts.

[58]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly laid bare, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; so that the peoples will have laboured in vain, and the nations for the fire: and they shall be weary.

[59]The word that Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Nerijah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was chief chamberlain.

[60]And Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, all these words that are written against Babylon.

[61]And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, see that thou read all these words;

[62]and say, Jehovah, thou hast spoken concerning this place, that thou wilt cut it off, so that none shall dwell in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever.

[63]And it shall be, when thou hast ended reading this book, [that] thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of the Euphrates;

[64]and shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise, because of the evil that I will bring upon it: and they shall be weary. Thus far the words of Jeremiah.

52[1]Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Hamutal, daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

[2]And he did evil in the sight of Jehovah, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

[3]For, because the anger of Jehovah was against Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence, Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

[4]And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth of the month, [that] Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem; and they encamped against it, and built turrets against it round about.

[5]And the city was besieged until the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

[6]In the fourth month, on the ninth of the month, the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.

[7]And the city was broken into: and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden (now the Chaldeans were near the city round about); and they went the way toward the plain.

[8]And the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him.

[9]And they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon, unto Riblah in the land of Hamath, and he pronounced judgment upon him.

[10]And the king of Babylon slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes; and he slaughtered also all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

[11]And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with chains of brass; and the king of Babylon carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

[12]And in the fifth month, on the tenth of the month, which was in the nineteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, Nebuzar-adan, captain of the body-guard, who stood before the king of Babylon, came unto Jerusalem;

[13]and he burned the house of Jehovah, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem; and every great [man's] house he burned with fire.

[14]And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the body-guard, broke down all the walls of Jerusalem round about.

[15]And Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard carried away captive of the poorest sort of the people, and the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the deserters that had deserted to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude.

[16]But Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard left of the poor of the land for vinedressers and for husbandmen.

[17]And the brazen pillars that were in the house of Jehovah, and the bases, and the brazen sea that was in the house of Jehovah, the Chaldeans broke up, and carried all the brass thereof to Babylon.

[18]The pots also, and the shovels, and the knives, and the bowls, and the cups, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, they took away.

[19]And the basons and the censers, and the bowls, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the cups, and the goblets, that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of silver in silver, the captain of the body-guard took away.

[20]The two pillars, the one sea, and the twelve brazen oxen that formed the bases, which king Solomon had made for the house of Jehovah: for the brass of all these vessels there was no weight.

[21]And as to the pillars: the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and a line of twelve cubits encompassed it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.

[22]And the capital upon it was brass, and the height of the one capital [was] five cubits; and the network and the pomegranates, upon the capital round about, all of brass; and similarly for the second pillar, and the pomegranates.

[23]And there were ninety-six pomegranates on the [four] sides; all the pomegranates upon the network were a hundred round about.

[24]And the captain of the body-guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three doorkeepers.

[25]And out of the city he took a eunuch that was set over the men of war, and seven men of them that were in the king's presence, who were found in the city, and the scribe of the captain of the host, who enrolled the people of the land. And sixty men of the people of the land that were found in the midst of the city.

[26]And Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah;

[27]and the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive out of his land.

[28]This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand and twenty-three Jews;

[29]in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar [he carried away captive] from Jerusalem eight hundred and thirty-two persons;

[30]in the twenty-third year of Nebuchadrezzar, Nebuzar-adan the captain of the body-guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred and forty-five persons: all the persons were four thousand six hundred.

[31]And it came to pass in the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-fifth of the month, [that] Evil-Merodach king of Babylon, in the year that he began to reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison;

[32]and he spoke kindly unto him, and set his seat above the seat of the kings that were with him in Babylon.

[33]And he changed his prison garments; and he ate bread before him continually all the days of his life;

[34]and his allowance was a continual allowance given him by the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

Lamentations

1How doth the city sit solitary [that] was full of people! She that was great among the nations is become as a widow; the princess among the provinces is become tributary!

2She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks; among all her lovers she hath no comforter; all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies.

3Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude; she dwelleth among the nations, she findeth no rest: all her pursuers have overtaken her within the straits.

4The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn assembly: all her gates are desolate; her priests sigh, her virgins are in grief; and as for her, she is in bitterness.

5Her adversaries have become the head, her enemies prosper; for Jehovah hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions: her children are gone into captivity before the adversary.

6And from the daughter of Zion all her splendour is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no pasture; and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7In the days of her affliction and of her wanderings, since her people fell into the hand of an adversary, and none did help her, Jerusalem remembereth all her precious things which she had in the days of old: the adversaries have seen her, they mock at her ruin.

8Jerusalem hath grievously sinned; therefore is she removed as an impurity: all that honoured her despise her because they have seen her nakedness; and she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9Her impurity was in her skirts, she remembered not her latter end; and she came down wonderfully: she hath no comforter. Jehovah, behold my affliction; for the enemy hath magnified himself.

10The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her precious things; for she hath seen the nations enter into her sanctuary, concerning whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11All her people sigh, they seek bread; they have given their precious things for food to revive [their] soul. See, Jehovah, and consider, for I am become vile.

12Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? Behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, whom Jehovah hath afflicted in the day of his fierce anger.

13From on high hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them; he hath spread a net for my feet; he hath turned me back; he hath made me desolate [and] faint all the day.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, they are come up upon my neck; he hath made my strength to fail; the Lord hath delivered me into hands out of which I am not able to rise up.

15 The Lord hath cast down all my mighty men in the midst of me; he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men; the Lord hath trodden as a winepress the virgin daughter of Judah.

16 For these things I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water: for the comforter that should revive my soul is far from me; my children are desolate, for the enemy hath prevailed.

17 Zion spreadeth forth her hands; there is none to comfort her; Jehovah hath commanded concerning Jacob, [that] his adversaries [should be] round about him; Jerusalem is as an impurity among them.

18 Jehovah is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment. Hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, and behold my sorrow. My virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, they have deceived me; my priests and mine elders have expired in the city, while they sought them food to revive their soul.

20 See, Jehovah, for I am in distress, my bowels are troubled; my heart is turned within me, for I have grievously rebelled: without, the sword hath bereaved [me], within, it is as death.

21 They have heard that I sigh: I have no comforter: all mine enemies have heard of my calamity; they are glad that thou hast done it. Thou wilt bring the day that thou hast called, and they shall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedness come before thee; and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

2 How hath the Lord in his anger covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud! He hath cast down from the heavens unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his anger.

2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the dwellings of Jacob, and hath not spared; he hath thrown down in his wrath the strongholds of the daughter of Judah: he hath brought [them] down to the ground; he hath profaned the kingdom and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in fierce anger all the horn of Israel: he hath withdrawn his right hand from before the enemy; and he burned up Jacob like a flaming fire, devouring round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy; he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and hath slain all that was pleasant to the eye: in the tent of the daughter of Zion, he hath poured out his fury like fire.

[5]The Lord is become as an enemy: he hath swallowed up Israel; he hath swallowed up all her palaces; he hath destroyed his strongholds, and hath multiplied in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

[6]And he hath violently cast down his enclosure as a garden; he hath destroyed his place of assembly: Jehovah hath caused set feast and sabbath to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger king and priest.

[7]The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath rejected his sanctuary; he hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces: they have made a noise in the house of Jehovah, as on the day of a set feast.

[8]Jehovah hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he hath stretched out the line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying; and he hath made the rampart and the wall to lament: they languish together.

[9]Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her bars. Her king and her princes are among the nations: the law is no [more]; her prophets also find no vision from Jehovah.

[10]The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, they keep silence; they have cast dust upon their heads, they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their head to the ground.

[11]Mine eyes are consumed with tears, my bowels are troubled; my liver is poured upon the earth, because of the ruin of the daughter of my people; because infant and suckling swoon in the streets of the city.

[12]They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swoon as the wounded in the streets of the city; when they pour out their soul into their mothers' bosom.

[13]What shall I take to witness for thee? what shall I liken unto thee, daughter of Jerusalem? What shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, virgin daughter of Zion? For thy ruin is great as the sea: who will heal thee?

[14]Thy prophets have seen vanity and folly for thee; and they have not revealed thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity; but have seen for thee burdens of falsehood and causes of expulsion.

[15]All that pass by clap [their] hands at thee; they hiss and shake their head at the daughter of Jerusalem: Is this the city which they called, The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?

[16]All thine enemies open their mouth against thee, they hiss and gnash the teeth: they say, We have swallowed [her] up; this is forsooth the day that we looked for: we have found, we have seen [it].

17 Jehovah hath done what he had devised; he hath fulfilled his word which he had commanded from the days of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not spared, and he hath caused the enemy to rejoice over thee; he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord. O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a torrent day and night: give thyself no respite; let not the apple of thine eye rest.

19 Arise, cry out in the night, in the beginning of the watches; pour out thy heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children, who faint from hunger at the top of all the streets.

20 See, Jehovah, and consider to whom thou hast done this! Shall the women eat their fruit, the infants that they nursed? Shall priest and prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The child and the old man lie on the ground in the streets; my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain [them] in the day of thine anger; thou hast killed, thou hast not spared.

22 Thou hast called up, as on the day of a set feast, my terrors on every side; and in the day of Jehovah's anger there was none that escaped or remained: those that I have nursed and brought up hath mine enemy consumed.

3 I am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 Me hath he led, and brought into darkness, and not into light.

3 Surely against me hath he turned again and again his hand all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he wasted away, he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath built against me, and encompassed [me] with gall and toil.

6 He hath made me to dwell in dark places as those that have been long dead.

7 He hath hedged me about that I cannot get out: he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Even when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath inclosed my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He is unto me [as] a bear lying in wait, a lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces; he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He hath caused the arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

[14]I am become a derision to all my people; their song all the day.

[15]He hath sated me with bitterness, he hath made me drunk with wormwood.

[16]He hath also broken my teeth with gravel stones, he hath covered me with ashes.

[17]And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace: I have forgotten prosperity.

[18]And I said, My strength is perished, and my hope in Jehovah.

[19]Remember thou mine affliction and my wandering, the wormwood and the gall.

[20]My soul hath [them] constantly in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

[21]-- This I recall to heart, therefore have I hope.

[22]It is of Jehovah's loving-kindness we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not;

[23]they are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

[24]Jehovah is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.

[25]Jehovah is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul [that] seeketh him.

[26]It is good that one should both wait, and that in silence, for the salvation of Jehovah.

[27]It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth:

[28]He sitteth solitary and keepeth silence, because he hath laid it upon him;

[29]he putteth his mouth in the dust, if so be there may be hope;

[30]he giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him; he is filled full with reproach.

[31]For the Lord will not cast off for ever;

[32]but if he have caused grief, he will have compassion according to the multitude of his loving-kindnesses:

[33]for he doth not willingly afflict or grieve the children of men.

[34]To crush under foot all the prisoners of the earth,

[35]to turn aside the right of a man before the face of the Most High,

[36]to wrong a man in his cause, -- will not the Lord see it?

[37]Who is he that saith, and there cometh to pass, what the Lord hath not commanded?

[38]Out of the mouth of the Most High doth not there proceed evil and good?

[39]Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?

[40]Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to Jehovah.

[41]Let us lift up our heart with [our] hands unto [God] in the heavens.

[42]We have transgressed and have rebelled: thou hast not pardoned.

[43]Thou hast covered thyself with anger, and pursued us; thou hast slain, thou hast not spared.

[44]Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that prayer should not pass through.

[45]Thou hast made us the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the peoples.

[46]All our enemies have opened their mouth against us.

[47]Fear and the pit are come upon us, devastation and ruin.

[48]Mine eye runneth down with streams of water for the ruin of the daughter of my people.

[49]Mine eye poureth down, and ceaseth not, without any intermission, [50]till Jehovah look down and behold from the heavens.

[51]Mine eye affecteth my soul, because of all the daughters of my city.

[52]They that are mine enemies without cause have chased me sore like a bird.

[53]They have cut off my life in a pit, and cast a stone upon me.

[54]Waters streamed over my head; I said, I am cut off.

[55]I called upon thy name, Jehovah, out of the lowest pit.

[56]Thou hast heard my voice: hide not thine ear at my sighing, at my cry.

[57]Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee; thou saidst, Fear not.

[58]Lord, thou hast pleaded the cause of my soul, thou hast redeemed my life.

[59]Jehovah, thou hast seen my wrong: judge thou my cause.

[60]Thou hast seen all their vengeance, all their imaginations against me.

[61]Thou hast heard their reproach, O Jehovah, all their imaginations against me;

[62]the lips of those that rise up against me and their meditation against me all the day.

[63]Behold thou their sitting down and their rising up: I am their song.

[64]Render unto them a recompence, O Jehovah, according to the work of their hands;

[65]give them obduracy of heart, thy curse unto them;

[66]pursue them in anger, and destroy them from under the heavens of Jehovah.

4How is the gold become dim! the most pure gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary poured out at the top of all the streets!

2The sons of Zion, so precious, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

3Even the jackals offer the breast, they give suck to their young; the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.

4The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst; the young children ask bread, no man breaketh it unto them.

5They that fed delicately are desolate in the streets; they that were brought up in scarlet embrace dung-hills.

6And the punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the reward of the sin of Sodom, which was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands were violently laid upon her.

7Her Nazarites were purer than snow, whiter than milk; they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their figure was as sapphire.

8Their visage is darker than blackness, they are not known in the streets; their skin cleaveth to their bones, it is withered, it is become like a stick.

9The slain with the sword are happier than the slain with hunger; for these pine away, stricken through for want of the fruits of the field.

10The hands of pitiful women have boiled their own children: they were their meat in the ruin of the daughter of my people.

11Jehovah hath accomplished his fury; he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath consumed the foundations thereof.

12The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy should enter into the gates of Jerusalem.

13[It is] for the sins of her prophets, [and] the iniquities of her priests, who have shed the blood of the righteous in the midst of her.

14They wandered about blind in the streets; they were polluted with blood, so that men could not touch their garments.

15They cried unto them, Depart! Unclean! Depart! depart, touch not! When they fled away, and wandered about, it was said among the nations, They shall no more sojourn [there].

16The face of Jehovah hath divided them; he will no more regard them. They respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the aged.

17 Our eyes still failed for our vain help; in our watching, we have watched for a nation that did not save.

18 They hunted our steps, that we could not go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for our end is come.

19 Our pursuers were swifter than the eagles of the heavens; they chased us hotly upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.

20 The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of Jehovah, was taken in their pits; of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the nations.

21 Rejoice and be glad, daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz:
the cup shall pass also unto thee; thou shalt be drunken, and make thyself naked.

22 The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion; he will no more carry thee away into captivity. He will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom; he will discover thy sins.

5 Remember, O Jehovah, what is come upon us; consider, and see our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.

4 Our water have we to drink for money, our wood cometh unto us for a price.

5 Our pursuers are on our necks: we are weary, we have no rest.

6 We have given the hand to Egypt, [and] to Asshur, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers have sinned, [and] they are not; and we bear their iniquities.

8 Bondmen rule over us: there is no deliverer out of their hand.

9 We have to get our bread at the risk of our lives, because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skin gloweth like an oven, because of the burning heat of the famine.

11 They have ravished the women in Zion,
the maids in the cities of Judah.

12 Princes were hanged up by their hand;
the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 The young men have borne the mill, and the youths have stumbled under the wood.

14 The elders have ceased from the gate,
the young men from their music.

15 The joy of our heart hath ceased; our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us, for we have sinned!

[17]For this our heart is faint; for these things our eyes have grown dim, [18]Because of the mountain of Zion, which is desolate: foxes walk over it.

[19]Thou, Jehovah, dwellest for ever; thy throne is from generation to generation.

[20]Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, dost thou forsake us so long time?

[21]Turn thou us unto thee, Jehovah, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old.

[22]Or is it that thou hast utterly rejected us? Wouldest thou be exceeding wroth against us?

Ezekiel

1 Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth [month], on the fifth of the month, as I was among the captives by the river Chebar, the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2 On the fifth of the month, (it was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity,)

3 the word of Jehovah came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the hand of Jehovah was there upon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire infolding itself, and a brightness was about it, and out of the midst thereof as the look of glowing brass, out of the midst of the fire.

5 Also out of the midst thereof, the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: they had the likeness of a man.

6 And every one had four faces, and every one of them had four wings.

7 And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot; and they sparkled as the look of burnished brass.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides; and they four had their faces and their wings:

9 their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward.

10 And the likeness of their faces was the face of a man; and they four had the face of a lion on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four had also the face of an eagle.

11 And their faces and their wings were parted above; two [wings] of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one straight forward: whither the Spirit was to go, they went; they turned not when they went.

13 And as for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, as the appearance of torches: it went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright; and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 And I looked at the living creatures, and behold, one wheel upon the earth beside the living creatures, toward their four faces.

16 The appearance of the wheels and their work was as the look of a chrysolite; and they four had one likeness; and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not when they went.

18 As for their rims, they were high and dreadful; and they four had their rims full of eyes round about.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whithersoever the Spirit was to go, they went, thither would [their] spirit go; and the wheels were lifted up along with them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 When those went, they went; and when those stood, they stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up along with them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

22 And there was the likeness of an expanse over the heads of the living creature, as the look of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the expanse were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two which covered on this side, and every one had two which covered on that side their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, a tumultuous noise, as the noise of a host: when they stood, they let down their wings;

25 and there was a voice from above the expanse that was over their heads. When they stood, they let down their wings.

26 And above the expanse that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone; and upon the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 And I saw as the look of glowing brass, as the appearance of fire, within it round about; from the appearance of his loins and upward, and from the appearance of his loins and downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

28 As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of Jehovah. And when I saw, I fell on my face, and I heard a voice of one that spoke.

2 And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak with thee.

[2]And the Spirit entered into me when he spoke unto me, and set me upon my feet; and I heard him that spoke unto me.

[3]And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to nations that are rebellious, which have rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me unto this very day;

[4]and these children are impudent and hard-hearted: I am sending thee unto them; and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah.

[5]And they, whether they will hear or whether they will forbear -- for they are a rebellious house -- yet shall they know that there hath been a prophet among them.

[6]And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them, and be not afraid of their words; for briars and thorns are with thee, and thou dwellest among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, and be not dismayed at their faces; for they are a rebellious house.

[7]And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear or whether they will forbear; for they are rebellious.

[8]And thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give thee.

[9]And I looked, and behold, a hand was put forth toward me; and behold, a roll of a book therein.

[10]And he spread it out before me; and it was written within and without; and there were written in it lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

3And he said unto me, Son of man, eat what thou findest; eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of Israel.

[2]So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

[3]And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll which I give thee. And I ate, and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

[4]And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them.

[5]For thou art not sent to a people of strange language, and of difficult speech, [but] to the house of Israel;

[6]not to many peoples of strange language and of difficult speech, whose words thou canst not understand: had I sent thee to them, would they not hearken unto thee?

[7]But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee, for none of them will hearken unto me. For all the house of Israel are hard of forehead and stiff of heart.

[8]Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

[9]As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead. Fear them not, neither be dismayed at them, for they are a rebellious house.

[10]And he said unto me, Son of man, all my words which I shall speak unto thee, receive in thy heart, and hear with thine ears;

[11]and go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, -- whether they will hear or whether they will forbear.

[12]And the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the sound of a great rushing, [saying,] Blessed be the glory of Jehovah from his place!

[13]-- and the sound of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the sound of the wheels beside them, and the sound of a great rushing.

[14]And the Spirit lifted me up, and took me away; and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, and the hand of Jehovah was strong upon me.

[15]And I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and I sat where they sat; and I sat there astonied among them seven days.

[16]And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[17]Son of man, I have appointed thee a watchman unto the house of Israel, and thou shalt hear the word from my mouth, and give them warning from me.

[18]When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt certainly die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, that he may live: the same wicked [man] shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thy hand.

[19]But if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

[20]And when a righteous [man] doth turn from his righteousness, and do what is wrong, and I lay a stumbling-block before him, he shall die; because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous acts which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thy hand.

[21]And if thou warn the righteous [man], that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall certainly live, for he hath taken warning; and thou hast delivered thy soul.

[22]And the hand of Jehovah was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the valley, and there I will talk with thee.

[23]And I arose, and went forth into the valley, and behold, the glory of Jehovah stood there, like the glory which I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face.

[24]And the Spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and he spoke with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thy house.

[25]And thou, son of man, behold, they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee therewith, and thou shalt not go out among them.

[26]And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover; for they are a rebellious house.

[27]And when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

4And thou, son of man, take thee a brick, and lay it before thee, and portray upon it a city, -- Jerusalem:

[2]and lay siege against it, and build forts against it, and cast a mound against it, and set camps against it, and place battering-rams against it round about.

[3]And take thou unto thee an iron plate, and put it [for] a wall of iron between thee and the city; and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

[4]And thou, lie upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: the number of the days that thou liest upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity.

[5]And I have appointed thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days; and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

[6]And when thou hast accomplished them, thou shalt lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee each day for a year.

[7]And thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

[8]And behold, I lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thyself from one side to the other, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

[9]And thou, take unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof, [according to] the number of the days that thou liest upon thy side: three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

[10]And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.

[11]And thou shalt drink water by measure, the sixth part of a hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

[12]And thou shalt eat it [as] barley-cake, and thou shalt bake it in their sight with dung that cometh out of man.

13 And Jehovah said, So shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean among the nations whither I will drive them.

14 Then said I, Ah, Lord Jehovah! behold, my soul hath not been defiled, and from my youth up even until now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or of that which is torn; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth.

15 And he said unto me, See, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 And he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I break the staff of bread in Jerusalem; and they shall eat bread by weight, and with anxiety; and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment:

17 because bread and water shall fail them, and they shall be astonied one with another, and waste away in their iniquity.

5 And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp knife; a barber's razor shalt thou take; and cause it to pass upon thy head and upon thy beard: and thou shalt take balances to weigh, and divide the [hair].

2 A third part shalt thou burn in the fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled; and thou shalt take a third part, [and] smite about it with a knife; and a third part thou shalt scatter to the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 And thou shalt take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy skirts;

4 and thou shalt take of these again, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire: from it shall a fire come forth against all the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: This is Jerusalem: I have set her in the midst of the nations, and the countries are round about her.

6 And she hath rebelled against my judgments in wickedness more than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for mine ordinances have they refused; and my statutes, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because ye have been turbulent more than the nations that are round about you, [and] have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept mine ordinances, nor [even] have done according to the ordinances of the nations that are round about you;

8 therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations;

9 and I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter to all the winds.

11 Wherefore, [as] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, verily because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also withdraw mine eye, and it shall not spare, nor will I have any pity.

12 A third part of thee shall die by the pestilence, and shall be consumed by the famine in the midst of thee; and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and I will scatter a third part to all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 And mine anger shall be accomplished, and I will satisfy my fury upon them, and I will comfort myself; and they shall know that I Jehovah have spoken in my jealousy, when I have accomplished my fury upon them.

14 And I will make thee a waste and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by.

15 And it shall be a reproach, and a taunt, an instruction, and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments upon thee in anger, and in fury, and in furious rebukes: I, Jehovah, have spoken.

16 When I send upon them the evil arrows of famine, that are for [their] destruction, which I send to destroy you, then will I increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread.

17 And I will send upon you famine and evil beasts, which shall bereave thee of children; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee: I, Jehovah, have spoken.

6 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them,

3 and say, Mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord Jehovah: thus saith the Lord Jehovah to the mountains and to the hills, to the water-courses and to the valleys: Behold, I, [even] I, do bring a sword upon you, and will destroy your high places.

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your sun-images shall be broken; and I will cast down your slain [men] before your idols;

5 and I will lay the dead bodies of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling-places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your sun-images may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

[7]And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[8]Yet will I leave a remnant, in that ye shall have some escaped from the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries.

[9]And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they have been carried captives, when I shall have broken their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols; and they shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed, in all their abominations.

[10]And they shall know that I [am] Jehovah: I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

[11]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Smite with thy hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas for all the abominations of the iniquities of the house of Israel! for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

[12]He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that is left, and is besieged, shall die by the famine: and I will accomplish my fury upon them.

[13]And ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when their slain shall be among their idols, round about their altars, upon every high hill, on all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick terebinth, the places where they offered sweet savour to all their idols.

[14]And I will stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate, yea, more desolate than the wilderness of Diblath, in all their dwellings; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

7 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord Jehovah unto the land of Israel: An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

[3]Now is the end upon thee; and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and will bring upon thee all thine abominations.

[4]And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity; but I will bring thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee; and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[5]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: An evil, an only evil! behold, it is come.

[6]The end is come, the end is come; it awaketh against thee: behold, it cometh.

[7]The doom is come unto thee, inhabitant of the land; the time is come, the day is near, -- tumult, and not the joyous cry from the mountains.

[8]Now will I soon pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger against thee; and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will bring upon thee all thine abominations.

[9]And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will render unto thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee; and ye shall know that it is I, Jehovah, that smite.

[10]Behold the day, behold, it is come: the doom is gone forth; the rod hath blossomed, pride is full blown.

[11]Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness: nothing of them [shall remain], nor of their multitude, nor of their wealth, nor of the magnificence in the midst of them.

[12]The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn; for fierce anger is upon all the multitude thereof.

[13]For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, even though he were yet alive amongst the living: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof; it shall not be revoked; and none shall through his iniquity assure his life.

[14]They have blown the trumpet and made all ready, but none goeth to the battle; for my fierce anger is upon all the multitude thereof.

[15]The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die by the sword; and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

[16]And they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, every one for his iniquity.

[17]All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall melt into water.

[18]And they shall gird on sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads.

[19]They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be as an impurity: their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of Jehovah's wrath; they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their belly; for it hath been the stumbling-block of their iniquity.

[20]And he set in majesty his beautiful ornament; but they made therein the images of their abominations [and] of their detestable things: therefore have I made it an impurity unto them.

[21]And I will give it into the hands of strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall profane it.

[22]And I will turn my face from them; and they shall profane my secret [place]; and the violent shall enter into it, and profane it.

[23]Make the chain; for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.

[24]Therefore will I bring the worst of the nations, and they shall possess their houses; and I will make the pride of the strong to cease; and their sanctuaries shall be profaned.

[25]Destruction cometh; and they shall seek peace, but there shall be none.

[26]Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour; and they shall seek a vision from a prophet; but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the elders.

[27]The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with dismay, and the hands of the people of the land shall tremble: I will do unto them according to their way, and with their judgments will I judge them; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

8And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth [month], on the fifth of the month, that [as] I sat in my house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, the hand of the Lord Jehovah fell there upon me.

[2]And I looked, and behold, a likeness as the appearance of fire; from the appearance of his loins and downward, fire; and from his loins and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the look of glowing brass.

[3]And he stretched forth the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my head; and the Spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heavens, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the entry of the inner gate that looketh toward the north, where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy.

[4]And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the appearance that I saw in the valley.

[5]And he said unto me, Son of man, lift up now thine eyes toward the north. And I lifted up mine eyes toward the north, and behold, northward of the gate of the altar, this image of jealousy in the entry.

[6]And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? the great abominations that the house of Israel commit here, to cause [me] to go far off from my sanctuary? And yet again thou shalt see great abominations.

[7]And he brought me to the entry of the court, and I looked, and behold, a hole in the wall.

[8]And he said unto me, Son of man, dig now through the wall; and I digged through the wall, and behold, a door.

[9]And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

[10]And I went in and looked, and behold, every form of creeping thing and abominable beast, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed upon the wall round about.

[11]And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand; and a thick cloud of incense went up.

12 And he said unto me, Hast thou seen, son of man, what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every one in his chambers of imagery? for they say, Jehovah seeth us not; Jehovah hath forsaken the land.

13 And he said unto me, Yet again thou shalt see great abominations which they do.

14 And he brought me to the entry of the gate of Jehovah's house that was toward the north; and behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz.

15 And he said unto me, Seest thou, son of man? Thou shalt yet again see greater abominations than these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of Jehovah's house, and behold, at the entry of the temple of Jehovah, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of Jehovah and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east.

17 And he said unto me, Seest thou, son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah to commit the abominations which they commit here, that they yet fill the land with violence, and keep provoking me afresh to anger? And behold, they put the branch to their nose.

18 And I also will deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity; and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, I will not hear them.

9 And he cried in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Draw near, ye that have charge of the city, and every man [with] his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, six men came from the way of the upper gate, which is turned toward the north, and every man [with] his slaughter weapon in his hand; and in the midst of them, one man clothed with linen, with a writer's ink-horn by his side; and they went in, and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house; and he called to the man clothed with linen, who had the writer's ink-horn by his side;

4 and Jehovah said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that are done in the midst thereof.

5 And to the others he said in my hearing, Go after him through the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have pity.

6 Slay utterly the old man, the young man, and the maiden, and little children, and women; but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the elders who were before the house.

[7]And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go forth. And they went forth, and smote in the city.

[8]And it came to pass, while they were smiting, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah, Lord Jehovah! wilt thou destroy all the remnant of Israel in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem?

[9]And he said unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perverseness; for they say, Jehovah hath forsaken the earth, and Jehovah seeth not.

[10]And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will recompense their way upon their head.

[11]And behold, the man clothed with linen, who had the ink-horn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

10 And I looked, and behold, in the expanse that was over the head of the cherubim there appeared above them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

[2]And he spoke unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Come in between the wheels, under the cherub, and fill the hollow of thy hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight.

[3]And the cherubim stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court.

[4]And the glory of Jehovah mounted up from the cherub, [and came] over the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of Jehovah's glory.

[5]And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard to the outer court, as the voice of the Almighty [God] when he speaketh.

[6]And it came to pass when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubim, then he went in, and stood beside the wheel.

[7]And the cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took and put it into the hands of him [that was] clothed with linen; who took [it], and went out.

[8]And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under their wings.

[9]And I looked, and behold, four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub; and the appearance of the wheels was as the look of a chrysolite stone.

[10]And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel were in the midst of a wheel.

[11]When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it: they turned not as they went.

[12]And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, in them four [and] their wheels.

[13]As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing, Galgal.

[14]And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

[15]And the cherubim mounted up. This was the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar.

[16]And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

[17]When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

[18]And the glory of Jehovah departed from over the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubim.

[19]And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight, when they went out; and the wheels were beside them; and they stood at the door of the east gate of Jehovah's house; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

[20]This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim.

[21]Each one had four faces, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

[22]And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I had seen by the river Chebar -- their appearance and themselves: they went every one straight before them.

11And the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of Jehovah's house, which looketh eastward; and behold, at the door of the gate were five and twenty men; and I saw in the midst of them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

[2]And he said unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise iniquity, and give wicked counsel in this city:

[3]who say, It is not the time to build houses: this is the cauldron, and we are the flesh.

[4]Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, son of man.

[5]And the Spirit of Jehovah fell on me, and said unto me, Speak, Thus saith Jehovah: Thus have ye said, O house of Israel; and the things that come into your mind, I know them.

[6]Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

[7]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and it is the cauldron; but you will I bring forth out of the midst of it.

[8]Ye have feared the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[9]And I will bring you out of the midst of it, and give you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.

[10]Ye shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in the borders of Israel; and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[11]This shall not be your cauldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst of it: I will judge you in the borders of Israel;

[12]and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah, in whose statutes ye have not walked, neither have done mine ordinances, but have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you.

[13]And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. And I fell down on my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah, Lord Jehovah! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?

[14]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[15]Son of man, [it is] thy brethren, thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, the whole of it, unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem say, Get you far from Jehovah: unto us is this land given for a possession.

[16]Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Although I have removed them far off among the nations, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries whither they are come.

[17]Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will even gather you from the peoples, and assemble you out of the countries where ye are scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

[18]And they shall come thither, and they shall take away from thence all its detestable things and all its abominations.

[19]And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take away the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh;

[20]that they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

[21]But as for them whose heart walketh well-pleased with their detestable things and their abominations, I will recompense their way upon their heads, saith the Lord Jehovah.

22 And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and the wheels were beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

23 And the glory of Jehovah went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city.

24 And the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me in the vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity; and the vision that I had seen went up from me.

25 And I spoke unto them of the captivity all the things that Jehovah had shewn me.

12 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not, which have ears to hear, and hear not; for they are a rebellious house.

3 And thou, son of man, prepare thee a captive's baggage, and go captive by day in their sight; and thou shalt go captive from thy place to another place in their sight. It may be they will consider, though they are a rebellious house.

4 And bring forth thy baggage by day in their sight, as a captive's baggage, and thou thyself, go forth at even in their sight as they that go forth into captivity.

5 Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear [it] upon [thy] shoulder, and carry it forth in the dark; thou shalt cover thy face, and thou shalt not see the ground: for I have appointed thee for a sign unto the house of Israel.

7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my baggage by day, as a captive's baggage, and in the even I digged through the wall with my hand; I brought it forth in the dark, [and] bore it upon [my] shoulder, in their sight.

8 And in the morning the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou?

10 Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: This burden [concerneth] the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your sign: as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall go into exile, into captivity.

12 And the prince that is among them shall bear upon [his] shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth; they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby; he shall cover his face, that he see not the land with [his] eyes.

13 And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; but he shall not see it, and there shall he die.

14 And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his troops; and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I [am] Jehovah when I shall scatter them among the nations and disperse them through the countries.

16 But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the nations whither they shall come; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

17 And the word of Jehovah came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with anxiety;

19 and say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, in the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with anxiety, and drink their water with astonishment, because her land shall be left desolate of all that is in it, for the violence of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be a desolation; and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

21 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

22 Son of man, what is that proverb which ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days shall be prolonged, and every vision faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the accomplishment of every vision.

24 For there shall be no more any vain vision nor flattering divination in the midst of the house of Israel.

25 For I [am] Jehovah; I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be performed, it shall be no more deferred. For in your days, O rebellious house, will I speak the word and will perform it, saith the Lord Jehovah.

26 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

27 Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many days, and he prophesieth of times that are far off.

28 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: There shall none of my words be deferred any more, but the word that I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord Jehovah.

13 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying:

[2]Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say unto them that prophesy out of their own heart, Hear ye the word of Jehovah.

[3]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Woe unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing!

[4]O Israel, thy prophets have been like foxes in desert places.

[5]Ye have not gone up into the breaches, nor made up the fence for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of Jehovah.

[6]They have seen vanity and lying divination, that say, Jehovah saith! and Jehovah hath not sent them; and they make [them] to hope that the word will be fulfilled.

[7]Have ye not seen a vain vision, and spoken a lying divination, when ye say, Jehovah saith; and I have not spoken?

[8]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because ye speak vanity, and have seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[9]And my hand shall be against the prophets that see vanity and that divine lies: they shall not be in the council of my people, neither shall they be written in the register of the house of Israel, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.

[10]Because, yea because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace! and there is no peace; and one buildeth up a wall, and lo, they daub it with untempered [mortar] --

[11]say unto them which daub it with untempered [mortar] that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing rain, and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall, and a stormy wind shall burst forth.

[12]And lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing with which ye have daubed [it]?

[13]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will cause to burst forth a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing rain in mine anger, and hail-stones in fury for utter destruction.

[14]And I will break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered [mortar], and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered; and it shall fall, and ye shall be destroyed in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[15]And I will accomplish my fury upon the wall, and upon them that daub it with untempered [mortar], and will say unto you, The wall is no [more], neither they that daubed it,

[16]the prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and who see a vision of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[17]And thou, son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, who prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy against them,

18 and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Woe unto the women that sew pillows for all wrists, and that make veils for the head [of persons] of every stature to catch souls! Will ye catch the souls of my people, and will ye save your own souls alive?

19 And will ye profane me among my people for handfuls of barley and for morsels of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that listen to lying?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against your pillows, that the souls which ye catch by their means may fly away; and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go, the souls that ye catch, that they may fly away.

21 And I will tear your veils and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

22 Because with falsehood ye have grieved the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad; and have strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, to save his life:

23 therefore ye shall no more see vanity, nor divine divinations; and I will deliver my people out of your hand: and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

14 And there came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me.

2 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumbling-block of their iniquity before their face: should I be inquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak to them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet, I Jehovah will answer him according to this, according to the multitude of his idols:

5 that I may take the house of Israel by their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Return ye, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, who separateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet to inquire of me by him, I Jehovah will answer him by myself;

[8]and I will set my face against that man, and will make him desolate, [so that he shall be] for a sign and for proverbs, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people: and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[9]And if the prophet be enticed and shall speak a word, I Jehovah have enticed that prophet; and I will stretch out my hand against him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel.

[10]And they shall bear their iniquity: the iniquity of the prophet shall be even as the iniquity of the inquirer;

[11]that the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither make themselves any more unclean with all their transgressions; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[12]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[13]Son of man, when a land sinneth against me by working unfaithfulness, and I stretch out my hand upon it, and break the staff of the bread thereof, and send famine upon it, and cut off man and beast from it;

[14]though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, should be in it, they should deliver [but] their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[15]If I cause evil beasts to pass through the land, and they bereave it, and it become a desolation, so that no one passeth through because of the beasts;

[16]-- though these three men should be in it, [as] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, they should deliver neither sons nor daughters: they only should be delivered, and the land should be a desolation.

[17]Or [if] I bring the sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land, so that I cut off man and beast from it,

[18]and these three men should be in it, [as] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, they should deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only themselves should be delivered.

[19]Or [if] I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast,

[20]and Noah, Daniel, and Job should be in it, [as] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, they should deliver neither son nor daughter: they should [but] deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

[21]For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: How much more when I send my four sore judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the evil beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast!

[22]But behold, there shall be left in it those that escape, who shall be brought out of [it], sons and daughters. Behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way and their doings; and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, as to all that I have brought upon it.

[23]And they shall comfort you, when ye see their way and their doings; and ye shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord Jehovah.

15And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, what is the wood of the vine more than any wood, the vine-branch, which is among the trees of the forest?

[3]Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will [men] take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

[4]Behold, it is given to the fire for fuel: the fire consumeth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned; is it fit for [any] work?

[5]Behold, when it was whole, it was used for no work; how much less when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burned, should it yet be used for any work?

[6]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: As the wood of the vine among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

[7]And I will set my face against them: they shall go forth from [one] fire, and [another] fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah when I set my face against them.

[8]And I will make the land a desolation, because they have wrought unfaithfulness, saith the Lord Jehovah.

16And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,

[3]and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah unto Jerusalem: Thy birth and thy nativity is of the land of the Canaanite: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother a Hittite.

[4]And as for thy nativity, in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water for cleansing; thou wast not rubbed with salt at all, nor swaddled at all.

[5]No eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field, from abhorrence of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

[6]And I passed by thee, and saw thee weltering in thy blood, and I said unto thee, in thy blood, Live! yea, I said unto thee, in thy blood, Live!

[7]I caused thee to multiply, as the bud of the field; and thou didst increase and grow great, and thou camest to fulness of beauty; [thy] breasts were fashioned, and thy hair grew: but thou wast naked and bare.

[8]And I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, and behold, thy time was the time of love; and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness; and I swore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord Jehovah, and thou becamest mine.

[9]And I washed thee with water, and thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil;

[10]and I clothed thee with embroidered work, and shod thee with badgers' skin, and I bound thee about with byssus, and covered thee with silk.

[11]And I decked thee with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck;

[12]and I put a ring on thy nose, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thy head.

[13]Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver, and thy raiment was byssus, and silk, and embroidered work. Thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil; and thou becamest exceedingly beautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

[14]And thy fame went forth among the nations for thy beauty; for it was perfect through my magnificence, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[15]But thou didst confide in thy beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy whoredoms on every one that passed by: his it was.

[16]And of thy garments thou didst take, and madest for thyself high places decked with divers colours, and didst play the harlot thereupon: [the like] hath not come to pass, and shall be no more.

[17]And thou didst take thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images of males, and didst commit fornication with them.

[18]And thou tookest thine embroidered garments, and coveredst them; and thou didst set mine oil and mine incense before them.

[19]And my bread which I had given thee, the fine flour and the oil and the honey wherewith I fed thee, thou didst even set it before them for a sweet savour: thus it was, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[20]And thou didst take thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hadst borne unto me, and these didst thou sacrifice unto them, to be devoured. Were thy whoredoms a small matter, [21]that thou didst slay my children and give them up in passing them over to them?

[22]And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, when thou wast weltering in thy blood.

[23]And it came to pass after all thy wickedness (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord Jehovah),

[24]that thou didst also build unto thee a place of debauchery, and didst make thee a high place in every street:

[25]thou didst build thy high place at every head of the way, and madest thy beauty to be abhorred, and thou didst open thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiply thy whoredom.

[26]And thou didst commit fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, great of flesh; and didst multiply thy whoredom to provoke me to anger.

[27]And behold, I stretched out my hand over thee, and diminished thine appointed portion; and I gave thee over unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, who were confounded at thy lewd way.

[28]And thou didst commit fornication with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable; yea, thou didst commit fornication with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

[29]And thou didst multiply thy whoredom with the land of merchants, Chaldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

[30]How weak is thy heart, saith the Lord Jehovah, seeing thou doest all these [things], the work of a whorish woman, under no restraint;

[31]in that thou buildest thy place of debauchery at the head of every way, and makest thy high place in every street! And thou hast not been as a harlot, in that thou scornest reward,

[32]O adulterous wife, that taketh strangers instead of her husband.

[33]They give rewards to all harlots; but thou gavest thy rewards to all thy lovers, and rewardedst them, that they might come unto thee on every side for thy whoredoms.

[34]And in thee is the contrary from [other] women, in thy whoredoms, in that none followeth thee to commit fornication; and whereas thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee, so art thou contrary.

[35]Therefore, O harlot, hear the word of Jehovah.

[36]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thy money hath been poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy fornications with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thine abominations, and because of the blood of thy children which thou didst give unto them;

[37]therefore, behold, I will gather all thy lovers with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all that thou hast loved, with all that thou hast hated, -- I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness.

[38]And I will judge thee with the judgments of women that commit adultery and shed blood; and I will give thee up to the blood of fury and jealousy;

[39]and I will give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thy place of debauchery, and shall break down thy high places; and they shall strip thee of thy garments, and shall take thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 And they shall bring up an assemblage against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

41 And they shall burn thy houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women; and I will cause thee to cease from being a harlot, and thou also shalt give no more any reward.

42 And I will appease my fury against thee, and my jealousy shall depart from thee; and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast raged against me in all these [things], behold, therefore, I also will recompense thy way upon [thy] head, saith the Lord Jehovah, and thou shalt not commit this lewdness besides all thine abominations.

44 Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall speak in a proverb against thee, saying, As the mother, [so is] her daughter!

45 Thou art the daughter of thy mother that loathed her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, who loathed their husbands and their children. Your mother was a Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder sister is Samaria that dwelleth at thy left hand, she and her daughters; and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters.

47 And thou hast not walked in their ways, nor done according to their abominations; but as though that were a very little, thou hast been more corrupt than they in all thy ways.

48 [As] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters!

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom: pride, fulness of bread, and careless ease was in her and in her daughters, but she did not strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me, and I took them away when I saw [it].

51 And Samaria hath not sinned according to the half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters by all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Thou also, who hast judged thy sisters, bear thine own confusion, because of thy sins in which thou hast acted more abominably than they: they are more righteous than thou. So be thou ashamed also, and bear thy confusion, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

53 And I will bring again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them;

54 that thou mayest bear thy confusion, and mayest be confounded for all that thou hast done, in that thou comfortest them.

55 And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate; thou also and thy daughters, ye shall return to your former estate.

56 Yea, Sodom thy sister was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride, 57 before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and of all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, who despise thee on every side.

58 Thy lewdness and thine abominations, thou bearest them, saith Jehovah.

59 For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, who hast despised the oath, and broken the covenant.

60 Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant.

61 And thou shalt remember thy ways, and be confounded, when thou shalt receive thy sisters who are older than thou, together with those who are younger than thou; for I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by virtue of thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I [am] Jehovah;

63 that thou mayest remember, and be ashamed, and no more open thy mouth because of thy confusion, when I forgive thee all that thou hast done, saith the Lord Jehovah.

17 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel,

3 and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: A great eagle with great wings, long-pinioned, full of feathers, which was of divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar.

4 He cropped off the top of its young shoots, and carried it into a merchants' land; he set it in a city of traders.

5 And he took of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field; he placed it by great waters, he set it as a willow tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, so that its branches should turn toward him, and the roots thereof be under him; and it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

[7]And there was another great eagle with great wings and many feathers; and behold, from the beds of her plantation, this vine did bend her roots unto him, and shot forth her branches toward him, that he might water it.

[8]It was planted in a good field by many waters, that it might bring forth branches and bear fruit, that it might be a noble vine.

[9]Say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Shall it prosper? Shall he not pull up its roots, and cut off its fruit, that it may wither? All its fresh sprouting leaves shall wither, even without a great arm and many people to pluck it up by its roots.

[10]And behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither when the east wind toucheth it? It shall wither in the beds where it grew.

[11]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[12]Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things are? Say, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took its king and its princes, and led them with him to Babylon.

[13]And he took of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, and brought him under an oath, and he took away the mighty of the land;

[14]that the kingdom might be abased, that it might not lift itself up, that it might keep his covenant in order to stand.

[15]But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? shall he break the covenant, and yet escape?

[16][As] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, verily in the place of the king that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he broke, even with him, in the midst of Babylon, shall he die.

[17]Neither shall Pharaoh with a mighty army and a great assemblage do anything for him in the war, when they cast up mounds and build forts to cut off many persons.

[18]He despised the oath, and broke the covenant; and behold, he had given his hand, yet hath he done all these things: he shall not escape.

[19]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: [As] I live, verily, mine oath which he hath despised, and my covenant which he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his head.

[20]And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and I will bring him to Babylon, and will enter into judgment with him there for his unfaithfulness in which he hath been unfaithful against me.

[21]And all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind; and ye shall know that I Jehovah have spoken.

22 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will also take of the highest branch of the lofty cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the top of its young shoots a tender one, and I will plant it upon a high and eminent mountain:

23 upon the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it; and it shall bring forth branches, and bear fruit, and become a noble cedar; and under it shall dwell all birds of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I Jehovah have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and made the dry tree to flourish: I Jehovah have spoken, and will do [it].

18 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 What mean ye, ye who use this proverb of the land of Israel, saying, [The] fathers eat sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 [As] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, ye shall not have any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all the souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 And if a man be righteous, and do judgment and justice:

6 -- he hath not eaten upon the mountains, nor lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, nor come near to a woman in her separation,

7 and hath not oppressed any; he hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath not exercised robbery, hath given his bread to the hungry, and covered the naked with a garment;

8 he hath not given forth upon usury, nor taken increase; he hath withdrawn his hand from unrighteousness, hath executed true judgment between man and man,

9 hath walked in my statutes, and kept mine ordinances, to deal faithfully: he is righteous, he shall certainly live, saith the Lord Jehovah.

10 And if he have begotten a son that is violent, a shedder of blood, and that doeth only one of any of these [things],

11 and that doeth not any of those [duties], but also hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife,

12 hath oppressed the poor and needy, exercised robbery, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, committed abomination,

13 given forth upon usury, and taken increase; shall he then live? He shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall certainly die; his blood shall be upon him.

[14]But lo, if he have begotten a son that seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like:

[15]-- he hath not eaten upon the mountains, nor lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel; he hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

[16]and hath not oppressed any, nor withholden the pledge, neither hath exercised robbery; he hath given his bread to the hungry, and covered the naked with a garment;

[17]he hath withdrawn his hand from the poor, hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, [and] walked in my statutes: he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall certainly live.

[18]As for his father, because he practised oppression, exercised robbery upon his brother, and did what was not good among his people, behold, he shall die in his iniquity.

[19]And ye say, Why doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? But the son hath done judgment and justice, hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them; he shall certainly live.

[20]The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

[21]And the wicked, if he turn from all his sins which he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do judgment and justice, he shall certainly live, he shall not die.

[22]None of his transgressions which he hath committed shall be remembered against him; in his righteousness which he hath done shall he live.

[23]Have I any pleasure at all in the death of the wicked? saith the Lord Jehovah; is it not in his turning from his way, that he may live?

[24]And when the righteous turneth from his righteousness and practiseth what is wrong, [and] doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked doeth, shall he live? None of his righteous acts which he hath done shall be remembered: in his unfaithfulness which he hath wrought, and in his sin which he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

[25]And ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear then, house of Israel. Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?

[26]When the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and practiseth what is wrong, and dieth for it; in his wrong that he hath done shall he die.

[27]And when the wicked turneth from his wickedness which he hath committed, and doeth judgment and justice, he shall keep his soul alive.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth from all his transgressions which he hath committed, he shall certainly live, he shall not die.

29 But the house of Israel say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? Is it not your ways that are unequal?

30 Therefore I will judge you, house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord Jehovah. Return ye, and turn from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your snare.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions wherewith ye have transgressed, and make you a new heart and a new spirit: why then will ye die, house of Israel?

32 For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord Jehovah; therefore turn ye and live.

19 And thou, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 and say, What was thy mother? A lioness: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps in the midst of the young lions.

3 And she brought up one of her whelps; it became a young lion, and he learned to catch the prey; he devoured men.

4 And the nations heard of him; he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with nose-rings into the land of Egypt.

5 And when she saw that she had waited [and] her hope was lost, she took another of her whelps, [and] made him a young lion.

6 And he went up and down among the lions; he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey; he devoured men.

7 And he knew their [desolate] palaces, and he laid waste their cities, so that the land was desolate, and all it contained, by the noise of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him; he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in a cage with nose-rings, and brought him to the king of Babylon; they brought him into strongholds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

10 Thy mother was as a vine, in thy rest, planted by the waters: it was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters.

11 And it had strong rods for sceptres of them that bear rule, and its stature was exalted between the thick boughs; and it was conspicuous by its height with the multitude of its branches.

12 But it was plucked up in fury, it was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up its fruit; its strong rods were broken and withered; the fire consumed them.

13 And now it is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground:

14 and a fire is gone out of a rod of its branches, [which] hath devoured its fruit; so that it hath no strong rod to be a sceptre for ruling. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

20 And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth [month], the tenth of the month, [that] certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of Jehovah, and they sat before me.

2 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Are ye come to inquire of me? [As] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I will not be inquired of by you.

4 Wilt thou judge them, wilt thou judge, son of man? Cause them to know the abominations of their fathers,

5 and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up my hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up my hand unto them, saying, I [am] Jehovah your God,

6 in that day I lifted up my hand unto them, to bring them out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the ornament of all lands;

7 and I said unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: I [am] Jehovah your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: none of them cast away the abominations of his eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt. Then I thought to pour out my fury upon them, so as to accomplish mine anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations among whom they were, in whose sight I had made myself known unto them in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

10 And I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, and made known unto them mine ordinances, which if a man do, he shall live by them.

12 And I also gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I [am] Jehovah that hallow them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they rejected mine ordinances, which if a man do, he shall live by them; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned: and I said I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them.

[14]But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I had brought them out.

[15]And I also lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land that I had given [them], flowing with milk and honey, which is the ornament of all lands;

[16]because they rejected mine ordinances and walked not in my statutes, and profaned my sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

[17]But mine eye spared them so as not to destroy them, neither did I make a full end of them in the wilderness.

[18]And I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk not in the statutes of your fathers, neither keep their ordinances, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

[19]I [am] Jehovah your God: walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them;

[20]and hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I [am] Jehovah your God.

[21]And the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept mine ordinances to do them, which if a man do, he shall live by them; they profaned my sabbaths: and I said I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish mine anger against them in the wilderness.

[22]But I withdrew my hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I had brought them out.

[23]I lifted up my hand also unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations, and disperse them through the countries;

[24]because they performed not mine ordinances, and rejected my statutes, and profaned my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols.

[25]And I also gave them statutes that were not good, and ordinances whereby they should not live;

[26]and I defiled them by their own gifts, in that they devoted all that opened the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I [am] Jehovah.

[27]Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In this moreover have your fathers blasphemed me, in that they have wrought unfaithfulness against me.

[28]When I had brought them into the land which I had lifted up my hand to give unto them, then they saw every high hill and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering; and there they placed their sweet savour, and there poured out their drink-offerings.

[29]And I said unto them, What is the high place whither ye go? And the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day.

[30]Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Do ye defile yourselves after the manner of your fathers? and do ye commit fornication after their abominations?

[31]And when ye offer your gifts, making your sons to pass through the fire, ye defile yourselves with all your idols, even unto this day; and shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? [As] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I will not be inquired of by you.

[32]And that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the nations, as the families of the countries, in serving wood and stone.

[33][As] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, verily with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out, will I reign over you.

[34]And I will bring you out from the peoples, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out;

[35]and I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there will I enter into judgment with you face to face.

[36]Like as I entered into judgment with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I enter into judgment with you, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[37]And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

[38]And I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me; I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn, but they shall not enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[39]As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Go ye, serve every one his idols henceforth also, if none of you will hearken unto me; but profane my holy name no more with your gifts and with your idols.

[40]For in my holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah, there shall all the house of Israel serve me, the whole of it, in the land; there will I accept them, and there will I require your heave-offerings and the first-fruits of your offerings, with all your holy things.

[41]As a sweet savour will I accept you, when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be hallowed in you in the sight of the nations.

[42]And ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I have brought you into the land of Israel, into the country which I lifted up my hand to give to your fathers.

[43]And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils which ye have committed.

[44]And ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I have wrought with you for my name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[45]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[46]Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop [words] against the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south field;

[47]and say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of Jehovah. Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flashing flame shall not be quenched; and all that it meets from the south to the north shall be burned thereby.

[48]And all flesh shall see that I Jehovah have kindled it: it shall not be quenched.

[49]And I said, Ah, Lord Jehovah! they say of me, Doth he not speak parables?

21And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, set thy face against Jerusalem, and drop [words] against the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel,

[3]and say to the land of Israel, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, and I will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.

[4]Seeing that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh, from the south to the north;

[5]and all flesh shall know that I Jehovah have drawn forth my sword out of its sheath: it shall not return any more.

[6]Sigh then, thou son of man; with breaking of the loins, and with bitterness sigh before their eyes.

[7]And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore dost thou sigh? that thou shalt say, Because of the tidings, for it cometh; and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall languish, and all knees shall melt into water: behold, it cometh; it is here, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[8]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[9]Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith Jehovah: Say, A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also furbished.

[10]It is sharpened for sore slaughter, it is furbished that it may glitter. Shall we then make mirth, [saying,] The sceptre of my son contemneth all wood?

[11]And he hath given it to be furbished that it may be handled. The sword, -- it is sharpened, and it is furbished to give it into the hand of the slayer.

[12]Cry and howl, son of man; for it shall be against my people, it shall be against all the princes of Israel: they are given up to the sword along with my people: smite therefore upon the thigh.

[13]For the trial [is made]; and what if even the contemning sceptre shall be no [more]? saith the Lord Jehovah.

[14]And thou, son of man, prophesy, and smite thy hands together; for [the strokes of] the sword shall be doubled the third time: it is the sword of the slain, the sword that hath slain the great one, which encompasseth them privily.

[15]In order that the heart may melt, and the stumbling-blocks be multiplied, I have set the threatening sword against all their gates: ah! it is made glittering, it is whetted for the slaughter.

[17]And I myself will smite my hands together, and I will satisfy my fury: I Jehovah have spoken [it].

[18]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[19]And thou, son of man, set thee two ways, by which the sword of the king of Babylon may come -- out of one land shall they both come -- and make thee a signpost, make it at the head of the way to the city.

[20]Appoint a way for the coming of the sword to Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and to Judah at the fenced [city] of Jerusalem.

[21]For the king of Babylon standeth at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he shaketh [his] arrows, he inquireth of the teraphim, he looketh in the liver.

[22]In his right hand is the lot of Jerusalem to appoint battering-rams, to open the mouth for bloodshed, to lift up the voice with shouting, to appoint battering-rams against the gates, to cast mounds, to build siege-towers.

[23]And this shall be a false divination in their sight, for them that have sworn oaths; but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

[24]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because ye make your iniquity to be remembered in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins appear; because ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

[25]And thou, profane, wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, at the time of the iniquity of the end, [26]-- thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Remove the mitre and take off the crown; what is shall be no [more]. Exalt that which is low, and abase that which is high.

[27]I will overturn, overturn, overturn it! This also shall be no [more], until he come whose right it is; and I will give it [to him].

[28]And thou, son of man, prophesy and say, Thus speaketh the Lord Jehovah concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and thou shalt say, A sword, a sword is drawn; for the slaughter is it furbished, that it may consume, that it may glitter:

[29]whilst they see vanity for thee, whilst they divine a lie unto thee, to lay thee upon the necks of the wicked that are slain, whose day is come at the time of the iniquity of the end.

[30]Restore [it] to its sheath. I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy birth.

[31]And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow upon thee the fire of my wrath, and give thee into the hand of brutish men, skilful to destroy.

[32]Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt not be remembered: for I Jehovah have spoken.

22And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]And thou, son of man, wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge the bloody city? Yea, cause her to know all her abominations,

[3]and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: A city that sheddeth blood in her midst, that her time may come, and maketh idols against herself to defile herself.

[4]Thou art become guilty by thy blood which thou hast shed, and hast defiled thyself with thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come unto thy years: therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the nations, and a mocking unto all countries.

[5]Those that are near, and those that are far from thee, shall mock thee, who art infamous [and] full of tumult.

[6]Behold, the princes of Israel have been in thee to shed blood, each according to his power.

[7]In thee have they made light of father and mother; in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the stranger; in thee have they vexed the fatherless and the widow.

[8]Thou hast despised my holy things, and hast profaned my sabbaths.

[9]In thee there have been slanderous men to shed blood; and in thee have they eaten upon the mountains; in the midst of thee they have committed lewdness;

[10]in thee have they discovered their fathers' nakedness; in thee have they humbled her that was unclean in her separation.

[11]And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter.

[12]In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast overreached thy neighbours by oppression, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[13]And behold, I have smitten mine hand at thine overreaching which thou hast done, and at thy bloodshed which hath been in the midst of thee.

[14]Shall thy heart endure, shall thy hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I Jehovah have spoken, and will do [it].

[15]And I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee through the countries, and will consume thy filthiness out of thee.

[16]And thou shalt be polluted through thyself in the sight of the nations, and thou shalt know that I [am] Jehovah.

[17]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[18]Son of man, the house of Israel is become dross to me: they are all copper, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace: they are become the dross of silver.

[19]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because ye are all become dross, therefore behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.

[20][As] they gather silver, and copper, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will lay you on and melt you.

[21]Yea, I will collect you, and blow upon you the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.

[22]As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof: and ye shall know that I Jehovah have poured out my fury upon you.

[23]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[24]Son of man, say unto her, Thou art a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

[25]There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst of her like a roaring lion ravening the prey; they devour souls; they take away treasure and precious things; they increase her widows in the midst of her;

[26]her priests do violence to my law, and profane my holy things: they put no difference between the holy and profane, neither do they make known [the difference] between the unclean and the clean, and they hide their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

[27]Her princes in the midst of her are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.

[28]And her prophets have daubed for them with untempered [mortar], seeing vanity and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah! and Jehovah hath not spoken.

[29]The people of the land use oppression and practise robbery; and they vex the poor and needy, and oppress the stranger wrongfully.

[30]And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the fence, and stand in the breach before me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none.

[31]And I will pour out mine indignation upon them; I will consume them in the fire of my wrath: their own way will I recompense upon their head, saith the Lord Jehovah.

23And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, there were two women, daughters of one mother.

[3]And they committed whoredom in Egypt; they committed whoredom in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there were handled the teats of their virginity.

[4]And their names were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister; and they were mine, and they bore sons and daughters. As for their names: Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah.

[5]And Oholah played the harlot when she was mine; and she lusted after her lovers, after the Assyrians [her] neighbours,

[6]clothed with blue, governors and rulers, all of them attractive young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

[7]And she bestowed her whoredoms upon them, all of them the choice of the children of Asshur; and with all after whom she lusted, with all their idols she defiled herself.

[8]Neither left she her whoredoms [brought] from Egypt; for in her youth they had lain with her, and had handled the breasts of her virginity, and poured their fornication upon her.

[9]Therefore I gave her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the children of Asshur, after whom she lusted.

[10]These discovered her nakedness, they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword; and she became a name among women; and they executed judgment upon her.

[11]And her sister Oholibah saw [this], and was more corrupt in her passion than she, and in her fornications more than the whoredoms of her sister.

[12]She lusted after the children of Asshur [her] neighbours, governors and rulers, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them attractive young men.

[13]And I saw that she was defiled: both took one way.

[14]And she increased her fornications; for she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with vermilion,

15 girded with girdles upon their loins, with flowing turbans on their heads, all of them captains in appearance, [after] the likeness of the children of Babylon, of Chaldea, the land of their nativity.

16 And as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she lusted after them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea.

17 And the children of Babylon came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their fornication; she too defiled herself with them, and her soul was alienated from them.

18 And she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness; and my soul was alienated from her, like as my soul was alienated from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein she played the harlot in the land of Egypt;

20 and she lusted after their paramours, whose flesh is [as] the flesh of asses, and whose issue is [as] the issue of horses.

21 And thou didst look back to the lewdness of thy youth, in the handling of thy teats by the Egyptians, for the breasts of thy youth.

22 Therefore, Oholibah, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy soul is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side.

23 The children of Babylon, and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, all the children of Asshur with them; all of them attractive young men, governors and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.

24 And they shall come against thee [with] armour, chariots and wheels, and with an assemblage of peoples; they shall set themselves against thee [with] target, and shield, and helmet round about; and I will put judgment before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments.

25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall cut off thy nose and thine ears, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword; they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip the of thy garments, and take away thy fair jewels.

27 And I will make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom [brought] from the land of Egypt; and thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will give thee over into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy soul is alienated.

[29]And they shall deal with thee in hatred, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare; so that the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy fornications.

[30]These things shall be done unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the nations, because thou hast defiled thyself with their idols.

[31]Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister; and I have given her cup into thy hand.

[32]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large; thou shalt be for a laughing-stock and a derision, [for] it containeth much.

[33]Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, the cup of thy sister Samaria;

[34]thou shalt even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt gnaw the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken [it], saith the Lord Jehovah.

[35]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy fornications.

[36]And Jehovah said unto me, Son of man, wilt thou judge Oholah and Oholibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations.

[37]For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands; and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also passed over unto them their children, whom they bore unto me, to be devoured.

[38]Moreover this have they done unto me: in the same day have they defiled my sanctuary and profaned my sabbaths.

[39]For when they had slaughtered their children unto their idols, they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and behold, thus have they done in the midst of my house.

[40]And furthermore, they sent for men to come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent; and behold, they came: for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments;

[41]and satest upon a stately bed, with a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hadst set mine incense and mine oil.

[42]And the voice of a multitude living carelessly was with her; and with people of the common sort were brought Sabeans from the wilderness, and they put bracelets upon their hands, and a beautiful crown upon their heads.

[43]And I said of her that was old in adulteries, Will she now commit her fornications, even she.

[44]And they went in unto her, as they go in unto a whorish woman: so went they in unto Oholah and unto Oholibah the lewd women.

45And righteous men, they shall judge them with the judgment of adulteresses, and with the judgment of women that shed blood; for they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will bring up an assemblage against them, and will give them to be driven hither and thither and spoiled.

47And the assemblage shall stone them with stones, and despatch them with their swords; they shall kill their sons and their daughters, and burn their houses with fire.

48And I will cause lewdness to cease out of the land, and all women shall receive instruction and shall not do according to your lewdness.

49And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols; and ye shall know that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.

24And in the ninth year, in the tenth month, on the tenth of the month, the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, 2Son of man, write thee the name of the day, of this selfsame day: on this selfsame day the king of Babylon draws near to Jerusalem.

3And propose a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Set on the pot, set [it] on, and also pour water into it.

4Gather the pieces thereof into it, every good piece, the thigh and the shoulder; fill [it] with the choice bones:

5take the choice of the flock; and also [put] a pile of wood under it, for the bones; make it boil well, and let the bones of it seethe therein.

6Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose rust is therein, and whose rust is not gone out of it! Bring it out piece by piece; let no lot fall upon it:

7for her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the bare rock; she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust.

8That it might cause fury to come up to execute vengeance, I have set her blood upon the bare rock, that it should not be covered.

9Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Woe to the bloody city! I also will make the pile great.

10Heap on the wood, kindle the fire, boil thoroughly the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burned.

11Then set it empty upon its coals, that it may be hot, and the brass of it may burn, and that its filthiness may be molten in it, [and] that its rust may be consumed.

12She hath exhausted [her] labours, yet her great rust goeth not forth out of her: let her rust be in the fire.

13In thy filthiness is lewdness, for I have purged thee, and thou art not pure. Thou shalt no more be purged from thy filthiness, till I have satisfied my fury upon thee.

14I Jehovah have spoken [it]: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, nor will I repent. According to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord Jehovah.

15And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

16Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke; yet thou shalt not mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down.

17Sigh in silence, make no mourning for the dead; bind thy turban upon thee, and put thy sandals upon thy feet, and cover not the beard, and eat not the bread of men.

18-- And I spoke unto the people in the morning; and at even my wife died. And I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, which thou doest?

20And I said to them, The word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, 21Say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and your soul's longing; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left behind shall fall by the sword.

22And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover the beard, neither eat the bread of men;

23and your turbans shall be upon your heads, and your sandals upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep; but ye shall waste away in your iniquities and moan one toward another.

24Thus Ezekiel shall be unto you a sign; according to all that he hath done shall ye do: when it cometh, then ye shall know that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.

25And thou, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereunto they lift up their soul, their sons and their daughters, 26that in that day he that escapeth shall come unto thee, to cause [thine] ears to hear [it]?

27In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him that is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb. So shalt thou be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

25And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, set thy face against the children of Ammon, and prophesy against them;

[3]and say unto the children of Ammon, Hear the word of the Lord Jehovah. Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was made desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity:

[4]therefore behold, I will give thee to the children of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in thee, and make their dwellings in thee; they shall eat thy fruits, and they shall drink thy milk.

[5]And I will make Rabbah a pasture for camels, and the children of Ammon a couching-place for flocks: and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[6]For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thou hast clapped the hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the despite of thy soul against the land of Israel;

[7]therefore behold, I will stretch out my hand upon thee, and will give thee for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut thee off from the peoples, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I [am] Jehovah.

[8]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the nations,

[9]therefore behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities even to the last of them, the glory of the country, Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kirjathaim,

[10]unto the children of the east, with [the land of] the children of Ammon; and I will give it them for a possession, that the children of Ammon may not be remembered among the nations:

[11]and I will execute judgments upon Moab, and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[12]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and hath made himself very guilty, and revenged himself upon them,

[13]therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will also stretch out my hand upon Edom; and will cut off man and beast from it; and I will make it desolate from Teman; and unto Dedan shall they fall by the sword.

[14]And I will execute my vengeance upon Edom, by the hand of my people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger and according to my fury; and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[15]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with despite of soul, to destroy, from old hatred;

[16]therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I stretch out my hands upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Kerethites, and cause the remnant of the sea-coast to perish.

17 And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

26 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, on the first of the month, [that] the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, because Tyre hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken, the gate of the peoples! she is turned unto me: I shall be replenished [now] she is laid waste;

3 therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth its waves to come up.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers. And I will scrape her dust from her, and make her a bare rock.

5 She shall be [a place] for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea; for I have spoken [it], saith the Lord Jehovah; and she shall become a spoil for the nations.

6 And her daughters that are in the field shall be slain by the sword; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

7 For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will bring from the north, against Tyre, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, the king of kings, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and an assemblage, and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make forts against thee, and cast up a mound against thee, and lift up the target against thee;

9 and he shall set his engines of attack against thy walls, and with his spikes he shall break down thy towers.

10 By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee; thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he shall enter through thy gates, as a city is entered into, wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets; he shall slay thy people by the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall go down to the ground.

12 And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy wares; and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses; and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the waters.

13 And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.

14 And I will make thee a bare rock; thou shalt be [a place] for the spreading of nets; thou shalt be built no more: for I Jehovah have spoken [it], saith the Lord
Jehovah.

15 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah to Tyre:
Shall not the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?

16 And all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling, they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble [every] moment, and be astonied because of thee.

17 And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How hast thou perished, that wast inhabited from the seas, O renowned city, which wast strong in the sea, -- she and her inhabitants, who caused their terror to be on all them that dwell therein!

18 Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; and the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I bring up the deep upon thee, and the great waters cover thee:

20 then will I bring thee down, with them that go down to the pit, to the people of old time, and will cause thee to dwell in the lower parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I will set glory in the land of the living.

21 And I will make thee a terror, and thou shalt be no [more]; and thou shalt be sought for, and shalt never be found again, for ever, saith the Lord Jehovah.

27 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying:

2 And thou, son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyre,

3 and say unto Tyre: O thou that art situate at the entries of the sea, and traffickest with the peoples in many isles, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Thou, Tyre, hast said, I am perfect in beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the heart of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They made all thy double boards of cypress-trees of Senir; they took cedars from Lebanon to make masts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Bashan did they make thine oars; they made thy benches of ivory, inlaid in box-wood, out of the isles of Chittim.

7 Byssus with broidered work from Egypt was thy sail, to serve thee for a banner; blue and purple from the isles of Elishah was thine awning.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy rowers; thy wise men, O Tyre, who were in thee, were thy pilots.

[9]The elders of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee repairing thy leaks; all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee, to barter with thee.

[10]Persia and Lud and Phut were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged shield and helmet in thee; they gave splendour to thee.

[11]The children of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadim were on thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they made thy beauty perfect.

[12]Tarshish dealt with thee by reason of the abundance of all substance; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they furnished thy markets.

[13]Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy traffickers: they bartered with thee the persons of men, and vessels of bronze.

[14]They of the house of Togarmah furnished thy markets with horses, and horsemen, and mules.

[15]The children of Dedan were thy traffickers; many isles were the mart of thy hand: they rendered in payment horns of ivory, and ebony.

[16]Syria dealt with thee for the multitude of thy handiworks: they traded in thy markets with carbuncles, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and corals, and rubies.

[17]Judah and the land of Israel were thy traffickers: they bartered with thee wheat of Minnith, and sweet cakes, and honey, and oil, and balm.

[18]Damascus dealt with thee because of the multitude of thy handiworks, by reason of the abundance of all substance, with wine of Helbon, and white wool.

[19]Vedan and Javan of Uzal traded in thy markets: wrought iron, cassia, and calamus were in thy traffic.

[20]Dedan was thy trafficker in precious riding-cloths.

[21]Arabia and all the princes of Kedar were the merchants of thy hand: in lambs, and rams, and goats, in these did they trade with thee.

[22]The merchants of Sheba and Raamah were thy traffickers: they furnished thy markets with all the choice spices, and with all precious stones and gold.

[23]Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Asshur, and Chilmad traded with thee:

[24]these traded with thee in sumptuous clothes, in wrappings of blue and broidered work, and in chests full of variegated stuffs, bound with cords and made of cedar-wood, amongst thy merchandise.

[25]The ships of Tarshish were thy caravans for thy traffic; and thou wast replenished, and highly honoured, in the heart of the seas.

[26]Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters; the east wind hath broken thee in the heart of the seas.

[27]Thy substance, and thy markets, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, they that repair thy leaks, and they that barter with thee, and all thy men of war that are in thee, along with all thine assemblage which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the heart of the seas in the day of thy fall.

[28]The open places shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

[29]And all that handle the oar, the mariners, all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships; they shall stand upon the land,

[30]and shall cause their voice to be heard over thee, and shall cry bitterly; and they shall cast up dust upon their heads; they shall wallow themselves in ashes.

[31]And they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird themselves with sackcloth; and they shall weep for thee in bitterness of soul with bitter mourning.

[32]And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, [saying,] Who is like Tyre, like her that is destroyed in the midst of the sea?

[33]When thy wares went forth over the seas, thou filledst many peoples; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the abundance of thy substance and of thy merchandise.

[34]In the time [when] thou art broken by the seas, in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thine assemblage in the midst of thee have fallen.

[35]All the inhabitants of the isles are amazed at thee, and their kings are horribly afraid, [their] countenance is troubled.

[36]The merchants among the peoples hiss at thee; thou art become a terror, and thou shalt never be any more.

28And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thy heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit [in] the seat of God, in the heart of the seas, (and thou art a man, and not [God],) and thou settest thy heart as the heart of God:

[3]behold, thou art wiser than Daniel! nothing secret is obscure for thee;

[4]by thy wisdom and by thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures;

[5]by thy great wisdom thou hast by thy traffic increased thy riches, and thy heart is lifted up because of thy riches.

[6]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thou hast set thy heart as the heart of God,

[7]therefore behold, I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall tarnish thy brightness.

[8]They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of those that are slain in the heart of the seas.

[9]Wilt thou then say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and not [God], in the hand of him that pierceth thee.

[10]Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised, by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken [it], saith the Lord Jehovah.

[11]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[12]Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyre, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Thou, who sealest up the measure of perfection, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty,

[13]thou wast in Eden, the garden of God. Every precious stone was thy covering: the sardius, the topaz, and the diamond, the chrysolite, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the carbuncle, and the emerald, and gold. The workmanship of thy tambours and of thy pipes was in thee: in the day that thou wast created were they prepared.

[14]Thou wast the anointed covering cherub, and I had set thee [so]: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou didst walk up and down in the midst of stones of fire.

[15]Thou wast perfect in thy ways, from the day that thou wast created, till unrighteousness was found in thee.

[16]By the abundance of thy traffic they filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned; therefore have I cast thee as profane from the mountain of God, and have destroyed thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

[17]Thy heart was lifted up because of thy beauty; thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I have cast thee to the ground, I have laid thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

[18]By the multitude of thine iniquities, by the unrighteousness of thy traffic, thou hast profaned thy sanctuaries: and I have brought forth a fire out of the midst of thee -- it hath consumed thee; and I have brought thee to ashes upon the earth, in the sight of all them that behold thee.

[19]All they that know thee among the peoples shall be amazed at thee: thou art become a terror, and thou shalt never be any more.

[20]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[21]Son of man, set thy face towards Zidon, and prophesy against it,

[22]and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, Zidon, and I will be glorified in the midst of thee; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be hallowed in her.

[23]And I will send into her the pestilence, and blood in her streets; and the wounded shall fall in the midst of her, by the sword upon her on every side: and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[24]And there shall be no more a wounding sting for the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorn, among all that were round about them, that despised them: and they shall know that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.

[25]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and shall be hallowed in them in the sight of the nations, then shall they dwell in their land which I have given to my servant Jacob.

[26]They shall dwell in it in safety, and shall build houses and plant vineyards; and they shall dwell in safety, when I have executed judgments upon all those that despised them round about them: and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah their God.

29In the tenth year, in the tenth [month], on the twelfth of the month, the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against the whole of Egypt;

[3]speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great monster that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which saith, My river is mine own, and I made it for myself.

[4]And I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales;

[5]and I will cast thee into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the open field; thou shalt not be brought together nor gathered: I will give thee for meat to the beasts of the earth and to the fowl of the heavens.

[6]And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I [am] Jehovah, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel.

[7]When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst give way and rend all their shoulder; and when they leaned upon thee, thou didst break, and didst make all their loins to tremble.

[8]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast from thee.

[9]And the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste: and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah, because he saith, The river is mine, and I made it.

[10]Therefore behold, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt deserts of wasteness and desolation, from Migdol to Syene, even unto the border of Ethiopia.

[11]No foot of man shall pass through it, nor shall foot of beast pass through it, nor shall it be inhabited, forty years.

[12]And I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of the countries that are desolated, and her cities shall be, in the midst of the cities that are laid waste, a desolation forty years; and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

[13]Yet thus saith the Lord Jehovah: At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples whither they were scattered;

[14]and I will turn again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return to the land of Pathros, into the land of their birth, and they shall there be a base kingdom.

[15]It shall be the basest of kingdoms; neither shall it exalt itself any more above the nations; and I will diminish them, so that they shall no more rule over the nations.

[16]And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn after them: and they shall know that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.

[17]And it came to pass in the twenty-seventh year, in the first [month], on the first of the month, [that] the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[18]Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to do hard service against Tyre; every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he from Tyre no wages, nor his army, for the service that he had served against it.

[19]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry away her multitude, and seize her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army.

[20]I have given him the land of Egypt for his labour wherewith he served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[21]In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them: and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

30And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Howl ye, Alas for the day!

[3]For the day is at hand, yea, the day of Jehovah is at hand, a day of clouds; it shall be the time of the nations.

[4]And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and there shall be anguish in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be overthrown.

[5]Cush, and Phut, and Lud, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the children of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

[6]Thus saith Jehovah: They also that uphold Egypt shall fall; and the pride of her strength shall come down: from Migdol to Syene shall they fall in her by the sword, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[7]And they shall be desolated in the midst of the countries that are desolated, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

[8]And they shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and all her helpers shall be broken.

[9]In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships, to make careless Ethiopia afraid; and anguish shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for behold, it cometh!

[10]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon.

[11]He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with slain.

[12]And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked; and I will make the land desolate, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I Jehovah have spoken [it].

[13]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause the images to cease out of Noph; and there shall be no more a prince out of the land of Egypt; and I will put fear in the land of Egypt.

[14]And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set a fire in Zoan, and will execute judgment in No.

[15]And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the stronghold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No.

[16]And I will set a fire in Egypt: Sin shall be in great anguish, and No shall be rent asunder, and at Noph [there shall be] enemies in open day.

[17]The young men of Aven and of Pibeseth shall fall by the sword; and these shall go into captivity.

[18]And at Tehaphnehes the day shall be darkened, when I break there the yokes of Egypt, and the pride of her strength shall cease in her; as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

[19]Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[20]And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first [month], on the seventh of the month, the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[21]Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and behold, it shall not be bound up to apply remedies, to put a bandage to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

[22]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong one, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

[23]And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

[24]And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand; and I will break Pharaoh's arms, so that he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly-wounded [man].

[25]And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I have put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall have stretched it out upon the land of Egypt.

[26]And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries: and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

31And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third [month], on the first of the month, [that] the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[2]Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude: Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

[3]Behold, Assyria was a cedar in Lebanon, with fair branches and a shadowing shroud, and of a high stature: and his top was amidst the thick boughs.

[4]The waters made him great, the deep set him up on high; its streams ran round about his plantation, and it sent out its rivulets unto all the trees of the field.

[5]Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long, because of great waters, when he shot forth.

[6]All the fowl of the heavens made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all the great nations.

[7]Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: because his root was by great waters.

[8]The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him; the cypresses were not like his boughs, and the plane-trees were not as his branches: no tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

[9]I had made him fair by the multitude of his branches; and all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thou hast lifted up thyself in stature, ... and he hath set his top amidst the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height, 11 I have given him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness.

12 And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off and have left him; upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken in all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his fallen [trunk] do all the fowl of the heavens dwell, and all the beasts of the field are upon his branches:

14 to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, nor set their top amidst the thick boughs, and that none of them that drink water stand up in his height by himself; for they are all given over unto death in the lower parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In the day when he went down to Sheol, I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed; and I made Lebanon black for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to Sheol, with them that go down into the pit; and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the lower parts of the earth.

17 They also went down into Sheol with him unto them that were slain with the sword, and [that were] his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the nations.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? Yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden, unto the lower parts of the earth; thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord Jehovah.

32 And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, on the first of the month, that the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou wast like a young lion among the nations, and thou wast as a monster in the seas; and thou didst break forth in thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will also spread out my net over thee with an assemblage of many peoples; and they shall bring thee up in my net.

[4]And I will leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowl of the heavens to settle upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

[5]And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with the heap of thy [members];

[6]and I will water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; and the water-courses shall be full of thee.

[7]And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heavens, and make the stars thereof black; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

[8]All the bright lights of the heavens will I make black over thee, and bring darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[9]And I will vex the heart of many peoples, when I bring [the news of] thy destruction among the nations, into the countries that thou hast not known.

[10]And I will make many peoples amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid at thee, when I brandish my sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, each one for his life, in the day of thy fall.

[11]For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.

[12]By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall: the terrible of the nations are they all: and they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

[13]And I will destroy all the beasts thereof, from beside the great waters; and the foot of man shall not trouble them any more, nor shall the cloven hoofs of beasts trouble them.

[14]Then will I make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[15]When I shall make the land of Egypt a desolation, and the country shall be left desolate of all that was in it, when I have smitten all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I [am] Jehovah.

[16]It is a lamentation, and [thus] they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall say it in lamenting; they shall say it in lamenting over Egypt and over all her multitude, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[17]And it came to pass in the twelfth year, on the fifteenth of the month, the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[18]Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, her and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the lower parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

[19]Whom dost thou surpass in beauty? Go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

[20]They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword. The sword hath been given: draw her out, and all her multitudes.

[21]The strong among the mighty, with them that helped him, shall speak to him out of the midst of Sheol: they are gone down, they lie still, the uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

[22]There is Asshur and all his assemblage, his graves round about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword;

[23]their graves are set in the sides of the pit, and his assemblage is round about his grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, -- who caused terror in the land of the living.

[24]There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who are gone down uncircumcised unto the lower parts of the earth, who caused their terror in the land of the living; yet have they borne their confusion with them that go down to the pit.

[25]They have set him a bed in the midst of the slain, with all his multitude: their graves are round about him, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though their terror was caused in the land of the living; and they have borne their confusion with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that are slain.

[26]There is Meshech, Tubal, and all their multitude, their graves round about them, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the living.

[27]And they lie not with the mighty, [that are] fallen of the uncircumcised, who are gone down to Sheol with their weapons of war; and whose swords are laid under their heads, and whose iniquities are upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

[28]Thou also shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

[29]There is Edom, her kings, and all her princes, who in their might are laid with them that are slain by the sword: they lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

[30]There are the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Zidonians, that are gone down with the slain -- ashamed of the terror which they caused through their might; and they lie uncircumcised with them that are slain by the sword, and bear their confusion with them that go down to the pit.

[31]Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude, Pharaoh and all his army slain by the sword, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[32]For I have caused my terror in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword, Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord Jehovah.

33 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take one man from among them all, and set him for their watchman:

3 if he see the sword coming upon the land, and blow the trumpet, and warn the people;

4 then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood is upon him: whereas had he taken warning, he would have delivered his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword coming, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, if the sword come and take a person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 So thou, son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; and thou shalt hear the word from my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, Wicked [man], thou shalt certainly die; and thou speakest not to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked [man] shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thy hand.

9 But if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 And thou, son of man, say unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speak, saying, Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we waste away in them, how then should we live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live. Turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 And thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall the righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I say to the righteous that he shall certainly live, and he trusteth to his righteousness and doeth what is wrong, none of his righteous acts shall be remembered; but in his unrighteousness which he hath done, in it shall he die.

14 And when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt certainly die, and he turneth from his sin, and doeth judgment and justice;

[15]if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, doing nothing that is wrong; he shall certainly live, he shall not die.

[16]None of his sins which he hath committed shall be remembered against him: he hath done judgment and justice; he shall certainly live.

[17]Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal.

[18]When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and doeth what is wrong, then he shall die therein.

[19]And when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth judgment and justice, he shall live for these things.

[20]Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.

[21]And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth [month], on the fifth of the month, that one who had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, The city is smitten!

[22]Now the hand of Jehovah had been upon me in the evening, before he that had escaped came; and he had opened my mouth against his coming to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

[23]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[24]Son of man, they that inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited this land, and we are many: the land is given us for a possession.

[25]Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood; and shall ye possess the land?

[26]Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife; and shall ye possess the land?

[27]Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: [As] I live, verily they that are in the waste places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that are in the strongholds and in the caves shall die of the pestilence.

[28]And I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment, and the pride of her strength shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolated, so that none shall pass through.

[29]And they shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment because of all their abominations which they have committed.

[30]And as for thee, son of man, the children of thy people keep talking of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come,

I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from Jehovah.

31And they come unto thee as a people cometh, and they sit before thee [as] my people, and they hear thy words, but they do them not; for with their mouth they shew much love, [but] their heart goeth after their dishonest gain.

32And behold, thou art unto them as a lovely song, a pleasant voice, and one that playeth well on an instrument; and they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33And when this cometh to pass (behold, it will come), then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

34And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy; and say unto them, unto the shepherds, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Woe to the shepherds of Israel that feed themselves! Should not the shepherds feed the flock?

3Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool; ye kill them that are fattened: [but] ye feed not the flock.

4The weak have ye not strengthened, nor have ye healed the sick, and ye have not bound up [what was] broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought for that which was lost; but with harshness and with rigour have ye ruled over them.

5And they were scattered because there was no shepherd; and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, and were scattered.

6My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill, and my sheep have been scattered upon all the face of the earth, and there was none that searched, or that sought for them.

7Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of Jehovah:

8[As] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, verily because my sheep have been a prey, and my sheep have been meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, and my shepherds searched not for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock,

9-- therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of Jehovah.

10Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require my sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock: that the shepherds may feed themselves no more; and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not be food for them.

11For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold I, [even] I, will both search for my sheep, and tend them.

[12]As a shepherd tendeth his flock in the day that he is among his scattered sheep, so will I tend my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.

[13]And I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the water-courses, and in all the habitable places of the country.

[14]I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie down in a good fold, and in a fat pasture they shall feed upon the mountains of Israel.

[15]I will myself feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[16]I will seek the lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up the broken, and will strengthen that which was sick; but I will destroy the fat and the strong: I will feed them with judgment.

[17]And as for you, my flock, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I judge between sheep and sheep, between the rams and the he-goats.

[18]Is it too small a thing unto you to have eaten up the good pastures, but ye must tread down with your feet the rest of your pastures; and to have drunk of the settled waters, but ye must foul the rest with your feet?

[19]And my sheep have to eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and to drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

[20]Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah unto them: Behold, [it is] I, and I will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep.

[21]Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and push all the weak ones with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad,

[22]-- I will save my flock, that they may no more be a prey; and I will judge between sheep and sheep.

[23]And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David: he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

[24]And I Jehovah will be their God, and my servant David a prince in their midst: I Jehovah have spoken [it].

[25]And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land; and they shall dwell in safety in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

[26]And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in its season: there shall be showers of blessing.

[27]And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield its increase; and they shall be in safety in their land, and shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I have broken the bands of their yoke and delivered them out of the hand of those that kept them in servitude.

28 And they shall no more be a prey to the nations, neither shall the beast of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell in safety, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a plant of renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the ignominy of the nations any more.

30 And they shall know that I Jehovah their God [am] with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord Jehovah.

31 And ye, my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men: I [am] your God, saith the Lord Jehovah.

35 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesy against it,

3 and say unto it, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, mount Seir, and I will stretch out my hand upon thee, and I will make thee a desolation and an astonishment.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be a desolation: and thou shalt know that I [am] Jehovah.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred, and hast given over the children of Israel to the power of the sword, in the time of their calamity, in the time of the iniquity of the end;

6 therefore, [as] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I will certainly appoint thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee; since thou hast not hated blood, blood shall pursue thee.

7 And I will make mount Seir a desolation and an astonishment, and cut off from it him that passeth out and him that returneth;

8 and I will fill his mountains with his slain. In thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy water-courses shall they fall that are slain with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not be inhabited: and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it, whereas Jehovah was there:

11 therefore, [as] I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I will even do according to thine anger and according to thine envy, as thou hast done out of thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, when I shall judge thee.

12 And thou shalt know that I Jehovah have heard all thy reproaches, which thou hast uttered against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us to devour.

13 And ye have magnified yourselves against me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard [them].

14 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee a desolation.

15 As thou didst rejoice at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolated, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be a desolation, O mount Seir, and all Edom, the whole of it: and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

36 And thou, son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Mountains of Israel, hear the word of Jehovah.

2 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha! and, The ancient high places are become ours in possession;

3 therefore prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because, yea, because they have made [you] desolate, and have swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the remnant of the nations, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and in the defaming of the people:

4 therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord Jehovah. Thus saith the Lord Jehovah to the mountains and to the hills, to the water-courses and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become a prey and a derision to the remnant of the nations that are round about,

5 -- therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the remnant of the nations, and against the whole of Edom, which have appointed my land unto themselves for a possession with the joy of all [their] heart, with despite of soul, to plunder it by pillage.

6 Prophesy therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say to the mountains and to the hills, to the water-courses and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have borne the ignominy of the nations;

7 therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I have lifted up my hand, [saying,] Verily the nations that are about you, they shall bear their shame.

8 And ye mountains of Israel shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel: for they are at hand to come.

9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown.

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, the whole of it; and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded.

[11]And I will multiply upon you man and beast, and they shall increase and bring forth fruit; and I will cause you to be inhabited as [in] your former times, yea, I will make it better than at your beginnings: and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[12]And I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of children.

[13]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because they say unto you, Thou devourest men, and hast bereaved thy nation,

[14]therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nation any more, saith the Lord Jehovah;

[15]neither will I cause thee to hear the ignominy of the nations any more, and thou shalt not bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nation to fall any more, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[16]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[17]Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their way and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanness of a woman in her separation.

[18]And I poured out my fury upon them for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and because they had defiled it with their idols.

[19]And I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their way and according to their doings I judged them.

[20]And when they came to the nations whither they went, they profaned my holy name, when it was said of them, These are the people of Jehovah, and they are gone forth out of his land.

[21]But I had pity for my holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations whither they went.

[22]Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for my holy name, which ye have profaned among the nations whither ye went.

[23]And I will hallow my great name, which was profaned among the nations, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the nations shall know that I [am] Jehovah, saith the Lord Jehovah, when I shall be hallowed in you before their eyes.

[24]And I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land.

[25]And I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your uncleannesses and from all your idols will I cleanse you.

[26]And I will give you a new heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh.

[27]And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes and keep mine ordinances, and ye shall do them.

[28]And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

[29]And I will save you from all your uncleannesses; and I will call for the corn and will multiply it, and lay no famine upon you.

[30]And I will multiply the fruit of the trees and the increase of the field, so that ye may receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations.

[31]And ye shall remember your evil ways, and your doings which were not good, and shall loathe yourselves for your iniquities and for your abominations.

[32]Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord Jehovah, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel.

[33]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In the day that I shall cleanse you from all your iniquities I will also cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded.

[34]And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by.

[35]And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities [are] fortified [and] inhabited.

[36]And the nations that shall be left round about you shall know that I Jehovah build the ruined places [and] plant that which was desolate: I Jehovah have spoken, and I will do [it].

[37]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will yet for this be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it unto them; I will increase them with men like a flock.

[38]As the holy flock, as the flock of Jerusalem in her set feasts, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

37 The hand of Jehovah was upon me, and Jehovah carried me out in the Spirit, and set me down in the midst of a valley; and it was full of bones.

[2]And he caused me to pass by them round about; and behold, there were very many in the open valley; and behold, they were very dry.

[3]And he said unto me, Son of man, Shall these bones live? And I said, Lord Jehovah, thou knowest.

[4]And he said unto me, Prophesy over these bones, and say unto them, Ye dry bones, hear the word of Jehovah.

[5]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah unto these bones: Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live.

[6]And I will put sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live: and ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

[7]And I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a rustling, and the bones came together, bone to its bone.

[8]And I looked, and behold, sinews and flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them over; but there was no breath in them.

[9]And he said unto me, Prophesy unto the wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

[10]And I prophesied as he had commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

[11]And he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost: we are cut off!

[12]Therefore prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people, and bring you into the land of Israel.

[13]And ye shall know that I [am] Jehovah, when I have opened your graves, and have caused you to come up out of your graves, O my people.

[14]And I will put my Spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that I Jehovah have spoken, and have done [it], saith Jehovah.

[15]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[16]And thou, son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel, his companions. And take another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim and all the house of Israel, his companions.

[17]And join them one to another into one stick; and they shall become one in thy hand.

[18]And when the children of my people speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not declare unto us what thou meanest by these?

[19]say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions, and will put them with this, with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in my hand.

[20]And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thy hand before their eyes.

21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, whither they are gone, and will gather them from every side, and bring them into their own land:

22 and I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all.

23 And they shall not defile themselves any more with their idols, or with their detestable things, or with any of their transgressions; and I will save them out of all their dwelling-places wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And David my servant shall be king over them; and they all shall have one shepherd: and they shall walk in mine ordinances, and keep my statutes, and do them.

25 And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children's children for ever: and David my servant shall be their prince for ever.

26 And I will make a covenant of peace with them: it shall be an everlasting covenant with them; and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for ever.

27 And my tabernacle shall be over them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 And the nations shall know that I Jehovah do hallow Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for ever.

38 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against Gog, the land of Magog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal, and prophesy against him,

3 and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal.

4 And I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them thoroughly equipped, a great assemblage with targets and shields, all of them handling swords:

5 Persia, Cush, and Phut with them, all of them with shield and helmet;

6 Gomer, and all his bands; the house of Togarmah from the uttermost north, and all his bands; -- many peoples with thee.

7 Be thou prepared, and prepare for thyself thou, and all thine assemblage that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

[8]After many days shalt thou be visited; at the end of years thou shalt come into the land brought back from the sword [and] gathered out of many peoples, upon the mountains of Israel which have been a perpetual waste: but it is brought forth out from the peoples, and they shall all of them be dwelling in safety.

[9]And thou shalt ascend, thou shalt come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy bands, and many peoples with thee.

[10]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: It shall even come to pass in that day that things shall come into thy mind, and thou shalt think an evil thought;

[11]and thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages; I will come to them that are in quiet, that dwell in safety, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates,

[12]to seize a spoil, and to take a prey; to turn thy hand against the waste places that are [now] inhabited, and against a people gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the middle of the land.

[13]Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to seize a spoil? hast thou gathered thine assemblage to take a prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take cattle and goods, to seize a great spoil?

[14]Therefore prophesy, son of man, and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In that day when my people Israel dwelleth in safety, shalt thou not know [it]?

[15]And thou shalt come from thy place out of the uttermost north, thou and many peoples with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great assemblage and a mighty army.

[16]And thou shalt come up against my people Israel as a cloud to cover the land -- it shall be at the end of days -- and I will bring thee against my land, that the nations may know me, when I shall be hallowed in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

[17]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Art thou not he of whom I have spoken in old time through my servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days, for [many] years, that I would bring thee against them?

[18]And it shall come to pass in that day, in the day when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah, [that] my fury shall come up in my face;

[19]for in my jealousy, in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Verily in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel;

[20]so that the fish of the sea, and the fowl of the heavens, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things which creep upon the earth, and all mankind that are upon the face of the earth shall shake at my presence; and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

21 And I will call for a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord Jehovah: every man's sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will enter into judgment with him with pestilence and with blood; and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many peoples that are with him, overflowing rain and great hailstones, fire and brimstone.

23 And I will magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

39 And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal;

2 and I will turn thee back, and lead thee, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost north, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel.

3 And I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy bands, and the peoples that are with thee: I have given thee to be meat for the birds of prey of every wing, and to the beasts of the field.

5 Thou shalt fall on the open field; for I have spoken [it], saith the Lord Jehovah.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell at ease in the isles: and they shall know that I [am] Jehovah.

7 And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; and I will not suffer my holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I [am] Jehovah, the Holy One in Israel.

8 Behold, it cometh, and shall be done, saith the Lord Jehovah. This is the day whereof I have spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall kindle fire, and burn weapons, and shields, and targets, bows, and arrows, and hand-staves, and spears: and they shall make fires with them seven years.

10 And no wood shall be taken out of the field, neither cut down out of the forests; for they shall make fire with the weapons; and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and plunder those that plundered them, saith the Lord Jehovah.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] I will give unto Gog a place there for burial in Israel, the valley of the passers-by to the east of the sea; and it shall stop [the way] of the passers-by; and there shall they bury Gog and all the multitude; and they shall call it, Valley of Hamon-Gog.

12 And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying them, that they may cleanse the land;

[13]and all the people of the land shall bury [them]; and it shall be to them for renown in the day that I shall be glorified, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[14]And they shall sever out men of continual employment to go through the land, who, with the passers-by, shall bury those that remain upon the face of the land, to cleanse it: at the end of seven months shall they make a search.

[15]And the passers-by shall pass through the land, and when [any] seeth a man's bone, he shall set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the Valley of Hamon-Gog.

[16]And also the name of the city shall be Hamonah. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

[17]And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Speak unto the birds of every wing, and to every beast of the field, Gather yourselves together and come, assemble yourselves on every side to my sacrifice which I sacrifice for you, a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

[18]Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, [and] of bullocks, all of them fatted beasts of Bashan.

[19]And ye shall eat fat till ye are full, and drink blood till ye are drunken, of my sacrifice which I sacrifice for you.

[20]And ye shall be filled at my table with horses and charioteers, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[21]And I will set my glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see my judgment which I have executed, and my hand which I have laid upon them.

[22]And the house of Israel shall know that I [am] Jehovah their God from that day and forward.

[23]And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they were unfaithful against me; and I hid my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies, so that they fell all of them by the sword.

[24]According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions I did unto them, and I hid my face from them.

[25]Therefore, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel, and will be jealous for my holy name:

[26]and they shall bear their confusion, and all their unfaithfulness in which they have acted unfaithfully against me, when they shall dwell safely in their land, and none shall make them afraid;

[27]when I have brought them again from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am hallowed in them in the sight of many nations.

[28]And they shall know that I [am] Jehovah their God, in that I caused them to be led into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them any more there.

[29]And I will not hide my face any more from them, for I shall have poured out my Spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah.

40 In the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, on the tenth of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, on that same day the hand of Jehovah was upon me, and he brought me thither.

[2]In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me upon a very high mountain; and upon it was as the building of a city, on the south.

[3]And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a flax-cord in his hand, and a measuring-reed; and he stood in the gate.

[4]And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thy heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for in order that it might be shewn unto thee art thou brought hither. Declare to the house of Israel all that thou seest.

[5]And behold, there was a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring-reed of six cubits, [each] of one cubit and a hand breadth. And he measured the breadth of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed.

[6]And he came to the gate which looked toward the east, and went up its steps; and he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad; and the other threshold one reed broad.

[7]And [each] chamber was one reed long and one reed broad; and between the chambers were five cubits; and the threshold of the gate, beside the porch of the gate within, was one reed.

[8]And he measured the porch of the gate within, one reed.

[9]And he measured the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was inward.

[10]And the chambers of the gate which was toward the east were three on this side and three on that side: they three were of one measure; and the posts on this side and on that side had one measure.

[11]And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate, ten cubits; [and] the length of the gate, thirteen cubits.

[12]And there was a border before the chambers of one cubit, and a border of one cubit on the other side; and the chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

[13]And he measured the gate from the roof of [one] chamber to the roof [of the other], a breadth of five and twenty cubits, entry opposite entry.

14 And he made posts, sixty cubits, and by the post was the court of the gate round about.

15 And from the front of the gate of the entrance unto the front of the porch of the inner gate were fifty cubits.

16 And there were closed windows to the chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the projections; and the windows round about were inward; and upon [each] post were palm-trees.

17 And he brought me into the outer court, and behold, there were cells, and a pavement made for the court round about: thirty cells were upon the pavement.

18 And the pavement was by the side of the gates, answering to the length of the gates, [namely] the lower pavement.

19 And he measured the breadth from the front of the lower gate unto the front of the inner court outside, a hundred cubits eastward and northward.

20 And the gate of the outer court, that looked toward the north, he measured its length and its breadth.

21 And its chambers were three on this side and three on that side; and its posts and its projections were according to the measure of the first gate: its length was fifty cubits, and breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And its windows, and its projections, and its palm-trees were according to the measure of the gate that looked toward the east; and they went up to it by seven steps; and the projections thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was opposite to the gate toward the north, and toward the east; and he measured from gate to gate a hundred cubits.

24 And he brought me toward the south: and behold, there was a gate toward the south; and he measured its posts and its projections according to these measures.

25 And there were windows to it and to its projections round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it; and its projections were before them; and it had palm-trees, one on this side and one on that side, upon its posts.

27 And there was a gate to the inner court toward the south; and he measured from gate to gate toward the south, a hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me into the inner court by the south gate; and he measured the south gate according to these measures:

29 and its chambers, and its posts, and its projections, according to these measures; and there were windows to it and to its projections round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty-five cubits.

[30]And there were projections round about, twenty-five cubits long, and five cubits broad.

[31]And its projections were toward the outer court; and there were palm-trees upon its posts: and its ascent was [by] eight steps.

[32]And he brought me into the inner court toward the east; and he measured the gate according to these measures:

[33]and its chambers, and its posts, and its projections, according to these measures; and there were windows to it and to its projections round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty-five cubits.

[34]And its projections were toward the outer court; and there were palm-trees upon its posts on this side and on that side: and its ascent was [by] eight steps.

[35]And he brought me to the north gate, and he measured [it] according to these measures:

[36]its chambers, its posts, and its projections; and there were windows to it round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty-five cubits.

[37]And its posts were toward the outer court; and there were palm-trees upon its posts, on this side and on that side: and its ascent was [by] eight steps.

[38]And there was a cell and its entry by the posts of the gates; there they rinsed the burnt-offering.

[39]And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt-offering and the sin-offering and the trespass-offering.

[40]And at the side without, at the ascent to the entry of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables:

[41]four tables on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate, -- eight tables, whereon they slew [the sacrifice],

[42]-- and at the ascent, four tables of hewn stone, of a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high; whereon also they laid the instruments with which they slew the burnt-offering and the sacrifice.

[43]And the double hooks of a hand breadth were fastened round about within; and upon the tables [they put] the flesh of the offering.

[44]And outside the inner gate were two cells in the inner court, one at the side of the north gate, and its front towards the south; the other was at the side of the south gate, the front towards the north.

[45]And he said unto me, This cell whose front is towards the south is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the house.

[46]And the cell whose front is toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar. These are the sons of Zadok, those who, from among the sons of Levi, approach unto Jehovah to minister unto him.

47 And he measured the court, the length a hundred cubits, and the breadth a hundred cubits, four square: and the altar was before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the house; and he measured the post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side; and the breadth of the gate, three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, even by the steps whereby they went up to it; and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and one on that side.

41 And he brought me to the temple; and he measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, the breadth of the tent.

2 And the breadth of the entry was ten cubits, and the sides of the entry were five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side; and he measured its length, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits.

3 And he went inwards, and measured the post of the entry, two cubits; and the entry, six cubits; and the breadth of the entry, seven cubits.

4 And he measured its length, twenty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy [place].

5 And he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of the side-chambers, four cubits, round about the house on every side.

6 And the side-chambers were three, chamber over chamber, and thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which the house had for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold; but they had not hold in the wall of the house.

7 And for the side-chambers there was an enlarging, and it went round about [the house] increasing upward; for the surrounding of the house increased upward round about the house; therefore the house had width upward, and so ascended [from] the lower [story] to the upper, by the middle one.

8 And I saw that the house had an elevation round about: the foundations of the side-chambers, a full reed, six cubits to the joint.

9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers without, was five cubits, as also what was left free along the building of the side-chambers that pertained to the house.

10 And between the cells [and the house] was a width of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

11 And the entry of the side-chambers was toward what was left free, one entry toward the north, and one entry toward the south; and the width of the space left free was five cubits round about.

12 And the building that was before the separate place at the end toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about; and its length ninety cubits.

13 And he measured the house: the length a hundred cubits; and the separate place, and the building, and its walls, the length a hundred cubits;

14 and the breadth of the front of the house, and of the separate places toward the east, a hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building before the separate place, which was at the back of it, with its galleries on the one side and on the other side, a hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court.

16 The thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries round about the three of them (opposite the thresholds it was wainscoted with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered),

17 [and] above, over the entry, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about, within and without, [all was] by measure.

18 And it was made with cherubim and palm-trees, and a palm-tree was between cherub and cherub; and the cherub had two faces:

19 the face of a man was toward the palm-tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other side: [so] was it made upon all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the entry were the cherubim and the palm-trees made, and [on] the wall of the temple.

21 As for the temple, the door-posts were squared; and the front of the sanctuary had the same appearance.

22 The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and its length two cubits; and its corners, and its length, and its walls were of wood. And he said unto me, This is the table which is before Jehovah.

23 And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves, two turning-leaves: two for the one door, and two leaves for the other.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm-trees, as there were made upon the walls; and there was a wooden portal in front of the porch without,

26 and closed windows and palm-trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch and the side chambers of the house and the portals.

42 And he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north; and he brought me to the cells that were over against the separate place and which were over against the building, toward the north,

[2]before the length of the hundred cubits: the entry was on the north, and the breadth was fifty cubits,

[3]over against the twenty [cubits] that pertained to the inner court, and over against the pavement that pertained to the outer court; there was gallery against gallery in the third [story];

[4]and before the cells was a walk of ten cubits in breadth, [and] a way of a hundred cubits inward; and their entries were toward the north.

[5]And the upper cells, because the galleries encroached on them, were shorter than the lower, and than the middle-most of the building.

[6]For they were in three [stories], but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts; therefore [the third story] was straitened more than the lowest and the middle-most from the ground.

[7]And the wall that was without, answering to the cells, toward the outer court in the front of the cells, its length was fifty cubits:

[8]for the length of the cells that were against the outer court was fifty cubits; but behold, before the temple it was a hundred cubits.

[9]And under these cells was the entry from the east, as one goeth into them from the outer court.

[10]In the breadth of the wall of the court toward the south, before the separate place, and before the building, were cells;

[11]and a passage before them, like the appearance of the cells that were toward the north, according to their length, according to their breadth and all their goings out, and according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

[12]And according to the doors of the cells that were toward the south there was a door at the head of the way, the way directly before the corresponding wall toward the east as one entereth into them.

[13]And he said unto me, The north cells [and] the south cells, which are before the separate place, they are holy cells, where the priests that come near unto Jehovah shall eat the most holy things; there shall they lay the most holy things, both the oblation and the sin-offering and the trespass-offering: for the place is holy.

[14]When the priests enter in, they shall not go forth from the sanctuary into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister, for they are holy; and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which is for the people.

[15]And when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose front was toward the east, and measured [the enclosure] round about.

16 He measured the east side with the measuring-reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed round about.

17 He measured the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed round about.

18 He measured the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed.

19 He turned about to the west side, [and] measured five hundred reeds with the measuring-reed.

20 He measured it on the four sides; it had a wall round about, five hundred long, and five hundred broad, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

43 And he brought me unto the gate, the gate which looked toward the east.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east; and his voice was like the voice of many waters; and the earth was lit up with his glory.

3 And the appearance of the vision that I saw was according to the vision that I had seen when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face.

4 And the glory of Jehovah came into the house by the way of the gate whose front was toward the east.

5 And the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of Jehovah filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and a man was standing by me.

7 And he said unto me, Son of man, [this is] the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever; and the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, they nor their kings, with their fornication, and with the carcases of their kings [in] their high places,

8 in that they set their threshold by my threshold, and their post by my post, and [there was only] a wall between me and them, and they defiled my holy name with their abominations which they committed; and I consumed them in mine anger.

9 Now let them put away their fornication, and the carcases of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 Thou, son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be confounded at their iniquities; and let them measure the pattern.

11 And if they be confounded at all that they have done, make known to them the form of the house, and its fashion, and its goings out, and its comings in, and all its forms, and all its statutes, yea, all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof; and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the statutes thereof, and do them.

12This is the law of the house: Upon the top of the mountain all its border round about is most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13And these are the measures of the altar in cubits: the cubit is a cubit and a hand breadth. The bottom was a cubit [in height] and the breadth a cubit, and its border on the edge thereof round about, one span: and this was the base of the altar.

14And from the bottom upon the ground to the lower settle was two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the small settle to the great settle, four cubits, and the breadth a cubit.

15And the upper altar was four cubits; and from the hearth of [God] and upward were four horns.

16And the hearth of [God] was twelve [cubits] long, by twelve broad, square in the four sides thereof.

17And the settle was fourteen [cubits] long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it, half a cubit; and the bottom thereof a cubit round about: and its steps looked toward the east.

18And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer up burnt-offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19And thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that are of the seed of Zadok, who come near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord Jehovah, a young bullock for a sin-offering.

20And thou shalt take of its blood, and put it on the four horns thereof, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: so shalt thou purge and make atonement for it.

21And thou shalt take the bullock of the sin-offering, and it shall be burned in the appointed place of the house, outside the sanctuary.

22And on the second day thou shalt present a he-goat without blemish for a sin-offering; and they shall purge the altar, as they purged it with the bullock.

23When thou hast ended purging it, thou shalt present a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish;

24and thou shalt present them before Jehovah; and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto Jehovah.

25Seven days shalt thou offer daily a goat for a sin-offering; they shall also offer a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

26Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it, and consecrate it.

27And when these days are ended, it shall be that upon the eighth day and onwards the priests shall offer your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your peace-offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord Jehovah.

44 And he brought me back toward the outer gate of the sanctuary which looked toward the east; and it was shut.

2 And Jehovah said unto me, This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened, and no one shall enter in by it: for Jehovah, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; and it shall be shut.

3 As for the prince, he, the prince, shall sit in it to eat bread before Jehovah: he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 And he brought me the way of the north gate before the house; and I beheld, and lo, the glory of Jehovah filled the house of Jehovah: and I fell upon my face.

5 And Jehovah said unto me, Son of man, apply thy heart, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the statutes of the house of Jehovah, and all the laws thereof; and mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary;

6 and say to the rebellious, to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Let it suffice you of all your abominations, O house of Israel,

7 in that ye have brought strangers, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to profane it, [even] my house, when ye offered my bread, the fat and the blood; and they have broken my covenant besides all your abominations.

8 And ye have not kept the charge of my holy things, but have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves.

9 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: No stranger, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.

10 But the Levites who went away far from me, when Israel went astray, going astray from me after their idols, they shall even bear their iniquity;

11 but they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and doing the service of the house: they shall slaughter the burnt-offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them.

12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and were unto the house of Israel a stumbling-block of iniquity; therefore have I lifted up my hand against them, saith the Lord Jehovah, that they shall bear their iniquity.

13 And they shall not draw near unto me, to do the office of a priest unto me, nor to draw near to any of my holy things, [even] to the most holy; but they shall bear their confusion, and their abominations which they have committed.

[14]And I will make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

[15]But the priests, the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall approach unto me to minister unto me, and they shall stand before me to present unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[16]They shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall approach unto my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge.

[17]And it shall come to pass when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, when they minister in the gates of the inner court, and towards the house.

[18]They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird on anything that causeth sweat.

[19]And when they go forth into the outer court, into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy cells; and they shall put on other garments, that they may not hallow the people with their garments.

[20]Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long: they shall duly poll their heads.

[21]Neither shall any priest drink wine when they enter into the inner court.

[22]And they shall not take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away; but they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of a priest.

[23]And they shall teach my people [the difference] between holy and profane, and cause them to discern between unclean and clean.

[24]And in controversy they shall stand to judge: they shall judge it according to my judgments; and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my solemnities; and they shall hallow my sabbaths.

[25]And they shall come at no dead person to become unclean; but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may become unclean.

[26]And after he is cleansed, they shall count unto him seven days.

[27]And on the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, unto the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall present his sin-offering, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[28]And it shall be unto them for an inheritance; I am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession.

29 They shall eat the oblation and the sin-offering and the trespass-offering; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs.

30 And the first of all the first-fruits of every [kind], and every heave-offering of every [kind], of all your heave-offerings, shall be for the priests; ye shall also give unto the priest the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest on thy house.

31 The priests shall not eat of anything that dieth of itself, or of that which is torn, whether of fowl or of beast.

45 And when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer a heave-offering unto Jehovah, a holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand [cubits], and the breadth ten thousand. This shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there shall be for the sanctuary five hundred [reeds] by five hundred, square round about; and fifty cubits round about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand; and in it shall be the sanctuary, the holy of holies.

4 This is the holy [portion] of the land; it shall be for the priests who do the service of the sanctuary, who draw near to serve Jehovah, and it shall be a place for their houses, and a holy place for the sanctuary.

5 And [a space of] five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall the Levites, who do the service of the house, have for themselves, for a possession, for their habitations.

6 And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand in breadth, and five and twenty thousand in length, alongside of the holy heave-offering: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And the prince shall have [his portion] on the one side and on the other side of the holy heave-offering and of the possession of the city, over against the holy heave-offering, and over against the possession of the city, from the west side westward, and from the east side eastward; and in length answering to one of the portions [of the tribes] from the west border unto the east border.

8 As land shall it be his for a possession in Israel; and my princes shall no more oppress my people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Let it suffice you, princes of Israel! Put away violence and spoil, and execute judgment and justice; take off your exactions from my people, saith the Lord Jehovah.

10 Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath.

[11]The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, so that the bath may contain the tenth part of a homer, and the ephah the tenth part of a homer: the measure thereof shall be according to the homer.

[12]And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs; twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh.

[13]This is the heave-offering which ye shall offer: the sixth part of an ephah out of a homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah out of a homer of barley;

[14]and the set portion of oil, by the bath of oil, the tenth part of a bath out of a cor, [which is] a homer of ten baths, for ten baths are a homer;

[15]and one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, from the well-watered pastures of Israel; -- for an oblation, and for a burnt-offering, and for peace-offerings, to make atonement for them, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[16]All the people of the land shall be [held] to this heave-offering for the prince in Israel.

[17]And it shall be the prince's part [to supply] the burnt-offerings, and the oblation, and the drink-offering, at the feasts, and at the new moons, and on the sabbaths, in all the solemnities of the house of Israel: it is he that shall prepare the sin-offering, and the oblation, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.

[18]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In the first [month], on the first of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock, without blemish, and thou shalt purge the sanctuary.

[19]And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

[20]So thou shalt do also on the seventh of the month for every one that erreth, and for the simple; and ye shall make atonement for the house.

[21]In the first [month], on the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days: unleavened bread shall be eaten.

[22]And upon that day shall the prince offer for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin-offering.

[23]And the seven days of the feast he shall offer a burnt-offering to Jehovah, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily for the seven days; and a he-goat daily for a sin-offering.

[24]And he shall offer an oblation of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram; and oil, a hin for an ephah.

[25]In the seventh [month], on the fifteenth day of the month, at the feast, shall he do the like seven days, according to the sin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the oblation, and according to the oil.

46 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working-days; but on the sabbath-day it shall be opened, and on the day of the new moon it shall be opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of [that] gate from without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall offer his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate, and shall go forth: but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.

3 And the people of the land shall worship at the door of this gate before Jehovah on the sabbaths and on the new moons.

4 And the burnt-offering that the prince shall present unto Jehovah on the sabbath-day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 And the oblation shall be an ephah for a ram, and the oblation for the lambs as he shall be able to give; and oil, a hin for an ephah.

6 And on the day of the new moon, a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall offer an oblation, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according to what his hand may attain unto; and oil, a hin for an ephah.

8 And when the prince cometh in, he shall come in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go out by the way thereof.

9 And when the people of the land come in before Jehovah in the set feasts, he that cometh in by the way of the north gate to worship shall go out by the way of the south gate; and he that cometh in by the way of the south gate shall go out by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate by which he came in, but shall go out straight before him.

10 And the prince shall come in in the midst of them, when they come in; and when they go out, they shall go out [together].

11 And on the feast-days, and in the solemnities, the oblation shall be an ephah for a bullock and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as he is able to give; and oil, a hin for an ephah.

12 And when the prince shall offer a voluntary burnt-offering or voluntary peace-offerings unto Jehovah, the gate that looketh toward the east shall be opened for him and he shall offer his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings as he did on the sabbath-day, and he shall go out again, and the gate shall be shut after he hath gone out.

13 And thou shalt daily offer a burnt-offering unto Jehovah, of a yearling-lamb without blemish: thou shalt prepare it morning by morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare an oblation with it every morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and of oil the third part of a hin, to moisten the fine flour: an oblation unto Jehovah continually by a perpetual ordinance.

15 They shall offer the lamb, and the oblation, and the oil, every morning for a continual burnt-offering.

16 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, it shall be that one's inheritance, for his sons: it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, it shall be his until the year of liberty; and it shall return to the prince: to his sons alone shall his inheritance remain.

18 And the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, to thrust them by oppression out of their possession: he shall give his sons an inheritance out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every one from his possession.

19 Then he brought me through the passage which was at the side of the gate, into the holy cells which were for the priests, which looked toward the north; and behold, a place was there at the end westward.

20 And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass-offering, and the sin-offering, [and] where they shall bake the oblation, that they bring them not out into the outer court, so as to hallow the people.

21 And he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were enclosed courts, forty [cubits] long and thirty broad: these four corner courts were of one measure.

23 And there was a row [of building] round about in them, round about those four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about.

24 And he said unto me, These are the boiling-houses, where those who do the service of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

47 And he brought me back to the door of the house; and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward: for the front of the house was eastward. And the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, south of the altar.

2 And he brought me out by the way of the gate northward, and led me round outside unto the outer gate towards [the gate] that looketh eastward; and behold, waters ran out on the right side.

3 When the man went forth eastward, a line was in his hand; and he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters: the waters were to the ankles.

[4]And he measured a thousand [cubits], and caused me to pass through the waters: the waters were to the knees. And he measured a thousand and caused me to pass through: the waters were to the loins.

[5]And he measured a thousand: it was a river that I could not pass through, for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through.

[6]And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen [this]? And he led me, and brought me back to the bank of the river.

[7]When I returned, behold, on the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other.

[8]And he said unto me, These waters issue out toward the east district, and go down into the plain, and go into the sea; when they are brought forth into the sea, the waters [thereof] shall be healed.

[9]And it shall come to pass that every living thing which moveth, whithersoever the double river shall come, shall live. And there shall be a very great multitude of fish; for these waters shall come thither, and [the waters of the sea] shall be healed; and everything shall live whither the river cometh.

[10]And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand upon it; from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim shall be [a place] to spread forth nets: their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many.

[11]But its marshes and its pools shall not be healed; they shall be given up to salt.

[12]And by the river, upon its bank, on the one side and on the other, shall grow all trees for food, whose leaf shall not fade, nor their fruit fail: it shall bring forth new fruit every month, for its waters issue out of the sanctuary; and the fruit thereof shall be for food, and the leaf thereof for medicine.

[13]Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: This shall be the border whereby ye shall allot the land as inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph [shall have two] portions.

[14]And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another, [the land] concerning which I lifted up my hand to give it unto your fathers; and this land shall fall to you for inheritance.

[15]And this shall be the border of the land: toward the north side, from the great sea, the way of Hethlon, as one goeth to Zedad, [16]Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; Hazer-hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran.

[17]And the border from the sea shall be Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus, and the north northward, and the border of Hamath: this is the north side.

[18]-- And on the east side ye shall measure between Hauran and Damascus, and Gilead and the land of Israel [by] the Jordan, from the border unto the east sea: this is the east side.

19 -- And the south side southward, from Tamar to the waters of Meribah-Kadesh, by the torrent, unto the great sea: this is the south side southward.

20 -- And the west side shall be the great sea from the border, as far as over against the entering into Hamath: this is the west side.

21 And ye shall divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And it shall come to pass that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the strangers that sojourn among you, who shall beget children among you; and they shall be unto you as the home-born among the children of Israel: with you shall they draw by lot inheritance among the tribes of Israel.

23 And it shall come to pass that in the tribe in which the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give [him] his inheritance, saith the Lord Jehovah.

48 And these are the names of the tribes: From the north end along the way of Hethlon, as one entereth into Hamath, Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus northward unto near Hamath -- the east and west side [belonging] to him -- shall Dan have one [portion].

2 And by the border of Dan, from the east side unto the west side, Asher one.

3 And by the border of Asher, from the east side even unto the west side, Naphtali one.

4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the east side unto the west side, Manasseh one.

5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the east side unto the west side, Ephraim one.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even unto the west side, Reuben one.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the east side unto the west side, Judah one.

8 And by the border of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be the heave-offering that ye shall offer, five and twenty thousand [cubits] in breadth, and in length as one of the parts from the east side unto the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9 The heave-offering that ye shall offer unto Jehovah shall be five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them, for the priests, shall be the holy heave-offering, toward the north five and twenty thousand, and toward the west the breadth ten thousand, and toward the east the breadth ten thousand, and toward the south the length five and twenty thousand: and the sanctuary of Jehovah shall be in the midst of it.

[11]It shall be] for the priests that are hallowed of the sons of Zadok, who kept my charge and went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

[12]And this offering heaved from the heave-offering of the land shall be unto them a thing most holy, by the border of the Levites.

[13]And answering to the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: the whole length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

[14]And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the first-fruits of the land: for it is holy unto Jehovah.

[15]And the five thousand that are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be a common [place] for the city, for dwellings and for suburbs: and the city shall be in the midst of it.

[16]And these shall be the measures thereof: the north side four thousand and five hundred [cubits], and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.

[17]And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the north two hundred and fifty [cubits], and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.

[18]And the residue in length, alongside the holy heave-offering, shall be ten thousand eastward and ten thousand westward: it shall be alongside the holy heave-offering; and the increase thereof shall be for the support of them that serve the city.

[19]And they that serve the city shall serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.

[20]The whole heave-offering shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand; ye shall offer the holy heave-offering foursquare with the possession of the city.

[21]And the rest shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy heave-offering and of the possession of the city, in front of the five and twenty thousand of the heave-offering toward the east border, and westward in front of the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, answering to the [other] portions: it shall be for the prince; and the holy heave-offering and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst of it.

[22]And from the possession of the Levites and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which shall be the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

[23]And as for the rest of the tribes: from the east side unto the west side, Benjamin one [portion].

[24]And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side, Simeon one.

[25]And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side, Issachar one.

[26]And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side, Zebulun one.

[27]And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side, Gad one.

[28]And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be from Tamar [to] the waters of Meribah-Kadesh, by the torrent, unto the great sea.

[29]This is the land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[30]And these are the goings out of the city. On the north side, four thousand and five hundred [cubits] by measure.

[31]And the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel: three gates northward: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; the gate of Levi, one.

[32]And at the east side four thousand and five hundred, and three gates: the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one.

[33]And at the south side four thousand and five hundred [cubits] by measure, and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one.

[34]At the west side four thousand and five hundred, [and] their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one.

[35]Round about it was eighteen thousand [cubits]; and the name of the city from that day, Jehovah is there.

Daniel

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, and a part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar, to the house of his god; and he brought the vessels into the treasure-house of his god.

3 And the king spoke unto Ashpenaz the chief of his eunuchs, that he should bring of the children of Israel, both of the royal seed and of the nobles,

4 youths in whom was no blemish, and of goodly countenance, and skilful in all wisdom, and acquainted with knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the learning and the language of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed unto them a daily provision of the king's delicate food, and of the wine that he drank, to nourish them three years, that at the end thereof they might stand before the king.

6 Now among these were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

7 And the prince of the eunuchs gave them names: to Daniel he gave [the name] Belteshazzar, and to Hananiah, Shadrach, and to Mishael, Meshach, and to Azariah, Abed-nego.

8 And Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not pollute himself with the king's delicate food, nor with the wine which he drank; and he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not have to pollute himself.

9 And God granted Daniel favour and mercy before the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king who hath appointed your food and your drink; for why should he see your faces worse liking than the youths who are of your age? and ye would endanger my head with the king.

11 And Daniel said to the steward, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah,

12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink;

13 then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of the king's delicate food: and as thou shalt see, deal with thy servants.

14 And he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer and were fatter in flesh than all the youths that ate of the king's delicate food.

16 So the steward took away their delicate food, and the wine that they should drink; and gave them pulse.

17 As for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

18 And at the end of the days that the king had said he should bring them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king spoke with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: and they stood before the king.

20 And in all matters of judicious wisdom, as to which the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the scribes [and] magicians that were in all his realm.

21 And Daniel continued unto the first year of king Cyrus.

2 And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep went from him.

2 And the king commanded to call the scribes, and the magicians, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, to shew the king his dreams; and they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream.

4 And the Chaldeans spoke to the king in Aramaic, O king, live for ever! tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.

5 The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The command is gone forth from me: If ye do not make known unto me the dream, and its interpretation, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill.

6 But if ye shew the dream and its interpretation, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour; therefore shew me the dream and its interpretation.

7 They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.

8 The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would gain time, because ye see the word is gone forth from me;

9 but if ye do not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you; for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me its interpretation.

[10]The Chaldeans answered before the king and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter; therefore there is no king, however great and powerful, that hath asked such a thing of any scribe, or magician, or Chaldean.

[11]For the thing that the king demandeth is extraordinary, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

[12]For this cause the king was irritated and very wroth, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

[13]And the decree went forth that the wise men were to be slain; and they sought Daniel and his companions to slay them.

[14]Then Daniel answered with counsel and prudence to Arioch the chief of the king's bodyguard, who had gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon:

[15]he answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Why is the decree so rigorous from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

[16]And Daniel went in, and requested of the king that he would give him time, that he might shew the king the interpretation.

[17]Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions;

[18]that they would desire mercies of the God of the heavens concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

[19]Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a night vision. Then Daniel blessed the God of the heavens.

[20]Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever; For wisdom and might are his.

[21]And it is he that changeth times and seasons; He deposeth kings, and setteth up kings; He giveth wisdom to the wise, And knowledge to them that know understanding.

[22]It is he that revealeth the deep and secret things; He knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him.

[23]I thank thee, and I praise thee, O God of my fathers, Who hast given me wisdom and might, And hast made known unto me already what we desired of thee; For thou hast made known unto us the king's matter.

[24]Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon; he went and said thus unto him: Destroy not the wise men of Babylon; bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

[25]Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him: I have found a man of the sons of the captivity of Judah that will make known unto the king the interpretation.

[26]The king answered and said unto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream that I have seen, and its interpretation?

[27]Daniel answered in the presence of the king and said, The secret that the king hath demanded cannot the wise men, the magicians, the scribes, the astrologers, shew unto the king;

[28]but there is a God in the heavens, who revealeth secrets, and maketh known to king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be at the end of days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed are these:

[29]-- as for thee, O king, thy thoughts arose upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter; and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass.

[30]And as for me, this secret is revealed to me, not by [any] wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation should be made known to the king, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.

[31]Thou, O king, sawest, and behold, a great image. This image was mighty and its brightness excellent; it stood before thee, and its appearance was terrible.

[32]This image's head was of fine gold, its breast and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of brass, [33]its legs of iron, its feet part of iron and part of clay.

[34]Thou sawest till a stone was cut out without hands; and it smote the image upon its feet of iron and clay, and broke them to pieces.

[35]Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold broken in pieces together, and they became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, and no place was found for them. And the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

[36]This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation of it before the king.

[37]Thou, O king, art a king of kings, unto whom the God of the heavens hath given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory;

[38]and wheresoever the children of men, the beasts of the field, and the fowl of the heavens dwell, he hath given them into thy hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art this head of gold.

[39]And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee; then another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

[40]And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth everything, and as iron that breaketh all these, so shall it break in pieces and bruise.

41 And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potter's clay, and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay.

42 And [as] the toes of the feet were part of iron and part of clay, the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly fragile.

43 And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron doth not mingle with clay.

44 And in the days of these kings shall the God of the heavens set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed; and the sovereignty thereof shall not be left to another people: it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, but itself shall stand for ever.

45 Forasmuch as thou sawest that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold, -- the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter. And the dream is certain, and the interpretation of it sure.

46 Then king Nebuchadnezzar fell on his face and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odours unto him.

47 The king answered Daniel and said, Of a truth it is that your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, because thou wast able to reveal this secret.

48 Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governors over all the wise men of Babylon.

49 And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego over the administration of the province of Babylon. And Daniel was in the gate of the king.

3 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was sixty cubits, [and] its breadth six cubits; he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 And Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the justices, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

3 Then the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the justices, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 And the herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, [O] peoples, nations, and languages,

[5]that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, pipe, lute, sambuca, psaltery, bagpipe, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up;

[6]and whosoever doth not fall down and worship shall that same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

[7]Therefore at that time when all the peoples heard the sound of the cornet, pipe, lute, sambuca, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages fell down [and] worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

[8]Whereupon at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and accused the Jews.

[9]They spoke and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live for ever!

[10]Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, pipe, lute, sambuca, psaltery, and bagpipe, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image;

[11]and [that] whosoever doth not fall down and worship, shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

[12]There are certain Jews whom thou hast appointed over the administration of the province of Babylon: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: these men, O king, regard thee not; they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set up.

[13]Then Nebuchadnezzar in rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then were these men brought before the king.

[14]Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said unto them, Is it of purpose, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image that I have set up?

[15]Now if ye be ready at the time that ye hear the sound of the cornet, pipe, lute, sambuca, psaltery, and bagpipe, and all kinds of music, to fall down and worship the image that I have made, [well]: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast that same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace: and who is the God that shall deliver you out of my hands?

[16]Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer thee in this matter.

[17]If it be [so], our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver [us] out of thy hand, O king.

[18]But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set up.

[19]Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. He spoke, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated.

[20]And he commanded the most mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

[21]Then these men were bound in their hosen, their tunics, and their cloaks, and their garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

[22]Forasmuch as the king's commandment was rigorous, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that had taken up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.

[23]And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

[24]Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonied, and rose up in haste; he spoke and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said to the king, True, O king.

[25]He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the appearance of the fourth is like a son of God.

[26]Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the opening of the burning fiery furnace; he spoke and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the Most High God, come forth, and come [hither]. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego came forth from the midst of the fire.

[27]And the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had had no power, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them.

[28]Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants who trusted in him, and who changed the king's word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God!

[29]Therefore I make a decree, that in every people, nation, and language, he who shall speak anything amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and his house shall be made a dunghill: because there is no other God that is able to deliver after this sort.

[30]Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego in the province of Babylon.

4Nebuchadnezzar the king unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied unto you.

[2]It hath seemed good unto me to declare the signs and wonders that the Most High God hath wrought toward me.

[3]How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

[4]I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace.

[5]I saw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head troubled me.

[6]And I made a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

[7]Then came in the scribes, the magicians, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers; and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation of it.

[8]But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name is Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and before him I told the dream:

[9]O Belteshazzar, master of the scribes, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret is too hard for thee, tell me the visions of my dream which I have seen, and the interpretation of it.

[10]Thus were the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and its height was great.

[11]The tree grew, and was strong, and its height reached unto the heavens, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth.

[12]Its leaves were beautiful, and its fruit abundant, and in it was food for all: the beasts of the field found shade under it, and the birds of the heavens dwelt in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it.

[13]I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and behold, a watcher and a holy one came down from the heavens;

[14]he cried aloud, and said thus: Hew down the tree, and cut off its branches, shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruit; let the beasts get away from under it, and the birds from its branches.

[15]Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be bathed with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth.

[16]Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven times pass over him.

[17]This sentence is by the decree of the watchers, and the decision by the word of the holy ones: that the living may know that the Most High ruleth over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

[18]This dream I, king Nebuchadnezzar, have seen; and thou, Belteshazzar, tell the interpretation, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

[19]Then Daniel, whose name is Belteshazzar, was astonied for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him. The king spoke and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, nor its interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and its interpretation to thine enemies!

[20]The tree that thou sawest, which grew and was strong, whose height reached unto the heavens, and the sight of it to all the earth;

[21]whose leaves were beautiful, and its fruit abundant, and in it was food for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and in whose branches the birds of the heavens had their habitation:

[22]it is thou, O king, who art grown and become strong; for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto the heavens, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

[23]And whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from the heavens, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be bathed with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him:

[24]this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which cometh upon my lord the king:

[25]They shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and thou shalt be bathed with the dew of heaven; and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know that the Most High ruleth over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

[26]And whereas it was commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree; thy kingdom shall remain unto thee, after that thou shalt know that the heavens do rule.

[27]Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

[28]All this came upon king Nebuchadnezzar.

[29]At the end of twelve months he was walking upon the royal palace of Babylon:

[30]the king spoke and said, Is not this great Babylon, that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty?

[31]While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from the heavens: King

Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken: The kingdom is departed from thee;

[32]and they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou know that the Most High ruleth over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

[33]The same hour was the word fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar; and he was driven from men, and ate grass as oxen; and his body was bathed with the dew of heaven, till his hair grew like eagles' [feathers], and his nails like birds' [claws].

[34]And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto the heavens, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

[35]And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing; and he doeth according to his will in the army of the heavens, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou?

[36]At the same time mine understanding returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my nobles sought me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added unto me.

[37]Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and honour the King of the heavens, all whose works are truth, and his paths judgment: and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

5Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his nobles, and drank wine before the thousand.

[2]Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels that Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king and his nobles, his wives and his concubines, might drink in them.

[3]Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his nobles, his wives and his concubines, drank in them.

[4]They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

[5]In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

[6]Then the king's countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, and the joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees smote one against another.

[7]The king cried aloud to bring in the magicians, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers. The king spoke and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

[8]Then came in all the king's wise men, but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation.

[9]Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his nobles were confounded.

[10]-- The queen, by reason of the words of the king and his nobles, came into the banquet-house. The queen spoke and said, O king, live for ever! let not thy thoughts trouble thee, neither let thy countenance be changed.

[11]There is a man in thy kingdom in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father, light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods was found in him; and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, [even] the king thy father, made him master of the scribes, magicians, Chaldeans, [and] astrologers;

[12]forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and shewing of hard sentences, and solving of problems, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

[13]Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spoke and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah?

[14]And I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and [that] light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

[15]And now the wise men, the magicians, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof; but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing.

[16]But I have heard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and solve problems. Now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

[17]Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; yet will I read the writing to the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

[18]O thou king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty;

[19]and for the greatness that he gave him, all peoples, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he exalted, and whom he would he humbled.

[20]But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit hardened unto presumption, he was deposed from the throne of his kingdom, and they took his glory from him;

[21]and he was driven from the sons of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was bathed with the dew of heaven; till he knew that the Most High God ruleth over the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will.

[22]And thou, Belshazzar, his son, hast not humbled thy heart, although thou knewest all this;

[23]but hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of the heavens; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy nobles, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know; and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified:

[24]then from before him was sent the part of the hand, and this writing hath been written.

[25]And this is the writing that is written: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.

[26]This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it;

[27]TEKEL, Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting;

[28]PERES, Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.

[29]Then Belshazzar commanded, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and [put] a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

[30]In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain.

[31]And Darius the Mede received the kingdom, [being] about sixty-two years old.

6It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom a hundred and twenty satraps, who should be in all the kingdom;

[2]and over these, three presidents -- of whom Daniel was one -- to whom these satraps should render account, and that the king should suffer no loss.

[3]Now this Daniel surpassed the presidents and the satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to appoint him over the whole realm.

[4]Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find a pretext against Daniel with respect to the kingdom; but they could not find any pretext or fault; inasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

[5]Then said these men, We shall not find any pretext against this Daniel, unless we find [it] against him touching the law of his God.

[6]Then these presidents and satraps came in a body to the king, and said thus unto him: King Darius, live for ever!

[7]All the presidents of the kingdom, the prefects, and the satraps, the counsellors, and the governors have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm decree, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, except of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

[8]Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which may not be revoked.

[9]Therefore king Darius signed the writing and the decree.

[10]And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and, his windows being open in his upper chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled on his knees three times a day, and prayed and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

[11]But those men came in a body, and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his God.

[12]Then they came near, and spoke before the king concerning the king's decree: Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask [anything] of any god or man within thirty days, except of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which may not be revoked.

[13]Then they answered and said before the king, That Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

[14]Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore distressed thereby, and set his heart on Daniel to save him; and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

[15]Then these men came in a body unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, That no decree nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.

[16]Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast [him] into the den of lions. The king spoke and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will save thee.

[17]And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his nobles, that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

[18]Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were concubines brought before him; and his sleep fled from him.

[19]Then the king arose with the light at break of day, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

[20]And when he came near unto the den, he cried with a mournful voice unto Daniel: the king spoke and said unto Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, hath thy God whom thou servest continually been able to save thee from the lions?

[21]Then Daniel spoke unto the king, O king, live for ever!

[22]My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me; forasmuch as before him innocence was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

[23]Thereupon was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God.

[24]And the king commanded, and they brought those men who had accused Daniel, and cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and broke all their bones in pieces ere they came to the bottom of the den.

[25]Then king Darius wrote unto all peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied unto you.

[26]I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom [that] which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end.

[27]He saveth and delivereth, and he worketh signs and wonders in the heavens and on the earth: who hath saved Daniel from the power of the lions.

[28]And this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

7 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel saw a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream; he told the sum of the matters.

[2]Daniel spoke and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heavens broke forth upon the great sea.

[3]And four great beasts came up from the sea, different one from another.

[4]The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till its wings were plucked; and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.

[5]And behold, another beast, a second, like unto a bear, and it raised up itself on one side; and [it had] three ribs in its mouth between its teeth; and they said thus unto it: Arise, devour much flesh.

[6]After this I saw, and behold, another, like a leopard, and it had four wings of a bird upon its back; and the beast had four heads; and dominion was given to it.

[7]After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and exceeding strong; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the rest with its feet; and it was different from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns.

[8]I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another, a little horn, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots; and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

[9]I beheld till thrones were set, and the Ancient of days did sit: his raiment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool; his throne was flames of fire, [and] its wheels burning fire.

[10]A stream of fire issued and came forth from before him; thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened.

[11]I beheld therefore, because of the voice of the great words that the horn spoke; I beheld till the beast was slain, and its body destroyed, and it was given up to be burned with fire.

[12]As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away; but their lives were prolonged for a season and a time.

[13]I saw in the night visions, and behold, there came with the clouds of heaven [one] like a son of man, and he came up even to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

[14]And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all peoples, nations, and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom [that] which shall not be destroyed.

[15]As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

[16]I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the certainty of all this. And he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things:

[17]These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, [that] shall arise out of the earth.

[18]But the saints of the most high [places] shall receive the kingdom, and they shall possess the kingdom for ever, even to the ages of ages.

[19]Then I desired to know the certainty concerning the fourth beast, which was different from them all, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and its nails of brass; which devoured, broke in pieces, and stamped the rest with its feet;

[20]and concerning the ten horns that were in its head, and the other that came up, and before which three fell:

even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth speaking great things, and whose look was more imposing than its fellows.

21 I beheld, and that horn made war with the saints, and prevailed over them;

22 until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most high [places]; and the appointed time arrived, and the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 He said thus: The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon the earth, which shall be different from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 And as to the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall arise ten kings; and another shall arise after them; and he shall be different from the former, and he shall subdue three kings.

25 And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most high [places], and think to change seasons and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and a half time.

26 And the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end.

27 But the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heavens, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most high [places]. His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him.

28 So far is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my thoughts much troubled me, and my countenance was changed in me; but I kept the matter in my heart.

8 In the third year of the reign of Belshazzar the king, a vision appeared unto me, [even] to me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first.

2 And I saw in the vision; and it came to pass, when I saw, that I was in the fortress of Shushan, which is in the province of Elam. And I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai.

3 And I lifted up mine eyes and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns; and the two horns were high; and one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward, and no beast could stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; and he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, a he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power.

[7]And I saw him come close to the ram, and he was enraged with him, and smote the ram, and broke his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him; and he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

[8]And the he-goat became exceeding great; but when he was become strong, the great horn was broken; and in its stead came up four notable ones toward the four winds of the heavens.

[9]And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which became exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the beauty [of the earth].

[10]And it became great, even to the host of heaven; and it cast down [some] of the host and of the stars to the ground, and trampled upon them.

[11](And he magnified [himself] even to the prince of the host, and from him the continual [sacrifice] was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

[12]And a time of trial was appointed unto the continual [sacrifice] by reason of transgression.) And it cast down the truth to the ground; and it practised and prospered.

[13]And I heard one saint speaking, and another saint said unto that one who spoke, How long shall be the vision of the continual [sacrifice] and of the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden down under foot?

[14]And he said unto me, Until two thousand and three hundred evenings [and] mornings: then shall the sanctuary be vindicated.

[15]And it came to pass, when I Daniel had seen the vision, I sought for the understanding of it, and behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man.

[16]And I heard a man's voice between [the banks of] the Ulai; and he called and said, Gabriel, make this [man] to understand the vision.

[17]And he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was afraid, and fell on my face; and he said unto me, Understand, son of man; for the vision is for the time of the end.

[18]Now, as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep stupor, with my face toward the ground. And he touched me, and set me up where I had stood.

[19]And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be at the end of the indignation: for at the set time the end shall be.

[20]The ram that thou sawest having the two horns: they are the kings of Media and Persia.

[21]And the rough goat is the king of Greece; and the great horn that was between his eyes is the first king.

[22]Now that being broken, whereas four stood up in its stead, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not with his power.

[23]And at the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors shall have come to the full, a king of bold countenance, and understanding riddles, shall stand up.

[24]And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; and he shall destroy marvellously, and shall prosper, and shall practise, and shall destroy the mighty ones, and the people of the saints.

[25]And through his cunning shall he cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he will magnify [himself] in his heart, and by prosperity will corrupt many; and he will stand up against the Prince of princes: but he shall be broken without hand.

[26]And the vision of the evening and the morning which hath been told is true; but close thou up the vision, for it is for many days [to come].

[27]And I Daniel fainted, and was sick [certain] days: then I rose up, and did the king's business. And I was astonished at the vision, but none understood [it].

9In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans,

[2]in the first year of his reign, I Daniel understood by the books that the number of the years, whereof the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishment of the desolations of Jerusalem, was seventy years.

[3]And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes;

[4]and I prayed unto Jehovah my God, and made my confession, and said, Alas Lord! the great and terrible [God], keeping covenant and loving-kindness with them that love him, and that keep his commandments:

[5]we have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from thy commandments and from thine ordinances.

[6]And we have not hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, who spoke in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

[7]Thine, O Lord, is the righteousness, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day, to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, in all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their unfaithfulness in which they have been unfaithful against thee.

[8]O Lord, unto us is confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

[9]With the Lord our God are mercies and pardons, for we have rebelled against him;

[10]and we have not hearkened unto the voice of Jehovah our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us through his servants the prophets.

[11]And all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside so as not to listen unto thy voice. And the curse hath been poured out upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God: for we have sinned against him.

[12]And he hath performed his words, which he spoke against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil; so that there hath not been done under the whole heaven as hath been done upon Jerusalem.

[13]As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us; yet we besought not Jehovah our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

[14]And Jehovah hath watched over the evil, and brought it upon us; for Jehovah our God is righteous in all his works which he hath done; and we have not hearkened unto his voice.

[15]-- And now, O Lord our God, who broughtest thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a strong hand, and hast made thee a name, as it is this day, -- we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

[16]Lord, according to all thy righteousnesses, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain; for because of our sins, and because of the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people [are become] a reproach to all round about us.

[17]And now, our God, hearken to the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.

[18]Incline thine ear, O my God, and hear; open thine eyes and behold our desolations, and the city that is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee because of our righteousnesses, but because of thy manifold mercies.

[19]Lord, hear! Lord, forgive! Lord, hearken and do! defer not, for thine own sake, O my God! for thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

[20]And whilst I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before Jehovah my God for the holy mountain of my God;

[21]whilst I was yet speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, flying swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed [me], and talked with me, and said, Daniel, I am now come forth to make thee skilful of understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the word went forth, and I am come to declare [it]; for thou art one greatly beloved. Therefore consider the word, and have understanding in the vision:

24 Seventy weeks are apportioned out upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to close the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make expiation for iniquity, and to bring in the righteousness of the ages, and to seal the vision and prophet, and to anoint the holy of holies.

25 Know therefore and understand: From the going forth of the word to restore and to build Jerusalem unto Messiah, the Prince, are seven weeks, and sixty-two weeks. The street and the moat shall be built again, even in troublous times.

26 And after the sixty-two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, and shall have nothing; and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with an overflow, and unto the end, war, -- the desolations determined.

27 And he shall confirm a covenant with the many [for] one week; and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and because of the protection of abominations [there shall be] a desolator, even until that the consumption and what is determined shall be poured out upon the desolate.

10 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the thing is true, but the appointed time of trial is long; and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

2 In those days I Daniel was mourning three full weeks:

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine into my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three full weeks were fulfilled.

4 And on the four-and-twentieth day of the first month, I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel:

5 and I lifted up mine eyes and looked, and behold, a certain man clothed in linen, and his loins were girded with pure gold of Uphaz;

6 and his body was like a chrysolite, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as torches of fire, and his arms and his feet as the look of burnished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision; and the men that were with me saw not the vision, but a great quaking fell on them, and they fled to hide themselves.

[8]And I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me; and my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

[9]And I heard the voice of his words; and when I heard the voice of his words, I fell into a deep stupor on my face, and my face to the ground.

[10]And behold, a hand touched me, which set me upon my knees and the palms of my hands.

[11]And he said unto me, O Daniel, man greatly beloved, understand the words which I speak unto thee, and stand upright; for unto thee am I now sent. And as he spoke this word unto me, I stood trembling.

[12]And he said unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thy heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come because of thy words.

[13]But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; and behold, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

[14]And I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people at the end of the days: for the vision is yet for [many] days.

[15]And as he was speaking with me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

[16]And behold, one after the likeness of the sons of men touched my lips; and I opened my mouth and spoke, and said unto him that stood before me, My lord, by reason of the vision my pains are turned upon me, and I retain no strength.

[17]And how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remaineth no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

[18]Then there touched me again one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me;

[19]and he said, Fear not, man greatly beloved; peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And as he was speaking with me I was strengthened, and I said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

[20]And he said, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? And now I return to fight with the prince of Persia; and when I go forth, behold, the prince of Greece shall come.

[21]However, I will declare unto thee that which is set down in the scripture of truth; and there is not one that sheweth himself strong with me against these, but Michael your prince.

11And I, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

[2]And now will I declare unto thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall enrich himself with great riches more than all; and when he hath become strong through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece.

[3]And a mighty king shall stand up that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

[4]And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of the heavens; but not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion wherewith he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside these.

[5]And the king of the south, who is one of his princes, shall be strong; but [another] shall be stronger than he, and have dominion: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

[6]And after the course of years they shall join affinity; and the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make equitable conditions: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; and she shall be given up, she and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in [those] times.

[7]But out of a shoot from her roots shall one stand up in his place, who shall come to the army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shew himself mighty.

[8]He shall also carry captive into Egypt their gods, with their princes, and their precious vessels of silver and of gold; and he shall subsist for more years than the king of the north;

[9]and [the same] shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but shall return into his own land.

[10]And his sons shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces; and one shall certainly come, and overflow, and pass through; and he shall return and carry the war even to his fortress.

[11]And the king of the south shall be enraged, and shall come forth and fight with him, with the king of the north, who shall set forth a great multitude, but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

[12]And when the multitude shall have been taken away, his heart shall be exalted; and he shall cast down myriads; but he shall not prevail.

[13]For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former; and shall certainly come at the end of the times of years with a great army and with much substance.

[14]And in those times shall many stand up against the king of the south; and the violent of thy people will exalt themselves to establish the vision; but they shall fall.

[15]And the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mound, and take the well-fenced city; and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, for there shall be no strength to withstand.

16 And he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him; and he shall stand in the land of beauty, and destruction shall be in his hand.

17 And he shall set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him; and he shall practise; and he shall give him the daughter of women, to corrupt her; but she shall not stand, neither shall she be for him.

18 And he shall turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many; but a captain for his own behalf shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease: he shall turn it upon him, without reproach for himself.

19 And he shall turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land; and he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.

20 And in his place shall one stand up who shall cause the exactor to pass through the glory of the kingdom; but in a few days he shall be broken, neither in anger nor in battle.

21 And in his place shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom; but he shall come in peaceably and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And the overflowing forces shall be overflowed from before him, and shall be broken: yea, also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully, and he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

24 In time of peace shall he enter even into the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers: he shall scatter among them prey, and spoil, and substance, and he shall plan his devices against the fortified places, even for a time.

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall engage in battle with an exceeding great and mighty army; but he shall not stand, for they shall plan devices against him.

26 And they that eat of his delicate food shall break him, and his army shall be dissolved; and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings' hearts [shall meditate] mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper; for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 And he shall return into his land with great substance; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall practise, and return to his own land.

[29]At the set time he shall return, and come towards the south; but not as the former time shall be the latter;

[30]for ships of Chittim shall come against him; and he shall be grieved, and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant; and will practise; and he shall return and direct his attention to those that forsake the holy covenant.

[31]And forces shall stand on his part, and they shall profane the sanctuary, the fortress, and shall take away the continual [sacrifice], and they shall place the abomination that maketh desolate.

[32]And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he pervert by flatteries; but the people that know their God shall be strong, and shall act.

[33]And they that are wise among the people shall instruct the many; and they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil, [many] days.

[34]And when they fall, they shall be helped with a little help; but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.

[35]And [some] of the wise shall fall, to try them, and to purge and to make them white, to the time of the end: for it shall yet be for the time appointed.

[36]And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and speak monstrous things against the [God] of gods; and he shall prosper until the indignation be accomplished: for that which is determined shall be done.

[37]And he will not regard the God of his fathers, nor the desire of women; nor regard any +god: for he will magnify himself above all.

[38]And in his place will he honour the +god of fortresses; and a +god whom his fathers knew not will he honour with gold and silver, and with precious stones and pleasant things.

[39]And he will practise in the strongholds of fortresses with a strange +god: whoso acknowledgeth him will he increase with glory; and he shall cause them to rule over the many, and shall divide the land [to them] for a reward.

[40]And at the time of the end shall the king of the south push at him; and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and overflow and pass through.

[41]And he shall enter into the land of beauty, and many [countries] shall be overthrown; but these shall escape out of his hand: Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.

[42]And he shall stretch forth his hand upon the countries; and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

[43]And he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt; and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.

44 But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him; and he shall go forth with great fury to exterminate, and utterly to destroy many.

45 And he shall plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the mountain of holy beauty; and he shall come to his end, and there shall be none to help him.

12 And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince who standeth for the children of thy people; and there shall be a time of distress, such as never was since there was a nation until that time. And at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that is found written in the book.

2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame, to everlasting contempt.

3 And they that are wise shall shine as the brightness of the expanse; and they that turn the many to righteousness as the stars, for ever and ever.

4 And thou, Daniel, close the words, and seal the book, till the time of the end. Many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 And I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side, on the bank of the river, and the other on that side, on the bank of the river.

6 And he said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, How long [is it to] the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river; and he held up his right hand and his left hand unto the heavens, and swore by him that liveth for ever that it is for a time, times, and a half; and when the scattering of the power of the holy people shall be accomplished, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I understood not. And I said, My lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel; for these words are closed and sealed till the time of the end.

10 Many shall be purified, and be made white, and be refined; but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the continual [sacrifice] is taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, [there shall be] a thousand, two hundred, and ninety days.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and thirty-five days!

13 But do thou go thy way until the end; and thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days.

Hosea

1 The word of Jehovah that came unto Hosea, the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

2 The beginning of the word of Jehovah through Hosea. And Jehovah said to Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredoms, and children of whoredoms; for the land is entirely given up to whoredom, away from Jehovah.

3 And he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived and bore him a son.

4 And Jehovah said unto him, Call his name Jizreel; for yet a little, and I will visit the blood of Jizreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease.

5 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jizreel.

6 And she conceived again, and bore a daughter. And he said unto him, Call her name Lo-ruhamah; for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, so that I should pardon them.

7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by Jehovah their God; and I will not save them by bow, or by sword, or by battle, [or] by horses, or by horsemen.

8 And she weaned Lo-ruhamah; and she conceived and bore a son;

9 and he said, Call his name Lo-ammi; for ye are not my people, and I will not be for you.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea which cannot be measured or numbered; and it shall come to pass, [that] in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, Sons of the living [God].

11 And the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up out of the land: for great is the day of Jizreel.

2 Say unto your brethren Ammi; and to your sisters, Ruhamah.

2 Plead with your mother, plead; for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: and let her put away her whoredoms from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts;

3 lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her as a dry land, and slay her with thirst.

4 And I will not have mercy upon her children; for they are the children of whoredoms.

[5]For their mother hath played the harlot; she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give [me] my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my drink.

[6]Therefore behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns; and I will fence [her] in with a wall, that she shall not find her paths.

[7]And she shall pursue after her lovers, and shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, and shall not find them: and she shall say, I will go and return to my first husband, for then was it better with me than now.

[8]And she did not know that I had given her the corn and the new wine and the oil, and had multiplied to her the silver and gold, which they employed for Baal.

[9]Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my new wine in its season, and will withdraw my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness.

[10]And now will I discover her impiety in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of my hand.

[11]And I will cause all her mirth to cease: her feasts, her new moons, and her sabbaths! and all her solemnities.

[12]And I will make desolate her vine and her fig-tree, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards which my lovers have given me; and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

[13]And I will visit upon her the days of the Baals, wherein she burned incense to them, and decked herself with her rings and jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgot me, saith Jehovah.

[14]Therefore behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak to her heart.

[15]And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope; and she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

[16]And it shall be in that day, saith Jehovah, [that] thou shalt call me, My husband, and shalt call me no more, Baali;

[17]for I will take away the names of the Baals out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.

[18]And I will make a covenant for them in that day with the beasts of the field, and with the fowl of the heavens, and the creeping things of the ground; and I will break bow and sword and battle out of the land; and I will make them to lie down safely.

[19]And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; and I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in loving-kindness, and in mercies;

[20]and I will betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and thou shalt know Jehovah.

[21]And it shall come to pass in that day, I will hear, saith Jehovah, I will hear the heavens, and they shall hear the earth;

[22]and the earth shall hear the corn, and the new wine, and the oil; and they shall hear Jizreel.

[23]And I will sow her unto me in the land; and I will have mercy upon Lo-ruhamah; and I will say to Lo-ammi, Thou art my people; and they shall say, My God.

3And Jehovah said unto me, Go again, love a woman beloved of a friend, and an adulteress, according to the love of Jehovah for the children of Israel, though they turn to other gods, and love raisin-cakes.

[2]So I bought her to me for fifteen silver [pieces], and for a homer of barley, and a half-homer of barley.

[3]And I said unto her, Thou shalt abide for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be [another] man's, and I will also be for thee.

[4]For the children of Israel shall abide many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without statue, and without ephod and teraphim.

[5]Afterwards shall the children of Israel return, and seek Jehovah their God, and David their king; and shall turn with fear toward Jehovah and toward his goodness, at the end of the days.

4Hear the word of Jehovah, ye children of Israel; for Jehovah hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land; for there is no truth, nor goodness, nor knowledge of God in the land.

[2]Swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, -- they break out; and blood toucheth blood.

[3]For this shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowl of the heavens, yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.

[4]Yet let no man strive, and let no man reprove; for thy people are as they that strive with the priest.

[5]And thou shalt stumble by day; and the prophet also shall stumble with thee by night: and I will destroy thy mother.

[6]My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; for thou hast rejected knowledge, and I will reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me; seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I also will forget thy children.

[7]As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me: I will change their glory into shame.

[8]They eat the sin of my people, and their soul longeth for their iniquity.

9 And it shall be as the people so the priest; and I will visit their ways upon them, and recompense to them their doings;

10 and they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: for they have left off taking heed to Jehovah.

11 Fornication, and wine, and new wine take away the heart.

12 My people ask counsel of their stock, and their staff declareth unto them; for the spirit of whoredoms causeth [them] to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God:

13 they sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oak and poplar and terebinth, because the shade thereof is good; therefore your daughters play the harlot and your daughters-in-law commit adultery.

14 I will not punish your daughters when they play the harlot, nor your daughters-in-law for their committing adultery; for they themselves go aside with harlots, and they sacrifice with prostitutes: and the people that doth not understand shall come to ruin.

15 Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, let not Judah trespass; and come ye not unto Gilgal, neither go up to Beth-aven, nor swear [As] Jehovah liveth!

16 For Israel is refractory as an untractable heifer; now will Jehovah feed them as a lamb in a wide [pasture].

17 -- Ephraim is joined to idols: leave him alone.

18 Their drink is sour; they give themselves up to whoredom; her great men passionately love [their] shame.

19 The wind hath wrapped her up in its wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

5 Hear this, ye priests; and hearken, ye house of Israel; and give ear, O house of the king: for this judgment is for you; for ye have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.

2 And they have plunged themselves in the corruption of apostasy, but I will be a chastiser of them all.

3 I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me; for now, Ephraim, thou hast committed whoredom; Israel is defiled.

4 Their doings do not allow them to return unto their God; for the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they know not Jehovah.

5 And Israel's pride doth testify to his face; and Israel and Ephraim shall fall by their iniquity: Judah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek Jehovah; but they shall not find [him]: he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have dealt treacherously against Jehovah; for they have begotten strange children: now shall the new moon devour them, with their allotted possessions.

8 Blow the horn in Gibeah, the trumpet in Ramah; cry aloud [at] Beth-aven: behind thee, O Benjamin!

9 Ephraim shall be a desolation in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which is sure.

10 The princes of Judah are become like them that remove the landmark: I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed, crushed in judgment, because in selfwill he walked after the commandment [of man].

12 And I will be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as rottenness.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his sore, then went Ephraim to the Assyrian, and sent to king Jareb; but he was unable to heal you, nor hath he removed your sore.

14 For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah. I, I will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver.

15 I will go away, I will return to my place, till they acknowledge their trespass, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early.

6 Come and let us return unto Jehovah: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

2 After two days will he revive us; on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live before his face;

3 and we shall know, -- we shall follow on to know Jehovah: his going forth is assured as the morning dawn; and he will come unto us as the rain, as the latter rain which watereth the earth.

4 What shall I do unto thee, Ephraim? What shall I do unto thee, Judah? For your goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the dew that early passeth away.

5 Therefore have I hewed [them] by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and my judgment goeth forth as the light.

6 For I delight in loving-kindness, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt-offerings.

7 But they like Adam have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity; it is tracked with blood.

9 And as troops of robbers lie in wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way of Shechem; yea, they commit lewdness.

10 In the house of Israel have I seen a horrible thing: the whoredom of Ephraim is there; Israel is defiled.

11 Also, for thee, Judah, is a harvest appointed, when I shall turn again the captivity of my people.

7 When I would heal Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim is discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria: for they practise falsehood; and the thief entereth in, [and] the troop of robbers assaileth without.

2 And they say not in their hearts [that] I remember all their wickedness: now do their own doings encompass them; they are before my face.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies.

4 They all practise adultery, as an oven heated by the baker: he ceaseth from stirring [the fire] after he hath kneaded the dough, until it be leavened.

5 In the day of our king, the princes made themselves sick with the heat of wine: he stretched out his hand to scorners.

6 For they have applied their heart like an oven to their lying in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth like a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges; all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 Ephraim, he mixeth himself with the peoples; Ephraim is a cake not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth [it] not; yea, gray hairs are here and there upon him, and he knoweth [it] not.

10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face; and they do not return to Jehovah their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 And Ephraim is become like a silly dove without understanding: they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.

12 When they go, I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowl of the heavens; I will chastise them, according as their assembly hath heard.

13 Woe unto them! for they have wandered from me; destruction unto them! for they have transgressed against me. And I would redeem them; but they speak lies against me.

14 And they cried not unto me in their heart, when they howled upon their beds; they assemble themselves for corn and new wine; they have turned aside from me.

15 I have indeed trained, I have strengthened their arms, but they imagine mischief against me.

16 They return, [but] not to the [Most] High: they are like a deceitful bow. Their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

8Set the trumpet to thy mouth. [He cometh] as an eagle against the house of Jehovah, because they have transgressed my covenant, and rebelled against my law.

[2]They shall cry unto me, My God, we know thee; [we], Israel.

[3]Israel hath cast off good: the enemy shall pursue him.

[4]They have set up kings, but not by me; they have made princes, and I knew it not; of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.

[5]Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast [thee] off; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will they be incapable of purity?

[6]For from Israel is this also: -- a workman made it, and it is no God: for the calf of Samaria shall be [broken in] pieces.

[7]For they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no stalk; should it sprout, it would yield no meal; if so be it yield, strangers shall swallow it up.

[8]Israel is swallowed up: now are they become among the nations as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

[9]For they are gone up [to] Assyria [as] a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired lovers.

[10]Although they hire among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall begin to be straitened under the burden of the king of princes.

[11]Because Ephraim hath multiplied altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin.

[12]I have prescribed unto him the manifold things of my law: they are counted [as] a strange thing.

[13]They sacrifice flesh [for] the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; Jehovah hath no delight in them. Now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt.

[14]For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

9Rejoice not, Israel, exultingly, as the peoples; for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved harlot's hire upon every corn-floor.

[2]The floor and the winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail her.

[3]They shall not dwell in Jehovah's land; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and in Assyria shall they eat that which is unclean.

[4]They shall pour out no [offerings of] wine to Jehovah, neither shall their sacrifices be pleasing unto him: they shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be defiled: for their bread shall be for themselves; it shall not come into the house of Jehovah.

5What will ye do in the day of assembly, and in the day of the feast of Jehovah?

6For behold, they are gone away because of destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Moph shall bury them: their pleasant things of silver, nettles shall possess them; thorns shall be in their tents.

7The days of visitation are come; the days of recompence are come: Israel shall know [it]: the prophet is a fool, the inspired man is mad, because of the greatness of thine iniquity, and the great enmity.

8Is Ephraim a watchman with my God? [nay] the prophet is a fowler's snare on all his ways, enmity in the house of his God.

9They have deeply corrupted themselves as in the days of Gibeah. He will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10I found Israel as grapes in the wilderness; as first-ripe fruit on the fig-tree, I saw your fathers at the beginning: they went to Baal-Peor, and separated themselves unto that shame, and became abominations like their lover.

11As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away as a bird, -- no birth, no pregnancy, no conception!

12For even should they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, [that] not a man [remain]: for woe also to them when I shall have departed from them!

13Ephraim, as I saw [him], was a Tyre planted in a beautiful place; but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the slayer.

14Give them, Jehovah -- what wilt thou give? -- give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts.

15All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I hated them: because of the wickedness of their doings, I will drive them out of my house, I will love them no more: all their princes are rebellious.

16Ephraim is smitten: their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit; yea, though they should bring forth, yet will I slay the beloved [fruit] of their womb.

17My God hath rejected them, because they hearkened not unto him; and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

10 Israel is an unpruned vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself: according to the abundance of his fruit he hath multiplied altars; according to the goodness of his land they have made goodly statues.

2Their heart is divided; now shall they be found guilty: he will break down their altars, he will destroy their statues.

3For now they will say, We have no king, for we feared not Jehovah; and a king, what can he do for us?

[4]They speak [mere] words, swearing falsely in making a covenant; therefore shall judgment spring up as hemlock in the furrows of the fields.

[5]The inhabitants of Samaria shall fear because of the calf of Beth-aven; for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the idolatrous priests thereof shall tremble for it, for its glory, because it is departed from it.

[6]Yea, it shall be carried unto Assyria [as] a present for king Jareb: Ephraim shall be seized with shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

[7]As for Samaria her king is cut off as chips upon the face of the waters.

[8]And the high places of Aven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up upon their altars; and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us! and to the hills, Fall on us!

[9]From the days of Gibeah hast thou sinned, O Israel: there they stood: the battle in Gibeah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.

[10]At my pleasure will I chastise them; and the peoples shall be assembled against them, when they are bound for their two iniquities.

[11]And Ephraim is a trained heifer, that loveth to tread out [the corn]; I have passed over upon her fair neck: I will make Ephraim to draw; Judah shall plough, Jacob shall break his clods.

[12]Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek Jehovah, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

[13]Ye have ploughed wickedness, reaped iniquity, eaten the fruit of lies; for thou didst confide in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

[14]And a tumult shall arise among thy peoples, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces with the children.

[15]So shall Bethel do unto you because of the wickedness of your wickedness: at day-break shall the king of Israel utterly be cut off.

11 When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and out of Egypt I called my son.

[2]As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto the Baals, and burned incense to graven images.

[3]And I it was that taught Ephraim to walk, -- He took them upon his arms, -- but they knew not that I healed them.

[4]I drew them with bands of a man, with cords of love; and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I gently caused them to eat.

[5]He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his king; for they refused to return [to me];

[6]and the sword shall turn about in his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour [them], because of their own counsels.

[7]Yea, my people are bent upon backsliding from me: though they call them to the Most High, none at all exalteth [him].

[8]How shall I give thee over, Ephraim? [how] shall I deliver thee up, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? [how] shall I set thee as Zeboim? My heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.

[9]I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not again destroy Ephraim; for I am [God], and not man, -- the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not come in anger.

[10]They shall walk after Jehovah; he shall roar like a lion; when he shall roar, then the children shall hasten from the west:

[11]they shall hasten as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria; and I will cause them to dwell in their houses, saith Jehovah.

[12]Ephraim encompasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit; but Judah yet walketh with [God], and with the holy things of truth.

12 Ephraim feedeth on wind, and pursueth after the east wind: all day long he multiplieth lies and desolation; and they make a covenant with Assyria, and oil is carried into Egypt.

[2]Jehovah hath also a controversy with Judah, and he will punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him.

[3]He took his brother by the heel in the womb, and in his strength he wrestled with God.

[4]Yea, he wrestled with the Angel, and prevailed; he wept, and made supplication unto him: he found him in Bethel, and there he spoke with us,

[5]-- even Jehovah, the God of hosts, -- Jehovah is his memorial.

[6]And thou, return unto thy God: keep loving-kindness and judgment, and wait on thy God continually.

[7][He is] a merchant, balances of deceit are in his hand; he loveth to oppress.

[8]And Ephraim saith, Nevertheless I am become rich, I have found me out substance; in all my labours they shall find none iniquity in me that were sin.

[9]But I [that am] Jehovah thy God from the land of Egypt will again make thee to dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast.

[10]And I have spoken to the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and by means of the prophets have I used similitudes.

[11]If Gilead is iniquity, surely they are but vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal; yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the fields.

12 And Jacob fled into the country of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept [sheep].

13 And by a prophet Jehovah brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved.

14 Ephraim provoked [him] to anger most bitterly; and his Lord shall leave his blood upon him, and recompense unto him his reproach.

13 When Ephraim spoke, there was trembling; he exalted himself in Israel: but he trespassed through Baal, and he died.

2 And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, idols according to their own understanding, all of it the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the men that sacrifice kiss the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away, as the chaff driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing-floor, and as the smoke out of the lattice.

4 Yet I [am] Jehovah thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou hast known no God but me; and there is no saviour besides me.

5 I knew thee in the wilderness, in the land of drought.

6 According to their pasture, they became full; they became full, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me.

7 And I will be unto them as a lion; as a leopard I will lurk for them by the way;

8 I will meet them as a bear bereaved of her [whelps], and will rend the covering of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lioness: the beast of the field shall tear them.

9 It is thy destruction, O Israel, that [thou art] against me, against thy help.

10 Where then is thy king, that he may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges of whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes? --

11 I gave thee a king in mine anger, and took him away in my wrath.

12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; his sin is laid by in store.

13 The pangs of a woman in travail shall come upon him: he is a son not wise; for at the time of the breaking forth of children, he was not there.

14 I will ransom them from the power of Sheol. I will redeem them from death: where, O death, are thy plagues? where, O Sheol, is thy destruction? Repentance shall be hid from mine eyes.

15 Though he be fruitful among [his] brethren, an east wind shall come, a wind of Jehovah [that] cometh up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: he shall spoil the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

16 Samaria shall bear her guilt; for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword; their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with child shall be ripped up.

14 O Israel, return unto Jehovah thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.

2 Take with you words, and turn to Jehovah; say unto him, Forgive all iniquity, and receive [us] graciously; so will we render the calves of our lips.

3 Assyria shall not save us; we will not ride upon horses: neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, [Thou art] our God; because in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.

4 I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely; for mine anger is turned away from him.

5 I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall blossom as the lily, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon.

6 His shoots shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive-tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

7 They shall return and sit under his shadow; they shall revive [as] corn, and blossom as the vine: the renown thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

8 Ephraim [shall say], What have I to do any more with idols? (I answer [him], and I will observe him.) I am like a green fir-tree. -- From me is thy fruit found.

9 Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? intelligent, and he shall know them? For the ways of Jehovah are right, and the just shall walk in them; but the transgressors shall fall therein.

Joel

1 The word of Jehovah that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. Hath this been in your days, or even in the days of your fathers?

3 Tell your children of it, and [let] your children [tell] their children, and their children another generation:

4 that which the palmer-worm hath left hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath the cankerworm eaten; and that which the cankerworm hath left hath the caterpillar eaten.

5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine: for it is cut off from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come up upon my land, strong and without number: his teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek teeth of a lioness.

7 He hath made my vine a desolation, and barked my fig-tree; he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away: its branches are made white.

8 Wail like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.

9 The oblation and the drink-offering are cut off from the house of Jehovah; the priests, Jehovah's ministers, mourn.

10 The field is laid waste, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted, the new wine is dried up, the oil languisheth.

11 Be ashamed, ye husbandmen; howl, ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley: because the harvest of the field hath perished.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig-tree languisheth; the pomegranate-tree, the palm also and the apple-tree; all the trees of the field are withered, yea, joy is withered away from the children of men.

13 Gird yourselves, and lament, ye priests; howl, ministers of the altar; come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the oblation and the drink-offering are withholden from the house of your God.

14 Hallow a fast, proclaim a solemn assembly, gather the elders, [and] all the inhabitants of the land to the house of Jehovah your God, and cry unto Jehovah.

15 Alas for the day! for the day of Jehovah is at hand, and as destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the food cut off before our eyes, joy and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The seeds are rotten under their clods, the granaries are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How do the beasts groan! The herds of cattle are bewildered, for they have no pasture; the flocks of sheep also are in suffering.

19 To thee, Jehovah, do I cry; for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burned up all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field also cry unto thee; for the water-courses are dried, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

2 Blow the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of Jehovah cometh, for it is at hand;

2 a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and gross darkness, as the dawn spread upon the mountains; -- a great people and a strong; there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after them, to the years of generations and generations.

3 A fire devoureth before them, and behind them a flame burneth; the land is as a garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness: yea, and nothing escapeth them.

4 The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as horsemen, so they run.

5 Like the noise of chariots, on the tops of the mountains, they leap; like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array.

6 Before them the peoples are in anguish: all faces turn pale.

7 They run like mighty men; they climb the wall like men of war; and they march every one on his ways, and break not their ranks.

8 Neither doth one press upon another; they march every one in his path; and fall amid weapons, but are not wounded.

9 They spread themselves over the city; they run upon the wall; they climb up into the houses; they enter in by the windows like a thief.

10 The earth quaketh before them; the heavens tremble; the sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining.

11 And Jehovah uttereth his voice before his army; for his camp is very great; for strong is he that executeth his word: for the day of Jehovah is great and very terrible; and who can bear it?

12 Yet even now, saith Jehovah, turn to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning;

13 and rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto Jehovah your God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great loving-kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.

[14]Who knoweth? He might return and repent, and leave a blessing behind him, an oblation and a drink-offering for Jehovah your God?

[15]Blow the trumpet in Zion, hallow a fast, proclaim a solemn assembly;

[16]gather the people, hallow the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts; let the bridegroom go forth from his chamber, and the bride from her closet.

[17]Let the priests, the ministers of Jehovah, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare, O Jehovah, thy people, and give not thine inheritance to reproach, that they should be a byword of the nations. Wherefore should they say among the peoples, Where is their God?

[18]Then Jehovah will be jealous for his land, and will have pity on his people.

[19]And Jehovah will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I send you corn, and new wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith; and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations.

[20]And I will remove far off from you him [that cometh] from the north, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, his face toward the eastern sea, and his rear toward the hinder sea; and his stench shall come up, and his ill odour shall come up, for he hath exalted himself to do great things.

[21]-- Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice: for Jehovah doeth great things.

[22]Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness do spring; for the tree beareth its fruit; the fig-tree and the vine yield full increase.

[23]And ye, children of Zion, be glad and rejoice in Jehovah your God; for he giveth you the early rain in due measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, the early rain, and the latter rain at the beginning [of the season].

[24]And the floors shall be full of corn, and the vats shall overflow with new wine and oil.

[25]And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmer-worm, my great army which I sent among you.

[26]And ye shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of Jehovah your God, who hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.

[27]And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I, Jehovah, [am] your God, and there is none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.

[28]And it shall come to pass afterwards [that] I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions.

[29]Yea, even upon the bondmen and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my Spirit.

[30]And I will shew wonders in the heavens and on the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

[31]The sun shall be changed to darkness, and the moon to blood, before the great and terrible day of Jehovah come.

[32]And it shall be that whosoever shall call upon the name of Jehovah shall be saved: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as Jehovah hath said, and for the residue whom Jehovah shall call.

3For behold, in those days, and in that time, when I shall turn again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

[2]I will also gather all the nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and I will enter into judgment with them there on account of my people and mine inheritance, Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations: and they have parted my land;

[3]and they have cast lots for my people, and have given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, and have drunk [it].

[4]Yea also, what have ye to do with me, O Tyre and Zidon, and all the districts of Philistia? Will ye render me a recompence? But if ye recompense me, swiftly [and] speedily will I bring your recompence upon your own head;

[5]because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my beautiful pleasant things,

[6]and the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the children of the Greeks, that ye might remove them far from their border.

[7]Behold, I will raise them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will bring your recompence upon your own head.

[8]And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a nation far off: for Jehovah hath spoken.

[9]Proclaim this among the nations: prepare war, arouse the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near, let them come up.

[10]Beat your ploughshares into swords, and your pruning-knives into spears; let the weak say, I am strong.

[11]Haste ye and come, all ye nations round about, and gather yourselves together. Thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O Jehovah.

[12]Let the nations rouse themselves, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat; for there will I sit to judge all the nations round about.

[13]Put in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe: come, get you down, for the press is full, the vats overflow; for their wickedness is great.

[14]Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! For the day of Jehovah is at hand in the valley of decision.

[15]The sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

[16]And Jehovah will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake: and Jehovah will be a shelter for his people, and the refuge of the children of Israel.

[17]And ye shall know that I, Jehovah, [am] your God, dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain; and Jerusalem shall be holy, and no strangers shall pass through her any more.

[18]And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the water-courses of Judah shall flow with waters; and a fountain shall come forth from the house of Jehovah, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

[19]Egypt shall be a desolation, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the violence against the children of Judah, in that they have shed innocent blood in their land.

[20]But Judah shall abide for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

[21]And I will purge them from the blood from which I had not purged them: for Jehovah dwelleth in Zion.

Amos

1 The words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

2 And he said, Jehovah roareth from Zion, and uttereth his voice from Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds mourn, and the top of Carmel withereth.

3 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not revoke [my sentence], because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron.

4 And I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall devour the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

5 And I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Beth-Eden; and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith Jehovah.

6 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Gazah, and for four, I will not revoke its sentence; because they carried away captive the whole captivity, to deliver [them] up to Edom.

7 And I will send a fire on the wall of Gazah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon, and I will turn my hand against Ekron; and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord Jehovah.

9 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Tyre, and for four, I will not revoke its sentence; because they delivered up the whole captivity to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant.

10 And I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not revoke its sentence; because he pursued his brother with the sword, and cast off all pity; and his anger did tear continually, and he kept his wrath for ever.

12 And I will send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

13 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for four, I will not revoke its sentence; because they ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind.

15 And their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith Jehovah.

2 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not revoke its sentence; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2 And I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerijoth; and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, [and] with the sound of the trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith Jehovah.

4 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not revoke its sentence; because they have despised the law of Jehovah, and have not kept his statutes; and their lies have caused them to err, after which their fathers walked.

5 And I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not revoke its sentence; because they have sold the righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes;

7 panting after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turning aside the way of the meek; and a man and his father will go in unto the [same] maid, to profane my holy name.

8 And they lay [themselves] down by every altar upon clothes taken in pledge, and they drink [in] the house of their God the wine of the condemned.

9 But I destroyed the Amorite before them, whose height was as the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; but I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 And I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you forty years in the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazarites. Is it not even thus, ye children of Israel? saith Jehovah.

12 And ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophesy not.

13 Behold, I will press upon you, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves.

14 And flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver his soul.

15 Neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and the swift of foot shall not escape, and he that rideth the horse shall not deliver his soul;

16 and he that is stout-hearted among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith Jehovah.

3 Hear this word that Jehovah hath spoken against you, children of Israel, against the whole family that I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You only have I known of all the families of the earth; therefore will I visit upon you all your iniquities.

3 Shall two walk together except they be agreed?

4 Will a lion roar in the forest when he hath no prey? Will a young lion cry out of his den if he have taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth when no gin [is laid] for him? Will the snare spring up from the earth when nothing at all hath been taken?

6 Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people not be afraid? Shall there be evil in a city, and Jehovah not have done [it]?

7 But the Lord Jehovah will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets.

8 The lion hath roared, -- who will not fear? The Lord Jehovah hath spoken, -- who can but prophesy?

9 Publish in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold the great uproar in the midst thereof, and the oppressions that are within her:

10 and they know not to do right, saith Jehovah, who store up violence and plunder in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: An adversary! -- even round about the land! And he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be pillaged.

12 Thus saith Jehovah: Like as the shepherd rescueth out of the jaw of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; so shall the children of Israel be rescued that sit in Samaria in the corner of a couch, and upon the damask of a bed.

13 Hear ye, and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord Jehovah, the God of hosts, 14 that in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also punish the altars of Bethel; and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter-house with the summer-house; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and many houses shall have an end, saith Jehovah.

4 Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, that oppress the poor, that crush the needy, that say to their lords, Bring, and let us drink:

[2]the Lord Jehovah hath sworn by his holiness, that behold, days shall come upon you, when he will take you away with hooks, and your posterity with fish-hooks;

[3]and ye shall go out by the breaches, every one straight before her, and ye shall be cast out to Harmon, saith Jehovah.

[4]Come to Bethel, and transgress; at Gilgal multiply transgression; and bring your sacrifices in the morning, your tithes every three days,

[5]and burn a thank-offering with leaven, and proclaim, publish, voluntary offerings: for this pleaseth you, children of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah.

[6]And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places; yet ye have not returned unto me, saith Jehovah.

[7]And I also have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest; and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece [of land] was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered.

[8]And two, three, cities wandered unto one city, to drink water, and were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah.

[9]I have smitten you with blasting and mildew; the palmer-worm hath devoured the multitude of your gardens, and your vineyards, and your fig-trees and your olive-trees: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah.

[10]I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, taking away captive your horses; and I made the stench of your camps to come up, even into your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah.

[11]I have overthrown among you, like God's overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a brand plucked out of the burning; yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah.

[12]Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

[13]For behold, he who formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, who maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, -- Jehovah, the God of hosts, is his name.

5Hear this word, a lamentation, which I take up against you, O house of Israel.

[2]The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more arise: she is cast down upon her land; there is none to raise her up.

[3]For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: The city that went forth a thousand shall have a hundred left, and that which went forth a hundred shall have ten left, for the house of Israel.

[4]For thus saith Jehovah unto the house of Israel: Seek ye me, and ye shall live.

[5]And seek not Bethel, neither go to Gilgal, and pass not to Beer-sheba; for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Bethel shall come to nought.

[6]Seek Jehovah, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and devour [it], and there be none to quench [it] in Bethel.

[7]Ye who turn judgment to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth,

[8][seek him] that made the Pleiades and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: Jehovah is his name.

[9]He causeth destruction to break forth suddenly upon the strong, and bringeth destruction upon the fortress.

[10]They hate him that reproveth in the gate, and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly.

[11]Forasmuch, therefore, as ye trample upon the poor, and take from him presents of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, and ye shall not drink the wine of them.

[12]For I know how manifold are your transgressions and your sins mighty: they afflict the just, they take a bribe, and they turn aside [the right of] the needy in the gate.

[13]Therefore the prudent shall keep silence in this time; for it is an evil time.

[14]Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so Jehovah, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye say.

[15]Hate evil, and love good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that Jehovah, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

[16]Therefore thus saith Jehovah, the God of hosts, the Lord: Wailing shall be in all broadways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! And they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing.

[17]And in all vineyards shall be wailing; for I will pass through the midst of thee, saith Jehovah.

[18]Woe unto you that desire the day of Jehovah! To what end is the day of Jehovah for you? It shall be darkness and not light:

[19]as if a man fled from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

[20]Shall not the day of Jehovah be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will not smell [a sweet odour] in your solemn assemblies.

22 For if ye offer up unto me burnt-offerings and your oblations, I will not accept [them]; neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fatted beasts.

23 Take away from me the noise of thy songs, and I will not hear the melody of thy lutes;

24 but let judgment roll down as waters, and righteousness as an ever-flowing stream.

25 Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and oblations in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?

26 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of your Moloch, and Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye had made to yourselves;

27 and I will cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith Jehovah, whose name is the God of hosts.

6 Woe to them that are at ease in Zion and that are secure in the mountain of Samaria, the renowned of the first of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come.

2 Pass unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go to Hamath the great; and go down to Gath of the Philistines: are they better than these kingdoms? or their border greater than your border?

3 Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near;

4 that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves from the midst of the stall;

5 that chant to the sound of the lute, [and] invent them instruments of music, like David;

6 that drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but are not grieved for the breach of Joseph.

7 Therefore shall they now go captive, with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away.

8 The Lord Jehovah hath sworn by himself, saith Jehovah, the God of hosts, I abhor the pride of Jacob, and hate his palaces; and I will deliver up the city with all that is therein.

9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a man's uncle, and he that should burn him, shall take him up to bring out the bones from the house, and shall say unto him that is in the inner parts of the house, Is there yet [any] with thee? and he shall say, None. And he will say, Silence! for we may not make mention of Jehovah's name.

11 For behold, Jehovah commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with clefts.

[12]Shall horses run upon the rock? will [men] plough [thereon] with oxen? For ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood, [13]-- ye that rejoice in a thing of nought, that say, Have we not taken to us power by our own strength?

[14]For behold, O house of Israel, saith Jehovah the God of hosts, I will raise up against you a nation; and they shall afflict you from the entering in of Hamath unto the torrent of the Arabah.

7 Thus did the Lord Jehovah shew unto me; and behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth, and behold, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings.

[2]And it came to pass, when they had wholly eaten the grass of the land, that I said, O Lord Jehovah, forgive, I beseech thee! How shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

[3]Jehovah repented for this: It shall not be, said Jehovah.

[4]Thus did the Lord Jehovah shew unto me; and behold, the Lord Jehovah called to contend by fire; and it devoured the great deep, and ate up the inheritance.

[5]Then said I, O Lord Jehovah, cease, I beseech thee! How shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

[6]Jehovah repented for this: This also shall not be, said the Lord Jehovah.

[7]Thus did he shew unto me; and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall [made] by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand.

[8]And Jehovah said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumb-line. And the Lord said, Behold, I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel: I will not again pass by them any more.

[9]And the high places of Isaac shall be desolated, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will arise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

[10]Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

[11]For thus Amos saith: Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall certainly go into captivity out of his land.

[12]And Amaziah said unto Amos, [Thou] seer, go, flee away into the land of Judah, and eat bread there, and prophesy there.

[13]But prophesy not again any more at Bethel; for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is the house of the kingdom.

[14]And Amos answered and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was a herdman, and a gatherer of sycamore fruit.

15 And Jehovah took me as I followed the flock, and Jehovah said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

16 And now hear thou the word of Jehovah: Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and utter not [words] against the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Thy wife shall be a harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided with the line; and thou shalt die in a land that is unclean; and Israel shall certainly go into captivity, out of his land.

8 Thus did Jehovah shew unto me; and behold, a basket of summer-fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer-fruit. And Jehovah said unto me, The end is come upon my people Israel: I will not again pass by them any more.

3 And the songs of the palace shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord Jehovah. The dead bodies shall be many; in every place they shall be cast forth. Silence!

4 Hear this, ye that pant after the needy, even to cause to fail the poor of the land,

5 saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat? making the ephah small and the shekel great, and falsifying the balances for deceit:

6 that we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes; and that we may sell the refuse of the wheat.

7 Jehovah hath sworn by the glory of Jacob, Certainly I will never forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? And it shall wholly rise up like the Nile; and it shall surge and sink down, as the river of Egypt.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord Jehovah, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the land in the clear day.

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning for an only [son], and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, days come, saith the Lord Jehovah, when I will send a famine in the land; not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of Jehovah.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of Jehovah, and shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst;

14 they that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, [As] thy god, O Dan, liveth! and,

[As] the way of Beer-sheba liveth! even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

9 I saw the Lord standing upon the altar; and he said, Smite the chapiter that the thresholds may shake; and break all of them in pieces, in the head; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them shall not get away by flight, and he that escapeth of them shall not be delivered.

2 Though they dig into Sheol, thence shall my hand take them; and though they climb up to the heavens, thence will I bring them down;

3 and though they hide themselves on the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, there will I command the serpent, and it shall bite them;

4 and though they go into captivity before their enemies, there will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

5 And the Lord Jehovah of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it melteth, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; and it shall wholly rise up like the Nile, and sink down as the river of Egypt.

6 It is he that buildeth his upper chambers in the heavens, and hath founded his vault upon the earth; he that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: Jehovah is his name.

7 Are ye not as children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith Jehovah. Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord Jehovah are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth: only that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith Jehovah.

9 For behold, I command, and I will shake the house of Israel to and fro among all the nations, like as one shaketh [corn] in a sieve; yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth.

10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, who say, Evil shall not overtake nor befall us.

11 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David which is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up its ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old:

12 that they may possess the remnant of Edom, and all the nations upon whom my name is called, saith Jehovah who doeth this.

13 Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, when the ploughman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop new wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 And I will turn again the captivity of my people Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; and they shall make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them, saith Jehovah thy God.

Obadiah

1 The vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord Jehovah concerning Edom: We have heard a report from Jehovah, and an ambassador is sent among the nations. Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the nations; thou art greatly despised.

3 The pride of thy heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; -- he that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith Jehovah.

5 If thieves had come to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen [till] they had had enough? If grape-gatherers had come to thee, would they not have left some gleanings?

6 How is Esau searched! his hidden things sought out!

7 All the men of thy confederacy have pushed thee to the border; the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, they have prevailed against thee; [they that eat] thy bread have laid a snare under thee. There is no understanding in him.

8 Shall I not in that day, saith Jehovah, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?

9 And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be cut off from the mount of Esau by slaughter.

10 Because of violence against thy brother Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11 In the day that thou stoodest on the other side, in the day that strangers carried away captive his substance, and foreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them.

12 But thou shouldest not have looked on the day of thy brother in the day of his disaster; neither shouldest thou have rejoiced over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction; nor have opened wide thy mouth in the day of distress.

13 Thou shouldest not have entered into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity, nor have looked, even thou, on their affliction in the day of their calamity, neither shouldest thou have laid [hands] on their substance in the day of their calamity;

14 and thou shouldest not have stood on the crossway, to cut off those of his that did escape, nor have delivered up those remaining of him in the day of distress.

15For the day of Jehovah is near upon all the nations: as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee: thy recompence shall return upon thine own head.

16For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the nations drink continually; yea, they shall drink, and shall swallow down, and they shall be as though they had not been.

17But upon mount Zion shall there be deliverance, and it shall be holy; and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions.

18And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble; and they shall kindle in them and devour them; and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau: for Jehovah hath spoken [it].

19And [they of] the south shall possess the mount of Esau; and they of the lowland the Philistines; yea, they shall possess the field of Ephraim and the field of Samaria; and Benjamin [shall possess] Gilead;

20and the captives of this host of the children of Israel [shall possess] what belonged to the Canaanites, unto Zarephath; and the captives of Jerusalem, who [were] in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the south.

21And saviours shall come up on mount Zion, to judge the mount of Esau; and the kingdom shall be Jehovah's.

Jonah

1 And the word of Jehovah came unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nineveh, the great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is come up before me.

3 But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of Jehovah; and he went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish; so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish, from the presence of Jehovah.

4 But Jehovah sent out a great wind upon the sea, and there was a mighty tempest upon the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 And the mariners were afraid, and cried every one unto his god; and they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to be lightened of them. But Jonah had gone down into the lower part of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 And the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, sleeper? arise, call upon thy God;
perhaps God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said each one to his fellow,
Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. And they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

8 And they said unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us: what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he said unto them, I am a Hebrew, and I fear Jehovah, the God of the heavens, who hath made the sea and the dry [land].

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this thou hast done? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of Jehovah: for he had told them.

11 And they said unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous.

12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that because of me this great tempest is upon you.

13 But the men rowed hard to regain the land; but they could not; for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them.

14 And they cried unto Jehovah and said,
Ah, Jehovah, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, Jehovah, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 And they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from its raging.

16 And the men feared Jehovah exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice unto Jehovah, and made vows.

17 And Jehovah prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah. And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

2 And Jonah prayed unto Jehovah his God out of the fish's belly;

2 and he said: I cried by reason of my distress unto Jehovah, and he answered me; Out of the belly of Sheol cried I: thou heardest my voice.

3 For thou didst cast me into the depth, into the heart of the seas, And the flood was round about me: All thy breakers and thy billows are gone over me.

4 And I said, I am cast out from before thine eyes, Yet will I look again toward thy holy temple.

5 The waters encompassed me, to the soul: The deep was round about me, The weeds were wrapped about my head.

6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; The bars of the earth [closed] upon me for ever: But thou hast brought up my life from the pit, O Jehovah my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered Jehovah; And my prayer came in unto thee, Into thy holy temple.

8 They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay that which I have vowed. Salvation is of Jehovah.

10 And Jehovah commanded the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry [land].

3 And the word of Jehovah came unto Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nineveh, the great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I shall bid thee.

3 And Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of Jehovah. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey.

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown!

5 And the men of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

[6]And the word reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.

[7]And he caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste anything: let them not feed, nor drink water;

[8]and let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God; and let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

[9]Who knoweth but that God will turn and repent, and will turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?

[10]And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil that he had said he would do unto them, and he did [it] not.

4And it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry.

[2]And he prayed unto Jehovah, and said, Ah, Jehovah, was not this my saying when I was yet in my country? Therefore I was minded to flee at first unto Tarshish; for I knew that thou art a gracious [God], and merciful, slow to anger, and of great loving-kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.

[3]And now, Jehovah, take, I beseech thee, my life from me, for it is better for me to die than to live.

[4]And Jehovah said, Doest thou well to be angry?

[5]And Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shade, till he might see what would become of the city.

[6]And Jehovah Elohim prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his trouble. And Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd.

[7]But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

[8]And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, so that he fainted; and he requested for himself that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

[9]And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, unto death.

[10]And Jehovah said, Thou hast pity on the gourd, for which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night:

[11]and I, should not I have pity on Nineveh, the great city, wherein are more than a hundred and twenty thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

Micah

1 The word of Jehovah that came to Micah the Morasthite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, [and] Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, ye peoples, all of you; hearken, O earth, and all that is therein: and let the Lord Jehovah be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple!

3 For behold, Jehovah cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

4 And the mountains shall be melted under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters poured down a steep place.

5 For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. Whence is the transgression of Jacob? is it not [from] Samaria? And whence are the high places of Judah? are they not [from] Jerusalem?

6 Therefore will I make Samaria as a heap of the field, as plantings of a vineyard; and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will lay bare the foundations thereof.

7 And all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and all her harlot-gifts shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I make a desolation; for of the hire of a harlot hath she gathered [them], and to a harlot's hire shall they return.

8 For this will I lament, and I will howl; I will go stripped and naked: I will make a wailing like the jackals, and mourning like the ostriches.

9 For her wounds are incurable; for it is come even unto Judah, it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

10 Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all; at Beth-le-aphrah roll thyself in the dust.

11 Pass away, inhabitress of Shaphir, in nakedness [and] shame. The inhabitress of Zaanan is not come forth for the lamentation of Beth-ezel: he will take from you its shelter.

12 For the inhabitress of Maroth waited anxiously for good; but evil hath come down from Jehovah unto the gate of Jerusalem.

13 Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O inhabitress of Lachish: she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; for in thee were found the transgressions of Israel.

14 Therefore shalt thou give parting-gifts to Moresheth-Gath: the houses of Achzib shall be a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 I will yet bring unto thee an heir, O inhabitress of Mareshah; the glory of Israel shall come even unto Adullam.

16 Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy delights; enlarge thy baldness as the eagle, for they are gone into captivity from thee.

2 Woe to them that devise iniquity and work evil upon their beds! When the morning is light they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they covet fields, and take them by violence; and houses, and take them away; and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks; neither shall ye walk haughtily:
for it is an evil time.

4 In that day shall they take up a proverb concerning you, and lament with a doleful lamentation, [and] say, We are utterly spoiled: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me! He hath distributed our fields to the rebellious.

5 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the measuring line upon a lot, in the congregation of Jehovah.

6 Prophesy ye not, they prophesy. If they do not prophesy to these, the ignominy will not depart.

7 O thou [that art] named the house of Jacob, Is Jehovah impatient? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly?

8 But of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip off the mantle with the garment from them that pass by securely, that are averse from war.

9 The women of my people do ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children do ye take away my magnificence for ever.

10 Arise ye, and depart; for this is not the resting-place, because of defilement that bringeth destruction, even a grievous destruction.

11 If a man walking in wind and falsehood do lie, [saying,] I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink, he shall be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, the whole of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as sheep of Bozrah, as a flock in the midst of their pasture: they shall make great noise by reason of [the multitude of] men.

13 One that breaketh through is gone up before them: they have broken forth, and have passed on to the gate, and are gone out by it; and their king passeth on before them, and Jehovah at the head of them.

3 And I said, Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel: Is it not for you to know judgment?

2 Ye who hate the good, and love evil; who pluck off their skin from them, and their flesh from off their bones;

3 and who eat the flesh of my people, and flay their skin from off them, and break their bones, and chop them in pieces as for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron.

4 Then shall they cry unto Jehovah, but he will not answer them; and he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings.

5 Thus saith Jehovah concerning the prophets that cause my people to err, that bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace! but whoso putteth not into their mouths they prepare war against him:

6 therefore ye shall have night without a vision; and it shall be dark unto you, without divination; and the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them.

7 And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; and they shall all cover their lips, for there will be no answer of God.

8 But truly I am filled with power by the Spirit of Jehovah, and with judgment and with might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity,

10 that build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with unrighteousness.

11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money; yet do they lean upon Jehovah, and say, Is not Jehovah in the midst of us? no evil shall come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be ploughed [as] a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

4 But it shall come to pass in the end of days [that] the mountain of Jehovah's house shall be established on the top of the mountains, and shall be lifted up above the hills; and the peoples shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall go and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of Jehovah, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths. For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and Jehovah's word from Jerusalem.

3 And he shall judge among many peoples, and reprove strong nations, even afar off; and they shall forge their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into pruning-knives: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

[4]And they shall sit every one under his vine, and under his fig-tree; and there shall be none to make [them] afraid: for the mouth of Jehovah of hosts hath spoken [it].

[5]For all the peoples will walk every one in the name of his god; but we will walk in the name of Jehovah, our God for ever and ever.

[6]In that day, saith Jehovah, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

[7]and I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation; and Jehovah shall reign over them in mount Zion, from henceforth even for ever.

[8]And thou, O tower of the flock, hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, yea, the first dominion shall come, -- the kingdom to the daughter of Jerusalem.

[9]Now why dost thou cry out aloud? Is there no king in thee? is thy counsellor perished, that pangs have seized thee as a woman in travail?

[10]Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail; for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Babylon: there shalt thou be delivered; there Jehovah will redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

[11]And now many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be profaned, and let our eye look upon Zion.

[12]But they know not the thoughts of Jehovah, neither understand they his counsel; for he hath gathered them together as the sheaves into the threshing-floor.

[13]Arise and thresh, daughter of Zion, for I will make thy horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass; and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples; and I will devote their gain to Jehovah, and their substance to the Lord of the whole earth.

5Now gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops; he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

[2](And thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, little to be among the thousands of Judah, out of thee shall he come forth unto me [who is] to be Ruler in Israel: whose goings forth are from of old, from the days of eternity.)

[3]Therefore will he give them up, until the time when she which travaileth shall have brought forth: and the residue of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

[4]And he shall stand and feed [his flock] in the strength of Jehovah, in the majesty of the name of Jehovah his God. And they shall abide; for now shall he be great even unto the ends of the earth.

5 And this [man] shall be Peace. When the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight princes of men.

6 And they shall waste the land of Asshur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof; and he shall deliver [us] from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from Jehovah, as showers upon the grass, that tarrieth not for man, neither waiteth for the sons of men.

8 And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, if he go through, treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver.

9 Thy hand shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith Jehovah, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots.

11 And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and overthrow all thy strongholds.

12 And I will cut off sorceries out of thy hand; and thou shalt have no soothsayers.

13 Thy graven images also will I cut off, and thy statues out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more bow down to the work of thy hands.

14 And I will pluck up thine Asherahs out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy cities.

15 And I will execute vengeance in anger and in fury upon the nations, such as they have not heard of.

6 Hear ye now what Jehovah saith: Arise, contend before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 Hear, ye mountains, Jehovah's controversy, and ye, unchanging foundations of the earth; for Jehovah hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel.

3 O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.

4 For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 My people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him, from Shittim unto Gilgal, that ye may know the righteousness of Jehovah.

6 Wherewith shall I come before Jehovah, bow myself before the high God? Shall I come before him with burnt-offerings, with calves of a year old?

[7]Will Jehovah take pleasure in thousands of rams, in ten thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

[8]He hath shewn thee, O man, what is good: and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love goodness, and to walk humbly with thy God?

[9]Jehovah's voice crieth unto the city, and wisdom looketh on thy name. Hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it.

[10]Are there yet treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure [which is] abominable?

[11]Shall I be pure with the unjust balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?

[12]For her rich men are full of violence, and her inhabitants speak lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

[13]Therefore also will I make [thee] sick in smiting thee; I will make [thee] desolate because of thy sins.

[14]Thou shalt eat, and not be satisfied, and thine emptiness [shall remain] in the midst of thee; and thou shalt take away, and not save; and what thou savest will I give up to the sword.

[15]Thou shalt sow, but thou shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil; and new wine, but shalt not drink wine.

[16]For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab; and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof a hissing; and ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

7 Woe is me! for I am as when they have gathered the summer-fruits, as the grape-gleanings of the vintage. There is no cluster to eat; there is no early fruit [which] my soul desired.

[2]The godly [man] hath perished out of the land, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood, they hunt every man his brother with a net.

[3]Both hands are for evil, to do it well. The prince asketh, and the judge [is there] for a reward; and the great [man] uttereth his soul's greed: and [together] they combine it.

[4]The best of them is as a briar; the most upright, [worse] than a thorn-fence. The day of thy watchmen, thy visitation is come; now shall be their perplexity.

[5]Believe ye not in a companion, put not confidence in a familiar friend: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.

[6]For the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law: a man's enemies are the men of his own household.

[7]But as for me, I will look unto Jehovah; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me.

[8]Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: though I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, Jehovah shall be a light unto me.

[9]I will bear the indignation of Jehovah -- for I have sinned against him -- until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light; I shall behold his righteousness.

[10]And mine enemy shall see [it], and shame shall cover her which said unto me, Where is Jehovah thy God? Mine eyes shall behold her; now shall she be trodden down, as the mire of the streets.

[11]In the day when thy walls shall be built, on that day shall the established limit recede.

[12]In that day they shall come to thee from Assyria and the cities of Egypt, and from Egypt to the river, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

[13]But the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.

[14]Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine inheritance, dwelling alone in the forest, in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.

[15]-- As in the days of thy coming forth out of the land of Egypt, will I shew them marvellous things.

[16]-- The nations shall see, and be ashamed for all their might: they shall lay [their] hand upon [their] mouth, their ears shall be deaf.

[17]They shall lick dust like the serpent; like crawling things of the earth, they shall come trembling forth from their close places. They shall turn with fear to Jehovah our God, and shall be afraid because of thee.

[18]Who is a [God] like unto thee, that forgiveth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? He retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in loving-kindness.

[19]He will yet again have compassion on us, he will tread under foot our iniquities: and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.

[20]Thou wilt perform truth to Jacob, loving-kindness to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers, from the days of old.

Nahum

1 The burden of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2 A jealous and avenging [God] is Jehovah: an avenger is Jehovah, and full of fury: Jehovah taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth [wrath] for his enemies.

3 Jehovah is slow to anger, and great in power, and doth not at all clear [the guilty]: Jehovah, -- his way is in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Bashan languisheth, and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon languisheth.

5 The mountains quake before him, and the hills melt, and the earth is upheaved at his presence, and the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who shall stand before his indignation? and who shall abide in the fierceness of his anger? His fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken asunder by him.

7 Jehovah is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him.

8 But with an overrunning flood he will make a full end of the place thereof, and darkness shall pursue his enemies.

9 What do ye imagine against Jehovah? He will make a full end: trouble shall not rise up the second time.

10 Though they be tangled together [as] thorns, and be as drenched from their drink, they shall be devoured as dry stubble, completely.

11 Out of thee is gone forth one that imagineth evil against Jehovah, a wicked counsellor.

12 Thus saith Jehovah: Though they be complete in number, and many as they be, even so shall they be cut down, and he shall pass away; and though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 And now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds asunder.

14 And Jehovah hath given commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy god will I cut off the graven image, and the molten image: I will prepare thy grave; for thou art vile.

15 Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth glad tidings, that publisheth peace! Celebrate thy feasts, Judah, perform thy vows: for the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

2He that dasheth in pieces is come up against thy face: keep the fortress, watch the way, make [thy] loins strong, fortify [thy] power mightily.

[2]For Jehovah hath brought again the glory of Jacob, as the glory of Israel; for the wasters have wasted them, and marred their vine-branches.

[3]The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots [glitter] with the sheen of steel, in the day of his preparation, and the spears are brandished.

[4]The chariots rush madly in the streets, they justle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches, they run like lightnings.

[5]He bethinketh him of his nobles: they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the shelter is prepared.

[6]The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace melteth away.

[7]And it is decreed: she shall be uncovered, she shall be led away, and her maids shall moan as with the voice of doves, drumming upon their breasts.

[8]Nineveh hath been like a pool of water, since the day she existed, yet they flee away. ... Stand! Stand! But none looketh back.

[9]Plunder the silver, plunder the gold; for there is no end of the splendid store of all precious vessels.

[10]She is empty, and void, and waste; and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and writhing pain is in all loins, and all their faces grow pale.

[11]Where is [now] the den of the lions, and the feeding-place of the young lions, where the lion, the lioness, [and] the lion's whelp walked, and none made them afraid?

[12]The lion tore in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with ravin.

[13]Behold, I am against thee, saith Jehovah of hosts: and I will burn her chariots into smoke; and the sword shall devour thy young lions, and I will cut off thy prey from the earth; and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

3Woe to the bloody city! It is all full of lies [and] violence; the prey departeth not.

[2]The crack of the whip, and the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the prancing horses, and of the bounding chariots!

[3]The horseman springing up, and the glitter of the sword, and the flash of the spear, and a multitude of slain, and a mass of carcases, and no end of corpses: they stumble over their corpses.

[4]-- Because of the multitude of the fornications of the well-favoured harlot, mistress of sorceries, that selleth nations through her fornications, and families through her sorceries,

[5]behold, I am against thee, saith Jehovah of hosts; and I will uncover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame.

[6]And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazing stock.

[7]And it shall come to pass, [that] all they that see thee shall flee from thee, and shall say, Nineveh is laid waste! Who will bemoan her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee?

[8]Art thou better than No-Amon, that was situate among the rivers, [that had] the waters round about her, whose rampart was the sea, [and] of the sea was her wall?

[9]Ethiopia was her strength, and Egypt, and it was infinite; Phut and the Libyans were her helpers.

[10]She too was carried away, she went into captivity: her infants also were dashed in pieces, at the top of all the streets; and they cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound with chains.

[11]Thou also shalt be drunken: thou shalt be hid; thou also shalt seek a refuge from the enemy.

[12]All thy strongholds are [like] fig-trees with the first-ripe figs: if they be shaken, they even fall into the mouth of the eater.

[13]Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are [as] women: the gates of thy land are set wide open unto thine enemies; the fire devoureth thy bars.

[14]Draw thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortresses; go into the clay, and tread the mortar, make strong the brick-kiln.

[15]There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off; it shall devour thee like the cankerworm. Make thyself many as the cankerworm, make thyself many as the locust.

[16]Thou hast multiplied thy merchants more than the stars of the heavens; the cankerworm spreadeth himself out and flieth away.

[17]Thy chosen men are as the locusts, and thy captains as swarms of grasshoppers, which camp in the hedges in the cold day: when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.

[18]Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria; thy nobles lie still; thy people are scattered upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them.

[19]There is no healing of thy breach; thy wound is grievous; all that hear the report of thee clap the hands over thee; for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

Habakkuk

1 The burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

2 Jehovah, how long shall I cry and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee, Violence! and thou dost not save.

3 Why dost thou cause me to see iniquity, and lookest thou upon grievance? For spoiling and violence are before me; and there is strife, and contention riseth up.

4 Therefore the law is powerless, and justice doth never go forth; for the wicked encompasseth the righteous; therefore judgment goeth forth perverted.

5 See ye among the nations, and behold, and wonder marvellously; for [I] work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be declared [to you].

6 For behold, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and impetuous nation, which marcheth through the breadth of the earth, to possess dwelling-places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and dreadful: their judgment and their dignity proceed from themselves.

8 And their horses are swifter than the leopards, and are more agile than the evening wolves; and their horsemen prance proudly, and their horsemen come from afar: they fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour.

9 They come all of them for violence: the crowd of their faces is forwards, and they gather captives as the sand.

10 Yea, he scoffeth at kings, and princes are a scorn unto him; he derideth every stronghold: for he heapeth up dust, and taketh it.

11 Then will his mind change, and he will pass on, and become guilty: this his power is become his +god.

12 -- Art thou not from everlasting, Jehovah my God, my Holy One? We shall not die. Jehovah, thou hast ordained him for judgment; and thou, O Rock, hast appointed him for correction.

13 [Thou art] of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on mischief: wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, [and] keepest silence when the wicked swalloweth up a [man] more righteous than he?

14 And thou makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them.

15 He taketh up all of them with the hook, he catcheth them in his net, and gathereth them into his drag; therefore he rejoiceth and is glad:

16 therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; for by them his portion is become fat, and his meat dainty.

17 Shall he therefore empty his net, and not spare to slay the nations continually?

2 I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will look forth to see what he will say unto me, and what I shall answer as to my reproof.

2 And Jehovah answered me and said, Write the vision, and engrave it upon tablets, that he may run that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but it hasteth to the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; for it will surely come, it will not delay.

4 Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not upright within him: but the just shall live by his faith.

5 And moreover, the wine is treacherous: he is a proud man, and keepeth not at rest, he enlargeth his desire as Sheol, and he is like death and cannot be satisfied; and he assembleth unto him all nations, and gathereth unto him all peoples.

6 Shall not all these take up a proverb about him, and a taunting riddle against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? -- and to him that loadeth himself with pledges!

7 Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and they awake up that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them?

8 Because thou hast plundered many nations, all the rest of the peoples shall plunder thee; because of men's blood, and for the violence [done] to the land, to the city, and all that dwell therein.

9 Woe to him that getteth iniquitous gain to his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the grasp of evil!

10 Thou hast devised shame to thy house, by cutting off many peoples, and hast sinned against thine own soul.

11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

12 Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and establisheth a city by unrighteousness!

13 Behold, is it not of Jehovah of hosts that the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves in vain?

14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of Jehovah as the waters cover the sea.

15 Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, -- that pourest out thy flask, and makest [him] drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness!

16 Thou art filled with shame instead of glory; drink thou also, and let thy foreskin be uncovered: the cup of Jehovah's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and a shameful spewing shall be on thy glory.

17For the violence [done] to Lebanon shall cover thee, and the destruction of beasts which made them afraid; because of men's blood, and for the violence [done] to the land, to the city, and all that dwell therein.

18What profiteth the graven image that the maker thereof hath graven it? the molten image, and the teacher of falsehood, that the maker of his work dependeth thereon, to make dumb idols?

19Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake! to the dumb stone, Arise! Shall it teach? Behold it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it.

20But Jehovah is in his holy temple. Let all the earth keep silence before him!

3 A Prayer of Habakkuk the prophet upon Shigionoth.

2Jehovah, I heard the report of thee, [and] I feared. Jehovah, revive thy work in the midst of the years, In the midst of the years make [it] known: In wrath remember mercy!

3+God came from Teman, And the Holy One from mount Paran. Selah. His glory covereth the heavens, And the earth is full of his praise.

4And [his] brightness was as the light; Rays [came forth] from his hand; And there was the hiding of his power.

5Before him went the pestilence, And a burning flame went forth at his feet.

6He stood, and measured the earth; He beheld, and discomfited the nations; And the eternal mountains were scattered, The everlasting hills gave way: His ways are everlasting.

7I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction; The curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8Was Jehovah wrathful with the rivers? Was thine anger against the rivers? Was thy rage against the sea, That thou didst ride upon thy horses, Thy chariots of salvation?

9Thy bow was made naked, The rods [of discipline] sworn according to [thy] word. Selah. Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10The mountains saw thee, they were in travail: Torrents of waters passed by; The deep uttered its voice, Lifted up its hands on high.

11The sun [and] moon stood still in their habitation, At the light of thine arrows which shot forth, -- At the shining of thy glittering spear.

12Thou didst march through the land in indignation, Thou didst thresh the nations in anger.

[13]Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, For the salvation of thine anointed; Thou didst smite off the head from the house of the wicked, Laying bare the foundation even to the neck. Selah.

[14]Thou didst strike through with his own spears the head of his leaders: They came out as a whirlwind to scatter me, Whose exulting was as to devour the afflicted secretly.

[15]Thou didst walk through the sea with thy horses, The heap of great waters.

[16]I heard, and my belly trembled; My lips quivered at the voice; Rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in my place, That I might rest in the day of distress, When their invader shall come up against the people.

[17]For though the fig-tree shall not blossom, Neither shall fruit be in the vines; The labour of the olive-tree shall fail, And the fields shall yield no food; The flock shall be cut off from the fold, And there shall be no herd in the stalls:

[18]Yet I will rejoice in Jehovah, I will joy in the God of my salvation.

[19]Jehovah, the Lord, is my strength, And he maketh my feet like hinds' [feet], And he will make me to walk upon my high places. To the chief Musician. On my stringed instruments.

Zephaniah

1 The word of Jehovah that came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

2 I will utterly take away everything from off the face of the ground, saith Jehovah:

3 I will take away man and beast; I will take away the fowl of the heavens and the fishes of the sea, and the stumbling-blocks with the wicked, and I will cut off mankind from off the face of the ground, saith Jehovah.

4 And I will stretch forth my hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, the name of the Chemarim with the priests;

5 and them that bow down to the host of the heavens upon the housetops; and them that bow down to Jehovah, that swear by [him], and swear by Malcham;

6 and them that turn back from after Jehovah, and that do not seek Jehovah, nor inquire for him.

7 Be silent at the presence of the Lord Jehovah; for the day of Jehovah is at hand; for Jehovah hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath hallowed his guests.

8 And it shall come to pass in the day of Jehovah's sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, and the king's sons, and all such as are clothed with foreign apparel.

9 And in that day will I punish all those that leap over the threshold, who fill their master's house with violence and deceit.

10 And in that day, saith Jehovah, there shall be the noise of a cry from the fish-gate, and a howling from the second [quarter], and a great crashing from the hills.

11 Howl, ye inhabitants of Maktesh; for all the people of Canaan are cut down, all they that are laden with silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, [that] I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and punish the men that are settled on their lees, that say in their heart, Jehovah will not do good, neither will he do evil.

13 And their wealth shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation; and they shall build houses, and not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and not drink the wine thereof.

14 The great day of Jehovah is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly. The voice of the day of Jehovah: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of ruin and desolation, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and gross darkness, 16 a day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fenced cities and against the high battlements.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, and they shall walk like blind men; for they have sinned against Jehovah; and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as dung:

18 their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them, in the day of Jehovah's wrath; but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for a full end, yea, a sudden [end], shall he make of all them that dwell in the land.

2 Collect yourselves and gather together, O nation without shame,

2 before the decree bring forth, [before] the day pass away as chaff, before the fierce anger of Jehovah come upon you, before the day of Jehovah's anger come upon you.

3 Seek Jehovah, all ye meek of the land, who have performed his ordinance; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of Jehovah's anger.

4 For Gazah shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon shall be a desolation; they shall drive out Ashdod at noonday, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

5 Woe unto the inhabitants of the sea-coast, the nation of the Cherethites! The word of Jehovah is against you, O Canaan, land of the Philistines: I will destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant;

6 and the sea-coast shall be cave-dwellings for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah; they shall feed thereon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening: for Jehovah their God shall visit them, and turn again their captivity.

8 I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border.

9 Therefore, [as] I live, saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, Moab shall certainly be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of nettles, and salt-pits, and a perpetual desolation; the remnant of my people shall spoil them, and the residue of my nation shall possess them.

10 This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of Jehovah of hosts.

11 Jehovah will be terrible unto them; for he will famish all the gods of the earth; and all the isles of the nations shall worship him, every one from his place.

12 Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be the slain of my sword.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria; and will make Nineveh a desolation, a place of drought like the wilderness.

14 And flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, all the crowd of beasts; both the pelican and the bittern shall lodge in the chapiters thereof; a voice shall sing in the windows; desolation shall be on the thresholds: for he hath laid bare the cedar work.

15 This is the rejoicing city that dwelt in security, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: how is she become a desolation, a couching-place for beasts! Every one that passeth by her shall hiss, shall wave his hand.

3 Woe to her that is rebellious and corrupted, to the oppressing city!

2 She hearkened not to the voice; she received not correction; she confided not in Jehovah; she drew not near her God.

3 Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves, that leave nothing for the morning.

4 Her prophets are vain-glorious, treacherous persons; her priests profane the sanctuary, they do violence to the law.

5 The righteous Jehovah is in the midst of her: he doeth no wrong. Every morning doth he bring his judgment to light; it faileth not: but the unrighteous knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off nations: their battlements are desolate; I made their streets waste, that none passeth by; their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, so that there is no inhabitant.

7 I said, Only fear me, receive correction; so her dwelling shall not be cut off, howsoever I may punish her. But they rose early, they corrupted all their doings.

8 Therefore wait ye for me, saith Jehovah, until the day that I rise up to the prey; for my determination is to assemble the nations, that I may gather the kingdoms together, to pour upon them mine indignation, -- all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.

9 For then will I turn to the peoples a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of Jehovah, to serve him with one consent.

10 From beyond the rivers of Cush my suppliants, the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine oblation.

11 In that day thou shalt not be ashamed for all thy doings wherein thou hast transgressed against me; for then I will take away out of the midst of thee them that exult in thy pride, and thou shalt no more be haughty because of my holy mountain.

[12]And I will leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of Jehovah.

[13]The remnant of Israel shall not work unrighteousness, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: but they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

[14]Exult, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; rejoice and be glad with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem:

[15]Jehovah hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemy; the King of Israel, Jehovah, is in the midst of thee; thou shalt not see evil any more.

[16]In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear not; Zion, let not thy hands be slack.

[17]Jehovah thy God is in thy midst, a mighty one that will save: he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love; he will exult over thee with singing.

[18]I will gather them that sorrow for the solemn assemblies, who were of thee: the reproach of it was a burden [unto them].

[19]Behold, at that time I will deal with all them that afflict thee; and I will save her that halted, and gather her that was driven out; and I will make them a praise and a name in all the lands where they have been put to shame.

[20]At that time will I bring you, yea, at the time that I gather you; for I will make you a name and a praise, among all the peoples of the earth, when I shall turn again your captivity before your eyes, saith Jehovah.

Haggai

1 In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, came the word of Jehovah by the prophet Haggai unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh Jehovah of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that Jehovah's house should be built.

3 And the word of Jehovah came by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4 Is it time for you that ye should dwell in your wainscoted houses, while this house lieth waste?

5 And now thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Consider your ways.

6 Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but are not satisfied; ye drink, but are not filled with drink; ye clothe yourselves, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages for a bag with holes.

7 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Consider your ways.

8 Go up to the mountain and bring wood, and build the house, and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith Jehovah.

9 Ye looked for much, and behold it was little; and when ye brought it home, I blew upon it. Wherefore? saith Jehovah of hosts. Because of my house that lieth waste, whilst ye run every man to his own house.

10 Therefore over you the heavens withhold their dew, and the earth withholdeth its fruit.

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon man, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 And Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and all the remnant of the people, hearkened to the voice of Jehovah their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, according as Jehovah their God had sent him, and the people feared before Jehovah.

13 Then spoke Haggai, Jehovah's messenger, in Jehovah's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith Jehovah.

14 And Jehovah stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and worked at the house of Jehovah of hosts, their God,

15in the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

2 In the seventh [month], on the one and twentieth [day] of the month, came the word of Jehovah by the prophet Haggai, saying,

2Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, 3Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? Is it not as nothing in your eyes?

4But now be strong, Zerubbabel, saith Jehovah; and be strong, Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith Jehovah, and work: for I am with you, saith Jehovah of hosts.

5The word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, and my Spirit, remain among you: fear ye not.

6For thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry [land];

7and I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come; and I will fill this house with glory, saith Jehovah of hosts.

8The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith Jehovah of hosts.

9The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, saith Jehovah of hosts; and in this place will I give peace, saith Jehovah of hosts.

10On the four and twentieth [day] of the ninth [month], in the second year of Darius, came the word of Jehovah by Haggai the prophet, saying,

11Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Ask now the priests [concerning] the law, saying, 12If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any food -- shall it become holy? And the priests answered and said, No.

13And Haggai said, If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, is it become unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

14Then answered Haggai and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith Jehovah, and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15And now, I pray you, consider from this day and onward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of Jehovah,

16-- before those [days] were, when one came to a heap of twenty [measures], there were but ten; when one came to the vat to draw out fifty press-measures, there were but twenty.

17 I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the work of your hands; and ye [turned] not to me, saith Jehovah.

18 Consider, I pray you, from this day and onward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth [month], from the day that the foundation of Jehovah's temple was laid, consider [it].

19 Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree have not brought forth: from this day will I bless [you].

20 And the word of Jehovah came the second time unto Haggai on the four and twentieth [day] of the month, saying,

21 Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth;

22 and I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride therein; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

23 In that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, will I take thee, Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, my servant, saith Jehovah, and will make thee as a signet; for I have chosen thee, saith Jehovah of hosts.

Zechariah

1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of Jehovah unto Zechariah the prophet, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, saying,

2 Jehovah hath been very wroth with your fathers.

3 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Return unto me, saith Jehovah of hosts, and I will return unto you, saith Jehovah of hosts.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings; but they did not hearken nor attend unto me, saith Jehovah.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? And they turned and said, Like as Jehovah of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of Jehovah unto Zechariah the prophet, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold, a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle-trees that were in the low valley; and behind him were red, bay, and white horses.

9 And I said, My lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these are.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle-trees answered and said, These are they whom Jehovah hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 And they answered the angel of Jehovah that stood among the myrtle-trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and behold, all the earth sitteth still and is at rest.

12 And the angel of Jehovah answered and said, Jehovah of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these seventy years?

13 And Jehovah answered the angel that talked with me good words, comforting words.

14 And the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy,

15 and I am wroth exceedingly with the nations that are at ease; for I was but a little wroth, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith Jehovah: I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith Jehovah of hosts, and the line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem.

17 Cry further, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: My cities shall yet overflow with prosperity, and Jehovah shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns.

19 And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these? And he said to me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

20 And Jehovah shewed me four craftsmen.

21 And I said, What come these to do? And he spoke, saying, Those are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man lifted up his head; but these are come to affright them, to cast out the horns of the nations, which lifted up the horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

2 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 And I said, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the angel that talked with me went forth; and another angel went forth to meet him,

4 and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited as towns without walls for the multitude of men and cattle therein;

5 and I, saith Jehovah, I will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 Ho, ho! flee from the land of the north, saith Jehovah; for I have scattered you abroad as the four winds of the heavens, saith Jehovah.

7 Ho! escape, Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon.

8 For thus saith Jehovah of hosts: After the glory, hath he sent me unto the nations that made you a spoil; for he that toucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For behold, I will shake my hand upon them, and they shall become a spoil to those that served them: and ye shall know that Jehovah of hosts hath sent me.

10 Sing aloud and rejoice, daughter of Zion; for behold, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith Jehovah.

11 And many nations shall join themselves to Jehovah in that day, and shall be unto me for a people; and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that Jehovah of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And Jehovah shall inherit Judah [as] his portion in the holy land, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

13 Let all flesh be silent before Jehovah; for he is risen up out of his holy habitation.

3 And he shewed me Joshua the high priest standing before the Angel of Jehovah, and Satan standing at his right hand to resist him.

2 And Jehovah said unto Satan, Jehovah rebuke thee, O Satan! Yea, Jehovah that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee! Is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

3 And Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he spoke and said unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from off him. And unto him he said, See, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I clothe thee with festival-robes.

5 And I said, Let them set a pure turban upon his head. And they set the pure turban upon his head, and clothed him with garments; and the Angel of Jehovah stood by.

6 And the Angel of Jehovah protested unto Joshua, saying,

7 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou shalt also judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts; and I will give thee a place to walk among these that stand by.

8 Hear now, Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee -- for they are men of portent -- for behold, I will bring forth my servant the Branch.

9 For behold, the stone that I have laid before Joshua -- upon one stone are seven eyes; behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith Jehovah of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of this land in one day.

10 In that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, shall ye invite every man his neighbour under the vine and under the fig-tree.

4 And the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep.

2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I see, and behold, a lamp-stand all of gold, with a bowl upon the top of it, and its seven lamps thereon, seven [lamps] and seven pipes to the lamps, which are upon the top thereof;

3 and two olive-trees beside it, one on the right of the bowl, and the other on the left of it.

4 And I answered and spoke to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord?

[5]And the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these are? And I said, No, my lord.

[6]And he answered and spoke unto me, saying, This is the word of Jehovah unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith Jehovah of hosts.

[7]Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel [thou dost become] a plain; and he shall bring forth the head-stone with shoutings: Grace, grace unto it!

[8]And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

[9]The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; and his hands shall finish it: and thou shalt know that Jehovah of hosts hath sent me unto you.

[10]For who hath despised the day of small things? Yea, they shall rejoice [even] those seven -- and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel: these are the eyes of Jehovah, which run to and fro in the whole earth.

[11]And I answered and said unto him, What are these two olive-trees on the right of the lamp-stand and on its left?

[12]And I answered the second time and said unto him, What are the two olive-branches which are beside the two golden tubes that empty the gold out of themselves?

[13]And he spoke to me, saying, Knowest thou not what these are? And I said, No, my lord.

[14]And he said, These are the two sons of oil, that stand before the Lord of the whole earth.

5And I lifted up mine eyes again, and saw, and behold, a flying roll.

[2]And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I see a flying roll: the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

[3]And he said unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that stealeth shall be cut off according to it on this side; and every one that sweareth shall be cut off according to it on that side.

[4]I will cause it to go forth, saith Jehovah of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name; and it shall lodge in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

[5]And the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

[6]And I said, What is it? And he said, This is the ephah that goeth forth. And he said, This is their resemblance in all the land.

7 And behold, there was lifted up a round plate of lead; and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is Wickedness: and he cast her into the midst of the ephah; and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings; and they had wings like the wings of a stork; and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heavens.

10 And I said to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these carry the ephah?

11 And he said unto me, To build it a house in the land of Shinar; and it shall be established, and set there upon its own base.

6 And I lifted up mine eyes again, and saw, and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were red horses; and in the second chariot black horses;

3 and in the third chariot white horses; and in the fourth chariot grisled, strong horses.

4 And I spoke and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord?

5 And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four spirits of the heavens, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth.

6 That in which are the black horses goeth forth into the north country; and the white go forth after them; and the grisled go forth towards the south country;

7 and the strong go forth, and seek to go that they may walk to and fro through the earth. And he said, Go, walk to and fro through the earth. And they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 And he cried unto me, and spoke unto me, saying, See, these that go forth towards the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.

9 And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying,

10 Take [gifts] of them of the captivity, of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, and come thou the same day, and enter into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, whither they are come from Babylon;

11 yea, take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set [them] upon the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest;

12 and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh Jehovah of hosts, saying, Behold a man whose name is [the] Branch; and he shall grow up from his own place, and he shall build the temple of Jehovah:

13 even he shall build the temple of Jehovah; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; and he shall be a priest upon his throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

14 And the crowns shall be for Helem, and for Tobijah, and for Jedaiah, and for Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of Jehovah.

15 And they that are far off shall come and build at the temple of Jehovah: and ye shall know that Jehovah of hosts hath sent me unto you. And [this] shall come to pass, if ye will diligently hearken to the voice of Jehovah your God.

7 And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of Jehovah came unto Zechariah on the fourth [day] of the ninth month, [even] in Chislev,

2 when Bethel had sent Sherezer and Regem-melech, and his men, to supplicate Jehovah,

3 [and] to speak unto the priests that were in the house of Jehovah of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done now so many years?

4 And the word of Jehovah of hosts came unto me, saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh [month], even those seventy years, did ye really fast unto me, [even] unto me?

6 And when ye ate, and when ye drank, was it not you that were eating and drinking?

7 Are not these the words that Jehovah cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and at peace, and her cities round about her, when the south and the lowland were inhabited?

8 And the word of Jehovah came unto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh Jehovah of hosts, saying, Execute true judgment, and shew loving-kindness and mercies one to another,

10 and oppress not the widow and the fatherless, the stranger and the afflicted; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and turned a rebellious shoulder, and made their ears heavy, that they should not hear.

12 And they made their heart [as] an adamant, that they should not hear the law, and the words that Jehovah of hosts sent by his Spirit by the hand of the former prophets: therefore was there great wrath from Jehovah of hosts.

13 And it came to pass, like as he called, and they would not hear, so they called, and I would not hear, saith Jehovah of hosts;

[14]and I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not, and the land was desolate after them, so that no one passed through nor returned; and they laid the pleasant land desolate.

8And the word of Jehovah of hosts came [unto me], saying,

[2]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great fury.

[3]Thus saith Jehovah: I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called, The city of truth; and the mountain of Jehovah of hosts, The holy mountain.

[4]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women sit in the streets of Jerusalem, each one with his staff in his hand for multitude of days.

[5]And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

[6]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: If it be wonderful in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be wonderful in mine eyes? saith Jehovah of hosts.

[7]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Behold, I will save my people from the east country and from the west country;

[8]and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.

[9]Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of the prophets, that were in the day that the foundation of the house of Jehovah of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built.

[10]For before those days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; and there was no peace for him that went out or that came in, because of the distress: for I let loose all men, every one against his neighbour.

[11]But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith Jehovah of hosts;

[12]for the seed shall be prosperous, the vine shall give its fruit, and the ground shall give its produce, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these [things].

[13]And it shall come to pass, like as ye were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear ye not, let your hands be strong.

[14]For thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Like as I thought to do you evil when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith Jehovah of hosts, and I repented not;

15 so again have I thought in these days to do good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall do: Speak truth every one with his neighbour; execute truth and the judgment of peace in your gates;

17 and let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath: for all these are [things] that I hate, saith Jehovah.

18 And the word of Jehovah of hosts came unto me, saying,

19 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: The fast of the fourth [month] and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful gatherings. Love ye then truth and peace.

20 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Yet again shall there come peoples, and the inhabitants of many cities;

21 and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to supplicate Jehovah, and to seek Jehovah of hosts: I will go also.

22 And many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek Jehovah of hosts in Jerusalem, and to supplicate Jehovah.

23 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: In those days shall ten men take hold, out of all languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you; for we have heard [that] God is with you.

9 The burden of the word of Jehovah, in the land of Hadrach, and [on] Damascus shall it rest; (for Jehovah hath an eye upon men, and upon all the tribes of Israel;)

2 and also [on] Hamath [which] bordereth thereon; on Tyre and Zidon, though she be very wise.

3 And Tyre hath built herself a stronghold, and hath heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord will take possession of her, and he will smite her power in the sea; and she shall be devoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see [it], and fear; Gazah also, and she shall be greatly pained; Ekron also, for her expectation shall be put to shame: and the king shall perish from Gazah, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines;

7 and I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth; but he that remaineth, he also shall belong to our God, and shall be as a leader in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite.

8 And I will encamp about my house because of the army, because of those that pass by and that return; and the exactor shall not pass through them any more: for now have I seen [it] with mine eyes.

9 Rejoice greatly, daughter of Zion; shout, daughter of Jerusalem! Behold, thy King cometh to thee: he is just, and having salvation; lowly and rIding upon an ass, even upon a colt the foal of an ass.

10 And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem; and the battle-bow shall be cut off. And he shall speak peace unto the nations; and his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the river to the ends of the earth.

11 As for thee also, by the blood of thy covenant, I will send forth thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turn again to the stronghold, prisoners of hope! even to-day do I declare I will render double unto thee.

13 For I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will raise up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and make thee like the sword of a mighty man.

14 And Jehovah shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning; and the Lord Jehovah will blow the trumpet, and will march with whirlwinds of the south.

15 Jehovah of hosts will defend them; and they shall devour, and shall tread down the sling-stones; and they shall drink, [and] make a noise as from wine; and they shall be filled like a bowl, like the corners of the altar.

16 And Jehovah their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people; for [they shall be as] the stones of a crown, lifted up upon his land.

17 For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! Corn shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the maidens.

10 Ask of Jehovah rain in the time of the latter rain; Jehovah will make lightnings, and he will give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

2 For the teraphim have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams: they comfort in vain. Therefore they have gone away as a flock, they are in distress, because there is no shepherd.

3 Mine anger is kindled against the shepherds, and I will punish the he-goats; for Jehovah of hosts visiteth his flock, the house of Judah, and maketh them as his majestic horse in the battle.

4 From him shall come forth the corner-stone, from him the nail, from him the battle bow, from him every exactor together.

5 And they shall be as mighty men, treading down the mire of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, for Jehovah is with them, and the riders on horses shall be put to shame.

[6]And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them back again; for I will have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am Jehovah their God, and I will answer them.

[7]And [they of] Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their hearts shall rejoice as through wine; and their children shall see [it], and rejoice; their heart shall be joyful in Jehovah.

[8]I will hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: and they shall multiply as they used to multiply.

[9]And I will sow them among the peoples, and they shall remember me in far countries; and they shall live with their children and return.

[10]And I will bring them again out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and [place] shall not be found for them.

[11]And he shall pass through the sea of affliction, and shall smite the billows in the sea, and all the depths of the Nile shall dry up; and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away.

[12]And I will strengthen them in Jehovah; and they shall walk in his name, saith Jehovah.

11Open thy doors, O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars.

[2]Howl, cypress, for the cedar is fallen; because the noble ones are spoiled. Howl, ye oaks of Bashan; for the strong forest is come down.

[3]A voice of howling of the shepherds; for their glory is spoiled: a voice of roaring of young lions; for the pride of Jordan is spoiled.

[4]Thus saith Jehovah my God: Feed the flock of slaughter,

[5]whose possessors slay them without being held guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be Jehovah! for I am become rich; and their own shepherds pity them not.

[6]For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith Jehovah, and behold, I will deliver men, every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king; and they shall smite the land, and I will not deliver out of their hand.

[7]So I fed the flock of slaughter, truly the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called Beauty, and the other I called Bands; and I fed the flock.

[8]And I destroyed three shepherds in one month; and my soul was vexed with them, and their soul also loathed me.

[9]And I said, I will not feed you: that which dieth, let it die; and that which perisheth let it perish; and let them which are left eat every one the flesh of another.

10 And I took my staff, Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples.

11 And it was broken in that day; and so the poor of the flock that gave heed to me knew that it was the word of Jehovah.

12 And I said unto them, If ye think good, give [me] my hire; and if not, forbear. And they weighed for my hire thirty silver-pieces.

13 And Jehovah said unto me, Cast it unto the potter: a goodly price that I was prized at by them. And I took the thirty silver-pieces, and cast them to the potter in the house of Jehovah.

14 And I cut asunder mine other staff, Bands, to break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And Jehovah said unto me, Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16 For behold, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who shall not visit those that are about to perish, neither shall seek that which is strayed away, nor heal that which is wounded, nor feed that which is sound; but he will eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their hoofs in pieces.

17 Woe to the worthless shepherd that leaveth the flock! The sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye; his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye utterly darkened.

12 The burden of the word of Jehovah concerning Israel. [Thus] saith Jehovah, who stretcheth out the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him:

2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of bewilderment unto all the peoples round about, and also against Judah shall it be in the siege against Jerusalem.

3 And it shall come to pass in that day [that] I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone unto all peoples: all that burden themselves with it shall certainly be wounded, and all the nations of the earth shall be assembled together against it.

4 In that day, saith Jehovah, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness; but I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples with blindness.

5 And the leaders of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength through Jehovah of hosts their God.

6 In that day will I make the leaders of Judah like a hearth of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left; and Jerusalem shall dwell again in her own place, in Jerusalem.

7 And Jehovah shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified over Judah.

[8]In that day will Jehovah defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that stumbleth among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David as God, as the Angel of Jehovah before them.

[9]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

[10]And I will pour upon the house of David and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the spirit of grace and of supplications; and they shall look on me whom they pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for an only [son], and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for [his] firstborn.

[11]In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadad-rimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

[12]And the land shall mourn, every family apart: the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart;

[13]the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of Shimei apart, and their wives apart;

[14]all the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

13 In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for sin and for uncleanness.

[2]And it shall come to pass in that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, [that] I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered; and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land.

[3]And it shall come to pass, if any shall yet prophesy, that his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of Jehovah; and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

[4]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear a hairy mantle to deceive.

[5]And he shall say, I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for man acquired me [as bondman] from my youth.

[6]And one shall say unto him, What are those wounds in thy hands? And he will say, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.

[7]Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, even against the man [that is] my fellow, saith Jehovah of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered, and I will turn my hand upon the little ones.

[8]And it shall come to pass in all the land, saith Jehovah, two parts therein shall be cut off [and] die; but the third shall be left therein.

[9]And I will bring the third part into the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried. They shall call on my name, and I will answer them: I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, Jehovah is my God.

14Behold, the day cometh for Jehovah, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

[2]And I will assemble all the nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity; and the rest of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

[3]And Jehovah will go forth and fight with those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

[4]And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem toward the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, -- a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

[5]And ye shall flee [by] the valley of my mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: ye shall even flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. And Jehovah my God shall come, [and] all the holy ones with thee.

[6]And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] there shall not be light; the shining shall be obscured.

[7]And it shall be one day which is known to Jehovah, not day, and not night; and it shall come to pass, at eventide it shall be light.

[8]And it shall come to pass in that day [that] living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

[9]And Jehovah shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall there be one Jehovah, and his name one.

[10]All the land from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem shall be turned as the Arabah; and [Jerusalem] shall be lifted up, and shall dwell in her own place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner-gate, and from the tower of Hananeel unto the king's winepresses.

[11]And [men] shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more utter destruction; and Jerusalem shall dwell safely.

[12]And this shall be the plague wherewith Jehovah will smite all the peoples that have warred against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day [that] a great panic from Jehovah shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Judah also shall fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the nations round about shall be gathered together -- gold, and silver, and garments, in great abundance.

15 And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in those camps, as this plague.

16 And it shall come to pass, that all that are left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall go up from year to year to worship the King, Jehovah of hosts, and to celebrate the feast of tabernacles.

17 And it shall be, that whoso goeth not up of the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King, Jehovah of hosts, upon them shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, neither [shall it be] upon them; [there] shall be the plague, wherewith Jehovah will smite the nations that go not up to celebrate the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that go not up to celebrate the feast of tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLINESS UNTO JEHOVAH; and the pots in Jehovah's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 And every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness unto Jehovah of hosts; and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and seethe therein. And in that day there shall be no more a Canaanite in the house of Jehovah of hosts.

Malachi

1 The burden of the word of Jehovah to Israel by Malachi.

2 I have loved you, saith Jehovah; but ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith Jehovah, and I loved Jacob,

3 and I hated Esau; and made his mountains a desolation, and [gave] his inheritance to the jackals of the wilderness.

4 If Edom say, We are broken down, but we will build again the ruined places, -- thus saith Jehovah of hosts: They shall build, but I will throw down; and [men] shall call them the territory of wickedness, and the people against whom Jehovah hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see [it], and ye shall say, Jehovah is magnified beyond the border of Israel.

6 A son honoureth [his] father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith Jehovah of hosts unto you, priests, that despise my name. But ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?

7 Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of Jehovah is contemptible.

8 And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? And if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? Present it now unto thy governor: will he be pleased with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith Jehovah of hosts.

9 And now, I pray you, beseech [God] that he will be gracious unto us. This hath been of your hand: will he accept any of your persons? saith Jehovah of hosts.

10 Who is there among you that would even shut the doors? and ye would not kindle [fire] on mine altar for nothing. I have no delight in you, saith Jehovah of hosts, neither will I accept an oblation at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sun even unto its setting my name shall be great among the nations; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure oblation: for my name shall be great among the nations, saith Jehovah of hosts.

12 But ye profane it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted; and the fruit thereof, his food, is contemptible.

13 And ye say, Behold, what a weariness! And ye have puffed at it, saith Jehovah of hosts, and ye bring [that which was] torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye bring the oblation: should I accept this of your hand? saith Jehovah.

[14]Yea, cursed be the deceiver, who hath in his flock a male, and voweth and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing; for I am a great King, saith Jehovah of hosts, and my name is terrible among the nations.

2And now, ye priests, this commandment is for you.

[2]If ye do not hear, and if ye do not lay [it] to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith Jehovah of hosts, I will even send the curse among you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have already cursed them, because ye do not lay [it] to heart.

[3]Behold, I will rebuke your seed, and spread dung upon your faces, the dung of your feasts; and they shall take you away with it.

[4]And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith Jehovah of hosts.

[5]My covenant with him was of life and peace, and I gave them to him that he might fear; and he feared me, and trembled before my name.

[6]The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and he turned many from iniquity.

[7]For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and at his mouth they seek the law; for he is the messenger of Jehovah of hosts.

[8]But ye are departed out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble at the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith Jehovah of hosts.

[9]And I also have made you contemptible and base before all the people, because ye have not kept my ways, but have respect of persons in [administering] the law.

[10]Have we not all one father? Hath not one [God] created us? Why do we deal unfaithfully every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

[11]Judah hath dealt unfaithfully, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the sanctuary of Jehovah which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

[12]Jehovah will cut off from the tents of Jacob the man that doeth this, him that calleth and him that answereth; and him that offereth an oblation unto Jehovah of hosts.

[13]And further ye do this: ye cover the altar of Jehovah with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he regardeth not the oblation any more, nor receiveth [it] with satisfaction at your hand.

[14]Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because Jehovah hath been a witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt unfaithfully: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not one make [them]? and the remnant of the Spirit was his. And wherefore the one? He sought a seed of God. Take heed then to your spirit, and let none deal unfaithfully against the wife of his youth, 16 (for I hate putting away, saith Jehovah the God of Israel;) and he covereth with violence his garment, saith Jehovah of hosts: take heed then to your spirit, that ye deal not unfaithfully.

17 Ye have wearied Jehovah with your words, and ye say, Wherein have we wearied [him]? In that ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of Jehovah, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of judgment?

3 Behold, I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord whom ye seek will suddenly come to his temple, and the Angel of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he cometh, saith Jehovah of hosts.

2 But who shall endure the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? For he will be like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' lye.

3 And he shall sit [as] a refiner and purifier of silver; and he will purify the children of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver; and they shall offer unto Jehovah an oblation in righteousness.

4 Then shall the oblation of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto Jehovah, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

5 And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against the false swearers, and against those that oppress the hired servant in [his] wages, the widow and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger [from his right], and fear not me, saith Jehovah of hosts.

6 For I Jehovah change not, and ye, sons of Jacob, are not consumed.

7 Since the days of your fathers have ye departed from my statutes, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith Jehovah of hosts. But ye say, Wherein shall we return?

8 Will a man rob God? But ye rob me. And ye say, Wherein do we rob thee? [In] tithes and heave-offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse; and me ye rob, [even] this whole nation.

10 Bring the whole tithe into the treasure-house, that there may be food in my house, and prove me now herewith, saith Jehovah of hosts, if I open not to you the windows of the heavens, and pour you out a blessing, till there be no place for it.

11 And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast its fruit before the time in the field, saith Jehovah of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed; for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith Jehovah of hosts.

13 Your words have been stout against me, saith Jehovah; but ye say, What have we been speaking against thee?

14 Ye say, It is vain to serve God; and what profit is it that we keep his charge, and that we walk mournfully before Jehovah of hosts?

15 And now we hold the proud for happy; yea, they that work wickedness are built up; yea, they tempt God, and they escape.

16 Then they that feared Jehovah spoke often one to another; and Jehovah observed [it], and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared Jehovah, and that thought upon his name.

17 And they shall be unto me a peculiar treasure, saith Jehovah of hosts, in the day that I prepare; and I will spare them as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18 And ye shall return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

4 For behold, the day cometh, burning as a furnace; and all the proud and all that work wickedness shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith Jehovah of hosts, so that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 And unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth and leap like fatted calves.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I prepare, saith Jehovah of hosts.

4 Remember the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, the statutes and ordinances.

5 Behold, I send unto you Elijah the prophet, before the coming of the great and terrible day of Jehovah.

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

Matthew

1 Book of the generation of Jesus Christ, Son of David, Son of Abraham.

2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob begat Juda and his brethren;

3 and Juda begat Phares and Zara of Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom, and Esrom begat Aram,

4 and Aram begat Aminadab, and Aminadab begat Naasson, and Naasson begat Salmon,

5 and Salmon begat Booz of Rachab; and Booz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse,

6 and Jesse begat David the king. And David begat Solomon, of her [that had been the wife] of Urias;

7 and Solomon begat Roboam, and Roboam begat Abia, and Abia begat Asa,

8 and Asa begat Josaphat, and Josaphat begat Joram, and Joram begat Ozias,

9 and Ozias begat Joatham, and Joatham begat Achaz, and Achaz begat Ezekias,

10 and Ezekias begat Manasses, and Manasses begat Amon, and Amon begat Josias, 11 and Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, at the time of the carrying away of Babylon.

12 And after the carrying away of Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel, and Salathiel begat Zorobabel,

13 and Zorobabel begat Abiud, and Abiud begat Eliakim, and Eliakim begat Azor,

14 and Azor begat Sadoc, and Sadoc begat Achim, and Achim begat Eliud,

15 and Eliud begat Eliazar, and Eliazar begat Matthan, and Matthan begat Jacob,

16 and Jacob begat Joseph, the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 All the generations, therefore, from Abraham to David [were] fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away of Babylon, fourteen generations; and from the carrying away of Babylon unto the Christ, fourteen generations.

18 Now the birth of Jesus Christ was thus: His mother, Mary, that is, having been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, she was found to be with child of [the] Holy Spirit.

19 But Joseph, her husband, being [a] righteous [man], and unwilling to expose her publicly, purposed to have put her away secretly;

[20]but while he pondered on these things, behold, an angel of [the] Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, Joseph, son of David, fear not to take to [thee] Mary, thy wife, for that which is begotten in her is of [the] Holy Spirit.

[21]And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins.

[22]Now all this came to pass that that might be fulfilled which was spoken by [the] Lord, through the prophet, saying,

[23]Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is, being interpreted, 'God with us.'

[24]But Joseph, having awoke up from his sleep, did as the angel of [the] Lord had enjoined him, and took to [him] his wife,

[25]and knew her not until she had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name Jesus.

2Now Jesus having been born in Bethlehem of Judaea, in the days of Herod the king, behold magi from the east arrived at Jerusalem, saying,

[2]Where is the king of the Jews that has been born? for we have seen his star in the east, and have come to do him homage.

[3]But Herod the king having heard [of it], was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him;

[4]and, assembling all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ should be born.

[5]And they said to him, In Bethlehem of Judaea; for thus it is written through the prophet:

[6]And thou Bethlehem, land of Juda, art in no wise the least among the governors of Juda; for out of thee shall go forth a leader who shall shepherd my people Israel.

[7]Then Herod, having secretly called the magi, inquired of them accurately the time of the star that was appearing;

[8]and having sent them to Bethlehem, said, Go, search out accurately concerning the child, and when ye shall have found [him] bring me back word, so that I also may come and do him homage.

[9]And they having heard the king went their way; and lo, the star, which they had seen in the east, went before them until it came and stood over the place where the little child was.

[10]And when they saw the star they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

[11]And having come into the house they saw the little child with Mary his mother, and falling down did him homage. And having opened their treasures, they offered to him gifts, gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

[12]And being divinely instructed in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 Now, they having departed, behold, an angel of [the] Lord appears in a dream to Joseph, saying, Arise, take to [thee] the little child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there until I shall tell thee; for Herod will seek the little child to destroy it.

14 And, having arisen, he took to [him] the little child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt.

15 And he was there until the death of Herod, that that might be fulfilled which was spoken by [the] Lord through the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.

16 Then Herod, seeing that he had been mocked by the magi, was greatly enraged; and sent and slew all the boys which [were] in Bethlehem, and in all its borders, from two years and under, according to the time which he had accurately inquired from the magi.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken through Jeremias the prophet, saying,

18 A voice has been heard in Rama, weeping, and great lamentation: Rachel weeping [for] her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 But Herod having died, behold, an angel of [the] Lord appears in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, 20 Arise, take to [thee] the little child and its mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they who sought the life of the little child are dead.

21 And he arose and took to [him] the little child and its mother, and came into the land of Israel;

22 but having heard that 'Archelaus reigns over Judaea, instead of Herod his father,' he was afraid to go there; and having been divinely instructed in a dream, he went away into the parts of Galilee,

23 and came and dwelt in a town called Nazareth; so that that should be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophets, He shall be called a Nazaraean.

3 Now in those days comes John the baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judaea,

2 and saying, Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has drawn nigh.

3 For this is he who has been spoken of through Esaias the prophet, saying, Voice of him that crieth in the wilderness: prepare ye the way of [the] Lord, make straight his paths.

4 And John himself had his garment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins, and his nourishment was locusts and wild honey.

5 Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judaea, and all the country round the Jordan,

[6]and were baptised by him in the Jordan, confessing their sins.

[7]But seeing many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them, Offspring of vipers, who has forewarned you to flee from the coming wrath?

[8]Produce therefore fruit worthy of repentance.

[9]And do not think to say within yourselves, We have Abraham for [our] father; for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children to Abraham.

[10]And already the axe is applied to the root of the trees; every tree therefore not producing good fruit is cut down and cast into the fire.

[11]I indeed baptise you with water to repentance, but he that comes after me is mightier than I, whose sandals I am not fit to bear; he shall baptise you with [the] Holy Spirit and fire;

[12]whose winnowing fan [is] in his hand, and he shall thoroughly purge his threshing-floor, and shall gather his wheat into the garner, but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.

[13]Then comes Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan to John, to be baptised of him;

[14]but John urgently forbad him, saying, I have need to be baptised of thee; and comest thou to me?

[15]But Jesus answering said to him, Suffer [it] now; for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffers him.

[16]And Jesus, having been baptised, went up straightway from the water, and lo, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him:

[17]and behold, a voice out of the heavens saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I have found my delight.

4Then Jesus was carried up into the wilderness by the Spirit to be tempted of the devil:

[2]and having fasted forty days and forty nights, afterwards he hungered.

[3]And the tempter coming up to him said, If thou be Son of God, speak, that these stones may become loaves of bread.

[4]But he answering said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word which goes out through God's mouth.

[5]Then the devil takes him to the holy city, and sets him upon the edge of the temple,

[6]and says to him, If thou be Son of God cast thyself down; for it is written, He shall give charge to his angels concerning thee, and on [their] hands shall they bear thee, lest in anywise thou strike thy foot against a stone.

[7]Jesus said to him, It is again written, Thou shalt not tempt [the] Lord thy God.

[8]Again the devil takes him to a very high mountain, and shews him all the kingdoms of the world, and their glory,

[9]and says to him, All these things will I give thee if, falling down, thou wilt do me homage.

[10]Then says Jesus to him, Get thee away, Satan, for it is written, Thou shalt do homage to [the] Lord thy God, and him alone shalt thou serve.

[11]Then the devil leaves him, and behold, angels came and ministered to him.

[12]But having heard that John was delivered up, he departed into Galilee:

[13]and having left Nazareth, he went and dwelt at Capernaum, which is on the sea-side in the borders of Zabulon and Nepthalim,

[14]that that might be fulfilled which was spoken through Esaias the prophet, saying,

[15]Land of Zabulon and land of Nepthalim, way of [the] sea beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations:

[16]-- the people sitting in darkness has seen a great light, and to those sitting in [the] country and shadow of death, to them has light sprung up.

[17]From that time began Jesus to preach and to say, Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has drawn nigh.

[18]And walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishers;

[19]and he says to them, Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men.

[20]And they, having left their trawl-nets, immediately followed him.

[21]And going on thence he saw other two brothers, James the [son] of Zebedee and John his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending their trawl-nets, and he called them;

[22]and they, having left the ship and their father, immediately followed him.

[23]And [Jesus] went round the whole [of] Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the glad tidings of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every bodily weakness among the people.

[24]And his fame went out into the whole [of] Syria, and they brought to him all that were ill, suffering under various diseases and pains, and those possessed by demons, and lunatics, and paralytics; and he healed them.

[25]And great crowds followed him from Galilee, and Decapolis, and Jerusalem, and Judaea, and beyond the Jordan.

5But seeing the crowds, he went up into the mountain, and having sat down, his disciples came to him;

[2]and, having opened his mouth, he taught them, saying,

[3]Blessed [are] the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens.

[4]Blessed they that mourn, for they shall be comforted.

[5]Blessed the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.

[6]Blessed they who hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled.

[7]Blessed the merciful, for they shall find mercy.

[8]Blessed the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

[9]Blessed the peace-makers, for they shall be called sons of God.

[10]Blessed they who are persecuted on account of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens.

[11]Blessed are ye when they may reproach and persecute you, and say every wicked thing against you, lying, for my sake.

[12]Rejoice and exult, for your reward is great in the heavens; for thus have they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

[13]Ye are the salt of the earth; but if the salt have become insipid, wherewith shall it be salted? It is no longer fit for anything but to be cast out and to be trodden under foot by men.

[14]Ye are the light of the world: a city situated on the top of a mountain cannot be hid.

[15]Nor do [men] light a lamp and put it under the bushel, but upon the lamp-stand, and it shines for all who are in the house.

[16]Let your light thus shine before men, so that they may see your upright works, and glorify your Father who is in the heavens.

[17]Think not that I am come to make void the law or the prophets; I am not come to make void, but to fulfil.

[18]For verily I say unto you, Until the heaven and the earth pass away, one iota or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all come to pass.

[19]Whosoever then shall do away with one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of the heavens; but whosoever shall practise and teach [them], he shall be called great in the kingdom of the heavens.

[20]For I say unto you, that unless your righteousness surpass [that] of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of the heavens.

[21]Ye have heard that it was said to the ancients, Thou shalt not kill; but whosoever shall kill shall be subject to the judgment.

[22]But I say unto you, that every one that is lightly angry with his brother shall be subject to the judgment; but whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be subject to [be called before] the sanhedrim; but whosoever shall say, Fool, shall be subject to the penalty of the hell of fire.

[23]If therefore thou shouldest offer thy gift at the altar, and there shouldest remember that thy brother has something against thee, [24]leave there thy gift before the altar, and first go, be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

[25]Make friends with thine adverse party quickly, whilst thou art in the way with him; lest some time the adverse party deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

[26]Verily I say to thee, Thou shalt in no wise come out thence till thou hast paid the last farthing.

[27]Ye have heard that it has been said, Thou shalt not commit adultery.

[28]But I say unto you, that every one who looks upon a woman to lust after her has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

[29]But if thy right eye be a snare to thee, pluck it out and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members perish, and not thy whole body be cast into hell.

[30]And if thy right hand be a snare to thee, cut it off and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members perish, and not thy whole body be cast into hell.

[31]It has been said too, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a letter of divorce.

[32]But I say unto you, that whosoever shall put away his wife, except for cause of fornication, makes her commit adultery, and whosoever marries one that is put away commits adultery.

[33]Again, ye have heard that it has been said to the ancients, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt render to the Lord what thou hast sworn.

[34]But I say unto you, Do not swear at all; neither by the heaven, because it is [the] throne of God;

[35]nor by the earth, because it is [the] footstool of his feet; nor by Jerusalem, because it is [the] city of the great King.

[36]Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

[37]But let your word be Yea, yea; Nay, nay; but what is more than these is from evil.

[38]Ye have heard that it has been said, Eye for eye and tooth for tooth.

[39]But I say unto you, not to resist evil; but whoever shall strike thee on thy right cheek, turn to him also the other;

[40]and to him that would go to law with thee and take thy body coat, leave him thy cloak also.

[41]And whoever will compel thee to go one mile, go with him two.

[42]To him that asks of thee give, and from him that desires to borrow of thee turn not away.

[43]Ye have heard that it has been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour and hate thine enemy.

[44]But I say unto you, Love your enemies, [bless those who curse you,] do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who [insult you and] persecute you, [45]that ye may be [the] sons of your Father who is in [the] heavens; for he makes his sun rise on evil and good, and sends rain on just and unjust.

[46]For if ye should love those who love you, what reward have ye? Do not also the tax-gatherers the same?

[47]And if ye should salute your brethren only, what do ye extraordinary? Do not also the Gentiles the same?

[48]Be ye therefore perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6Take heed not to do your alms before men to be seen of them, otherwise ye have no reward with your Father who is in the heavens.

[2]When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, so that they may have glory from men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

[3]But thou, when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand does;

[4]so that thine alms may be in secret, and thy Father who sees in secret will render [it] to thee.

[5]And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites; for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets so that they should appear to men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

[6]But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father who is in secret, and thy Father who sees in secret will render [it] to thee.

[7]But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as those who are of the nations: for they think they shall be heard through their much speaking.

[8]Be not ye therefore like them, for your Father knows of what things ye have need before ye beg [anything] of him.

[9]Thus therefore pray ye: Our Father who art in the heavens, let thy name be sanctified,

[10]let thy kingdom come, let thy will be done as in heaven so upon the earth;

[11]give us to-day our needed bread,

[12]and forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors,

[13]and lead us not into temptation, but save us from evil.

[14]For if ye forgive men their offences, your heavenly Father also will forgive you [yours], [15]but if ye do not forgive men their offences, neither will your Father forgive your offences.

[16]And when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, downcast in countenance; for they disfigure their faces, so that they may appear fasting to men: verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

[17]But thou, [when] fasting, anoint thy head and wash thy face, [18]so that thou mayest not appear fasting unto men, but to thy Father who is in secret; and thy Father who sees in secret shall render [it] to thee.

[19]Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust spoils, and where thieves dig through and steal;

[20]but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust spoils, and where thieves do not dig through nor steal;

[21]for where thy treasure is, there will be also thy heart.

[22]The lamp of the body is the eye; if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body will be light:

[23]but if thine eye be wicked, thy whole body will be dark. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great the darkness!

[24]No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and will love the other, or he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

[25]For this cause I say unto you, Do not be careful about your life, what ye should eat and what ye should drink; nor for your body what ye should put on. Is not the life more than food, and the body than raiment?

[26]Look at the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, nor reap, nor gather into granaries, and your heavenly Father nourishes them. Are ye not much more excellent than they?

[27]But which of you by carefulness can add to his growth one cubit?

[28]And why are ye careful about clothing? Observe with attention the lilies of the field, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin;

[29]but I say unto you, that not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed as one of these.

[30]But if God so clothe the herbage of the field, which is to-day, and to-morrow is cast into [the] oven, will he not much rather you, O [ye] of little faith?

[31]Be not therefore careful, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or What shall we put on?

[32]for all these things the nations seek after; for your heavenly Father knows that ye have need of all these things.

[33]But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.

[34]Be not careful therefore for the morrow, for the morrow shall be careful about itself. Sufficient to the day [is] its own evil.

7 Judge not, that ye may not be judged;

[2]for with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you.

[3]But why lookest thou on the mote that is in the eye of thy brother, but observest not the beam that is in thine eye?

[4]Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Allow [me], I will cast out the mote from thine eye; and behold, the beam is in thine eye?

[5]Hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine eye, and then thou wilt see clearly to cast out the mote out of the eye of thy brother.

[6]Give not that which is holy to the dogs, nor cast your pearls before the swine, lest they trample them with their feet, and turning round rend you.

[7]Ask, and it shall be given to you. Seek, and ye shall find. Knock, and it shall be opened to you.

[8]For every one that asks receives; and he that seeks finds; and to him that knocks it shall be opened.

[9]Or what man is there of you who, if his son shall ask of him a loaf of bread, will give him a stone;

[10]and if he ask a fish, will give him a serpent?

[11]If therefore ye, being wicked, know [how] to give good gifts to your children, how much rather shall your Father who is in the heavens give good things to them that ask of him?

[12]Therefore all things whatever ye desire that men should do to you, thus do ye also do to them; for this is the law and the prophets.

[13]Enter in through the narrow gate, for wide the gate and broad the way that leads to destruction, and many are they who enter in through it.

[14]For narrow the gate and straitened the way that leads to life, and they are few who find it.

[15]But beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but within are ravening wolves.

[16]By their fruits ye shall know them. Do [men] gather a bunch of grapes from thorns, or from thistles figs?

[17]So every good tree produces good fruits, but the worthless tree produces bad fruits.

[18]A good tree cannot produce bad fruits, nor a worthless tree produce good fruits.

[19]Every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and cast into the fire.

[20]By their fruits then surely ye shall know them.

[21]Not every one who says to me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of the heavens, but he that does the will of my Father who is in the heavens.

[22]Many shall say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied through thy name, and through thy name cast out demons, and through thy name done many works of power?

[23]and then will I avow unto them, I never knew you. Depart from me, workers of lawlessness.

[24]Whoever therefore hears these my words and does them, I will liken him to a prudent man, who built his house upon the rock;

[25]and the rain came down, and the streams came, and the winds blew and fell upon that house, and it did not fall, for it had been founded upon the rock.

[26]And every one who hears these my words and does not do them, he shall be likened to a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand;

[27]and the rain came down, and the streams came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house, and it fell, and its fall was great.

[28]And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these words, the crowds were astonished at his doctrine, [29]for he taught them as having authority, and not as their scribes.

8And when he had come down from the mountain, great crowds followed him.

[2]And behold, a leper came up to [him] and did him homage, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou art able to cleanse me.

[3]And he stretched out his hand and touched him, saying, I will; be cleansed. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

[4]And Jesus says to him, See thou tell no man, but go, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift which Moses ordained, for a testimony to them.

[5]And when he had entered into Capernaum, a centurion came to him, beseeching him,

[6]and saying, Lord, my servant lies paralytic in the house, suffering grievously.

[7]And Jesus says to him, I will come and heal him.

[8]And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not fit that thou shouldest enter under my roof; but only speak a word, and my servant shall be healed.

[9]For I also am a man under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say to this [one], Go, and he goes; and to another, Come, and he comes; and to my bondman, Do this, and he does it.

[10]And when Jesus heard it, he wondered, and said to those who followed, Verily I say unto you, Not even in Israel have I found so great faith.

[11]But I say unto you, that many shall come from [the] rising and setting [sun], and shall lie down at table with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of the heavens;

[12]but the sons of the kingdom shall be cast out into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

[13]And Jesus said to the centurion, Go, and as thou hast believed, be it to thee. And his servant was healed in that hour.

[14]And when Jesus had come to Peter's house, he saw his mother-in-law laid down and in a fever;

[15]and he touched her hand, and the fever left her, and she arose and served him.

[16]And when the evening was come, they brought to him many possessed by demons, and he cast out the spirits with a word, and healed all that were ill;

[17]so that that should be fulfilled which was spoken through Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities and bore our diseases.

[18]And Jesus, seeing great crowds around him, commanded to depart to the other side.

[19]And a scribe came up and said to him, Teacher, I will follow thee whithersoever thou mayest go.

[20]And Jesus says to him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven roosting-places; but the Son of man has not where he may lay his head.

[21]But another of his disciples said to him, Lord, suffer me first to go away and bury my father.

[22]But Jesus said to him, Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead.

[23]And he went on board ship and his disciples followed him;

[24]and behold, [the water] became very agitated on the sea, so that the ship was covered by the waves; but he slept.

[25]And the disciples came and awoke him, saying, Lord save: we perish.

[26]And he says to them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then, having arisen, he rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm.

[27]But the men were astonished, saying, What sort [of man] is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?

[28]And there met him, when he came to the other side, to the country of the Gergesenes, two possessed by demons, coming out of the tombs, exceeding dangerous, so that no one was able to pass by that way.

[29]And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Son of God? hast thou come here before the time to torment us?

[30]Now there was, a great way off from them, a herd of many swine feeding;

[31]and the demons besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of swine.

[32]And he said to them, Go. And they, going out, departed into the herd of swine; and lo, the whole herd [of swine] rushed down the steep slope into the sea, and died in the waters.

[33]But they that fed them fled, and went away into the city and related everything, and what had happened as to those possessed by demons.

[34]And behold, the whole city went out to meet Jesus; and when they saw him, they begged [him] to go away out of their coasts.

9And going on board the ship, he passed over and came to his own city.

[2]And behold, they brought to him a paralytic, laid upon a bed; and Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, Be of good courage, child; thy sins are forgiven.

[3]And behold, certain of the scribes said to themselves, This [man] blasphemes.

[4]And Jesus, seeing their thoughts, said, Why do ye think evil things in your hearts?

[5]For which is easier: to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Rise up and walk?

[6]But that ye may know that the Son of man has power on earth to forgive sins, (then he says to the paralytic,) Rise up, take up thy bed and go to thy house.

[7]And he rose up and went to his house.

[8]But the crowds seeing [it], were in fear, and glorified God who gave such power to men.

[9]And Jesus, passing on thence, saw a man sitting at the tax-office, called Matthew, and says to him, Follow me. And he rose up and followed him.

[10]And it came to pass, as he lay at table in the house, that behold, many tax-gatherers and sinners came and lay at table with Jesus and his disciples.

[11]And the Pharisees seeing [it], said to his disciples, Why does your teacher eat with tax-gatherers and sinners?

[12]But [Jesus] hearing it, said, They that are strong have not need of a physician, but those that are ill.

[13]But go and learn what [that] is -- I will have mercy and not sacrifice; for I have not come to call righteous [men] but sinners.

[14]Then come to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees often fast, but thy disciples fast not?

[15]And Jesus said to them, Can the sons of the bridechamber mourn so long as the bridegroom is with them? But days will come when the bridegroom will have been taken away from them, and then they will fast.

[16]But no one puts a patch of new cloth on an old garment, for its filling up takes from the garment and a worse rent takes place.

[17]Nor do men put new wine into old skins, otherwise the skins burst and the wine is poured out, and the skins will be destroyed; but they put new wine into new skins, and both are preserved together.

[18]As he spoke these things to them, behold, a ruler coming in did homage to him, saying, My daughter has by this died; but come and lay thy hand upon her and she shall live.

[19]And Jesus rose up and followed him, and [so did] his disciples.

[20]And behold, a woman, who had had a bloody flux [for] twelve years, came behind and touched the hem of his garment;

[21]for she said within herself, If I should only touch his garment I shall be healed.

[22]But Jesus turning and seeing her, said, Be of good courage, daughter; thy faith has healed thee. And the woman was healed from that hour.

[23]And when Jesus was come to the house of the ruler, and saw the flute-players and the crowd making a tumult, [24]he said, Withdraw, for the damsel is not dead, but sleeps. And they derided him.

[25]But when the crowd had been put out, he went in and took her hand; and the damsel rose up.

[26]And the fame of it went out into all that land.

[27]And as Jesus passed on thence, two blind [men] followed him, crying and saying, Have mercy on us, Son of David.

[28]And when he was come to the house, the blind [men] came to him. And Jesus says to them, Do ye believe that I am able to do this? They say to him, Yea, Lord.

[29]Then he touched their eyes, saying, According to your faith, be it unto you.

[30]And their eyes were opened; and Jesus charged them sharply, saying, See, let no man know it.

[31]But they, when they were gone out, spread his name abroad in all that land.

[32]But as these were going out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed by a demon.

[33]And the demon having been cast out, the dumb spake. And the crowds were astonished, saying, It has never been seen thus in Israel.

[34]But the Pharisees said, He casts out the demons through the prince of the demons.

[35]And Jesus went round all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the glad tidings of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every bodily weakness.

[36]But when he saw the crowds he was moved with compassion for them, because they were harassed, and cast away as sheep not having a shepherd.

[37]Then saith he to his disciples, The harvest [is] great and the workmen [are] few;

[38]supplicate therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth workmen unto his harvest.

10And having called to [him] his twelve disciples, he gave them power over unclean spirits, so that they should cast them out, and heal every disease and every bodily weakness.

[2]Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: first, Simon, who was called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the [son] of Zebedee, and John his brother;

[3]Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the tax-gatherer; James the [son] of Alphaeus, and Lebbaeus, who was surnamed Thaddaeus;

[4]Simon the Cananaean, and Judas the Iscariote, who also delivered him up.

[5]These twelve Jesus sent out when he had charged them, saying, Go not off into [the] way of [the] nations, and into a city of Samaritans enter ye not;

[6]but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

[7]And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of the heavens has drawn nigh.

[8]Heal [the] infirm, [raise the dead], cleanse lepers, cast out demons: ye have received gratuitously, give gratuitously.

[9]Do not provide yourselves with gold, or silver, or brass, for your belts,

[10]nor scrip for the way, nor two body coats, nor sandals, nor a staff: for the workman is worthy of his nourishment.

[11]But into whatsoever city or village ye enter, inquire who in it is worthy, and there remain till ye go forth.

[12]And as ye enter into a house salute it.

[13]And if the house indeed be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

[14]And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet.

[15]Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in judgment-day than for that city.

[16]Behold, I send you as sheep in the midst of wolves; be therefore prudent as the serpents, and guileless as the doves.

[17]But beware of men; for they will deliver you up to sanhedrims, and scourge you in their synagogues;

[18]and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

[19]But when they deliver you up, be not careful how or what ye shall speak; for it shall be given to you in that hour what ye shall speak.

[20]For ye are not the speakers, but the Spirit of your Father which speaks in you.

[21]But brother shall deliver up brother to death, and father child; and children shall rise up against parents and shall put them to death;

[22]and ye shall be hated of all on account of my name. But he that has endured to [the] end, he shall be saved.

[23]But when they persecute you in this city, flee to the other; for verily I say to you, Ye shall not have completed the cities of Israel until the Son of man be come.

[25][It is] sufficient for the disciple that he should become as his teacher, and the bondman as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more those of his household?

[26]Fear them not therefore; for there is nothing covered which shall not be revealed, and secret which shall not be known.

[27]What I say to you in darkness speak in the light, and what ye hear in the ear preach upon the houses.

[28]And be not afraid of those who kill the body, but cannot kill the soul; but fear rather him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

[29]Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall to the ground without your Father;

[30]but of you even the hairs of the head are all numbered.

[31]Fear not therefore; ye are better than many sparrows.

[32]Every one therefore who shall confess me before men, I also will confess him before my Father who is in [the] heavens.

[33]But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father who is in [the] heavens.

[34]Do not think that I have come to send peace upon the earth: I have not come to send peace, but a sword.

[35]For I have come to set a man at variance with his father, and the daughter with her mother, and the daughter-in-law with her mother-in-law;

[36]and they of his household [shall be] a man's enemies.

[37]He who loves father or mother above me is not worthy of me; and he who loves son or daughter above me is not worthy of me.

[38]And he who does not take up his cross and follow after me is not worthy of me.

[39]He that finds his life shall lose it, and he who has lost his life for my sake shall find it.

[40]He that receives you receives me, and he that receives me receives him that sent me.

[41]He that receives a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receives a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, shall receive a righteous man's reward.

[42]And whosoever shall give to drink to one of these little ones a cup of cold [water] only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

11 And it came to pass when Jesus had finished commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and preach in their cities.

[2]But John, having heard in the prison the works of the Christ, sent by his disciples,

[3]and said to him, Art thou the coming [one]? or are we to wait for another?

[4]And Jesus answering said to them, Go, report to John what ye hear and see.

[5]Blind [men] see and lame walk; lepers are cleansed, and deaf hear; and dead are raised, and poor have glad tidings preached to them:

[6]and blessed is whosoever shall not be offended in me.

[7]But as they went [away], Jesus began to say to the crowds concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? a reed moved about by the wind?

[8]But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in delicate raiment? behold, those who wear delicate things are in the houses of kings.

[9]But what went ye out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say to you, and more than a prophet:

[10]this is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee.

[11]Verily I say to you, that there is not arisen among [the] born of women a greater than John the baptist. But he who is a little one in the kingdom of the heavens is greater than he.

[12]But from the days of John the baptist until now, the kingdom of the heavens is taken by violence, and [the] violent seize on it.

[13]For all the prophets and the law have prophesied unto John.

[14]And if ye will receive it, this is Elias, who is to come.

[15]He that has ears to hear, let him hear.

[16]But to whom shall I liken this generation? It is like children sitting in the markets, which, calling to their companions, [17]say, We have piped to you, and ye have not danced: we have mourned to you, and ye have not wailed.

[18]For John has come neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He has a demon.

[19]The Son of man has come eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a man [that is] eating and wine-drinking, a friend of tax-gatherers, and of sinners: -- and wisdom has been justified by her children.

[20]Then began he to reproach the cities in which most of his works of power had taken place, because they had not repented.

[21]Woe to thee, Chorazin! woe to thee Bethsaida! for if the works of power which have taken place in you, had taken place in Tyre and Sidon, they had long ago repented in sackcloth and ashes.

[22]But I say to you, that it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in judgment-day than for you.

[23]And thou, Capernaum, who hast been raised up to heaven, shalt be brought down even to hades. For if the works of power which have taken place in thee, had taken place in Sodom, it had remained until this day.

[24]But I say to you, that it shall be more tolerable for [the] land of Sodom in judgment-day than for thee.

[25]At that time, Jesus answering said, I praise thee, Father, Lord of the heaven and of the earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them to babes.

[26]Yea, Father, for thus has it been well-pleasing in thy sight.

[27]All things have been delivered to me by my Father, and no one knows the Son but the Father, nor does any one know the Father, but the Son, and he to whom the Son may be pleased to reveal [him].

[28]Come to me, all ye who labour and are burdened, and I will give you rest.

[29]Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest to your souls;

[30]for my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

12 At that time Jesus went on the sabbath through the cornfields; and his disciples were hungry, and began to pluck the ears and to eat.

[2]But the Pharisees, seeing [it], said to him, Behold, thy disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on sabbath.

[3]But he said to them, Have ye not read what David did when he was hungry, and they that were with him?

[4]How he entered into the house of God, and ate the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those with him, but for the priests only?

[5]Or have ye not read in the law that on the sabbaths the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

[6]But I say unto you, that there is here what is greater than the temple.

[7]But if ye had known what is: I will have mercy and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

[8]For the Son of man is Lord of the sabbath.

[9]And, going away from thence, he came into their synagogue.

[10]And behold, there was a man having his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath? that they might accuse him.

[11]But he said to them, What man shall there be of you who has one sheep, and if this fall into a pit on the sabbath, will not lay hold of it and raise [it] up?

[12]How much better then is a man than a sheep! So that it is lawful to do well on the sabbath.

[13]Then he says to the man, Stretch out thy hand. And he stretched [it] out, and it was restored sound as the other.

[14]But the Pharisees, having gone out, took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

[15]But Jesus knowing [it], withdrew thence, and great crowds followed him; and he healed them all:

[16]and charged them strictly that they should not make him publicly known:

[17]that that might be fulfilled which was spoken through Esaias the prophet, saying,

[18]Behold my servant, whom I have chosen, my beloved, in whom my soul has found its delight. I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall shew forth judgment to the nations.

[19]He shall not strive or cry out, nor shall any one hear his voice in the streets;

[20]a bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, until he bring forth judgment unto victory;

[21]and on his name shall [the] nations hope.

[22]Then was brought to him one possessed by a demon, blind and dumb, and he healed him, so that the dumb [man] spake and saw.

[23]And all the crowds were amazed and said, Is this [man] the Son of David?

[24]But the Pharisees, having heard [it], said, This [man] does not cast out demons, but by Beelzebub, prince of demons.

[25]But he, knowing their thoughts, said to them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not subsist.

[26]And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom subsist?

[27]And if I cast out demons by Beelzebub, your sons, by whom do they cast [them] out? For this reason they shall be your judges.

[28]But if I by [the] Spirit of God cast out demons, then indeed the kingdom of God is come upon you.

[29]Or how can any one enter into the house of the strong [man] and plunder his goods, unless first he bind the strong [man]? and then he will plunder his house.

[30]He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathers not with me scatters.

[31]For this reason I say unto you, Every sin and injurious speaking shall be forgiven to men, but speaking injuriously of the Spirit shall not be forgiven to men.

[32]And whosoever shall have spoken a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this age nor in the coming [one].

[33]Either make the tree good, and its fruit good; or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt. For from the fruit the tree is known.

[34]Offspring of vipers! how can ye speak good things, being wicked? For of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.

[35]The good man out of the good treasure brings forth good things; and the wicked man out of the wicked treasure brings forth wicked things.

[36]But I say unto you, that every idle word which men shall say, they shall render an account of it in judgment-day:

[37]for by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

[38]Then answered him some of the scribes and Pharisees, saying, Teacher, we desire to see a sign from thee.

[39]But he, answering, said to them, A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and a sign shall not be given to it save the sign of Jonas the prophet.

[40]For even as Jonas was in the belly of the great fish three days and three nights, thus shall the Son of man be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights.

[41]Ninevites shall stand up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, more than Jonas [is] here.

[42]A queen of [the] south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it; for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, more than Solomon [is] here.

[43]But when the unclean spirit has gone out of the man, he goes through dry places, seeking rest, and does not find [it].

[44]Then he says, I will return to my house whence I came out; and having come, he finds [it] unoccupied, swept, and adorned.

[45]Then he goes and takes with himself seven other spirits worse than himself, and entering in, they dwell there; and the last condition of that man becomes worse than the first. Thus shall it be to this wicked generation also.

[46]But while he was yet speaking to the crowds, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, seeking to speak to him.

[47]Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren are standing without, seeking to speak to thee.

[48]But he answering said to him that spoke to him, Who is my mother, and who are my brethren?

[49]And, stretching out his hand to his disciples, he said, Behold my mother and my brethren;

[50]for whosoever shall do the will of my Father who is in [the] heavens, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

13And that [same] day Jesus went out from the house and sat down by the sea.

[2]And great crowds were gathered together to him, so that going on board ship himself he sat down, and the whole crowd stood on the shore.

[3]And he spoke to them many things in parables, saying, Behold, the sower went out to sow:

[4]and as he sowed, some [grains] fell along the way, and the birds came and devoured them;

[5]and others fell upon the rocky places where they had not much earth, and immediately they sprang up out of [the ground] because of not having [any] depth of earth,

[6]but when the sun rose they were burned up, and because of not having [any] root were dried up;

[7]and others fell upon the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them;

[8]and others fell upon the good ground, and produced fruit, one a hundred, one sixty, and one thirty.

[9]He that has ears, let him hear.

[10]And the disciples came up and said to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

[11]And he answering said to them, Because to you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens, but to them it is not given;

[12]for whoever has, to him shall be given, and he shall be caused to be in abundance; but he who has not, even what he has shall be taken away from him.

[13]For this cause I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear nor understand;

[14]and in them is filled up the prophecy of Esaias, which says, Hearing ye shall hear and shall not understand, and beholding ye shall behold and not see;

[15]for the heart of this people has grown fat, and they have heard heavily with their ears, and they have closed their eyes as asleep, lest they should see with the eyes, and hear with the ears, and understand with the heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

[16]But blessed are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear;

[17]for verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous [men] have desired to see the things which ye behold and did not see [them], and to hear the things which ye hear and did not hear [them].

[18]Ye, therefore, hear the parable of the sower.

[19]From every one who hears the word of the kingdom and does not understand [it], the wicked one comes and catches away what was sown in his heart: this is he that is sown by the wayside.

[20]But he that is sown on the rocky places -- this is he who hears the word and immediately receives it with joy, [21]but has no root in himself, but is for a time only; and when tribulation or persecution happens on account of the word, he is immediately offended.

[22]And he that is sown among the thorns -- this is he who hears the word, and the anxious care of this life, and the deceit of riches choke the word, and he becomes unfruitful.

[23]But he that is sown upon the good ground -- this is he who hears and understands the word, who bears fruit also, and produces, one a hundred, one sixty, and one thirty.

[24]Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of the heavens has become like a man sowing good seed in his field;

[25]but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed darnel amongst the wheat, and went away.

[26]But when the blade shot up and produced fruit, then appeared the darnel also.

[27]And the bondmen of the householder came up and said to him, Sir, hast thou not sown good seed in thy field? whence then has it darnel?

[28]And he said to them, A man [that is] an enemy has done this. And the bondmen said to him, Wilt thou then that we should go and gather it [up]?

[29]But he said, No; lest [in] gathering the darnel ye should root up the wheat with it.

[30]Suffer both to grow together unto the harvest, and in time of the harvest I will say to the harvestmen, Gather first the darnel, and bind it into bundles to burn it; but the wheat bring together into my granary.

[31]Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of the heavens is like a grain of mustard [seed] which a man took and sowed in his field;

[32]which is less indeed than all seeds, but when it is grown is greater than herbs, and becomes a tree, so that the birds of heaven come and roost in its branches.

[33]He spoke another parable to them: The kingdom of the heavens is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal until it had been all leavened.

[34]All these things Jesus spoke to the crowds in parables, and without a parable he did not speak to them,

[35]so that that should be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things hidden from [the] world's foundation.

[36]Then, having dismissed the crowds, he went into the house; and his disciples came to him, saying, Expound to us the parable of the darnel of the field.

[37]But he answering said, He that sows the good seed is the Son of man,

[38]and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom, but the darnel are the sons of the evil [one];

[39]and the enemy who has sowed it is the devil; and the harvest is [the] completion of [the] age, and the harvestmen are angels.

[40]As then the darnel is gathered and is burned in the fire, thus it shall be in the completion of the age.

[41]The Son of man shall send his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all offences, and those that practise lawlessness;

[42]and they shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

[43]Then the righteous shall shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He that has ears, let him hear.

[44]The kingdom of the heavens is like a treasure hid in the field, which a man having found has hid, and for the joy of it goes and sells all whatever he has, and buys that field.

[45]Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like a merchant seeking beautiful pearls;

[46]and having found one pearl of great value, he went and sold all whatever he had and bought it.

[47]Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like a seine which has been cast into the sea, and which has gathered together of every kind,

[48]which, when it has been filled, having drawn up on the shore and sat down, they gathered the good into vessels and cast the worthless out.

[49]Thus shall it be in the completion of the age: the angels shall go forth and sever the wicked from the midst of the just,

[50]and shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

[51]Jesus says to them, Have ye understood all these things? They say to him, Yea, [Lord].

[52]And he said to them, For this reason every scribe discipled to the kingdom of the heavens is like a man [that is] a householder who brings out of his treasure things new and old.

[53]And it came to pass when Jesus had finished these parables he withdrew thence.

[54]And having come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished, and said, Whence has this [man] this wisdom and these works of power?

[55]Is not this the son of the carpenter? Is not his mother called Mary, and his brethren James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas?

[56]And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then has this [man] all these things?

[57]And they were offended in him. And Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honour, unless in his country and in his house.

[58]And he did not there many works of power, because of their unbelief.

14[1]At that time Herod the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus,

[2]and said to his servants, This is John the baptist: he is risen from the dead, and because of this these works of power display their force in him.

[3]For Herod had seized John, and had bound him and put him in prison on account of Herodias the wife of Philip his brother.

[4]For John said to him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.

[5]And [while] desiring to kill him, he feared the crowd, because they held him for a prophet.

[6]But when Herod's birthday was celebrated, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod;

[7]whereupon he promised with oath to give her whatsoever she should ask.

[8]But she, being set on by her mother, says, Give me here upon a dish the head of John the baptist.

[9]And the king was grieved; but on account of the oaths, and those lying at table with [him], he commanded [it] to be given.

[10]And he sent and beheaded John in the prison;

[11]and his head was brought upon a dish, and was given to the damsel, and she carried [it] to her mother.

[12]And his disciples came and took the body and buried it, and came and brought word to Jesus.

[13]And Jesus, having heard it, went away thence by ship to a desert place apart. And the crowds having heard [of it] followed him on foot from the cities.

[14]And going out he saw a great crowd, and was moved with compassion about them, and healed their infirm.

[15]But when even was come, his disciples came to him saying, The place is desert, and [much of] the [day] time already gone by; dismiss the crowds, that they may go into the villages and buy food for themselves.

[16]But Jesus said to them, They have no need to go: give ye them to eat.

[17]But they say to him, We have not here save five loaves and two fishes.

[18]And he said, Bring them here to me.

[19]And having commanded the crowds to recline upon the grass, having taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed: and having broken the loaves, he gave [them] to the disciples, and the disciples [gave them] to the crowds.

[20]And all ate and were filled, and they took up what was over and above of fragments twelve hand-baskets full.

[21]But those that had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

[22]And immediately he compelled the disciples to go on board ship, and to go on before him to the other side, until he should have dismissed the crowds.

[23]And having dismissed the crowds, he went up into the mountain apart to pray. And when even was come, he was alone there, [24]but the ship was already in the middle of the sea tossed by the waves, for the wind was contrary.

[25]But in the fourth watch of the night he went off to them, walking on the sea.

[26]And the disciples, seeing him walking on the sea, were troubled, saying, It is an apparition. And they cried out through fear.

[27]But Jesus immediately spoke to them, saying, Take courage; it is I: be not afraid.

[28]And Peter answering him said, Lord, if it be thou, command me to come to thee upon the waters.

[29]And he said, Come. And Peter, having descended from the ship, walked upon the waters to go to Jesus.

[30]But seeing the wind strong he was afraid; and beginning to sink he cried out, saying, Lord, save me.

[31]And immediately Jesus stretched out his hand and caught hold of him, and says to him, O thou of little faith, why didst thou doubt?

[32]And when they had gone up into the ship, the wind fell.

[33]But those in the ship came and did homage to him, saying, Truly thou art God's Son.

[34]And having crossed over they came to the land of Gennesaret.

[35]And when the men of that place recognised him, they sent to that whole country around, and they brought to him all that were ill,

[36]and besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment; and as many as touched were made thoroughly well.

15Then the scribes and Pharisees from Jerusalem come up to Jesus, saying,

[2]Why do thy disciples transgress what has been delivered by the ancients? for they do not wash their hands when they eat bread.

[3]But he answering said to them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God on account of your traditional teaching?

[4]For God commanded saying, Honour father and mother; and, He that speaks ill of father or mother, let him die the death.

[5]But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or mother, It is a gift, whatsoever [it be] by which [received] from me thou wouldest be profited:

[6]and he shall in no wise honour his father or his mother; and ye have made void the commandment of God on account of your traditional teaching.

[7]Hypocrites! well has Esaias prophesied about you, saying,

[8]This people honour me with the lips, but their heart is far away from me;

[9]but in vain do they worship me, teaching [as] teachings commandments of men.

[10]And having called to [him] the crowd, he said to them, Hear and understand:

[11]Not what enters into the mouth defiles the man; but what goes forth out of the mouth, this defiles the man.

[12]Then his disciples, coming up, said to him, Dost thou know that the Pharisees, having heard this word, have been offended?

[13]But he answering said, Every plant which my heavenly Father has not planted shall be rooted up.

[14]Leave them alone; they are blind leaders of blind: but if blind lead blind, both will fall into a ditch.

[15]And Peter answering said to him, Expound to us this parable.

[16]But he said, Are ye also still without intelligence?

[17]Do ye not yet apprehend, that everything that enters into the mouth finds its way into the belly, and is cast forth into the draught?

[18]but the things which go forth out of the mouth come out of the heart, and those defile man.

[19]For out of the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witnessings, blasphemies;

[20]these are the things which defile man; but the eating with unwashen hands does not defile man.

[21]And Jesus, going forth from thence, went away into the parts of Tyre and Sidon;

[22]and lo, a Canaanitish woman, coming out from those borders, cried [to him] saying, Have pity on me, Lord, Son of David; my daughter is miserably possessed by a demon.

[23]But he did not answer her a word. And his disciples came to [him] and asked him, saying, Dismiss her, for she cries after us.

[24]But he answering said, I have not been sent save to the lost sheep of Israel's house.

[25]But she came and did him homage, saying, Lord, help me.

[26]But he answering said, It is not well to take the bread of the children and cast it to the dogs.

[27]But she said, Yea, Lord; for even the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from the table of their masters.

[28]Then Jesus answering said to her, O woman, thy faith [is] great. Be it to thee as thou desirest. And her daughter was healed from that hour.

[29]And Jesus, going away from thence, came towards the sea of Galilee, and he went up into the mountain and sat down there;

[30]and great crowds came to him, having with them lame, blind, dumb, crippled, and many others, and they cast them at his feet, and he healed them:

[31]so that the crowds wondered, seeing dumb speaking, crippled sound, lame walking, and blind seeing; and they glorified the God of Israel.

[32]But Jesus, having called his disciples to [him], said, I have compassion on the crowd, because they have stayed with me already three days and they have not anything they can eat, and I would not send them away fasting lest they should faint on the way.

[33]And his disciples say to him, Whence should we have so many loaves in [the] wilderness as to satisfy so great a crowd?

[34]And Jesus says to them, How many loaves have ye? But they said, Seven, and a few small fishes.

[35]And he commanded the crowds to lie down on the ground;

[36]and having taken the seven loaves and the fishes, having given thanks, he broke [them] and gave [them] to his disciples, and the disciples to the crowd.

[37]And all ate and were filled; and they took up what was over and above of the fragments seven baskets full;

[38]but they that ate were four thousand men, besides women and children.

[39]And, having dismissed the crowds, he went on board ship and came to the borders of Magadan.

16 And the Pharisees and Sadducees, coming to [him], asked him, tempting [him], to shew them a sign out of heaven.

[2]But he answering said to them, When evening is come, ye say, Fine weather, for the sky is red;

[3]and in the morning, A storm to-day, for the sky is red [and] lowering; ye know [how] to discern the face of the sky, but ye cannot the signs of the times.

[4]A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and a sign shall not be given to it save the sign of Jonas. And he left them and went away.

[5]And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

[6]And Jesus said to them, See and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

[7]And they reasoned among themselves, saying, Because we have taken no bread.

[8]And Jesus knowing [it], said, Why reason ye among yourselves, O ye of little faith, because ye have taken no bread?

[9]Do ye not yet understand nor remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many hand-baskets ye took [up]?

[10]nor the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took [up]?

[11]How do ye not understand that [it was] not concerning bread I said to you, Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees?

[12]Then they comprehended that he did not speak of being beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

[13]But when Jesus was come into the parts of Caesarea-Philippi, he demanded of his disciples, saying, Who do men say that I the Son of man am?

[14]And they said, Some, John the baptist; and others, Elias; and others again, Jeremias or one of the prophets.

[15]He says to them, But ye, who do ye say that I am?

[16]And Simon Peter answering said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

[17]And Jesus answering said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona, for flesh and blood has not revealed [it] to thee, but my Father who is in the heavens.

[18]And I also, I say unto thee that thou art Peter, and on this rock I will build my assembly, and hades' gates shall not prevail against it.

[19]And I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of the heavens; and whatsoever thou mayest bind upon the earth shall be bound in the heavens; and whatsoever thou mayest loose on the earth shall be loosed in the heavens.

[20]Then he enjoined on his disciples that they should say to no man that he was the Christ.

[21]From that time Jesus began to shew to his disciples that he must go away to Jerusalem, and suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised.

[22]And Peter taking him to [him] began to rebuke him, saying, [God] be favourable to thee, Lord; this shall in no wise be unto thee.

[23]But turning round, he said to Peter, Get away behind me, Satan; thou art an offence to me, for thy mind is not on the things that are of God, but on the things that are of men.

[24]Then Jesus said to his disciples, If any one desires to come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me.

[25]For whosoever shall desire to save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake shall find it.

[26]For what does a man profit, if he should gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

[27]For the Son of man is about to come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and then he will render to each according to his doings.

[28]Verily I say unto you, There are some of those standing here that shall not taste of death at all until they shall have seen the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

17 And after six days Jesus takes with [him] Peter, and James, and John his brother, and brings them up into a high mountain apart.

[2]And he was transfigured before them. And his face shone as the sun, and his garments became white as the light;

[3]and lo, Moses and Elias appeared to them talking with him.

[4]And Peter answering said to Jesus, Lord, it is good we should be here. If thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles: for thee one, and for Moses one, and one for Elias.

[5]While he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and lo, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I have found my delight: hear him.

[6]And the disciples hearing [it] fell upon their faces, and were greatly terrified.

[7]And Jesus coming to [them] touched them, and said, Rise up, and be not terrified.

[8]And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one but Jesus alone.

[9]And as they descended from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no one, until the Son of man be risen up from among [the] dead.

[10]And [his] disciples demanded of him saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must first have come?

[11]And he answering said to them, Elias indeed comes first and will restore all things.

[12]But I say unto you that Elias has already come, and they have not known him, but have done unto him whatever they would. Thus also the Son of man is about to suffer from them.

[13]Then the disciples understood that he spoke to them of John the baptist.

[14]And when they came to the crowd, a man came to him, falling on his knees before him, and saying,

[15]Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is lunatic, and suffers sorely; for often he falls into the fire and often into the water.

[16]And I brought him to thy disciples, and they were not able to heal him.

[17]And Jesus answering said, O unbelieving and perverted generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? Bring him here to me.

[18]And Jesus rebuked him, and the demon went out from him, and the boy was healed from that hour.

[19]Then the disciples, coming to Jesus apart, said [to him], Why were not we able to cast him out?

[20]And he says to them, Because of your unbelief; for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard [seed], ye shall say to this mountain, Be transported hence there, and it shall transport itself; and nothing shall be impossible to you.

[21]But this kind does not go out but by prayer and fasting.

[22]And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said to them, The Son of man is about to be delivered up into [the] hands of men, [23]and they shall kill him; and the third day he shall be raised up. And they were greatly grieved.

[24]And when they came to Capernaum, those who received the didrachmas came to Peter and said, Does your teacher not pay the didrachmas?

[25]He says, Yes. And when he came into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, What dost thou think, Simon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive custom or tribute? from their own sons or from strangers?

[26]Peter says to him, From strangers. Jesus said to him, Then are the sons free.

[27]But that we may not be an offence to them, go to the sea and cast a hook, and take the first fish that comes up, and when thou hast opened its mouth thou wilt find a stater; take that and give it to them for me and thee.

18 In that hour the disciples came to Jesus saying, Who then is greatest in the kingdom of the heavens?

2 And Jesus having called a little child to [him], set it in their midst,

3 and said, Verily I say to you, Unless ye are converted and become as little children, ye will not at all enter into the kingdom of the heavens.

4 Whoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, he is the greatest in the kingdom of the heavens;

5 and whosoever shall receive one such little child in my name, receives me.

6 But whosoever shall offend one of these little ones who believe in me, it were profitable for him that a great millstone had been hanged upon his neck and he be sunk in the depths of the sea.

7 Woe to the world because of offences! For it must needs be that offences come; yet woe to that man by whom the offence comes!

8 And if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut it off and cast [it] from thee; it is good for thee to enter into life lame or maimed, [rather] than having two hands or two feet to be cast into eternal fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out and cast [it] from thee; it is good for thee to enter into life one-eyed, [rather] than having two eyes to be cast into the hell of fire.

10 See that ye do not despise one of these little ones; for I say unto you that their angels in [the] heavens continually behold the face of my Father who is in [the] heavens.

11 For the Son of man has come to save that which was lost.

12 What think ye? If a certain man should have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, does he not, leaving the ninety and nine on the mountains, go and seek the one that has gone astray?

13 And if it should come to pass that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoices more because of it than because of the ninety and nine not gone astray.

14 So it is not the will of your Father who is in [the] heavens that one of these little ones should perish.

15 But if thy brother sin against thee, go, reprove him between thee and him alone. If he hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.

16 But if he do not hear [thee], take with thee one or two besides, that every matter may stand upon the word of two witnesses or of three.

17 But if he will not listen to them, tell it to the assembly; and if also he will not listen to the assembly, let him be to thee as one of the nations and a tax-gatherer.

18 Verily I say to you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on the earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever ye shall loose on the earth shall be loosed in heaven.

[19]Again I say to you, that if two of you shall agree on the earth concerning any matter, whatsoever it may be that they shall ask, it shall come to them from my Father who is in [the] heavens.

[20]For where two or three are gathered together unto my name, there am I in the midst of them.

[21]Then Peter came to him and said, Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me and I forgive him? until seven times?

[22]Jesus says to him, I say not to thee until seven times, but until seventy times seven.

[23]For this cause the kingdom of the heavens has become like a king who would reckon with his bondmen.

[24]And having begun to reckon, one debtor of ten thousand talents was brought to him.

[25]But he not having anything to pay, [his] lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and his children, and everything that he had, and that payment should be made.

[26]The bondman therefore falling down did him homage, saying, Lord, have patience with me and I will pay thee all.

[27]And the lord of that bondman, being moved with compassion, loosed him and forgave him the loan.

[28]But that bondman having gone out, found one of his fellow-bondmen who owed him a hundred denarii. And having seized him, he throttled him, saying, Pay [me] if thou owest anything.

[29]His fellow-bondman therefore, having fallen down [at his feet], besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee.

[30]But he would not, but went away and cast him into prison, until he should pay what was owing.

[31]But his fellow-bondmen, having seen what had taken place, were greatly grieved, and went and recounted to their lord all that had taken place.

[32]Then his lord, having called him to [him], says to him, Wicked bondman! I forgave thee all that debt because thou besoughtest me;

[33]shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-bondman, as I also had compassion on thee?

[34]And his lord being angry delivered him to the tormentors till he paid all that was owing to him.

[35]Thus also my heavenly Father shall do to you if ye forgive not from your hearts every one his brother.

19 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these words, he withdrew from Galilee, and came to the coasts of Judaea beyond the Jordan;

[2]and great crowds followed him, and he healed them there.

[3]And the Pharisees came to him tempting him, and saying, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

[4]But he answering said [to them], Have ye not read that he who made [them], from the beginning made them male and female,

[5]and said, On account of this a man shall leave father and mother, and shall be united to his wife, and the two shall be one flesh?

[6]so that they are no longer two, but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate.

[7]They say to him, Why then did Moses command to give a letter of divorce and to send [her] away?

[8]He says to them, Moses, in view of your hardheartedness, allowed you to put away your wives; but from the beginning it was not thus.

[9]But I say unto you, that whosoever shall put away his wife, not for fornication, and shall marry another, commits adultery; and he who marries one put away commits adultery.

[10]His disciples say to him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

[11]And he said to them, All cannot receive this word, but those to whom it has been given;

[12]for there are eunuchs which have been born thus from [their] mother's womb; and there are eunuchs who have been made eunuchs of men; and there are eunuchs who have made eunuchs of themselves for the sake of the kingdom of the heavens. He that is able to receive [it], let him receive [it].

[13]Then there were brought to him little children that he might lay his hands on them and pray; but the disciples rebuked them.

[14]But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and do not hinder them from coming to me; for the kingdom of the heavens is of such:

[15]and having laid his hands upon them, he departed thence.

[16]And lo, one coming up said to him, Teacher, what good thing shall I do that I may have life eternal?

[17]And he said to him, What askest thou me concerning goodness? one is good. But if thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments.

[18]He says to him, Which? And Jesus said, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, [19]Honour thy father and thy mother, and Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

[20]The young man says to him, All these have I kept; what lack I yet?

[21]Jesus said to him, If thou wouldest be perfect, go, sell what thou hast and give to [the] poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.

[22]But the young man, having heard the word, went away grieved, for he had large possessions.

[23]And Jesus said to his disciples, Verily I say unto you, A rich man shall with difficulty enter into the kingdom of the heavens;

[24]and again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to enter a needle's eye than a rich man into the kingdom of God.

[25]And when the disciples heard [it] they were exceedingly astonished, saying, Who then can be saved?

[26]But Jesus, looking on [them], said to them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.

[27]Then Peter answering said to him, Behold, we have left all things and have followed thee; what then shall happen to us?

[28]And Jesus said to them, Verily I say unto you, That ye who have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit down upon his throne of glory, ye also shall sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

[29]And every one who has left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive a hundredfold, and shall inherit life eternal.

[30]But many first shall be last, and last first.

20For the kingdom of the heavens is like a householder who went out with the early morn to hire workmen for his vineyard.

[2]And having agreed with the workmen for a denarius the day, he sent them into his vineyard.

[3]And having gone out about [the] third hour, he saw others standing in the market-place idle;

[4]and to them he said, Go also ye into the vineyard, and whatsoever may be just I will give you. And they went their way.

[5]Again, having gone out about the sixth and ninth hour, he did likewise.

[6]But about the eleventh [hour], having gone out, he found others standing, and says to them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

[7]They say to him, Because no man has hired us. He says to them, Go also ye into the vineyard [and whatsoever may be just ye shall receive].

[8]But when the evening was come, the lord of the vineyard says to his steward, Call the workmen and pay [them] their wages, beginning from the last even to the first.

[9]And when they [who came to work] about the eleventh hour came, they received each a denarius.

[10]And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more, and they received also themselves each a denarius.

[11]And on receiving it they murmured against the master of the house, [12]saying, These last have worked one hour, and thou hast made them equal to us, who have borne the burden of the day and the heat.

[13]But he answering said to one of them, [My] friend, I do not wrong thee. Didst thou not agree with me for a denarius?

[14]Take what is thine and go. But it is my will to give to this last even as to thee:

[15]is it not lawful for me to do what I will in my own affairs? Is thine eye evil because I am good?

[16]Thus shall the last be first, and the first last; for many are called ones, but few chosen ones.

[17]And Jesus, going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples with [him] apart in the way, and said to them,

[18]Behold we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man will be delivered up to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death;

[19]and they will deliver him up to the nations to mock and to scourge and to crucify, and the third day he shall rise again.

[20]Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee, with her sons, doing homage, and asking something of him.

[21]And he said to her, What wilt thou? She says to him, Speak [the word] that these my two sons may sit, one on thy right hand and one on thy left in thy kingdom.

[22]And Jesus answering said, Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink the cup which I am about to drink? They say to him, We are able.

[23][And] he says to them, Ye shall drink indeed my cup, but to sit on my right hand and on [my] left, is not mine to give, but to those for whom it is prepared of my Father.

[24]And the ten, having heard [of it], were indignant about the two brothers.

[25]But Jesus having called them to [him], said, Ye know that the rulers of the nations exercise lordship over them, and the great exercise authority over them.

[26]It shall not be thus amongst you, but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your servant;

[27]and whosoever will be first among you, let him be your bondman;

[28]as indeed the Son of man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life a ransom for many.

[29]And as they went out from Jericho a great crowd followed him.

[30]And lo, two blind men, sitting by the wayside, having heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out saying, Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David.

[31]But the crowd rebuked them, that they might be silent. But they cried out the more, saying, Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David.

[32]And Jesus, having stopped, called them and said, What will ye that I shall do to you?

[33]They say to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

[34]And Jesus, moved with compassion, touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes had sight restored to them, and they followed him.

21 And when they drew near to Jerusalem and came to Bethphage, at the mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples,

[2]saying to them, Go into the village over against you, and immediately ye will find an ass tied, and a colt with it; loose [them] and lead [them] to me.

[3]And if any one say anything to you, ye shall say, The Lord has need of them, and straightway he will send them.

[4]But all this came to pass, that that might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying,

[5]Say to the daughter of Zion, Behold thy King cometh to thee, meek, and mounted upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

[6]But the disciples, having gone and done as Jesus had ordered them,

[7]brought the ass and the colt and put their garments upon them, and he sat on them.

[8]But a very great crowd strewed their own garments on the way, and others kept cutting down branches from the trees and strewing them on the way.

[9]And the crowds who went before him and who followed cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David; blessed [be] he who comes in the name of [the] Lord; hosanna in the highest.

[10]And as he entered into Jerusalem, the whole city was moved, saying, Who is this?

[11]And the crowds said, This is Jesus the prophet who is from Nazareth of Galilee.

[12]And Jesus entered into the temple [of God], and cast out all that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers and the seats of those that sold the doves.

[13]And he says to them, It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of robbers.

[14]And blind and lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them.

[15]And when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonders which he wrought, and the children crying in the temple and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David, they were indignant,

[16]and said to him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus says to them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

[17]And leaving them he went forth out of the city to Bethany, and there he passed the night.

[18]But early in the morning, as he came back into the city, he hungered.

[19]And seeing one fig-tree in the way, he came to it and found on it nothing but leaves only. And he says to it, Let there be never more fruit of thee for ever. And the fig-tree was immediately dried up.

[20]And when the disciples saw [it], they wondered, saying, How immediately is the fig-tree dried up!

[21]And Jesus answering said to them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and do not doubt, not only shall ye do what [is done] to the fig-tree, but even if ye should say to this mountain, Be thou taken away and be thou cast into the sea, it shall come to pass.

[22]And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

[23]And when he came into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him [as he was] teaching, saying, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

[24]And Jesus answering said to them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I also will tell you by what authority I do these things:

[25]The baptism of John, whence was it? of heaven or of men? And they reasoned among themselves, saying, If we should say, Of heaven, he will say to us, Why then have ye not believed him?

[26]but if we should say, Of men, we fear the crowd, for all hold John for a prophet.

[27]And answering Jesus they said, We do not know. He also said to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

[28]But what think ye? A man had two children, and coming to the first he said, Child, go to-day, work in [my] vineyard.

[29]And he answering said, I will not; but afterwards repenting himself he went.

[30]And coming to the second he said likewise; and he answering said, I [go], sir, and went not.

[31]Which of the two did the will of the father? They say [to him], The first. Jesus says to them, Verily I say unto you that the tax-gatherers and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

[32]For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not;

but the tax-gatherers and the harlots believed him; but ye when ye saw [it] repented not yourselves afterwards to believe him.

[33]Hear another parable: There was a householder who planted a vineyard, and made a fence round it, and dug a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and left the country.

[34]But when the time of fruit drew near, he sent his bondmen to the husbandmen to receive his fruits.

[35]And the husbandmen took his bondmen, and beat one, killed another, and stoned another.

[36]Again he sent other bondmen more than the first, and they did to them in like manner.

[37]And at last he sent to them his son, saying, They will have respect for my son.

[38]But the husbandmen, seeing the son, said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him and possess his inheritance.

[39]And they took him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him.

[40]When therefore the lord of the vineyard comes, what shall he do to those husbandmen?

[41]They say to him, He will miserably destroy those evil [men], and let out the vineyard to other husbandmen, who shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

[42]Jesus says to them, Have ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which they that builded rejected, this has become the corner-stone: this is of [the] Lord, and it is wonderful in our eyes?

[43]Therefore I say to you, that the kingdom of God shall be taken from you and shall be given to a nation producing the fruits of it.

[44]And he that falls on this stone shall be broken, but on whomsoever it shall fall, it shall grind him to powder.

[45]And the chief priests and the Pharisees, having heard his parables, knew that he spoke about them.

[46]And seeking to lay hold of him, they were afraid of the crowds, because they held him for a prophet.

22 And Jesus answering spoke to them again in parables, saying,

[2]The kingdom of the heavens has become like a king who made a wedding feast for his son,

[3]and sent his bondmen to call the persons invited to the wedding feast, and they would not come.

[4]Again he sent other bondmen, saying, Say to the persons invited, Behold, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and my fatted beasts are killed, and all things ready; come to the wedding feast.

[5]But they made light of it, and went, one to his own land, and another to his commerce.

[6]And the rest, laying hold of his bondmen, ill-treated and slew [them].

[7]And [when] the king [heard of it he] was wroth, and having sent his forces, destroyed those murderers and burned their city.

[8]Then he says to his bondmen, The wedding feast is ready, but those invited were not worthy;

[9]go therefore into the thoroughfares of the highways, and as many as ye shall find invite to the wedding feast.

[10]And those bondmen went out into the highways, and brought together all as many as they found, both evil and good; and the wedding feast was furnished with guests.

[11]And the king, having gone in to see the guests, beheld there a man not clothed with a wedding garment.

[12]And he says to him, [My] friend, how camest thou in here not having on a wedding garment? But he was speechless.

[13]Then said the king to the servants, Bind him feet and hands, and take him away, and cast him out into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

[14]For many are called ones, but few chosen ones.

[15]Then went the Pharisees and held a council how they might ensnare him in speaking.

[16]And they send out to him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Teacher, we know that thou art true and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one, for thou regardest not men's person;

[17]tell us therefore what thou thinkest: Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?

[18]But Jesus, knowing their wickedness, said, Why tempt ye me, hypocrites?

[19]Shew me the money of the tribute. And they presented to him a denarius.

[20]And he says to them, Whose [is] this image and superscription?

[21]They say to him, Caesar's. Then he says to them, Pay then what is Caesar's to Caesar, and what is God's to God.

[22]And when they heard [him], they wondered, and left him, and went away.

[23]On that day came to him Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection; and they demanded of him,

[24]saying, Teacher, Moses said, If any one die, not having children, his brother shall marry his wife and shall raise up seed to his brother.

[25]Now there were with us seven brethren; and the first having married died, and not having seed, left his wife to his brother.

[26]In like manner also the second and the third, unto the seven.

[27]And last of all the woman also died.

[28]In the resurrection therefore of which of the seven shall she be wife, for all had her?

[29]And Jesus answering said to them, Ye err, not knowing the scriptures nor the power of God.

[30]For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as angels of God in heaven.

[31]But concerning the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read what was spoken to you by God, saying, [32]I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not God of [the] dead, but of [the] living.

[33]And when the crowds heard [it] they were astonished at his doctrine.

[34]But the Pharisees, having heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, were gathered together.

[35]And one of them, a lawyer, demanded, tempting him, and saying, [36]Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law?

[37]And he said to him, Thou shalt love [the] Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy understanding.

[38]This is [the] great and first commandment.

[39]And [the] second is like it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

[40]On these two commandments the whole law and the prophets hang.

[41]And the Pharisees being gathered together, Jesus demanded of them, [42]saying, What think ye concerning the Christ? whose son is he? They say to him, David's.

[43]He says to them, How then does David in Spirit call him Lord, saying, [44]The Lord said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand until I put thine enemies under thy feet?

[45]If therefore David call him Lord, how is he his son?

[46]And no one was able to answer him a word, nor did any one dare from that day to question him any more.

23Then Jesus spoke to the crowds and to his disciples,

[2]saying, The scribes and the Pharisees have set themselves down in Moses' seat:

[3]all things therefore, whatever they may tell you, do and keep. But do not after their works, for they say and do not,

[4]but bind burdens heavy and hard to bear, and lay them on the shoulders of men, but will not move them with their finger.

[5]And all their works they do to be seen of men: for they make broad their phylacteries and enlarge the borders [of their garments],

[6]and love the chief place in feasts and the first seats in the synagogues,

[7]and salutations in the market-places, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

[8]But ye, be not ye called Rabbi; for one is your instructor, and all ye are brethren.

[9]And call not [any one] your father upon the earth; for one is your Father, he who is in the heavens.

[10]Neither be called instructors, for one is your instructor, the Christ.

[11]But the greatest of you shall be your servant.

[12]And whoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled, and whoever shall humble himself shall be exalted.

[13]But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye shut up the kingdom of the heavens before men; for ye do not enter, nor do ye suffer those that are entering to go in.

[15]Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye compass the sea and the dry [land] to make one proselyte, and when he is become [such], ye make him twofold more [the] son of hell than yourselves.

[16]Woe to you, blind guides, who say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor.

[17]Fools and blind, for which is greater, the gold, or the temple which sanctifies the gold?

[18]And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it is a debtor.

[19][Fools and] blind ones, for which is greater, the gift, or the altar which sanctifies the gift?

[20]He therefore that swears by the altar swears by it and by all things that are upon it.

[21]And he that swears by the temple swears by it and by him that dwells in it.

[22]And he that swears by heaven swears by the throne of God and by him that sits upon it.

[23]Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye pay tithes of mint and anise and cummin, and ye have left aside the weightier matters of the law, judgment and mercy and faith: these ye ought to have done and not have left those aside.

[24]Blind guides, who strain out the gnat, but drink down the camel.

[25]Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the dish, but within they are full of rapine and intemperance.

[26]Blind Pharisee, make clean first the inside of the cup and of the dish, that their outside also may become clean.

[27]Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye are like whited sepulchres, which appear beautiful outwardly, but within are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness.

[28]Thus also ye, outwardly ye appear righteous to men, but within are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

[29]Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets and adorn the tombs of the just,

[30]and ye say, If we had been in the days of our fathers we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

[31]So that ye bear witness of yourselves that ye are sons of those who slew the prophets:

[32]and ye, fill ye up the measure of your fathers.

[33]Serpents, offspring of vipers, how should ye escape the judgment of hell?

[34]Therefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes; and [some] of them ye will kill and crucify, and [some] of them ye will scourge in your synagogues, and will persecute from city to city;

[35]so that all righteous blood shed upon the earth should come upon you, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.

[36]Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

[37]Jerusalem, Jerusalem, [the city] that kills the prophets and stones those that are sent unto her, how often would I have gathered thy children as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!

[38]Behold, your house is left unto you desolate;

[39]for I say unto you, Ye shall in no wise see me henceforth until ye say, Blessed [be] he that comes in the name of [the] Lord.

24And Jesus went forth and went away from the temple, and his disciples came to [him] to point out to him the buildings of the temple.

[2]And he answering said to them, Do ye not see all these things? Verily I say to you, Not a stone shall be left here upon a stone which shall not be thrown down.

[3]And as he was sitting upon the mount of Olives the disciples came to him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be, and what is the sign of thy coming and [the] completion of the age?

[4]And Jesus answering said to them, See that no one mislead you.

[5]For many shall come in my name, saying, I am the Christ, and they shall mislead many.

[6]But ye will hear of wars and rumours of wars. See that ye be not disturbed; for all [these things] must take place, but it is not yet the end.

[7]For nation shall rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be famines and pestilences, and earthquakes in divers places.

[8]But all these [are the] beginning of throes.

[9]Then shall they deliver you up to tribulation, and shall kill you; and ye will be hated of all the nations for my name's sake.

[10]And then will many be offended, and will deliver one another up, and hate one another;

[11]and many false prophets shall arise and shall mislead many;

[12]and because lawlessness shall prevail, the love of the most shall grow cold;

[13]but he that has endured to the end, he shall be saved.

[14]And these glad tidings of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole habitable earth, for a witness to all the nations, and then shall come the end.

[15]When therefore ye shall see the abomination of desolation, which is spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in [what is a] holy place, (he that reads let him understand,)

[16]then let those who are in Judaea flee to the mountains;

[17]let not him that is on the house come down to take the things out of his house;

[18]and let not him that is in the field turn back to take his garment.

[19]But woe to those that are with child, and those that give suck in those days.

[20]But pray that your flight may not be in winter time nor on sabbath:

[21]for then shall there be great tribulation, such as has not been from [the] beginning of [the] world until now, nor ever shall be;

[22]and if those days had not been cut short, no flesh had been saved; but on account of the elect those days shall be cut short.

[23]Then if any one say to you, Behold, here is the Christ, or here, believe [it] not.

[24]For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall give great signs and wonders, so as to mislead, if possible, even the elect.

[25]Behold, I have told you beforehand.

[26]If therefore they say to you, Behold, he is in the desert, go not forth; behold, [he is] in the inner chambers, do not believe [it].

[27]For as the lightning goes forth from the east and shines to the west, so shall be the coming of the Son of man.

[28][For] wherever the carcase is, there will be gathered the eagles.

[29]But immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun shall be darkened, and the moon not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken.

[30]And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven; and then shall all the tribes of the land lament, and they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

[31]And he shall send his angels with a great sound of trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from [the one] extremity of [the] heavens to [the other] extremity of them.

[32]But learn the parable from the fig-tree: When already its branch becomes tender and produces leaves, ye know that the summer is near.

[33]Thus also ye, when ye see all these things, know that it is near, at the doors.

[34]Verily I say to you, This generation will not have passed away until all these things shall have taken place.

[35]The heaven and the earth shall pass away, but my words shall in no wise pass away.

[36]But of that day and hour no one knows, not even the angels of the heavens, but [my] Father alone.

[37]But as the days of Noe, so also shall be the coming of the Son of man.

[38]For as they were in the days which were before the flood, eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day on which Noe entered into the ark,

[39]and they knew not till the flood came and took all away; thus also shall be the coming of the Son of man.

[40]Then two shall be in the field, one is taken and one is left;

[41]two [women] grinding at the mill, one is taken and one is left.

[42]Watch therefore, for ye know not in what hour your Lord comes.

[43]But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief was coming, he would have watched and not have suffered his house to be dug through [into].

[44]Wherefore ye also, be ye ready, for in that hour that ye think not the Son of man comes.

45 Who then is the faithful and prudent bondman whom his lord has set over his household, to give them food in season?

46 Blessed is that bondman whom his lord on coming shall find doing thus.

47 Verily I say unto you, that he will set him over all his substance.

48 But if that evil bondman should say in his heart, My lord delays to come,

49 and begin to beat his fellow-bondmen, and eat and drink with the drunken;

50 the lord of that bondman shall come in a day when he does not expect it, and in an hour he knows not of,

51 and shall cut him in two and appoint his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

25 Then shall the kingdom of the heavens be made like to ten virgins that having taken their torches, went forth to meet the bridegroom.

2 And five of them were prudent and five foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their torches and did not take oil with them;

4 but the prudent took oil in their vessels with their torches.

5 Now the bridegroom tarrying, they all grew heavy and slept.

6 But in [the] middle of [the] night there was a cry, Behold, the bridegroom; go forth to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their torches.

8 And the foolish said to the prudent, Give us of your oil, for our torches are going out.

9 But the prudent answered saying, [We cannot,] lest it might not suffice for us and for you. Go rather to those that sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 But as they went away to buy, the bridegroom came, and the [ones that were] ready went in with him to the wedding feast, and the door was shut.

11 Afterwards come also the rest of the virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us;

12 but he answering said, Verily I say unto you, I do not know you.

13 Watch therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour.

14 For [it is] as [if] a man going away out of a country called his own bondmen and delivered to them his substance.

15 And to one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to each according to his particular ability, and immediately went away out of the country.

16 And he that had received the five talents went and trafficked with them, and made five other talents.

[17]In like manner also he that [had received] the two, [he also] gained two others.

[18]But he that had received the one went and dug in the earth, and hid the money of his lord.

[19]And after a long time the lord of those bondmen comes and reckons with them.

[20]And he that had received the five talents came to [him] and brought five other talents, saying, [My] lord, thou deliveredst me five talents; behold, I have gained five other talents besides them.

[21]His lord said to him, Well, good and faithful bondman, thou wast faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter into the joy of thy lord.

[22]And he also that had received the two talents came to [him] and said, [My] lord, thou deliveredst me two talents; behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.

[23]His lord said to him, Well, good and faithful bondman, thou wast faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

[24]And he also that had received the one talent coming to [him] said, [My] lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou hadst not sowed, and gathering from where thou hadst not scattered,

[25]and being afraid I went away and hid thy talent in the earth; behold, thou hast that which is thine.

[26]And his lord answering said to him, Wicked and slothful bondman, thou knewest that I reap where I had not sowed, and gather from where I had not scattered;

[27]thou oughtest then to have put my money to the money-changers, and when I came I should have got what is mine with interest.

[28]Take therefore the talent from him, and give it to him that has the ten talents:

[29]for to every one that has shall be given, and he shall be in abundance; but from him that has not, that even which he has shall be taken from him.

[30]And cast out the useless bondman into the outer darkness; there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

[31]But when the Son of man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then shall he sit down upon his throne of glory,

[32]and all the nations shall be gathered before him; and he shall separate them from one another, as the shepherd separates the sheep from the goats;

[33]and he will set the sheep on his right hand, and the goats on [his] left.

[34]Then shall the King say to those on his right hand, Come, blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from [the] world's foundation:

35 for I hungered, and ye gave me to eat; I thirsted, and ye gave me to drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in;

36 naked, and ye clothed me; I was ill, and ye visited me; I was in prison, and ye came to me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him saying, Lord, when saw we thee hungering, and nourished thee; or thirsting, and gave thee to drink?

38 and when saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in; or naked, and clothed thee?

39 and when saw we thee ill, or in prison, and came to thee?

40 And the King answering shall say to them, Verily, I say to you, Inasmuch as ye have done it to one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it to me.

41 Then shall he say also to those on the left, Go from me, cursed, into eternal fire, prepared for the devil and his angels:

42 for I hungered, and ye gave me not to eat; I thirsted, and ye gave me not to drink;

43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in; naked, and ye did not clothe me; ill, and in prison, and ye did not visit me.

44 Then shall they also answer saying, Lord, when saw we thee hungering, or thirsting, or a stranger, or naked, or ill, or in prison, and have not ministered to thee?

45 Then shall he answer them saying, Verily I say to you, Inasmuch as ye have not done it to one of these least, neither have ye done it to me.

46 And these shall go away into eternal punishment, and the righteous into life eternal.

26 And it came to pass when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said to his disciples,

2 Ye know that after two days the passover takes place, and the Son of man is delivered up to be crucified.

3 Then the chief priests and the elders of the people were gathered together to the palace of the high priest who was called Caiaphas,

4 and took counsel together in order that they might seize Jesus by subtlety and kill him;

5 but they said, Not in the feast, that there be not a tumult among the people.

6 But Jesus being in Bethany, in Simon the leper's house,

7 a woman, having an alabaster flask of very precious ointment, came to him and poured it out upon his head as he lay at table.

[8]But the disciples seeing it became indignant, saying, To what end [was] this waste?

[9]for this might have been sold for much and been given to the poor.

[10]But Jesus knowing [it] said to them, Why do ye trouble the woman? for she has wrought a good work toward me.

[11]For ye have the poor always with you, but me ye have not always.

[12]For in pouring out this ointment on my body, she has done it for my burying.

[13]Verily I say to you, Wheresoever these glad tidings may be preached in the whole world, that also which this [woman] has done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

[14]Then one of the twelve, he who was called Judas Iscariote, went to the chief priests

[15]and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him up to you? And they appointed to him thirty pieces of silver.

[16]And from that time he sought a good opportunity that he might deliver him up.

[17]Now on the first [day] of [the feast of] unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

[18]And he said, Go into the city unto such a one, and say to him, The Teacher says, My time is near, I will keep the passover in thy house with my disciples.

[19]And the disciples did as Jesus had directed them, and they prepared the passover.

[20]And when the evening was come he lay down at table with the twelve.

[21]And as they were eating he said, Verily I say to you, that one of you shall deliver me up.

[22]And being exceedingly grieved they began to say to him, each of them, Is it I, Lord?

[23]But he answering said, He that dips his hand with me in the dish, he it is who shall deliver me up.

[24]The Son of man goes indeed, according as it is written concerning him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is delivered up; it were good for that man if he had not been born.

[25]And Judas, who delivered him up, answering said, Is it I, Rabbi? He says to him, Thou hast said.

[26]And as they were eating, Jesus, having taken [the] bread and blessed, broke [it] and gave [it] to the disciples, and said, Take, eat: this is my body.

[27]And having taken [the] cup and given thanks, he gave [it] to them, saying, Drink ye all of it.

[28]For this is my blood, that of the [new] covenant, that shed for many for remission of sins.

[29]But I say to you, that I will not at all drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in the kingdom of my Father.

[30]And having sung a hymn, they went out to the mount of Olives.

[31]Then saith Jesus to them, All ye shall be offended in me during this night. For it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

[32]But after that I shall be risen, I will go before you to Galilee.

[33]And Peter answering said to him, If all shall be offended in thee, I will never be offended.

[34]Jesus said to him, Verily I say to thee, that during this night, before [the] cock shall crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

[35]Peter says to him, If I should needs die with thee, I will in no wise deny thee. Likewise said all the disciples also.

[36]Then Jesus comes with them to a place called Gethsemane, and says to the disciples, Sit here until I go away and pray yonder.

[37]And taking with [him] Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, he began to be sorrowful and deeply depressed.

[38]Then he says to them, My soul is very sorrowful even unto death; remain here and watch with me.

[39]And going forward a little he fell upon his face, praying and saying, My Father, if it be possible let this cup pass from me; but not as I will, but as thou [wilt].

[40]And he comes to the disciples and finds them sleeping, and says to Peter, Thus ye have not been able to watch one hour with me?

[41]Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed [is] ready, but the flesh weak.

[42]Again going away a second time he prayed saying, My Father, if this cannot pass [from me] unless I drink it, thy will be done.

[43]And coming he found them again sleeping, for their eyes were heavy.

[44]And leaving them, he went away again and prayed the third time, saying the same thing.

[45]Then he comes to the disciples and says to them, Sleep on now and take your rest; behold, the hour has drawn nigh, and the Son of man is delivered up into the hands of sinners.

[46]Arise, let us go; behold, he that delivers me up has drawn nigh.

[47]And while he was yet speaking, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great crowd with swords and sticks from the chief priests and elders of the people.

[48]Now he that delivered him up had given them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, he it is: seize him.

[49]And immediately coming up to Jesus he said, Hail, Rabbi, and covered him with kisses.

[50]But Jesus said to him, [My] friend, for what purpose art thou come? Then coming up they laid hands upon Jesus and seized him.

[51]And behold, one of those with Jesus stretched out his hand and drew his sword, and smiting the bondman of the high priest took off his ear.

[52]Then saith Jesus to him, Return thy sword to its place; for all who take the sword shall perish by the sword.

[53]Or thinkest thou that I cannot now call upon my Father, and he will furnish me more than twelve legions of angels?

[54]How then should the scriptures be fulfilled that thus it must be?

[55]In that hour Jesus said to the crowds, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and sticks to take me? I sat daily [with you] teaching in the temple, and ye did not seize me.

[56]But all this is come to pass that the scriptures of the prophets may be fulfilled. Then all the disciples left him and fled.

[57]Now they that had seized Jesus led [him] away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

[58]And Peter followed him at a distance, even to the palace of the high priest, and entering in sat with the officers to see the end.

[59]And the chief priests and the elders and the whole sanhedrim sought false witness against Jesus, so that they might put him to death.

[60]And they found none, though many false witnesses came forward. But at the last two false witnesses came forward

[61]and said, He said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and in three days build it.

[62]And the high priest standing up said to him, Answerest thou nothing? What do these witness against thee?

[63]But Jesus was silent. And the high priest answering said to him, I adjure thee by the living God that thou tell us if thou art the Christ the Son of God.

[64]Jesus says to him, Thou hast said. Moreover, I say to you, From henceforth ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming on the clouds of heaven.

[65]Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He has blasphemed: what need have we any more of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard the blasphemy.

[66]What think ye? And they answering said, He is liable to the penalty of death.

[67]Then they spit in his face, and buffeted him, and some struck him with the palms of their hand, [68]saying, Prophesy to us, Christ, Who is it who struck thee?

[69]But Peter sat without in the palace-court; and a maid came to him, saying, And thou wast with Jesus the Galilaean.

[70]But he denied before all, saying, I do not know what thou sayest.

[71]And when he had gone out into the entrance, another [maid] saw him, and says to those there, This [man] also was with Jesus the Nazaraean.

[72]And again he denied with an oath: I do not know the man.

[73]And after a little, those who stood [there], coming to [him], said to Peter, Truly thou too art of them, for also thy speech makes thee manifest.

[74]Then he began to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And immediately [the] cock crew.

[75]And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, who had said [to him], Before [the] cock crow thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went forth without, and wept bitterly.

27 And when it was morning all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus so that they might put him to death.

[2]And having bound him they led him away, and delivered him up to Pontius Pilate, the governor.

[3]Then Judas, who delivered him up, seeing that he had been condemned, filled with remorse, returned the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders,

[4]saying, I have sinned [in] having delivered up guiltless blood. But they said, What is that to us? see thou [to that].

[5]And having cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, he left the place, and went away and hanged himself.

[6]And the chief priests took the pieces of silver and said, It is not lawful to cast them into the Corban, since it is [the] price of blood.

[7]And having taken counsel, they bought with them the field of the potter for a burying-ground for strangers.

[8]Wherefore that field has been called Blood-field unto this day.

[9]Then was fulfilled that which was spoken through Jeremias the prophet, saying, And I took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was set a price on, whom [they who were] of the sons of Israel had set a price on,

[10]and they gave them for the field of the potter, according as [the] Lord commanded me.

[11]But Jesus stood before the governor. And the governor questioned him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said to him, Thou sayest.

[12]And when he was accused of the chief priests and the elders, he answered nothing.

[13]Then says Pilate to him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

[14]And he answered him not so much as one word, so that the governor wondered exceedingly.

[15]Now at [the] feast the governor was accustomed to release one prisoner to the crowd, whom they would.

[16]And they had then a notable prisoner, named Barabbas.

[17]They therefore being gathered together, Pilate said to them, Whom will ye that I release to you, Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ?

[18]For he knew that they had delivered him up through envy.

[19]But, as he was sitting on the judgment-seat, his wife sent to him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous [man]; for I have suffered to-day many things in a dream because of him.

[20]But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the crowds that they should beg for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

[21]And the governor answering said to them, Which of the two will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas.

[22]Pilate says to them, What then shall I do with Jesus, who is called Christ? They all say, Let him be crucified.

[23]And the governor said, What evil then has he done? But they cried more than ever, saying, Let him be crucified.

[24]And Pilate, seeing that it availed nothing, but that rather a tumult was arising, having taken water, washed his hands before the crowd, saying, I am guiltless of the blood of this righteous one: see ye [to it].

[25]And all the people answering said, His blood [be] on us and on our children.

[26]Then he released to them Barabbas; but Jesus, having scourged [him], he delivered up that he might be crucified.

[27]Then the soldiers of the governor, having taken Jesus with [them] to the praetorium, gathered against him the whole band,

[28]and having taken off his garment, put on him a scarlet cloak;

[29]and having woven a crown out of thorns, they put it on his head, and a reed in his right hand; and, bowing the knee before him, they mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!

[30]And having spit upon him, they took the reed and beat [him] on his head.

[31]And when they had mocked him, they took the cloak off him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him away to crucify.

[32]And as they went forth they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name; him they compelled to go [with them] that he might bear his cross.

[33]And having come to a place called Golgotha, which means Place of a skull, [34]they gave to him to drink vinegar mingled with gall; and having tasted [it], he would not drink.

[35]And having crucified him, they parted his clothes amongst [themselves], casting lots.

[36]And sitting down, they kept guard over him there.

[37]And they set up over his head his accusation written: This is Jesus, the King of the Jews.

[38]Then are crucified with him two robbers, one on the right hand and one on the left.

[39]But the passers-by reviled him, shaking their heads

[40]and saying, Thou that destroyest the temple and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou art Son of God, descend from the cross.

[41][And] in like manner the chief priests also, mocking, with the scribes and elders, said, [42]He saved others, himself he cannot save. He is King of Israel: let him descend now from the cross, and we will believe on him.

[43]He trusted upon God; let him save him now if he will [have] him. For he said, I am Son of God.

[44]And the robbers also who had been crucified with him cast the same reproaches on him.

[45]Now from [the] sixth hour there was darkness over the whole land until [the] ninth hour;

[46]but about the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

[47]And some of those who stood there, when they heard [it], said, This [man] calls for Elias.

[48]And immediately one of them running and getting a sponge, having filled [it] with vinegar and fixed [it] on a reed, gave him to drink.

[49]But the rest said, Let be; let us see if Elias comes to save him.

[50]And Jesus, having again cried with a loud voice, gave up the ghost.

[51]And lo, the veil of the temple was rent in two from the top to the bottom, and the earth was shaken, and the rocks were rent,

[52]and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of the saints fallen asleep arose,

[53]and going out of the tombs after his arising, entered into the holy city and appeared unto many.

[54]But the centurion, and they who were with him on guard over Jesus, seeing the earthquake and the things that took place, feared greatly, saying, Truly this [man] was Son of God.

[55]And there were there many women beholding from afar off, who had followed Jesus from Galilee ministering to him, [56]among whom was Mary of Magdala, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

[57]Now when even was come there came a rich man of Arimathaea, his name Joseph, who also himself was a disciple to Jesus.

[58]He, going to Pilate, begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be given up.

[59]And Joseph having got the body, wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, [60]and laid it in his new tomb which he had hewn in the rock; and having rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, went away.

[61]But Mary of Magdala was there, and the other Mary, sitting opposite the sepulchre.

[62]Now on the morrow, which is after the preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees came together to Pilate, [63]saying, Sir, we have called to mind that that deceiver said when he was still alive, After three days I arise.

[64]Command therefore that the sepulchre be secured until the third day, lest his disciples should come and steal him away, and say to the people, He is risen from the dead; and the last error shall be worse than the first.

[65]And Pilate said to them, Ye have a watch: go, secure it as well as ye know how.

[66]And they went and secured the sepulchre, having sealed the stone, with the watch [besides].

28Now late on sabbath, as it was the dusk of the next day after sabbath, came Mary of Magdala and the other Mary to look at the sepulchre.

[2]And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of [the] Lord, descending out of heaven, came and rolled away the stone and sat upon it.

[3]And his look was as lightning, and his clothing white as snow.

[4]And for fear of him the guards trembled and became as dead men.

[5]And the angel answering said to the women, Fear not ye, for I know that ye seek Jesus the crucified one.

[6]He is not here, for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

[7]And go quickly and say to his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and behold, he goes before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him. Behold, I have told you.

[8]And going out quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, they ran to bring his disciples word.

[9]And as they went to bring his disciples word, behold also, Jesus met them, saying, Hail! And they coming up took him by the feet, and did him homage.

[10]Then Jesus says to them, Fear not; go, bring word to my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there they shall see me.

[11]And as they went, behold, some of the watch went into the city, and brought word to the chief priests of all that had taken place.

[12]And having assembled with the elders, and having taken counsel, they gave a large sum of money to the soldiers, [13]saying, Say that his disciples coming by night stole him [while] we [were] sleeping.

[14]And if this should come to the hearing of the governor, we will persuade him, and save you from all anxiety.

[15]And they took the money and did as they had been taught. And this report is current among the Jews until this day.

[16]But the eleven disciples went into Galilee to the mountain which Jesus had appointed them.

[17]And when they saw him, they did homage to him: but some doubted.

[18]And Jesus coming up spoke to them, saying, All power has been given me in heaven and upon earth.

[19]Go [therefore] and make disciples of all the nations, baptising them to the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit;

[20]teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have enjoined you. And behold, I am with you all the days, until the completion of the age.

Mark

1 Beginning of the glad tidings of Jesus Christ, Son of God;

2 as it is written in [Isaiah] the prophet, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who shall prepare thy way.

3 Voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare the way of [the] Lord, make his paths straight.

4 There came John baptising in the wilderness, and preaching [the] baptism of repentance for remission of sins.

5 And there went out to him all the district of Judaea, and all they of Jerusalem, and were baptised by him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

6 And John was clothed in camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins, and ate locusts and wild honey.

7 And he preached, saying, There comes he that is mightier than I after me, the thong of whose sandals I am not fit to stoop down and unloose.

8 I indeed have baptised you with water, but he shall baptise you with [the] Holy Spirit.

9 And it came to pass in those days [that] Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptised by John at the Jordan.

10 And straightway going up from the water, he saw the heavens parting asunder, and the Spirit, as a dove, descending upon him.

11 And there came a voice out of the heavens: Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I have found my delight.

12 And immediately the Spirit drives him out into the wilderness.

13 And he was in the wilderness forty days tempted by Satan, and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered to him.

14 But after John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee preaching the glad tidings of the kingdom of God,

15 and saying, The time is fulfilled and the kingdom of God has drawn nigh; repent and believe in the glad tidings.

16 And walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew, [Simon's] brother, casting out a net in the sea, for they were fishers.

17 And Jesus said to them, Come after me, and I will make you become fishers of men;

18 and straightway leaving their trawl-nets they followed him.

19 And going on thence a little, he saw James the [son] of Zebedee, and John his brother, and these [were] in the ship repairing the trawl-nets;

[20]and straightway he called them; and leaving their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, they went away after him.

[21]And they go into Capernaum. And straightway on the sabbath he entered into the synagogue and taught.

[22]And they were astonished at his doctrine, for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes.

[23]And there was in their synagogue a man [possessed] by an unclean spirit, and he cried out

[24]saying, Eh! what have we to do with thee, Jesus, Nazarene? Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the holy one of God.

[25]And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace and come out of him.

[26]And the unclean spirit, having torn him, and uttered a cry with a loud voice, came out of him.

[27]And all were amazed, so that they questioned together among themselves, saying, What is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority he commands even the unclean spirits, and they obey him.

[28]And his fame went out straightway into the whole region of Galilee around.

[29]And straightway going out of the synagogue, they came with James and John into the house of Simon and Andrew.

[30]And the mother-in-law of Simon lay in a fever. And straightway they speak to him about her.

[31]And he went up to [her] and raised her up, having taken her by the hand, and straightway the fever left her, and she served them.

[32]But evening being come, when the sun had gone down, they brought to him all that were suffering, and those possessed by demons;

[33]and the whole city was gathered together at the door.

[34]And he healed many suffering from various diseases; and he cast out many demons, and did not suffer the demons to speak because they knew him.

[35]And rising in the morning long before day, he went out and went away into a desert place, and there prayed.

[36]And Simon and those with him went after him:

[37]and having found him, they say to him, All seek thee.

[38]And he says to them, Let us go elsewhere into the neighbouring country towns, that I may preach there also, for for this purpose am I come forth.

[39]And he was preaching in their synagogues in the whole of Galilee, and casting out demons.

[40]And there comes to him a leper, beseeching him, and falling on his knees to him, and saying to him, If thou wilt thou canst cleanse me.

[41]But Jesus, moved with compassion, having stretched out his hand, touched him, and says to him, I will, be thou cleansed.

[42]And as he spoke straightway the leprosy left him, and he was cleansed.

[43]And having sharply charged him, he straightway sent him away,

[44]and says to him, See thou say nothing to any one, but go, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing what Moses ordained, for a testimony to them.

[45]But he, having gone forth, began to proclaim [it] much, and to spread the matter abroad, so that he could no longer enter openly into the city, but was without in desert places, and they came to him from every side.

2And he entered again into Capernaum after [several] days, and it was reported that he was at [the] house;

[2]and straightway many were gathered together, so that there was no longer any room, not even at the door; and he spoke the word to them.

[3]And there come to him [men] bringing a paralytic, borne by four;

[4]and, not being able to get near to him on account of the crowd, they uncovered the roof where he was, and having dug [it] up they let down the couch on which the paralytic lay.

[5]But Jesus, seeing their faith, says to the paralytic, Child, thy sins are forgiven [thee].

[6]But certain of the scribes were there sitting, and reasoning in their hearts,

[7]Why does this [man] thus speak? he blasphemes. Who is able to forgive sins except God alone?

[8]And straightway Jesus, knowing in his spirit that they are reasoning thus within themselves, said to them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

[9]Which is easier, to say to the paralytic, [Thy] sins are forgiven [thee]; or to say, Arise, and take up thy couch and walk?

[10]But that ye may know that the Son of man has power on earth to forgive sins, he says to the paralytic, [11]To thee I say, Arise, take up thy couch and go to thine house.

[12]And he rose up straightway, and, having taken up his couch, went out before [them] all, so that all were amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it thus.

[13]And he went out again by the sea, and all the crowd came to him, and he taught them.

[14]And passing by, he saw Levi the [son] of Alphaeus sitting at the tax-office, and says to him, Follow me. And he rose up and followed him.

[15]And it came to pass as he lay at table in his house, that many tax-gatherers and sinners lay at table with Jesus and his disciples; for they were many, and they followed him.

[16]And the scribes and the Pharisees, seeing him eating with sinners and tax-gatherers, said to his disciples, Why [is it] that he eats and drinks with tax-gatherers and sinners?

[17]And Jesus having heard [it] says to them, They that are strong have not need of a physician, but those who are ill. I have not come to call righteous [men], but sinners.

[18]And the disciples of John and the Pharisees were fasting; and they come and say to him, Why do the disciples of John and [the disciples] of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

[19]And Jesus said to them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber fast while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them they cannot fast.

[20]But days will come when the bridegroom shall have been taken away from them, and then shall they fast in that day.

[21]No one sews a patch of new cloth on an old garment: otherwise its new filling-up takes from the old [stuff], and there is a worse rent.

[22]And no one puts new wine into old skins; otherwise the wine bursts the skins, and the wine is poured out, and the skins will be destroyed; but new wine is to be put into new skins.

[23]And it came to pass that he went on the sabbath through the cornfields; and his disciples began to walk on, plucking the ears.

[24]And the Pharisees said to him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath what is not lawful?

[25]And he said to them, Have ye never read what David did when he had need and hungered, he and those with him,

[26]how he entered into the house of God, in [the section of] Abiathar [the] high priest, and ate the shew-bread, which it is not lawful unless for the priests to eat, and gave even to those that were with him?

[27]And he said to them, The sabbath was made on account of man, not man on account of the sabbath;

[28]so that the Son of man is lord of the sabbath also.

3And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was there a man having his hand dried up.

[2]And they watched him if he would heal him on the sabbath, that they might accuse him.

[3]And he says to the man who had his hand dried up, Rise up [and come] into the midst.

[4]And he says to them, Is it lawful on the sabbath to do good or to do evil, to save life or to kill? But they were silent.

[5]And looking round upon them with anger, distressed at the hardening of their heart, he says to the man, Stretch out thy hand. And he stretched [it] out, and his hand was restored.

[6]And the Pharisees going out straightway with the Herodians took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

[7]And Jesus withdrew with his disciples to the sea; and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judaea,

[8]and from Jerusalem, and from Idumaea and beyond the Jordan; and they of around Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, having heard what things he did, came to him.

[9]And he spoke to his disciples, in order that a little ship should wait upon him on account of the crowd, that they might not press upon him.

[10]For he healed many, so that they beset him that they might touch him, as many as had plagues.

[11]And the unclean spirits, when they beheld him, fell down before him, and cried saying, Thou art the Son of God.

[12]And he rebuked them much, that they might not make him manifest.

[13]And he goes up into the mountain, and calls whom he himself would, and they went to him.

[14]And he appointed twelve that they might be with him, and that he might send them to preach,

[15]and to have power [to heal diseases, and] to cast out demons.

[16]And he gave to Simon the surname of Peter;

[17]and James the [son] of Zebedee, and John the brother of James, and he gave them the surname of Boanerges, that is, Sons of thunder;

[18]and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the [son] of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon the Cananaean, [19]and Judas Iscariote, who also delivered him up. And they come to [the] house.

[20]And again a crowd comes together, so that they cannot even eat bread.

[21]And his relatives having heard [of it] went out to lay hold on him, for they said, He is out of his mind.

22 And the scribes who had come down from Jerusalem said, He has Beelzebub, and, By the prince of the demons he casts out demons.

23 And having called them to [him], he said to them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom has become divided against itself, that kingdom cannot subsist.

25 And if a house has become divided against itself, that house cannot subsist.

26 And if Satan rise up against himself, and is divided, he cannot subsist, but has an end.

27 But no one can, having entered into his house, plunder the goods of the strong [man] unless he first bind the strong [man], and then he will plunder his house.

28 Verily I say unto you, that all sins shall be forgiven to the sons of men, and all the injurious speeches [with] which they may speak injuriously;

29 but whosoever shall speak injuriously against the Holy Spirit, to eternity has no forgiveness; but lies under the guilt of an everlasting sin;

30 -- because they said, He has an unclean spirit.

31 And his brethren and his mother come, and standing without sent to him calling him.

32 And a crowd sat around him. And they said to him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren seek thee without.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother or my brethren?

34 And looking around in a circuit at those that were sitting around him, he says, Behold my mother and my brethren:

35 for whosoever shall do the will of God, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

4 And again he began to teach by the sea. And a great crowd was gathered together to him, so that going on board ship he sat in the sea, and all the crowd were close to the sea on the land.

2 And he taught them many things in parables. And he said to them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken: Behold, the sower went forth to sow.

4 And it came to pass as he sowed, one fell by the wayside, and the birds came and devoured it.

5 And another fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth, and immediately it sprung up out [of the ground] because it had no depth of earth;

6 and when the sun arose it was burnt up, and because of its not having any root, it withered.

[7]And another fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

[8]And another fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and bore, one thirty, and one sixty, and one a hundred.

[9]And he said, He that has ears to hear, let him hear.

[10]And when he was alone, those about him with the twelve asked him [as to] the parables.

[11]And he said to them, To you is given [to know] the mystery of the kingdom of God; but to them who are without, all things are done in parables, [12]that beholding they may behold and not see, and hearing they may hear and not understand, lest it may be, they should be converted and they should be forgiven.

[13]And he says to them, Do ye not know this parable? and how will ye be acquainted with all the parables?

[14]The sower sows the word:

[15]and these are they by the wayside where the word is sown, and when they hear, immediately Satan comes and takes away the word that was sown in them.

[16]And these are they in like manner who are sown upon the rocky places, who when they hear the word, immediately receive it with joy, [17]and they have no root in themselves, but are for a time: then, tribulation arising, or persecution on account of the word, immediately they are offended.

[18]And others are they who are sown among the thorns: these are they who have heard the word, [19]and the cares of life, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things, entering in, choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful.

[20]And these are they who have been sown on the good ground, such as hear the word and receive it, and bear fruit; one thirty, and one sixty, and one a hundred [fold].

[21]And he said to them, Does the lamp come that it should be put under the bushel or under the couch? [Is it] not that it should be set upon the lamp-stand?

[22]For there is nothing hidden which shall not be made manifest; nor does any secret thing take place, but that it should come to light.

[23]If any one have ears to hear, let him hear.

[24]And he said to them, Take heed what ye hear; with what measure ye mete, it shall be meted to you; and there shall be [more] added to you.

[25]For whosoever has, to him shall be given; and he who has not, even what he has shall be taken from him.

[26]And he said, Thus is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast the seed upon the earth, [27]and should sleep and rise up night and day, and the seed should sprout and grow, he does not know how.

[28]The earth bears fruit of itself, first [the] blade, then an ear, then full corn in the ear.

[29]But when the fruit is produced, immediately he sends the sickle, for the harvest is come.

[30]And he said, How should we liken the kingdom of God, or with what comparison should we compare it?

[31]As to a grain of mustard [seed], which, when it is sown upon the earth, is less than all seeds which are upon the earth,

[32]and when it has been sown, mounts up and becomes greater than all herbs, and produces great branches, so that the birds of heaven can roost under its shadow.

[33]And with many such parables he spoke the word to them, as they were able to hear, [34]but without a parable spoke he not to them; and in private he explained all things to his disciples.

[35]And on that day, when evening was come, he says to them, Let us go over to the other side:

[36]and having sent away the crowd, they take him with [them], as he was, in the ship. But other ships also were with him.

[37]And there comes a violent gust of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it already filled.

[38]And he was in the stern sleeping on the cushion. And they awake him up and say to him, Teacher, dost thou not care that we are perishing?

[39]And awaking up he rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, Silence; be mute. And the wind fell, and there was a great calm.

[40]And he said to them, Why are ye [thus] fearful? how [is it] ye have not faith?

[41]And they feared [with] great fear, and said one to another, Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

5And they came to the other side of the sea, to the country of the Gadarenes.

[2]And immediately on his going out of the ship there met him out of the tombs a man possessed by an unclean spirit,

[3]who had his dwelling in the tombs; and no one was able to bind him, not even with chains;

[4]because he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been torn asunder by him, and the fetters were shattered; and no one was able to subdue him.

[5]And continually night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying and cutting himself with stones.

[6]But seeing Jesus from afar off, he ran and did him homage,

[7]and crying with a loud voice he says, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I adjure thee by God, torment me not.

[8]For he said to him, Come forth, unclean spirit, out of the man.

[9]And he asked him, What is thy name? And he says to him, Legion is my name, because we are many.

[10]And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

[11]Now there was there just at the mountain a great herd of swine feeding;

[12]and they besought him, saying, Send us into the swine that we may enter into them.

[13]And Jesus [immediately] allowed them. And the unclean spirits going out entered into the swine, and the herd rushed down the steep slope, into the sea (about two thousand), and were choked in the sea.

[14]And those that were feeding them fled and reported it in the city and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that had taken place.

[15]And they come to Jesus, and they see the possessed of demons sitting [and] clothed and sensible, [him] that had had the legion: and they were afraid.

[16]And they that had seen [it] related to them how it had happened to the [man] possessed by demons, and concerning the swine.

[17]And they began to beg him to depart from their coasts.

[18]And as he went on board ship, the man that had been possessed by demons besought him that he might be with him.

[19]And he suffered him not, but says to him, Go to thine home to thine own people, and tell them how great things the Lord has done for thee, and has had mercy on thee.

[20]And he went away and began to proclaim in the Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him; and all wondered.

[21]And Jesus having passed over in the ship again to the other side, a great crowd gathered to him; and he was by the sea.

[22]And [behold] there comes one of the rulers of the synagogue, by name Jairus, and seeing him, falls down at his feet;

[23]and he besought him much, saying, My little daughter is at extremity; [I pray] that thou shouldest come and lay thy hands upon her so that she may be healed, and may live.

[24]And he went with him, and a large crowd followed him and pressed on him.

[25]And a certain woman who had had a flux of blood twelve years,

[26]and had suffered much under many physicians, and had spent everything she had and had found no advantage from it, but had rather got worse,

[27]having heard concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind and touched his clothes;

[28]for she said, If I shall touch but his clothes I shall be healed.

[29]And immediately her fountain of blood was dried up, and she knew in her body that she was cured from the scourge.

[30]And immediately Jesus, knowing in himself the power that had gone out of him, turning round in the crowd said, Who has touched my clothes?

[31]And his disciples said to him, Thou seest the crowd pressing on thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

[32]And he looked round about to see her who had done this.

[33]But the woman, frightened and trembling, knowing what had taken place in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

[34]And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith has healed thee; go in peace, and be well of thy scourge.

[35]While he was yet speaking, they come from the ruler of the synagogue's [house], saying, Thy daughter has died, why troublest thou the teacher any further?

[36]But Jesus [immediately], having heard the word spoken, says to the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not; only believe.

[37]And he suffered no one to accompany him save Peter and James, and John the brother of James.

[38]And he comes to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and sees the tumult, and people weeping and wailing greatly.

[39]And entering in he says to them, Why do ye make a tumult and weep? the child has not died, but sleeps.

[40]And they derided him. But he, having put [them] all out, takes with [him] the father of the child, and the mother, and those that were with him, and enters in where the child was lying.

[41]And having laid hold of the hand of the child, he says to her, Talitha koumi, which is, interpreted, Damsel, I say to thee, Arise.

[42]And immediately the damsel arose and walked, for she was twelve years old. And they were astonished with great astonishment.

[43]And he charged them much that no one should know this; and he desired that [something] should be given her to eat.

6 And he went out thence and came to his own country, and his disciples follow him.

2 And when sabbath was come he began to teach in the synagogue, and many hearing were amazed, saying, Whence [has] this [man] these things? and what [is] the wisdom that is given to him, and such works of power are done by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, and brother of James, and Joses, and Judas, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended in him.

4 But Jesus said to them, A prophet is not despised save in his own country, and among [his] kinsmen, and in his own house.

5 And he could not do any work of power there, save that laying his hands on a few infirm persons he healed [them].

6 And he wondered because of their unbelief. And he went round the villages in a circuit, teaching.

7 And he calls the twelve to [him]; and he began to send them out two [and] two, and gave to them power over the unclean spirits;

8 and he commanded them that they should take nothing for the way, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their belt;

9 but be shod with sandals, and put not on two body-coats.

10 And he said to them, Wheresoever ye shall enter into a house, there remain till ye shall go thence.

11 And whatsoever place shall not receive you nor hear you, departing thence, shake off the dust which is under your feet for a testimony to them.

12 And they went forth and preached that they should repent;

13 and they cast out many demons, and anointed with oil many infirm, and healed them.

14 And Herod the king heard [of him] (for his name had become public), and said, John the baptist is risen from among [the] dead, and on this account works of power are wrought by him.

15 And others said, It is Elias; and others said, It is a prophet, as one of the prophets.

16 But Herod when he heard [it] said, John whom I beheaded, he it is; he is risen [from among the dead].

17 For the same Herod had sent and seized John, and had bound him in prison on account of Herodias, the wife of Philip his brother, because he had married her.

18 For John said to Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have the wife of thy brother.

[19]But Herodias kept it [in her mind] against him, and wished to kill him, and could not:

[20]for Herod feared John knowing that he was a just and holy man, and kept him safe; and having heard him, did many things, and heard him gladly.

[21]And a holiday being come, when Herod, on his birthday, made a supper to his grandees, and to the chiliarchs, and the chief [men] of Galilee;

[22]and the daughter of the same Herodias having come in, and danced, pleased Herod and those that were with [him] at table; and the king said to the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt and I will give it thee.

[23]And he swore to her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask me I will give thee, to half of my kingdom.

[24]And she went out, and said to her mother, What should I ask? And she said, The head of John the baptist.

[25]And immediately going in with haste to the king, she asked saying, I desire that thou give me directly upon a dish the head of John the baptist.

[26]And the king, [while] made very sorry, on account of the oaths and those lying at table with [him] would not break his word with her.

[27]And immediately the king, having sent one of the guard, ordered his head to be brought. And he went out and beheaded him in the prison, [28]and brought his head upon a dish, and gave it to the damsel, and the damsel gave it to her mother.

[29]And his disciples having heard [it], came and took up his body, and laid it in a tomb.

[30]And the apostles are gathered together to Jesus. And they related to him all things, [both] what they had done and what they had taught.

[31]And he said to them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place and rest a little. For those coming and those going were many, and they had not leisure even to eat.

[32]And they went away apart into a desert place by ship.

[33]And many saw them going, and recognised them, and ran together there on foot, out of all the cities, and got [there] before them.

[34]And on leaving [the ship] [Jesus] saw a great crowd, and he was moved with compassion for them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd. And he began to teach them many things.

[35]And when it was already late in the day, his disciples coming to him say, The place is desert, and it is already late in the day;

[36]send them away that they may go into the country and villages around, and buy themselves bread, for they have not anything they can eat.

[37]And he answering said to them, Give ye them to eat. And they say to him, Shall we go and buy two hundred denarii worth of bread and give them to eat?

[38]And he says to them, How many loaves have ye? Go [and] see. And when they knew they say, Five, and two fishes.

[39]And he ordered them to make them all sit down by companies on the green grass.

[40]And they sat down in ranks by hundreds and by fifties.

[41]And having taken the five loaves and the two fishes, looking up to heaven, he blessed, and broke the loaves, and gave [them] to his disciples that they might set [them] before them. And the two fishes he divided among all.

[42]And they all ate and were satisfied.

[43]And they took up of fragments the fillings of twelve hand-baskets, and of the fishes.

[44]And those that ate of the loaves were five thousand men.

[45]And immediately he compelled his disciples to go on board ship, and to go on before to the other side to Bethsaida, while he sends the crowd away.

[46]And, having dismissed them, he departed into the mountain to pray.

[47]And when evening was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone upon the land.

[48]And seeing them labouring in rowing, for the wind was contrary to them, about the fourth watch of the night he comes to them walking on the sea, and would have passed them by.

[49]But they, seeing him walking on the sea, thought that it was an apparition, and cried out.

[50]For all saw him and were troubled. And immediately he spoke with them, and says to them, Be of good courage: it is I; be not afraid.

[51]And he went up to them into the ship, and the wind fell. And they were exceedingly beyond measure astonished in themselves and wondered;

[52]for they understood not through the loaves: for their heart was hardened.

[53]And having passed over, they came to the land of Gennesaret and made the shore.

[54]And on their coming out of the ship, immediately recognising him, [55]they ran through that whole country around, and began to carry about those that were ill on couches, where they heard that he was.

[56]And wherever he entered into villages, or cities, or the country, they laid the sick in the market-places, and besought him that they might touch if it were only the hem of his garment; and as many as touched him were healed.

7 And the Pharisees and some of the scribes, coming from Jerusalem, are gathered together to him,

[2]and seeing some of his disciples eat bread with defiled, that is, unwashed, hands,

[3](for the Pharisees and all the Jews, unless they wash their hands diligently, do not eat, holding what has been delivered by the ancients;

[4]and [on coming] from the market-place, unless they are washed, they do not eat; and there are many other things which they have received to hold, the washing of cups and vessels, and brazen utensils, and couches),

[5]then the Pharisees and the scribes ask him, Why do thy disciples not walk according to what has been delivered by the ancients, but eat the bread with defiled hands?

[6]But he answering said to them, Well did Esaias prophesy concerning you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honour me with their lips, but their heart is far away from me.

[7]But in vain do they worship me, teaching [as their] teachings commandments of men.

[8][For], leaving the commandment of God, ye hold what is delivered by men [to keep] -- washings of vessels and cups, and many other such like things ye do.

[9]And he said to them, Well do ye set aside the commandment of God, that ye may observe what is delivered by yourselves [to keep].

[10]For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother; and, he who speaks ill of father or mother, let him surely die.

[11]But ye say, If a man say to his father or his mother, [It is] corban (that is, gift), whatsoever thou mightest have profit from me by ...

[12]And ye no longer suffer him to do anything for his father or his mother;

[13]making void the word of God by your traditional teaching which ye have delivered; and many such like things ye do.

[14]And having called again the crowd, he said to them, Hear me, all [of you], and understand:

[15]There is nothing from outside a man entering into him which can defile him; but the things which go out from him, those it is which defile the man.

[16]If any one have ears to hear, let him hear.

[17]And when he went indoors from the crowd, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

[18]And he says to them, Are ye also thus unintelligent? Do ye not perceive that all that is outside entering into the man cannot defile him,

[19]because it does not enter into his heart but into his belly, and goes out into the draught, purging all meats?

[20]And he said, That which goes forth out of the man, that defiles the man.

[21]For from within, out of the heart of men, go forth evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

[22]thefts, covetousness, wickednesses, deceit, licentiousness, a wicked eye, injurious language, haughtiness, folly;

[23]all these wicked things go forth from within and defile the man.

[24]And he rose up and went away thence into the borders of Tyre and Sidon; and having entered into a house he would not have any one know [it], and he could not be hid.

[25]But immediately a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell at his feet

[26](and the woman was a Greek, Syrophenician by race), and asked him that he would cast the demon out of her daughter.

[27]But [Jesus] said to her, Suffer the children to be first filled; for it is not right to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs.

[28]But she answered and says to him, Yea, Lord; for even the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.

[29]And he said to her, Because of this word, go thy way, the demon is gone out of thy daughter.

[30]And having gone away to her house she found the demon gone out, and her daughter lying on the bed.

[31]And again having left the borders of Tyre and Sidon, he came to the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.

[32]And they bring to him a deaf [man] who could not speak right, and they beseech him that he might lay his hand on him.

[33]And having taken him away from the crowd apart, he put his fingers to his ears; and having spit, he touched his tongue;

[34]and looking up to heaven he groaned, and says to him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

[35]And immediately his ears were opened, and the band of his tongue was loosed and he spoke right.

[36]And he charged them that they should speak to no one [of it]. But so much the more he charged them, so much the more abundantly they proclaimed it;

[37]and they were astonished above measure, saying, He does all things well; he makes both the deaf to hear, and the speechless to speak.

8 In those days, there being again a great crowd, and they having nothing that they could eat, having called his disciples to [him], he says to them,

[2] I have compassion on the crowd, because they have stayed with me already three days and they have not anything they can eat,

[3] and if I should dismiss them to their home fasting, they will faint on the way; for some of them are come from far.

[4] And his disciples answered him, Whence shall one be able to satisfy these with bread here in a desert place?

[5] And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

[6] And he commanded the crowd to sit down on the ground. And having taken the seven loaves, he gave thanks, and broke [them] and gave [them] to his disciples, that they might set [them] before [them]; and they set [them] before the crowd.

[7] And they had a few small fishes, and having blessed them, he desired these also to be set before [them].

[8] And they ate and were satisfied. And they took up of fragments that remained seven baskets.

[9] And they [that had eaten] were about four thousand; and he sent them away.

[10] And immediately going on board ship with his disciples, he came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

[11] And the Pharisees went out and began to dispute against him, seeking from him a sign from heaven, tempting him.

[12] And groaning in his spirit, he says, Why does this generation seek a sign? Verily I say unto you, A sign shall in no wise be given to this generation.

[13] And he left them, and going again on board ship, went away to the other side.

[14] And they forgot to take bread, and save one loaf, they had not [any] with them in the ship.

[15] And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and [of] the leaven of Herod.

[16] And they reasoned with one another, [saying], It is because we have no bread.

[17] And Jesus knowing [it], says to them, Why reason ye because ye have no bread? Do ye not yet perceive nor understand? Have ye your heart [yet] hardened?

[18] Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?

[19] When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many hand-baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say to him, Twelve.

[20]And when the seven for the four thousand, the filling of how many baskets of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.

[21]And he said to them, How do ye not yet understand?

[22]And he comes to Bethsaida; and they bring him a blind man, and beseech him that he might touch him.

[23]And taking hold of the hand of the blind man he led him forth out of the village, and having spit upon his eyes, he laid his hands upon him, and asked him if he beheld anything.

[24]And having looked up, he said, I behold men, for I see [them], as trees, walking.

[25]Then he laid his hands again upon his eyes, and he saw distinctly, and was restored and saw all things clearly.

[26]And he sent him to his house, saying, Neither enter into the village, nor tell [it] to any one in the village.

[27]And Jesus went forth and his disciples, into the villages of Caesarea-Philippi. And by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do men say that I am?

[28]And they answered him, saying, John the baptist; and others, Elias; but others, One of the prophets.

[29]And he asked them, But ye, who do ye say that I am? And Peter answering says to him, Thou art the Christ.

[30]And he charged them straitly, in order that they should tell no man about him.

[31]And he began to teach them that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and of the chief priests and of the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise [again].

[32]And he spoke the thing openly. And Peter, taking him to [him], began to rebuke him.

[33]But he, turning round and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, saying, Get away behind me, Satan, for thy mind is not on the things that are of God, but on the things that are of men.

[34]And having called the crowd with his disciples, he said to them, Whoever desires to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me.

[35]For whosoever shall desire to save his life shall lose it, but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's shall save it.

[36]For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his soul?

[37]for what should a man give in exchange for his soul?

[38]For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him shall the Son of man also be ashamed when he shall come in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

9 And he said to them, Verily I say unto you, There are some of those standing here that shall not taste death until they shall have seen the kingdom of God come in power.

[2] And after six days Jesus takes with [him] Peter and James and John, and takes them up on a high mountain by themselves apart. And he was transfigured before them:

[3] and his garments became shining, exceeding white [as snow], such as fuller on earth could not whiten [them].

[4] And there appeared to them Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Jesus.

[5] And Peter answering says to Jesus, Rabbi, it is good that we should be here; and let us make three tabernacles, for thee one, and for Moses one, and for Elias one.

[6] For he knew not what he should say, for they were filled with fear.

[7] And there came a cloud overshadowing them, and there came a voice out of the cloud, This is my beloved Son: hear him.

[8] And suddenly having looked around, they no longer saw any one, but Jesus alone with themselves.

[9] And as they descended from the mountain, he charged them that they should relate to no one what they had seen, unless when the Son of man should be risen from among [the] dead.

[10] And they kept that saying, questioning among themselves, what rising from among [the] dead was.

[11] And they asked him saying, Why do the scribes say that Elias must first have come?

[12] And he answering said to them, Elias indeed, having first come, restores all things; and how is it written of the Son of man that he must suffer much, and be set at nought:

[13] but I say unto you that Elias also is come, and they have done to him whatever they would, as it is written of him.

[14] And when he came to the disciples he saw a great crowd around them, and scribes disputing against them.

[15] And immediately all the crowd seeing him were amazed, and running to [him], saluted him.

[16] And he asked them, What do ye question with them about?

[17] And one out of the crowd answered him, Teacher, I brought to thee my son, who has a dumb spirit;

[18] and wheresoever it seizes him it tears him, and he foams and gnashes his teeth, and he is withering away. And I spoke to thy disciples, that they might cast him out, and they could not.

[19] But he answering them says, O unbelieving generation! how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him to me.

[20]And they brought him to him. And seeing him the spirit immediately tore him; and falling upon the earth he rolled foaming.

[21]And he asked his father, How long a time is it that it has been like this with him? And he said, From childhood;

[22]and often it has cast him both into fire and into waters that it might destroy him: but if thou couldst [do] anything, be moved with pity on us, and help us.

[23]And Jesus said to him, The 'if thou couldst' is [if thou couldst] believe: all things are possible to him that believes.

[24]And immediately the father of the young child crying out said [with tears], I believe, help mine unbelief.

[25]But Jesus, seeing that [the] crowd was running up together, rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

[26]And having cried out and torn [him] much, he came out; and he became as if dead, so that the most said, He is dead.

[27]But Jesus, having taken hold of him by the hand, lifted him up, and he arose.

[28]And when he was entered into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Wherefore could not we cast him out?

[29]And he said to them, This kind can go out by nothing but by prayer and fasting.

[30]And going forth from thence they went through Galilee; and he would not that any one knew it;

[31]for he taught his disciples and said to them, The Son of man is delivered into men's hands, and they shall kill him; and having been killed, after three days he shall rise again.

[32]But they understood not the saying, and feared to ask him.

[33]And he came to Capernaum, and being in the house, he asked them, Of what were ye reasoning by the way?

[34]And they remained silent, for by the way they had been reasoning with one another who [was] greatest.

[35]And sitting down he called the twelve; and he says to them, If any one would be first, he shall be last of all, and minister of all.

[36]And taking a little child he set it in their midst, and having taken it in his arms he said to them,

[37]Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, receives me; and whosoever shall receive me, does not receive me, but him who sent me.

[38]And John answered him saying, Teacher, we saw some one casting out demons in thy name, who does not follow us, and we forbad him, because he does not follow us.

[39]But Jesus said, Forbid him not; for there is no one who shall do a miracle in my name, and be able soon [after] to speak ill of me;

[40]for he who is not against us is for us.

[41]For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in [my] name, because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

[42]And whosoever shall be a snare to one of the little ones who believe [in me], it were better for him if a millstone were hung about his neck, and he cast into the sea.

[43]And if thy hand serve as a snare to thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having thy two hands to go away into hell, into the fire unquenchable;

[44][where their worm dies not, and the fire is not quenched].

[45]And if thy foot serve as a snare to thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life lame, than having thy two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire unquenchable;

[46][where their worm dies not, and the fire is not quenched].

[47]And if thine eye serve as a snare to thee, cast it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the hell of fire,

[48]where their worm dies not, and the fire is not quenched.

[49]For every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

[50]Salt [is] good, but if the salt is become saltless, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace with one another.

10And rising up thence he comes into the coasts of Judaea, and the other side of the Jordan. And again crowds come together to him, and, as he was accustomed, again he taught them.

[2]And Pharisees coming to [him] asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away [his] wife? (tempting him).

[3]But he answering said to them, What did Moses command you?

[4]And they said, Moses allowed to write a bill of divorce, and to put away.

[5]And Jesus answering said to them, In view of your hard-heartedness he wrote this commandment for you;

[6]but from [the] beginning of [the] creation God made them male and female.

[7]For this cause a man shall leave his father and mother and shall be united to his wife,

[8]and the two shall be one flesh: so that they are no longer two but one flesh.

[9]What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate.

[10]And again in the house the disciples asked him concerning this.

[11]And he says to them, Whosoever shall put away his wife and shall marry another, commits adultery against her.

[12]And if a woman put away her husband and shall marry another, she commits adultery.

[13]And they brought little children to him that he might touch them. But the disciples rebuked those that brought [them].

[14]But Jesus seeing [it], was indignant, and said to them, Suffer the little children to come to me; forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God.

[15]Verily I say to you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, shall in no wise enter into it.

[16]And having taken them in his arms, having laid his hands on them, he blessed them.

[17]And as he went forth into the way, a person ran up to [him], and kneeling to him asked him, Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?

[18]But Jesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? no one is good but one, [that is] God.

[19]Thou knowest the commandments: Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and mother.

[20]And he answering said to him, Teacher, all these things have I kept from my youth.

[21]And Jesus looking upon him loved him, and said to him, One thing lackest thou: go, sell whatever thou hast and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me, [taking up the cross].

[22]But he, sad at the word, went away grieved, for he had large possessions.

[23]And Jesus looking around says to his disciples, How difficultly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

[24]And the disciples were amazed at his words. And Jesus again answering says to them, Children, how difficult it is that those who trust in riches should enter into the kingdom of God!

[25]It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

[26]And they were exceedingly astonished, saying to one another, And who can be saved?

[27]But Jesus looking on them says, With men it is impossible, but not with God; for all things are possible with God.

[28]Peter began to say to him, Behold, we have left all things and have followed thee.

[29]Jesus answering said, Verily I say to you, There is no one who has left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, [or wife], or children, or lands, for my sake and for the sake of the gospel,

[30]that shall not receive a hundredfold now in this time: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions, and in the coming age life eternal.

[31]But many first shall be last, and the last first.

[32]And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was going on before them; and they were amazed, and were afraid as they followed. And taking the twelve again to [him], he began to tell them what was going to happen to him:

[33]Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered up to the chief priests and to the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him up to the nations:

[34]and they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him; and after three days he shall rise again.

[35]And there come to him James and John, the sons of Zebedee, saying [to him], Teacher, we would that whatsoever we may ask thee, thou wouldst do it for us.

[36]And he said to them, What would ye that I should do for you?

[37]And they said to him, Give to us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, in thy glory.

[38]And Jesus said to them, Ye do not know what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup which I drink, or be baptised with the baptism that I am baptised with?

[39]And they said to him, We are able. And Jesus said to them, The cup that I drink ye will drink and with the baptism that I am baptised with ye will be baptised, [40]but to sit on my right hand or on my left is not mine to give, but for those for whom it is prepared.

[41]And the ten having heard [of it], began to be indignant about James and John.

[42]But Jesus having called them to [him], says to them, Ye know that those who are esteemed to rule over the nations exercise lordship over them; and their great men exercise authority over them;

[43]but it is not thus among you; but whosoever would be great among you, shall be your minister;

[44]and whosoever would be first of you shall be bondman of all.

[45]For also the Son of man did not come to be ministered to, but to minister, and give his life a ransom for many.

[46]And they come to Jericho, and as he was going out from Jericho, and his disciples and a large crowd, the son of Timaeus, Bartimaeus, the blind [man], sat by the wayside begging.

47 And having heard that it was Jesus the Nazaraean, he began to cry out and to say, O Son of David, Jesus, have mercy on me.

48 And many rebuked him, that he might be silent; but he cried so much the more, Son of David, have mercy on me.

49 And Jesus, standing still, desired him to be called. And they call the blind [man], saying to him, Be of good courage, rise up, he calls thee.

50 And, throwing away his garment, he started up and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answering says to him, What wilt thou that I shall do to thee? And the blind [man] said to him, Rabboni, that I may see.

52 And Jesus said to him, Go, thy faith has healed thee. And he saw immediately, and followed him in the way.

11 And when they draw near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sends two of his disciples,

2 and says to them, Go into the village which is over against you, and immediately on entering into it ye will find a colt tied, upon which no [child] of man has ever sat: loose it and lead it [here].

3 And if any one say to you, Why do ye this? say, The Lord has need of it; and straightway he sends it hither.

4 And they departed, and found a colt bound to the door without at the crossway, and they loose him.

5 And some of those who stood there said to them, What are ye doing, loosing the colt?

6 And they said to them as Jesus had commanded. And they let them [do it].

7 And they led the colt to Jesus, and cast their clothes upon it, and he sat on it;

8 and many strewed their clothes on the way, and others cut down branches from the trees [and went on strewing them on the way].

9 And those going on before and those following cried out, Hosanna! blessed [be] he that comes in [the] Lord's name.

10 Blessed [be] the coming kingdom of our father David. Hosanna in the highest!

11 And he entered into Jerusalem and into the temple; and having looked round on all things, the hour being already late, he went out to Bethany with the twelve.

12 And on the morrow, when they were gone out of Bethany, he hungered.

13 And seeing from afar off a fig-tree which had leaves, he came, if perhaps he might find something on it. And having come up to it he found nothing but leaves, for it was not the time of figs.

[14]And answering he said to it, Let no one eat fruit of thee any more for ever. And his disciples heard [it].

[15]And they come to Jerusalem, and entering into the temple, he began to cast out those who sold and who bought in the temple, and he overthrew the tables of the moneychangers and the seats of the dove-sellers, [16]and suffered not that any one should carry any package through the temple.

[17]And he taught saying to them, Is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? but ye have made it a den of robbers.

[18]And the chief priests and the scribes heard [it], and they sought how they might destroy him; for they feared him, because all the crowd were astonished at his doctrine.

[19]And when it was evening he went forth without the city.

[20]And passing by early in the morning they saw the fig-tree dried up from the roots.

[21]And Peter, remembering [what Jesus had said], says to him, Rabbi, see, the fig-tree which thou cursedst is dried up.

[22]And Jesus answering says to them, Have faith in God.

[23]Verily I say to you, that whosoever shall say to this mountain, Be thou taken away and cast into the sea, and shall not doubt in his heart, but believe that what he says takes place, whatever he shall say shall come to pass for him.

[24]For this reason I say to you, All things whatsoever ye pray for and ask, believe that ye receive it, and it shall come to pass for you.

[25]And when ye stand praying, forgive if ye have anything against any one, that your Father also who is in the heavens may forgive you your offences.

[26]But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in the heavens forgive your offences.

[27]And they come again to Jerusalem. And as he walked about in the temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders come to him, [28]and they say to him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority, that thou shouldest do these things?

[29]And Jesus answering said to them, I also will ask you one thing, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things:

[30]The baptism of John, was it of heaven, or of men? answer me.

[31]And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we should say, Of heaven, he will say, Why [then] have ye not believed him?

[32]but should we say, Of men -- they feared the people; for all held of John that he was truly a prophet.

[33]And they answering say to Jesus, We do not know. And Jesus [answering] says to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

12 And he began to say to them in parables, A man planted a vineyard, and made a fence round [it] and dug a wine-vat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and left the country.

[2]And he sent a bondman to the husbandmen at the season, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

[3]But they took him, and beat [him], and sent [him] away empty.

[4]And again he sent to them another bondman; and [at] him they [threw stones, and] struck [him] on the head, and sent [him] away with insult.

[5]And [again] he sent another, and him they killed; and many others, beating some and killing some.

[6]Having yet therefore one beloved son, he sent also him to them the last, saying, They will have respect for my son.

[7]But those husbandmen said to one another, This is the heir: come, let us kill him and the inheritance will be ours.

[8]And they took him and killed him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard.

[9]What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others.

[10]Have ye not even read this scripture, The stone which they that builded rejected, this has become the corner-stone:

[11]this is of [the] Lord, and it is wonderful in our eyes?

[12]And they sought to lay hold of him, and they feared the crowd; for they knew that he had spoken the parable of them. And they left him and went away.

[13]And they send to him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, that they might catch him in speaking.

[14]And they come and say to him, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one; for thou regardest not men's person, but teachest the way of God with truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not?

[15]Should we give, or should we not give? But he knowing their hypocrisy said unto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a denarius that I may see [it].

[16]And they brought [it]. And he says to them, Whose [is] this image and superscription? And they said to him, Caesar's.

[17]And Jesus answering said to them, Pay what is Caesar's to Caesar, and what is God's to God. And they wondered at him.

[18]And Sadducees come to him, that say there is no resurrection; and they demanded of him saying,

[19]Teacher, Moses wrote to us that if any one's brother die, and leave a wife behind, and leave no children, that his brother shall take his wife, and raise up seed to his brother.

[20]There were seven brethren; and the first took a wife, and dying did not leave seed;

[21]and the second took her and died, and neither did he leave seed; and the third likewise.

[22]And the seven [took her and] did not leave seed. Last of all the woman also died.

[23]In the resurrection, when they shall rise again, of which of them shall she be wife, for the seven had her as wife?

[24]And Jesus answering said to them, Do not ye therefore err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God?

[25]For when they rise from among [the] dead they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as angels [who are] in the heavens.

[26]But concerning the dead that they rise, have ye not read in the book of Moses, in [the section of] the bush, how God spoke to him, saying, I [am] the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

[27]He is not the God of [the] dead, but of [the] living. Ye therefore greatly err.

[28]And one of the scribes who had come up, and had heard them reasoning together, perceiving that he had answered them well, demanded of him, Which is [the] first commandment of all?

[29]And Jesus answered him, [The] first commandment of all [is], Hear, Israel: the Lord our God is one Lord;

[30]and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thine understanding, and with all thy strength. This is [the] first commandment.

[31]And a second like it [is] this: Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is not another commandment greater than these.

[32]And the scribe said to him, Right, teacher; thou hast spoken according to [the] truth. For he is one, and there is none other besides him;

[33]and to love him with all the heart, and with all the intelligence, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love one's neighbour as one's self, is more than all the burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

[34]And Jesus, seeing that he had answered intelligently, said to him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no one dared question him any more.

[35]And Jesus answering said [as he was] teaching in the temple, How do the scribes say that the Christ is son of David?

36 [for] David himself said [speaking] in the Holy Spirit, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand until I put thine enemies [as] footstool of thy feet.

37 David himself [therefore] calls him Lord, and whence is he his son? And the mass of the people heard him gladly.

38 And he said to them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, who like to walk about in long robes, and salutations in the marketplaces,

39 and first seats in the synagogues, and first places at suppers;

40 who devour the houses of widows, and as a pretext make long prayers. These shall receive a severer judgment.

41 And Jesus, having sat down opposite the treasury, saw how the crowd was casting money into the treasury; and many rich cast in much.

42 And a poor widow came and cast in two mites, which is a farthing.

43 And having called his disciples to [him] he said to them, Verily I say unto you, This poor widow has cast in more than all who have cast into the treasury:

44 for all have cast in of that which they had in abundance, but she of her destitution has cast in all that she had, the whole of her living.

13 And as he was going out of the temple, one of his disciples says to him, Teacher, see what stones and what buildings!

2 And Jesus answering said to him, Seest thou these great buildings? not a stone shall be left upon a stone, which shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately,

4 Tell us, when shall these things be, and what is the sign when all these things are going to be fulfilled?

5 And Jesus answering them began to say, Take heed lest any one mislead you.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, It is I, and shall mislead many.

7 But when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be not disturbed, for [this] must happen, but the end is not yet.

8 For nation shall rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be earthquakes in [different] places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these things [are the] beginnings of throes.

9 But ye, take heed to yourselves, for they shall deliver you up to sanhedrims and to synagogues: ye shall be beaten and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them;

[10]and the gospel must first be preached to all the nations.

[11]But when they shall lead you away to deliver you up, be not careful beforehand as to what ye shall say, [nor prepare your discourse]: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak; for ye are not the speakers, but the Holy Spirit.

[12]But brother shall deliver up brother to death, and father child; and children shall rise up against parents, and cause them to be put to death.

[13]And ye will be hated of all on account of my name; but he that has endured to the end, he shall be saved.

[14]But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation standing where it should not, (he that reads let him consider [it],) then let those in Judaea flee to the mountains;

[15]and him that is upon the housetop not come down into the house, nor enter [into it] to take away anything out of his house;

[16]and him that is in the field not return back to take his garment.

[17]But woe to those that are with child and to those that give suck in those days!

[18]And pray that it may not be in winter time;

[19]for those days shall be distress such as there has not been the like since [the] beginning of creation which God created, until now, and never shall be;

[20]and if [the] Lord had not cut short those days, no flesh should have been saved; but on account of the elect whom he has chosen, he has cut short those days.

[21]And then if any one say to you, Lo, here [is] the Christ, or Lo, there, believe [it] not.

[22]For false Christs and false prophets will arise, and give signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect.

[23]But do ye take heed: behold, I have told you all things beforehand.

[24]But in those days, after that distress, the sun shall be darkened and the moon shall not give its light;

[25]and the stars of heaven shall be falling down, and the powers which are in the heavens shall be shaken;

[26]and then shall they see the Son of man coming in clouds with great power and glory;

[27]and then shall he send his angels and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from end of earth to end of heaven.

[28]But learn the parable from the fig-tree: when its branch already becomes tender and puts forth the leaves, ye know that the summer is near.

[29]Thus also ye, when ye see these things happening, know that it is near, at the doors.

[30]Verily I say unto you, This generation shall in no wise pass away, till all these things take place.

[31]The heaven and the earth shall pass away, but my words shall in no wise pass away.

[32]But of that day or of that hour no one knows, neither the angels who are in heaven, nor the Son, but the Father.

[33]Take heed, watch and pray, for ye do not know when the time is:

[34][it is] as a man gone out of the country, having left his house and given to his bondmen the authority, and to each one his work, and commanded the doorkeeper that he should watch.

[35]Watch therefore, for ye do not know when the master of the house comes: evening, or midnight, or cock-crow, or morning;

[36]lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping.

[37]But what I say to you, I say to all, Watch.

14Now the passover and the [feast of] unleavened bread was after two days. And the chief priests and the scribes were seeking how they might seize him by subtlety and kill him.

[2]For they said, Not in the feast, lest perhaps there be a tumult of the people.

[3]And when he was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he lay at table, there came a woman having an alabaster flask of ointment of pure nard, very costly; and having broken the alabaster flask, she poured it out upon his head.

[4]And there were some indignant in themselves, and saying, Why has this waste been made of the ointment?

[5]for this ointment could have been sold for more than three hundred denarii and given to the poor. And they spoke very angrily at her.

[6]But Jesus said, Let her alone; why do ye trouble her? she has wrought a good work as to me;

[7]for ye have the poor always with you, and whenever ye would ye can do them good; but me ye have not always.

[8]What she could she has done. She has beforehand anointed my body for the burial.

[9]And verily I say unto you, Wheresoever these glad tidings may be preached in the whole world, what this [woman] has done shall be also spoken of for a memorial of her.

[10]And Judas Iscariote, one of the twelve, went away to the chief priests that he might deliver him up to them;

[11]and they, when they heard it, rejoiced, and promised him to give money. And he sought how he could opportunely deliver him up.

[12]And the first day of unleavened bread, when they slew the passover, his disciples say to him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the passover?

[13]And he sends two of his disciples, and says to them, Go into the city, and a man shall meet you carrying a pitcher of water; follow him.

[14]And wheresoever he enters, say to the master of the house, The Teacher says, Where is my guest-chamber where I may eat the passover with my disciples?

[15]and he will shew you a large upper room furnished ready. There make ready for us.

[16]And his disciples went away and came into the city, and found as he had said to them; and they made ready the passover.

[17]And when evening was come, he comes with the twelve.

[18]And as they lay at table and were eating, Jesus said, Verily I say to you, One of you shall deliver me up; he who is eating with me.

[19]And they began to be grieved, and to say to him, one by one, Is it I? [and another, Is it I?]

[20]But he answered and said to them, One of the twelve, he who dips with me in the dish.

[21]The Son of man goes indeed as it is written concerning him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is delivered up; [it were] good for that man if he had not been born.

[22]And as they were eating, Jesus, having taken bread, when he had blessed, broke [it], and gave [it] to them, and said, Take [this]: this is my body.

[23]And having taken [the] cup, when he had given thanks, he gave [it] to them, and they all drank out of it.

[24]And he said to them, This is my blood, that of the [new] covenant, that shed for many.

[25]Verily I say to you, I will no more drink at all of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

[26]And having sung a hymn, they went out to the mount of Olives.

[27]And Jesus says to them, All ye shall be offended, for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad.

[28]But after I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

[29]But Peter said to him, Even if all should be offended, yet not I.

[30]And Jesus says to him, Verily I say to thee, that thou to-day, in this night, before [the] cock shall crow twice, thou shalt thrice deny me.

[31]But he said [so much] exceedingly the more, If I should have to die with thee, I will in no wise deny thee. And likewise said they all too.

[32]And they come to a place of which the name [is] Gethsemane, and he says to his disciples, Sit here while I shall pray.

[33]And he takes with him Peter and James and John, and he began to be amazed and oppressed in spirit.

[34]And he says to them, My soul is full of grief even unto death; abide here and watch.

[35]And, going forward a little, he fell upon the earth; and he prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass away from him.

[36]And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible to thee: take away this cup from me; but not what I will, but what thou [wilt].

[37]And he comes and finds them sleeping. And he says to Peter, Simon, dost thou sleep? Hast thou not been able to watch one hour?

[38]Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed [is] willing, but the flesh weak.

[39]And going away, he prayed again, saying the same thing.

[40]And returning, he found them again sleeping, for their eyes were heavy; and they knew not what they should answer him.

[41]And he comes the third time and says to them, Sleep on now, and take your rest. It is enough; the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is delivered up into the hands of sinners.

[42]Arise, let us go; behold, he that delivers me up has drawn nigh.

[43]And immediately, while he was yet speaking, Judas comes up, [being] one of the twelve, and with him a great crowd, with swords and sticks, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

[44]Now he that delivered him up had given them a sign between them, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; seize him, and lead [him] away safely.

[45]And being come, straightway coming up to him, he says, Rabbi, Rabbi; and he covered him with kisses.

[46]And they laid their hands upon him and seized him.

[47]But a certain one of those who stood by, having drawn his sword, struck the bondman of the high priest, and took off his ear.

[48]And Jesus answering said to them, Are ye come out as against a robber, with swords and sticks to take me?

[49]I was daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye did not seize me; but [it is] that the scriptures may be fulfilled.

[50]And all left him and fled.

[51]And a certain young man followed him with a linen cloth cast about his naked [body]; and [the young men] seize him;

[52]but he, leaving the linen cloth behind [him], fled from them naked.

[53]And they led away Jesus to the high priest. And there come together to him all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

[54]And Peter followed him at a distance, till [he was] within the court of the high priest's palace; and he was sitting with the officers and warming himself in the light [of the fire].

[55]And the chief priests and the whole sanhedrim sought testimony against Jesus to cause him to be put to death, and did not find [any].

[56]For many bore false witness against him, and their testimony did not agree.

[57]And certain persons rose up and bore false witness against him, saying,

[58]We heard him saying, I will destroy this temple which is made with hands, and in the course of three days I will build another not made with hands.

[59]And neither thus did their testimony agree.

[60]And the high priest, rising up before them all, asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? What do these testify against thee?

[61]But he was silent, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and says to him, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?

[62]And Jesus said, I am, and ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming with the clouds of heaven.

[63]And the high priest, having rent his clothes, says, What need have we any more of witnesses?

[64]Ye have heard the blasphemy; what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

[65]And some began to spit upon him, and cover up his face, and buffet him, and say to him, Prophesy; and the officers struck him with the palms of their hands.

[66]And Peter being below in the palace-court, there comes one of the maids of the high priest, [67]and seeing Peter warming himself, having looked at him, says, And thou wast with the Nazarene, Jesus.

[68]But he denied, saying, I know not nor understand what thou sayest. And he went out into the vestibule; and a cock crew.

69And the maid, seeing him, again began to say to those that stood by, This is [one] of them.

70And he again denied. And again, after a little, those that stood by said to Peter, Truly thou art [one] of them, for also thou art a Galilean.

71But he began to curse and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

72And the second time a cock crew. And Peter remembered the word that Jesus said to him, Before [the] cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice; and when he thought thereon he wept.

15And immediately in the morning the chief priests, having taken counsel with the elders and scribes and the whole sanhedrim, bound Jesus and carried [him] away, and delivered [him] up to Pilate.

2And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered and said to him, Thou sayest.

3And the chief priests accused him urgently.

4And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? See of how many things they bear witness against thee.

5But Jesus still answered nothing, so that Pilate marvelled.

6But at [the] feast he released to them one prisoner, whomsoever they begged [of him].

7Now there was the [person] named Barabbas bound with those who had made insurrection with [him], [and] that had committed murder in the insurrection.

8And the crowd crying out began to beg [that he would do] to them as he had always done.

9But Pilate answered them saying, Will ye that I release to you the King of the Jews?

10for he knew that the chief priests had delivered him up through envy.

11But the chief priests stirred up the crowd that he might rather release Barabbas to them.

12And Pilate answering said to them again, What will ye then that I do [to him] whom ye call King of the Jews?

13And they cried out again, Crucify him.

14And Pilate said to them, What evil then has he done? But they cried out the more urgently, Crucify him.

15And Pilate, desirous of contenting the crowd, released to them Barabbas, and delivered up Jesus, when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16And the soldiers led him away into the court which is [called the] praetorium, and they call together the whole band.

[17]And they clothe him with purple, and bind round on him a crown of thorns which they had plaited.

[18]And they began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!

[19]And they struck his head with a reed, and spat on him, and, bending the knee, did him homage.

[20]And when they had mocked him, they took the purple off him, and put his own clothes on him; and they lead him out that they may crucify him.

[21]And they compel to go [with them] a certain passer-by, Simon, a Cyrenian, coming from the field, the father of Alexander and Rufus, that he might carry his cross.

[22]And they bring him to the place [called] Golgotha, which, being interpreted, is Place of a skull.

[23]And they offered him wine [to drink] medicated with myrrh; but he did not take [it].

[24]And having crucified him, they part his clothes amongst [themselves], casting lots on them, what each one should take.

[25]And it was the third hour, and they crucified him.

[26]And the superscription of what he was accused of was written up: The King of the Jews.

[28][And the scripture was fulfilled which says, And he was reckoned with the lawless.]

[29]And they that passed by reviled him, shaking their heads, and saying, Aha, thou that destroyest the temple and buildest it in three days, [30]save thyself, and descend from the cross.

[31]In like manner the chief priests also, with the scribes, mocking with one another, said, He saved others; himself he cannot save.

[32]Let the Christ the King of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and may believe. And they that were crucified with him reproached him.

[33]And when [the] sixth hour was come, there came darkness over the whole land until [the] ninth hour;

[34]and at the ninth hour, Jesus cried with a loud voice, [saying], Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

[35]And some of those who stood by, when they heard [it], said, Behold, he calls for Elias.

[36]And one, running and filling a sponge with vinegar, fixed it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone, let us see if Elias comes to take him down.

[37]And Jesus, having uttered a loud cry, expired.

[38]And the veil of the temple was rent in two from the top to the bottom.

[39]And the centurion who stood by over against him, when he saw that he had expired having thus cried out, said, Truly this man was Son of God.

[40]And there were women also looking on from afar off, among whom were both Mary of Magdala, and Mary the mother of James the less and of Joses, and Salome;

[41]who also, when he was in Galilee, followed him and ministered to him; and many others who came up with him to Jerusalem.

[42]And when it was already evening, since it was [the] preparation, that is, [the day] before a sabbath,

[43]Joseph of Arimathaea, an honourable councillor, who also himself was awaiting the kingdom of God, coming, emboldened himself and went in to Pilate and begged the body of Jesus.

[44]And Pilate wondered if he were already dead; and having called to [him] the centurion, he inquired of him if he had long died.

[45]And when he knew from the centurion, he granted the body to Joseph.

[46]And having bought fine linen, [and] having taken him down, he swathed him in the fine linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was cut out of rock, and rolled a stone to the door of the sepulchre.

[47]And Mary of Magdala and Mary the [mother] of Joses saw where he was put.

16 And the sabbath being [now] past, Mary of Magdala, and Mary the [mother] of James, and Salome, bought aromatic spices that they might come and embalm him.

[2]And very early on the first [day] of the week they come to the sepulchre, the sun having risen.

[3]And they said to one another, Who shall roll us away the stone out of the door of the sepulchre?

[4]And when they looked, they see that the stone has been rolled [away], for it was very great.

[5]And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right, clothed in a white robe, and they were amazed and alarmed;

[6]but he says to them, Be not alarmed. Ye seek Jesus, the Nazarene, the crucified one. He is risen, he is not here; behold the place where they had put him.

[7]But go, tell his disciples and Peter, he goes before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him, as he said to you.

[8]And they went out, and fled from the sepulchre. And trembling and excessive amazement possessed them, and they said nothing to any one, for they were afraid.

[9]Now when he had risen very early, the first [day] of the week, he appeared first to Mary of Magdala, out of whom he had cast seven demons.

[10]She went and brought word to those that had been with him, [who were] grieving and weeping.

[11]And when these heard that he was alive and had been seen of her, they disbelieved [it].

[12]And after these things he was manifested in another form to two of them as they walked, going into the country;

[13]and they went and brought word to the rest; neither did they believe them.

[14]Afterwards as they lay at table he was manifested to the eleven, and reproached [them with] their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they had not believed those who had seen him risen.

[15]And he said to them, Go into all the world, and preach the glad tidings to all the creation.

[16]He that believes and is baptised shall be saved, and he that disbelieves shall be condemned.

[17]And these signs shall follow those that have believed: in my name they shall cast out demons; they shall speak with new tongues;

[18]they shall take up serpents; and if they should drink any deadly thing it shall not injure them; they shall lay hands upon the infirm, and they shall be well.

[19]The Lord therefore, after he had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven, and sat at the right hand of God.

[20]And they, going forth, preached everywhere, the Lord working with [them], and confirming the word by the signs following upon [it].

Luke

1 Forasmuch as many have undertaken to draw up a relation concerning the matters fully believed among us,

2 as those who from the beginning were eye-witnesses of and attendants on the Word have delivered them to us,

3 it has seemed good to me also, accurately acquainted from the origin with all things, to write to thee with method, most excellent Theophilus,

4 that thou mightest know the certainty of those things in which thou hast been instructed.

5 There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judaea, a certain priest, by name Zacharias, of the course of Abia, and his wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name Elizabeth.

6 And they were both just before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren, and they were both advanced in years.

8 And it came to pass, as he fulfilled his priestly service before God in the order of his course,

9 it fell to him by lot, according to the custom of the priesthood, to enter into the temple of the Lord to burn incense.

10 And all the multitude of the people were praying without at the hour of incense.

11 And an angel of [the] Lord appeared to him, standing on the right of the altar of incense.

12 And Zacharias was troubled, seeing [him], and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said to him, Fear not, Zacharias, because thy supplication has been heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And he shall be to thee joy and rejoicing, and many shall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he shall be great before [the] Lord, and he shall drink no wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with [the] Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb.

16 And many of the sons of Israel shall he turn to [the] Lord their God.

17 And he shall go before him in [the] spirit and power of Elias, to turn hearts of fathers to children, and disobedient ones to [the] thoughts of just [men], to make ready for [the] Lord a prepared people.

[18]And Zacharias said to the angel, How shall I know this, for I am an old man, and my wife advanced in years?

[19]And the angel answering, said to him, I am Gabriel, who stand before God, and I have been sent to speak to thee, and to bring these glad tidings to thee;

[20]and behold, thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, till the day in which these things shall take place, because thou hast not believed my words, the which shall be fulfilled in their time.

[21]And the people were awaiting Zacharias, and they wondered at his delaying in the temple.

[22]But when he came out he could not speak to them, and they recognised that he had seen a vision in the temple. And he was making signs to them, and continued dumb.

[23]And it came to pass, when the days of his service were completed, he departed to his house.

[24]Now after these days, Elizabeth his wife conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,

[25]Thus has [the] Lord done to me in [these] days in which he looked upon [me] to take away my reproach among men.

[26]But in the sixth month, the angel Gabriel was sent of God to a city of Galilee, of which [the] name [was] Nazareth, [27]to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name [was] Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name [was] Mary.

[28]And the angel came in to her, and said, Hail, [thou] favoured one! the Lord [is] with thee: [blessed art thou amongst women].

[29]But she, [seeing] [the angel], was troubled at his word, and reasoned in her mind what this salutation might be.

[30]And the angel said to her, Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favour with God;

[31]and behold, thou shalt conceive in the womb and bear a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus.

[32]He shall be great, and shall be called Son of [the] Highest; and [the] Lord God shall give him the throne of David his father;

[33]and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for the ages, and of his kingdom there shall not be an end.

[34]But Mary said to the angel, How shall this be, since I know not a man?

[35]And the angel answering said to her, [The] Holy Spirit shall come upon thee, and power of [the] Highest overshadow thee, wherefore the holy thing also which shall be born shall be called Son of God.

[36]And behold, Elizabeth, thy kinswoman, she also has conceived a son in her old age, and this is the sixth month to her that was called barren:

[37]for nothing shall be impossible with God.

[38]And Mary said, Behold the bondmaid of [the] Lord; be it to me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

[39]And Mary, rising up in those days, went into the hill country with haste, to a city of Judah, [40]and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

[41]And it came to pass, as Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elizabeth was filled with [the] Holy Spirit, [42]and cried out with a loud voice and said, Blessed [art] thou amongst women, and blessed the fruit of thy womb.

[43]And whence [is] this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

[44]For behold, as the voice of thy salutation sounded in my ears, the babe leaped with joy in my womb.

[45]And blessed [is] she that has believed, for there shall be a fulfilment of the things spoken to her from [the] Lord.

[46]And Mary said, My soul magnifies the Lord,

[47]and my spirit has rejoiced in God my Saviour.

[48]For he has looked upon the low estate of his bondmaid; for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

[49]For the Mighty One has done to me great things, and holy [is] his name;

[50]and his mercy [is] to generations and generations to them that fear him.

[51]He has wrought strength with his arm; he has scattered haughty [ones] in the thought of their heart.

[52]He has put down rulers from thrones, and exalted the lowly.

[53]He has filled the hungry with good things, and sent away the rich empty.

[54]He has helped Israel his servant, in order to remember mercy, [55](as he spoke to our fathers,) to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

[56]And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her house.

[57]But the time was fulfilled for Elizabeth that she should bring forth, and she gave birth to a son.

[58]And her neighbours and kinsfolk heard that [the] Lord had magnified his mercy with her, and they rejoiced with her.

[59]And it came to pass on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and they called it after the name of his father, Zacharias.

60 And his mother answering said, No; but he shall be called John.

61 And they said to her, There is no one among thy kinsfolk who is called by this name.

62 And they made signs to his father as to what he might wish it to be called.

63 And having asked for a writing-table, he wrote saying, John is his name. And they all wondered.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue, and he spake, blessing God.

65 And fear came upon all who dwelt round about them; and in the whole hill-country of Judaea all these things were the subject of conversation.

66 And all who heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, What then will this child be? And [the] Lord's hand was with him.

67 And Zacharias his father was filled with [the] Holy Spirit, and prophesied, saying,

68 Blessed be [the] Lord the God of Israel, because he has visited and wrought redemption for his people,

69 and raised up a horn of deliverance for us in the house of David his servant;

70 as he spoke by [the] mouth of his holy prophets, who have been since the world began;

71 deliverance from our enemies and out of the hand of all who hate us;

72 to fulfil mercy with our fathers and remember his holy covenant,

73 [the] oath which he swore to Abraham our father,

74 to give us, that, saved out of the hand of our enemies, we should serve him without fear

75 in piety and righteousness before him all our days.

76 And thou, child, shalt be called [the] prophet of [the] Highest; for thou shalt go before the face of [the] Lord to make ready his ways;

77 to give knowledge of deliverance to his people by [the] remission of their sins

78 on account of [the] bowels of mercy of our God; wherein [the] dayspring from on high has visited us,

79 to shine upon them who were sitting in darkness and in [the] shadow of death, to guide our feet into [the] way of peace.

80 -- And the child grew and was strengthened in spirit; and he was in the deserts until the day of his shewing to Israel.

2 But it came to pass in those days that a decree went out from Caesar Augustus, that a census should be made of all the habitable world.

[2]The census itself first took place when Cyrenius had the government of Syria.

[3]And all went to be inscribed in the census roll, each to his own city:

[4]and Joseph also went up from Galilee out of the city Nazareth to Judaea, to David's city, the which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David,

[5]to be inscribed in the census roll with Mary who was betrothed to him [as his] wife, she being great with child.

[6]And it came to pass, while they were there, the days of her giving birth [to her child] were fulfilled,

[7]and she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him up in swaddling-clothes and laid him in the manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

[8]And there were shepherds in that country abiding without, and keeping watch by night over their flock.

[9]And lo, an angel of [the] Lord was there by them, and [the] glory of [the] Lord shone around them, and they feared [with] great fear.

[10]And the angel said to them, Fear not, for behold, I announce to you glad tidings of great joy, which shall be to all the people;

[11]for to-day a Saviour has been born to you in David's city, who is Christ [the] Lord.

[12]And this is the sign to you: ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling-clothes, and lying in a manger.

[13]And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, [14]Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good pleasure in men.

[15]And it came to pass, as the angels departed from them into heaven, that the shepherds said to one another, Let us make our way then now as far as Bethlehem, and let us see this thing that is come to pass, which the Lord has made known to us.

[16]And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger;

[17]and having seen [it] they made known about the country the thing which had been said to them concerning this child.

[18]And all who heard [it] wondered at the things said to them by the shepherds.

[19]But Mary kept all these things [in her mind], pondering [them] in her heart.

[20]And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all things which they had heard and seen, as it had been said to them.

[21]And when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising him, his name was called Jesus, which was the name given by the angel before he had been conceived in the womb.

[22]And when the days were fulfilled for their purifying according to the law of Moses, they brought him to Jerusalem to present [him] to the Lord

[23](as it is written in the law of [the] Lord: Every male that opens the womb shall be called holy to the Lord), [24]and to offer a sacrifice according to what is said in the law of [the] Lord: A pair of turtle doves, or two young pigeons.

[25]And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon; and this man was just and pious, awaiting the consolation of Israel, and [the] Holy Spirit was upon him.

[26]And it was divinely communicated to him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death before he should see [the] Lord's Christ.

[27]And he came in the Spirit into the temple; and as the parents brought in the child Jesus that they might do for him according to the custom of the law,

[28]he received him into his arms, and blessed God, and said,

[29]Lord, now thou lettest thy bondman go, according to thy word, in peace;

[30]for mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

[31]which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples;

[32]a light for revelation of [the] Gentiles and [the] glory of thy people Israel.

[33]And his father and mother wondered at the things which were said concerning him.

[34]And Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary his mother, Lo, this [child] is set for the fall and rising up of many in Israel, and for a sign spoken against;

[35](and even a sword shall go through thine own soul;) so that [the] thoughts may be revealed from many hearts.

[36]And there was a prophetess, Anna, daughter of Phanuel, of [the] tribe of Asher, who was far advanced in years, having lived with [her] husband seven years from her virginity,

[37]and herself a widow up to eighty-four years; who did not depart from the temple, serving night and day with fastings and prayers;

[38]and she coming up the same hour gave praise to the Lord, and spoke of him to all those who waited for redemption in Jerusalem.

[39]And when they had completed all things according to the law of [the] Lord, they returned to Galilee to their own city Nazareth.

[40]And the child grew and waxed strong [in spirit], filled with wisdom, and God's grace was upon him.

[41]And his parents went yearly to Jerusalem at the feast of the passover.

[42]And when he was twelve years old, and they went up [to Jerusalem] according to the custom of the feast

[43]and had completed the days, as they returned, the boy Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem, and his parents knew not [of it];

[44]but, supposing him to be in the company that journeyed together, they went a day's journey, and sought him among their relations and acquaintances:

[45]and not having found him they returned to Jerusalem seeking him.

[46]And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers and hearing them and asking them questions.

[47]And all who heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

[48]And when they saw him they were amazed: and his mother said to him, Child, why hast thou dealt thus with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee distressed.

[49]And he said to them, Why [is it] that ye have sought me? did ye not know that I ought to be [occupied] in my Father's business?

[50]And they understood not the thing that he said to them.

[51]And he went down with them and came to Nazareth, and he was in subjection to them. And his mother kept all these things in her heart.

[52]And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and men.

3Now in the fifteenth year of the government of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judaea, and Herod tetrarch of Galilee, and Philip his brother tetrarch of Ituraea and the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,

[2]in the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, [the] word of God came upon John, the son of Zacharias, in the wilderness.

[3]And he came into all the district round the Jordan, preaching [the] baptism of repentance for [the] remission of sins,

[4]as it is written in [the] book of [the] words of Esaias the prophet: Voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare ye the way of [the] Lord, make straight his paths.

[5]Every gorge shall be filled up, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low, and the crooked [places] shall become a straight [path], and the rough places smooth ways,

[6]and all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

[7]He said therefore to the crowds which went out to be baptised by him, Offspring of vipers, who has forewarned you to flee from the coming wrath?

[8]Produce therefore fruits worthy of repentance; and begin not to say in yourselves, We have Abraham for [our] father, for I say unto you that God is able of these stones to raise up children to Abraham.

[9]And already also the axe is applied to the root of the trees; every tree therefore not producing good fruit is cut down and cast into [the] fire.

[10]And the crowds asked him saying, What should we do then?

[11]And he answering says to them, He that has two body-coats, let him give to him that has none; and he that has food, let him do likewise.

[12]And tax-gatherers came also to be baptised, and they said to him, Teacher, what should we do?

[13]And he said to them, Take no more [money] than what is appointed to you.

[14]And persons engaged in military service also asked him saying, And we, what should we do? And he said to them, Oppress no one, nor accuse falsely, and be satisfied with your pay.

[15]But as the people were in expectation, and all were reasoning in their hearts concerning John whether he might be the Christ,

[16]John answered all, saying, I indeed baptise you with water, but the mightier than I is coming, the thong of whose sandals I am not fit to unloose; he shall baptise you with [the] Holy Spirit and fire;

[17]whose winnowing-fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his threshing-floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner, but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.

[18]Exhorting then many other things also he announced [his] glad tidings to the people.

[19]But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him as to Herodias, the wife of his brother, and as to all the wicked things which Herod had done, [20]added this also to all [the rest], that he shut up John in prison.

[21]And it came to pass, all the people having been baptised, and Jesus having been baptised and praying, that the heaven was opened,

[22]and the Holy Spirit descended in a bodily form as a dove upon him; and a voice came out of heaven, Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I have found my delight.

[23]And Jesus himself was beginning to be about thirty years old; being as was supposed son of Joseph; of Eli,

[24]of Matthat, of Levi, of Melchi, of Janna, of Joseph,

[25]of Mattathias, of Amos, of Naoum, of Esli, of Naggai,

[26]of Maath, of Mattathias, of Semei, of Joseph, of Juda,

[27]of Joannes, of Resa, of Zorobabel, of Salathiel, of Neri,

[28]of Melchi, of Addi, of Cosam, of Elmodam, of Er,

[29]of Joses, of Eliezer, of Joreim, of Matthat, of Levi,

[30]of Simeon, of Juda, of Joseph, of Jonan, of Eliakim,

[31]of Meleas, of Menan, of Mattatha, of Nathan, of David,

[32]of Jesse, of Obed, of Booz, of Salmon, of Naasson,

[33]of Aminadab, of Aram, of Esrom, of Phares, of Juda,

[34]of Jacob, of Isaac, of Abraham, of Terah, of Nachor,

[35]of Seruch, of Ragau, of Phalek, of Eber, of Sala,

[36]of Cainan, of Arphaxad, of Sem, of Noe, of Lamech,

[37]of Methusala, of Enoch, of Jared, of Maleleel, of Cainan, [38]of Enos, of Seth, of Adam, of God.

4But Jesus, full of [the] Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led by the Spirit in the wilderness

[2]forty days, tempted of the devil; and in those days he did not eat anything, and when they were finished he hungered.

[3]And the devil said to him, If thou be Son of God, speak to this stone, that it become bread.

[4]And Jesus answered unto him saying, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

[5]And [the devil], leading him up into a high mountain, shewed him all the kingdoms of the habitable world in a moment of time.

[6]And the devil said to him, I will give thee all this power, and their glory; for it is given up to me, and to whomsoever I will I give it.

[7]If therefore thou wilt do homage before me, all [of it] shall be thine.

[8]And Jesus answering him said, It is written, Thou shalt do homage to [the] Lord thy God, and him alone shalt thou serve.

[9]And he led him to Jerusalem, and set him on the edge of the temple, and said to him, If thou be Son of God, cast thyself down hence;

[10]for it is written, He shall give charge to his angels concerning thee to keep thee;

[11]and on [their] hands shall they bear thee, lest in any wise thou strike thy foot against a stone.

[12]And Jesus answering said to him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt [the] Lord thy God.

[13]And the devil, having completed every temptation, departed from him for a time.

[14]And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit to Galilee; and a rumour went out into the whole surrounding country about him;

[15]and he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

[16]And he came to Nazareth, where he was brought up; and he entered, according to his custom, into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up to read.

[17]And [the] book of the prophet Esaias was given to him; and having unrolled the book he found the place where it was written,

[18][The] Spirit of [the] Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach glad tidings to [the] poor; he has sent me to preach to captives deliverance, and to [the] blind sight, to send forth [the] crushed delivered, [19]to preach [the] acceptable year of [the] Lord.

[20]And having rolled up the book, when he had delivered it up to the attendant, he sat down; and the eyes of all in the synagogue were fixed upon him.

[21]And he began to say to them, To-day this scripture is fulfilled in your ears.

[22]And all bore witness to him, and wondered at the words of grace which were coming out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this the son of Joseph?

[23]And he said to them, Ye will surely say to me this parable, Physician, heal thyself; whatsoever we have heard has taken place in Capernaum do here also in thine own country.

[24]And he said, Verily I say to you, that no prophet is acceptable in his [own] country.

[25]But of a truth I say to you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up for three years and six months, so that a great famine came upon all the land,

[26]and to none of them was Elias sent but to Sarepta of Sidonia, to a woman [that was] a widow.

[27]And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet, and none of them was cleansed but Naaman the Syrian.

[28]And they were all filled with rage in the synagogue, hearing these things;

[29]and rising up they cast him forth out of the city, and led him up to the brow of the mountain upon which their city was built, so that they might throw him down the precipice;

[30]but he, passing through the midst of them, went his way,

[31]and descended to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbaths.

[32]And they were astonished at his doctrine, for his word was with authority.

[33]And there was in the synagogue a man having a spirit of an unclean demon, and he cried with a loud voice, [34]saying, Eh! what have we to do with thee, Jesus, Nazarene? hast thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy [One] of God.

[35]And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out from him. And the demon, having thrown him down into the midst, came out from him without doing him any injury.

[36]And astonishment came upon all, and they spoke to one another, saying, What word [is] this? for with authority and power he commands the unclean spirits, and they come out.

[37]And a rumour went out into every place of the country round concerning him.

[38]And rising up out of the synagogue, he entered into the house of Simon. But Simon's mother-in-law was suffering under a bad fever; and they asked him for her.

[39]And standing over her, he rebuked the fever, and it left her; and forthwith standing up she served them.

[40]And when the sun went down, all, as many as had persons sick with divers diseases, brought them to him, and having laid his hands on every one of them, he healed them;

[41]and demons also went out from many, crying out and saying, Thou art the Son of God. And rebuking them, he suffered them not to speak, because they knew him to be the Christ.

[42]And when it was day he went out, and went into a desert place, and the crowds sought after him, and came up to him, and [would have] kept him back that he should not go from them.

[43]But he said to them, I must needs announce the glad tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also, for for this I have been sent forth.

[44]And he was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

5And it came to pass, as the crowd pressed on him to hear the word of God, that he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret:

[2]and he saw two ships standing by the lake, but the fishermen, having come down from them, were washing their nets.

[3]And getting into one of the ships, which was Simon's, he asked him to draw out a little from the land; and he sat down and taught the crowds out of the ship.

[4]But when he ceased speaking, he said to Simon, Draw out into the deep [water] and let down your nets for a haul.

[5]And Simon answering said to him, Master, having laboured through the whole night we have taken nothing, but at thy word I will let down the net.

[6]And having done this, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes. And their net broke.

[7]And they beckoned to their partners who were in the other ship to come and help them, and they came, and filled both the ships, so that they were sinking.

[8]But Simon Peter, seeing it, fell at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord.

[9]For astonishment had laid hold on him, and on all those who were with him, at the haul of fishes which they had taken;

[10]and in like manner also on James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, Fear not; henceforth thou shalt be catching men.

[11]And having run the ships on shore, leaving all they followed him.

[12]And it came to pass as he was in one of the cities, that behold, there was a man full of leprosy, and seeing Jesus, falling upon his face, he besought him saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou art able to cleanse me.

[13]And stretching forth his hand he touched him, saying, I will; be thou cleansed: and immediately the leprosy departed from him.

[14]And he enjoined him to tell no one; but go, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing as Moses ordained, for a testimony to them.

[15]But the report concerning him was spread abroad still more, and great crowds came together to hear, and to be healed from their infirmities.

[16]And he withdrew himself, and was about in the desert [places] and praying.

[17]And it came to pass on one of the days, that he was teaching, and there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, who were come out of every village of Galilee and Judaea and [out of] Jerusalem; and [the] Lord's power was [there] to heal them.

[18]And lo, men bringing upon a couch a man who was paralysed; and they sought to bring him in, and put [him] before him.

[19]And not finding what way to bring him in, on account of the crowd, going up on the housetop they let him down through the tiles, with his little couch, into the midst before Jesus.

[20]And seeing their faith, he said, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

[21]And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason [in their minds], saying, Who is this who speaks blasphemies?

Who is able to forgive sins but God alone?

[22]But Jesus, knowing their reasonings, answering said to them, Why reason ye in your hearts?

[23]which is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

[24]But that ye may know that the Son of man has power on earth to forgive sins, he said to the paralysed man, I say to thee, Arise, and take up thy little couch and go to thine house.

[25]And immediately standing up before them, having taken up that whereon he was laid, he departed to his house, glorifying God.

[26]And astonishment seized all, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

[27]And after these things he went forth and saw a tax-gatherer, Levi by name, sitting at the receipt of taxes, and said to him, Follow me.

[28]And having left all, rising up, he followed him.

[29]And Levi made a great entertainment for him in his house, and there was a great crowd of tax-gatherers and others who were at table with them.

[30]And their scribes and the Pharisees murmured at his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with tax-gatherers and sinners?

[31]And Jesus answering said to them, They that are in sound health have not need of a physician, but those that are ill.

[32]I am not come to call righteous [persons], but sinful [ones] to repentance.

[33]And they said to him, Why do the disciples of John fast often and make supplications, in like manner those also of the Pharisees, but thine eat and drink?

[34]And he said to them, Can ye make the sons of the bridechamber fast when the bridegroom is with them?

[35]But days will come when also the bridegroom will have been taken away from them; then shall they fast in those days.

[36]And he spoke also a parable to them: No one puts a piece of a new garment upon an old garment, otherwise he will both rend the new, and the piece which is from the new will not suit with the old.

[37]And no one puts new wine into old skins, otherwise the new wine will burst the skins, and it will be poured out, and the skins will be destroyed;

[38]but new wine is to be put into new skins, and both are preserved.

[39]And no one having drunk old wine [straightway] wishes for new, for he says, The old is better.

6And it came to pass on [the] second-first sabbath, that he went through cornfields, and his disciples were plucking the ears and eating [them], rubbing [them] in their hands.

[2]But some of the Pharisees said to them, Why do ye what is not lawful to do on the sabbath?

[3]And Jesus answering said to them, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did when he hungered, he and those who were with him,

[4]how he entered into the house of God and took the shewbread and ate, and gave to those also who were with him, which it is not lawful that [any] eat, unless the priests alone?

[5]And he said to them, The Son of man is Lord of the sabbath also.

[6]And it came to pass on another sabbath also that he entered into the synagogue and taught; and there was a man there, and his right hand was withered.

[7]And the scribes and the Pharisees were watching if he would heal on the sabbath, that they might find something of which to accuse him.

[8]But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man who had the withered hand, Get up, and stand in the midst. And having risen up he stood [there].

[9]Jesus therefore said to them, I will ask you if it is lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy [it]?

[10]And having looked around on them all, he said to him, Stretch out thy hand. And he did [so] and his hand was restored as the other.

[11]But they were filled with madness, and they spoke together among themselves what they should do to Jesus.

[12]And it came to pass in those days that he went out into the mountain to pray, and he spent the night in prayer to God.

[13]And when it was day he called his disciples, and having chosen out twelve from them, whom also he named apostles:

[14]Simon, to whom also he gave the name of Peter, and Andrew his brother, [and] James and John, [and] Philip and Bartholomew,

[15][and] Matthew and Thomas, James the [son] of Alphaeus and Simon who was called Zealot,

[16][and] Judas [brother] of James, and Judas Iscariote, who was also [his] betrayer;

[17]and having descended with them, he stood on a level place, and a crowd of his disciples, and a great multitude of the people from all Judaea and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

[18]and those that were beset by unclean spirits were healed.

[19]And all the crowd sought to touch him, for power went out from him and healed all.

[20]And he, lifting up his eyes upon his disciples, said, Blessed [are] ye poor, for yours is the kingdom of God.

[21]Blessed ye that hunger now, for ye shall be filled. Blessed ye that weep now, for ye shall laugh.

[22]Blessed are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you [from them], and shall reproach [you], and cast out your name as wicked, for the Son of man's sake:

[23]rejoice in that day and leap for joy, for behold, your reward is great in the heaven, for after this manner did their fathers act toward the prophets.

[24]But woe to you rich, for ye have received your consolation.

[25]Woe to you that are filled, for ye shall hunger. Woe to you who laugh now, for ye shall mourn and weep.

[26]Woe, when all men speak well of you, for after this manner did their fathers to the false prophets.

[27]But to you that hear I say, Love your enemies; do good to those that hate you;

[28]bless those that curse you; pray for those who use you despitefully.

[29]To him that smites thee on the cheek, offer also the other; and from him that would take away thy garment, forbid not thy body-coat also.

[30]To every one that asks of thee, give; and from him that takes away what is thine, ask it not back.

[31]And as ye wish that men should do to you, do ye also to them in like manner.

[32]And if ye love those that love you, what thank is it to you? for even sinners love those that love them.

[33]And if ye do good to those that do good to you, what thank is it to you? for even sinners do the same.

[34]And if ye lend to those from whom ye hope to receive, what thank is it to you? [for] even sinners lend to sinners that they may receive the like.

[35]But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing in return, and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be sons of [the] Highest; for he is good to the unthankful and wicked.

[36]Be ye therefore merciful, even as your Father also is merciful.

[37]And judge not, and ye shall not be judged; condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned. Remit, and it shall be remitted to you.

[38]Give, and it shall be given to you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall be given into your bosom: for with the same measure with which ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spoke also a parable to them: Can a blind [man] lead a blind [man]? shall not both fall into [the] ditch?

40 The disciple is not above his teacher, but every one that is perfected shall be as his teacher.

41 But why lookest thou on the mote which is in the eye of thy brother, but perceivest not the beam which is in thine own eye?

42 or how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, allow [me], I will cast out the mote that is in thine eye, thyself not seeing the beam that is in thine eye? Hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine eye, and then thou shalt see clear to cast out the mote which is in the eye of thy brother.

43 For there is no good tree which produces corrupt fruit, nor a corrupt tree which produces good fruit;

44 for every tree is known by its own fruit, for figs are not gathered from thorns, nor grapes vintaged from a bramble.

45 The good man, out of the good treasure of his heart, brings forth good; and the wicked [man] out of the wicked, brings forth what is wicked: for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks.

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say?

47 Every one that comes to me, and hears my words and does them, I will shew you to whom he is like.

48 He is like a man building a house, who dug and went deep, and laid a foundation on the rock; but a great rain coming, the stream broke upon that house, and could not shake it, for it had been founded on the rock.

49 And he that has heard and not done, is like a man who has built a house on the ground without [a] foundation, on which the stream broke, and immediately it fell, and the breach of that house was great.

7 And when he had completed all his words in the hearing of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's bondman who was dear to him was ill and about to die;

3 and having heard of Jesus, he sent to him elders of the Jews, begging him that he might come and save his bondman.

4 But they, being come to Jesus, besought him diligently, saying, He is worthy to whom thou shouldest grant this,

5 for he loves our nation, and himself has built the synagogue for us.

6 And Jesus went with them. But already, when he was not far from the house, the centurion sent to him friends, saying to him, Lord, do not trouble thyself, for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof.

[7]Wherefore neither did I count myself worthy to come to thee. But say by a word and my servant shall be healed.

[8]For I also am a man placed under authority, having under myself soldiers, and I say to this [one], Go, and he goes; and to another, Come, and he comes; and to my bondman, Do this, and he does [it].

[9]And Jesus hearing this wondered at him, and turning to the crowd following him said, I say to you, Not even in Israel have I found so great faith.

[10]And they who had been sent returning to the house found the bondman, who was ill, in good health.

[11]And it came to pass afterwards he went into a city called Nain, and many of his disciples and a great crowd went with him.

[12]And as he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, a dead man was carried out, the only son of his mother, and she a widow, and a very considerable crowd of the city [was] with her.

[13]And the Lord, seeing her, was moved with compassion for her, and said to her, Weep not;

[14]and coming up he touched the bier, and the bearers stopped. And he said, Youth, I say to thee, Wake up.

[15]And the dead sat up and began to speak; and he gave him to his mother.

[16]And fear seized on all, and they glorified God, saying, A great prophet has been raised up amongst us; and God has visited his people.

[17]And this report went out in all Judaea concerning him, and in all the surrounding country.

[18]And the disciples of John brought him word concerning all these things:

[19]and John, having called two of his disciples, sent to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that is coming, or are we to wait for another?

[20]But the men having come to him said, John the baptist has sent us to thee, saying, Art thou he that is coming, or are we to wait for another?

[21]In that hour he healed many of diseases and plagues and evil spirits, and to many blind he granted sight.

[22]And Jesus answering said to them, Go, bring back word to John of what ye have seen and heard: that blind see, lame walk, lepers are cleansed, deaf hear, dead are raised, poor are evangelized;

[23]and blessed is whosoever shall not be offended in me.

[24]And the messengers of John having departed, he began to speak to the crowds concerning John: What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a reed shaken by the wind?

[25]But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in delicate garments? Behold, those who are in splendid clothing and live luxuriously are in the courts of kings.

[26]But what went ye out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say to you, and [what is] more excellent than a prophet.

[27]This is he concerning whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee;

[28]for I say unto you, Among them that are born of women a greater [prophet] is no one than John [the baptist]; but he who is a little one in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

[29](And all the people who heard [it], and the tax-gatherers, justified God, having been baptised with the baptism of John;

[30]but the Pharisees and the lawyers rendered null as to themselves the counsel of God, not having been baptised by him.)

[31]To whom therefore shall I liken the men of this generation, and to whom are they like?

[32]They are like children sitting in the market-place, and calling one to another and saying, We have piped to you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

[33]For John the baptist has come neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and ye say, He has a demon.

[34]The Son of man has come eating and drinking, and ye say, Behold an eater and wine-drinker, a friend of tax-gatherers and sinners;

[35]and wisdom has been justified of all her children.

[36]But one of the Pharisees begged him that he would eat with him. And entering into the house of the Pharisee he took his place at table;

[37]and behold, a woman in the city, who was a sinner, and knew that he was sitting at meat in the house of the Pharisee, having taken an alabaster box of myrrh,

[38]and standing at his feet behind [him] weeping, began to wash his feet with tears; and she wiped them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed [them] with the myrrh.

[39]And the Pharisee who had invited him, seeing it, spoke with himself saying, This [person] if he were a prophet would have known who and what the woman is who touches him, for she is a sinner.

[40]And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have somewhat to say to thee. And he says, Teacher, say [it].

[41]There were two debtors of a certain creditor: one owed five hundred denarii and the other fifty;

[42]but as they had nothing to pay, he forgave both of them [their debt]: [say,] which of them therefore will love him most?

[43]And Simon answering said, I suppose he to whom he forgave the most. And he said to him, Thou hast rightly judged.

[44]And turning to the woman he said to Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thy house; thou gavest me not water on my feet, but she has washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with her hair.

[45]Thou gavest me not a kiss, but she from the time I came in has not ceased kissing my feet.

[46]My head with oil thou didst not anoint, but she has anointed my feet with myrrh.

[47]For which cause I say to thee, Her many sins are forgiven; for she loved much; but he to whom little is forgiven loves little.

[48]And he said to her, Thy sins are forgiven.

[49]And they that were with [them] at table began to say within themselves, Who is this who forgives also sins?

[50]And he said to the woman, Thy faith has saved thee; go in peace.

8And it came to pass afterwards that he went through [the country] city by city, and village by village, preaching and announcing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God; and the twelve [were] with him,

[2]and certain women who had been healed of wicked spirits and infirmities, Mary who was called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out,

[3]and Joanna, wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, who ministered to him of their substance.

[4]And a great crowd coming together, and those who were coming to him out of each city, he spoke by parable:

[5]The sower went out to sow his seed; and as he sowed, some fell along the way, and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the heaven devoured it up;

[6]and other fell upon the rock, and having sprung up, it was dried up because it had not moisture;

[7]and other fell in the midst of the thorns, and the thorns having sprung up with [it] choked it;

[8]and other fell into the good ground, and having sprung up bore fruit a hundredfold. As he said these things he cried, He that has ears to hear, let him hear.

[9]And his disciples asked him [saying], What may this parable be?

[10]And he said, To you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God, but to the rest in parables, in order that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.

[11]But the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

[12]But those by the wayside are those who hear; then comes the devil and takes away the word from their heart that they may not believe and be saved.

[13]But those upon the rock, those who when they hear receive the word with joy; and these have no root, who believe for a time, and in time of trial fall away.

[14]But that that fell where the thorns were, these are they who having heard go away and are choked under cares and riches and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

[15]But that in the good ground, these are they who in an honest and good heart, having heard the word keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

[16]And no one having lighted a lamp covers it with a vessel or puts it under a couch, but sets it on a lamp-stand, that they who enter in may see the light.

[17]For there is nothing hid which shall not become manifest, nor secret which shall not be known and come to light.

[18]Take heed therefore how ye hear; for whosoever has, to him shall be given, and whosoever has not, even what he seems to have shall be taken from him.

[19]And his mother and his brethren came to him, and could not get to him because of the crowd.

[20]And it was told him [saying], Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, wishing to see thee.

[21]But he answering said to them, My mother and my brethren are those who hear the word of God and do [it].

[22]And it came to pass on one of the days, that he entered into a ship, himself and his disciples; and he said to them, Let us pass over to the other side of the lake; and they set off from shore.

[23]And as they sailed, he fell asleep; and a sudden squall of wind came down on the lake, and they were filled [with water], and were in danger;

[24]and coming to [him] they woke him up, saying, Master, master, we perish. But he, rising up, rebuked the wind and the raging of the water; and they ceased, and there was a calm.

[25]And he said to them, Where is your faith? And, being afraid, they were astonished, saying to one another, Who then is this, that he commands even the winds and the water, and they obey him?

[26]And they arrived in the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

[27]And as he got out [of the ship] on the land, a certain man out of the city met him, who had demons a long time, and put on no clothes, and did not abide in a house, but in the tombs.

[28]But seeing Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus Son of the Most High God? I beseech thee torment me not.

[29]For he had commanded the unclean spirit to go out from the man. For very often it had seized him; and he had been bound, kept with chains and fetters; and breaking the bonds he was driven by the demon into the deserts.

[30]And Jesus asked him saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: for many demons had entered into him.

[31]And they besought him that he would not command them to go away into the bottomless pit.

[32]And there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain, and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into those; and he suffered them.

[33]And the demons, going out from the man, entered into the swine, and the herd rushed down the precipice into the lake, and were choked.

[34]But they that fed [them], seeing what had happened, fled, and told [it] to the city and to the country.

[35]And they went out to see what had happened, and came to Jesus, and found the man from whom the demons had gone out, sitting, clothed and sensible, at the feet of Jesus. And they were afraid.

[36]And they also who had seen it told them how the possessed man had been healed.

[37]And all the multitude of the surrounding country of the Gadarenes asked him to depart from them, for they were possessed with great fear; and he, entering into the ship, returned.

[38]But the man out of whom the demons had gone besought him that he might be with him. But he sent him away, saying, [39]Return to thine house and relate how great things God has done for thee. And he went away through the whole city, publishing how great things Jesus had done for him.

[40]And it came to pass when Jesus returned, the crowd received him gladly, for they were all expecting him.

[41]And behold, a man came, whose name was Jairus, and he was [a] ruler of the synagogue, and falling at the feet of Jesus besought him to come to his house, [42]because he had an only daughter, about twelve years old, and she was dying. And as he went the crowds thronged him.

[43]And a woman who had a flux of blood since twelve years, who, having spent all her living on physicians, could not be cured by any one,

[44]coming up behind, touched the hem of his garment, and immediately her flux of blood stopped.

[45]And Jesus said, Who has touched me? But all denying, Peter and those with him said, Master, the crowds close thee in and press upon thee, and sayest thou, Who has touched me?

[46]And Jesus said, Some one has touched me, for I have known that power has gone out from me.

[47]And the woman, seeing that she was not hid, came trembling, and falling down before him declared before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was immediately healed.

[48]And he said to her, [Be of good courage,] daughter; thy faith has healed thee; go in peace.

[49]While he was yet speaking, comes some one from the ruler of the synagogue, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; do not trouble the teacher.

[50]But Jesus, hearing it, answered him saying, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be made well.

[51]And when he came to the house he suffered no one to go in but Peter and John and James and the father of the child and the mother.

[52]And all were weeping and lamenting her. But he said, Do not weep, for she has not died, but sleeps.

[53]And they derided him, knowing that she had died.

[54]But he, having turned them all out and taking hold of her hand, cried saying, Child, arise.

[55]And her spirit returned, and immediately she rose up; and he commanded [something] to eat to be given to her.

[56]And her parents were amazed; but he enjoined them to tell no one what had happened.

9And having called together the twelve, he gave them power and authority over all demons, and to heal diseases,

[2]and sent them to proclaim the kingdom of God and to heal the sick.

[3]And he said to them, Take nothing for the way, neither staff, nor scrip, nor bread, nor money; nor to have two body-coats apiece.

[4]And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide and thence go forth.

[5]And as many as may not receive you, going forth from that city, shake off even the dust from your feet for a witness against them.

[6]And going forth they passed through the villages, announcing the glad tidings and healing everywhere.

[7]And Herod the tetrarch heard of all the things which were done [by him], and was in perplexity, because it was said by some that John was risen from among [the] dead,

[8]and by some that Elias had appeared, and by others that one of the old prophets had risen again.

[9]And Herod said, John I have beheaded, but who is this of whom I hear such things? and he sought to see him.

[10]And the apostles having returned related to him whatever they had done. And he took them and withdrew apart into [a desert place of] a city called Bethsaida.

[11]But the crowds knowing [it] followed him; and he received them and spake to them of the kingdom of God, and cured those that had need of healing.

[12]But the day began to decline, and the twelve came and said to him, Send away the crowd that they may go into the villages around, and [into] the fields, and lodge and find victuals, for here we are in a desert place.

[13]And he said to them, Give *ye them to eat. And they said, We have not more than five loaves and two fishes, unless we should go and buy food for all this people;

[14]for they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down in companies by fifties.

[15]And they did so, and made them all sit down.

[16]And taking the five loaves and the two fishes, looking up to heaven he blessed them, and broke and gave to the disciples to set before the crowd.

[17]And they all ate and were filled; and there was taken up of what had remained over and above to them in fragments twelve hand-baskets.

[18]And it came to pass as he was praying alone, his disciples were with him, and he asked them saying, Who do the crowds say that I am?

[19]But they answering said, John the baptist; but others, Elias; and others, that one of the old prophets has risen again.

[20]And he said to them, But ye, who do ye say that I am? And Peter answering said, The Christ of God.

[21]But, earnestly charging them, he enjoined [them] to say this to no man, [22]saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up.

[23]And he said to [them] all, If any one will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me;

[24]for whosoever shall desire to save his life shall lose it, but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, he shall save it.

[25]For what shall a man profit if he shall have gained the whole world, and have destroyed, or come under the penalty of the loss of himself?

[26]For whosoever shall have been ashamed of me and of my words, of him will the Son of man be ashamed when he shall come in his glory, and [in that] of the Father, and of the holy angels.

27 But I say unto you of a truth, There are some of those standing here who shall not taste death until they shall have seen the kingdom of God.

28 And it came to pass after these words, about eight days, that taking Peter and John and James he went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed the fashion of his countenance became different and his raiment white [and] effulgent.

30 And lo, two men talked with him, who were Moses and Elias,

31 who, appearing in glory, spoke of his departure which he was about to accomplish in Jerusalem.

32 But Peter and those with him were oppressed with sleep: but having fully awoke up they saw his glory, and the two men who stood with him.

33 And it came to pass as they departed from him, Peter said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.

34 But as he was saying these things, there came a cloud and overshadowed them, and they feared as they entered into the cloud:

35 and there was a voice out of the cloud saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.

36 And as the voice was [heard] Jesus was found alone: and they kept silence, and told no one in those days any of the things they had seen.

37 And it came to pass on the following day, when they came down from the mountain, a great crowd met him.

38 And lo, a man from the crowd cried out saying, Teacher, I beseech thee look upon my son, for he is mine only child:

39 and behold, a spirit takes him, and suddenly he cries out, and it tears him with foaming, and with difficulty departs from him after crushing him.

40 And I besought thy disciples that they might cast him out, and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering said, O unbelieving and perverted generation, how long shall I be with you and suffer you? Bring hither thy son.

42 But as he was yet coming, the demon tore him and dragged him all together. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child and gave him back to his father.

43 And all were astonished at the glorious greatness of God. And as all wondered at all the things which [Jesus] did, he said to his disciples, [44]Do ye let these words sink into your ears. For the Son of man is about to be delivered into men's hands.

[45]But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them that they should not perceive it. And they feared to ask him concerning this saying.

[46]And a reasoning came in amongst them, who should be [the] greatest of them.

[47]And Jesus, seeing the reasoning of their heart, having taken a little child set it by him, [48]and said to them, Whosoever shall receive this little child in my name receives me, and whosoever shall receive me receives him that sent me. For he who is the least among you all, he is great.

[49]And John answering said, Master, we saw some one casting out demons in thy name, and we forbad him, because he follows not with us.

[50]And Jesus said to him, Forbid [him] not, for he that is not against you is for you.

[51]And it came to pass when the days of his receiving up were fulfilled, that he stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem.

[52]And he sent messengers before his face. And having gone they entered into a village of the Samaritans that they might make ready for him.

[53]And they did not receive him, because his face was [turned as] going to Jerusalem.

[54]And his disciples James and John seeing [it] said, Lord, wilt thou that we speak [that] fire come down from heaven and consume them, as also Elias did?

[55]But turning he rebuked them [and said, Ye know not of what spirit ye are].

[56]And they went to another village.

[57]And it came to pass as they went in the way, one said to him, I will follow thee wheresoever thou goest, Lord.

[58]And Jesus said to him, The foxes have holes and the birds of the heaven roosting-places, but the Son of man has not where he may lay his head.

[59]And he said to another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, allow me to go first and bury my father.

[60]But Jesus said to him, Suffer the dead to bury their own dead, but do thou go and announce the kingdom of God.

[61]And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord, but first allow me to bid adieu to those at my house.

[62]But Jesus said to him, No one having laid his hand on [the] plough and looking back is fit for the kingdom of God.

10 Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy others also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place where he himself was about to come.

2 And he said to them, The harvest indeed [is] great, but the workmen few; supplicate therefore the Lord of the harvest that he may send out workmen into his harvest.

3 Go: behold I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves.

4 Carry neither purse nor scrip nor sandals, and salute no one on the way.

5 And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace to this house.

6 And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it; but if not it shall turn to you again.

7 And in the same house abide, eating and drinking such things as they have; for the workman is worthy of his hire. Remove not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye may enter and they receive you, eat what is set before you,

9 and heal the sick in it, and say to them, The kingdom of God is come nigh to you.

10 But into whatsoever city ye may have entered and they do not receive you, go out into its streets and say,

11 Even the dust of your city, which cleaves to us on the feet, do we shake off against you; but know this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh.

12 I say to you that it shall be more tolerable for Sodom in that day than for that city.

13 Woe to thee, Chorazin! woe to thee, Bethsaida! for if the works of power which have taken place in you had taken place in Tyre and Sidon, they had long ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgment than for you.

15 And thou, Capernaum, who hast been raised up to heaven, shalt be brought down even to hades.

16 He that hears you hears me; and he that rejects you rejects me; and he that rejects me rejects him that sent me.

17 And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the demons are subject to us through thy name.

18 And he said to them, I beheld Satan as lightning falling out of heaven.

19 Behold, I give you the power of treading upon serpents and scorpions and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall in anywise injure you.

20 Yet in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subjected to you, but rejoice that your names are written in the heavens.

[21]In the same hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit and said, I praise thee, Father, Lord of the heaven and of the earth, that thou hast hid these things from wise and prudent, and hast revealed them to babes: yea, Father, for thus has it been well-pleasing in thy sight.

[22]All things have been delivered to me by my Father, and no one knows who the Son is but the Father, and who the Father is but the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son is pleased to reveal [him].

[23]And having turned to the disciples privately he said, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see.

[24]For I say to you that many prophets and kings have desired to see the things which ye behold, and did not see [them]; and to hear the things which ye hear, and did not hear [them].

[25]And behold, a certain lawyer stood up tempting him, and saying, Teacher, having done what, shall I inherit life eternal?

[26]And he said to him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

[27]But he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thine understanding; and thy neighbour as thyself.

[28]And he said to him, Thou hast answered right: this do and thou shalt live.

[29]But he, desirous of justifying himself, said to Jesus, And who is my neighbour?

[30]And Jesus replying said, A certain man descended from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell into [the hands of] robbers, who also, having stripped him and inflicted wounds, went away leaving him in a half-dead state.

[31]And a certain priest happened to go down that way, and seeing him, passed on on the opposite side;

[32]and in like manner also a Levite, being at the spot, came and looked [at him] and passed on on the opposite side.

[33]But a certain Samaritan journeying came to him, and seeing [him], was moved with compassion, [34]and came up [to him] and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine; and having put him on his own beast, took him to [the] inn and took care of him.

[35]And on the morrow [as he left], taking out two denarii he gave them to the innkeeper, and said to him, Take care of him, and whatsoever thou shalt expend more, I will render to thee on my coming back.

[36]Which [now] of these three seems to thee to have been neighbour of him who fell into [the hands of] the robbers?

[37]And he said, He that shewed him mercy. And Jesus said to him, Go, and do thou likewise.

[38]And it came to pass as they went that he entered into a certain village; and a certain woman, Martha by name, received him into her house.

[39]And she had a sister called Mary, who also, having sat down at the feet of Jesus was listening to his word.

[40]Now Martha was distracted with much serving, and coming up she said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister has left me to serve alone? Speak to her therefore that she may help me.

[41]But Jesus answering said to her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things;

[42]but there is need of one, and Mary has chosen the good part, the which shall not be taken from her.

11 And it came to pass as he was in a certain place praying, when he ceased, one of his disciples said to him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught his disciples.

[2]And he said to them, When ye pray, say, Father, thy name be hallowed; thy kingdom come;

[3]give us our needed bread for each day;

[4]and remit us our sins, for we also remit to every one indebted to us; and lead us not into temptation.

[5]And he said to them, Who among you shall have a friend, and shall go to him at midnight and say to him, Friend, let me have three loaves,

[6]since a friend of mine on a journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him;

[7]and he within answering should say, Do not disturb me; the door is already shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise up to give [it] thee?

[8]-- I say to you, Although he will not get up and give [them] to him because he is his friend, because of his shamelessness, at any rate, he will rise and give him as many as he wants.

[9]And I say to you, Ask, and it shall be given to you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you.

[10]For every one that asks receives; and he that seeks finds; and to him that knocks it will be opened.

[11]But of whom of you that is a father shall a son ask bread, and [the father] shall give him a stone? or also a fish, and instead of a fish shall give him a serpent?

[12]or if also he shall ask an egg, shall give him a scorpion?

[13]If therefore ye, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much rather shall the Father who is of heaven give [the] Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

[14]And he was casting out a demon, and it was dumb; and it came to pass, the demon being gone out, the dumb [man] spoke. And the crowds wondered.

[15]But some from among them said, By Beelzebub the prince of the demons casts he out demons.

[16]And others tempting [him] sought from him a sign out of heaven.

[17]But he, knowing their thoughts, said to them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation: and a house set against a house falls;

[18]and if also Satan is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom subsist? because ye say that I cast out demons by Beelzebub.

[19]But if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, your sons -- by whom do they cast [them] out? For this reason they shall be your judges.

[20]But if by the finger of God I cast out demons, then the kingdom of God is come upon you.

[21]When the strong [man] armed keeps his own house, his goods are in peace;

[22]but when the stronger than he coming upon [him] overcomes him, he takes away his panoply in which he trusted, and he will divide the spoil [he has taken] from him.

[23]He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathers not with me scatters.

[24]When the unclean spirit has gone out of the man, he goes through dry places seeking rest; and not finding [any] he says, I will return to my house whence I came out.

[25]And having come, he finds it swept and adorned.

[26]Then he goes and takes seven other spirits worse than himself, and entering in, they dwell there; and the last condition of that man becomes worse than the first.

[27]And it came to pass as he spake these things, a certain woman, lifting up her voice out of the crowd, said to him, Blessed is the womb that has borne thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

[28]But he said, Yea rather, blessed are they who hear the word of God and keep [it].

[29]But as the crowds thronged together, he began to say, This generation is a wicked generation: it seeks a sign, and a sign shall not be given to it but the sign of Jonas.

[30]For as Jonas was a sign to the Ninevites, thus shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

[31]A queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, more than Solomon is here.

[32]Men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, more than Jonas is here.

[33]But no one having lit a lamp sets it in secret, nor under the corn-measure, but on the lamp-stand, that they who enter in may see the light.

[34]The lamp of the body is thine eye: when thine eye is simple, thy whole body also is light; but when it is wicked, thy body also is dark.

[35]See therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

[36]If therefore thy whole body [is] light, not having any part dark, it shall be all light as when the lamp lights thee with its brightness.

[37]But as he spoke, a certain Pharisee asked him that he would dine with him; and entering in he placed himself at table.

[38]But the Pharisee seeing [it] wondered that he had not first washed before dinner.

[39]But the Lord said to him, Now do ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish, but your inward [parts] are full of plunder and wickedness.

[40]Fools, has not he who has made the outside made the inside also?

[41]But rather give alms of what ye have, and behold, all things are clean to you.

[42]But woe unto you, Pharisees, for ye pay tithes of mint and rue and every herb, and pass by the judgment and the love of God: these ye ought to have done, and not have left those aside.

[43]Woe unto you, Pharisees, for ye love the first seat in the synagogues and salutations in the market-places.

[44]Woe unto you, for ye are as the sepulchres which appear not, and the men walking over them do not know [it].

[45]And one of the doctors of the law answering says to him, Teacher, in saying these things thou insultest us also.

[46]And he said, To you also woe, doctors of the law, for ye lay upon men burdens heavy to bear, and yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers.

[47]Woe unto you, for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, but your fathers killed them.

[48]Ye bear witness then, and consent to the works of your fathers; for they killed them, and ye build [their sepulchres].

[49]For this reason also the wisdom of God has said, I will send to them prophets and apostles, and of these shall they kill and drive out by persecution,

[50]that the blood of all the prophets which has been poured out from the foundation of the world may be required of this generation,

51 from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zacharias, who perished between the altar and the house; yea, I say to you, it shall be required of this generation.

52 Woe unto you, the doctors of the law, for ye have taken away the key of knowledge; yourselves have not entered in, and those who were entering in ye have hindered.

53 And as he said these things to them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to press him urgently, and to make him speak of many things;

54 watching him, [and seeking] to catch something out of his mouth, [that they might accuse him].

12 In those [times], the myriads of the crowd being gathered together, so that they trod one on another, he began to say to his disciples first, Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy;

2 but there is nothing covered up which shall not be revealed, nor secret that shall not be known;

3 therefore whatever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light, and what ye have spoken in the ear in chambers shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.

4 But I say to you, my friends, Fear not those who kill the body and after this have no more that they can do.

5 But I will shew you whom ye shall fear: Fear him who after he has killed has authority to cast into hell; yea, I say to you, Fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two assaria? and one of them is not forgotten before God.

7 But even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore, ye are better than many sparrows.

8 But I say to you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, the Son of man will confess him also before the angels of God;

9 but he that shall have denied me before men shall be denied before the angels of God;

10 and whoever shall say a word against the Son of man it shall be forgiven him; but to him that speaks injuriously against the Holy Spirit it shall not be forgiven.

11 But when they bring you before the synagogues and rulers and the authorities, be not careful how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say;

12 for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in the hour itself what should be said.

13 And a person said to him out of the crowd, Teacher, speak to my brother to divide the inheritance with me.

[14]But he said to him, Man, who established me [as] a judge or a divider over you?

[15]And he said to them, Take heed and keep yourselves from all covetousness, for [it is] not because a man is in abundance [that] his life is in his possessions.

[16]And he spoke a parable to them, saying, The land of a certain rich man brought forth abundantly.

[17]And he reasoned within himself saying, What shall I do? for I have not [a place] where I shall lay up my fruits.

[18]And he said, This will I do: I will take away my granaries and build greater, and there I will lay up all my produce and my good things;

[19]and I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much good things laid by for many years; repose thyself, eat, drink, be merry.

[20]But God said to him, Fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; and whose shall be what thou hast prepared?

[21]Thus is he who lays up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

[22]And he said to his disciples, For this cause I say unto you, Be not careful for life, what ye shall eat, nor for the body, what ye shall put on.

[23]The life is more than food, and the body than raiment.

[24]Consider the ravens, that they sow not nor reap; which have neither storehouse nor granary; and God feeds them. How much better are ye than the birds?

[25]But which of you by being careful can add to his stature one cubit?

[26]If therefore ye cannot [do] even what is least, why are ye careful about the rest?

[27]Consider the lilies how they grow: they neither toil nor spin; but I say unto you, Not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed as one of these.

[28]But if God thus clothe the grass, which to-day is in the field and to-morrow is cast into [the] oven, how much rather you, O ye of little faith?

[29]And ye, seek not what ye shall eat or what ye shall drink, and be not in anxiety;

[30]for all these things do the nations of the world seek after, and your Father knows that ye have need of these things;

[31]but seek his kingdom, and [all] these things shall be added to you.

[32]Fear not, little flock, for it has been the good pleasure of your Father to give you the kingdom.

[33]Sell what ye possess and give alms; make to yourselves purses which do not grow old, a treasure which does not fail in the heavens, where thief does not draw near nor moth destroy.

[34]For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be.

[35]Let your loins be girded about, and lamps burning;

[36]and ye like men who wait their own lord whenever he may leave the wedding, that when he comes and knocks, they may open to him immediately.

[37]Blessed are those bondmen whom the lord [on] coming shall find watching; verily I say unto you, that he will gird himself and make them recline at table, and coming up will serve them.

[38]And if he come in the second watch, and come in the third watch, and find [them] thus, blessed are those [bondmen].

[39]But this know, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be dug through.

[40]And ye therefore, be ye ready, for in the hour in which ye do not think [it], the Son of man comes.

[41]And Peter said to him, Lord, sayest thou this parable to us, or also to all?

[42]And the Lord said, Who then is the faithful and prudent steward, whom his lord will set over his household, to give the measure of corn in season?

[43]Blessed is that bondman whom his lord [on] coming shall find doing thus;

[44]verily I say unto you, that he will set him over all that he has.

[45]But if that bondman should say in his heart, My lord delays to come, and begin to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and to drink and to be drunken, [46]the lord of that bondman shall come in a day when he does not expect it, and in an hour he knows not of, and shall cut him in two and appoint his portion with the unbelievers.

[47]But that bondman who knew his own lord's will, and had not prepared [himself] nor done his will, shall be beaten with many [stripes];

[48]but he who knew [it] not, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few. And to every one to whom much has been given, much shall be required from him; and to whom [men] have committed much, they will ask from him the more.

[49]I have come to cast a fire on the earth; and what will I if already it has been kindled?

[50]But I have a baptism to be baptised with, and how am I straitened until it shall have been accomplished!

[51]Think ye that I have come to give peace in the earth? Nay, I say to you, but rather division:

[52]for from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided; three shall be divided against two, and two against three:

53 father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against mother; a mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

54 And he said also to the crowds, When ye see a cloud rising out of the west, straightway ye say, A shower is coming; and so it happens.

55 And when [ye see] the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat; and it happens.

56 Hypocrites, ye know how to judge of the appearance of the earth and of the heaven; how [is it then that] ye do not discern this time?

57 And why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right?

58 For as thou goest with thine adverse party before a magistrate, strive in the way to be reconciled with him, lest he drag thee away to the judge, and the judge shall deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

59 I say unto thee, Thou shalt in no wise come out thence until thou hast paid the very last mite.

13 Now at the same time there were present some who told him of the Galileans whose blood Pilate mingled with [that of] their sacrifices.

2 And he answering said to them, Think ye that these Galileans were sinners beyond all the Galileans because they suffered such things?

3 No, I say to you, but if ye repent not, ye shall all perish in the same manner.

4 Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them, think ye that they were debtors beyond all the men who dwell in Jerusalem?

5 No, I say to you, but if ye repent not, ye shall all perish in like manner.

6 And he spoke this parable: A certain [man] had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit upon it and did not find [any].

7 And he said to the vinedresser, Behold, [these] three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree and find none: cut it down; why does it also render the ground useless?

8 But he answering says to him, Sir, let it alone for this year also, until I shall dig about it and put dung,

9 and if it shall bear fruit -- but if not, after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 And lo, [there was] a woman having a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and she was bent together and wholly unable to lift her head up.

[12]And Jesus, seeing her, called to [her], and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

[13]And he laid his hands upon her; and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

[14]But the ruler of the synagogue, indignant because Jesus healed on the sabbath, answering said to the crowd, There are six days in which [people] ought to work; in these therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day.

[15]The Lord therefore answered him and said, Hypocrites! does not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the manger and leading [it] away, water [it]?

[16]And this [woman], who is a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has bound, lo, [these] eighteen years, ought she not to be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?

[17]And as he said these things, all who were opposed to him were ashamed; and all the crowd rejoiced at all the glorious things which were being done by him.

[18]And he said, To what is the kingdom of God like? and to what shall I liken it?

[19]It is like a grain of mustard [seed] which a man took and cast into his garden; and it grew and became a great tree, and the birds of heaven lodged in its branches.

[20]And again he said, To what shall I liken the kingdom of God?

[21]It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal until the whole was leavened.

[22]And he went through one city and village after another, teaching, and journeying to Jerusalem.

[23]And one said to him, Sir, [are] such as are to be saved few in number? But he said unto them, [24]Strive with earnestness to enter in through the narrow door, for many, I say to you, will seek to enter in and will not be able.

[25]From the time that the master of the house shall have risen up and shall have shut the door, and ye shall begin to stand without and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, open to us; and he answering shall say to you, I know you not whence ye are:

[26]then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten in thy presence and drunk, and thou hast taught in our streets;

[27]and he shall say, I tell you, I do not know you whence ye are; depart from me, all [ye] workers of iniquity.

[28]There shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but yourselves cast out.

[29]And they shall come from east and west, and from north and south, and shall lie down at table in the kingdom of God.

[30]And behold, there are last who shall be first, and there are first who shall be last.

[31]The same hour certain Pharisees came up, saying to him, Get out, and go hence, for Herod is desirous to kill thee.

[32]And he said to them, Go, tell that fox, Behold, I cast out demons and accomplish cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third [day] I am perfected;

[33]but I must needs walk to-day and to-morrow and the [day] following, for it must not be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.

[34]Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the [city] that kills the prophets and stones those that are sent unto her, how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen her brood under her wings, and ye would not.

[35]Behold, your house is left unto you; and I say unto you, that ye shall not see me until it come that ye say, Blessed [is] he that comes in the name of [the] Lord.

14And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the rulers, [who was] of the Pharisees, to eat bread on [the] sabbath, that they were watching him.

[2]And behold, there was a certain dropsical [man] before him.

[3]And Jesus answering spoke unto the doctors of the law and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath?

[4]But they were silent. And taking him he healed him and let him go.

[5]And answering he said to them, Of which of you shall an ass or ox fall into a well, that he does not straightway pull him up on the sabbath day?

[6]And they were not able to answer him to these things.

[7]And he spoke a parable to those that were invited, remarking how they chose out the first places, saying to them,

[8]When thou art invited by any one to a wedding, do not lay thyself down in the first place at table, lest perhaps a more honourable than thou be invited by him,

[9]and he who invited thee and him come and say to thee, Give place to this [man], and then thou begin with shame to take the last place.

[10]But when thou hast been invited, go and put thyself down in the last place, that when he who has invited thee comes, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have honour before all that are lying at table with thee;

[11]for every one that exalts himself shall be abased, and he that abases himself shall be exalted.

[12]And he said also to him that had invited him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsfolk, nor rich neighbours, lest it may be they also should invite thee in return, and a recompense be made thee.

[13]But when thou makest a feast, call poor, crippled, lame, blind:

[14]and thou shalt be blessed; for they have not [the means] to recompense thee; for it shall be recompensed thee in the resurrection of the just.

[15]And one of those that were lying at table with [them], hearing these things, said to him, Blessed [is] he who shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

[16]And he said to him, A certain man made a great supper and invited many.

[17]And he sent his bondman at the hour of supper to say to those who were invited, Come, for already all things are ready.

[18]And all began, without exception, to excuse themselves. The first said to him, I have bought land, and I must go out and see it; I pray thee hold me for excused.

[19]And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them; I pray thee hold me for excused.

[20]And another said, I have married a wife, and on this account I cannot come.

[21]And the bondman came up and brought back word of these things to his lord. Then the master of the house, in anger, said to his bondman, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring here the poor and crippled and lame and blind.

[22]And the bondman said, Sir, it is done as thou hast commanded, and there is still room.

[23]And the lord said to the bondman, Go out into the ways and fences and compel to come in, that my house may be filled;

[24]for I say to you, that not one of those men who were invited shall taste of my supper.

[25]And great crowds went with him; and, turning round, he said to them,

[26]If any man come to me, and shall not hate his own father and mother, and wife, and children, and brothers, and sisters, yea, and his own life too, he cannot be my disciple;

[27]and whoever does not carry his cross and come after me cannot be my disciple.

[28]For which of you, desirous of building a tower, does not first sit down and count the cost, if he have what [is needed] to complete it;

[29]in order that, having laid the foundation of it, and not being able to finish it, all who see it do not begin to mock at him,

30 saying, This man began to build and was not able to finish?

31 Or what king, going on his way to engage in war with another king, does not, sitting down first, take counsel whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him coming against him with twenty thousand?

32 and if not, while he is yet far off, having sent an embassy, he asks for terms of peace.

33 Thus then every one of you who forsakes not all that is his own cannot be my disciple.

34 Salt [then] [is] good, but if the salt also has become savourless, wherewith shall it be seasoned?

35 It is proper neither for land nor for dung; it is cast out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

15 And all the tax-gatherers and the sinners were coming near to him to hear him;

2 and the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This [man] receives sinners and eats with them.

3 And he spoke to them this parable, saying,

4 What man of you having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, does not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

5 and having found it, he lays it upon his own shoulders, rejoicing;

6 and being come to the house, calls together the friends and the neighbours, saying to them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my lost sheep.

7 I say unto you, that thus there shall be joy in heaven for one repenting sinner, [more] than for ninety and nine righteous who have no need of repentance.

8 Or, what woman having ten drachmas, if she lose one drachma, does not light a lamp and sweep the house and seek carefully till she find it?

9 and having found it she calls together the friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the drachma which I had lost.

10 Thus, I say unto you, there is joy before the angels of God for one repenting sinner.

11 And he said, A certain man had two sons;

12 and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give to me the share of the property that falls [to me]. And he divided to them what he was possessed of.

13 And after not many days the younger son gathering all together went away into a country a long way off, and there dissipated his property, living in debauchery.

[14]But when he had spent all there arose a violent famine throughout that country, and he began to be in want.

[15]And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

[16]And he longed to fill his belly with the husks which the swine were eating; and no one gave to him.

[17]And coming to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have abundance of bread, and I perish here by famine.

[18]I will rise up and go to my father, and I will say to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee;

[19]I am no longer worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

[20]And he rose up and went to his own father. But while he was yet a long way off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell upon his neck, and covered him with kisses.

[21]And the son said to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee; I am no longer worthy to be called thy son.

[22]But the father said to his bondmen, Bring out the best robe and clothe him in [it], and put a ring on his hand and sandals on his feet;

[23]and bring the fatted calf and kill it, and let us eat and make merry:

[24]for this my son was dead and has come to life, was lost and has been found. And they began to make merry.

[25]And his elder son was in the field; and as, coming [up], he drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing.

[26]And having called one of the servants, he inquired what these things might be.

[27]And he said to him, Thy brother is come, and thy father has killed the fatted calf because he has received him safe and well.

[28]But he became angry and would not go in. And his father went out and besought him.

[29]But he answering said to his father, Behold, so many years I serve thee, and never have I transgressed a commandment of thine; and to me hast thou never given a kid that I might make merry with my friends:

[30]but when this thy son, who has devoured thy substance with harlots, is come, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

[31]But he said to him, Child, thou art ever with me, and all that is mine is thine.

[32]But it was right to make merry and rejoice, because this thy brother was dead and has come to life again, and was lost and has been found.

16 And he said also to [his] disciples, There was a certain rich man who had a steward, and he was accused to him as wasting his goods.

2 And having called him, he said to him, What [is] this that I hear of thee? give the reckoning of thy stewardship, for thou canst be no longer steward.

3 And the steward said within himself, What shall I do; for my lord is taking the stewardship from me? I am not able to dig; I am ashamed to beg.

4 I know what I will do, that when I shall have been removed from the stewardship I may be received into their houses.

5 And having called to [him] each one of the debtors of his own lord, he said to the first, How much owest thou to my lord?

6 And he said, A hundred baths of oil. And he said to him, Take thy writing and sit down quickly and write fifty.

7 Then he said to another, And thou, how much dost thou owe? And he said, A hundred cors of wheat. And he says to him, Take thy writing and write eighty.

8 And the lord praised the unrighteous steward because he had done prudently. For the sons of this world are, for their own generation, more prudent than the sons of light.

9 And I say to you, Make to yourselves friends with the mammon of unrighteousness, that when it fails ye may be received into the eternal tabernacles.

10 He that is faithful in the least is faithful also in much; and he that is unrighteous in the least is unrighteous also in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who shall entrust to you the true?

12 and if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who shall give to you your own?

13 No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and will love the other, or he will cleave to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things, and mocked him.

15 And he said to them, Ye are they who justify themselves before men, but God knows your hearts; for what amongst men is highly thought of is an abomination before God.

16 The law and the prophets [were] until John: from that time the glad tidings of the kingdom of God are announced, and every one forces his way into it.

17 But it is easier that the heaven and the earth should pass away than that one tittle of the law should fail.

18 Every one who puts away his wife and marries another commits adultery; and every one that marries one put away from a husband commits adultery.

19 Now there was a rich man and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, making good cheer in splendour every day.

20 And [there was] a poor man, by name Lazarus, [who] was laid at his gateway full of sores, 21 and desiring to be filled with the crumbs which fell from the table of the rich man; but the dogs also coming licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass that the poor man died, and that he was carried away by the angels into the bosom of Abraham. And the rich man also died and was buried.

23 And in hades lifting up his eyes, being in torments, he sees Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24 And he crying out said, Father Abraham, have compassion on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am suffering in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Child, recollect that thou hast fully received thy good things in thy lifetime, and likewise Lazarus evil things. But now he is comforted here, and thou art in suffering.

26 And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm is fixed, so that those who desire to pass hence to you cannot, nor do they who [desire to cross] from there pass over unto us.

27 And he said, I beseech thee then, father, that thou wouldest send him to the house of my father, 28 for I have five brothers, so that he may earnestly testify to them, that they also may not come to this place of torment.

29 But Abraham says to him, They have Moses and the prophets: let them hear them.

30 But he said, Nay, father Abraham, but if one from the dead should go to them, they will repent.

31 And he said to him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, not even if one rise from among [the] dead will they be persuaded.

17 And he said to his disciples, It cannot be but that offences come, but woe [to him] by whom they come!

2 It would be [more] profitable for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck and he cast into the sea, than that he should be a snare to one of these little ones.

3 Take heed to yourselves: if thy brother should sin, rebuke him; and if he should repent, forgive him.

4 And if he should sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times should return to thee, saying, I repent, thou shalt forgive him.

[5]And the apostles said to the Lord, Give more faith to us.

[6]But the Lord said, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard [seed], ye had said to this sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea, and it would have obeyed you.

[7]But which of you [is there] who, having a bondman ploughing or shepherding, when he comes in out of the field, will say, Come and lie down immediately to table?

[8]But will he not say to him, Prepare what I shall sup on, and gird thyself and serve me that I may eat and drink; and after that thou shalt eat and drink?

[9]Is he thankful to the bondman because he has done what was ordered? I judge not.

[10]Thus ye also, when ye shall have done all things that have been ordered you, say, We are unprofitable bondmen; we have done what it was our duty to do.

[11]And it came to pass as he was going up to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

[12]And as he entered into a certain village ten leprous men met him, who stood afar off.

[13]And they lifted up [their] voice saying, Jesus, Master, have compassion on us.

[14]And seeing [them] he said to them, Go, shew yourselves to the priests. And it came to pass as they were going they were cleansed.

[15]And one of them, seeing that he was cured, turned back, glorifying God with a loud voice, [16]and fell on [his] face at his feet giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

[17]And Jesus answering said, Were not the ten cleansed? but the nine, where [are they]?

[18]There have not been found to return and give glory to God save this stranger.

[19]And he said to him, Rise up and go thy way: thy faith has made thee well.

[20]And having been asked by the Pharisees, When is the kingdom of God coming? he answered them and said, The kingdom of God does not come with observation;

[21]nor shall they say, Lo here, or, Lo there; for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you.

[22]And he said to the disciples, Days are coming, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and shall not see [it].

[23]And they will say to you, Lo here, or Lo there; go not, nor follow [them].

[24]For as the lightning shines which lightens from [one end] under heaven to [the other end] under heaven, thus shall the Son of man be in his day.

25 But first he must suffer many things and be rejected of this generation.

26 And as it took place in the days of Noe, thus also shall it be in the days of the Son of man:

27 they ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came and destroyed all [of them];

28 and in like manner as took place in the days of Lot: they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded;

29 but on the day that Lot went out from Sodom, it rained fire and sulphur from heaven, and destroyed all [of them]:

30 after this [manner] shall it be in the day that the Son of man is revealed.

31 In that day, he who shall be on the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not go down to take it away; and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

32 Remember the wife of Lot.

33 Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it, and whosoever shall lose it shall preserve it.

34 I say to you, In that night there shall be two [men] upon one bed; one shall be seized and the other shall be let go.

35 Two [women] shall be grinding together; the one shall be seized and the other shall be let go.

36 [Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be seized and the other let go.]

37 And answering they say to him, Where, Lord? And he said to them, Where the body [is], there the eagles will be gathered together.

18 And he spoke also a parable to them to the purport that they should always pray and not faint,

2 saying, There was a judge in a city, not fearing God and not respecting man:

3 and there was a widow in that city, and she came to him, saying, Avenge me of mine adverse party.

4 And he would not for a time; but afterwards he said within himself, If even I fear not God and respect not man,

5 at any rate because this widow annoys me I will avenge her, that she may not by perpetually coming completely harass me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge says.

7 And shall not God at all avenge his elect, who cry to him day and night, and he bears long as to them?

8 I say unto you that he will avenge them speedily. But when the Son of man comes, shall he indeed find faith on the earth?

[9]And he spoke also to some, who trusted in themselves that they were righteous and made nothing of all the rest [of men], this parable:

[10]Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a tax-gatherer.

[11]The Pharisee, standing, prayed thus to himself: God, I thank thee that I am not as the rest of men, rapacious, unjust, adulterers, or even as this tax-gatherer.

[12]I fast twice in the week, I tithe everything I gain.

[13]And the tax-gatherer, standing afar off, would not lift up even his eyes to heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, O God, have compassion on me, the sinner.

[14]I say unto you, This [man] went down to his house justified rather than that [other]. For every one who exalts himself shall be humbled, and he that humbles himself shall be exalted.

[15]And they brought to him also infants that he might touch them, but the disciples when they saw [it] rebuked them.

[16]But Jesus calling them to [him] said, Suffer little children to come to me, and do not forbid them, for of such is the kingdom of God.

[17]Verily I say to you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein.

[18]And a certain ruler asked him saying, Good teacher, having done what, shall I inherit eternal life?

[19]But Jesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? There is none good but one, God.

[20]Thou knowest the commandments: Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.

[21]And he said, All these things have I kept from my youth.

[22]And when Jesus had heard this, he said to him, One thing is lacking to thee yet: Sell all that thou hast and distribute to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in the heavens, and come, follow me.

[23]But when he heard this he became very sorrowful, for he was very rich.

[24]But when Jesus saw that he became very sorrowful, he said, How difficultly shall those who have riches enter into the kingdom of God;

[25]for it is easier for a camel to enter through a needle's eye than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

[26]And those who heard it said, And who can be saved?

[27]But he said, The things that are impossible with men are possible with God.

[28]And Peter said, Behold, we have left all things and have followed thee.

[29]And he said to them, Verily I say to you, There is no one who has left home, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, [30]who shall not receive manifold more at this time, and in the coming age life eternal.

[31]And he took the twelve to [him] and said to them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written of the Son of man by the prophets shall be accomplished;

[32]for he shall be delivered up to the nations, and shall be mocked, and insulted, and spit upon.

[33]And when they have scourged [him] they will kill him; and on the third day he will rise again.

[34]And they understood nothing of these things. And this word was hidden from them, and they did not know what was said.

[35]And it came to pass when he came into the neighbourhood of Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the wayside begging.

[36]And when he heard the crowd passing, he inquired what this might be.

[37]And they told him that Jesus the Nazaraean was passing by.

[38]And he called out saying, Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me.

[39]And those [who were] going before rebuked him that he might be silent; but he cried out so much the more, Son of David, have mercy on me.

[40]And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be led to him. And when he drew nigh he asked him [saying], [41]What wilt thou that I shall do to thee? And he said, Lord, that I may see.

[42]And Jesus said to him, See: thy faith has healed thee.

[43]And immediately he saw, and followed him, glorifying God. And all the people when they saw [it] gave praise to God.

19And he entered and passed through Jericho.

[2]And behold, [there was] a man by name called Zacchaeus, and he was chief tax-gatherer, and he was rich.

[3]And he sought to see Jesus who he was: and he could not for the crowd, because he was little in stature.

[4]And running on before, he got up into a sycamore that he might see him, for he was going to pass that [way].

[5]And when he came up to the place, Jesus looked up and saw him, and said to him, Zacchaeus, make haste and come down, for to-day I must remain in thy house.

[6]And he made haste and came down, and received him with joy.

[7]And all murmured when they saw [it], saying, He has turned in to lodge with a sinful man.

[8]But Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I return [him] fourfold.

[9]And Jesus said to him, To-day salvation is come to this house, inasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham;

[10]for the Son of man has come to seek and to save that which is lost.

[11]But as they were listening to these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was near to Jerusalem and they thought that the kingdom of God was about to be immediately manifested.

[12]He said therefore, A certain high-born man went to a distant country to receive for himself a kingdom and return.

[13]And having called his own ten bondmen, he gave to them ten minas, and said to them, Trade while I am coming.

[14]But his citizens hated him, and sent an embassy after him, saying, We will not that this [man] should reign over us.

[15]And it came to pass on his arrival back again, having received the kingdom, that he desired these bondmen to whom he gave the money to be called to him, in order that he might know what every one had gained by trading.

[16]And the first came up, saying, [My] Lord, thy mina has produced ten minas.

[17]And he said to him, Well [done], thou good bondman; because thou hast been faithful in that which is least, be thou in authority over ten cities.

[18]And the second came, saying, [My] Lord, thy mina has made five minas.

[19]And he said also to this one, And thou, be over five cities.

[20]And another came, saying, [My] Lord, lo, [there is] thy mina, which I have kept laid up in a towel.

[21]For I feared thee because thou art a harsh man: thou takest up what thou hast not laid down, and thou reapest what thou hast not sowed.

[22]He says to him, Out of thy mouth will I judge thee, wicked bondman: thou knewest that I am a harsh man, taking up what I have not laid down and reaping what I have not sowed.

[23]And why didst thou not give my money to [the] bank; and I should have received it, at my coming, with interest?

[24]And he said to those that stood by, Take from him the mina and give [it] to him who has the ten minas.

[25]And they said to him, Lord, he has ten minas.

[26]For I say unto you, that to every one that has shall be given; but from him that has not, that even which he has shall be taken from him.

[27]Moreover those mine enemies, who would not [have] me to reign over them, bring them here and slay [them] before me.

[28]And having said these things, he went on before, going up to Jerusalem.

[29]And it came to pass as he drew near to Bethphage and Bethany at the mountain called [the mount] of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, [30]saying, Go into the village over against [you], in which ye will find, on entering it, a colt tied up, on which no [child] of man ever sat at any time: loose it and lead it [here].

[31]And if any one ask you, Why do ye loose [it]? thus shall ye say to him, Because the Lord has need of it.

[32]And they that were sent, having gone their way, found as he had said to them.

[33]And as they were loosing the colt, its masters said to them, Why loose ye the colt?

[34]And they said, Because the Lord has need of it.

[35]And they led it to Jesus; and having cast their own garments on the colt, they put Jesus on [it].

[36]And as he went, they strewed their clothes in the way.

[37]And as he drew near, already at the descent of the mount of Olives, all the multitude of the disciples began, rejoicing, to praise God with a loud voice for all the works of power which they had seen, [38]saying, Blessed the King that comes in the name of [the] Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

[39]And some of the Pharisees from the crowd said to him, Teacher, rebuke thy disciples.

[40]And he answering said to them, I say unto you, If these shall be silent, the stones will cry out.

[41]And as he drew near, seeing the city, he wept over it,

[42]saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, even at least in this thy day, the things that are for thy peace: but now they are hid from thine eyes;

[43]for days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall make a palisaded mound about thee, and shall close thee around, and keep thee in on every side, 44 and shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children in thee; and shall not leave in thee a stone upon a stone: because thou knewest not the season of thy visitation.

45 And entering into the temple, he began to cast out those that sold and bought in it,

46 saying to them, It is written, My house is a house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of robbers.

47 And he was teaching day by day in the temple: and the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people sought to destroy him,

48 and did not find what they could do, for all the people hung on him to hear.

20 And it came to pass on one of the days, as he was teaching the people in the temple, and announcing the glad tidings, the chief priests and the scribes with the elders came up,

2 and spoke to him saying, Tell us by what authority thou doest these things, or who is it who has given thee this authority?

3 And he answering said to them, I also will ask you [one] thing, and tell me:

4 The baptism of John, was it of heaven or of men?

5 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, If we should say, Of heaven, he will say, Why have ye not believed him?

6 but if we should say, Of men, the whole people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, they did not know whence.

8 And Jesus said to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

9 And he began to speak to the people this parable: A man planted a vineyard and let it out to husbandmen, and left the country for a long time.

10 And in the season he sent to the husbandmen a bondman, that they might give to him of the fruit of the vineyard; but the husbandmen, having beaten him, sent [him] away empty.

11 And again he sent another bondman; but they, having beaten him also, and cast insult upon him, sent [him] away empty.

12 And again he sent a third; and they, having wounded him also, cast [him] out.

13 And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: perhaps when they see him they will respect [him].

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir; [come,] let us kill him, that the inheritance may become ours.

15 And having cast him forth out of the vineyard, they killed [him]. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do to them?

[16]He will come and destroy those husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it they said, May it never be!

[17]But he looking at them said, What then is this that is written, The stone which they that builded rejected, this has become the corner-stone?

[18]Every one falling on this stone shall be broken, but on whomsoever it shall fall, it shall grind him to powder.

[19]And the chief priests and the scribes sought the same hour to lay hands on him, and they feared the people; for they knew that he had spoken this parable of them.

[20]And having watched [him], they sent out suborned persons, pretending to be just men, that they might take hold of him in [his] language, so that they might deliver him up to the power and authority of the governor.

[21]And they asked him saying, Teacher, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, and acceptest no [man's] person, but teachest with truth the way of God:

[22]Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Caesar, or not?

[23]But perceiving their deceit he said to them, Why do ye tempt me?

[24]Shew me a denarius. Whose image and superscription has it? And answering they said, Caesar's.

[25]And he said to them, Pay therefore what is Caesar's to Caesar, and what is God's to God.

[26]And they were not able to take hold of him in [his] expressions before the people, and, wondering at his answer, they were silent.

[27]And some of the Sadducees, who deny that there is any resurrection, coming up [to him],

[28]demanded of him saying, Teacher, Moses wrote to us, If any one's brother, who has a wife, die, and he die childless, his brother shall take the wife and raise up seed to his brother.

[29]There were then seven brethren: and the first, having taken a wife, died childless;

[30]and the second [took the woman, and he died childless];

[31]and the third took her: and in like manner also the seven left no children and died;

[32]and last of all the woman also died.

[33]In the resurrection therefore of which of them does she become wife, for the seven had her as wife?

[34]And Jesus said to them, The sons of this world marry and are given in marriage,

[35]but they who are counted worthy to have part in that world, and the resurrection from among [the] dead, neither marry nor are given in marriage;

[36]for neither can they die any more, for they are equal to angels, and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection.

[37]But that the dead rise, even Moses shewed in [the section of] the bush, when he called [the] Lord the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob;

[38]but he is not God of [the] dead but of [the] living; for all live for him.

[39]And some of the scribes answering said, Teacher, thou hast well spoken.

[40]For they did not dare any more to ask him anything.

[41]And he said to them, How do they say that the Christ is David's son,

[42]and David himself says in the book of Psalms, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand

[43]until I put thine enemies [as] footstool of thy feet?

[44]David therefore calls him Lord, and how is he his son?

[45]And, as all the people were listening, he said to his disciples,

[46]Beware of the scribes, who like to walk about in long robes, and who love salutations in the market-places, and first seats in the synagogues, and first places at suppers;

[47]who devour the houses of widows, and as a pretext make long prayers. These shall receive a severer judgment.

21And he looked up and saw the rich casting their gifts into the treasury;

[2]but he saw also a certain poor widow casting therein two mites.

[3]And he said, Verily I say unto you, that this poor widow has cast in more than all;

[4]for all these out of their abundance have cast into the gifts [of God]; but she out of her need has cast in all the living which she had.

[5]And as some spoke of the temple, that it was adorned with goodly stones and consecrated offerings, he said,

[6][As to] these things which ye are beholding, days are coming in which there shall not be left stone upon stone which shall not be thrown down.

[7]And they asked him saying, Teacher, when then shall these things be; and what [is] the sign when these things are going to take place?

[8]And he said, See that ye be not led astray, for many shall come in my name, saying, I am [he], and the time is drawn nigh: go ye not [therefore] after them.

[9]And when ye shall hear of wars and tumults, be not terrified, for these things must first take place, but the end is not immediately.

[10]Then he said to them, Nation shall rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom;

[11]there shall be both great earthquakes in different places, and famines and pestilences; and there shall be fearful sights and great signs from heaven.

[12]But before all these things they shall lay their hands upon you and persecute you, delivering [you] up to synagogues and prisons, bringing [you] before kings and governors on account of my name;

[13]but it shall turn out to you for a testimony.

[14]Settle therefore in your hearts not to meditate beforehand [your] defence,

[15]for I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your opposers shall not be able to reply to or resist.

[16]But ye will be delivered up even by parents and brethren and relations and friends, and they shall put to death [some] from among you,

[17]and ye will be hated of all for my name's sake.

[18]And a hair of your head shall in no wise perish.

[19]By your patient endurance gain your souls.

[20]But when ye see Jerusalem encompassed with armies, then know that its desolation is drawn nigh.

[21]Then let those who are in Judaea flee to the mountains, and those who are in the midst of it depart out, and those who are in the country not enter into it;

[22]for these are days of avenging, that all the things that are written may be accomplished.

[23]But woe to them that are with child and to them who give suck in those days, for there shall be great distress upon the land and wrath upon this people.

[24]And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and be led captive into all the nations; and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of [the] nations until [the] times of [the] nations be fulfilled.

[25]And there shall be signs in sun and moon and stars, and upon the earth distress of nations in perplexity [at] the roar of the sea and rolling waves, [26]men ready to die through fear and expectation of what is coming on the habitable earth, for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken.

[27]And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

[28]But when these things begin to come to pass, look up and lift up your heads, because your redemption draws nigh.

29 And he spoke a parable to them: Behold the fig-tree and all the trees;

30 when they already sprout, ye know of your own selves, [on] looking [at them], that already the summer is near.

31 So also ye, when ye see these things take place, know that the kingdom of God is near.

32 Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall in no wise pass away until all come to pass.

33 The heaven and the earth shall pass away, but my words shall in no wise pass away.

34 But take heed to yourselves lest possibly your hearts be laden with surfeiting and drinking and cares of life, and that day come upon you suddenly unawares;

35 for as a snare shall it come upon all them that dwell upon the face of the whole earth.

36 Watch therefore, praying at every season, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things which are about to come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

37 And by day he was teaching in the temple, and by night, going out, he remained abroad on the mountain called [the mount] of Olives;

38 and all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple to hear him.

22 Now the feast of unleavened bread, which [is] called the passover, drew nigh,

2 and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

3 And Satan entered into Judas, who was surnamed Iscariote, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went away and spoke with the chief priests and captains as to how he should deliver him up to them.

5 And they were rejoiced, and agreed to give him money.

6 And he came to an agreement to do it, and sought an opportunity to deliver him up to them away from the crowd.

7 And the day of unleavened bread came, in which the passover was to be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare the passover for us, that we may eat [it].

9 But they said to him, Where wilt thou that we prepare [it]?

10 And he said to them, Behold, as ye enter into the city a man will meet you, carrying an earthen pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he goes in;

11 and ye shall say to the master of the house, The Teacher says to thee,

Where is the guest-chamber where I may eat the passover with my disciples?

[12]And he will shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.

[13]And having gone they found it as he had said to them; and they prepared the passover.

[14]And when the hour was come, he placed himself at table, and the [twelve] apostles with him.

[15]And he said to them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer.

[16]For I say unto you, that I will not eat any more at all of it until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

[17]And having received a cup, when he had given thanks he said, Take this and divide it among yourselves.

[18]For I say unto you, that I will not drink at all of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God come.

[19]And having taken a loaf, when he had given thanks, he broke [it], and gave [it] to them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.

[20]In like manner also the cup, after having supped, saying, This cup [is] the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you.

[21]Moreover, behold, the hand of him that delivers me up [is] with me on the table;

[22]and the Son of man indeed goes as it is determined, but woe unto that man by whom he is delivered up.

[23]And they began to question together among themselves who then it could be of them who was about to do this.

[24]And there was also a strife among them which of them should be held to be [the] greatest.

[25]And he said to them, The kings of the nations rule over them, and they that exercise authority over them are called benefactors.

[26]But ye [shall] not [be] thus; but let the greater among you be as the younger, and the leader as he that serves.

[27]For which [is] greater, he that is at table or he that serves? [Is] not he that is at table? But I am in the midst of you as the one that serves.

[28]But ye are they who have persevered with me in my temptations.

[29]And I appoint unto you, as my Father has appointed unto me, a kingdom, [30]that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

[31]And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan has demanded to have you, to sift [you] as wheat;

[32]but I have besought for thee that thy faith fail not; and thou, when once thou hast been restored, confirm thy brethren.

[33]And he said to him, Lord, with thee I am ready to go both to prison and to death.

[34]And he said, I tell thee, Peter, [the] cock shall not crow to-day before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

[35]And he said to them, When I sent you without purse and scrip and sandals, did ye lack anything? And they said, Nothing.

[36]He said therefore to them, But now he that has a purse let him take [it], in like manner also a scrip, and he that has none let him sell his garment and buy a sword;

[37]for I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned with [the] lawless: for also the things concerning me have an end.

[38]And they said, Lord, behold here are two swords. And he said to them, It is enough.

[39]And going forth he went according to his custom to the mount of Olives, and the disciples also followed him.

[40]And when he was at the place he said to them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.

[41]And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's throw, and having knelt down he prayed, [42]saying, Father, if thou wilt remove this cup from me: -- but then, not my will, but thine be done.

[43]And an angel appeared to him from heaven strengthening him.

[44]And being in conflict he prayed more intently. And his sweat became as great drops of blood, falling down upon the earth.

[45]And rising up from his prayer, coming to the disciples, he found them sleeping from grief.

[46]And he said to them, Why sleep ye? rise up and pray that ye enter not into temptation.

[47]As he was yet speaking, behold, a crowd, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went on before them, and drew near to Jesus to kiss him.

[48]And Jesus said to him, Judas, deliverest thou up the Son of man with a kiss?

[49]And they who were around him, seeing what was going to follow, said [to him], Lord, shall we smite with [the] sword?

[50]And a certain one from among them smote the bondman of the high priest and took off his right ear.

[51]And Jesus answering said, Suffer thus far; and having touched his ear, he healed him.

[52]And Jesus said to the chief priests and captains of the temple and elders, who were come against him, Have ye come out as against a robber with swords and sticks?

[53]When I was day by day with you in the temple ye did not stretch out your hands against me; but this is your hour and the power of darkness.

[54]And having laid hold on him, they led him [away], and they led [him] into the house of the high priest. And Peter followed afar off.

[55]And they having lit a fire in the midst of the court and sat down together, Peter sat among them.

[56]And a certain maid, having seen him sitting by the light, and having fixed her eyes upon him, said, And this [man] was with him.

[57]But he denied [him], saying, Woman, I do not know him.

[58]And after a short time another seeing him said, And thou art of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not.

[59]And after the lapse of about one hour another stoutly maintained it, saying, In truth this [man] also was with him, for also he is a Galilaean.

[60]And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he was yet speaking, [the] cock crew.

[61]And the Lord, turning round, looked at Peter; and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he said to him, Before [the] cock crow thou shalt deny me thrice.

[62]And Peter, going forth without, wept bitterly.

[63]And the men who held him mocked him, beating [him];

[64]and covering him up, asked him saying, Prophesy, who is it that struck thee?

[65]And they said many other injurious things to him.

[66]And when it was day, the elderhood of the people, both [the] chief priests and scribes, were gathered together, and led him into their council, saying,

[67]If thou art the Christ, tell us. And he said to them, If I tell you, ye will not at all believe;

[68]and if I should ask [you], ye would not answer me at all, nor let me go;

[69]but henceforth shall the Son of man be sitting on the right hand of the power of God.

[70]And they all said, Thou then art the Son of God? And he said to them, Ye say that I am.

[71]And they said, What need have we any more of witness, for we have heard ourselves out of his mouth?

23And the whole multitude of them, rising up, led him to Pilate.

2And they began to accuse him, saying, We have found this [man] perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, saying that he himself is Christ, a king.

3And Pilate demanded of him saying, Art thou the king of the Jews? And he answering him said, Thou sayest.

4And Pilate said to the chief priests and the crowds, I find no guilt in this man.

5But they insisted, saying, He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Judaea, beginning from Galilee even on to here.

6But Pilate, having heard Galilee [named], demanded if the man were a Galilaean; 7and having learned that he was of Herod's jurisdiction, remitted him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in those days.

8And when Herod saw Jesus he greatly rejoiced, for he had been a long while desirous of seeing him, because of hearing many things concerning him, and he hoped to see some sign done by him;

9and he questioned him in many words, but he answered him nothing.

10And the chief priests and the scribes stood and accused him violently.

11And Herod with his troops having set him at nought and mocked him, having put a splendid robe upon him, sent him back to Pilate.

12And Pilate and Herod became friends with one another the same day, for they had been at enmity before between themselves.

13And Pilate, having called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,

14said to them, Ye have brought to me this man as turning away the people [to rebellion], and behold, I, having examined him before you, have found nothing criminal in this man as to the things of which ye accuse him;

15nor Herod either, for I remitted you to him, and behold, nothing worthy of death is done by him.

16Having chastised him therefore, I will release him.

17(Now he was obliged to release one for them at the feast.)

18But they cried out in a mass saying, Away with this [man] and release Barabbas to us;

19who was one who, for a certain tumult which had taken place in the city, and [for] murder, had been cast into prison.

20Pilate therefore, desirous to release Jesus, again addressed [them].

[21]But they cried out in reply saying, Crucify, crucify him.

[22]And he said the third time to them, What evil then has this [man] done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will chastise him therefore and release him.

[23]But they were urgent with loud voices, begging that he might be crucified. And their voices [and those of the chief priests] prevailed.

[24]And Pilate adjudged that what they begged should take place.

[25]And he released him who, for tumult and murder, had been cast into prison, whom they begged for, and Jesus he delivered up to their will.

[26]And as they led him away, they laid hold on a certain Simon, a Cyrenian, coming from the field, and put the cross upon him to bear it behind Jesus.

[27]And a great multitude of the people, and of women who wailed and lamented him, followed him.

[28]And Jesus turning round to them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep over me, but weep over yourselves and over your children;

[29]for behold, days are coming in which they will say, Blessed [are] the barren, and wombs that have not borne, and breasts that have not given suck.

[30]Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall upon us; and to the hills, Cover us:

[31]for if these things are done in the green tree, what shall take place in the dry?

[32]Now two others also, malefactors, were led with him to be put to death.

[33]And when they came to the place which is called Skull, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, the other on the left.

[34]And Jesus said, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do. And, parting out his garments, they cast lots.

[35]And the people stood beholding, and the rulers also [with them] sneered, saying, He has saved others; let him save himself if this is the Christ, the chosen one of God.

[36]And the soldiers also made game of him, coming up offering him vinegar, [37]and saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself.

[38]And there was also an inscription [written] over him in Greek, and Roman, and Hebrew letters: This is the King of the Jews.

[39]Now one of the malefactors who had been hanged spoke insultingly to him, saying, Art not thou the Christ? save thyself and us.

[40]But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost thou too not fear God, thou that art under the same judgment?

[41]and we indeed justly, for we receive the just recompense of what we have done; but this [man] has done nothing amiss.

[42]And he said to Jesus, Remember me, [Lord,] when thou comest in thy kingdom.

[43]And Jesus said to him, Verily I say to thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

[44]And it was about [the] sixth hour, and there came darkness over the whole land until [the] ninth hour.

[45]And the sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple rent in the midst.

[46]And Jesus, having cried with a loud voice, said, Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit. And having said this, he expired.

[47]Now the centurion, seeing what took place, glorified God, saying, In very deed this man was just.

[48]And all the crowds who had come together to that sight, having seen the things that took place, returned, beating [their] breasts.

[49]And all those who knew him stood afar off, the women also who had followed him from Galilee, beholding these things.

[50]And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a councillor, a good man and a just

[51](this [man] had not assented to their counsel and deed), of Arimathaea, a city of the Jews, who also waited, [himself also,] for the kingdom of God

[52]-- he having gone to Pilate begged the body of Jesus;

[53]and having taken it down, wrapped it in fine linen and placed him in a tomb hewn in the rock, where no one had ever been laid.

[54]And it was preparation day, and [the] sabbath twilight was coming on.

[55]And women, who had come along with him out of Galilee, having followed, saw the sepulchre and how his body was placed.

[56]And having returned they prepared aromatic spices and ointments, and remained quiet on the sabbath, according to the commandment.

24But on the morrow of the sabbath, very early indeed in the morning, they came to the tomb, bringing the aromatic spices which they had prepared.

[2]And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

[3]And when they had entered they found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

[4]And it came to pass as they were in perplexity about it, that behold, two men suddenly stood by them in shining raiment.

[5]And as they were filled with fear and bowed their faces to the ground, they said to them, Why seek ye the living one among the dead?

[6]He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spoke to you, being yet in Galilee,

[7]saying, The Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinners, and be crucified, and rise the third day.

[8]And they remembered his words;

[9]and, returning from the sepulchre, related all these things to the eleven and to all the rest.

[10]Now it was Mary of Magdala, and Johanna, and Mary the [mother] of James, and the others with them, who told these things to the apostles.

[11]And their words appeared in their eyes as an idle tale, and they disbelieved them.

[12]But Peter, rising up, ran to the sepulchre, and stooping down he sees the linen clothes lying there alone, and went away home, wondering at what had happened.

[13]And behold, two of them were going on the same day to a village distant sixty stadia from Jerusalem, called Emmaus;

[14]and they conversed with one another about all these things which had taken place.

[15]And it came to pass as they conversed and reasoned, that Jesus himself drawing nigh, went with them;

[16]but their eyes were holden so as not to know him.

[17]And he said to them, What discourses are these which pass between you as ye walk, and are downcast?

[18]And one [of them], named Cleopas, answering said to him, Thou sojournest alone in Jerusalem, and dost not know what has taken place in it in these days?

[19]And he said to them, What things? And they said to him, The things concerning Jesus the Nazaraean, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people;

[20]and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to [the] judgment of death and crucified him.

[21]But we had hoped that he was [the one] who is about to redeem Israel. But then, besides all these things, it is now, to-day, the third day since these things took place.

[22]And withal, certain women from amongst us astonished us, having been very early at the sepulchre, [23]and, not having found his body, came, saying that they also had seen a vision of angels, who say that he is living.

[24]And some of those with us went to the sepulchre, and found it so, as the women also had said, but him they saw not.

[25]And he said to them, O senseless and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken!

[26]Ought not the Christ to have suffered these things and to enter into his glory?

[27]And having begun from Moses and from all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.

[28]And they drew near to the village where they were going, and he made as though he would go farther.

[29]And they constrained him, saying, Stay with us, for it is toward evening and the day is declining. And he entered in to stay with them.

[30]And it came to pass as he was at table with them, having taken the bread, he blessed, and having broken it, gave it to them.

[31]And their eyes were opened, and they recognised him. And he disappeared from them.

[32]And they said to one another, Was not our heart burning in us as he spoke to us on the way, [and] as he opened the scriptures to us?

[33]And rising up the same hour, they returned to Jerusalem. And they found the eleven, and those with them, gathered together, [34]saying, The Lord is indeed risen and has appeared to Simon.

[35]And they related what [had happened] on the way, and how he was made known to them in the breaking of bread.

[36]And as they were saying these things, he himself stood in their midst, and says to them, Peace [be] unto you.

[37]But they, being confounded and being frightened, supposed they beheld a spirit.

[38]And he said to them, Why are ye troubled? and why are thoughts rising in your hearts?

[39]behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself. Handle me and see, for a spirit has not flesh and bones as ye see me having.

[40]And having said this he shewed them his hands and his feet.

[41]But while they yet did not believe for joy, and were wondering, he said to them, Have ye anything here to eat?

[42]And they gave him part of a broiled fish and of a honeycomb;

[43]and he took it and ate before them.

[44]And he said to them, These [are] the words which I spoke to you while I was yet with you, that all that is written concerning me in the law of Moses and prophets and psalms must be fulfilled.

45 Then he opened their understanding to understand the scriptures,

46 and said to them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved the Christ to suffer, and to rise from among the dead the third day;

47 and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name to all the nations beginning at Jerusalem.

48 And ye are witnesses of these things.

49 And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you; but do ye remain in the city till ye be clothed with power from on high.

50 And he led them out as far as Bethany, and having lifted up his hands, he blessed them.

51 And it came to pass as he was blessing them, he was separated from them and was carried up into heaven.

52 And they, having done him homage, returned to Jerusalem with great joy, 53 and were continually in the temple praising and blessing God.

John

1In [the] beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

2*He* was in the beginning with God.

3All things received being through him, and without him not one [thing] received being which has received being.

4In him was life, and the life was the light of men.

5And the light appears in darkness, and the darkness apprehended it not.

6There was a man sent from God, his name John.

7He came for witness, that he might witness concerning the light, that all might believe through him.

8*He* was not the light, but that he might witness concerning the light.

9The true light was that which, coming into the world, lightens every man.

10He was in the world, and the world had [its] being through him, and the world knew him not.

11He came to his own, and his own received him not;

12but as many as received him, to them gave he [the] right to be children of God, to those that believe on his name;

13who have been born, not of blood, nor of flesh's will, nor of man's will, but of God.

14And the Word became flesh, and dwelt among us (and we have contemplated his glory, a glory as of an only-begotten with a father), full of grace and truth;

15(John bears witness of him, and he has cried, saying, This was he of whom I said, He that comes after me is preferred before me, for he was before me;)

16for of his fulness we all have received, and grace upon grace.

17For the law was given by Moses: grace and truth subsists through Jesus Christ.

18No one has seen God at any time; the only-begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared [him].

19And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent from Jerusalem priests and Levites that they might ask him, Thou, who art thou?

20And he acknowledged and denied not, and acknowledged, I am not the Christ.

[21]And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he says, I am not. Art thou the prophet? And he answered, No.

[22]They said therefore to him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to those who sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?

[23]He said, I [am] [the] voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the path of [the] Lord, as said Esaias the prophet.

[24]And they were sent from among the Pharisees.

[25]And they asked him and said to him, Why baptisest thou then, if thou art not the Christ, nor Elias, nor the prophet?

[26]John answered them saying, I baptise with water. In the midst of you stands, whom ye do not know, [27]he who comes after me, the thong of whose sandal I am not worthy to unloose.

[28]These things took place in Bethany, across the Jordan, where John was baptising.

[29]On the morrow he sees Jesus coming to him, and says, Behold the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world.

[30]He it is of whom I said, A man comes after me who takes a place before me, because he was before me;

[31]and I knew him not; but that he might be manifested to Israel, therefore have I come baptising with water.

[32]And John bore witness, saying, I beheld the Spirit descending as a dove from heaven, and it abode upon him.

[33]And I knew him not; but he who sent me to baptise with water, he said to me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and abiding on him, he it is who baptises with [the] Holy Spirit.

[34]And I have seen and borne witness that this is the Son of God.

[35]Again, on the morrow, there stood John and two of his disciples.

[36]And, looking at Jesus as he walked, he says, Behold the Lamb of God.

[37]And the two disciples heard him speaking, and followed Jesus.

[38]But Jesus having turned, and seeing them following, says to them, What seek ye? And they said to him, Rabbi (which, being interpreted, signifies Teacher), where abidest thou?

[39]He says to them, Come and see. They went therefore, and saw where he abode; and they abode with him that day. It was about the tenth hour.

[40]Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two who heard [this] from John and followed him.

41 He first finds his own brother Simon, and says to him, We have found the Messias (which being interpreted is Christ).

42 And he led him to Jesus. Jesus looking at him said, Thou art Simon, the son of Jonas; thou shalt be called Cephas (which interpreted is stone).

43 On the morrow he would go forth into Galilee, and Jesus finds Philip, and says to him, Follow me.

44 And Philip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip finds Nathanael, and says to him, We have found him of whom Moses wrote in the law, and the prophets, Jesus, the son of Joseph, who is from Nazareth.

46 And Nathanael said to him, Can anything good come out of Nazareth? Philip says to him, Come and see.

47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and says of him, Behold [one] truly an Israelite, in whom there is no guile.

48 Nathanael says to him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said to him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered and said to him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God, thou art the King of Israel.

50 Jesus answered and said to him, Because I said to thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, believest thou? Thou shalt see greater things than these.

51 And he says to him, Verily, verily, I say to you, Henceforth ye shall see the heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of man.

2 And on the third day a marriage took place in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there.

2 And Jesus also, and his disciples, were invited to the marriage.

3 And wine being deficient, the mother of Jesus says to him, They have no wine.

4 Jesus says to her, What have I to do with thee, woman? mine hour has not yet come.

5 His mother says to the servants, Whatever he may say to you, do.

6 Now there were standing there six stone water-vessels, according to the purification of the Jews, holding two or three measures each.

7 Jesus says to them, Fill the water-vessels with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he says to them, Draw out now, and carry [it] to the feast-master. And they carried [it].

9 But when the feast-master had tasted the water which had been made wine

(and knew not whence it was, but the servants knew who drew the water), the feast-master calls the bridegroom,

[10]and says to him, Every man sets on first the good wine, and when [men] have well drunk, then the inferior; thou hast kept the good wine till now.

[11]This beginning of signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

[12]After this he descended to Capernaum, he and his mother and his brethren and his disciples; and there they abode not many days.

[13]And the passover of the Jews was near, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

[14]And he found in the temple the sellers of oxen and sheep and doves, and the money-changers sitting;

[15]and, having made a scourge of cords, he cast [them] all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the change of the money-changers, and overturned the tables,

[16]and said to the sellers of doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchandise.

[17][And] his disciples remembered that it is written, The zeal of thy house devours me.

[18]The Jews therefore answered and said to him, What sign shewest thou to us, that thou doest these things?

[19]Jesus answered and said to them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

[20]The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this temple building, and thou wilt raise it up in three days?

[21]But he spoke of the temple of his body.

[22]When therefore he was raised from among [the] dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this, and believed the scripture and the word which Jesus had spoken.

[23]And when he was in Jerusalem, at the passover, at the feast, many believed on his name, beholding his signs which he wrought.

[24]But Jesus himself did not trust himself to them, because he knew all [men],

[25]and that he had not need that any should testify of man, for himself knew what was in man.

3But there was a man from among the Pharisees, his name Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews;

[2]he came to him by night, and said to him, Rabbi, we know that thou art come a teacher from God, for none can do these signs that thou doest unless God be with him.

[3]Jesus answered and said to him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except any one be born anew he cannot see the kingdom of God.

[4]Nicodemus says to him, How can a man be born being old? can he enter a second time into the womb of his mother and be born?

[5]Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except any one be born of water and of Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

[6]That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

[7]Do not wonder that I said to thee, It is needful that ye should be born anew.

[8]The wind blows where it will, and thou hearest its voice, but knowest not whence it comes and where it goes: thus is every one that is born of the Spirit.

[9]Nicodemus answered and said to him, How can these things be?

[10]Jesus answered and said to him, Thou art the teacher of Israel and knowest not these things!

[11]Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that which we know, and we bear witness of that which we have seen, and ye receive not our witness.

[12]If I have said the earthly things to you, and ye believe not, how, if I say the heavenly things to you, will ye believe?

[13]And no one has gone up into heaven, save he who came down out of heaven, the Son of man who is in heaven.

[14]And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, thus must the Son of man be lifted up, [15]that every one who believes on him may [not perish, but] have life eternal.

[16]For God so loved the world, that he gave his only-begotten Son, that whosoever believes on him may not perish, but have life eternal.

[17]For God has not sent his Son into the world that he may judge the world, but that the world may be saved through him.

[18]He that believes on him is not judged: but he that believes not has been already judged, because he has not believed on the name of the only-begotten Son of God.

[19]And this is the judgment, that light is come into the world, and men have loved darkness rather than light; for their works were evil.

[20]For every one that does evil hates the light, and does not come to the light that his works may not be shewn as they are;

[21]but he that practises the truth comes to the light, that his works may be manifested that they have been wrought in God.

[22]After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judaea; and there he abode with them and baptised.

[23]And John also was baptising in Aenon, near Salim, because there was a great deal of water there; and they came to [him] and were baptised:

[24]for John was not yet cast into prison.

[25]There was therefore a reasoning of the disciples of John with a Jew about purification.

[26]And they came to John and said to him, Rabbi, he who was with thee beyond the Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, he baptises, and all come to him.

[27]John answered and said, A man can receive nothing unless it be given him out of heaven.

[28]Ye yourselves bear me witness that I said, I am not the Christ, but, that I am sent before him.

[29]He that has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices in heart because of the voice of the bridegroom: this my joy then is fulfilled.

[30]He must increase, but I must decrease.

[31]He who comes from above is above all. He who has his origin in the earth is of the earth, and speaks [as] of the earth. He who comes out of heaven is above all, [32][and] what he has seen and has heard, this he testifies; and no one receives his testimony.

[33]He that has received his testimony has set to his seal that God is true;

[34]for he whom God has sent speaks the words of God, for God gives not the Spirit by measure.

[35]The Father loves the Son, and has given all things [to be] in his hand.

[36]He that believes on the Son has life eternal, and he that is not subject to the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abides upon him.

4When therefore the Lord knew that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus makes and baptises more disciples than John

[2](however, Jesus himself did not baptise, but his disciples),

[3]he left Judaea and went away again unto Galilee.

[4]And he must needs pass through Samaria.

[5]He comes therefore to a city of Samaria called Sychar, near to the land which Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

[6]Now a fountain of Jacob's was there; Jesus therefore, being wearied with the way he had come, sat just as he was at the fountain. It was about the sixth hour.

[7]A woman comes out of Samaria to draw water. Jesus says to her, Give me to drink

[8](for his disciples had gone away into the city that they might buy provisions).

[9]The Samaritan woman therefore says to him, How dost thou, being a Jew, ask to drink of me who am a Samaritan woman? for Jews have no intercourse with Samaritans.

[10]Jesus answered and said to her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that says to thee, Give me to drink, thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

[11]The woman says to him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: whence then hast thou the living water?

[12]Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank of it himself, and his sons, and his cattle?

[13]Jesus answered and said to her, Every one who drinks of this water shall thirst again;

[14]but whosoever drinks of the water which I shall give him shall never thirst for ever, but the water which I shall give him shall become in him a fountain of water, springing up into eternal life.

[15]The woman says to him, Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst nor come here to draw.

[16]Jesus says to her, Go, call thy husband, and come here.

[17]The woman answered and said, I have not a husband. Jesus says to her, Thou hast well said, I have not a husband;

[18]for thou hast had five husbands, and he whom now thou hast is not thy husband: this thou hast spoken truly.

[19]The woman says to him, Sir, I see that thou art a prophet.

[20]Our fathers worshipped in this mountain, and ye say that in Jerusalem is the place where one must worship.

[21]Jesus says to her, Woman, believe me, [the] hour is coming when ye shall neither in this mountain nor in Jerusalem worship the Father.

[22]Ye worship ye know not what; we worship what we know, for salvation is of the Jews.

[23]But [the] hour is coming and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth; for also the Father seeks such as his worshippers.

[24]God [is] a spirit; and they who worship him must worship [him] in spirit and truth.

[25]The woman says to him, I know that Messias is coming, who is called Christ; when he comes he will tell us all things.

[26]Jesus says to her, I who speak to thee am [he].

[27]And upon this came his disciples, and wondered that he spoke with a woman; yet no one said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest thou with her?

[28]The woman then left her waterpot and went away into the city, and says to the men, [29]Come, see a man who told me all things I had ever done: is not he the Christ?

[30]They went out of the city and came to him.

[31]But meanwhile the disciples asked him saying, Rabbi, eat.

[32]But he said to them, I have food to eat which ye do not know.

[33]The disciples therefore said to one another, Has any one brought him [anything] to eat?

[34]Jesus says to them, My food is that I should do the will of him that has sent me, and that I should finish his work.

[35]Do not ye say, that there are yet four months and the harvest comes? Behold, I say to you, Lift up your eyes and behold the fields, for they are already white to harvest.

[36]He that reaps receives wages and gathers fruit unto life eternal, that both he that sows and he that reaps may rejoice together.

[37]For in this is [verified] the true saying, It is one who sows and another who reaps.

[38]I have sent you to reap that on which ye have not laboured; others have laboured, and ye have entered into their labours.

[39]But many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him because of the word of the woman who bore witness, He told me all things that I had ever done.

[40]When therefore the Samaritans came to him they asked him to abide with them, and he abode there two days.

[41]And more a great deal believed on account of his word;

[42]and they said to the woman, [It is] no longer on account of thy saying that we believe, for we have heard him ourselves, and we know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world.

[43]But after the two days he went forth thence and went away into Galilee, [44]for Jesus himself bore witness that a prophet has no honour in his own country.

[45]When therefore he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all that he had done in Jerusalem during the feast, for they also went to the feast.

[46]He came therefore again to Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain courtier in Capernaum whose son was sick.

47 He, having heard that Jesus had come out of Judaea into Galilee, went to him and asked [him] that he would come down and heal his son, for he was about to die.

48 Jesus therefore said to him, Unless ye see signs and wonders ye will not believe.

49 The courtier says to him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jesus says to him, Go, thy son lives. And the man believed the word which Jesus said to him, and went his way.

51 But already, as he was going down, his servants met him and brought [him] word saying, Thy child lives.

52 He inquired therefore from them the hour at which he got better. And they said to him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 The father therefore knew that [it was] in that hour in which Jesus said to him, Thy son lives; and he believed, himself and his whole house.

54 This second sign again did Jesus, being come out of Judaea into Galilee.

5 After these things was a feast of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is in Jerusalem, at the sheepgate, a pool, which is called in Hebrew, Bethesda, having five porches.

3 In these lay a multitude of sick, blind, lame, withered, [awaiting the moving of the water.

4 For an angel descended at a certain season in the pool and troubled the water. Whoever therefore first went in after the troubling of the water became well, whatever disease he laboured under.]

5 But there was a certain man there who had been suffering under his infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 Jesus seeing this [man] lying [there], and knowing that he was [in that state] now a great length of time, says to him, Wouldest thou become well?

7 The infirm [man] answered him, Sir, I have not a man, in order, when the water has been troubled, to cast me into the pool; but while I am coming another descends before me.

8 Jesus says to him, Arise, take up thy couch and walk.

9 And immediately the man became well, and took up his couch and walked: and on that day was sabbath.

10 The Jews therefore said to the healed [man], It is sabbath, it is not permitted thee to take up thy couch.

11 He answered them, He that made me well, he said to me, Take up thy couch and walk.

[12]They asked him [therefore], Who is the man who said to thee, Take up thy couch and walk?

[13]But he that had been healed knew not who it was, for Jesus had slidden away, there being a crowd in the place.

[14]After these things Jesus finds him in the temple, and said to him, Behold, thou art become well: sin no more, that something worse do not happen to thee.

[15]The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

[16]And for this the Jews persecuted Jesus [and sought to kill him], because he had done these things on sabbath.

[17]But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto and I work.

[18]For this therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he had not only violated the sabbath, but also said that God was his own Father, making himself equal with God.

[19]Jesus therefore answered and said to them, Verily, verily, I say to you, The Son can do nothing of himself save whatever he sees the Father doing: for whatever things he does, these things also the Son does in like manner.

[20]For the Father loves the Son and shews him all things which he himself does; and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may wonder.

[21]For even as the Father raises the dead and quickens [them], thus the Son also quickens whom he will:

[22]for neither does the Father judge any one, but has given all judgment to the Son;

[23]that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He who honours not the Son, honours not the Father who has sent him.

[24]Verily, verily, I say unto you, that he that hears my word, and believes him that has sent me, has life eternal, and does not come into judgment, but is passed out of death into life.

[25]Verily, verily, I say unto you, that an hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and they that have heard shall live.

[26]For even as the Father has life in himself, so he has given to the Son also to have life in himself, [27]and has given him authority to execute judgment [also], because he is Son of man.

[28]Wonder not at this, for an hour is coming in which all who are in the tombs shall hear his voice, [29]and shall go forth; those that have practised good, to resurrection of life, and those that have done evil, to resurrection of judgment.

[30]I cannot do anything of myself; as I hear, I judge, and my judgment is righteous, because I do not seek my will, but the will of him that has sent me.

[31]If I bear witness concerning myself, my witness is not true.

[32]It is another who bears witness concerning me, and I know that the witness which he bears concerning me is true.

[33]Ye have sent unto John, and he has borne witness to the truth.

[34]But I do not receive witness from man, but I say this that ye might be saved.

[35]He was the burning and shining lamp, and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

[36]But I have the witness [that is] greater than [that] of John; for the works which the Father has given me that I should complete them, the works themselves which I do, bear witness concerning me that the Father has sent me.

[37]And the Father who has sent me himself has borne witness concerning me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor have seen his shape, [38]and ye have not his word abiding in you; for whom he hath sent, him ye do not believe.

[39]Ye search the scriptures, for ye think that in them ye have life eternal, and they it is which bear witness concerning me;

[40]and ye will not come to me that ye might have life.

[41]I do not receive glory from men,

[42]but I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

[43]I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not; if another come in his own name, him ye will receive.

[44]How can ye believe, who receive glory one of another, and seek not the glory which [comes] from God alone?

[45]Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: there is [one] who accuses you, Moses, on whom ye trust;

[46]for if ye had believed Moses, ye would have believed me, for he wrote of me.

[47]But if ye do not believe his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

6After these things Jesus went away beyond the sea of Galilee, [or] of Tiberias,

[2]and a great crowd followed him, because they saw the signs which he wrought upon the sick.

[3]And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there sat with his disciples:

[4]but the passover, the feast of the Jews, was near.

[5]Jesus then, lifting up his eyes and seeing that a great crowd is coming to him, says to Philip, Whence shall we buy loaves that these may eat?

[6]But this he said trying him, for he knew what he was going to do.

[7]Philip answered him, Loaves for two hundred denarii are not sufficient for them, that each may have some little [portion].

[8]One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, says to him,

[9]There is a little boy here who has five barley loaves and two small fishes; but this, what is it for so many?

[10][And] Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place: the men therefore sat down, in number about five thousand.

[11]And Jesus took the loaves, and having given thanks, distributed [them] to those that were set down; and in like manner of the small fishes as much as they would.

[12]And when they had been filled, he says to his disciples, Gather together the fragments which are over and above, that nothing may be lost.

[13]They gathered [them] therefore together, and filled twelve hand-baskets full of fragments of the five barley loaves, which were over and above to those that had eaten.

[14]The men therefore, having seen the sign which Jesus had done, said, This is truly the prophet which is coming into the world.

[15]Jesus therefore knowing that they were going to come and seize him, that they might make [him] king, departed again to the mountain himself alone.

[16]But when evening was come, his disciples went down to the sea,

[17]and having gone on board ship, they went over the sea to Capernaum. And it had already become dark, and Jesus had not come to them,

[18]and the sea was agitated by a strong wind blowing.

[19]Having rowed then about twenty-five or thirty stadia, they see Jesus walking on the sea and coming near the ship; and they were frightened.

[20]But he says to them, It is I: be not afraid.

[21]They were willing therefore to receive him into the ship; and immediately the ship was at the land to which they went.

[22]On the morrow the crowd which stood on the other side of the sea, having seen that there was no other little ship there except that into which his disciples had got, and that Jesus had not gone with his disciples into the ship, but [that] his disciples had gone away alone;

[23](but other little ships out of Tiberias came near to the place where they ate bread after the Lord had given thanks;)

[24]when therefore the crowd saw that Jesus was not there, nor his disciples, they got into the ships, and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus.

[25]And having found him the other side of the sea, they said to him, Rabbi, when art thou arrived here?

[26]Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say to you, Ye seek me not because ye have seen signs, but because ye have eaten of the loaves and been filled.

[27]Work not [for] the food which perishes, but [for] the food which abides unto life eternal, which the Son of man shall give to you; for him has the Father sealed, [even] God.

[28]They said therefore to him, What should we do that we may work the works of God?

[29]Jesus answered and said to them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he has sent.

[30]They said therefore to him, What sign then doest thou that we may see and believe thee? what dost thou work?

[31]Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, as it is written, He gave them bread out of heaven to eat.

[32]Jesus therefore said to them, Verily, verily, I say to you, [It is] not Moses that has given you the bread out of heaven; but my Father gives you the true bread out of heaven.

[33]For the bread of God is he who comes down out of heaven and gives life to the world.

[34]They said therefore to him, Lord, ever give to us this bread.

[35][And] Jesus said to them, I am the bread of life: he that comes to me shall never hunger, and he that believes on me shall never thirst at any time.

[36]But I have said to you, that ye have also seen me and do not believe.

[37]All that the Father gives me shall come to me, and him that comes to me I will not at all cast out.

[38]For I am come down from heaven, not that I should do my will, but the will of him that has sent me.

[39]And this is the will of him that has sent me, that of all that he has given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up in the last day.

[40]For this is the will of my Father, that every one who sees the Son, and believes on him, should have life eternal; and I will raise him up at the last day.

[41]The Jews therefore murmured about him, because he said, I am the bread which has come down out of heaven.

[42]And they said, Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we have known? how then does he say, I am come down out of heaven?

[43]Jesus therefore answered and said to them, Murmur not among yourselves.

[44]No one can come to me except the Father who has sent me draw him, and I will raise him up in the last day.

[45]It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every one that has heard from the Father [himself], and has learned [of him], comes to me;

[46]not that any one has seen the Father, except he who is of God, he has seen the Father.

[47]Verily, verily, I say to you, He that believes [on me] has life eternal.

[48]I am the bread of life.

[49]Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness and died.

[50]This is the bread which comes down out of heaven, that one may eat of it and not die.

[51]I am the living bread which has come down out of heaven: if any one shall have eaten of this bread he shall live for ever; but the bread withal which I shall give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

[52]The Jews therefore contended among themselves, saying, How can he give us this flesh to eat?

[53]Jesus therefore said to them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Unless ye shall have eaten the flesh of the Son of man, and drunk his blood, ye have no life in yourselves.

[54]He that eats my flesh and drinks my blood has life eternal, and I will raise him up at the last day:

[55]for my flesh is truly food and my blood is truly drink.

[56]He that eats my flesh and drinks my blood dwells in me and I in him.

[57]As the living Father has sent me and I live on account of the Father, he also who eats me shall live also on account of me.

[58]This is the bread which has come down out of heaven. Not as the fathers ate and died: he that eats this bread shall live for ever.

[59]These things he said in [the] synagogue, teaching in Capernaum.

[60]Many therefore of his disciples having heard [it] said, This word is hard; who can hear it?

[61]But Jesus, knowing in himself that his disciples murmur concerning this, said to them, Does this offend you?

[62]If then ye see the Son of man ascending up where he was before?

[63]It is the Spirit which quickens, the flesh profits nothing: the words which I have spoken unto you are spirit and are life.

[64]But there are some of you who do not believe. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were who did not believe, and who would deliver him up.

[65]And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no one can come to me unless it be given to him from the Father.

[66]From that [time] many of his disciples went away back and walked no more with him.

[67]Jesus therefore said to the twelve, Will ye also go away?

[68]Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast words of life eternal;

[69]and we have believed and known that thou art the holy one of God.

[70]Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you the twelve? and of you one is a devil.

[71]Now he spoke of Judas [the son] of Simon, Iscariote, for he [it was who] should deliver him up, being one of the twelve.

7 And after these things Jesus walked in Galilee, for he would not walk in Judaea, because the Jews sought to kill him.

[2]Now the tabernacles, the feast of the Jews, was near.

[3]His brethren therefore said to him, Remove hence and go into Judaea, that thy disciples also may see thy works which thou doest;

[4]for no one does anything in secret and himself seeks to be [known] in public. If thou doest these things, manifest thyself to the world:

[5]for neither did his brethren believe on him.

[6]Jesus therefore says to them, My time is not yet come, but your time is always ready.

[7]The world cannot hate you, but me it hates, because I bear witness concerning it that its works are evil.

[8]Ye, go ye up to this feast. I go not up to this feast, for my time is not yet fulfilled.

[9]Having said these things to them he abode in Galilee.

[10]But when his brethren had gone up, then he himself also went up to the feast, not openly, but as in secret.

[11]The Jews therefore sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

[12]And there was much murmuring concerning him among the crowds. Some said, He is [a] good [man]; others said, No; but he deceives the crowd.

[13]However, no one spoke openly concerning him on account of [their] fear of the Jews.

[14]But when it was now the middle of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple and taught.

[15]The Jews therefore wondered, saying, How knows this [man] letters, having never learned?

[16]Jesus therefore answered them and said, My doctrine is not mine, but [that] of him that has sent me.

[17]If any one desire to practise his will, he shall know concerning the doctrine, whether it is of God, or [that] I speak from myself.

[18]He that speaks from himself seeks his own glory; but he that seeks the glory of him that has sent him, he is true, and unrighteousness is not in him.

[19]Has not Moses given you the law, and no one of you practises the law? Why do ye seek to kill me?

[20]The crowd answered [and said], Thou hast a demon: who seeks to kill thee?

[21]Jesus answered and said to them, I have done one work, and ye all wonder.

[22]Therefore Moses gave you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers), and ye circumcise a man on sabbath.

[23]If a man receives circumcision on sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be violated, are ye angry with me because I have made a man entirely sound on sabbath?

[24]Judge not according to sight, but judge righteous judgment.

[25]Some therefore of those of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

[26]and behold, he speaks openly, and they say nothing to him. Have the rulers then indeed recognised that this is the Christ?

[27]But [as to] this [man] we know whence he is. Now [as to] the Christ, when he comes, no one knows whence he is.

[28]Jesus therefore cried out in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know me and ye know whence I am; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye do not know.

[29]I know him, because I am from him, and he has sent me.

[30]They sought therefore to take him; and no one laid his hand upon him, because his hour had not yet come.

[31]But many of the crowd believed on him, and said, Will the Christ, when he comes, do more signs than those which this [man] has done?

[32]The Pharisees heard the crowd murmuring these things concerning him, and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers that they might take him.

[33]Jesus therefore said, Yet a little while I am with you, and I go to him that has sent me.

34 Ye shall seek me and shall not find [me], and where I am ye cannot come.

35 The Jews therefore said to one another, Where is he about to go that we shall not find him? Is he about to go to the dispersion among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks?

36 What word is this which he said, Ye shall seek me and shall not find [me]; and where I am ye cannot come?

37 In the last, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried saying, If any one thirst, let him come to me and drink.

38 He that believes on me, as the scripture has said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 But this he said concerning the Spirit, which they that believed on him were about to receive; for [the] Spirit was not yet, because Jesus had not yet been glorified.

40 [Some] out of the crowd therefore, having heard this word, said, This is truly the prophet.

41 Others said, This is the Christ. Others said, Does then the Christ come out of Galilee?

42 Has not the scripture said that the Christ comes of the seed of David, and from the village of Bethlehem, where David was?

43 There was a division therefore in the crowd on account of him.

44 But some of them desired to take him, but no one laid hands upon him.

45 The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees, and they said to them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Never man spoke thus, as this man [speaks].

47 The Pharisees therefore answered them, Are ye also deceived?

48 Has any one of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees?

49 But this crowd, which does not know the law, are accursed.

50 Nicodemus says to them (being one of themselves),

51 Does our law judge a man before it have first heard from himself, and know what he does?

52 They answered and said to him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search and look, that no prophet arises out of Galilee.

53 And every one went to his home.

8 But Jesus went to the mount of Olives.

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came to him; and he sat down and taught them.

[3]And the scribes and the Pharisees bring [to him] a woman taken in adultery, and having set her in the midst,

[4]they say to him, Teacher, this woman has been taken in the very act, committing adultery.

[5]Now in the law Moses has commanded us to stone such; thou therefore, what sayest thou?

[6]But this they said proving him, that they might have [something] to accuse him [of]. But Jesus, having stooped down, wrote with his finger on the ground.

[7]But when they continued asking him, he lifted himself up and said to them, Let him that is without sin among you first cast the stone at her.

[8]And again stooping down he wrote on the ground.

[9]But they, having heard [that], went out one by one beginning from the elder ones until the last; and Jesus was left alone and the woman standing there.

[10]And Jesus, lifting himself up and seeing no one but the woman, said to her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? Has no one condemned thee?

[11]And she said, No one, sir. And Jesus said to her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

[12]Again therefore Jesus spoke to them, saying, I am the light of the world; he that follows me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

[13]The Pharisees therefore said to him, Thou bearest witness concerning thyself; thy witness is not true.

[14]Jesus answered and said to them, Even if I bear witness concerning myself, my witness is true, because I know whence I came and whither I go: but ye know not whence I come and whither I go.

[15]Ye judge according to the flesh, I judge no one.

[16]And if also I judge, my judgment is true, because I am not alone, but I and the Father who has sent me.

[17]And in your law too it is written that the testimony of two men is true:

[18]I am [one] who bear witness concerning myself, and the Father who has sent me bears witness concerning me.

[19]They said to him therefore, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye know neither me nor my Father. If ye had known me, ye would have known also my Father.

[20]These words spoke he in the treasury, teaching in the temple; and no one took him, for his hour was not yet come.

[21]He said therefore again to them, I go away, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sin; where I go ye cannot come.

[22]The Jews therefore said, Will he kill himself, that he says, Where I go ye cannot come?

[23]And he said to them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above. Ye are of this world; I am not of this world.

[24]I said therefore to you, that ye shall die in your sins; for unless ye shall believe that I am [he], ye shall die in your sins.

[25]They said therefore to him, Who art thou? [And] Jesus said to them, Altogether that which I also say to you.

[26]I have many things to say and to judge concerning you, but he that has sent me is true, and I, what I have heard from him, these things I say to the world.

[27]They knew not that he spoke to them of the Father.

[28]Jesus therefore said to them, When ye shall have lifted up the Son of man, then ye shall know that I am [he], and [that] I do nothing of myself, but as the Father has taught me I speak these things.

[29]And he that has sent me is with me; he has not left me alone, because I do always the things that are pleasing to him.

[30]As he spoke these things many believed on him.

[31]Jesus therefore said to the Jews who believed him, If ye abide in my word, ye are truly my disciples;

[32]and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free.

[33]They answered him, We are Abraham's seed, and have never been under bondage to any one; how sayest thou, Ye shall become free?

[34]Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say to you, Every one that practises sin is the bondman of sin.

[35]Now the bondman abides not in the house for ever: the son abides for ever.

[36]If therefore the Son shall set you free, ye shall be really free.

[37]I know that ye are Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word has no entrance in you.

[38]I speak what I have seen with my Father, and ye then do what ye have seen with your father.

[39]They answered and said to him, Abraham is our father. Jesus says to them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham;

[40]but now ye seek to kill me, a man who has spoken the truth to you, which I have heard from God: this did not Abraham.

[41]Ye do the works of your father. They said [therefore] to him, We are not born of fornication; we have one father, God.

[42]Jesus said to them, If God were your father ye would have loved me, for I came forth from God and am come

[from him]; for neither am I come of myself, but he has sent me.

[43]Why do ye not know my speech? Because ye cannot hear my word.

[44]Ye are of the devil, as [your] father, and ye desire to do the lusts of your father. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has not stood in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaks falsehood, he speaks of what is his own; for he is a liar and its father:

[45]and because I speak the truth, ye do not believe me.

[46]Which of you convinces me of sin? If I speak truth, why do ye not believe me?

[47]He that is of God hears the words of God: therefore ye hear [them] not, because ye are not of God.

[48]The Jews answered and said to him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan and hast a demon?

[49]Jesus answered, I have not a demon; but I honour my Father, and ye dishonour me.

[50]But I do not seek my own glory: there is he that seeks and judges.

[51]Verily, verily, I say unto you, If any one shall keep my word, he shall never see death.

[52]The Jews therefore said to him, Now we know that thou hast a demon. Abraham has died, and the prophets, and thou sayest, If any one keep my word, he shall never taste death.

[53]Art thou greater than our father Abraham, who has died? and the prophets have died: whom makest thou thyself?

[54]Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing: it is my Father who glorifies me, [of] whom ye say, He is our God.

[55]And ye know him not; but I know him; and if I said, I know him not, I should be like you, a liar. But I know him, and I keep his word.

[56]Your father Abraham exulted in that he should see my day, and he saw and rejoiced.

[57]The Jews therefore said to him, Thou hast not yet fifty years, and hast thou seen Abraham?

[58]Jesus said to them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

[59]They took up therefore stones that they might cast [them] at him; but Jesus hid himself and went out of the temple, [going through the midst of them, and thus passed on.]

9And as he passed on, he saw a man blind from birth.

[2]And his disciples asked him, saying, Rabbi, who sinned, this [man] or his parents, that he should be born blind?

[3]Jesus answered, Neither has this [man] sinned nor his parents, but that the works of God should be manifested in him.

[4]I must work the works of him that has sent me while it is day. [The] night is coming, when no one can work.

[5]As long as I am in the world, I am [the] light of the world.

[6]Having said these things, he spat on the ground and made mud of the spittle, and put the mud, as ointment, on his eyes.

[7]And he said to him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, which is interpreted, Sent. He went therefore and washed, and came seeing.

[8]The neighbours therefore, and those who used to see him before, that he was a beggar, said, Is not this he that was sitting and begging?

[9]Some said, It is he; others said, No, but he is like him: he said, It is I.

[10]They said therefore to him, How have thine eyes been opened?

[11]He answered [and said], A man called Jesus made mud and anointed mine eyes, and said to me, Go to Siloam and wash: and having gone and washed, I saw.

[12]They said therefore to him, Where is he? He says, I do not know.

[13]They bring him who was before blind to the Pharisees.

[14]Now it was sabbath when Jesus made the mud and opened his eyes.

[15]The Pharisees therefore also again asked him how he received his sight. And he said to them, He put mud upon mine eyes, and I washed, and I see.

[16]Some of the Pharisees therefore said, This man is not of God, for he does not keep the sabbath. Others said, How can a sinful man perform such signs? And there was a division among them.

[17]They say therefore again to the blind [man], What dost thou say of him, that he has opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a prophet.

[18]The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him that he was blind and had received sight, until they had called the parents of him that had received sight.

[19]And they asked them saying, This is your son, of whom ye say that he was born blind: how then does he now see?

[20]His parents answered [them] and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind;

[21]but how he now sees we do not know, or who has opened his eyes we do not know. He is of age: ask him; he will speak concerning himself.

[22]His parents said these things because they feared the Jews, for the Jews had already agreed that if any one confessed him [to be the] Christ, he should be excommunicated from the synagogue.

[23]On this account his parents said, He is of age: ask him.

[24]They called therefore a second time the man who had been blind, and said to him, Give glory to God: we know that this man is sinful.

[25]He answered therefore, If he is sinful I know not. One thing I know, that, being blind [before], now I see.

[26]And they said to him again, What did he do to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

[27]He answered them, I told you already and ye did not hear: why do ye desire to hear again? do ye also wish to become his disciples?

[28]They railed at him, and said, Thou art his disciple, but we are disciples of Moses.

[29]We know that God spoke to Moses; but [as to] this [man], we know not whence he is.

[30]The man answered and said to them, Now in this is a wonderful thing, that ye do not know whence he is, and he has opened mine eyes.

[31][But] we know that God does not hear sinners; but if any one be God-fearing and do his will, him he hears.

[32]Since time was, it has not been heard that any one opened the eyes of one born blind.

[33]If this [man] were not of God he would be able to do nothing.

[34]They answered and said to him, Thou hast been wholly born in sins, and thou teachest us? And they cast him out.

[35]Jesus heard that they had cast him out, and having found him, he said to him, Thou, dost thou believe on the Son of God?

[36]He answered and said, And who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him?

[37]And Jesus said to him, Thou hast both seen him, and he that speaks with thee is he.

[38]And he said, I believe, Lord: and he did him homage.

[39]And Jesus said, For judgment am I come into this world, that they which see not may see, and they which see may become blind.

[40]And [some] of the Pharisees who were with him heard these things, and they said to him, Are we blind also?

[41]Jesus said to them, If ye were blind ye would not have sin; but now ye say, We see, your sin remains.

10 Verily, verily, I say to you, He that enters not in by the door to the fold of the sheep, but mounts up elsewhere, he is a thief and a robber;

[2]but he that enters in by the door is [the] shepherd of the sheep.

[3]To him the porter opens; and the sheep hear his voice; and he calls his own sheep by name, and leads them out.

[4]When he has put forth all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, because they know his voice.

[5]But they will not follow a stranger, but will flee from him, because they know not the voice of strangers.

[6]This allegory spoke Jesus to them, but they did not know what it was [of] which he spoke to them.

[7]Jesus therefore said again to them, Verily, verily, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep.

[8]All whoever came before me are thieves and robbers; but the sheep did not hear them.

[9]I am the door: if any one enter in by me, he shall be saved, and shall go in and shall go out and shall find pasture.

[10]The thief comes not but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I am come that they might have life, and might have [it] abundantly.

[11]I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep:

[12]but he who serves for wages, and who is not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, sees the wolf coming, and leaves the sheep and flees; and the wolf seizes them and scatters the sheep.

[13]Now he who serves for wages flees because he serves for wages, and is not himself concerned about the sheep.

[14]I am the good shepherd; and I know those that are mine, and am known of those that are mine, [15]as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep.

[16]And I have other sheep which are not of this fold: those also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one flock, one shepherd.

[17]On this account the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it again.

[18]No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have authority to lay it down and I have authority to take it again. I have received this commandment of my Father.

[19]There was a division again among the Jews on account of these words;

[20]but many of them said, He has a demon and raves; why do ye hear him?

[21]Others said, These sayings are not [those] of one that is possessed by a demon. Can a demon open blind people's eyes?

22 Now the feast of the dedication was celebrating at Jerusalem, and it was winter.

23 And Jesus walked in the temple in the porch of Solomon.

24 The Jews therefore surrounded him, and said to him, Until when dost thou hold our soul in suspense? If thou art the Christ, say [so] to us openly.

25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye do not believe. The works which I do in my Father's name, these bear witness concerning me:

26 but ye do not believe, for ye are not of my sheep, as I told you.

27 My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me;

28 and I give them life eternal; and they shall never perish, and no one shall seize them out of my hand.

29 My Father who has given [them] to me is greater than all, and no one can seize out of the hand of my Father.

30 I and the Father are one.

31 The Jews therefore again took stones that they might stone him.

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewn you of my Father; for which work of them do ye stone me?

33 The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy, and because thou, being a man, makest thyself God.

34 Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods to whom the word of God came (and the scripture cannot be broken), 36 do ye say of him whom the Father has sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest, because I said, I am Son of God?

37 If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not;

38 but if I do, even if ye believe not me, believe the works, that ye may know [and believe] that the Father is in me and I in him.

39 They sought therefore again to take him; and he went away from out of their hand

40 and departed again beyond the Jordan to the place where John was baptising at the first: and he abode there.

41 And many came to him, and said, John did no sign; but all things which John said of this [man] were true.

42 And many believed on him there.

11 Now there was a certain [man] sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of Mary and Martha her sister.

[2]It was [the] Mary who anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.

[3]The sisters therefore sent to him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

[4]But when Jesus heard [it], he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified by it.

[5]Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

[6]When therefore he heard, He is sick, he remained two days then in the place where he was.

[7]Then after this he says to his disciples, Let us go into Judaea again.

[8]The disciples say to him, Rabbi, [even but] now the Jews sought to stone thee, and goest thou thither again?

[9]Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any one walk in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world;

[10]but if any one walk in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him.

[11]These things said he; and after this he says to them, Lazarus, our friend, is fallen asleep, but I go that I may awake him out of sleep.

[12]The disciples therefore said to him, Lord, if he be fallen asleep, he will get well.

[13]But Jesus spoke of his death, but they thought that he spoke of the rest of sleep.

[14]Jesus therefore then said to them plainly, Lazarus has died.

[15]And I rejoice on your account that I was not there, in order that ye may believe. But let us go to him.

[16]Thomas therefore, called Didymus, said to his fellow disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

[17]Jesus therefore [on] arriving found him to have been four days already in the tomb.

[18]Now Bethany was near Jerusalem, about fifteen stadia off, [19]and many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, that they might console them concerning their brother.

[20]Martha then, when she heard Jesus is coming, went to meet him; but Mary sat in the house.

[21]Martha therefore said to Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died;

[22]but even now I know, that whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, God will give thee.

[23]Jesus says to her, Thy brother shall rise again.

[24]Martha says to him, I know that he will rise again in the resurrection in the last day.

[25]Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life: he that believes on me, though he have died, shall live;

[26]and every one who lives and believes on me shall never die. Believest thou this?

[27]She says to him, Yea, Lord; I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, who should come into the world.

[28]And having said this, she went away and called her sister Mary secretly, saying, The teacher is come and calls thee.

[29]She, when she heard [that], rises up quickly and comes to him.

[30]Now Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was in the place where Martha came to meet him.

[31]The Jews therefore who were with her in the house and consoling her, seeing Mary that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, saying, She goes to the tomb, that she may weep there.

[32]Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, seeing him, fell at his feet, saying to him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

[33]Jesus therefore, when he saw her weeping, and the Jews who came with her weeping, was deeply moved in spirit, and was troubled, [34]and said, Where have ye put him? They say to him, Lord, come and see.

[35]Jesus wept.

[36]The Jews therefore said, Behold how he loved him!

[37]And some of them said, Could not this [man], who has opened the eyes of the blind [man], have caused that this [man] also should not have died?

[38]Jesus therefore, again deeply moved in himself, comes to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

[39]Jesus says, Take away the stone. Martha, the sister of the dead, says to him, Lord, he stinks already, for he is four days [there].

[40]Jesus says to her, Did I not say to thee, that if thou shouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God?

[41]They took therefore the stone away. And Jesus lifted up his eyes on high and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me;

[42]but I knew that thou always hearest me; but on account of the crowd who stand around I have said [it], that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

[43]And having said this, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

[44]And the dead came forth, bound feet and hands with graveclothes, and his face was bound round with a handkerchief. Jesus says to them, Loose him and let him go.

[45]Many therefore of the Jews who came to Mary and saw what he had done, believed on him;

[46]but some of them went to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus had done.

[47]The chief priests, therefore, and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, What do we? for this man does many signs.

[48]If we let him thus alone, all will believe on him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation.

[49]But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, Ye know nothing

[50]nor consider that it is profitable for you that one man die for the people, and not that the whole nation perish.

[51]But this he did not say of himself; but, being high priest that year, prophesied that Jesus was going to die for the nation;

[52]and not for the nation only, but that he should also gather together into one the children of God who were scattered abroad.

[53]From that day therefore they took counsel that they might kill him.

[54]Jesus therefore walked no longer openly among the Jews, but went away thence into the country near the desert, to a city called Ephraim, and there he sojourned with the disciples.

[55]But the passover of the Jews was near, and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, that they might purify themselves.

[56]They sought therefore Jesus, and said among themselves, standing in the temple, What do ye think? that he will not come to the feast?

[57]Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment that if any one knew where he was, he should make it known, that they might take him.

12Jesus therefore, six days before the passover, came to Bethany, where was the dead [man] Lazarus, whom Jesus raised from among [the] dead.

[2]There therefore they made him a supper, and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of those at table with him.

[3]Mary therefore, having taken a pound of ointment of pure nard of great price, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair, and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

[4]One of his disciples therefore, Judas [son] of Simon, Iscariote, who was about to deliver him up, says,

[5]Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?

[6]But he said this, not that he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief and had the bag, and carried what was put into [it].

[7]Jesus therefore said, Suffer her to have kept this for the day of my preparation for burial;

[8]for ye have the poor always with you, but me ye have not always.

[9]A great crowd therefore of the Jews knew that he was there; and they came, not because of Jesus only, but also that they might see Lazarus whom he raised from among [the] dead.

[10]But the chief priests took counsel that they might kill Lazarus also,

[11]because many of the Jews went away on his account and believed on Jesus.

[12]On the morrow a great crowd who came to the feast, having heard that Jesus is coming into Jerusalem, [13]took branches of palms and went out to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, blessed [is] he that comes in the name of [the] Lord, the King of Israel.

[14]And Jesus, having found a young ass, sat upon it; as it is written, [15]Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.

[16][Now] his disciples knew not these things at the first; but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things to him.

[17]The crowd therefore that was with him bore witness because he had called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from among [the] dead.

[18]Therefore also the crowd met him because they had heard that he had done this sign.

[19]The Pharisees therefore said to one another, Ye see that ye profit nothing: behold, the world is gone after him.

[20]And there were certain Greeks among those who came up that they might worship in the feast;

[21]these therefore came to Philip, who was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and they asked him saying, Sir, we desire to see Jesus.

[22]Philip comes and tells Andrew, [and again] Andrew comes and Philip, and they tell Jesus.

[23]But Jesus answered them saying, The hour is come that the Son of man should be glorified.

[24]Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except the grain of wheat falling into the ground die, it abides alone; but if it die, it bears much fruit.

[25]He that loves his life shall lose it, and he that hates his life in this world shall keep it to life eternal.

[26]If any one serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there also shall be my servant. [And] if any one serve me, him shall the Father honour.

[27]Now is my soul troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour. But on account of this have I come to this hour.

[28]Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a voice out of heaven, I both have glorified and will glorify [it] again.

[29]The crowd therefore, which stood [there] and heard [it], said that it had thundered. Others said, An angel has spoken to him.

[30]Jesus answered and said, Not on my account has this voice come, but on yours.

[31]Now is [the] judgment of this world; now shall the prince of this world be cast out:

[32]and I, if I be lifted up out of the earth, will draw all to me.

[33]But this he said signifying by what death he was about to die.

[34]The crowd answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abides for ever; and how sayest thou that the Son of man must be lifted up? Who is this, the Son of man?

[35]Jesus therefore said to them, Yet a little while is the light amongst you. Walk while ye have the light, that darkness may not overtake you. And he who walks in the darkness does not know where he goes.

[36]While ye have the light, believe in the light, that ye may become sons of light. Jesus said these things, and going away hid himself from them.

[37]But though he had done so many signs before them, they believed not on him, [38]that the word of the prophet Esaias which he said might be fulfilled, Lord, who has believed our report? and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?

[39]On this account they could not believe, because Esaias said again, [40]He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, that they may not see with their eyes, and understand with their heart and be converted, and I should heal them.

[41]These things said Esaias because he saw his glory and spoke of him.

[42]Although indeed from among the rulers also many believed on him, but on account of the Pharisees did not confess [him], that they might not be put out of the synagogue:

[43]for they loved glory from men rather than glory from God.

[44]But Jesus cried and said, He that believes on me, believes not on me, but on him that sent me;

[45]and he that beholds me, beholds him that sent me.

[46]I am come into the world [as] light, that every one that believes on me may not abide in darkness;

[47]and if any one hear my words and do not keep [them], I judge him not, for I am not come that I might judge the world, but that I might save the world.

[48]He that rejects me and does not receive my words, has him who judges him: the word which I have spoken, that shall judge him in the last day.

[49]For I have not spoken from myself, but the Father who sent me has himself given me commandment what I should say and what I should speak;

[50]and I know that his commandment is life eternal. What therefore I speak, as the Father has said to me, so I speak.

13 Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus, knowing that his hour had come that he should depart out of this world to the Father, having loved his own who were in the world, loved them to the end.

[2]And during supper, the devil having already put it into the heart of Judas [son] of Simon, Iscariote, that he should deliver him up,

[3][Jesus,] knowing that the Father had given him all things into his hands, and that he came out from God and was going to God,

[4]rises from supper and lays aside his garments, and having taken a linen towel he girded himself:

[5]then he pours water into the washhand basin, and began to wash the feet of the disciples, and to wipe them with the linen towel with which he was girded.

[6]He comes therefore to Simon Peter; and he says to him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?

[7]Jesus answered and said to him, What I do thou dost not know now, but thou shalt know hereafter.

[8]Peter says to him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, Unless I wash thee, thou hast not part with me.

[9]Simon Peter says to him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.

[10]Jesus says to him, He that is washed all over needs not to wash save his feet, but is wholly clean; and ye are clean, but not all.

[11]For he knew him that delivered him up: on account of this he said, Ye are not all clean.

[12]When therefore he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, having sat down again, he said to them, Do ye know what I have done to you?

[13]Ye call me the Teacher and the Lord, and ye say well, for I am [so].

[14]If I therefore, the Lord and the Teacher, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet;

[15]for I have given you an example that, as I have done to you, ye should do also.

[16]Verily, verily, I say to you, The bondman is not greater than his lord, nor the sent greater than he who has sent him.

[17]If ye know these things, blessed are ye if ye do them.

[18]I speak not of you all. I know those whom I have chosen; but that the scripture might be fulfilled, He that eats bread with me has lifted up his heel against me.

[19]I tell you [it] now before it happens, that when it happens, ye may believe that I am [he].

[20]Verily, verily, I say to you, He who receives whomsoever I shall send receives me; and he that receives me receives him who has sent me.

[21]Having said these things, Jesus was troubled in spirit, and testified and said, Verily, verily, I say to you, that one of you shall deliver me up.

[22]The disciples therefore looked one on another, doubting of whom he spoke.

[23]Now there was at table one of his disciples in the bosom of Jesus, whom Jesus loved.

[24]Simon Peter makes a sign therefore to him to ask who it might be of whom he spoke.

[25]But he, leaning on the breast of Jesus, says to him, Lord, who is it?

[26]Jesus answers, He it is to whom I, after I have dipped the morsel, give it. And having dipped the morsel, he gives it to Judas [son] of Simon, Iscariote.

[27]And, after the morsel, then entered Satan into him. Jesus therefore says to him, What thou doest, do quickly.

[28]But none of those at table knew why he said this to him;

[29]for some supposed, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus was saying to him, Buy the things of which we have need for the feast; or that he should give something to the poor.

[30]Having therefore received the morsel, he went out immediately; and it was night.

[31]When therefore he was gone out Jesus says, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

[32]If God be glorified in him, God also shall glorify him in himself, and shall glorify him immediately.

[33]Children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me; and, as I said to the Jews, Where I go ye cannot come, I say to you also now.

[34]A new commandment I give to you, that ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

[35]By this shall all know that ye are disciples of mine, if ye have love amongst yourselves.

[36]Simon Peter says to him, Lord, where goest thou? Jesus answered him, Where I go thou canst not follow me now, but thou shalt follow me after.

[37]Peter says to him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thee.

[38]Jesus answers, Thou wilt lay down thy life for me! Verily, verily, I say to thee, The cock shall not crow till thou hast denied me thrice.

14 Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe on God, believe also on me.

[2]In my Father's house there are many abodes; were it not so, I had told you: for I go to prepare you a place;

[3]and if I go and shall prepare you a place, I am coming again and shall receive you to myself, that where I am ye also may be.

[4]And ye know where I go, and ye know the way.

[5]Thomas says to him, Lord, we know not where thou goest, and how can we know the way?

[6]Jesus says to him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father unless by me.

[7]If ye had known me, ye would have known also my Father, and henceforth ye know him and have seen him.

[8]Philip says to him, Lord, shew us the Father and it suffices us.

[9]Jesus says to him, Am I so long a time with you, and thou hast not known me, Philip? He that has seen me has seen the Father; and how sayest thou, Shew us the Father?

[10]Believest thou not that I [am] in the Father, and that the Father is in me? The words which I speak to you I do not speak from myself; but the Father who abides in me, he does the works.

[11]Believe me that I [am] in the Father and the Father in me; but if not, believe me for the works' sake themselves.

[12]Verily, verily, I say to you, He that believes on me, the works which I do shall he do also, and he shall do greater than these, because I go to the Father.

[13]And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, this will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

[14]If ye shall ask anything in my name, I will do it.

15 If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will beg the Father, and he will give you another Comforter, that he may be with you for ever,

17 the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it does not see him nor know him; but ye know him, for he abides with you, and shall be in you.

18 I will not leave you orphans, I am coming to you.

19 Yet a little and the world sees me no longer; but ye see me; because I live ye also shall live.

20 In that day ye shall know that I [am] in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21 He that has my commandments and keeps them, he it is that loves me; but he that loves me shall be loved by my Father, and I will love him and will manifest myself to him.

22 Judas, not the Iscariote, says to him, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself to us and not to the world?

23 Jesus answered and said to him, If any one love me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our abode with him.

24 He that loves me not does not keep my words; and the word which ye hear is not mine, but [that] of the Father who has sent me.

25 These things I have said to you, abiding with you;

26 but the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and will bring to your remembrance all the things which I have said to you.

27 I leave peace with you; I give my peace to you: not as the world gives do I give to you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it fear.

28 Ye have heard that I have said unto you, I go away and I am coming to you. If ye loved me ye would rejoice that I go to the Father, for [my] Father is greater than I.

29 And now I have told you before it comes to pass, that when it shall have come to pass ye may believe.

30 I will no longer speak much with you, for the ruler of the world comes, and in me he has nothing;

31 but that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father has commanded me, thus I do. Rise up, let us go hence.

15 I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

2 [As to] every branch in me not bearing fruit, he takes it away; and [as to] every one bearing fruit, he purges it that it may bring forth more fruit.

[3]Ye are already clean by reason of the word which I have spoken to you.

[4]Abide in me and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself unless it abide in the vine, thus neither [can] ye unless ye abide in me.

[5]I am the vine, ye [are] the branches. He that abides in me and I in him, he bears much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing.

[6]Unless any one abide in me he is cast out as the branch, and is dried up; and they gather them and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

[7]If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will and it shall come to pass to you.

[8]In this is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, and ye shall become disciples of mine.

[9]As the Father has loved me, I also have loved you: abide in my love.

[10]If ye shall keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love, as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love.

[11]I have spoken these things to you that my joy may be in you, and your joy be full.

[12]This is my commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you.

[13]No one has greater love than this, that one should lay down his life for his friends.

[14]Ye are my friends if ye practise whatever I command you.

[15]I call you no longer bondmen, for the bondman does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all things which I have heard of my Father I have made known to you.

[16]Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and have set you that ye should go and [that] ye should bear fruit, and [that] your fruit should abide, that whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name he may give you.

[17]These things I command you, that ye love one another.

[18]If the world hate you, know that it has hated me before you.

[19]If ye were of the world, the world would love its own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, on account of this the world hates you.

[20]Remember the word which I said unto you, The bondman is not greater than his master. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my word, they will keep also yours.

[21]But they will do all these things to you on account of my name, because they have not known him that sent me.

[22]If I had not come and spoken to them, they had not had sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin.

[23]He that hates me hates also my Father.

[24]If I had not done among them the works which no other one has done, they had not had sin; but now they have both seen and hated both me and my Father.

[25]But that the word written in their law might be fulfilled, They hated me without a cause.

[26]But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth who goes forth from with the Father, he shall bear witness concerning me;

[27]and ye too bear witness, because ye are with me from [the] beginning.

16 These things I have spoken unto you that ye may not be offended.

[2]They shall put you out of the synagogues; but the hour is coming that every one who kills you will think to render service to God;

[3]and these things they will do because they have not known the Father nor me.

[4]But I have spoken these things to you, that when their hour shall have come, ye may remember them, that I have said [them] unto you. But I did not say these things unto you from [the] beginning, because I was with you.

[5]But now I go to him that has sent me, and none of you demands of me, Where goest thou?

[6]But because I have spoken these things to you, sorrow has filled your heart.

[7]But I say the truth to you, It is profitable for you that I go away; for if I do not go away, the Comforter will not come to you; but if I go I will send him to you.

[8]And having come, he will bring demonstration to the world, of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

[9]of sin, because they do not believe on me;

[10]of righteousness, because I go away to [my] Father, and ye behold me no longer;

[11]of judgment, because the ruler of this world is judged.

[12]I have yet many things to say to you, but ye cannot bear them now.

[13]But when he is come, the Spirit of truth, he shall guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but whatsoever he shall hear he shall speak; and he will announce to you what is coming.

[14]He shall glorify me, for he shall receive of mine and shall announce [it] to you.

[15]All things that the Father has are mine; on account of this I have said that he receives of mine and shall announce [it] to you.

16 A little while and ye do not behold me; and again a little while and ye shall see me, [because I go away to the Father].

17 [Some] of his disciples therefore said to one another, What is this he says to us, A little while and ye do not behold me; and again a little while and ye shall see me, and, Because I go away to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this which he says [of] the little while? We do not know [of] what he speaks.

19 Jesus knew therefore that they desired to demand of him, and said to them, Do ye inquire of this among yourselves that I said, A little while and ye do not behold me; and again a little while and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say to you, that ye shall weep and lament, ye, but the world shall rejoice; and ye will be grieved, but your grief shall be turned to joy.

21 A woman, when she gives birth to a child, has grief because her hour has come; but when the child is born, she no longer remembers the trouble, on account of the joy that a man has been born into the world.

22 And ye now therefore have grief; but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one takes from you.

23 And in that day ye shall demand nothing of me: verily, verily, I say to you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give you.

24 Hitherto ye have asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

25 These things I have spoken to you in allegories; the hour is coming that I will no longer speak to you in allegories, but will declare to you openly concerning the Father.

26 In that day ye shall ask in my name; and I say not to you that I will demand of the Father for you, 27 for the Father himself has affection for you, because ye have had affection for me, and have believed that I came out from God.

28 I came out from the Father and have come into the world; again, I leave the world and go to the Father.

29 His disciples say to him, Lo, now thou speakest openly and utterest no allegory.

30 Now we know that thou knowest all things, and hast not need that any one should demand of thee. By this we believe that thou art come from God.

31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe?

32 Behold, [the] hour is coming, and has come, that ye shall be scattered, each to his own, and shall leave me alone; and [yet] I am not alone, for the Father is with me.

33 These things have I spoken to you that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye have tribulation; but be of good courage: I have overcome the world.

17 These things Jesus spoke, and lifted up his eyes to heaven and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son may glorify thee;

2 as thou hast given him authority over all flesh, that [as to] all that thou hast given to him, he should give them life eternal.

3 And this is the eternal life, that they should know thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

4 I have glorified thee on the earth, I have completed the work which thou gavest me that I should do it;

5 and now glorify me, thou Father, along with thyself, with the glory which I had along with thee before the world was.

6 I have manifested thy name to the men whom thou gavest me out of the world. They were thine, and thou gavest them me, and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things that thou hast given me are of thee;

8 for the words which thou hast given me I have given them, and they have received [them], and have known truly that I came out from thee, and have believed that thou sentest me.

9 I demand concerning them; I do not demand concerning the world, but concerning those whom thou hast given me, for they are thine,

10 (and all that is mine is thine, and [all] that is thine mine,) and I am glorified in them.

11 And I am no longer in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name which thou hast given me, that they may be one as we.

12 When I was with them I kept them in thy name; those thou hast given me I have guarded, and not one of them has perished, but the son of perdition, that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now I come to thee. And these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in them.

14 I have given them thy word, and the world has hated them, because they are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

15 I do not demand that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them out of evil.

16 They are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

17 Sanctify them by the truth: thy word is truth.

[18]As thou hast sent me into the world, I also have sent them into the world;

[19]and I sanctify myself for them, that they also may be sanctified by truth.

[20]And I do not demand for these only, but also for those who believe on me through their word;

[21]that they may be all one, as thou, Father, [art] in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

[22]And the glory which thou hast given me I have given them, that they may be one, as we are one;

[23]I in them and thou in me, that they may be perfected into one [and] that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and [that] thou hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

[24]Father, [as to] those whom thou hast given me, I desire that where I am they also may be with me, that they may behold my glory which thou hast given me, for thou lovedst me before [the] foundation of [the] world.

[25]Righteous Father, -- and the world has not known thee, but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.

[26]And I have made known to them thy name, and will make [it] known; that the love with which thou hast loved me may be in them and I in them.

18 Jesus, having said these things, went out with his disciples beyond the torrent Cedron, where was a garden, into which he entered, he and his disciples.

[2]And Judas also, who delivered him up, knew the place, because Jesus was often there, in company with his disciples.

[3]Judas therefore, having got the band, and officers of the chief priests and Pharisees, comes there with lanterns and torches and weapons.

[4]Jesus therefore, knowing all things that were coming upon him, went forth and said to them, Whom seek ye?

[5]They answered him, Jesus the Nazaraean. Jesus says to them, I am [he]. And Judas also, who delivered him up, stood with them.

[6]When therefore he said to them, I am [he], they went away backward and fell to the ground.

[7]He demanded of them therefore again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus the Nazaraean.

[8]Jesus answered, I told you that I am [he]: if therefore ye seek me, let these go away;

[9]that the word might be fulfilled which he spoke, [As to] those whom thou hast given me, I have not lost one of them.

[10]Simon Peter therefore, having a sword, drew it, and smote the bondman of the high priest and cut off his right ear; and the bondman's name was Malchus.

[11]Jesus therefore said to Peter, Put the sword into the sheath; the cup which the Father has given me, shall I not drink it?

[12]The band therefore, and the chiliarch, and the officers of the Jews, took Jesus and bound him:

[13]and they led him away to Annas first; for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, who was high priest that year.

[14]But it was Caiaphas who counselled the Jews that it was better that one man should perish for the people.

[15]Now Simon Peter followed Jesus, and the other disciple. But that disciple was known to the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest;

[16]but Peter stood at the door without. The other disciple therefore, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to the porteress and brought in Peter.

[17]The maid therefore, who was porteress, says to Peter, Art thou also of the disciples of this man? He says, I am not.

[18]But the bondmen and officers, having made a fire of coals (for it was cold), stood and warmed themselves; and Peter was standing with them and warming himself.

[19]The high priest therefore demanded of Jesus concerning his disciples and concerning his doctrine.

[20]Jesus answered him, I spoke openly to the world; I taught always in [the] synagogue and in the temple, where all the Jews come together, and in secret I have spoken nothing.

[21]Why demandest thou of me? Demand of those who have heard, what I have spoken to them; behold, they know what I have said.

[22]But as he said these things, one of the officers who stood by gave a blow on the face to Jesus, saying, Answerest thou the high priest thus?

[23]Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil; but if well, why smitest thou me?

[24]Annas [then] had sent him bound to Caiaphas the high priest.

[25]But Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore to him, Art thou also of his disciples? He denied, and said, I am not.

[26]One of the bondmen of the high priest, who was kinsman of him whose ear Peter cut off, says, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

[27]Peter denied therefore again, and immediately [the] cock crew.

[28]They lead therefore Jesus from Caiaphas to the praetorium; and it was early morn. And they entered not into the praetorium, that they might not be defiled, but eat the passover.

[29]Pilate therefore went out to them and said, What accusation do ye bring against this man?

[30]They answered and said to him, If this [man] were not an evildoer, we should not have delivered him up to thee.

[31]Pilate therefore said to them, Take him, ye, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said to him, It is not permitted to us to put any one to death;

[32]that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled which he spoke, signifying what death he should die.

[33]Pilate therefore entered again into the praetorium and called Jesus, and said to him, Thou art the king of the Jews?

[34]Jesus answered [him], Dost thou say this of thyself, or have others said it to thee concerning me?

[35]Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thy nation and the chief priests have delivered thee up to me: what hast thou done?

[36]Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, my servants had fought that I might not be delivered up to the Jews; but now my kingdom is not from hence.

[37]Pilate therefore said to him, Thou art then a king? Jesus answered, Thou sayest [it], that I am a king. I have been born for this, and for this I have come into the world, that I might bear witness to the truth. Every one that is of the truth hears my voice.

[38]Pilate says to him, What is truth? And having said this he went out again to the Jews, and says to them, I find no fault whatever in him.

[39]But ye have a custom that I release [some] one to you at the passover; will ye therefore that I release unto you the king of the Jews?

[40]They cried therefore again all, saying, Not this [man], but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

19Then Pilate therefore took Jesus and scourged [him].

[2]And the soldiers having plaited a crown of thorns put it on his head, and put a purple robe on him,

[3]and came to him and said, Hail, king of the Jews! and gave him blows on the face.

[4]And Pilate went out again and says to them, Lo, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that I find in him no fault whatever.

[5](Jesus therefore went forth without, wearing the crown of thorn, and the purple robe.) And he says to them, Behold the man!

[6]When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him they cried out saying, Crucify, crucify [him]. Pilate says to them, Take him ye and crucify [him], for I find no fault in him.

[7]The Jews answered him, We have a law, and according to [our] law he ought to die, because he made himself Son of God.

[8]When Pilate therefore heard this word, he was the rather afraid,

[9]and went into the praetorium again and says to Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.

[10]Pilate therefore says to him, Speakest thou not to me? Dost thou not know that I have authority to release thee and have authority to crucify thee?

[11]Jesus answered, Thou hadst no authority whatever against me if it were not given to thee from above. On this account he that has delivered me up to thee has [the] greater sin.

[12]From this time Pilate sought to release him; but the Jews cried out saying, If thou releasest this [man], thou art not a friend to Caesar. Every one making himself a king speaks against Caesar.

[13]Pilate therefore, having heard these words, led Jesus out and sat down upon [the] judgment-seat, at a place called Pavement, but in Hebrew Gabbatha;

[14](now it was [the] preparation of the passover; it was about the sixth hour;) and he says to the Jews, Behold your king!

[15]But they cried out, Take [him] away, take [him] away, crucify him. Pilate says to them, Shall I crucify your king? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Caesar.

[16]Then therefore he delivered him up to them, that he might be crucified; and they took Jesus and led him away.

[17]And he went out, bearing his cross, to the place called [place] of a skull, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha;

[18]where they crucified him, and with him two others, [one] on this side, and [one] on that, and Jesus in the middle.

[19]And Pilate wrote a title also and put it on the cross. But there was written: Jesus the Nazaraean, the King of the Jews.

[20]This title therefore many of the Jews read, for the place of the city where Jesus was crucified was near; and it was written in Hebrew, Greek, Latin.

[21]The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Do not write, The king of the Jews, but that he said, I am king of the Jews.

[22]Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.

[23]The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his clothes, and made four parts, to each soldier a part, and the body-coat; but the body-coat was seamless, woven through the whole from the top.

[24]They said therefore to one another, Let us not rend it, but let us cast lots for it, whose it shall be; that the scripture might be fulfilled which says, They parted my garments among themselves, and on my vesture they cast lots. The soldiers therefore did these things.

[25]And by the cross of Jesus stood his mother, and the sister of his mother, Mary the [wife] of Clopas, and Mary of Magdala.

[26]Jesus therefore, seeing his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, says to his mother, Woman, behold thy son.

[27]Then he says unto the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that hour the disciple took her to his own home.

[28]After this, Jesus, knowing that all things were now finished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, says, I thirst.

[29]There was a vessel therefore there full of vinegar, and having filled a sponge with vinegar, and putting hyssop round it, they put it up to his mouth.

[30]When therefore Jesus had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished; and having bowed his head, he delivered up his spirit.

[31]The Jews therefore, that the bodies might not remain on the cross on the sabbath, for it was [the] preparation, (for the day of that sabbath was a great [day],) demanded of Pilate that their legs might be broken and they taken away.

[32]The soldiers therefore came and broke the legs of the first and of the other that had been crucified with him;

[33]but coming to Jesus, when they saw that he was already dead they did not break his legs, [34]but one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and immediately there came out blood and water.

[35]And he who saw it bears witness, and his witness is true, and he knows that he says true that ye also may believe.

[36]For these things took place that the scripture might be fulfilled, Not a bone of him shall be broken.

[37]And again another scripture says, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

[38]And after these things Joseph of Arimathaea, who was a disciple of Jesus, but secretly through fear of the Jews, demanded of Pilate that he might take the body of Jesus: and Pilate allowed it. He came therefore and took away the body of Jesus.

[39]And Nicodemus also, who at first came to Jesus by night, came, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pounds [weight].

[40]They took therefore the body of Jesus and bound it up in linen with the spices, as it is the custom with the Jews to prepare for burial.

[41]But there was in the place where he had been crucified a garden, and in the garden a new tomb in which no one had ever been laid.

[42]There therefore, on account of the preparation of the Jews, because the tomb was near, they laid Jesus.

20 And on the first [day] of the week Mary of Magdala comes in early morn to the tomb, while it was still dark, and sees the stone taken away from the tomb.

[2]She runs therefore and comes to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, to whom Jesus was attached, and says to them, They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they have laid him.

[3]Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and came to the tomb.

[4]And the two ran together, and the other disciple ran forward faster than Peter, and came first to the tomb,

[5]and stooping down he sees the linen cloths lying; he did not however go in.

[6]Simon Peter therefore comes, following him, and entered into the tomb, and sees the linen cloths lying,

[7]and the handkerchief which was upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but folded up in a distinct place by itself.

[8]Then entered in therefore the other disciple also who came first to the tomb, and he saw and believed;

[9]for they had not yet known the scripture, that he must rise from among [the] dead.

[10]The disciples therefore went away again to their own home.

[11]But Mary stood at the tomb weeping without. As therefore she wept, she stooped down into the tomb, [12]and beholds two angels sitting in white [garments], one at the head and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

[13]And they say to her, Woman, why dost thou weep? She says to them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

[14]Having said these things she turned backward and beholds Jesus standing [there], and knew not that it was Jesus.

[15]Jesus says to her, Woman, why dost thou weep? Whom seekest thou? She, supposing that it was the gardener, says to him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

[16]Jesus says to her, Mary. She, turning round, says to him in Hebrew, Rabboni, which means Teacher.

[17]Jesus says to her, Touch me not, for I have not yet ascended to my Father; but go to my brethren and say to them, I ascend to my Father and your Father, and [to] my God and your God.

[18]Mary of Magdala comes bringing word to the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and [that] he had said these things to her.

[19]When therefore it was evening on that day, which was the first [day] of the week, and the doors shut where the disciples were, through fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and says to them, Peace [be] to you.

[20]And having said this, he shewed to them his hands and his side. The disciples rejoiced therefore, having seen the Lord.

[21][Jesus] said therefore again to them, Peace [be] to you: as the Father sent me forth, I also send you.

[22]And having said this, he breathed into [them], and says to them, Receive [the] Holy Spirit:

[23]whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted to them; whose soever [sins] ye retain, they are retained.

[24]But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

[25]The other disciples therefore said to him, We have seen the Lord. But he said to them, Unless I see in his hands the mark of the nails, and put my finger into the mark of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.

[26]And eight days after, his disciples were again within, and Thomas with them. Jesus comes, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst and said, Peace [be] to you.

[27]Then he says to Thomas, Bring thy finger here and see my hands; and bring thy hand and put it into my side; and be not unbelieving, but believing.

[28]Thomas answered and said to him, My Lord and my God.

[29]Jesus says to him, Because thou hast seen me thou hast believed: blessed they who have not seen and have believed.

[30]Many other signs therefore also Jesus did before his disciples, which are not written in this book;

[31]but these are written that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life in his name.

21 After these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias. And he manifested [himself] thus.

[2]There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael who was of Cana of Galilee, and the [sons] of Zebedee, and two others of his disciples.

[3]Simon Peter says to them, I go to fish. They say to him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and went on board, and that night took nothing.

[4]And early morn already breaking, Jesus stood on the shore; the disciples however did not know that it was Jesus.

[5]Jesus therefore says to them, Children, have ye anything to eat? They answered him, No.

[6]And he said to them, Cast the net at the right side of the ship and ye will find. They cast therefore, and they could no longer draw it, from the multitude of fishes.

[7]That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved says to Peter, It is the Lord. Simon Peter therefore, having heard that it was the Lord, girded his overcoat [on him] (for he was naked), and cast himself into the sea;

[8]and the other disciples came in the small boat, for they were not far from the land, but somewhere about two hundred cubits, dragging the net of fishes.

[9]When therefore they went out on the land, they see a fire of coals there, and fish laid on it, and bread.

[10]Jesus says to them, Bring of the fishes which ye have now taken.

[11]Simon Peter went up and drew the net to the land full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty-three; and though there were so many, the net was not rent.

[12]Jesus says to them, Come [and] dine. But none of the disciples dared inquire of him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

[13]Jesus comes and takes the bread and gives it to them, and the fish in like manner.

[14]This is already the third time that Jesus had been manifested to the disciples, being risen from among [the] dead.

[15]When therefore they had dined, Jesus says to Simon Peter, Simon, [son] of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He says to him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I am attached to thee. He says to him, Feed my lambs.

[16]He says to him again a second time, Simon, [son] of Jonas, lovest thou me? He says to him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I am attached to thee. He says to him, Shepherd my sheep.

[17]He says to him the third time, Simon, [son] of Jonas, art thou attached to me? Peter was grieved because he said to him the third time, Art thou attached to me? and said to him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I am attached to thee. Jesus says to him, Feed my sheep.

[18]Verily, verily, I say to thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst where thou desiredst; but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and bring thee where thou dost not desire.

[19]But he said this signifying by what death he should glorify God. And having said this, he says to him, Follow me.

[20]Peter, turning round, sees the disciple whom Jesus loved following, who also leaned at supper on his breast, and said, Lord, who is it that delivers thee up?

[21]Peter, seeing him, says to Jesus, Lord, and what [of] this [man]?

[22]Jesus says to him, If I will that he abide until I come, what [is that] to thee? Follow thou me.

[23]This word therefore went out among the brethren, That disciple does not die. And Jesus did not say to him, He does not die; but, If I will that he abide until I come, what [is that] to thee?

[24]This is the disciple who bears witness concerning these things, and who has written these things; and we know that his witness is true.

[25]And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they were written one by one, I suppose that not even the world itself would contain the books written.

Acts

1 I composed the first discourse, O Theophilus, concerning all things which Jesus began both to do and to teach,

2 until that day in which, having by the Holy Spirit charged the apostles whom he had chosen, he was taken up;

3 to whom also he presented himself living, after he had suffered, with many proofs; being seen by them during forty days, and speaking of the things which concern the kingdom of God;

4 and, being assembled with [them], commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to await the promise of the Father, which [said he] ye have heard of me.

5 For John indeed baptised with water, but ye shall be baptised with the Holy Spirit after now not many days.

6 They therefore, being come together, asked him saying, Lord, is it at this time that thou restorest the kingdom to Israel?

7 And he said to them, It is not yours to know times or seasons, which the Father has placed in his own authority;

8 but ye will receive power, the Holy Spirit having come upon you, and ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth.

9 And having said these things he was taken up, they beholding [him], and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 And as they were gazing into heaven, as he was going, behold, also two men stood by them in white clothing,

11 who also said, Men of Galilee, why do ye stand looking into heaven? This Jesus who has been taken up from you into heaven, shall thus come in the manner in which ye have beheld him going into heaven.

12 Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount called [the mount] of Olives, which is near Jerusalem, a sabbath-day's journey off.

13 And when they were come into [the city], they went up to the upper chamber, where were staying both Peter, and John, and James, and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James [son] of Alphaeus, and Simon the zealot, and Jude [the brother] of James.

14 These gave themselves all with one accord to continual prayer, with [several] women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

15 And in those days Peter, standing up in the midst of the brethren, said, (the crowd of names [who were] together [was] about a hundred and twenty,)

16 Brethren, it was necessary that the scripture should have been fulfilled, which the Holy Spirit spoke before, by the mouth of David, concerning Judas, who became guide to those who took Jesus;

17 for he was numbered amongst us, and had received a part in this service.

18 (This [man] then indeed got a field with [the] reward of iniquity, and, having fallen down headlong, burst in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so that that field was called in their own dialect Aceldama; that is, field of blood.)

20 For it is written in [the] book of Psalms, Let his homestead become desolate, and let there be no dweller in it; and, Let another take his overseership.

21 It is necessary therefore, that of the men who have assembled with us all [the] time in which the Lord Jesus came in and went out among us, 22 beginning from the baptism of John until the day in which he was taken up from us, one of these should be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joseph, who was called Barsabas, who had been surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, and said, Thou Lord, knower of the hearts of all, shew which one of these two thou hast chosen,

25 to receive the lot of this service and apostleship, from which Judas transgressing fell to go to his own place.

26 And they gave lots on them, and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

2 And when the day of Pentecost was now accomplishing, they were all together in one place.

2 And there came suddenly a sound out of heaven as of a violent impetuous blowing, and filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared to them parted tongues, as of fire, and it sat upon each one of them.

4 And they were all filled with [the] Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other tongues as the Spirit gave to them to speak forth.

5 Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, pious men, from every nation of those under heaven.

6 But the rumour of this having spread, the multitude came together and were confounded, because each one heard them speaking in his own dialect.

7 And all were amazed and wondered, saying, Behold, are not all these who are speaking Galilaeans?

8 and how do we hear [them] each in our own dialect in which we have been born,

[9]Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and those who inhabit Mesopotamia, and Judaea, and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia,

[10]both Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt, and the parts of Libya which adjoin Cyrene, and the Romans sojourning [here], both Jews and proselytes, [11]Cretans and Arabians, we hear them speaking in our own tongues the great things of God?

[12]And they were all amazed and in perplexity, saying one to another, What would this mean?

[13]But others mocking said, They are full of new wine.

[14]But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice and spoke forth to them, Men of Judaea, and all ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, let this be known to you, and give heed to my words:

[15]for these are not full of wine, as ye suppose, for it is the third hour of the day;

[16]but this is that which was spoken through the prophet Joel,

[17]And it shall be in the last days, saith God, [that] I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your elders shall dream with dreams;

[18]yea, even upon my bondmen and upon my bondwomen in those days will I pour out of my Spirit, and they shall prophesy.

[19]And I will give wonders in the heaven above and signs on the earth below, blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:

[20]the sun shall be changed to darkness and the moon to blood, before the great and gloriously appearing day of [the] Lord come.

[21]And it shall be that whosoever shall call upon the name of [the] Lord shall be saved.

[22]Men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus the Nazaraean, a man borne witness to by God to you by works of power and wonders and signs, which God wrought by him in your midst, as yourselves know

[23]-- him, given up by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye, by [the] hand of lawless [men], have crucified and slain.

[24]Whom God has raised up, having loosed the pains of death, inasmuch as it was not possible that he should be held by its power;

[25]for David says as to him, I foresaw the Lord continually before me, because he is at my right hand that I may not be moved.

[26]Therefore has my heart rejoiced and my tongue exulted; yea more, my flesh also shall dwell in hope, [27]for thou wilt not leave my soul in hades, nor wilt thou give thy gracious one to see corruption.

[28]Thou hast made known to me [the] paths of life, thou wilt fill me with joy with thy countenance.

[29]Brethren, let it be allowed to speak with freedom to you concerning the patriarch David, that he has both died and been buried, and his monument is amongst us unto this day.

[30]Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn to him with an oath, of the fruit of his loins to set upon his throne;

[31]he, seeing [it] before, spoke concerning the resurrection of the Christ, that neither has he been left in hades nor his flesh seen corruption.

[32]This Jesus has God raised up, whereof all we are witnesses.

[33]Having therefore been exalted by the right hand of God, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, he has poured out this which ye behold and hear.

[34]For David has not ascended into the heavens, but he says himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit at my right hand

[35]until I have put thine enemies [to be] the footstool of thy feet.

[36]Let the whole house of Israel therefore know assuredly that God has made him, this Jesus whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

[37]And having heard [it] they were pricked in heart, and said to Peter and the other apostles, What shall we do, brethren?

[38]And Peter said to them, Repent, and be baptised, each one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, for remission of sins, and ye will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.

[39]For to you is the promise and to your children, and to all who [are] afar off, as many as [the] Lord our God may call.

[40]And with many other words he testified and exhorted them, saying, Be saved from this perverse generation.

[41]Those then who had accepted his word were baptised; and there were added in that day about three thousand souls.

[42]And they persevered in the teaching and fellowship of the apostles, in breaking of bread and prayers.

[43]And fear was upon every soul, and many wonders and signs took place through the apostles' means.

[44]And all that believed were together, and had all things common,

[45]and sold their possessions and substance, and distributed them to all, according as any one might have need.

[46]And every day, being constantly in the temple with one accord, and breaking bread in [the] house, they received their food with gladness and simplicity of heart, [47]praising God, and having favour with all the people; and the Lord added [to the assembly] daily those that were to be saved.

3And Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, [which is] the ninth [hour];

[2]and a certain man who was lame from his mother's womb was being carried, whom they placed every day at the gate of the temple called Beautiful, to ask alms of those who were going into the temple;

[3]who, seeing Peter and John about to enter into the temple, asked to receive alms.

[4]And Peter, looking stedfastly upon him with John, said, Look on us.

[5]And he gave heed to them, expecting to receive something from them.

[6]But Peter said, Silver and gold I have not; but what I have, this give I to thee: In the name of Jesus Christ the Nazaraean rise up and walk.

[7]And having taken hold of him [by] the right hand he raised him up, and immediately his feet and ankle bones were made strong.

[8]And leaping up he stood and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

[9]And all the people saw him walking and praising God;

[10]and they recognised him, that it was he who sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple; and they were filled with wonder and amazement at what had happened to him.

[11]And as he held Peter and John, all the people ran together to them in the portico which is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

[12]And Peter, seeing it, answered the people, Men of Israel, why are ye astonished at this? or why do ye gaze on us as if we had by our own power or piety made him to walk?

[13]The God of Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified his servant Jesus, whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he had judged that he should be let go.

[14]But ye denied the holy and righteous one, and asked that a man [that was] a murderer should be granted to you;

[15]but the originator of life ye slew, whom God raised from among [the] dead, whereof we are witnesses.

[16]And, by faith in his name, his name has made this [man] strong whom ye behold and know; and the faith which is by him has given him this complete soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I know that ye did it in ignorance, as also your rulers;

18 but God has thus fulfilled what he had announced beforehand by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer.

19 Repent therefore and be converted, for the blotting out of your sins, so that times of refreshing may come from [the] presence of the Lord,

20 and he may send Jesus Christ, who was foreordained for you,

21 whom heaven indeed must receive till [the] times of [the] restoring of all things, of which God has spoken by the mouth of his holy prophets since time began.

22 Moses indeed said, A prophet shall [the] Lord your God raise up to you out of your brethren like me: him shall ye hear in everything whatsoever he shall say to you.

23 And it shall be that whatsoever soul shall not hear that prophet shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 And indeed all the prophets from Samuel and those in succession after [him], as many as have spoken, have announced also these days.

25 Ye are the sons of the prophets and of the covenant which God appointed to our fathers, saying to Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

26 To you first God, having raised up his servant, has sent him, blessing you in turning each one [of you] from your wickedness.

4 And as they were speaking to the people, the priests and captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon them,

2 being distressed on account of their teaching the people and preaching by Jesus the resurrection from among [the] dead;

3 and they laid hands on them, and put them in ward till the morrow; for it was already evening.

4 But many of those who had heard the word believed; and the number of the men had become [about] five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together at Jerusalem,

6 and Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of [the] high priestly family;

7 and having placed them in the midst they inquired, In what power or in what name have ye done this?

8 Then Peter, filled with [the] Holy Spirit, said to them, Rulers of the people and elders [of Israel],

[9]if we this day are called upon to answer as to the good deed [done] to the infirm man, how he has been healed,

[10]be it known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ the Nazaraean, whom ye have crucified, whom God has raised from among [the] dead, by him this [man] stands here before you sound [in body].

[11]He is the stone which has been set at nought by you the builders, which is become the corner stone.

[12]And salvation is in none other, for neither is there another name under heaven which is given among men by which we must be saved.

[13]But seeing the boldness of Peter and John, and perceiving that they were unlettered and uninstructed men, they wondered; and they recognised them that they were with Jesus.

[14]And beholding the man who had been healed standing with them, they had nothing to reply;

[15]but having commanded them to go out of the council they conferred with one another,

[16]saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed an evident sign has come to pass through their means is manifest to all that inhabit Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it.

[17]But that it be not further spread among the people, let us threaten them severely no longer to speak to any man in this name.

[18]And having called them, they charged [them] not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

[19]But Peter and John answering said to them, If it be righteous before God to listen to you rather than to God, judge ye;

[20]for as for us we cannot refrain from speaking of the things which we have seen and heard.

[21]But they, having further threatened them, let them go, finding no way how they might punish them, on account of the people, because all glorified God for what had taken place;

[22]for the man on whom this sign of healing had taken place was above forty years old.

[23]And having been let go, they came to their own [company], and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said to them.

[24]And they, having heard [it], lifted up [their] voice with one accord to God, and said, Lord, thou art the God who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that is in them;

[25]who hast said by the mouth of thy servant David, Why have [the] nations raged haughtily and [the] peoples meditated vain things?

[26]The kings of the earth were there, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord and against his Christ.

[27]For in truth against thy holy servant Jesus, whom thou hadst anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with [the] nations, and peoples of Israel, have been gathered together in this city

[28]to do whatever thy hand and thy counsel had determined before should come to pass.

[29]And now, Lord, look upon their threatenings, and give to thy bondmen with all boldness to speak thy word, [30]in that thou stretchest out thy hand to heal, and that signs and wonders take place through the name of thy holy servant Jesus.

[31]And when they had prayed, the place in which they were assembled shook, and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and spoke the word of God with boldness.

[32]And the heart and soul of the multitude of those that had believed were one, and not one said that anything of what he possessed was his own, but all things were common to them;

[33]and with great power did the apostles give witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great grace was upon them all.

[34]For neither was there any one in want among them; for as many as were owners of lands or houses, selling them, brought the price of what was sold

[35]and laid it at the feet of the apostles; and distribution was made to each according as any one might have need.

[36]And Joseph, who had been surnamed Barnabas by the apostles (which is, being interpreted, Son of consolation), a Levite, Cyprian by birth, [37]being possessed of land, having sold [it], brought the money and laid it at the feet of the apostles.

5But a certain man, Ananias by name, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

[2]and put aside for himself part of the price, [his] wife also being privy to it; and having brought a certain part, laid it at the feet of the apostles.

[3]But Peter said, Ananias, why has Satan filled thy heart that thou shouldest lie to the Holy Spirit, and put aside for thyself a part of the price of the estate?

[4]While it remained did it not remain to thee? and sold, was [it not] in thine own power? Why is it that thou hast purposed this thing in thine heart? Thou hast not lied to men, but to God.

[5]And Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and expired. And great fear came upon all who heard [it].

[6]And the young men, rising up, swathed him up for burial, and having carried him out, buried him.

[7]And it came to pass about three hours afterwards, that his wife, not knowing what had happened, came in.

[8]And Peter answered her, Tell me if ye gave the estate for so much? And she said, Yes, for so much.

[9]And Peter said to her, Why [is it] that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of [the] Lord? Lo, the feet of those that have buried thy husband [are] at the door, and they shall carry thee out.

[10]And she fell down immediately at his feet and expired. And when the young men came in they found her dead; and, having carried her out, they buried her by her husband.

[11]And great fear came upon all the assembly, and upon all who heard these things.

[12]And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders done among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch,

[13]but of the rest durst no man join them, but the people magnified them;

[14]and believers were more than ever added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women;)

[15]so that they brought out the sick into the streets and put [them] on beds and couches, that at least the shadow of Peter, when he came, might overshadow some one of them.

[16]And the multitude also of the cities round about came together to Jerusalem, bringing sick persons and persons beset by unclean spirits, who were all healed.

[17]And the high priest rising up, and all they that were with him, which is the sect of the Sadducees, were filled with wrath, [18]and laid hands on the apostles and put them in the public prison.

[19]But an angel of [the] Lord during the night opened the doors of the prison, and leading them out, said, [20]Go ye and stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

[21]And when they heard it, they entered very early into the temple and taught. And when the high priest was come, and they that were with him, they called together the council and all the elderhood of the sons of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

[22]And when the officers were come, they did not find them in the prison; and returned and reported

[23]saying, We found the prison shut with all security, and the keepers standing at the doors; but when we had opened [them], within we found no one.

[24]And when they heard these words, both the priest and the captain of the temple and the chief priests were in perplexity as to them, what this would come to.

[25]And some one coming reported to them, Lo, the men whom ye put in the prison are in the temple, standing and teaching the people.

[26]Then the captain, having gone with the officers, brought them, not with violence, for they feared the people, lest they should be stoned.

[27]And they bring them and set them in the council. And the high priest asked them, [28]saying, We strictly enjoined you not to teach in this name: and lo, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and purpose to bring upon us the blood of this man.

[29]But Peter answering, and the apostles, said, God must be obeyed rather than men.

[30]The God of our fathers has raised up Jesus, whom ye have slain, having hanged on a cross.

[31]Him has God exalted by his right hand as leader and saviour, to give repentance to Israel and remission of sins.

[32]And we are [his] witnesses of these things, and the Holy Spirit also, which God has given to those that obey him.

[33]But they, when they heard [these things], were cut to the heart, and took counsel to kill them.

[34]But a certain [man], a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a teacher of the law, held in honour of all the people, rose up in the council, and commanded to put the men out for a short while,

[35]and said to them, Men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as regards these men what ye are going to do;

[36]for before these days Theudas rose up, alleging himself to be somebody, to whom a number of men, about four hundred, were joined; who was slain, and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed and came to nothing.

[37]After him rose Judas the Galilean in the days of the census, and drew away [a number of] people after him; and he perished, and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

[38]And now I say to you, Withdraw from these men and let them alone, for if this counsel or this work have its origin from men, it will be destroyed;

[39]but if it be from God, ye will not be able to put them down, lest ye be found also fighters against God.

[40]And they listened to his advice; and having called the apostles, they beat them, and enjoined them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and dismissed them.

[41]They therefore went their way from [the] presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to be dishonoured for the name.

42 And every day, in the temple and in the houses, they ceased not teaching and announcing the glad tidings that Jesus [was] the Christ.

6 But in those days, the disciples multiplying in number, there arose a murmuring of the Hellenists against the Hebrews because their widows were overlooked in the daily ministration.

2 And the twelve, having called the multitude of the disciples to [them], said, It is not right that we, leaving the word of God, should serve tables.

3 Look out therefore, brethren, from among yourselves seven men, well reported of, full of [the] [Holy] Spirit and wisdom, whom we will establish over this business:

4 but we will give ourselves up to prayer and the ministry of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and [the] Holy Spirit, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas, a proselyte of Antioch, 6 whom they set before the apostles; and, having prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples in Jerusalem was very greatly multiplied, and a great crowd of the priests obeyed the faith.

8 And Stephen, full of grace and power, wrought wonders and great signs among the people.

9 And there arose up certain of those of the synagogue called of freedmen, and of Cyrenians, and of Alexandrians, and of those of Cilicia and Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10 And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the Spirit with which he spoke.

11 Then they suborned men, saying, We have heard him speaking blasphemous words against Moses and God.

12 And they roused the people, and the elders, and the scribes. And coming upon [him] they seized him and brought [him] to the council.

13 And they set false witnesses, saying, This man does not cease speaking words against the holy place and the law;

14 for we have heard him saying, This Jesus the Nazaraean shall destroy this place, and change the customs which Moses taught us.

15 And all who sat in the council, looking fixedly on him, saw his face as [the] face of an angel.

7 And the high priest said, Are these things then so?

[2]And he said, Brethren and fathers, hearken. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

[3]and said to him, Go out of thy land and out of thy kindred, and come into the land which I will shew thee.

[4]Then going out of the land of the Chaldeans he dwelt in Charran, and thence, after his father died, he removed him into this land in which ye now dwell.

[5]And he did not give him an inheritance in it, not even what his foot could stand on; and promised to give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when he had no child.

[6]And God spoke thus: His seed shall be a sojourner in a strange land, and they shall enslave them and evil entreat [them] four hundred years;

[7]and the nation to which they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God; and after these things they shall come forth and serve me in this place.

[8]And he gave to him [the] covenant of circumcision; and thus he begat Isaac and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac Jacob, and Jacob the twelve patriarchs.

[9]And the patriarchs, envying Joseph, sold him away into Egypt. And God was with him,

[10]and delivered him out of all his tribulations, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he appointed him chief over Egypt and all his house.

[11]But a famine came upon all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great distress, and our fathers found no food.

[12]But Jacob, having heard of there being corn in Egypt, sent out our fathers first;

[13]and the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren, and the family of Joseph became known to Pharaoh.

[14]And Joseph sent and called down to him his father Jacob and all [his] kindred, seventy-five souls.

[15]And Jacob went down into Egypt and died, he and our fathers,

[16]and were carried over to Sychem and placed in the sepulchre which Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the [father] of Sychem.

[17]But as the time of promise drew near which God had promised to Abraham, the people increased and multiplied in Egypt, [18]until another king over Egypt arose who did not know Joseph.

[19]He dealt subtilly with our race, and evil entreated the fathers, casting out their infants that they might not live.

[20]In which time Moses was born, and was exceedingly lovely, who was nourished three months in the house of his father.

[21]And when he was cast out, the daughter of Pharaoh took him up, and brought him up for herself [to be] for a son.

[22]And Moses was instructed in all [the] wisdom of the Egyptians, and he was mighty in his words and deeds.

[23]And when a period of forty years was fulfilled to him, it came into his heart to look upon his brethren, the sons of Israel;

[24]and seeing a certain one wronged, he defended [him], and avenged him that was being oppressed, smiting the Egyptian.

[25]For he thought that his brethren would understand that God by his hand was giving them deliverance. But they understood not.

[26]And on the morrow he shewed himself to them as they were contending, and compelled them to peace, saying, Ye are brethren, why do ye wrong one another?

[27]But he that was wronging his neighbour thrust him away, saying, Who established thee ruler and judge over us?

[28]Dost thou wish to kill me as thou killedst the Egyptian yesterday?

[29]And Moses fled at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land of Madiam, where he begat two sons.

[30]And when forty years were fulfilled, an angel appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sinai, in a flame of fire of a bush.

[31]And Moses seeing it wondered at the vision; and as he went up to consider it, there was a voice of [the] Lord, [32]I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob. And Moses trembled, and durst not consider [it].

[33]And the Lord said to him, Loose the sandal of thy feet, for the place on which thou standest is holy ground.

[34]I have surely seen the ill treatment of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groan, and have come down to take them out of it; and now, come, I will send thee to Egypt.

[35]This Moses, whom they refused, saying, Who made thee ruler and judge? him did God send [to be] a ruler and deliverer with the hand of the angel who appeared to him in the bush.

[36]He led them out, having wrought wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

[37]This is the Moses who said to the sons of Israel, A prophet shall God raise up to you out of your brethren like me [him shall ye hear].

[38]This is he who was in the assembly in the wilderness, with the angel who spoke to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers; who received living oracles to give to us;

[39]to whom our fathers would not be subject, but thrust [him] from them, and in their hearts turned back to Egypt,

[40]saying to Aaron, Make us gods who shall go before us; for this Moses, who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we know not what has happened to him.

[41]And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice to the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

[42]But God turned and delivered them up to serve the host of heaven; as it is written in [the] book of the prophets, Have ye offered me victims and sacrifices forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel?

[43]Yea, ye took up the tent of Moloch, and the star of [your] god Remphan, the forms which ye made to do homage to them; and I will transport you beyond Babylon.

[44]Our fathers had the tent of the testimony in the wilderness, as he that spoke to Moses commanded to make it according to the model which he had seen;

[45]which also our fathers, receiving from their predecessors, brought in with Joshua when they entered into possession of [the lands of] the nations, whom God drove out from [the] face of our fathers, until the days of David;

[46]who found favour before God, and asked to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob;

[47]but Solomon built him a house.

[48]But the Most High dwells not in [places] made with hands; as says the prophet, [49]The heaven [is] my throne and the earth the footstool of my feet: what house will ye build me? saith [the] Lord, or where [is the] place of my rest?

[50]has not my hand made all these things?

[51]O stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Spirit; as your fathers, ye also.

[52]Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain those who announced beforehand concerning the coming of the Just One, of whom ye have now become deliverers up and murderers!

[53]who have received the law as ordained by [the] ministry of angels, and have not kept [it].

[54]And hearing these things they were cut to the heart, and gnashed their teeth against him.

[55]But being full of [the] Holy Spirit, having fixed his eyes on heaven, he saw [the] glory of God, and Jesus standing at the right hand of God, [56]and said, Lo, I behold the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing at the right hand of God.

[57]And they cried out with a loud voice, and held their ears, and rushed upon him with one accord;

[58]and having cast [him] out of the city, they stoned [him]. And the witnesses laid aside their clothes at the feet of a young man called Saul.

[59]And they stoned Stephen, praying, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

[60]And kneeling down, he cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And having said this, he fell asleep.

8And Saul was consenting to his being killed. And on that day there arose a great persecution against the assembly which was in Jerusalem, and all were scattered into the countries of Judaea and Samaria except the apostles.

[2]And pious men buried Stephen and made great lamentation over him.

[3]But Saul ravaged the assembly, entering into the houses one after another, and dragging off both men and women delivered them up to prison.

[4]Those then that had been scattered went through [the countries] announcing the glad tidings of the word.

[5]And Philip, going down to a city of Samaria, preached the Christ to them;

[6]and the crowds with one accord gave heed to the things spoken by Philip, when they heard [him] and saw the signs which he wrought.

[7]For from many who had unclean spirits they went out, crying with a loud voice; and many that were paralysed and lame were healed.

[8]And there was great joy in that city.

[9]But a certain man, by name Simon, had been before in the city, using magic arts, and astonishing the nation of Samaria, saying that himself was some great one.

[10]To whom they had all given heed, from small to great, saying, This is the power of God which is called great.

[11]And they gave heed to him, because that for a long time he had astonished them by his magic arts.

[12]But when they believed Philip announcing the glad tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptised, both men and women.

[13]And Simon also himself believed; and, having been baptised, continued constantly with Philip; and, beholding the signs and great works of power which took place, was astonished.

[14]And the apostles who were in Jerusalem, having heard that Samaria had received the word of God, sent to them Peter and John;

[15]who, having come down, prayed for them that they might receive [the] Holy Spirit;

[16]for he was not yet fallen upon any of them, only they were baptised to the name of the Lord Jesus.

[17]Then they laid their hands upon them, and they received [the] Holy Spirit.

[18]But Simon, having seen that by the laying on of the hands of the apostles the [Holy] Spirit was given, offered them money, [19]saying, Give to me also this power, in order that on whomsoever I may lay hands he may receive [the] Holy Spirit.

[20]And Peter said to him, Thy money go with thee to destruction, because thou hast thought that the gift of God can be obtained by money.

[21]Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter, for thy heart is not upright before God.

[22]Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and supplicate the Lord, if indeed the thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee;

[23]for I see thee to be in the gall of bitterness, and bond of unrighteousness.

[24]And Simon answering said, Supplicate ye for me to the Lord, so that nothing may come upon me of the things of which ye have spoken.

[25]They therefore, having testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and announced the glad tidings to many villages of the Samaritans.

[26]But [the] angel of [the] Lord spoke to Philip, saying, Rise up and go southward on the way which goes down from Jerusalem to Gaza: the same is desert.

[27]And he rose up and went. And lo, an Ethiopian, a eunuch, a man in power under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, who had come to worship at Jerusalem, [28]was returning and sitting in his chariot: and he was reading the prophet Esaias.

[29]And the Spirit said to Philip, Approach and join this chariot.

[30]And Philip, running up, heard him reading the prophet Esaias, and said, Dost thou then know what thou art reading of?

[31]And he said, How should I then be able unless some one guide me? And he begged Philip to come up and sit with him.

[32]And the passage of the scripture which he read was this: He was led as a sheep to slaughter, and as a lamb is dumb in presence of him that shears him, thus he opens not his mouth.

[33]In his humiliation his judgment has been taken away, and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

[34]And the eunuch answering Philip said, I pray thee, concerning whom does the prophet say this? of himself or of some other?

[35]And Philip, opening his mouth and beginning from that scripture, announced the glad tidings of Jesus to him.

[36]And as they went along the way, they came upon a certain water, and the eunuch says, Behold water; what hinders my being baptised?

[38]And he commanded the chariot to stop. And they went down both to the water, both Philip and the eunuch, and he baptised him.

[39]But when they came up out of the water [the] Spirit of [the] Lord caught away Philip, and the eunuch saw him no longer, for he went on his way rejoicing.

[40]And Philip was found at Azotus, and passing through he announced the glad tidings to all the cities till he came to Caesarea.

9But Saul, still breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, came to the high priest

[2]and asked of him letters to Damascus, to the synagogues, so that if he found any who were of the way, both men and women, he might bring [them] bound to Jerusalem.

[3]But as he was journeying, it came to pass that he drew near to Damascus; and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven,

[4]and falling on the earth he heard a voice saying to him, Saul, Saul, why dost thou persecute me?

[5]And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he [said], I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest.

[6]But rise up and enter into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

[7]But the men who were travelling with him stood speechless, hearing the voice but beholding no one.

[8]And Saul rose up from the earth, and his eyes being opened he saw no one. But leading [him] by the hand they brought him into Damascus.

[9]And he was three days without seeing, and neither ate nor drank.

[10]And there was a certain disciple in Damascus by name Ananias. And the Lord said to him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, [here am] I, Lord.

[11]And the Lord [said] to him, Rise up and go into the street which is called Straight, and seek in the house of Judas one by name Saul, [he is] of Tarsus: for, behold, he is praying, [12]and has seen [in a vision] a man by name Ananias coming in and putting his hand on him, so that he should see.

[13]And Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many concerning this man how much evil he has done to thy saints at Jerusalem;

[14]and here he has authority from the chief priests to bind all who call upon thy name.

[15]And the Lord said to him, Go, for this [man] is an elect vessel to me, to bear my name before both nations and kings and [the] sons of Israel:

[16]for I will shew to him how much he must suffer for my name.

[17]And Ananias went and entered into the house; and laying his hands upon him he said, Saul, brother, the Lord has sent me, Jesus that appeared to thee in the way in which thou camest, that thou mightest see, and be filled with [the] Holy Spirit.

[18]And straightway there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and he saw, and rising up was baptised;

[19]and, having received food, got strength. And he was with the disciples who [were] in Damascus certain days.

[20]And straightway in the synagogues he preached Jesus that he is the Son of God.

[21]And all who heard were astonished and said, Is not this he who destroyed in Jerusalem those who called on this name, and here was come for this purpose, that he might bring them bound to the chief priests?

[22]But Saul increased the more in power, and confounded the Jews who dwelt in Damascus, proving that this is the Christ.

[23]Now when many days were fulfilled, the Jews consulted together to kill him.

[24]But their plot became known to Saul. And they watched also the gates both day and night, that they might kill him;

[25]but the disciples took him by night and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.

[26]And having arrived at Jerusalem he essayed to join himself to the disciples, and all were afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.

[27]But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles, and related to them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how in Damascus he had spoken boldly in the name of Jesus.

[28]And he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem,

[29]and speaking boldly in the name of the Lord. And he spoke and discussed with the Hellenists; but they sought to kill him.

[30]And the brethren knowing it, brought him down to Caesarea and sent him away to Tarsus.

[31]The assemblies then throughout the whole of Judaea and Galilee and Samaria had peace, being edified and walking in the fear of the Lord, and were increased through the comfort of the Holy Spirit.

[32]Now it came to pass that Peter, passing through all [quarters], descended also to the saints who inhabited Lydda.

[33]And he found there a certain man, Aeneas by name, who had been lying for eight years upon a couch, who was paralysed.

[34]And Peter said to him, Aeneas, Jesus, the Christ, heals thee: rise up, and make thy couch for thyself. And straightway he rose up.

[35]And all who inhabited Lydda and the Saron saw him, who turned to the Lord.

[36]And in Joppa there was a certain female disciple, by name Tabitha, which being interpreted means Dorcas. She was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did.

[37]And it came to pass in those days that she grew sick and died; and, having washed her, they put her in [the] upper room.

[38]But Lydda being near to Joppa, the disciples having heard that Peter was there, sent two men to him, beseeching him, Thou must not delay coming to us.

[39]And Peter rising up went with them, whom, when arrived, they brought up into the upper chamber; and all the widows stood by him weeping and shewing him the body-coats and garments which Dorcas had made while she was with them.

[40]But Peter, putting them all out, and kneeling down, prayed. And, turning to the body, he said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and, seeing Peter, sat up.

[41]And having given her [his] hand, he raised her up, and having called the saints and the widows, presented her living.

[42]And it became known throughout the whole of Joppa, and many believed on the Lord.

[43]And it came to pass that he remained many days in Joppa with a certain Simon, a tanner.

10But a certain man in Caesarea, -- by name Cornelius, a centurion of the band called Italic,

[2]pious, and fearing God with all his house, [both] giving much alms to the people, and supplicating God continually,

[3]-- saw plainly in a vision, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming unto him, and saying to him, Cornelius.

[4]But he, having fixed his eyes upon him, and become full of fear, said, What is it, Lord? And he said to him, Thy prayers and thine alms have gone up for a memorial before God.

[5]And now send men to Joppa and fetch Simon, who is surnamed Peter.

[6]He lodges with a certain Simon, a tanner, whose house is by the sea.

[7]And when the angel who was speaking to him had departed, having called two of his household and a pious soldier of those who were constantly with him,

[8]and related all things to them, he sent them to Joppa.

[9]And on the morrow, as these were journeying and drawing near to the city, Peter went up on the house to pray, about the sixth hour.

[10]And he became hungry and desired to eat. But as they were making ready an ecstasy came upon him:

[11]and he beholds the heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as a great sheet, [bound] by [the] four corners [and] let down to the earth;

[12]in which were all the quadrupeds and creeping things of the earth, and the fowls of the heaven.

[13]And there was a voice to him, Rise, Peter, slay and eat.

[14]And Peter said, In no wise, Lord; for I have never eaten anything common or unclean.

[15]And [there was] a voice again the second time to him, What God has cleansed, do not thou make common.

[16]And this took place thrice, and the vessel was straightway taken up into heaven.

[17]And as Peter doubted in himself what the vision which he had seen might mean, behold also the men who were sent by Cornelius, having sought out the house of Simon, stood at the gate,

[18]and having called [some one], they inquired if Simon who was surnamed Peter was lodged there.

[19]But as Peter continued pondering over the vision, the Spirit said to him, Behold, three men seek thee;

[20]but rise up, go down, and go with them, nothing doubting, because I have sent them.

[21]And Peter going down to the men said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause for which ye come?

[22]And they said, Cornelius, a centurion, a righteous man, and fearing God, and borne witness to by the whole nation of the Jews, has been divinely instructed by a holy angel to send for thee to his house, and hear words from thee.

[23]Having therefore invited them in, he lodged them. And on the morrow, rising up he went away with them, and certain of the brethren from Joppa went with him.

[24]And on the morrow they came to Caesarea. But Cornelius was looking for them, having called together his kinsmen and [his] intimate friends.

[25]And when Peter was now coming in, Cornelius met him, and falling down did [him] homage.

[26]But Peter made him rise, saying, Rise up: I myself also am a man.

[27]And he went in, talking with him, and found many gathered together.

[28]And he said to them, Ye know how it is unlawful for a Jew to be joined or come to one of a strange race, and to me God has shewn to call no man common or unclean.

[29]Wherefore also, having been sent for, I came without saying anything against it. I inquire therefore for what reason ye have sent for me.

[30]And Cornelius said, Four days ago I had been [fasting] unto this hour, and the ninth [I was] praying in my house, and lo, a man stood before me in bright clothing, [31]and said, Cornelius, thy prayer has been heard, and thy alms have come in remembrance before God.

[32]Send therefore to Joppa and fetch Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodges in the house of Simon, a tanner, by the sea [who when he is come will speak to thee].

[33]Immediately therefore I sent to thee, and thou hast well done in coming. Now therefore we are all present before God to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

[34]And Peter opening his mouth said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons, [35]but in every nation he that fears him and works righteousness is acceptable to him.

[36]The word which he sent to the sons of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ, (he is Lord of all things,)

[37]ye know; the testimony which has spread through the whole of Judaea, beginning from Galilee after the baptism which John preached --

[38]Jesus who [was] of Nazareth: how God anointed him with [the] Holy Spirit and with power; who went through [all quarters] doing good, and healing all that were under the power of the devil, because God was with him.

[39]We also [are] witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem; whom they also slew, having hanged him on a cross.

[40]This [man] God raised up the third day and gave him to be openly seen, [41]not of all the people, but of witnesses who were chosen before of God, us who have eaten and drunk with him after he arose from among [the] dead.

[42]And he commanded us to preach to the people, and to testify that he it is who was determinately appointed of God [to be] judge of living and dead.

[43]To him all the prophets bear witness that every one that believes on him will receive through his name remission of sins.

[44]While Peter was yet speaking these words the Holy Spirit fell upon all those who were hearing the word.

[45]And the faithful of the circumcision were astonished, as many as came with Peter, that upon the nations also the gift of the Holy Spirit was poured out:

[46]for they heard them speaking with tongues and magnifying God. Then Peter answered, [47]Can any one forbid water that these should not be baptised, who have received the Holy Spirit as we also [did]?

[48]And he commanded them to be baptised in the name of the Lord. Then they begged him to stay some days.

11And the apostles and the brethren who were in Judaea heard that the nations also had received the word of God;

[2]and when Peter went up to Jerusalem, they of the circumcision contended with him,

[3]saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised and hast eaten with them.

[4]But Peter began and set forth [the matter] to them in order, saying,

[5]I was in the city of Joppa praying, and in an ecstasy I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending like a great sheet, let down by four corners out of heaven, and it came even to me:

[6]on which having fixed mine eyes, I considered, and saw the quadrupeds of the earth, and the wild beasts, and the creeping things, and the fowls of the heaven.

[7]And I heard also a voice saying to me, Rise up, Peter, slay and eat.

[8]And I said, In no wise, Lord, for common or unclean has never entered into my mouth.

[9]And a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God has cleansed, do not thou make common.

[10]And this took place thrice, and again all was drawn up into heaven;

[11]and lo, immediately three men were at the house in which I was, sent to me from Caesarea.

[12]And the Spirit said to me to go with them, nothing doubting. And there went with me these six brethren also, and we entered into the house of the man,

[13]and he related to us how he had seen the angel in his house, standing and saying [to him], Send [men] to Joppa and fetch Simon, who is surnamed Peter, [14]who shall speak words to thee whereby thou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house.

[15]And as I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell upon them even as upon us also at the beginning.

[16]And I remembered the word of the Lord, how he said, John baptised with water, but ye shall be baptised with [the] Holy Spirit.

[17]If then God has given them the same gift as also to us when we had believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who indeed was I to be able to forbid God?

[18]And when they heard these things they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then indeed God has to the nations also granted repentance to life.

[19]They then who had been scattered abroad through the tribulation that took place on the occasion of Stephen, passed through [the country] to Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch, speaking the word to no one but to Jews alone.

[20]But there were certain of them, Cyprians and Cyrenians, who entering into Antioch spoke to the Greeks also, announcing the glad tidings of the Lord Jesus.

[21]And [the] Lord's hand was with them, and a great number believed and turned to the Lord.

[22]And the report concerning them reached the ears of the assembly which was in Jerusalem, and they sent out Barnabas to go through as far as Antioch:

[23]who, having arrived and seeing the grace of God, rejoiced, and exhorted all with purpose of heart to abide with the Lord;

[24]for he was a good man and full of [the] Holy Spirit and of faith; and a large crowd [of people] were added to the Lord.

[25]And he went away to Tarsus to seek out Saul.

[26]And having found [him], he brought him to Antioch. And so it was with them that for a whole year they were gathered together in the assembly and taught a large crowd: and the disciples were first called Christians in Antioch.

[27]Now in these days prophets went down from Jerusalem to Antioch;

[28]and one from among them, by name Agabus, rose up and signified by the Spirit that there was going to be a great famine over all the inhabited earth, which also came to pass under Claudius.

[29]And they determined, according as any one of the disciples was well off, each of them to send to the brethren who dwelt in Judaea, to minister [to them];

[30]which also they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

12 At that time Herod the king laid his hands on some of those of the assembly to do them hurt,

2 and slew James, the brother of John, with the sword.

3 And seeing that it was pleasing to the Jews, he went on to take Peter also: (and they were the days of unleavened bread:)

4 whom having seized he put in prison, having delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep, purposing after the passover to bring him out to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in the prison; but unceasing prayer was made by the assembly to God concerning him.

6 And when Herod was going to bring him forth, that night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains, and guards before the door kept the prison.

7 And lo, an angel of [the] Lord came there, and a light shone in the prison: and having smitten the side of Peter, he roused him up, saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains fell off his hands.

8 And the angel said to him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he says to him, Cast thine upper garment about thee and follow me.

9 And going forth he followed [him] and did not know that what was happening by means of the angel was real, but supposed he saw a vision.

10 And having passed through a first and second guard, they came to the iron gate which leads into the city, which opened to them of itself; and going forth they went down one street, and immediately the angel left him.

11 And Peter, being come to himself, said, Now I know certainly that [the] Lord has sent forth his angel and has taken me out of the hand of Herod and all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And having become clearly conscious [in himself], he came to the house of Mary, the mother of John who was surnamed Mark, where were many gathered together and praying.

13 And when he had knocked at the door of the entry, a maid came to listen, by name Rhoda;

14 and having recognised the voice of Peter, through joy did not open the entry, but running in, reported that Peter was standing before the entry.

15 And they said to her, Thou art mad. But she maintained that it was so. And they said, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and having opened, they saw him and were astonished.

17 And having made a sign to them with his hand to be silent, he related [to them] how the Lord had brought him out of prison; and he said, Report these things to James and to the brethren. And he went out and went to another place.

[18]And when it was day there was no small disturbance among the soldiers, what then was become of Peter.

[19]And Herod having sought him and not found him, having examined the guards, commanded [them] to be executed. And he went down from Judaea to Caesarea and stayed [there].

[20]And he was in bitter hostility with [the] Tyrians and Sidonians; but they came to him with one accord, and, having gained Blastus the king's chamberlain, sought peace, because their country was nourished by the king's.

[21]And on a set day, clothed in royal apparel and sitting on the elevated seat [of honour], Herod made a public oration to them.

[22]And the people cried out, A god's voice and not a man's.

[23]And immediately an angel of [the] Lord smote him, because he did not give the glory to God, and he expired, eaten of worms.

[24]But the word of God grew and spread itself.

[25]And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, having fulfilled the service [entrusted to them], taking also with them John, surnamed Mark.

13Now there were in Antioch, in the assembly which was [there], prophets and teachers: Barnabas, and Simeon who was called Niger, and Lucius the Cyrenian, and Manaen, foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

[2]And as they were ministering to the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, Separate me now Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them.

[3]Then, having fasted and prayed, and having laid [their] hands on them, they let [them] go.

[4]They therefore, having been sent forth by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia, and thence sailed away to Cyprus.

[5]And being in Salamis, they announced the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. And they had John also as [their] attendant.

[6]And having passed through the whole island as far as Paphos, they found a certain man a magician, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus,

[7]who was with the proconsul Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man. He, having called Barnabas and Saul to [him], desired to hear the word of God.

[8]But Elymas the magician (for so his name is by interpretation) opposed them, seeking to turn away the proconsul from the faith.

[9]But Saul, who also [is] Paul, filled with [the] Holy Spirit, fixing his eyes upon him,

[10]said, O full of all deceit and all craft: son of [the] devil, enemy of all righteousness; wilt thou not cease perverting the right paths of [the] Lord?

[11]And now behold, [the] Lord's hand [is] upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell upon him a mist and darkness; and going about he sought persons who should lead him by the hand.

[12]Then the proconsul, seeing what had happened, believed, being amazed at the teaching of the Lord.

[13]And having sailed from Paphos, Paul and his company came to Perga of Pamphylia; and John separated from them and returned to Jerusalem.

[14]But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and entering into the synagogue on the sabbath day they sat down.

[15]And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, Brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation to the people, speak.

[16]And Paul, rising up and making a sign with the hand, said, Israelites, and ye that fear God, hearken.

[17]The God of this people Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people in their sojourn in [the] land of Egypt, and with a high arm brought them out of it, [18]and for a time of about forty years he nursed them in the desert.

[19]And having destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he gave them their land as an inheritance.

[20]And after these things he gave [them] judges till Samuel the prophet, [to the end of] about four hundred and fifty years.

[21]And then they asked for a king, and God gave to them Saul, son of Kis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, during forty years.

[22]And having removed him he raised up to them David for king, of whom also bearing witness he said, I have found David, the son of Jesse, a man after my heart, who shall do all my will.

[23]Of this man's seed according to promise has God brought to Israel a Saviour, Jesus;

[24]John having proclaimed before the face of his entry [among the people] [the] baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

[25]And as John was fulfilling his course he said, Whom do ye suppose that I am? I am not [he]. But behold, there comes one after me, the sandal of whose feet I am not worthy to loose.

[26]Brethren, sons of Abraham's race, and those who among you fear God, to you has the word of this salvation been sent:

[27]for those who dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, not having known him, have fulfilled also the voices of the prophets which are read on every sabbath, [by] judging [him].

[28]And having found no cause of death [in him], they begged of Pilate that he might be slain.

[29]And when they had fulfilled all things written concerning him, they took him down from the cross and put him in a sepulchre;

[30]but God raised him from among [the] dead,

[31]who appeared for many days to those who had come up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now his witnesses to the people.

[32]And we declare unto you the glad tidings of the promise made to the fathers, [33]that God has fulfilled this to us their children, having raised up Jesus; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son: this day have I begotten thee.

[34]But that he raised him from among [the] dead, no more to return to corruption, he spoke thus: I will give to you the faithful mercies of David.

[35]Wherefore also he says in another, Thou wilt not suffer thy gracious one to see corruption.

[36]For David indeed, having in his own generation ministered to the will of God, fell asleep, and was added to his fathers and saw corruption.

[37]But he whom God raised up did not see corruption.

[38]Be it known unto you, therefore, brethren, that through this man remission of sins is preached to you,

[39]and from all things from which ye could not be justified in the law of Moses, in him every one that believes is justified.

[40]See therefore that that which is spoken in the prophets do not come upon [you], [41]Behold, ye despisers, and wonder and perish; for I work a work in your days, a work which ye will in no wise believe if one declare it to you.

[42]And as they went out they begged that these words might be spoken to them the ensuing sabbath.

[43]And the congregation of the synagogue having broken up, many of the Jews and of the worshipping proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas, who speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

[44]And on the coming sabbath almost all the city was gathered together to hear the word of God.

[45]But the Jews, seeing the crowds, were filled with envy, and contradicted the things said by Paul, [contradicting and] speaking injuriously.

[46]And Paul and Barnabas spoke boldly and said, It was necessary that the word of God should be first spoken to you; but, since ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, lo, we turn to the nations;

47 for thus has the Lord enjoined us: I have set thee for a light of the nations, that thou shouldest be for salvation to the end of the earth.

48 And [those of] the nations, hearing it, rejoiced, and glorified the word of the Lord, and believed, as many as were ordained to eternal life.

49 And the word of the Lord was carried through the whole country.

50 But the Jews excited the women of the upper classes who were worshippers, and the first people of the city, and raised a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and cast them out of their coasts.

51 But they, having shaken off the dust of their feet against them, came to Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with joy and [the] Holy Spirit.

14 And it came to pass in Iconium that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake that a great multitude of both Jews and Greeks believed.

2 But the Jews who did not believe stirred up the minds of [those of] the nations and made [them] evil-affected against the brethren.

3 They stayed therefore a good while, speaking boldly, [confiding] in the Lord, who gave witness to the word of his grace, giving signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 And the multitude of the city was divided, and some were with the Jews and some with the apostles.

5 And when an assault was making, both of [those of] the nations and [the] Jews with their rulers, to use [them] ill and stone them,

6 they, being aware of it, fled to the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra and Derbe, and the surrounding country,

7 and there they were announcing the glad tidings.

8 And a certain man in Lystra, impotent in his feet, sat, [being] lame from his mother's womb, who had never walked.

9 This [man] heard Paul speaking, who, fixing his eyes on him, and seeing that he had faith to be healed,

10 said with a loud voice, Rise up straight upon thy feet: and he sprang up and walked.

11 But the crowds, who saw what Paul had done, lifted up their voices in Lycaonian, saying, The gods, having made themselves like men, are come down to us.

12 And they called Barnabas Jupiter, and Paul Mercury, because he took the lead in speaking.

[13]And the priest of Jupiter who was before the city, having brought bulls and garlands to the gates, would have done sacrifice along with the crowds.

[14]But the apostles Barnabas and Paul, having heard [it], rent their garments, and rushed out to the crowd, crying

[15]and saying, Men, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, preaching to you to turn from these vanities to the living God, who made the heaven, and the earth, and the sea, and all things in them;

[16]who in the past generations suffered all the nations to go in their own ways,

[17]though indeed he did not leave himself without witness, doing good, and giving to you from heaven rain and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness.

[18]And saying these things, they with difficulty kept the crowds from sacrificing to them.

[19]But there came Jews from Antioch and Iconium, and having persuaded the crowds and stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing him to have died.

[20]But while the disciples encircled him, he rose up and entered into the city. And on the morrow he went away with Barnabas to Derbe.

[21]And having announced the glad tidings to that city, and having made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and Iconium, and Antioch, [22]establishing the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to abide in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God.

[23]And having chosen them elders in each assembly, having prayed with fastings, they committed them to the Lord, on whom they had believed.

[24]And having passed through Pisidia they came to Pamphylia,

[25]and having spoken the word in Perga, they came down to Attalia;

[26]and thence they sailed away to Antioch, whence they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled.

[27]And having arrived, and having brought together the assembly, they related to them all that God had done with them, and that he had opened a door of faith to the nations.

[28]And they stayed no little time with the disciples.

15 And certain persons, having come down from Judaea, taught the brethren, If ye shall not have been circumcised according to the custom of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

[2]A commotion therefore having taken place, and no small discussion on the part of Paul and Barnabas against them, they arranged that Paul and Barnabas, and certain others from amongst them, should go up to Jerusalem to the apostles and elders about this question.

[3]They therefore, having been set on their way by the assembly, passed through Phoenicia and Samaria, relating the conversion of [those of] the nations. And they caused great joy to all the brethren.

[4]And being arrived at Jerusalem, they were received by the assembly, and the apostles, and the elders, and related all that God had wrought with them.

[5]And some of those who were of the sect of the Pharisees, who believed, rose up from among [them], saying that they ought to circumcise them and enjoin them to keep the law of Moses.

[6]And the apostles and the elders were gathered together to see about this matter.

[7]And much discussion having taken place, Peter, standing up, said to them, Brethren, ye know that from the earliest days God amongst you chose that the nations by my mouth should hear the word of the glad tidings and believe.

[8]And the heart-knowing God bore them witness, giving [them] the Holy Spirit as to us also,

[9]and put no difference between us and them, having purified their hearts by faith.

[10]Now therefore why tempt ye God, by putting a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we have been able to bear?

[11]But we believe that we shall be saved by the grace of the Lord Jesus, in the same manner as they also.

[12]And all the multitude kept silence and listened to Barnabas and Paul relating all the signs and wonders which God had wrought among the nations by them.

[13]And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Brethren, listen to me:

[14]Simon has related how God first visited to take out of [the] nations a people for his name.

[15]And with this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written:

[16]After these things I will return, and will rebuild the tabernacle of David which is fallen, and will rebuild its ruins, and will set it up,

[17]so that the residue of men may seek out the Lord, and all the nations on whom my name is invoked, saith [the] Lord, who does these things

[18]known from eternity.

[19]Wherefore I judge, not to trouble those who from the nations turn to God;

[20]but to write to them to abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from what is strangled, and from blood.

[21]For Moses, from generations of old, has in every city those who preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath.

[22]Then it seemed good to the apostles and to the elders, with the whole assembly, to send chosen men from among them with Paul and Barnabas to Antioch, Judas called Barsabas and Silas, leading men among the brethren,

[23]having by their hand written [thus]: The apostles, and the elders, and the brethren, to the brethren who are from among [the] nations at Antioch, and [in] Syria and Cilicia, greeting:

[24]Inasmuch as we have heard that some who went out from amongst us have troubled you by words, upsetting your souls, [saying that ye must be circumcised and keep the law]; to whom we gave no commandment;

[25]it seemed good to us, having arrived at a common judgment, to send chosen men to you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul,

[26]men who have given up their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

[27]We have therefore sent Judas and Silas, who themselves also will tell you by word [of mouth] the same things.

[28]For it has seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things:

[29]to abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what is strangled, and from fornication; keeping yourselves from which ye will do well. Farewell.

[30]They therefore, being let go, came to Antioch, and having gathered the multitude delivered to [them] the epistle.

[31]And having read it, they rejoiced at the consolation.

[32]And Judas and Silas, being themselves also prophets, exhorted the brethren with much discourse, and strengthened them.

[33]And having passed some time [there], they were let go in peace from the brethren to those who sent them.

[35]And Paul and Barnabas stayed in Antioch, teaching and announcing the glad tidings, with many others also, of the word of the Lord.

[36]But after certain days Paul said to Barnabas, Let us return now and visit the brethren in every city where we have announced the word of the Lord, [and see] how they are getting on.

[37]And Barnabas proposed to take with [them] John also, called Mark;

[38]but Paul thought it not well to take with them him who had abandoned them, [going back] from Pamphylia, and had not gone with them to the work.

[39]There arose therefore very warm feeling, so that they separated from one another; and Barnabas taking Mark sailed away to Cyprus;

40 but Paul having chosen Silas went forth, committed by the brethren to the grace of God.

41 And he passed through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the assemblies.

16 And he came to Derbe and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, by name Timotheus, son of a Jewish believing woman, but [the] father a Greek,

2 who had a [good] testimony of the brethren in Lystra and Iconium.

3 Him would Paul have go forth with him, and took [him and] circumcised him on account of the Jews who were in those places, for they all knew his father that he was a Greek.

4 And as they passed through the cities they instructed them to observe the decrees determined on by the apostles and elders who were in Jerusalem.

5 The assemblies therefore were confirmed in the faith, and increased in number every day.

6 And having passed through Phrygia and the Galatian country, having been forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia,

7 having come down to Mysia, they attempted to go to Bithynia, and the Spirit of Jesus did not allow them;

8 and having passed by Mysia they descended to Troas.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There was a certain Macedonian man, standing and beseeching him, and saying, Pass over into Macedonia and help us.

10 And when he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go forth to Macedonia, concluding that the Lord had called us to announce to them the glad tidings.

11 Having sailed therefore away from Troas, we went in a straight course to Samothracia, and on the morrow to Neapolis, 12 and thence to Philippi, which is [the] first city of that part of Macedonia, a colony. And we were staying in that city certain days.

13 And on the sabbath day we went outside the gate by the river, where it was the custom for prayer to be, and we sat down and spoke to the women who had assembled.

14 And a certain woman, by name Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, who worshipped God, heard; whose heart the Lord opened to attend to the things spoken by Paul.

15 And when she had been baptised and her house, she besought [us], saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house and abide [there]. And she constrained us.

[16]And it came to pass as we were going to prayer that a certain female slave, having a spirit of Python, met us, who brought much profit to her masters by prophesying.

[17]She, having followed Paul and us, cried saying, These men are bondmen of the Most High God, who announce to you [the] way of salvation.

[18]And this she did many days. And Paul, being distressed, turned, and said to the spirit, I enjoin thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And it came out the same hour.

[19]And her masters, seeing that the hope of their gains was gone, having seized Paul and Silas, dragged [them] into the market before the magistrates;

[20]and having brought them up to the praetors, said, These men utterly trouble our city, being Jews,

[21]and announce customs which it is not lawful for us to receive nor practise, being Romans.

[22]And the crowd rose up too against them; and the praetors, having torn off their clothes, commanded to scourge [them].

[23]And having laid many stripes upon them they cast [them] into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely;

[24]who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner prison, and secured their feet to the stocks.

[25]And at midnight Paul and Silas, in praying, were praising God with singing, and the prisoners listened to them.

[26]And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison shook, and all the doors were immediately opened, and the bonds of all loosed.

[27]And the jailor being awakened out of his sleep, and seeing the doors of the prison opened, having drawn a sword was going to kill himself, thinking the prisoners had fled.

[28]But Paul called out with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm, for we are all here.

[29]And having asked for lights, he rushed in, and, trembling, fell down before Paul and Silas.

[30]And leading them out said, Sirs, what must I do that I may be saved?

[31]And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house.

[32]And they spoke to him the word of the Lord, with all that were in his house.

[33]And he took them the same hour of the night and washed [them] from their stripes; and was baptised, he and all his straightway.

[34]And having brought them into his house he laid the table [for them], and rejoiced with all his house, having believed in God.

35 And when it was day, the praetors sent the lictors, saying, Let those men go.

36 And the jailor reported these words to Paul: The praetors have sent that ye may be let go. Now therefore go out and depart in peace.

37 But Paul said to them, Having beaten us publicly uncondemned, us who are Romans, they have cast us into prison, and now they thrust us out secretly? no, indeed, but let them come themselves and bring us out.

38 And the lictors reported these words to the praetors. And they were afraid when they heard they were Romans.

39 And they came and besought them, and having brought them out, asked them to go out of the city.

40 And having gone out of the prison, they came to Lydia; and having seen the brethren, they exhorted them and went away.

17 And having journeyed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was the synagogue of the Jews.

2 And according to Paul's custom he went in among them, and on three sabbaths reasoned with them from the scriptures,

3 opening and laying down that the Christ must have suffered and risen up from among the dead, and that this is the Christ, Jesus whom I announce to you.

4 And some of them believed, and joined themselves to Paul and Silas, and of the Greeks who worshipped, a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.

5 But the Jews having been stirred up to jealousy, and taken to [themselves] certain wicked men of the lowest rabble, and having got a crowd together, set the city in confusion; and having beset the house of Jason sought to bring them out to the people;

6 and not having found them, dragged Jason and certain brethren before the politarchs, crying out, These [men] that have set the world in tumult, are come here also,

7 whom Jason has received; and these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying, that there is another king, Jesus.

8 And they troubled the crowd and the politarchs when they heard these things.

9 And having taken security of Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10 But the brethren immediately sent away, in the night, Paul and Silas to Berea; who, being arrived, went away into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 And these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, receiving the word with all readiness of mind, daily searching the scriptures if these things were so.

12 Therefore many from among them believed, and of Grecian women of the upper classes and men not a few.

[13]But when the Jews from Thessalonica knew that the word of God was announced in Berea also by Paul, they came there also, stirring up the crowds.

[14]And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as to the sea; but Silas and Timotheus abode there.

[15]But they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Athens; and, having received a commandment to Silas and Timotheus, that they should come to him as quickly as possible, they departed.

[16]But in Athens, while Paul was waiting for them, his spirit was painfully excited in him seeing the city given up to idolatry.

[17]He reasoned therefore in the synagogue with the Jews, and those who worshipped, and in the market-place every day with those he met with.

[18]But some also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers attacked him. And some said, What would this chatterer say? and some, He seems to be an announcer of foreign demons, because he announced the glad tidings of Jesus and the resurrection [to them].

[19]And having taken hold on him they brought [him] to Areopagus, saying, Might we know what this new doctrine which is spoken by thee [is]?

[20]For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears. We wish therefore to know what these things may mean.

[21]Now all [the] Athenians and the strangers sojourning there spent their time in nothing else than to tell and to hear the news.

[22]And Paul standing in the midst of Areopagus said, Athenians, in every way I see you given up to demon worship;

[23]for, passing through and beholding your shrines, I found also an altar on which was inscribed, To the unknown God. Whom therefore ye reverence, not knowing [him], him I announce to you.

[24]The God who has made the world and all things which are in it, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands,

[25]nor is served by men's hands as needing something, himself giving to all life and breath and all things;

[26]and has made of one blood every nation of men to dwell upon the whole face of the earth, having determined ordained times and the boundaries of their dwelling,

[27]that they may seek God; if indeed they might feel after him and find him, although he is not far from each one of us:

[28]for in him we live and move and exist; as also some of the poets amongst you have said, For we are also his offspring.

[29]Being therefore [the] offspring of God, we ought not to think that which is divine to be like gold or silver or stone, [the] graven form of man's art and imagination.

30 God therefore, having overlooked the times of ignorance, now enjoins men that they shall all everywhere repent,

31 because he has set a day in which he is going to judge the habitable earth in righteousness by [the] man whom he has appointed, giving the proof [of it] to all [in] having raised him from among [the] dead.

32 And when they heard [of the] resurrection of the dead, some mocked, and some said, We will hear thee again also concerning this.

33 Thus Paul went out of their midst.

34 But some men joining themselves to him believed; among whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman by name Damaris, and others with them.

18 And after these things, having left Athens, he came to Corinth;

2 and finding a certain Jew by name Aquila, of Pontus by race, just come from Italy, and Priscilla his wife, (because Claudius had ordered all the Jews to leave Rome,) came to them,

3 and because they were of the same trade abode with them, and wrought. For they were tent-makers by trade.

4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded Jews and Greeks.

5 And when both Silas and Timotheus came down from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in respect of the word, testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ.

6 But as they opposed and spoke injuriously, he shook his clothes, and said to them, Your blood be upon your own head: I [am] pure; from henceforth I will go to the nations.

7 And departing thence he came to the house of a certain [man], by name Justus, who worshipped God, whose house adjoined the synagogue.

8 But Crispus the ruler of the synagogue believed in the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing, believed, and were baptised.

9 And the Lord said by vision in [the] night to Paul, Fear not, but speak and be not silent;

10 because I am with thee, and no one shall set upon thee to injure thee; because I have much people in this city.

11 And he remained [there] a year and six months, teaching among them the word of God.

12 But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one consent rose against Paul and led him to the judgment-seat, 13 saying, This [man] persuades men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 But as Paul was going to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, If indeed it was some wrong or wicked criminality, O Jews, of reason I should have borne with you;

15but if it be questions about words, and names, and the law that ye have, see to it yourselves; [for] I do not intend to be judge of these things.

16And he drove them from the judgment-seat.

17And having all laid hold on Sosthenes the ruler of the synagogue, they beat him before the judgment-seat. And Gallio troubled himself about none of these things.

18And Paul, having yet stayed [there] many days, took leave of the brethren and sailed thence to Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila, having shorn his head in Cenchrea, for he had a vow; 19and he arrived at Ephesus, and left them there. But entering himself into the synagogue he reasoned with the Jews.

20And when they asked him that he would remain for a longer time [with them] he did not accede, 21but bade them farewell, saying, [I must by all means keep the coming feast at Jerusalem]; I will return to you again, if God will: and he sailed away from Ephesus.

22And landing at Caesarea, and having gone up and saluted the assembly, he went down to Antioch.

23And having stayed [there] some time, he went forth, passing in order through the country of Galatia and Phrygia, establishing all the disciples.

24But a certain Jew, Apollos by name, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, who was mighty in the scriptures, arrived at Ephesus.

25He was instructed in the way of the Lord, and being fervent in his spirit, he spoke and taught exactly the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism of John.

26And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. And Aquila and Priscilla, having heard him, took him to [them] and unfolded to him the way of God more exactly.

27And when he purposed to go into Achaia, the brethren wrote to the disciples engaging them to receive him, who, being come, contributed much to those who believed through grace.

28For he with great force convinced the Jews publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

19 And it came to pass, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul, having passed through the upper districts, came to Ephesus, and finding certain disciples, 2he said to them, Did ye receive [the] Holy Spirit when ye had believed? And they [said] to him, We did not even hear if [the] Holy Spirit was [come].

[3]And he said, To what then were ye baptised? And they said, To the baptism of John.

[4]And Paul said, John indeed baptised [with] the baptism of repentance, saying to the people that they should believe on him that was coming after him, that is, on Jesus.

[5]And when they heard that, they were baptised to the name of the Lord Jesus.

[6]And Paul having laid [his] hands on them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they spoke with tongues and prophesied.

[7]And all the men were about twelve.

[8]And entering into the synagogue, he spoke boldly during three months, reasoning and persuading [the things] concerning the kingdom of God.

[9]But when some were hardened and disbelieved, speaking evil of the way before the multitude, he left them and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus.

[10]And this took place for two years, so that all that inhabited Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks.

[11]And God wrought no ordinary miracles by the hands of Paul,

[12]so that even napkins or aprons were brought from his body [and put] upon the sick, and the diseases left them, and the wicked spirits went out.

[13]And certain of the Jewish exorcists also, who went about, took in hand to call upon those who had wicked spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, I adjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preaches.

[14]And there were certain [men], seven sons of Sceva, Jewish high priest, who were doing this.

[15]But the wicked spirit answering said to them, Jesus I know, and Paul I am acquainted with; but ye, who are ye?

[16]And the man in whom the wicked spirit was leaped upon them, and having mastered both, prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

[17]And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, who inhabited Ephesus, and fear fell upon all of them, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

[18]And many of those that believed came confessing and declaring their deeds.

[19]And many of those that practised curious arts brought their books [of charms] and burnt them before all. And they reckoned up the prices of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

[20]Thus with might the word of the Lord increased and prevailed.

[21]And when these things were fulfilled, Paul purposed in his spirit to go to Jerusalem, passing through Macedonia and Achaia, saying, After I have been there I must see Rome also.

[22]And having sent into Macedonia two of those ministering to him, Timotheus and Erastus, he remained himself awhile in Asia.

[23]And there took place at that time no small disturbance about the way.

[24]For a certain [man] by name Demetrius, a silver-beater, making silver temples of Artemis, brought no small gain to the artisans;

[25]whom having brought together, and those who wrought in such things, he said, Men, ye know that our well-living arises from this work,

[26]and ye see and hear that this Paul has persuaded and turned away a great crowd, not only of Ephesus, but almost of all Asia, saying that they are no gods which are made with hands.

[27]Now not only there is danger for us that our business come into discredit, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis be counted for nothing, and that her greatness should be destroyed whom the whole of Asia and the world reveres.

[28]And having heard [this], and being filled with rage, they cried out, saying, Great [is] Artemis of the Ephesians.

[29]And the [whole] city was filled with confusion, and they rushed with one accord to the theatre, having seized and carried off with [them] Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians, fellow-travellers of Paul.

[30]But Paul intending to go in to the people, the disciples suffered him not;

[31]and some of the Asiarchs also, who were his friends, sent to him and urged him not to throw himself into the theatre.

[32]Different persons therefore cried out some different thing; for the assembly was tumultuous, and the most did not know for what cause they had come together.

[33]But from among the crowd they put forward Alexander, the Jews pushing him forward. And Alexander, beckoning with his hand, would have made a defence to the people.

[34]But, recognising that he was a Jew, there was one cry from all, shouting for about two hours, Great [is] Artemis of the Ephesians.

[35]And the townclerk, having quieted the crowd, said, Ephesians, what man is there then who does not know that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of Artemis the great, and of the [image] which fell down from heaven?

[36]These things therefore being undeniable, it is necessary that ye should be calm and do nothing headlong.

[37]For ye have brought these men, [who are] neither temple-plunderers, nor speak injuriously of your goddess.

[38]If therefore Demetrius and the artisans who [are] with him have a matter against any one, the courts are being held, and there are proconsuls: let them accuse one another.

[39]But if ye inquire anything concerning other matters, it will be settled in the regular assembly.

[40]For also we are in danger to be put in accusation for sedition for this [affair] of to-day, no cause existing in reference to which we shall be able to give a reason for this concourse.

[41]And having said these things, he dismissed the assembly.

20 But after the tumult had ceased, Paul having called the disciples to [him] and embraced [them], went away to go to Macedonia.

[2]And having passed through those parts, and having exhorted them with much discourse, he came to Greece.

[3]And having spent three months [there], a treacherous plot against him having been set on foot by the Jews, as he was going to sail to Syria, [the] resolution was adopted of returning through Macedonia.

[4]And there accompanied him as far as Asia, Sopater [son] of Pyrrhus, a Berean; and of Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus, and Gaius and Timotheus of Derbe, and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus.

[5]These going before waited for us in Troas;

[6]but we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and we came to them to Troas in five days, where we spent seven days.

[7]And the first day of the week, we being assembled to break bread, Paul discoursed to them, about to depart on the morrow. And he prolonged the discourse till midnight.

[8]And there were many lights in the upper room where we were assembled.

[9]And a certain youth, by name Eutychus, sitting at the window-opening, overpowered by deep sleep, while Paul discoursed very much at length, having been overpowered by the sleep, fell from the third story down to the bottom, and was taken up dead.

[10]But Paul descending fell upon him, and enfolding [him] [in his arms], said, Be not troubled, for his life is in him.

[11]And having gone up, and having broken the bread, and eaten, and having long spoken until daybreak, so he went away.

[12]And they brought [away] the boy alive, and were no little comforted.

[13]And we, having gone before on board ship, sailed off to Assos, going to take in Paul there; for so he had directed, he himself being about to go on foot.

[14]And when he met with us at Assos, having taken him on board, we came to Mitylene;

[15]and having sailed thence, on the morrow arrived opposite Chios, and the next day put in at Samos; and having stayed at Trogyllium, the next day we came to Miletus:

[16]for Paul thought it desirable to sail by Ephesus, so that he might not be made to spend time in Asia; for he hastened, if it was possible for him, to be the day of Pentecost at Jerusalem.

[17]But from Miletus having sent to Ephesus, he called over [to him] the elders of the assembly.

[18]And when they were come to him, he said to them, Ye know how I was with you all the time from the first day that I arrived in Asia,

[19]serving the Lord with all lowliness, and tears, and temptations, which happened to me through the plots of the Jews;

[20]how I held back nothing of what is profitable, so as not to announce [it] to you, and to teach you publicly and in every house,

[21]testifying to both Jews and Greeks repentance towards God, and faith towards our Lord Jesus Christ.

[22]And now, behold, bound in my spirit I go to Jerusalem, not knowing what things shall happen to me in it;

[23]only that the Holy Spirit testifies to me in every city, saying that bonds and tribulations await me.

[24]But I make no account of [my] life [as] dear to myself, so that I finish my course, and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the glad tidings of the grace of God.

[25]And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone about preaching the kingdom [of God], shall see my face no more.

[26]Wherefore I witness to you this day, that I am clean from the blood of all,

[27]for I have not shrunk from announcing to you all the counsel of God.

[28]Take heed therefore to yourselves, and to all the flock, wherein the Holy Spirit has set you as overseers, to shepherd the assembly of God, which he has purchased with the blood of his own.

[29][For] I know [this,] that there will come in amongst you after my departure grievous wolves, not sparing the flock;

[30]and from among your own selves shall rise up men speaking perverted things to draw away the disciples after them.

[31]Wherefore watch, remembering that for three years, night and day, I ceased not admonishing each one [of you] with tears.

[32]And now I commit you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build [you] up and give [to you] an inheritance among all the sanctified.

[33]I have coveted [the] silver or gold or clothing of no one.

[34]Yourselves know that these hands have ministered to my wants, and to those who were with me.

[35]I have shewed you all things, that thus labouring [we] ought to come in aid of the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

[36]And having said these things, he knelt down and prayed with them all.

[37]And they all wept sore; and falling upon the neck of Paul they ardently kissed him, [38]specially pained by the word which he had said, that they would no more see his face. And they went down with him to the ship.

21And when, having got away from them, we at last sailed away, we came by a direct course to Cos, and on the morrow to Rhodes, and thence to Patara.

[2]And having found a ship passing over into Phoenicia, we went on board and sailed;

[3]and having sighted Cyprus, and left it on the left hand, we sailed to Syria, and made the land at Tyre, for there the ship was to discharge her cargo.

[4]And having found out the disciples, we remained there seven days; who said to Paul by the Spirit not to go up to Jerusalem.

[5]But when we had completed the days, we set out and took our journey, all of them accompanying us, with wives and children, till [we were] out of the city. And kneeling down upon the shore we prayed.

[6]And having embraced one another, we went on board ship, and they returned home.

[7]And we, having completed the voyage, arrived from Tyre at Ptolemais, and having saluted the brethren, we remained one day with them.

[8]And leaving on the morrow, we came to Caesarea; and entering into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was of the seven, we abode with him.

[9]Now this man had four virgin daughters who prophesied.

[10]And as we stayed there many days, a certain man, by name Agabus, a prophet, came down from Judaea,

[11]and coming to us and taking the girdle of Paul, and having bound his own hands and feet, said, Thus saith the Holy Spirit, The man whose this girdle is shall the Jews thus bind in Jerusalem, and deliver him up into the hands of [the] Gentiles.

[12]And when we heard these things, both we and those of the place besought [him] not to go up to Jerusalem.

[13]But Paul answered, What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart? for I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

[14]And when he would not be persuaded, we were silent, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

[15]And after these days, having got our effects ready, we went up to Jerusalem.

[16]And [some] of the disciples from Caesarea went with us, bringing [with them] a certain Mnason, a Cyprian, an old disciple, with whom we were to lodge.

[17]And when we arrived at Jerusalem the brethren gladly received us.

[18]And on the morrow Paul went in with us to James, and all the elders came there.

[19]And having saluted them, he related one by one the things which God had wrought among the nations by his ministry.

[20]And they having heard [it] glorified God, and said to him, Thou seest, brother, how many myriads there are of the Jews who have believed, and all are zealous of the law.

[21]And they have been informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all the Jews among the nations apostasy from Moses, saying that they should not circumcise their children, nor walk in the customs.

[22]What is it then? a multitude must necessarily come together, for they will hear that thou art come.

[23]This do therefore that we say to thee: We have four men who have a vow on them;

[24]take these and be purified with them, and pay their expenses, that they may have their heads shaved; and all will know that [of those things] of which they have been informed about thee nothing is [true]; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, keeping the law.

[25]But concerning [those of] the nations who have believed, we have written, deciding that they should [observe no such thing, only to] keep themselves both from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.

[26]Then Paul, taking the men, on the next day, having been purified, entered with them into the temple, signifying the time the days of the purification would be fulfilled, until the offering was offered for every one of them.

[27]And when the seven days were nearly completed, the Jews from Asia, having seen him in the temple, set all the crowd in a tumult, and laid hands upon him,

[28]crying, Israelites, help! this is the man who teaches all everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place, and has brought Greeks too into the temple, and profaned this holy place.

[29]For they had before seen Trophimus the Ephesian with him in the city, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.

[30]And the whole city was moved, and there was a concourse of the people; and having laid hold on Paul they drew him out of the temple, and immediately the doors were shut.

[31]And as they were seeking to kill him, a representation came to the chiliarch of the band that the whole of Jerusalem was in a tumult;

[32]who, taking with him immediately soldiers and centurions, ran down upon them. But they, seeing the chiliarch and the soldiers, ceased beating Paul.

[33]Then the chiliarch came up and laid hold upon him, and commanded [him] to be bound with two chains, and inquired who he might be, and what he had done.

[34]And different persons cried some different thing in the crowd. But he, not being able to know the certainty on account of the uproar, commanded him to be brought into the fortress.

[35]But when he got upon the stairs it was so that he was borne by the soldiers on account of the violence of the crowd.

[36]For the multitude of the people followed, crying, Away with him.

[37]But as he was about to be led into the fortress, Paul says to the chiliarch, Is it allowed me to say something to thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek?

[38]Thou art not then that Egyptian who before these days raised a sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the assassins?

[39]But Paul said, I am a Jew of Tarsus, citizen of no insignificant city of Cilicia, and I beseech of thee, allow me to speak to the people.

[40]And when he had allowed him, Paul, standing on the stairs, beckoned with his hand to the people; and a great silence having been made, he addressed them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

22 Brethren and fathers, hear my defence which I now make to you.

[2]And hearing that he addressed them in the Hebrew tongue, they kept the more quiet; and he says,

[3]I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, educated according to [the] exactness of the law of [our] fathers, being zealous for God, as ye are all this day;

[4]who have persecuted this way unto death, binding and delivering up to prisons both men and women;

[5]as also the high priest bears me witness, and all the elderhood: from whom also, having received letters to the brethren, I went to Damascus to bring those also who were there, bound, to Jerusalem, to be punished.

[6]And it came to pass, as I was journeying and drawing near to Damascus, that, about mid-day, there suddenly shone out of heaven a great light round about me.

[7]And I fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

[8]And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said to me, I am Jesus the Nazaraean, whom thou persecutest.

[9]But they that were with me beheld the light, [and were filled with fear], but heard not the voice of him that was speaking to me.

[10]And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said to me, Rise up, and go to Damascus, and there it shall be told thee of all things which it is appointed thee to do.

[11]And as I could not see, through the glory of that light, being led by the hand of those who were with me, I came to Damascus.

[12]And a certain Ananias, a pious man according to the law, borne witness to by all the Jews who dwelt [there], [13]coming to me and standing by me, said to me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And I, in the same hour, received my sight and saw him.

[14]And he said, The God of our fathers has chosen thee beforehand to know his will, and to see the just one, and to hear a voice out of his mouth;

[15]for thou shalt be a witness for him to all men of what thou hast seen and heard.

[16]And now why lingerest thou? Arise and get baptised, and have thy sins washed away, calling on his name.

[17]And it came to pass when I had returned to Jerusalem, and as I was praying in the temple, that I became in ecstasy,

[18]and saw him saying to me, Make haste and go quickly out of Jerusalem, for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

[19]And I said, Lord, they themselves know that I was imprisoning and beating in every synagogue those that believe on thee;

[20]and when the blood of thy witness Stephen was shed, I also myself was standing by and consenting, and kept the clothes of them who killed him.

[21]And he said to me, Go, for I will send thee to the nations afar off.

[22]And they heard him until this word, and lifted up their voice, saying, Away with such a one as that from the earth, for it was not fit he should live.

[23]And as they were crying, and throwing away their clothes, and casting dust into the air, [24]the chiliarch commanded him to be brought into the fortress, saying that he should be examined by scourging, that he might ascertain for what cause they cried thus against him.

[25]But as they stretched him forward with the thongs, Paul said to the centurion who stood [by], Is it lawful for you to scourge a man [who is] a Roman and uncondemned?

[26]And the centurion, having heard it, went and reported it to the chiliarch, saying, What art thou going to do? for this man is a Roman.

[27]And the chiliarch coming up said to him, Tell me, Art thou a Roman? And he said, Yes.

[28]And the chiliarch answered, I, for a great sum, bought this citizenship. And Paul said, But I was also [free] born.

[29]Immediately therefore those who were going to examine him left him, and the chiliarch also was afraid when he ascertained that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

[30]And on the morrow, desirous to know the certainty [of the matter] why he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to meet, and having brought Paul down set him before them.

23And Paul, fixing his eyes on the council, said, Brethren, I have walked in all good conscience with God unto this day.

[2]But the high priest Ananias ordered those standing by him to smite his mouth.

[3]Then Paul said to him, God will smite thee, whited wall. And thou, dost thou sit judging me according to the law, and breaking the law commandest me to be smitten?

[4]And those that stood by said, Dost thou rail against the high priest of God?

[5]And Paul said, I was not conscious, brethren, that he was high priest; for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evilly of the ruler of thy people.

[6]But Paul, knowing that the one part [of them] were of the Sadducees and the other of the Pharisees, cried out in the council, Brethren, I am a Pharisee, son of Pharisees: I am judged concerning the hope and resurrection of [the] dead.

[7]And when he had spoken this, there was a tumult of the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and the multitude was divided.

[8]For Sadducees say there is no resurrection, nor angel, nor spirit; but Pharisees confess both of them.

[9]And there was a great clamour, and the scribes of the Pharisees' part rising up contended, saying, We find nothing evil in this man; and if a spirit has spoken to him, or an angel ...

[10]And a great tumult having arisen, the chiliarch, fearing lest Paul should have been torn in pieces by them, commanded the troop to come down and take him by force from the midst of them, and to bring [him] into the fortress.

[11]But the following night the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good courage; for as thou hast testified the things concerning me at Jerusalem, so thou must bear witness at Rome also.

[12]And when it was day, the Jews, having banded together, put themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they should kill Paul.

[13]And they were more than forty who had joined together in this oath;

[14]and they went to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have cursed ourselves with a curse to taste nothing until we kill Paul.

[15]Now therefore do ye with the council make a representation to the chiliarch so that he may bring him down to you, as about to determine more precisely what concerns him, and we, before he draws near, are ready to kill him.

[16]But Paul's sister's son, having heard of the lying in wait, came and entered into the fortress and reported [it] to Paul.

[17]And Paul, having called one of the centurions, said, Take this youth to the chiliarch, for he has something to report to him.

[18]He therefore, having taken him with [him], led him to the chiliarch, and says, The prisoner Paul called me to [him] and asked me to lead this youth to thee, who has something to say to thee.

[19]And the chiliarch having taken him by the hand, and having gone apart in private, inquired, What is it that thou hast to report to me?

[20]And he said, The Jews have agreed together to make a request to thee, that thou mayest bring Paul down to-morrow into the council, as about to inquire something more precise concerning him.

[21]Do not thou then be persuaded by them, for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, who have put themselves under a curse neither to eat nor drink till they kill him; and now they are ready waiting the promise from thee.

[22]The chiliarch then dismissed the youth, commanding [him], Utter to no one that thou hast represented these things to me.

[23]And having called to [him] certain two of the centurions, he said, Prepare two hundred soldiers that they may go as far as Caesarea, and seventy horsemen, and two hundred light-armed footmen, for the third hour of the night.

[24]And [he ordered them] to provide beasts, that they might set Paul on them and carry [him] safe through to Felix the governor,

[25]having written a letter, couched in this form:

[26]Claudius Lysias to the most excellent governor Felix, greeting.

[27]This man, having been taken by the Jews, and being about to be killed by them, I came up with the military and took out [of their hands], having learned that he was a Roman.

[28]And desiring to know the charge on which they accused him, I brought him down to their council;

[29]whom I found to be accused of questions of their law, but to have no charge laid against him [making him] worthy of death or of bonds.

[30]But having received information of a plot about to be put in execution against the man [by the Jews], I have immediately sent him to thee, commanding also his accusers to say before thee the things that are against him. [Farewell.]

[31]The soldiers therefore, according to what was ordered them, took Paul and brought him by night to Antipatris, [32]and on the morrow, having left the horsemen to go with him, returned to the fortress.

[33]And these, having entered into Caesarea, and given up the letter to the governor, presented Paul also to him.

[34]And having read [it], and asked of what eparchy he was, and learned that [he was] of Cilicia, [35]he said, I will hear thee fully when thine accusers also are arrived. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's praetorium.

24And after five days came down the high priest Ananias, with the elders, and a certain orator called Tertullus, and laid their informations against Paul before the governor.

[2]And he having been called, Tertullus began to accuse, saying, Seeing we enjoy great peace through thee, and that excellent measures are executed for this nation by thy forethought,

[3]we receive [it] always and everywhere, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness.

[4]But that I may not too much intrude on thy time, I beseech thee to hear us briefly in thy kindness.

[5]For finding this man a pest, and moving sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a leader of the sect of the Nazaraeans;

[6]who also attempted to profane the temple; whom we also had seized, [and would have judged according to our law;

[7]but Lysias, the chiliarch, coming up, took [him] away with great force out of our hands,

[8]having commanded his accusers to come to thee;] of whom thou canst thyself, in examining [him], know the certainty of all these things of which we accuse him.

[9]And the Jews also joined in pressing the matter against [Paul], saying that these things were so.

[10]But Paul, the governor having beckoned to him to speak, answered, Knowing that for many years thou hast been judge to this nation, I answer readily as to the things which concern myself.

[11]As thou mayest know that there are not more than twelve days since I went up to worship at Jerusalem,

[12]and neither in the temple did they find me discoursing to any one, or making any tumultuous gathering together of the crowd, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city;

[13]neither can they make good the things of which they now accuse me.

[14]But this I avow to thee, that in the way which they call sect, so I serve my fathers' God, believing all things which are written throughout the law, and in the prophets;

[15]having hope towards God, which they themselves also receive, that there is to be a resurrection both of just and unjust.

[16]For this cause I also exercise [myself] to have in everything a conscience without offence towards God and men.

[17]And after a lapse of many years I arrived, bringing alms to my nation, and offerings.

[18]Whereupon they found me purified in the temple, with neither crowd nor tumult. But it was certain Jews from Asia,

[19]who ought to appear before thee and accuse, if they have anything against me;

[20]or let these themselves say what wrong they found in me when I stood before the council,

[21][other] than concerning this one voice which I cried standing amongst them: I am judged this day by you touching [the] resurrection of [the] dead.

[22]And Felix, knowing accurately the things concerning the way, adjourned them, saying, When Lysias the chiliarch is come down I will determine your affair;

[23]ordering the centurion to keep him, and that he should have freedom, and to hinder none of his friends to minister to him.

[24]And after certain days, Felix having arrived with Drusilla his wife, who was a Jewess, he sent for Paul and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

[25]And as he reasoned concerning righteousness, and temperance, and the judgment about to come, Felix, being filled with fear, answered, Go for the present, and when I get an opportunity I will send for thee;

[26]hoping at the same time that money would be given him by Paul: wherefore also he sent for him the oftener and communed with him.

[27]But when two years were completed, Felix was relieved by Porcius Festus as his successor; and Felix, desirous to oblige the Jews, to acquire their favour, left Paul bound.

25 Festus therefore, being come into the eparchy, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Caesarea.

[2]And the chief priests and the chief of the Jews laid informations before him against Paul, and besought him,

[3]asking as a grace against him that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying people in wait to kill him on the way.

[4]Festus therefore answered that Paul should be kept at Caesarea, and that he himself was about to set out shortly.

[5]Let therefore the persons of authority among you, says he, going down too, if there be anything in this man, accuse him.

[6]And having remained among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down to Caesarea; and on the next day, having sat down on the judgment-seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

[7]And when he was come, the Jews who were come down from Jerusalem stood round, bringing many and grievous charges which they were not able to prove:

[8]Paul answering for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar, have I offended [in] anything.

[9]But Festus, desirous of obliging the Jews, to acquire their favour, answering Paul, said, Art thou willing to go up to Jerusalem, there to be judged before me concerning these things?

[10]But Paul said, I am standing before the judgment-seat of Caesar, where I ought to be judged. To the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou also very well knowest.

[11]If then I have done any wrong and committed anything worthy of death, I do not deprecate dying; but if there is nothing of those things of which they accuse me, no man can give me up to them. I appeal to Caesar.

[12]Then Festus, having conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed to Caesar. To Caesar shalt thou go.

[13]And when certain days had elapsed, Agrippa the king and Bernice arrived at Caesarea to salute Festus.

[14]And when they had spent many days there, Festus laid before the king the matters relating to Paul, saying, There is a certain man left prisoner by Felix,

[15]concerning whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews laid informations, requiring judgment against him:

16 to whom I answered, It is not [the] custom of the Romans to give up any man before that the accused have the accusers face to face, and he have got opportunity of defence touching the charge.

17 When therefore they had come together here, without putting it off, I sat the next day on the judgment-seat and commanded the man to be brought:

18 concerning whom the accusers, standing up, brought no such accusation of guilt as I supposed;

19 but had against him certain questions of their own system of worship, and concerning a certain Jesus who is dead, whom Paul affirmed to be living.

20 And as I myself was at a loss as to an inquiry into these things, I said, Was he willing to go to Jerusalem and there to be judged concerning these things?

21 But Paul having appealed to be kept for the cognisance of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I shall send him to Caesar.

22 And Agrippa [said] to Festus, I myself also would desire to hear the man. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 On the morrow therefore, Agrippa being come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and having entered into the hall of audience, with the chiliarchs and the men of distinction of the city, and Festus having given command, Paul was brought.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men who are here present with us, ye see this person, concerning whom all the multitude of the Jews applied to me both in Jerusalem and here, crying out against [him] that he ought not to live any longer.

25 But I, having found that he had done nothing worthy of death, and this [man] himself having appealed to Augustus, I have decided to send him;

26 concerning whom I have nothing certain to write to my lord. Wherefore I have brought him before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, so that an examination having been gone into I may have something to write:

27 for it seems to me senseless, sending a prisoner, not also to signify the charges against him.

26 And Agrippa said to Paul, It is permitted thee to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretching out his hand answered in his defence:

2 I count myself happy, king Agrippa, in having to answer to-day before thee concerning all of which I am accused by the Jews,

3 especially because thou art acquainted with all the customs and questions which are among the Jews; wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

[4]My manner of life then from my youth, which from its commencement was passed among my nation in Jerusalem, know all the Jews,

[5]who knew me before from the outset [of my life], if they would bear witness, that according to the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee.

[6]And now I stand to be judged because of the hope of the promise made by God to our fathers,

[7]to which our whole twelve tribes serving incessantly day and night hope to arrive; about which hope, O king, I am accused of [the] Jews.

[8]Why should it be judged a thing incredible in your sight if God raises the dead?

[9]I indeed myself thought that I ought to do much against the name of Jesus the Nazaraean.

[10]Which also I did in Jerusalem, and myself shut up in prisons many of the saints, having received the authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death I gave my vote.

[11]And often punishing them in all the synagogues, I compelled them to blaspheme. And, being exceedingly furious against them, I persecuted them even to cities out [of our own land].

[12]And when, [engaged] in this, I was journeying to Damascus, with authority and power from the chief priests, [13]at mid-day, on the way, I saw, O king, a light above the brightness of the sun, shining from heaven round about me and those who were journeying with me.

[14]And, when we were all fallen to the ground, I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? [it is] hard for thee to kick against goads.

[15]And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest:

[16]but rise up and stand on thy feet; for, for this purpose have I appeared to thee, to appoint thee to be a servant and a witness both of what thou hast seen, and of what I shall appear to thee in,

[17]taking thee out from among the people, and the nations, to whom I send thee,

[18]to open their eyes, that they may turn from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive remission of sins and inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in me.

[19]Whereupon, king Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision;

[20]but have, first to those both in Damascus and Jerusalem, and to all the region of Judaea, and to the nations, announced that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of repentance.

[21]On account of these things the Jews, having seized me in the temple, attempted to lay hands on and destroy me.

22 Having therefore met with [the] help which is from God, I have stood firm unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying nothing else than those things which both the prophets and Moses have said should happen,

23 [namely,] whether Christ should suffer; whether he first, through resurrection of [the] dead, should announce light both to the people and to the nations.

24 And as he answered for his defence with these things, Festus says with a loud voice, Thou art mad, Paul; much learning turns thee to madness.

25 But Paul said, I am not mad, most excellent Festus, but utter words of truth and soberness;

26 for the king is informed about these things, to whom also I speak with all freedom. For I am persuaded that of these things nothing is hidden from him; for this was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.

28 And Agrippa [said] to Paul, In a little thou persuadest me to become a Christian.

29 And Paul [said], I would to God, both in little and in much, that not only thou, but all who have heard me this day, should become such as I also am, except these bonds.

30 And the king stood up, and the governor and Bernice, and those who sat with them, 31 and having gone apart, they spoke to one another saying, This man does nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 And Agrippa said to Festus, This man might have been let go if he had not appealed to Caesar.

27 But when it had been determined that we should sail to Italy, they delivered up Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion, by name Julius, of Augustus' company.

2 And going on board a ship of Adramyttium about to navigate by the places along Asia, we set sail, Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we arrived at Sidon. And Julius treated Paul kindly and suffered him to go to his friends and refresh himself.

4 And setting sail thence we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And having sailed over the waters of Cilicia and Pamphylia we came to Myra in Lycia:

6 and there the centurion having found a ship of Alexandria sailing to Italy, he made us go on board her.

[7]And sailing slowly for many days, and having with difficulty got abreast of Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete abreast of Salmone;

[8]and coasting it with difficulty we came to a certain place called Fair Havens, near to which was [the] city of Lasaea.

[9]And much time having now been spent, and navigation being already dangerous, because the fast also was already past, Paul counselled them,

[10]saying, Men, I perceive that the navigation will be with disaster and much loss, not only of the cargo and the ship, but also of our lives.

[11]But the centurion believed rather the helmsman and the shipowner than what was said by Paul.

[12]And the harbour being ill adapted to winter in, the most counselled to set sail thence, if perhaps they might reach Phoenice to winter in, a port of Crete looking north-east and south-east.

[13]And [the] south wind blowing gently, supposing that they had gained their object, having weighed anchor they sailed close in shore along Crete.

[14]But not long after there came down it a hurricane called Euroclydon.

[15]And the ship being caught and driven, and not able to bring her head to the wind, letting her go we were driven [before it].

[16]But running under the lee of a certain island called Clauda, we were with difficulty able to make ourselves masters of the boat;

[17]which having hoisted up, they used helps, frapping the ship; and fearing lest they should run into Syrtis and run aground, and having lowered the gear they were so driven.

[18]But the storm being extremely violent on us, on the next day they threw cargo overboard, [19]and on the third day with their own hands they cast away the ship furniture.

[20]And neither sun nor stars appearing for many days, and no small storm lying on us, in the end all hope of our being saved was taken away.

[21]And when they had been a long while without taking food, Paul then standing up in the midst of them said, Ye ought, O men, to have hearkened to me, and not have made sail from Crete and have gained this disaster and loss.

[22]And now I exhort you to be of good courage, for there shall be no loss at all of life of [any] of you, only of the ship.

[23]For an angel of the God, whose I am and whom I serve, stood by me this night, [24]saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must stand before Caesar; and behold, God has granted to thee all those that sail with thee.

[25]Wherefore be of good courage, men, for I believe God that thus it shall be, as it has been said to me.

[26]But we must be cast ashore on a certain island.

[27]And when the fourteenth night was come, we being driven about in Adria, towards the middle of the night the sailors supposed that some land neared them,

[28]and having sounded found twenty fathoms, and having gone a little farther and having again sounded they found fifteen fathoms;

[29]and fearing lest we should be cast on rocky places, casting four anchors out of the stern, they wished that day were come.

[30]But the sailors wishing to flee out of the ship, and having let down the boat into the sea under pretext of being about to carry out anchors from the prow,

[31]Paul said to the centurion and the soldiers, Unless these abide in the ship ye cannot be saved.

[32]Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat and let her fall.

[33]And while it was drawing on to daylight, Paul exhorted them all to partake of food, saying, Ye have passed the fourteenth day watching in expectation without taking food.

[34]Wherefore I exhort you to partake of food, for this has to do with your safety; for not a hair from the head of any one of you shall perish.

[35]And, having said these things and taken a loaf, he gave thanks to God before all, and having broken it began to eat.

[36]And all taking courage, themselves also took food.

[37]And we were in the ship, all the souls, two hundred and seventy-six.

[38]And having satisfied themselves with food, they lightened the ship, casting out the wheat into the sea.

[39]And when it was day they did not recognise the land; but they perceived a certain bay having a strand, on which they were minded, if they should be able, to run the ship ashore;

[40]and, having cast off the anchors, they left [them] in the sea, at the same time loosening the lashings of the rudders, and hoisting the foresail to the wind, they made for the strand.

[41]And falling into a place where two seas met they ran the ship aground, and the prow having stuck itself fast remained unmoved, but the stern was broken by the force of the waves.

[42]And [the] counsel of the soldiers was that they should kill the prisoners, lest any one should swim off and escape.

[43]But the centurion, desirous of saving Paul, hindered them of their purpose, and commanded those who were able to swim, casting themselves first [into the sea], to get out on land;

44 and the rest, some on boards, some on some of the things [that came] from the ship; and thus it came to pass that all got safe to land.

28 And when we got safe [to land] we then knew that the island was called Melita.

2 But the barbarians shewed us no common kindness; for, having kindled a fire, they took us all in because of the rain that was falling and because of the cold.

3 And Paul having gathered a [certain] quantity of sticks together in a bundle and laid [it] on the fire, a viper coming out from the heat seized his hand.

4 And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said to one another, This man is certainly a murderer, whom, [though] saved out of the sea, Nemesis has not allowed to live.

5 He however, having shaken off the beast into the fire, felt no harm.

6 But they expected that he would have swollen or fallen down suddenly dead. But when they had expected a long time and saw nothing unusual happen to him, changing their opinion, they said he was a god.

7 Now in the country surrounding that place were the lands belonging to the chief man of the island, by name Publius, who received us and gave [us] hospitality three days in a very friendly way.

8 And it happened that the father of Publius lay ill of fever and dysentery; to whom Paul entered in, and having prayed and laid his hands on him cured him.

9 But this having taken place, the rest also who had sicknesses in the island came and were healed:

10 who also honoured us with many honours, and on our leaving they made presents to us of what should minister to our wants.

11 And after three months we sailed in a ship which had wintered in the island, an Alexandrian, with [the] Dioscuri for its ensign.

12 And having come to Syracuse we remained three days.

13 Whence, going in a circuitous course, we arrived at Rhegium; and after one day, the wind having changed to south, on the second day we came to Puteoli, 14 where, having found brethren, we were begged to stay with them seven days. And thus we went to Rome.

15 And thence the brethren, having heard about us, came to meet us as far as Appii Forum and Tres Tabernae, whom when Paul saw, he thanked God and took courage.

[16]And when we came to Rome, [the centurion delivered up the prisoners to the praetorian prefect, but] Paul was allowed to remain by himself with the soldier who kept him.

[17]And it came to pass after three days, that he called together those who were the chief of the Jews; and when they had come together he said to them, Brethren, I having done nothing against the people or the customs of our forefathers, have been delivered a prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans, [18]who having examined me were minded to let me go, because there was nothing worthy of death in me.

[19]But the Jews speaking against it, I was compelled to appeal to Caesar, not as having anything to accuse my nation of.

[20]For this cause therefore I have called you to [me] to see and to speak to you; for on account of the hope of Israel I have this chain about me.

[21]And they said to him, For our part, we have neither received letters from Judaea concerning thee, nor has any one of the brethren who has arrived reported or said anything evil concerning thee.

[22]But we beg to hear of thee what thou thinkest, for as concerning this sect it is known to us that it is everywhere spoken against.

[23]And having appointed him a day many came to him to the lodging, to whom he expounded, testifying of the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses and the prophets, from early morning to evening.

[24]And some were persuaded of the things which were said, but some disbelieved.

[25]And being disagreed among themselves they left; Paul having spoken one word, Well spoke the Holy Spirit through Esaias the prophet to our fathers, [26]saying, Go to this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear and not understand, and seeing ye shall see and not perceive.

[27]For the heart of this people has become fat, and they hear heavily with their ears, and they have closed their eyes; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

[28]Be it known to you therefore, that this salvation of God has been sent to the nations; they also will hear [it].

[29][And he having said this, the Jews went away, having great reasoning among themselves.]

[30]And he remained two whole years in his own hired lodging, and received all who came to him,

[31]preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord

Jesus Christ, with all freedom unhinderedly.

Romans

1 Paul, bondman of Jesus Christ, [a] called apostle, separated to God's glad tidings,

[2](which he had before promised by his prophets in holy writings,)

[3]concerning his Son (come of David's seed according to flesh,

[4]marked out Son of God in power, according to [the] Spirit of holiness, by resurrection of [the] dead) Jesus Christ our Lord;

[5]by whom we have received grace and apostleship in behalf of his name, for obedience of faith among all the nations,

[6]among whom are ye also [the] called of Jesus Christ:

[7]to all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and [our] Lord Jesus Christ.

[8]First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is proclaimed in the whole world.

[9]For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the glad tidings of his Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you,

[10]always beseeching at my prayers, if any way now at least I may be prospered by the will of God to come to you.

[11]For I greatly desire to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift to establish you;

[12]that is, to have mutual comfort among you, each by the faith [which is] in the other, both yours and mine.

[13]But I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, that I often proposed to come to you, (and have been hindered until the present time,) that I might have some fruit among you too, even as among the other nations also.

[14]I am a debtor both to Greeks and barbarians, both to wise and unintelligent:

[15]so, as far as depends on me, am I ready to announce the glad tidings to you also who [are] in Rome.

[16]For I am not ashamed of the glad tidings; for it is God's power to salvation, to every one that believes, both to Jew first and to Greek:

[17]for righteousness of God is revealed therein, on the principle of faith, to faith: according as it is written, But the just shall live by faith.

[18]For there is revealed wrath of God from heaven upon all impiety, and unrighteousness of men holding the truth in unrighteousness.

[19]Because what is known of God is manifest among them, for God has manifested [it] to them, [20]-- for from [the] world's creation the invisible things of him are perceived, being apprehended by the mind through the things that are made, both his eternal power and divinity, -- so as to render them inexcusable.

[21]Because, knowing God, they glorified [him] not as God, neither were thankful; but fell into folly in their thoughts, and their heart without understanding was darkened:

[22]professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,

[23]and changed the glory of the incorruptible God into [the] likeness of an image of corruptible man and of birds and quadrupeds and reptiles.

[24]Wherefore God gave them up [also] in the lusts of their hearts to uncleanness, to dishonour their bodies between themselves:

[25]who changed the truth of God into falsehood, and honoured and served the creature more than him who had created [it], who is blessed for ever. Amen.

[26]For this reason God gave them up to vile lusts; for both their females changed the natural use into that contrary to nature;

[27]and in like manner the males also, leaving the natural use of the female, were inflamed in their lust towards one another; males with males working shame, and receiving in themselves the recompense of their error which was fit.

[28]And according as they did not think good to have God in [their] knowledge, God gave them up to a reprobate mind to practise unseemly things;

[29]being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, malice; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, evil dispositions; whisperers,

[30]back-biters, hateful to God, insolent, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

[31]void of understanding, faithless, without natural affection, unmerciful;

[32]who knowing the righteous judgment of God, that they who do such things are worthy of death, not only practise them, but have fellow delight in those who do [them].

2Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, every one who judgest, for in that in which thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things.

[2]But we know that the judgment of God is according to truth upon those who do such things.

[3]And thinkest thou this, O man, who judgest those that do such things, and practisest them [thyself], that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

[4]or despisest thou the riches of his goodness, and forbearance, and long-suffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leads thee to repentance?

[5]but, according to thy hardness and impenitent heart, treasurest up to thyself wrath, in [the] day of wrath and revelation of [the] righteous judgment of God,

[6]who shall render to each according to his works:

[7]to them who, in patient continuance of good works, seek for glory and honour and incorruptibility, life eternal.

[8]But to those that are contentious, and are disobedient to the truth, but obey unrighteousness, [there shall be] wrath and indignation,

[9]tribulation and distress, on every soul of man that works evil, both of Jew first, and of Greek;

[10]but glory and honour and peace to every one that works good, both to Jew first and to Greek:

[11]for there is no acceptance of persons with God.

[12]For as many as have sinned without law shall perish also without law; and as many as have sinned under law shall be judged by law, [13](for not the hearers of the law [are] just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.

[14]For when [those of the] nations, which have no law, practise by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law to themselves;

[15]who shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts accusing or else excusing themselves between themselves;)

[16]in [the] day when God shall judge the secrets of men, according to my glad tidings, by Jesus Christ.

[17]But if thou art named a Jew, and restest in the law, and makest thy boast in God,

[18]and knowest the will, and discerningly approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law;

[19]and hast confidence that thou thyself art a leader of the blind, a light of those who [are] in darkness,

[20]an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having the form of knowledge and of truth in the law:

[21]thou then that teachest another, dost thou not teach thyself? thou that preachest not to steal, dost thou steal?

[22]thou that sayest [man should] not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege?

[23]thou who boastest in law, dost thou by transgression of the law dishonour God?

[24]For the name of God is blasphemed on your account among the nations, according as it is written.

[25]For circumcision indeed profits if thou keep [the] law; but if thou be a law-transgressor, thy circumcision is become uncircumcision.

[26]If therefore the uncircumcision keep the requirements of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision, [27]and uncircumcision by nature, fulfilling the law, judge thee, who, with letter and circumcision, [art] a law-transgressor?

[28]For he is not a Jew who [is] one outwardly, neither that circumcision which is outward in flesh;

[29]but he [is] a Jew [who is so] inwardly; and circumcision, of the heart, in spirit, not in letter; whose praise [is] not of men, but of God.

3What then [is] the superiority of the Jew? or what the profit of circumcision?

[2]Much every way: and first, indeed, that to them were entrusted the oracles of God.

[3]For what? if some have not believed, shall their unbelief make the faith of God of none effect?

[4]Far be the thought: but let God be true, and every man false; according as it is written, So that thou shouldest be justified in thy words, and shouldest overcome when thou art in judgment.

[5]But if our unrighteousness commend God's righteousness, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who inflicts wrath? I speak according to man.

[6]Far be the thought: since how shall God judge the world?

[7]For if the truth of God, in my lie, has more abounded to his glory, why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

[8]and not, according as we are injuriously charged, and according as some affirm that we say, Let us practise evil things, that good ones may come? whose judgment is just.

[9]What then? are we better? No, in no wise: for we have before charged both Jews and Greeks with being all under sin:

[10]according as it is written, There is not a righteous [man], not even one;

[11]there is not the [man] that understands, there is not one that seeks after God.

[12]All have gone out of the way, they have together become unprofitable; there is not one that practises goodness, there is not so much as one:

[13]their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; asps' poison [is] under their lips:

[14]whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness;

15 swift their feet to shed blood;

16 ruin and misery [are] in their ways,

17 and way of peace they have not known:

18 there is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that whatever the things the law says, it speaks to those under the law, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world be under judgment to God.

20 Wherefore by works of law no flesh shall be justified before him; for by law [is] knowledge of sin.

21 But now without law righteousness of God is manifested, borne witness to by the law and the prophets;

22 righteousness of God by faith of Jesus Christ towards all, and upon all those who believe: for there is no difference;

23 for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;

24 being justified freely by his grace through the redemption which [is] in Christ Jesus;

25 whom God has set forth a mercy-seat, through faith in his blood, for [the] shewing forth of his righteousness, in respect of the passing by the sins that had taken place before, through the forbearance of God;

26 for [the] shewing forth of his righteousness in the present time, so that he should be just, and justify him that is of [the] faith of Jesus.

27 Where then [is] boasting? It has been excluded. By what law? of works? Nay, but by law of faith;

28 for we reckon that a man is justified by faith, without works of law.

29 Is [God] the God of Jews only? is he not of [the] nations also? Yea, of nations also:

30 since indeed [it is] one God who shall justify [the] circumcision on the principle of faith, and uncircumcision by faith.

31 Do we then make void law by faith? Far be the thought: [no,] but we establish law.

4 What shall we say then that Abraham our father according to flesh has found?

2 For if Abraham has been justified on the principle of works, he has whereof to boast: but not before God;

3 for what does the scripture say? And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness.

4 Now to him that works the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but of debt:

5 but to him who does not work, but believes on him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is reckoned as righteousness.

[6]Even as David also declares the blessedness of the man to whom God reckons righteousness without works:

[7]Blessed [they] whose lawlessnesses have been forgiven, and whose sins have been covered:

[8]blessed [the] man to whom [the] Lord shall not at all reckon sin.

[9][Does] this blessedness then [rest] on the circumcision, or also on the uncircumcision? For we say that faith has been reckoned to Abraham as righteousness.

[10]How then has it been reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

[11]And he received [the] sign of circumcision [as] seal of the righteousness of faith which [he had] being in uncircumcision, that he might be [the] father of all them that believe being in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned to them also;

[12]and father of circumcision, not only to those who are of [the] circumcision, but to those also who walk in the steps of the faith, during uncircumcision, of our father Abraham.

[13]For [it was] not by law that the promise was to Abraham, or to his seed, that he should be heir of [the] world, but by righteousness of faith.

[14]For if they which [are] of law be heirs, faith is made vain, and the promise made of no effect.

[15]For law works wrath; but where no law is neither [is there] transgression.

[16]Therefore [it is] on the principle of faith, that [it might be] according to grace, in order to the promise being sure to all the seed, not to that only which [is] of the law, but to that also which [is] of Abraham's faith, who is father of us all,

[17](according as it is written, I have made thee father of many nations,) before the God whom he believed, who quickens the dead, and calls the things which be not as being;

[18]who against hope believed in hope to his becoming father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be:

[19]and not being weak in faith, he considered not his own body already become dead, being about a hundred years old, and the deadening of Sarah's womb,

[20]and hesitated not at the promise of God through unbelief; but found strength in faith, giving glory to God;

[21]and being fully persuaded that what he has promised he is able also to do;

[22]wherefore also it was reckoned to him as righteousness.

[23]Now it was not written on his account alone that it was reckoned to him,

[24]but on ours also, to whom, believing on him who has raised from among [the] dead Jesus our Lord, [25]who has been delivered for our offences and has been raised for our justification, it will be reckoned.

5Therefore having been justified on the principle of faith, we have peace towards God through our Lord Jesus Christ;

[2]by whom we have also access by faith into this favour in which we stand, and we boast in hope of the glory of God.

[3]And not only [that], but we also boast in tribulations, knowing that tribulation works endurance;

[4]and endurance, experience; and experience, hope;

[5]and hope does not make ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by [the] Holy Spirit which has been given to us:

[6]for we being still without strength, in [the] due time Christ has died for [the] ungodly.

[7]For scarcely for [the] just [man] will one die, for perhaps for [the] good [man] some one might also dare to die;

[8]but God commends his love to us, in that, we being still sinners, Christ has died for us.

[9]Much rather therefore, having been now justified in [the power of] his blood, we shall be saved by him from wrath.

[10]For if, being enemies, we have been reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much rather, having been reconciled, we shall be saved in [the power of] his life.

[11]And not only [that], but [we are] making our boast in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom now we have received the reconciliation.

[12]For this [cause], even as by one man sin entered into the world, and by sin death; and thus death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned:

[13](for until law sin was in [the] world; but sin is not put to account when there is no law;

[14]but death reigned from Adam until Moses, even upon those who had not sinned in the likeness of Adam's transgression, who is [the] figure of him to come.

[15]But [shall] not the act of favour [be] as the offence? For if by the offence of one the many have died, much rather has the grace of God, and the free gift in grace, which [is] by the one man Jesus Christ, abounded unto the many.

[16]And [shall] not as by one that has sinned [be] the gift? For the judgment

[was] of one to condemnation, but the act of favour, of many offences unto justification.

17For if by the offence of the one death reigned by the one, much rather shall those who receive the abundance of grace, and of the free gift of righteousness, reign in life by the one Jesus Christ:)

18so then as [it was] by one offence towards all men to condemnation, so by one righteousness towards all men for justification of life.

19For as indeed by the disobedience of the one man the many have been constituted sinners, so also by the obedience of the one the many will be constituted righteous.

20But law came in, in order that the offence might abound; but where sin abounded grace has overabounded, 21in order that, even as sin has reigned in [the power of] death, so also grace might reign through righteousness to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6What then shall we say? Should we continue in sin that grace may abound?

2Far be the thought. We who have died to sin, how shall we still live in it?

3Are you ignorant that we, as many as have been baptised unto Christ Jesus, have been baptised unto his death?

4We have been buried therefore with him by baptism unto death, in order that, even as Christ has been raised up from among [the] dead by the glory of the Father, so we also should walk in newness of life.

5For if we are become identified with [him] in the likeness of his death, so also we shall be of [his] resurrection;

6knowing this, that our old man has been crucified with [him], that the body of sin might be annulled, that we should no longer serve sin.

7For he that has died is justified from sin.

8Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him, 9knowing that Christ having been raised up from among [the] dead dies no more: death has dominion over him no more.

10For in that he has died, he has died to sin once for all; but in that he lives, he lives to God.

11So also ye, reckon yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus.

12Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body to obey its lusts.

13Neither yield your members instruments of unrighteousness to sin, but yield yourselves to God as alive from among [the] dead, and your members instruments of righteousness to God.

[14]For sin shall not have dominion over you, for ye are not under law but under grace.

[15]What then? should we sin because we are not under law but under grace? Far be the thought.

[16]Know ye not that to whom ye yield yourselves bondmen for obedience, ye are bondmen to him whom ye obey, whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

[17]But thanks [be] to God, that ye were bondmen of sin, but have obeyed from the heart the form of teaching into which ye were instructed.

[18]Now, having got your freedom from sin, ye have become bondmen to righteousness.

[19]I speak humanly on account of the weakness of your flesh. For even as ye have yielded your members in bondage to uncleanness and to lawlessness unto lawlessness, so now yield your members in bondage to righteousness unto holiness.

[20]For when ye were bondmen of sin ye were free from righteousness.

[21]What fruit therefore had ye then in the things of which ye are now ashamed? for the end of them [is] death.

[22]But now, having got your freedom from sin, and having become bondmen to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end eternal life.

[23]For the wages of sin [is] death; but the act of favour of God, eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 Are ye ignorant, brethren, (for I speak to those knowing law,) that law rules over a man as long as he lives?

[2]For the married woman is bound by law to her husband so long as he is alive; but if the husband should die, she is clear from the law of the husband:

[3]so then, the husband being alive, she shall be called an adulteress if she be to another man; but if the husband should die, she is free from the law, so as not to be an adulteress, though she be to another man.

[4]So that, my brethren, ye also have been made dead to the law by the body of the Christ, to be to another, who has been raised up from among [the] dead, in order that we might bear fruit to God.

[5]For when we were in the flesh the passions of sins, which [were] by the law, wrought in our members to bring forth fruit to death;

[6]but now we are clear from the law, having died in that in which we were held, so that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in oldness of letter.

[7]What shall we say then? [is] the law sin? Far be the thought. But I had not known sin, unless by law: for I had not had conscience also of lust unless the law had said, Thou shalt not lust;

[8]but sin, getting a point of attack by the commandment, wrought in me every lust; for without law sin [was] dead.

[9]But I was alive without law once; but the commandment having come, sin revived, but I died.

[10]And the commandment, which [was] for life, was found, [as] to me, itself [to be] unto death:

[11]for sin, getting a point of attack by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew [me].

[12]So that the law indeed [is] holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

[13]Did then that which is good become death to me? Far be the thought. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death to me by that which is good; in order that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

[14]For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am fleshly, sold under sin.

[15]For that which I do, I do not own: for not what I will, this I do; but what I hate, this I practise.

[16]But if what I do not will, this I practise, I consent to the law that [it is] right.

[17]Now then [it is] no longer I [that] do it, but the sin that dwells in me.

[18]For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, good does not dwell: for to will is there with me, but to do right [I find] not.

[19]For I do not practise the good that I will; but the evil I do not will, that I do.

[20]But if what I do not will, this I practise, [it is] no longer I [that] do it, but the sin that dwells in me.

[21]I find then the law upon me who will to practise what is right, that with me evil is there.

[22]For I delight in the law of God according to the inward man:

[23]but I see another law in my members, warring in opposition to the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which exists in my members.

[24]O wretched man that I [am]! who shall deliver me out of this body of death?

[25]I thank God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve God's law; but with the flesh sin's law.

8[There is] then now no condemnation to those in Christ Jesus.

[2]For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set me free from the law of sin and of death.

[3]For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, having sent his own Son, in likeness of flesh of sin, and for sin, has condemned sin in the flesh,

[4]in order that the righteous requirement of the law should be fulfilled in us, who do not walk according to flesh but according to Spirit.

[5]For they that are according to flesh mind the things of the flesh; and they that are according to Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

[6]For the mind of the flesh [is] death; but the mind of the Spirit life and peace.

[7]Because the mind of the flesh is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God; for neither indeed can it be:

[8]and they that are in flesh cannot please God.

[9]But ye are not in flesh but in Spirit, if indeed God's Spirit dwell in you; but if any one has not [the] Spirit of Christ he is not of him:

[10]but if Christ be in you, the body is dead on account of sin, but the Spirit life on account of righteousness.

[11]But if the Spirit of him that has raised up Jesus from among [the] dead dwell in you, he that has raised up Christ from among [the] dead shall quicken your mortal bodies also on account of his Spirit which dwells in you.

[12]So then, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to flesh;

[13]for if ye live according to flesh, ye are about to die; but if, by the Spirit, ye put to death the deeds of the body, ye shall live:

[14]for as many as are led by [the] Spirit of God, these are sons of God.

[15]For ye have not received a spirit of bondage again for fear, but ye have received a spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

[16]The Spirit itself bears witness with our spirit, that we are children of God.

[17]And if children, heirs also: heirs of God, and Christ's joint heirs; if indeed we suffer with [him], that we may also be glorified with [him].

[18]For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy [to be compared] with the coming glory to be revealed to us.

[19]For the anxious looking out of the creature expects the revelation of the sons of God:

[20]for the creature has been made subject to vanity, not of its will, but by reason of him who has subjected [the same], in hope

[21]that the creature itself also shall be set free from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God.

[22]For we know that the whole creation groans together and travails in pain together until now.

[23]And not only [that], but even we ourselves, who have the first-fruits of the Spirit, we also ourselves groan in ourselves, awaiting adoption, [that is] the redemption of our body.

[24]For we have been saved in hope; but hope seen is not hope; for what any one sees, why does he also hope?

[25]But if what we see not we hope, we expect in patience.

[26]And in like manner the Spirit joins also its help to our weakness; for we do not know what we should pray for as is fitting, but the Spirit itself makes intercession with groanings which cannot be uttered.

[27]But he who searches the hearts knows what [is] the mind of the Spirit, because he intercedes for saints according to God.

[28]But we do know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to purpose.

[29]Because whom he has foreknown, he has also predestinated [to be] conformed to the image of his Son, so that he should be [the] firstborn among many brethren.

[30]But whom he has predestinated, these also he has called; and whom he has called, these also he has justified; but whom he has justified, these also he has glorified.

[31]What shall we then say to these things? If God [be] for us, who against us?

[32]He who, yea, has not spared his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not also with him grant us all things?

[33]Who shall bring an accusation against God's elect? [It is] God who justifies:

[34]who is he that condemns? [It is] Christ who has died, but rather has been [also] raised up; who is also at the right hand of God; who also intercedes for us.

[35]Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? tribulation or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger, or sword?

[36]According as it is written, For thy sake we are put to death all the day long; we have been reckoned as sheep for slaughter.

[37]But in all these things we more than conquer through him that has loved us.

[38]For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, [39]nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which [is] in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9I say [the] truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness with me in [the] Holy Spirit,

[2]that I have great grief and uninterrupted pain in my heart,

[3]for I have wished, I myself, to be a curse from the Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen, according to flesh;

[4]who are Israelites; whose [is] the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the law-giving, and the service, and the promises;

[5]whose [are] the fathers; and of whom, as according to flesh, [is] the Christ, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

[6]Not however as though the word of God had failed; for not all [are] Israel which [are] of Israel;

[7]nor because they are seed of Abraham [are] all children: but, In Isaac shall a seed be called to thee.

[8]That is, [they that are] the children of the flesh, these [are] not the children of God; but the children of the promise are reckoned as seed.

[9]For this word [is] of promise, According to this time I will come, and there shall be a son to Sarah.

[10]And not only [that], but Rebecca having conceived by one, Isaac our father,

[11][the children] indeed being not yet born, or having done anything good or worthless (that the purpose of God according to election might abide, not of works, but of him that calls),

[12]it was said to her, The greater shall serve the less:

[13]according as it is written, I have loved Jacob, and I have hated Esau.

[14]What shall we say then? [Is there] unrighteousness with God? Far be the thought.

[15]For he says to Moses, I will shew mercy to whom I will shew mercy, and I will feel compassion for whom I will feel compassion.

[16]So then [it is] not of him that wills, nor of him that runs, but of God that shews mercy.

[17]For the scripture says to Pharaoh, For this very thing I have raised thee up from amongst [men], that I might thus shew in thee my power, and so that my name should be declared in all the earth.

[18]So then, to whom he will he shews mercy, and whom he will he hardens.

[19]Thou wilt say to me then, Why does he yet find fault? for who resists his purpose?

[20]Aye, but thou, O man, who art thou that answerest again to God? Shall the thing formed say to him that has formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

[21]Or has not the potter authority over the clay, out of the same lump to make one vessel to honour, and another to dishonour?

[22]And if God, minded to shew his wrath and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering vessels of wrath fitted for destruction;

[23]and that he might make known the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he had before prepared for glory,

[24]us, whom he has also called, not only from amongst [the] Jews, but also from amongst [the] nations?

[25]As he says also in Hosea, I will call not-my-people My people; and the-not-beloved Beloved.

[26]And it shall be, in the place where it was said to them, Ye [are] not my people, there shall they be called Sons of [the] living God.

[27]But Esaias cries concerning Israel, Should the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, the remnant shall be saved:

[28]for [he] is bringing the matter to an end, and [cutting [it] short in righteousness; because] a cutting short of the matter will [the] Lord accomplish upon the earth.

[29]And according as Esaias said before, Unless [the] Lord of hosts had left us a seed, we had been as Sodom, and made like even as Gomorrha.

[30]What then shall we say? That [they of the] nations, who did not follow after righteousness, have attained righteousness, but [the] righteousness that is on the principle of faith.

[31]But Israel, pursuing after a law of righteousness, has not attained to [that] law.

[32]Wherefore? Because [it was] not on the principle of faith, but as of works. They have stumbled at the stumblingstone, [33]according as it is written, Behold, I place in Zion a stone of stumbling and rock of offence: and he that believes on him shall not be ashamed.

10 Brethren, the delight of my own heart and my supplication which [I address] to God for them is for salvation.

[2]For I bear them witness that they have zeal for God, but not according to knowledge.

[3]For they, being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own [righteousness], have not submitted to the righteousness of God.

[4]For Christ is [the] end of law for righteousness to every one that believes.

[5]For Moses lays down in writing the righteousness which is of the law, The man who has practised those things shall live by them.

[6]But the righteousness of faith speaks thus: Do not say in thine heart, Who shall ascend to the heavens? that is, to bring Christ down;

[7]or, Who shall descend into the abyss? that is, to bring up Christ from among [the] dead.

[8]But what says it? The word is near thee, in thy mouth and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach:

[9]that if thou shalt confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thine heart that God has raised him from among [the] dead, thou shalt be saved.

[10]For with [the] heart is believed to righteousness; and with [the] mouth confession made to salvation.

[11]For the scripture says, No one believing on him shall be ashamed.

[12]For there is no difference of Jew and Greek; for the same Lord of all [is] rich towards all that call upon him.

[13]For every one whosoever, who shall call on the name of the Lord, shall be saved.

[14]How then shall they call upon him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe on him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without one who preaches?

[15]and how shall they preach unless they have been sent? according as it is written, How beautiful the feet of them that announce glad tidings of peace, of them that announce glad tidings of good things!

[16]But they have not all obeyed the glad tidings. For Esaias says, Lord, who has believed our report?

[17]So faith then [is] by a report, but the report by God's word.

[18]But I say, Have they not heard? Yea, surely, Their voice has gone out into all the earth, and their words to the extremities of the habitable world.

[19]But I say, Has not Israel known? First, Moses says, I will provoke you to jealousy through [them that are] not a nation: through a nation without understanding I will anger you.

[20]But Esaias is very bold, and says, I have been found by those not seeking me; I have become manifest to those not inquiring after me.

[21]But unto Israel he says, All the day long I have stretched out my hands unto a people disobeying and opposing.

11 I say then, Has God cast away his people? Far be the thought. For I also am an Israelite, of [the] seed of Abraham, of [the] tribe of Benjamin.

[2]God has not cast away his people whom he foreknew. Know ye not what the scripture says in [the history of] Elias, how he pleads with God against Israel?

[3]Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have dug down thine altars; and I have been left alone, and they seek my life.

[4]But what says the divine answer to him? I have left to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed knee to Baal.

[5]Thus, then, in the present time also there has been a remnant according to election of grace.

[6]But if by grace, no longer of works: since [otherwise] grace is no more grace.

[7]What [is it] then? What Israel seeks for, that he has not obtained; but the election has obtained, and the rest have been blinded,

[8]according as it is written, God has given to them a spirit of slumber, eyes not to see, and ears not to hear, unto this day.

[9]And David says, Let their table be for a snare, and for a gin, and for a fall-trap, and for a recompense to them:

[10]let their eyes be darkened not to see, and bow down their back alway.

[11]I say then, Have they stumbled in order that they might fall? Far be the thought: but by their fall [there is] salvation to the nations to provoke them to jealousy.

[12]But if their fall [be the] world's wealth, and their loss [the] wealth of [the] nations, how much rather their fulness?

[13]For I speak to you, the nations, inasmuch as I am apostle of nations, I glorify my ministry;

[14]if by any means I shall provoke to jealousy [them which are] my flesh, and shall save some from among them.

[15]For if their casting away [be the] world's reconciliation, what [their] reception but life from among [the] dead?

[16]Now if the first-fruit [be] holy, the lump also; and if the root [be] holy, the branches also.

[17]Now if some of the branches have been broken out, and thou, being a wild olive tree, hast been grafted in amongst them, and hast become a fellow-partaker of the root and of the fatness of the olive tree, [18]boast not against the branches; but if thou boast, [it is] not thou bearest the root, but the root thee.

[19]Thou wilt say then, The branches have been broken out in order that I might be grafted in.

[20]Right: they have been broken out through unbelief, and thou standest through faith. Be not high-minded, but fear:

[21]if God indeed has not spared the natural branches; lest it might be he spare not thee either.

[22]Behold then [the] goodness and severity of God: upon them who have fallen, severity; upon thee goodness of God, if thou shalt abide in goodness, since [otherwise] thou also wilt be cut away.

[23]And they too, if they abide not in unbelief, shall be grafted in; for God is able again to graft them in.

[24]For if thou hast been cut out of the olive tree wild by nature, and, contrary to nature, hast been grafted into the good olive tree, how much rather shall they, who are according to nature be grafted into their own olive tree?

25For I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, of this mystery, that ye may not be wise in your own conceits, that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the nations be come in;

26and so all Israel shall be saved. According as it is written, The deliverer shall come out of Zion; he shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob.

27And this is the covenant from me to them, when I shall have taken away their sins.

28As regards the glad tidings, [they are] enemies on your account; but as regards election, beloved on account of the fathers.

29For the gifts and the calling of God [are] not subject to repentance.

30For as indeed ye [also] once have not believed in God, but now have been objects of mercy through the unbelief of these;

31so these also have now not believed in your mercy, in order that they also may be objects of mercy.

32For God hath shut up together all in unbelief, in order that he might shew mercy to all.

33O depth of riches both of [the] wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable his judgments, and untraceable his ways!

34For who has known [the] mind of [the] Lord, or who has been his counsellor?

35or who has first given to him, and it shall be rendered to him?

36For of him, and through him, and for him [are] all things: to him be glory for ever. Amen.

12 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the compassions of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, [which is] your intelligent service.

2And be not conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of [your] mind, that ye may prove what [is] the good and acceptable and perfect will of God.

3For I say, through the grace which has been given to me, to every one that is among you, not to have high thoughts above what he should think; but to think so as to be wise, as God has dealt to each a measure of faith.

4For, as in one body we have many members, but all the members have not the same office;

5thus we, [being] many, are one body in Christ, and each one members one of the other.

6But having different gifts, according to the grace which has been given to us, whether [it be] prophecy, [let us prophesy] according to the proportion of faith;

[7]or service, [let us occupy ourselves] in service; or he that teaches, in teaching;

[8]or he that exhorts, in exhortation; he that gives, in simplicity; he that leads, with diligence; he that shews mercy, with cheerfulness.

[9]Let love be unfeigned; abhorring evil; cleaving to good:

[10]as to brotherly love, kindly affectioned towards one another: as to honour, each taking the lead in paying it to the other:

[11]as to diligent zealousness, not slothful; in spirit fervent; serving the Lord.

[12]As regards hope, rejoicing: as regards tribulation, enduring: as regards prayer, persevering:

[13]distributing to the necessities of the saints; given to hospitality.

[14]Bless them that persecute you; bless, and curse not.

[15]Rejoice with those that rejoice, weep with those that weep.

[16]Have the same respect one for another, not minding high things, but going along with the lowly: be not wise in your own eyes:

[17]recompensing to no one evil for evil: providing things honest before all men:

[18]if possible, as far as depends on you, living in peace with all men;

[19]not avenging yourselves, beloved, but give place to wrath; for it is written, Vengeance [belongs] to me, I will recompense, saith the Lord.

[20]If therefore thine enemy should hunger, feed him; if he should thirst, give him drink; for, so doing, thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head.

[21]Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

13Let every soul be subject to the authorities that are above [him]. For there is no authority except from God; and those that exist are set up by God.

[2]So that he that sets himself in opposition to the authority resists the ordinance of God; and they who [thus] resist shall bring sentence of guilt on themselves.

[3]For rulers are not a terror to a good work, but to an evil [one]. Dost thou desire then not to be afraid of the authority? practise [what is] good, and thou shalt have praise from it;

[4]for it is God's minister to thee for good. But if thou practisest evil, fear; for it bears not the sword in vain; for it is God's minister, an avenger for wrath to him that does evil.

[5]Wherefore it is necessary to be subject, not only on account of wrath, but also on account of conscience.

[6]For on this account ye pay tribute also; for they are God's officers, attending continually on this very thing.

[7]Render to all their dues: to whom tribute [is due], tribute; to whom custom, custom; to whom fear, fear; to whom honour, honour.

[8]Owe no one anything, unless to love one another: for he that loves another has fulfilled the law.

[9]For, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not lust; and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

[10]Love works no ill to its neighbour; love therefore [is the] whole law.

[11]This also, knowing the time, that it is already time that we should be aroused out of sleep; for now [is] our salvation nearer than when we believed.

[12]The night is far spent, and the day is near; let us cast away therefore the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.

[13]As in the day, let us walk becomingly; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and lasciviousness, not in strife and emulation.

[14]But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and do not take forethought for the flesh to [fulfil its] lusts.

14 Now him that is weak in the faith receive, not to [the] determining of questions of reasoning.

[2]One man is assured that he may eat all things; but the weak eats herbs.

[3]Let not him that eats make little of him that eats not; and let not him that eats not judge him that eats: for God has received him.

[4]Who art thou that judgest the servant of another? to his own master he stands or falls. And he shall be made to stand; for the Lord is able to make him stand.

[5]One man esteems day more than day; another esteems every day [alike]. Let each be fully persuaded in his own mind.

[6]He that regards the day, regards it to [the] Lord. And he that eats, eats to [the] Lord, for he gives God thanks; and he that does not eat, [it is] to [the] Lord he does not eat, and gives God thanks.

[7]For none of us lives to himself, and none dies to himself.

[8]For both if we should live, [it is] to the Lord we live; and if we should die, [it is] to the Lord we die: both if we should live then, and if we should die, we are the Lord's.

[9]For to this [end] Christ has died and lived [again], that he might rule over both dead and living.

[10]But thou, why judgest thou thy brother? or again, thou, why dost thou make little of thy brother? for we shall all be placed before the judgment-seat of God.

11For it is written, I live, saith [the] Lord, that to me shall bow every knee, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12So then each of us shall give an account concerning himself to God.

13Let us no longer therefore judge one another; but judge ye this rather, not to put a stumbling-block or a fall-trap before his brother.

14I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself; except to him who reckons anything to be unclean, to that man [it is] unclean.

15For if on account of meat thy brother is grieved, thou walkest no longer according to love. Destroy not him with thy meat for whom Christ has died.

16Let not then your good be evil spoken of;

17for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in [the] Holy Spirit.

18For he that in this serves the Christ [is] acceptable to God and approved of men.

19So then let us pursue the things which tend to peace, and things whereby one shall build up another.

20For the sake of meat do not destroy the work of God. All things indeed [are] pure; but [it is] evil to that man who eats while stumbling [in doing so].

21[It is] right not to eat meat, nor drink wine, nor [do anything] in which thy brother stumbles, or is offended, or is weak.

22Hast thou faith? have [it] to thyself before God. Blessed [is] he who does not judge himself in what he allows.

23But he that doubts, if he eat, is condemned; because [it is] not of faith; but whatever [is] not of faith is sin.

15 But we ought, we that are strong, to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2Let each one of us please his neighbour with a view to what is good, to edification.

3For the Christ also did not please himself; but according as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproach thee have fallen upon me.

4For as many things as have been written before have been written for our instruction, that through endurance and through encouragement of the scriptures we might have hope.

5Now the God of endurance and of encouragement give to you to be like-minded one toward another, according to Christ Jesus;

6that ye may with one accord, with one mouth, glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

[7]Wherefore receive ye one another, according as the Christ also has received you to [the] glory of God.

[8]For I say that Jesus Christ became a minister of [the] circumcision for [the] truth of God, to confirm the promises of the fathers;

[9]and that the nations should glorify God for mercy; according as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among [the] nations, and will sing to thy name.

[10]And again he says, Rejoice, nations, with his people.

[11]And again, Praise the Lord, all [ye] nations, and let all the peoples laud him.

[12]And again, Esaias says, There shall be the root of Jesse, and one that arises, to rule over [the] nations: in him shall [the] nations hope.

[13]Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that ye should abound in hope by [the] power of [the] Holy Spirit.

[14]But I am persuaded, my brethren, I myself also, concerning you, that yourselves also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

[15]But I have written to you the more boldly, [brethren,] in part, as putting you in mind, because of the grace given to me by God,

[16]for me to be minister of Christ Jesus to the nations, carrying on as a sacrificial service the [message of] glad tidings of God, in order that the offering up of the nations might be acceptable, sanctified by [the] Holy Spirit.

[17]I have therefore [whereof to] boast in Christ Jesus in the things which pertain to God.

[18]For I will not dare to speak anything of the things which Christ has not wrought by me, for [the] obedience of [the] nations, by word and deed,

[19]in [the] power of signs and wonders, in [the] power of [the] Spirit of God; so that I, from Jerusalem, and in a circuit round to Illyricum, have fully preached the glad tidings of the Christ;

[20]and so aiming to announce the glad tidings, not where Christ has been named, that I might not build upon another's foundation;

[21]but according as it is written, To whom there was nothing told concerning him, they shall see; and they that have not heard shall understand.

[22]Wherefore also I have been often hindered from coming to you.

[23]But now, having no longer place in these regions, and having great desire to come to you these many years,

[24]whenever I should go to Spain; (for I hope to see you as I go through, and by you to be set forward thither, if first I shall have been in part filled with your company;)

25 but now I go to Jerusalem, ministering to the saints;

26 for Macedonia and Achaia have been well pleased to make a certain contribution for the poor of the saints who [are] in Jerusalem.

27 They have been well pleased indeed, and they are their debtors; for if the nations have participated in their spiritual things, they ought also in fleshly to minister to them.

28 Having finished this therefore, and having sealed to them this fruit, I will set off by you into Spain.

29 But I know that, coming to you, I shall come in [the] fulness of [the] blessing of Christ.

30 But I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in prayers for me to God;

31 that I may be saved from those that do not believe in Judaea; and that my ministry which [I have] for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints;

32 in order that I may come to you in joy by God's will, and that I may be refreshed with you.

33 And the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

16 But I commend to you Phoebe, our sister, who is minister of the assembly which is in Cenchrea;

2 that ye may receive her in [the] Lord worthily of saints, and that ye may assist her in whatever matter she has need of you; for she also has been a helper of many, and of myself.

3 Salute Prisca and Aquila, my fellow-workmen in Christ Jesus,

4 (who for my life staked their own neck; to whom not I only am thankful, but also all the assemblies of the nations,)

5 and the assembly at their house. Salute Epaenetus, my beloved, who is [the] first-fruits of Asia for Christ.

6 Salute Maria, who laboured much for you.

7 Salute Andronicus and Junias, my kinsmen and fellow-captives, who are of note among the apostles; who were also in Christ before me.

8 Salute Amplias, my beloved in the Lord.

9 Salute Urbanus, our fellow-workman in Christ, and Stachys, my beloved.

10 Salute Apelles, approved in Christ. Salute those who belong to Aristobulus.

11 Salute Herodion, my kinsman. Salute those who belong to Narcissus, who are in [the] Lord.

12 Salute Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who labour in [the] Lord. Salute Persis, the beloved, who has laboured much in [the] Lord.

[13]Salute Rufus, chosen in [the] Lord; and his mother and mine.

[14]Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brethren with them.

[15]Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints with them.

[16]Salute one another with a holy kiss. All the assemblies of Christ salute you.

[17]But I beseech you, brethren, to consider those who create divisions and occasions of falling, contrary to the doctrine which ye have learnt, and turn away from them.

[18]For such serve not our Lord Christ, but their own belly, and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the unsuspecting.

[19]For your obedience has reached to all. I rejoice therefore as it regards you; but I wish you to be wise [as] to that which is good, and simple [as] to evil.

[20]But the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [be] with you.

[21]Timotheus, my fellow-workman, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater, my kinsmen, salute you.

[22]I Tertius, who have written this epistle, salute you in [the] Lord.

[23]Gaius, my host and of the whole assembly, salutes you. Erastus, the steward of the city, salutes you, and the brother Quartus.

[24]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [be] with you all. Amen.

[25]Now to him that is able to establish you, according to my glad tidings and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to [the] revelation of [the] mystery, as to which silence has been kept in [the] times of the ages,

[26]but [which] has now been made manifest, and by prophetic scriptures, according to commandment of the eternal God, made known for obedience of faith to all the nations --

[27][the] only wise God, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

1st Corinthians

1 Paul, [a] called apostle of Jesus Christ, by God's will, and Sosthenes the brother,

2 to the assembly of God which is in Corinth, to [those] sanctified in Christ Jesus, called saints, with all that in every place call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, both theirs and ours:

3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thank my God always about you, in respect of the grace of God given to you in Christ Jesus;

5 that in everything ye have been enriched in him, in all word [of doctrine], and all knowledge,

6 (according as the testimony of the Christ has been confirmed in you,)

7 so that ye come short in no gift, awaiting the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ;

8 who shall also confirm you to [the] end, unimpeachable in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 God [is] faithful, by whom ye have been called into [the] fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I exhort you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all say the same thing, and that there be not among you divisions; but that ye be perfectly united in the same mind and in the same opinion.

11 For it has been shewn to me concerning you, my brethren, by those of [the house of] Chloe, that there are strifes among you.

12 But I speak of this, that each of you says, I am of Paul, and I of Apollos, and I of Cephas, and I of Christ.

13 Is the Christ divided? has Paul been crucified for you? or have ye been baptised unto the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I have baptised none of you, unless Crispus and Gaius, 15 that no one may say that I have baptised unto my own name.

16 Yes, I baptised also the house of Stephanas; for the rest I know not if I have baptised any other.

17 For Christ has not sent me to baptise, but to preach glad tidings; not in wisdom of word, that the cross of the Christ may not be made vain.

18 For the word of the cross is to them that perish foolishness, but to us that are saved it is God's power.

19For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and set aside the understanding of the understanding ones.

20Where [is the] wise? where scribe? where disputer of this world? has not God made foolish the wisdom of the world?

21For since, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom has not known God, God has been pleased by the foolishness of the preaching to save those that believe.

22Since Jews indeed ask for signs, and Greeks seek wisdom;

23but we preach Christ crucified, to Jews an offence, and to nations foolishness;

24but to those that [are] called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ God's power and God's wisdom.

25Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26For consider your calling, brethren, that [there are] not many wise according to flesh, not many powerful, not many high-born.

27But God has chosen the foolish things of the world, that he may put to shame the wise; and God has chosen the weak things of the world, that he may put to shame the strong things;

28and the ignoble things of the world, and the despised, has God chosen, [and] things that are not, that he may annul the things that are;

29so that no flesh should boast before God.

30But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who has been made to us wisdom from God, and righteousness, and holiness, and redemption;

31that according as it is written, He that boasts, let him boast in [the] Lord.

2 And I, when I came to you, brethren, came not in excellency of word, or wisdom, announcing to you the testimony of God.

2For I did not judge [it well] to know anything among you save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3And I was with you in weakness and in fear and in much trembling;

4and my word and my preaching, not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of [the] Spirit and of power;

5that your faith might not stand in men's wisdom, but in God's power.

6But we speak wisdom among the perfect; but wisdom not of this world, nor of the rulers of this world, who come to nought.

[7]But we speak God's wisdom in [a] mystery, that hidden [wisdom] which God had predetermined before the ages for our glory:

[8]which none of the princes of this age knew, (for had they known, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory;)

[9]but according as it is written, Things which eye has not seen, and ear not heard, and which have not come into man's heart, which God has prepared for them that love him,

[10]but God has revealed to us by [his] Spirit; for the Spirit searches all things, even the depths of God.

[11]For who of men hath known the things of a man except the spirit of the man which is in him? thus also the things of God knows no one except the Spirit of God.

[12]But we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which [is] of God, that we may know the things which have been freely given to us of God:

[13]which also we speak, not in words taught by human wisdom, but in those taught by the Spirit, communicating spiritual [things] by spiritual [means].

[14]But [the] natural man does not receive the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him; and he cannot know [them] because they are spiritually discerned;

[15]but the spiritual discerns all things, and he is discerned of no one.

[16]For who has known the mind of [the] Lord, who shall instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

3 And I, brethren, have not been able to speak to you as to spiritual, but as to fleshly; as to babes in Christ.

[2]I have given you milk to drink, not meat, for ye have not yet been able, nor indeed are ye yet able;

[3]for ye are yet carnal. For whereas [there are] among you emulation and strife, are ye not carnal, and walk according to man?

[4]For when one says, I am of Paul, and another, I of Apollos, are ye not men?

[5]Who then is Apollos, and who Paul? Ministering servants, through whom ye have believed, and as the Lord has given to each.

[6]I have planted; Apollos watered; but God has given the increase.

[7]So that neither the planter is anything, nor the waterer; but God the giver of the increase.

[8]But the planter and the waterer are one; but each shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.

[9]For we are God's fellow-workmen; ye are God's husbandry, God's building.

[10]According to the grace of God which has been given to me, as a wise architect, I have laid the foundation, but another builds upon it. But let each see how he builds upon it.

[11]For other foundation can no man lay besides that which [is] laid, which is Jesus Christ.

[12]Now if any one build upon [this] foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, grass, straw, [13]the work of each shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare [it], because it is revealed in fire; and the fire shall try the work of each what it is.

[14]If the work of any one which he has built upon [the foundation] shall abide, he shall receive a reward.

[15]If the work of any one shall be consumed, he shall suffer loss, but he shall be saved, but so as through [the] fire.

[16]Do ye not know that ye are [the] temple of God, and [that] the Spirit of God dwells in you?

[17]If any one corrupt the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, and such are ye.

[18]Let no one deceive himself: if any one thinks himself to be wise among you in this world, let him become foolish, that he may be wise.

[19]For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God; for it is written, He who takes the wise in their craftiness.

[20]And again, [The] Lord knows the reasonings of the wise that they are vain.

[21]So that let no one boast in men; for all things are yours.

[22]Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or [the] world, or life, or death, or things present, or things coming, all are yours;

[23]and ye [are] Christ's, and Christ [is] God's.

4Let a man so account of us as servants of Christ, and stewards of [the] mysteries of God.

[2]Here, further, it is sought in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

[3]But for me it is the very smallest matter that I be examined of you or of man's day. Nor do I even examine myself.

[4]For I am conscious of nothing in myself; but I am not justified by this: but he that examines me is the Lord.

[5]So that do not judge anything before [the] time, until the Lord shall come, who shall also both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and shall make manifest the counsels of hearts; and then shall each have [his] praise from God.

[6]Now these things, brethren, I have transferred, in their application, to myself and Apollos, for your sakes, that ye may learn in us the [lesson of] not [letting your thoughts go] above what is written, that ye may not be puffed up one for [such a] one against another.

[7]For who makes thee to differ? and what hast thou which thou hast not received? but if also thou hast received, why boastest thou as not receiving?

[8]Already ye are filled; already ye have been enriched; ye have reigned without us; and I would that ye reigned, that we also might reign with you.

[9]For I think that God has set us the apostles for the last, as appointed to death. For we have become a spectacle to the world, both to angels and men.

[10]We [are] fools for Christ's sake, but ye prudent in Christ: we weak, but ye strong: ye glorious, but we in dishonour.

[11]To the present hour we both hunger and thirst, and are in nakedness, and buffeted, and wander without a home,

[12]and labour, working with our own hands. Railed at, we bless; persecuted, we suffer [it];

[13]insulted, we entreat: we are become as [the] offscouring of the world, [the] refuse of all, until now.

[14]Not [as] chiding do I write these things to you, but as my beloved children I admonish [you].

[15]For if ye should have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet not many fathers; for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the glad tidings.

[16]I entreat you therefore, be my imitators.

[17]For this reason I have sent to you Timotheus, who is my beloved and faithful child in [the] Lord, who shall put you in mind of my ways [as] they [are] in Christ, according as I teach everywhere in every assembly.

[18]But some have been puffed up, as if I were not coming to you;

[19]but I will come quickly to you, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of those that are puffed up, but the power.

[20]For the kingdom of God [is] not in word, but in power.

[21]What will ye? that I come to you with a rod; or in love, and [in] a spirit of meekness?

5 It is universally reported [that there is] fornication among you, and such fornication as [is] not even among the nations, so that one should have his father's wife.

[2]And ye are puffed up, and ye have not rather mourned, in order that he that has done this deed might be taken away out of the midst of you.

[3]For I, [as] absent in body but present in spirit, have already judged as present,

[4][to deliver,] in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ (ye and my spirit being gathered together, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ), him that has so wrought this:

[5]to deliver him, [I say,] [being] such, to Satan for destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

[6]Your boasting [is] not good. Do ye not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump?

[7]Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, according as ye are unleavened. For also our passover, Christ, has been sacrificed;

[8]so that let us celebrate the feast, not with old leaven, nor with leaven of malice and wickedness, but with unleavened [bread] of sincerity and truth.

[9]I have written to you in the epistle not to mix with fornicators;

[10]not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the avaricious and rapacious, or idolaters, since [then] ye should go out of the world.

[11]But now I have written to you, if any one called brother be fornicator, or avaricious, or idolater, or abusive, or a drunkard, or rapacious, not to mix with [him]; with such a one not even to eat.

[12]For what have I [to do] with judging those outside also? ye, do not ye judge them that are within?

[13]But those without God judges. Remove the wicked person from amongst yourselves.

6Dare any one of you, having a matter against another, prosecute his suit before the unjust, and not before the saints?

[2]Do ye not then know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy of [the] smallest judgments?

[3]Do ye not know that we shall judge angels? and not then matters of this life?

[4]If then ye have judgments as to things of this life, set those [to judge] who are little esteemed in the assembly.

[5]I speak to you [to put you] to shame. Thus there is not a wise person among you, not even one, who shall be able to decide between his brethren!

[6]But brother prosecutes his suit with brother, and that before unbelievers.

[7]Already indeed then it is altogether a fault in you that ye have suits between yourselves. Why do ye not rather suffer wrong? why are ye not rather defrauded?

[8]But ye do wrong, and defraud, and this [your] brethren.

[9]Do ye not know that unrighteous [persons] shall not inherit [the] kingdom of God? Do not err: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor those who make women of themselves, nor who abuse themselves with men,

[10]nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor abusive persons, nor [the] rapacious, shall inherit [the] kingdom of God.

[11]And these things were some of you; but ye have been washed, but ye have been sanctified, but ye have been justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

[12]All things are lawful to me, but all things do not profit; all things are lawful to me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

[13]Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats; but God will bring to nothing both it and them: but the body [is] not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

[14]And God has both raised up the Lord, and will raise us up from among [the dead] by his power.

[15]Do ye not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then, taking the members of the Christ, make [them] members of a harlot? Far be the thought.

[16]Do ye not know that he [that is] joined to the harlot is one body? for the two, he says, shall be one flesh.

[17]But he that [is] joined to the Lord is one Spirit.

[18]Flee fornication. Every sin which a man may practise is without the body, but he that commits fornication sins against his own body.

[19]Do ye not know that your body is [the] temple of the Holy Spirit which [is] in you, which ye have of God; and ye are not your own?

[20]for ye have been bought with a price: glorify now then God in your body.

7 But concerning the things of which ye have written [to me]: [It is] good for a man not to touch a woman;

[2]but on account of fornications, let each have his own wife, and each [woman] have her own husband.

[3]Let the husband render her due to the wife, and in like manner the wife to the husband.

[4]The wife has not authority over her own body, but the husband: in like manner also the husband has not authority over his own body, but the wife.

[5]Defraud not one another, unless, it may be, by consent for a time, that ye may devote yourselves to prayer, and again be together, that Satan tempt you not because of your incontinency.

[6]But this I say, as consenting [to], not as commanding [it].

[7]Now I wish all men to be even as myself: but every one has his own gift of God: one man thus, and another thus.

[8]But I say to the unmarried and to the widows, It is good for them that they remain even as I.

[9]But if they have not control over themselves, let them marry; for it is better to marry than to burn.

[10]But to the married I enjoin, not I, but the Lord, Let not wife be separated from husband;

[11](but if also she shall have been separated, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband;) and let not husband leave wife.

[12]But as to the rest, I say, not the Lord, If any brother have an unbelieving wife, and she consent to dwell with him, let him not leave her.

[13]And a woman who has an unbelieving husband, and he consents to dwell with her, let her not leave [her] husband.

[14]For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother; since [otherwise] indeed your children are unclean, but now they are holy.

[15]But if the unbeliever go away, let them go away; a brother or a sister is not bound in such [cases], but God has called us in peace.

[16]For what knowest thou, O wife, if thou shalt save thy husband? or what knowest thou, O husband, if thou shalt save thy wife?

[17]However, as the Lord has divided to each, as God has called each, so let him walk; and thus I ordain in all the assemblies.

[18]Has any one been called circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised: has any one been called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

[19]Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but keeping God's commandments.

[20]Let each abide in that calling in which he has been called.

[21]Hast thou been called [being] a bondman, let it not concern thee; but and if thou canst become free, use [it] rather.

[22]For the bondman that is called in [the] Lord is the Lord's freedman; in like manner [also] the freeman being called is Christ's bondman.

[23]Ye have been bought with a price; do not be the bondmen of men.

[24]Let each, wherein he is called, brethren, therein abide with God.

[25]But concerning virgins, I have no commandment of [the] Lord; but I give my opinion, as having received mercy of [the] Lord to be faithful.

[26]I think then that this is good, on account of the present necessity, that [it is] good for a man to remain so as he is.

[27]Art thou bound to a wife? seek not to be loosed; art thou free from a wife? do not seek a wife.

[28]But if thou shouldest also marry, thou hast not sinned; and if the virgin marry, they have not sinned: but such shall have tribulation in the flesh; but I spare you.

29But this I say, brethren, the time is straitened. For the rest, that they who have wives, be as not having [any]:

30and they that weep, as not weeping; and they that rejoice, as not rejoicing; and they that buy, as not possessing;

31and they that use the world, as not disposing of it as their own; for the fashion of this world passes.

32But I wish you to be without care. The unmarried cares for the things of the Lord, how he shall please the Lord; 33but he that has married cares for the things of the world, how he shall please his wife.

34There is a difference between the wife and the virgin. The unmarried cares for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and spirit; but she that has married cares for the things of the world, how she shall please her husband.

35But I say this for your own profit; not that I may set a snare before you, but for what [is] seemly, and waiting on the Lord without distraction.

36But if any one think that he behaves unseemly to his virginity, if he be beyond the flower of his age, and so it must be, let him do what he will, he does not sin: let them marry.

37But he who stands firm in his heart, having no need, but has authority over his own will, and has judged this in his heart to keep his own virginity, he does well.

38So that he that marries himself does well; and he that does not marry does better.

39A wife is bound for whatever time her husband lives; but if the husband be fallen asleep, she is free to be married to whom she will, only in [the] Lord.

40But she is happier if she so remain, according to my judgment; but I think that I also have God's Spirit.

8But concerning things sacrificed to idols, we know, (for we all have knowledge: knowledge puffs up, but love edifies.

2If any one think he knows anything, he knows nothing yet as he ought to know [it].

3But if any one love God, he is known of him):

4-- concerning then the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that an idol [is] nothing in [the] world, and that there [is] no other God save one.

5For and if indeed there are [those] called gods, whether in heaven or on earth, (as there are gods many, and lords many,)

[6]yet to us [there is] one God, the Father, of whom all things, and we for him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, by whom [are] all things, and we by him.

[7]But knowledge [is] not in all: but some, with conscience of the idol, until now eat as of a thing sacrificed to idols; and their conscience, being weak, is defiled.

[8]But meat does not commend us to God; neither if we should not eat do we come short; nor if we should eat have we an advantage.

[9]But see lest anywise this your right [to eat] itself be a stumbling-block to the weak.

[10]For if any one see thee, who hast knowledge, sitting at table in an idol-house, shall not his conscience, he being weak, be emboldened to eat the things sacrificed to the idol?

[11]and the weak [one], the brother for whose sake Christ died, will perish through thy knowledge.

[12]Now, thus sinning against the brethren, and wounding their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

[13]Wherefore if meat be a fall-trap to my brother, I will eat no flesh for ever, that I may not be a fall-trap to my brother.

9 Am I not free? am I not an apostle? have I not seen Jesus our Lord? are not ye my work in [the] Lord?

[2]If I am not an apostle to others, yet at any rate I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in [the] Lord.

[3]My defence to those who examine me is this:

[4]Have we not a right to eat and to drink?

[5]have we not a right to take round a sister [as] wife, as also the other apostles, and the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

[6]Or I alone and Barnabas, have we not a right not to work?

[7]Who ever carries on war at his own charges? who plants a vineyard and does not eat of its fruit? or who herds a flock and does not eat of the milk of the flock?

[8]Do I speak these things as a man, or does not the law also say these things?

[9]For in the law of Moses it is written, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that is treading out corn. Is God occupied about the oxen, [10]or does he say [it] altogether for our sakes? For for our sakes it has been written, that the plougher should plough in hope, and he that treads out corn, in hope of partaking of [it].

[11]If we have sown to you spiritual things, [is it a] great [thing] if we shall reap your carnal things?

[12]If others partake of this right over you, should not rather we? But we have not used this right, but we bear all things, that we may put no hindrance in the way of the glad tidings of the Christ.

13 Do ye not know that they who labour [at] sacred things eat of the [offerings offered in the] temple; they that attend at the altar partake with the altar?

14 So also the Lord has ordained to those that announce the glad tidings to live of the glad tidings.

15 But I have used none of these things. Now I have not written these things that it should be thus in my case; for [it were] good for me rather to die than that any one should make vain my boast.

16 For if I announce the glad tidings, I have nothing to boast of; for a necessity is laid upon me; for it is woe to me if I should not announce the glad tidings.

17 For if I do this voluntarily, I have a reward; but if not of my own will, I am entrusted with an administration.

18 What is the reward then that I have? That in announcing the glad tidings I make the glad tidings costless [to others], so as not to have made use, as belonging to me, of my right in [announcing] the glad tidings.

19 For being free from all, I have made myself bondman to all, that I might gain the most [possible].

20 And I became to the Jews as a Jew, in order that I might gain the Jews: to those under law, as under law, not being myself under law, in order that I might gain those under law:

21 to those without law, as without law, (not as without law to God, but as legitimately subject to Christ,) in order that I might gain [those] without law.

22 I became to the weak, [as] weak, in order that I might gain the weak. To all I have become all things, in order that at all events I might save some.

23 And I do all things for the sake of the glad tidings, that I may be fellow-partaker with them.

24 Know ye not that they who run in [the] race-course run all, but one receives the prize? Thus run in order that ye may obtain.

25 But every one that contends [for a prize] is temperate in all things: they then indeed that they may receive a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible.

26 I therefore thus run, as not uncertainly; so I combat, as not beating the air.

27 But I buffet my body, and lead it captive, lest [after] having preached to others I should be myself rejected.

10 For I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea;

[2]and all were baptised unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea;

[3]and all ate the same spiritual food,

[4]and all drank the same spiritual drink, for they drank of a spiritual rock which followed [them]: (now the rock was the Christ;)

[5]yet God was not pleased with the most of them, for they were strewed in the desert.

[6]But these things happened [as] types of us, that we should not be lusters after evil things, as they also lusted.

[7]Neither be ye idolaters, as some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play.

[8]Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed fornication, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

[9]Neither let us tempt the Christ, as some of them tempted, and perished by serpents.

[10]Neither murmur ye, as some of them murmured, and perished by the destroyer.

[11]Now all these things happened to them [as] types, and have been written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the ages are come.

[12]So that let him that thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall.

[13]No temptation has taken you but such as is according to man's nature; and God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above what ye are able [to bear], but will with the temptation make the issue also, so that [ye] should be able to bear [it].

[14]Wherefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry.

[15]I speak as to intelligent [persons]: do ye judge what I say.

[16]The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not [the] communion of the blood of the Christ? The bread which we break, is it not [the] communion of the body of the Christ?

[17]Because we, [being] many, are one loaf, one body; for we all partake of that one loaf.

[18]See Israel according to flesh: are not they who eat the sacrifices in communion with the altar?

[19]What then do I say? that what is sacrificed to an idol is anything, or that an idol is anything?

[20]But that what [the nations] sacrifice they sacrifice to demons, and not to God. Now I do not wish you to be in communion with demons.

[21]Ye cannot drink [the] Lord's cup, and [the] cup of demons: ye cannot partake of [the] Lord's table, and of [the] table of demons.

[22]Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he?

[23]All things are lawful, but all are not profitable; all things are lawful, but all do not edify.

[24]Let no one seek his own [advantage], but that of the other.

[25]Everything sold in the shambles eat, making no inquiry for conscience sake.

[26]For the earth [is] the Lord's and its fulness.

[27]But if any one of the unbelievers invite you, and ye are minded to go, all that is set before you eat, making no inquiry for conscience sake.

[28]But if any one say to you, This is offered to holy purposes, do not eat, for his sake that pointed it out, and conscience sake;

[29]but conscience, I mean, not thine own, but that of the other: for why is my liberty judged by another conscience?

[30]If I partake with thanksgiving, why am I spoken evil of for what I give thanks for?

[31]Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatever ye do, do all things to God's glory.

[32]Give no occasion to stumbling, whether to Jews, or Greeks, or the assembly of God.

[33]Even as I also please all in all things; not seeking my own profit, but that of the many, that they may be saved.

11Be my imitators, even as I also [am] of Christ.

[2]Now I praise you, that in all things ye are mindful of me; and that as I have directed you, ye keep the directions.

[3]But I wish you to know that the Christ is the head of every man, but woman's head [is] the man, and the Christ's head God.

[4]Every man praying or prophesying, having [anything] on his head, puts his head to shame.

[5]But every woman praying or prophesying with her head uncovered puts her own head to shame; for it is one and the same as a shaved [woman].

[6]For if a woman be not covered, let her hair also be cut off. But if [it be] shameful to a woman to have her hair cut off or to be shaved, let her be covered.

[7]For man indeed ought not to have his head covered, being God's image and glory; but woman is man's glory.

[8]For man is not of woman, but woman of man.

[9]For also man was not created for the sake of the woman, but woman for the sake of the man.

[10]Therefore ought the woman to have authority on her head, on account of the angels.

[11]However, neither [is] woman without man, nor man without woman, in [the] Lord.

[12]For as the woman [is] of the man, so also [is] the man by the woman, but all things of God.

[13]Judge in yourselves: is it comely that a woman should pray to God uncovered?

[14]Does not even nature itself teach you, that man, if he have long hair, it is a dishonour to him?

[15]But woman, if she have long hair, [it is] glory to her; for the long hair is given [to her] in lieu of a veil.

[16]But if any one think to be contentious, we have no such custom, nor the assemblies of God.

[17]But [in] prescribing [to you on] this [which I now enter on], I do not praise, [namely,] that ye come together, not for the better, but for the worse.

[18]For first, when ye come together in assembly, I hear there exist divisions among you, and I partly give credit [to it].

[19]For there must also be sects among you, that the approved may become manifest among you.

[20]When ye come therefore together into one place, it is not to eat [the] Lord's supper.

[21]For each one in eating takes his own supper before [others], and one is hungry and another drinks to excess.

[22]Have ye not then houses for eating and drinking? or do ye despise the assembly of God, and put to shame them who have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you? In this [point] I do not praise.

[23]For I received from the Lord, that which I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus, in the night in which he was delivered up, took bread, [24]and having given thanks broke [it], and said, This is my body, which [is] for you: this do in remembrance of me.

[25]In like manner also the cup, after having supped, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood: this do, as often as ye shall drink [it], in remembrance of me.

[26]For as often as ye shall eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye announce the death of the Lord, until he come.

[27]So that whosoever shall eat the bread, or drink the cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty in respect of the body and of the blood of the Lord.

[28]But let a man prove himself, and thus eat of the bread, and drink of the cup.

[29]For [the] eater and drinker eats and drinks judgment to himself, not distinguishing the body.

30On this account many among you [are] weak and infirm, and a good many are fallen asleep.

31But if we judged ourselves, so were we not judged.

32But being judged, we are disciplined of [the] Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world.

33So that, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait for one another.

34If any one be hungry, let him eat at home, that ye may not come together for judgment. But the other things, whenever I come, I will set in order.

12 But concerning spiritual [manifestations], brethren, I do not wish you to be ignorant.

2Ye know that when ye were [of the] nations [ye were] led away to dumb idols, in whatever way ye might be led.

3I give you therefore to know, that no one, speaking in [the power of the] Spirit of God, says, Curse [on] Jesus; and no one can say, Lord Jesus, unless in [the power of the] Holy Spirit.

4But there are distinctions of gifts, but the same Spirit;

5and there are distinctions of services, and the same Lord;

6and there are distinctions of operations, but the same God who operates all things in all.

7But to each the manifestation of the Spirit is given for profit.

8For to one, by the Spirit, is given [the] word of wisdom; and to another [the] word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit;

9and to a different one faith, in [the power of] the same Spirit; and to another gifts of healing in [the power of] the same Spirit;

10and to another operations of miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another discerning of spirits; and to a different one kinds of tongues; and to another interpretation of tongues.

11But all these things operates the one and the same Spirit, dividing to each in particular according as he pleases.

12For even as the body is one and has many members, but all the members of the body, being many, are one body, so also [is] the Christ.

13For also in [the power of] one Spirit we have all been baptised into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bondmen or free, and have all been given to drink of one Spirit.

14For also the body is not one member but many.

15 If the foot say, Because I am not a hand I am not of the body, is it on account of this not indeed of the body?

16 And if the ear say, Because I am not an eye I am not of the body, is it on account of this not indeed of the body?

17 If the whole body [were] an eye, where the hearing? if all hearing, where the smelling?

18 But now God has set the members, each one of them in the body, according as it has pleased [him].

19 But if all were one member, where the body?

20 But now the members [are] many, and the body one.

21 The eye cannot say to the hand, I have not need of thee; or again, the head to the feet, I have not need of you.

22 But much rather, the members of the body which seem to be weaker are necessary;

23 and those [parts] of the body which we esteem to be the more void of honour, these we clothe with more abundant honour; and our uncomely [parts] have more abundant comeliness;

24 but our comely [parts] have not need. But God has tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to [the part] that lacked;

25 that there might be no division in the body, but that the members might have the same concern one for another.

26 And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with [it]; and if one member be glorified, all the members rejoice with [it].

27 Now ye are Christ's body, and members in particular.

28 And God has set certain in the assembly: first, apostles; secondly, prophets; thirdly, teachers; then miraculous powers; then gifts of healings; helps; governments; kinds of tongues.

29 [Are] all apostles? [are] all prophets? [are] all teachers? [are] all [in possession of] miraculous powers?

30 have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But desire earnestly the greater gifts, and yet shew I unto you a way of more surpassing excellence.

13 If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal.

2 And if I have prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing.

[3]And if I shall dole out all my goods in food, and if I deliver up my body that I may be burned, but have not love, I profit nothing.

[4]Love has long patience, is kind; love is not emulous [of others]; love is not insolent and rash, is not puffed up,

[5]does not behave in an unseemly manner, does not seek what is its own, is not quickly provoked, does not impute evil,

[6]does not rejoice at iniquity but rejoices with the truth,

[7]bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

[8]Love never fails; but whether prophecies, they shall be done away; or tongues, they shall cease; or knowledge, it shall be done away.

[9]For we know in part, and we prophesy in part:

[10]but when that which is perfect has come, that which is in part shall be done away.

[11]When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I felt as a child, I reasoned as a child; when I became a man, I had done with what belonged to the child.

[12]For we see now through a dim window obscurely, but then face to face; now I know partially, but then I shall know according as I also have been known.

[13]And now abide faith, hope, love; these three things; and the greater of these [is] love.

14Follow after love, and be emulous of spiritual [manifestations], but rather that ye may prophesy.

[2]For he that speaks with a tongue does not speak to men but to God: for no one hears; but in spirit he speaks mysteries.

[3]But he that prophesies speaks to men [in] edification, and encouragement, and consolation.

[4]He that speaks with a tongue edifies himself; but he that prophesies edifies [the] assembly.

[5]Now I desire that ye should all speak with tongues, but rather that ye should prophesy. But greater is he that prophesies than he that speaks with tongues, unless he interpret, that the assembly may receive edification.

[6]And now, brethren, if I come to you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I shall speak to you either in revelation, or in knowledge, or in prophecy, or in teaching?

[7]Even lifeless things giving a sound, whether pipe or harp, if they give not distinction to the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

[8]For also, if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself for war?

[9]Thus also ye with the tongue, unless ye give a distinct speech, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will be speaking to the air.

[10]There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of undistinguishable sound.

[11]If therefore I do not know the power of the sound, I shall be to him that speaks a barbarian, and he that speaks a barbarian for me.

[12]Thus ye also, since ye are desirous of spirits, seek that ye may abound for the edification of the assembly.

[13]Wherefore let him that speaks with a tongue pray that he may interpret.

[14]For if I pray with a tongue, my spirit prays, but my understanding is unfruitful.

[15]What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray also with the understanding; I will sing with the spirit, but I will sing also with the understanding.

[16]Since otherwise, if thou blessest with [the] spirit, how shall he who fills the place of the simple [Christian] say Amen, at thy giving of thanks, since he does not know what thou sayest?

[17]For thou indeed givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

[18]I thank God I speak in a tongue more than all of you:

[19]but in [the] assembly I desire to speak five words with my understanding, that I may instruct others also, [rather] than ten thousand words in a tongue.

[20]Brethren, be not children in [your] minds, but in malice be babes; but in [your] minds be grown [men].

[21]It is written in the law, By people of other tongues, and by strange lips, will I speak to this people; and neither thus will they hear me, saith the Lord.

[22]So that tongues are for a sign, not to those who believe, but to unbelievers; but prophecy, not to unbelievers, but to those who believe.

[23]If therefore the whole assembly come together in one place, and all speak with tongues, and simple [persons] enter in, or unbelievers, will not they say ye are mad?

[24]But if all prophesy, and some unbeliever or simple [person] come in, he is convicted of all, he is judged of all;

[25]the secrets of his heart are manifested; and thus, falling upon [his] face, he will do homage to God, reporting that God is indeed amongst you.

[26]What is it then, brethren? whenever ye come together, each [of you] has a psalm, has a teaching, has a tongue, has a revelation, has an interpretation. Let all things be done to edification.

[27]If any one speak with a tongue, [let it be] two, or at the most three, and separately, and let one interpret;

[28]but if there be no interpreter, let him be silent in [the] assembly, and let him speak to himself and to God.

[29]And let two or three prophets speak, and let the others judge.

[30]But if there be a revelation to another sitting [there], let the first be silent.

[31]For ye can all prophesy one by one, that all may learn and all be encouraged.

[32]And spirits of prophets are subject to prophets.

[33]For God is not [a God] of disorder but of peace, as in all the assemblies of the saints.

[34]Let [your] women be silent in the assemblies, for it is not permitted to them to speak; but to be in subjection, as the law also says.

[35]But if they wish to learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home; for it is a shame for a woman to speak in assembly.

[36]Did the word of God go out from you, or did it come to you only?

[37]If any one thinks himself to be a prophet or spiritual, let him recognise the things that I write to you, that it is [the] Lord's commandment.

[38]But if any be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

[39]So that, brethren, desire to prophesy, and do not forbid the speaking with tongues.

[40]But let all things be done comelily and with order.

15But I make known to you, brethren, the glad tidings which I announced to you, which also ye received, in which also ye stand,

[2]by which also ye are saved, (if ye hold fast the word which I announced to you as the glad tidings,) unless indeed ye have believed in vain.

[3]For I delivered to you, in the first place, what also I had received, that Christ died for our sins, according to the scriptures;

[4]and that he was buried; and that he was raised the third day, according to the scriptures;

[5]and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve.

[6]Then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the most remain until now, but some also have fallen asleep.

[7]Then he appeared to James; then to all the apostles;

[8]and last of all, as to an abortion, he appeared to me also.

[9]For I am the least of the apostles, who am not fit to be called apostle, because I have persecuted the assembly of God.

[10]But by God's grace I am what I am; and his grace, which [was] towards me, has not been vain; but I have laboured more abundantly than they all, but not I, but the grace of God which [was] with me.

[11]Whether, therefore, I or they, thus we preach, and thus ye have believed.

[12]Now if Christ is preached that he is raised from among [the] dead, how say some among you that there is not a resurrection of [those that are] dead?

[13]But if there is not a resurrection of [those that are] dead, neither is Christ raised:

[14]but if Christ is not raised, then, indeed, vain also [is] our preaching, and vain also your faith.

[15]And we are found also false witnesses of God; for we have witnessed concerning God that he raised the Christ, whom he has not raised if indeed [those that are] dead are not raised.

[16]For if [those that are] dead are not raised, neither is Christ raised;

[17]but if Christ be not raised, your faith [is] vain; ye are yet in your sins.

[18]Then indeed also those who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished.

[19]If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are [the] most miserable of all men.

[20](But now Christ is raised from among [the] dead, first-fruits of those fallen asleep.

[21]For since by man [came] death, by man also resurrection of [those that are] dead.

[22]For as in the Adam all die, thus also in the Christ all shall be made alive.

[23]But each in his own rank: [the] first-fruits, Christ; then those that are the Christ's at his coming.

[24]Then the end, when he gives up the kingdom to him [who is] God and Father; when he shall have annulled all rule and all authority and power.

[25]For he must reign until he put all enemies under his feet.

[26][The] last enemy [that] is annulled [is] death.

[27]For he has put all things in subjection under his feet. But when he says that all things are put in subjection, [it is] evident that [it is] except him who put all things in subjection to him.

[28]But when all things shall have been brought into subjection to him, then the Son also himself shall be placed in subjection to him who put all things in subjection to him, that God may be all in all.)

[29]Since what shall the baptised for the dead do if [those that are] dead rise not at all? why also are they baptised for them?

[30]Why do we also endanger ourselves every hour?

[31]Daily I die, by your boasting which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord.

[32]If, [to speak] after the manner of man, I have fought with beasts in Ephesus, what is the profit to me if [those that are] dead do not rise? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.

[33]Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.

[34]Awake up righteously, and sin not; for some are ignorant of God: I speak to you as a matter of shame.

[35]But some one will say, How are the dead raised? and with what body do they come?

[36]Fool; what thou sowest is not quickened unless it die.

[37]And what thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be, but a bare grain: it may be of wheat, or some one of the rest:

[38]and God gives to it a body as he has pleased, and to each of the seeds its own body.

[39]Every flesh [is] not the same flesh, but one [is] of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another [flesh] of birds, and another of fishes.

[40]And [there are] heavenly bodies, and earthly bodies: but different is the glory of the heavenly, different that of the earthly:

[41]one [the] sun's glory, and another [the] moon's glory, and another [the] stars' glory; for star differs from star in glory.

[42]Thus also [is] the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruptibility.

[43]It is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness, it is raised in power.

[44]It is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body: if there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual [one].

[45]Thus also it is written, The first man Adam became a living soul; the last Adam a quickening spirit.

[46]But that which is spiritual [was] not first, but that which is natural, then that which is spiritual:

[47]the first man out of [the] earth, made of dust; the second man, out of heaven.

[48]Such as he made of dust, such also those made of dust; and such as the heavenly [one], such also the heavenly [ones].

[49]And as we have borne the image of the [one] made of dust, we shall bear also the image of the heavenly [one].

[50]But this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit God's kingdom, nor does corruption inherit incorruptibility.

[51]Behold, I tell you a mystery: We shall not all fall asleep, but we shall all be changed, [52]in an instant, in [the] twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet; for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

[53]For this corruptible must needs put on incorruptibility, and this mortal put on immortality.

[54]But when this corruptible shall have put on incorruptibility, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to pass the word written: Death has been swallowed up in victory.

[55]Where, O death, [is] thy sting? where, O death, thy victory?

[56]Now the sting of death [is] sin, and the power of sin the law;

[57]but thanks to God, who gives us the victory by our Lord Jesus Christ.

[58]So then, my beloved brethren, be firm, immovable, abounding always in the work of the Lord, knowing that your toil is not in vain in [the] Lord.

16 Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I directed the assemblies of Galatia, so do ye do also.

[2]On [the] first of [the] week let each of you put by at home, laying up [in] whatever [degree] he may have prospered, that there may be no collections when I come.

[3]And when I am arrived, whomsoever ye shall approve, these I will send with letters to carry your bounty to Jerusalem:

[4]and if it be suitable that I also should go, they shall go with me.

[5]But I will come to you when I shall have gone through Macedonia; for I do go through Macedonia.

[6]But perhaps I will stay with you, or even winter with you, that ye may set me forward wheresoever I may go.

[7]For I will not see you now in passing, for I hope to remain a certain time with you, if the Lord permit.

[8]But I remain in Ephesus until Pentecost.

[9]For a great door is opened to me and an effectual [one], and [the] adversaries many.

[10]Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear; for he works the work of the Lord, even as I.

[11]Let not therefore any one despise him; but set him forward in peace, that he may come to me; for I expect him with the brethren.

[12]Now concerning the brother Apollos, I begged him much that he would go to you with the brethren; but it was not at all [his] will to go now; but he will come when he shall have good opportunity.

13 Be vigilant; stand fast in the faith; quit yourselves like men; be strong.

14 Let all things ye do be done in love.

15 But I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first-fruits of Achaia, and they have devoted themselves to the saints for service,)

16 that ye should also be subject to such, and to every one joined in the work and labouring.

17 But I rejoice in the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus; because they have supplied what was lacking on your part.

18 For they have refreshed my spirit and yours: own therefore such.

19 The assemblies of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla, with the assembly in their house, salute you much in [the] Lord.

20 All the brethren salute you. Salute one another with a holy kiss.

21 The salutation of [me] Paul with my own hand.

22 If any one love not the Lord [Jesus Christ] let him be Anathema Maranatha.

23 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ [be] with you.

24 My love [be] with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

2nd Corinthians

1 Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ by God's will, and the brother Timotheus, to the assembly of God which is in Corinth, with all the saints who are in the whole of Achaia.

2 Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed [be] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassions, and God of all encouragement;

4 who encourages us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to encourage those who are in any tribulation whatever, through the encouragement with which we ourselves are encouraged of God.

5 Because, even as the sufferings of the Christ abound towards us, so through the Christ does our encouragement also abound.

6 But whether we are in tribulation, [it is] for your encouragement and salvation, wrought in the endurance of the same sufferings which we also suffer,

7 (and our hope for you [is] sure;) or whether we are encouraged, [it is] for your encouragement and salvation: knowing that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also of the encouragement.

8 For we do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, as to our tribulation which happened [to us] in Asia, that we were excessively pressed beyond [our] power, so as to despair even of living.

9 But we ourselves had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not have our trust in ourselves, but in God who raises the dead;

10 who has delivered us from so great a death, and does deliver; in whom we confide that he will also yet deliver;

11 ye also labouring together by supplication for us that the gift towards us, through means of many persons, may be the subject of the thanksgiving of many for us.

12 For our boasting is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and sincerity before God, (not in fleshly wisdom but in God's grace,) we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly towards you.

13 For we do not write other things to you but what ye well know and recognise; and I hope that ye will recognise to the end, 14 even as also ye have recognised us in part, that we are your boast, even as ye [are] ours in the day of the Lord Jesus.

15 And with this confidence I purposed to come to you previously, that ye might have a second favour;

16 and to pass through to Macedonia by you, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and to be set forward by you to Judaea.

17 Having therefore this purpose, did I then use lightness? Or what I purpose, do I purpose according to flesh, that there should be with me yea yea, and nay nay?

18 Now God [is] faithful, that our word to you is not yea and nay.

19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, he who has been preached by us among you (by me and Silvanus and Timotheus), did not become yea and nay, but yea is in him.

20 For whatever promises of God [there are], in him is the yea, and in him the amen, for glory to God by us.

21 Now he that establishes us with you in Christ, and has anointed us, [is] God, 22 who also has sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 But I call God to witness upon my soul that to spare you I have not yet come to Corinth.

24 Not that we rule over your faith, but are fellow-workmen of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

2 But I have judged this with myself, not to come back to you in grief.

2 For if I grieve you, who also [is] it that gladdens me, if not he that is grieved through me?

3 And I have written this very [letter] [to you], that coming I may not have grief from those from whom I ought to have joy; trusting in you all that my joy is [that] of you all.

4 For out of much tribulation and distress of heart I wrote to you, with many tears; not that ye may be grieved, but that ye may know the love which I have very abundantly towards you.

5 But if any one has grieved, he has grieved, not me, but in part (that I may not overcharge [you]) all of you.

6 Sufficient to such a one [is] this rebuke which [has been inflicted] by the many;

7 so that on the contrary ye should rather shew grace and encourage, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with excessive grief.

8 Wherefore I exhort you to assure him of [your] love.

9 For to this end also I have written, that I might know, by putting you to the test, if as to everything ye are obedient.

10 But to whom ye forgive anything, I also; for I also, what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, [it is] for your sakes in [the] person of Christ;

[11]that we might not have Satan get an advantage against us, for we are not ignorant of his thoughts.

[12]Now when I came to Troas for the [publication of the] glad tidings of the Christ, a door also being opened to me in [the] Lord, [13]I had no rest in my spirit at not finding Titus my brother; but bidding them adieu, I came away to Macedonia.

[14]But thanks [be] to God, who always leads us in triumph in the Christ, and makes manifest the odour of his knowledge through us in every place.

[15]For we are a sweet odour of Christ to God, in the saved and in those that perish:

[16]to the one an odour from death unto death, but to the others an odour from life unto life; and who [is] sufficient for these things?

[17]For we do not, as the many, make a trade of the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as of God, before God, we speak in Christ.

3Do we begin again to commend ourselves? or do we need, as some, commendatory letters to you, or [commendatory] from you?

[2]Ye are our letter, written in our hearts, known and read of all men,

[3]being manifested to be Christ's epistle ministered by us, written, not with ink, but [the] Spirit of [the] living God; not on stone tables, but on fleshy tables of [the] heart.

[4]And such confidence have we through the Christ towards God:

[5]not that we are competent of ourselves to think anything as of ourselves, but our competency [is] of God;

[6]who has also made us competent, [as] ministers of [the] new covenant; not of letter, but of spirit. For the letter kills, but the Spirit quickens.

[7](But if the ministry of death, in letters, graven in stones, began with glory, so that the children of Israel could not fix their eyes on the face of Moses, on account of the glory of his face, [a glory] which is annulled;

[8]how shall not rather the ministry of the Spirit subsist in glory?

[9]For if the ministry of condemnation [be] glory, much rather the ministry of righteousness abounds in glory.

[10]For also that [which was] glorified is not glorified in this respect, on account of the surpassing glory.

[11]For if that annulled [was introduced] with glory, much rather that which abides [subsists] in glory.

[12]Having therefore such hope, we use much boldness:

[13]and not according as Moses put a veil on his own face, so that the children of Israel should not fix their eyes on the end of that annulled.

14But their thoughts have been darkened, for unto this day the same veil remains in reading the old covenant, unremoved, which in Christ is annulled.

15But unto this day, when Moses is read, the veil lies upon their heart.

16But when it shall turn to [the] Lord, the veil is taken away.)

17Now the Lord is the Spirit, but where the Spirit of [the] Lord [is, there is] liberty.

18But we all, looking on the glory of the Lord, with unveiled face, are transformed according to the same image from glory to glory, even as by [the] Lord [the] Spirit.

4Therefore, having this ministry, as we have had mercy shewn us, we faint not.

2But we have rejected the hidden things of shame, not walking in deceit, nor falsifying the word of God, but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every conscience of men before God.

3But if also our gospel is veiled, it is veiled in those that are lost;

4in whom the god of this world has blinded the thoughts of the unbelieving, so that the radiancy of the glad tidings of the glory of the Christ, who is [the] image of God, should not shine forth [for them].

5For we do not preach ourselves, but Christ Jesus Lord, and ourselves your bondmen for Jesus' sake.

6Because [it is] the God who spoke that out of darkness light should shine who has shone in our hearts for the shining forth of the knowledge of the glory of God in [the] face of [Jesus] Christ.

7But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the surpassingness of the power may be of God, and not from us:

8every way afflicted, but not straitened; seeing no apparent issue, but our way not entirely shut up;

9persecuted, but not abandoned; cast down, but not destroyed;

10always bearing about in the body the dying of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body;

11for we who live are always delivered unto death on account of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh;

12so that death works in us, but life in you.

13And having the same spirit of faith, according to what is written, I have believed, therefore have I spoken; we also believe, therefore also we speak;

14knowing that he who has raised the Lord Jesus shall raise us also with Jesus, and shall present [us] with you.

15For all things [are] for your sakes, that the grace abounding through the many may cause thanksgiving to abound to the glory of God.

16Wherefore we faint not; but if indeed our outward man is consumed, yet the inward is renewed day by day.

17For our momentary [and] light affliction works for us in surpassing measure an eternal weight of glory;

18while we look not at the things that are seen, but at the things that are not seen; for the things that are seen [are] for a time, but those that are not seen eternal.

5For we know that if our earthly tabernacle house be destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2For indeed in this we groan, ardently desiring to have put on our house which [is] from heaven;

3if indeed being also clothed we shall not be found naked.

4For indeed we who are in the tabernacle groan, being burdened; while yet we do not wish to be unclothed, but clothed, that [what is] mortal may be swallowed up by life.

5Now he that has wrought us for this very thing [is] God, who also has given to us the earnest of the Spirit.

6Therefore [we are] always confident, and know that while present in the body we are absent from the Lord,

7(for we walk by faith, not by sight;)

8we are confident, I say, and pleased rather to be absent from the body and present with the Lord.

9Wherefore also we are zealous, whether present or absent, to be agreeable to him.

10For we must all be manifested before the judgment-seat of the Christ, that each may receive the things [done] in the body, according to those he has done, whether [it be] good or evil.

11Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord we persuade men, but have been manifested to God, and I hope also that we have been manifested in your consciences.

12[For] we do not again commend ourselves to you, but [we are] giving to you occasion of boast in our behalf, that ye may have [such] with those boasting in countenance, and not in heart.

13For whether we are beside ourselves, [it is] to God; or are sober, [it is] for you.

14For the love of the Christ constrains us, having judged this: that one died for all, then all have died;

15and he died for all, that they who live should no longer live to themselves, but to him who died for them and has been raised.

16So that we henceforth know no one according to flesh; but if even we have known Christ according to flesh, yet now we know [him thus] no longer.

17So if any one [be] in Christ, [there is] a new creation; the old things have passed away; behold all things have become new:

18and all things [are] of the God who has reconciled us to himself by [Jesus] Christ, and given to us the ministry of that reconciliation:

19how that God was in Christ, reconciling the world to himself, not reckoning to them their offences; and putting in us the word of that reconciliation.

20We are ambassadors therefore for Christ, God as [it were] beseeching by us, we entreat for Christ, Be reconciled to God.

21Him who knew not sin he has made sin for us, that we might become God's righteousness in him.

6But [as] fellow-workmen, we also beseech that ye receive not the grace of God in vain:

2(for he says, I have listened to thee in an accepted time, and I have helped thee in a day of salvation: behold, now [is the] well-accepted time; behold, now [the] day of salvation:)

3giving no manner of offence in anything, that the ministry be not blamed;

4but in everything commending ourselves as God's ministers, in much endurance, in afflictions, in necessities, in straits,

5in stripes, in prisons, in riots, in labours, in watchings, in fastings,

6in pureness, in knowledge, in longsuffering, in kindness, in [the] Holy Spirit, in love unfeigned,

7in [the] word of truth, in [the] power of God; through the arms of righteousness on the right hand and left,

8through glory and dishonour, through evil report and good report: as deceivers, and true;

9as unknown, and well known; as dying, and behold, we live; as disciplined, and not put to death;

10as grieved, but always rejoicing; as poor, but enriching many; as having nothing, and possessing all things.

11Our mouth is opened to you, Corinthians, our heart is expanded.

12Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your affections;

13but for an answering recompense, (I speak as to children,) let your heart also expand itself.

14Be not diversely yoked with unbelievers; for what participation [is there] between righteousness and lawlessness? or what fellowship of light with darkness?

[15]and what consent of Christ with Beliar, or what part for a believer along with an unbeliever?

[16]and what agreement of God's temple with idols? for ye are [the] living God's temple; according as God has said, I will dwell among them, and walk among [them]; and I will be their God, and they shall be to me a people.

[17]Wherefore come out from the midst of them, and be separated, saith [the] Lord, and touch not [what is] unclean, and I will receive you;

[18]and I will be to you for a Father, and ye shall be to me for sons and daughters, saith [the] Lord Almighty.

7 Having therefore these promises, beloved, let us purify ourselves from every pollution of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in God's fear.

[2]Receive us: we have injured no one, we have ruined no one, we have made gain of no one.

[3]I do not speak for condemnation, for I have already said that ye are in our hearts, to die together, and live together.

[4]Great [is] my boldness towards you, great my exulting in respect of you; I am filled with encouragement; I overabound in joy under all our affliction.

[5]For indeed, when we came into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but [we were] afflicted in every way; without combats, within fears.

[6]But he who encourages those that are [brought] low, [even] God, encouraged us by the coming of Titus;

[7]and not by his coming only, but also through the encouragement with which he was encouraged as to you; relating to us your ardent desire, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I the more rejoiced.

[8]For if also I grieved you in the letter, I do not regret [it], if even I have regretted it; for I see that that letter, if even [it were] only for a time, grieved you.

[9]Now I rejoice, not that ye have been grieved, but that ye have been grieved to repentance; for ye have been grieved according to God, that in nothing ye might be injured by us.

[10]For grief according to God works repentance to salvation, never to be regretted; but the grief of the world works death.

[11]For, behold, this same thing, your being grieved according to God, how much diligence it wrought in you, but [what] excusing [of yourselves], but [what] indignation, but [what] fear, but [what] ardent desire, but [what] zeal, but [what] vengeance: in every way ye have proved yourselves to be pure in the matter.

[12]So then, if also I wrote to you, [it was] not for the sake of him that injured, nor for the sake of him that was injured, but for the sake of our diligent zeal for you being manifested to you before God.

[13]For this reason we have been encouraged. And we the rather rejoiced in our encouragement more abundantly by reason of the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all.

[14]Because if I boasted to him anything about you, I have not been put to shame; but as we have spoken to you all things in truth, so also our boasting to Titus has been [the] truth;

[15]and his affections are more abundantly towards you, calling to mind the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

[16]I rejoice that in everything I am confident as to you.

8But we make known to you, brethren, the grace of God bestowed in the assemblies of Macedonia;

[2]that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty has abounded to the riches of their [free-hearted] liberality.

[3]For according to [their] power, I bear witness, and beyond [their] power, [they were] willing of their own accord,

[4]begging of us with much entreaty [to give effect to] the grace and fellowship of the service which [was to be rendered] to the saints.

[5]And not according as we hoped, but they gave themselves first to the Lord, and to us by God's will.

[6]So that we begged Titus that, according as he had before begun, so he would also complete as to you this grace also;

[7]but even as ye abound in every way, in faith, and word, and knowledge, and all diligence, and in love from you to us, that ye may abound in this grace also.

[8]I do not speak as commanding [it], but through the zeal of others, and proving the genuineness of your love.

[9]For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that for your sakes he, being rich, became poor, in order that ye by his poverty might be enriched.

[10]And I give [my] opinion in this, for this is profitable for you who began before, not only to do, but also to be willing, a year ago.

[11]But now also complete the doing of it; so that as [there was] the readiness to be willing, so also to complete out of what ye have.

[12]For if the readiness be there, [a man is] accepted according to what he may have, not according to what he has not.

[13]For [it is] not in order that there may be ease for others, and for you distress, [14]but [on the principle] of equality; in the present time your abundance for their lack, that their abundance may be for your lack, so that there should be equality.

15 According as it is written, He who [gathered] much had no excess, and he who [gathered] little was nothing short.

16 But thanks [be] to God, who gives the same diligent zeal for you in the heart of Titus.

17 For he received indeed the entreaty, but, being full of zeal, he went of his own accord to you;

18 but we have sent with him the brother whose praise [is] in the glad tidings through all the assemblies;

19 and not only [so], but [is] also chosen by the assemblies as our fellow-traveller with this grace, ministered by us to the glory of the Lord himself, and [a witness of] our readiness;

20 avoiding this, that any one should blame us in this abundance [which is] administered by us;

21 for we provide for things honest, not only before [the] Lord, but also before men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother whom we have often proved to be of diligent zeal in many things, and now more diligently zealous through the great confidence [he has] as to you.

23 Whether as regards Titus, [he is] my companion and fellow-labourer in your behalf; or our brethren, [they are] deputed messengers of assemblies, Christ's glory.

24 Shew therefore to them, before the assemblies, the proof of your love, and of our boasting about you.

9 For concerning the ministration which [is] for the saints, it is superfluous my writing to you.

2 For I know your readiness, which I boast of as respects you to Macedonians, that Achaia is prepared since a year ago, and the zeal [reported] of you has stimulated the mass [of the brethren].

3 But I have sent the brethren, in order that our boasting about you may not be made void in this respect, in order that, as I have said, ye may be prepared;

4 lest haply, if Macedonians come with me and find you unprepared, we, that we say not ye, may be put to shame in this confidence.

5 I thought it necessary therefore to beg the brethren that they would come to you, and complete beforehand your fore-announced blessing, that this may be ready thus as blessing, and not as got out of you.

6 But this [is true], he that sows sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that sows in [the spirit of] blessing shall reap also in blessing:

7 each according as he is purposed in his heart; not grievingly, or of necessity; for God loves a cheerful giver.

[8]But God is able to make every gracious gift abound towards you, that, having in every way always all-sufficiency, ye may abound to every good work:

[9]according as it is written, He has scattered abroad, he has given to the poor, his righteousness remains for ever.

[10]Now he that supplies seed to the sower and bread for eating shall supply and make abundant your sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness:

[11]enriched in every way unto all free-hearted liberality, which works through us thanksgiving to God.

[12]Because the ministration of this service is not only filling up the measure of what is lacking to the saints, but also abounding by many thanksgivings to God;

[13]they glorifying God through the proof of this ministration, by reason of your subjection, by profession, to the glad tidings of the Christ, and your free-hearted liberality in communicating towards them and towards all;

[14]and in their supplication for you, full of ardent desire for you, on account of the exceeding grace of God [which is] upon you.

[15]Thanks [be] to God for his unspeakable free gift.

10But I myself, Paul, entreat you by the meekness and gentleness of the Christ, who, as to appearance, [when present] [am] mean among you, but absent am bold towards you;

[2]but I beseech that present I may not be bold with the confidence with which I think to be daring towards some who think of us as walking according to flesh.

[3]For walking in flesh, we do not war according to flesh.

[4]For the arms of our warfare [are] not fleshly, but powerful according to God to [the] overthrow of strongholds;

[5]overthrowing reasonings and every high thing that lifts itself up against the knowledge of God, and leading captive every thought into the obedience of the Christ;

[6]and having in readiness to avenge all disobedience when your obedience shall have been fulfilled.

[7]Do ye look at what concerns appearance? If any one has confidence in himself that he is of Christ, let him think this again in himself, that even as he [is] of Christ, so also [are] we.

[8]For and if I should boast even somewhat more abundantly of our authority, which the Lord has given [to us] for building up and not for your overthrowing, I shall not be put to shame;

[9]that I may not seem as if I was frightening you by letters:

10 because his letters, he says, [are] weighty and strong, but his presence in the body weak, and his speech naught.

11 Let such a one think this, that such as we are in word by letters [when] absent, such also present in deed.

12 For we dare not class ourselves or compare ourselves with some who commend themselves; but these, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are not intelligent.

13 Now we will not boast out of measure, but according to the measure of the rule which the God of measure has apportioned to us, to reach to you also.

14 For we do not, as not reaching to you, overstretch ourselves, (for we have come to you also in the glad tidings of the Christ;)

15 not boasting out of measure in other people's labours, but having hope, your faith increasing, to be enlarged amongst you, according to our rule, yet more abundantly

16 to announce the glad tidings to that [which is] beyond you, not to be boasting in another's rule of things made ready to hand.

17 But he that boasts, let him boast in the Lord.

18 For not he that commends himself is approved, but whom the Lord commends.

11 Would that ye would bear with me [in] a little folly; but indeed bear with me.

2 For I am jealous as to you with a jealousy [which is] of God; for I have espoused you unto one man, to present [you] a chaste virgin to Christ.

3 But I fear lest by any means, as the serpent deceived Eve by his craft, [so] your thoughts should be corrupted from simplicity as to the Christ.

4 For if indeed he that comes preaches another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or ye get a different Spirit, which ye have not got, or a different glad tidings, which ye have not received, ye might well bear with [it].

5 For I reckon that in nothing I am behind those who are in surpassing degree apostles.

6 But if [I am] a simple person in speech, yet not in knowledge, but in everything making [the truth] manifest in all things to you.

7 Have I committed sin, abasing myself in order that ye might be exalted, because I gratuitously announced to you the glad tidings of God?

8 I spoiled other assemblies, receiving hire for ministry towards you.

9 And being present with you and lacking, I did not lazily burden any one, (for the brethren who came from Macedonia supplied what I lacked,) and in everything I kept myself from being a burden to you, and will keep myself.

[10]The truth of Christ is in me that this boasting shall not be stopped as to me in the regions of Achaia.

[11]Why? because I do not love you? God knows.

[12]But what I do, I will also do, that I may cut off the opportunity of those wishing [for] an opportunity, that wherein they boast they may be found even as we.

[13]For such [are] false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into apostles of Christ.

[14]And [it is] not wonderful, for Satan himself transforms himself into an angel of light.

[15]It is no great thing therefore if his ministers also transform themselves as ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

[16]Again I say, Let not any one think me to be a fool; but if otherwise, receive me then even as a fool, that I also may boast myself some little.

[17]What I speak I do not speak according to [the] Lord, but as in folly, in this confidence of boasting.

[18]Since many boast according to flesh, I also will boast.

[19]For ye bear fools readily, being wise.

[20]For ye bear if any one bring you into bondage, if any one devour [you], if any one get [your money], if any one exalt himself, if any one beat you on the face.

[21]I speak as to dishonour, as though we had been weak; but wherein any one is daring, (I speak in folly,) I also am daring.

[22]Are they Hebrews? I also. Are they Israelites? I also. Are they seed of Abraham? I also.

[23]Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as being beside myself) I above measure [so]; in labours exceedingly abundant, in stripes to excess, in prisons exceedingly abundant, in deaths oft.

[24]From the Jews five times have I received forty [stripes], save one.

[25]Thrice have I been scourged, once I have been stoned, three times I have suffered shipwreck, a night and day I passed in the deep:

[26]in journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils from [my own] race, in perils from [the] nations, in perils in [the] city, in perils in [the] desert, in perils on [the] sea, in perils among false brethren;

[27]in labour and toil, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

[28]Besides those things that are without, the crowd [of cares] pressing on me daily, the burden of all the assemblies.

[29]Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is stumbled, and I burn not?

[30]If it is needful to boast, I will boast in the things which concern my infirmity.

[31]The God and Father of the Lord Jesus knows -- he who is blessed for ever -- that I do not lie.

[32]In Damascus the ethnarch of Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes shut up, wishing to take me;

[33]and through a window in a basket I was let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

12 Well, it is not of profit to me to boast, for I will come to visions and revelations of [the] Lord.

[2]I know a man in Christ, fourteen years ago, (whether in [the] body I know not, or out of the body I know not, God knows;) such [a one] caught up to [the] third heaven.

[3]And I know such a man, (whether in [the] body or out of the body I know not, God knows;)

[4]that he was caught up into paradise, and heard unspeakable things said which it is not allowed to man to utter.

[5]Of such [a one] I will boast, but of myself I will not boast, unless in my weaknesses.

[6]For if I shall desire to boast, I shall not be a fool; for I will say [the] truth; but I forbear, lest any one should think as to me above what he sees me [to be], or whatever he may hear of me.

[7]And that I might not be exalted by the exceeding greatness of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn for the flesh, a messenger of Satan that he might buffet me, that I might not be exalted.

[8]For this I thrice besought the Lord that it might depart from me.

[9]And he said to me, My grace suffices thee; for [my] power is perfected in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather boast in my weaknesses, that the power of the Christ may dwell upon me.

[10]Wherefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in insults, in necessities, in persecutions, in straits, for Christ: for when I am weak, then I am powerful.

[11]I have become a fool; ye have compelled me; for I ought to have been commended by you; for I have been nothing behind those who were in surpassing degree apostles, if also I am nothing.

[12]The signs indeed of the apostle were wrought among you in all endurance, signs, and wonders, and works of power.

[13]For in what is it that ye have been inferior to the other assemblies, unless that I myself have not been in laziness a charge upon you? Forgive me this injury.

[14]Behold, this third time I am ready to come to you, and I will not be in laziness a charge; for I do not seek yours, but you; for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

[15]Now I shall most gladly spend and be utterly spent for your souls, if even in abundantly loving you I should be less loved.

[16]But be it so. I did not burden you, but being crafty I took you by guile.

[17]Did I make gain of you by any of those whom I have sent to you?

[18]I begged Titus, and sent the brother with [him]: did Titus at all make gain of you? have we not walked in the same spirit? [have we] not in the same steps?

[19]Ye have long been supposing that we excuse ourselves to you: we speak before God in Christ; and all things, beloved, for your building up.

[20]For I fear lest perhaps coming I find you not such as I wish, and that I be found by you such as ye do not wish: lest [there might be] strifes, jealousies, angers, contentions, evil speakings, whisperings, puffings up, disturbances;

[21]lest my God should humble me as to you when I come again, and that I shall grieve over many of those who have sinned before, and have not repented as to the uncleanness and fornication and licentiousness which they have practised.

13This third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every matter be established.

[2]I have declared beforehand, and I say beforehand as present the second time, and now absent, to those that have sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I come again I will not spare.

[3]Since ye seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, (who is not weak towards you, but is powerful among you,

[4]for if indeed he has been crucified in weakness, yet he lives by God's power; for indeed we are weak in him, but we shall live with him by God's power towards you,)

[5]examine your own selves if ye be in the faith; prove your own selves: do ye not recognise yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you, unless indeed ye be reprobates?

[6]Now I hope that ye will know that we are not reprobates.

[7]But we pray to God that ye may do nothing evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do what is right, and we be as reprobates.

[8]For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

[9]For we rejoice when we may be weak and ye may be powerful. But this also we pray for, your perfecting.

[10]On this account I write these things being absent, that being present I may not use severity according to the authority which the Lord has given me for building up, and not for overthrowing.

[11]For the rest, brethren, rejoice; be perfected; be encouraged; be of one mind; be at peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

[12]Salute one another with a holy kiss.

[13]All the saints salute you.

[14]The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Spirit, [be] with you all.

Galatians

1 Paul, apostle, not from men nor through man, but through Jesus Christ, and God [the] Father who raised him from among [the] dead,

2 and all the brethren with me, to the assemblies of Galatia.

3 Grace to you, and peace, from God [the] Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 who gave himself for our sins, so that he should deliver us out of the present evil world, according to the will of our God and Father;

5 to whom [be] glory to the ages of ages. Amen.

6 I wonder that ye thus quickly change, from him that called you in Christ's grace, to a different gospel,

7 which is not another [one]; but there are some that trouble you, and desire to pervert the glad tidings of the Christ.

8 But if even we or an angel out of heaven announce as glad tidings to you [anything] besides what we have announced as glad tidings to you, let him be accursed.

9 As we have said before, now also again I say, If any one announce to you as glad tidings [anything] besides what ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 For do I now seek to satisfy men or God? or do I seek to please men? If I were yet pleasing men, I were not Christ's bondman.

11 But I let you know, brethren, [as to] the glad tidings which were announced by me, that they are not according to man.

12 For neither did I receive them from man, neither was I taught [them], but by revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard [what was] my conversation formerly in Judaism, that I excessively persecuted the assembly of God, and ravaged it;

14 and advanced in Judaism beyond many [my] contemporaries in my nation, being exceedingly zealous of the doctrines of my fathers.

15 But when God, who set me apart [even] from my mother's womb, and called [me] by his grace,

16 was pleased to reveal his Son in me, that I may announce him as glad tidings among the nations, immediately I took not counsel with flesh and blood,

17 nor went I up to Jerusalem to those [who were] apostles before me; but I went to Arabia, and again returned to Damascus.

18 Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to make acquaintance with Peter, and I remained with him fifteen days;

[19]but I saw none other of the apostles, but James the brother of the Lord.

[20]Now what I write to you, behold, before God, I do not lie.

[21]Then I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia.

[22]But I was unknown personally to the assemblies of Judaea which [are] in Christ;

[23]only they were hearing that he who persecuted us formerly now announces the glad tidings of the faith which formerly he ravaged:

[24]and they glorified God in me.

2Then after a lapse of fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with [me];

[2]and I went up according to revelation, and I laid before them the glad tidings which I preach among the nations, but privately to those conspicuous [among them], lest in any way I run or had run in vain;

[3](but neither was Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, compelled to be circumcised;)

[4]and [it was] on account of the false brethren brought in surreptitiously, who came in surreptitiously to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage;

[5]to whom we yielded in subjection not even for an hour, that the truth of the glad tidings might remain with you.

[6]But from those who were conspicuous as being somewhat -- whatsoever they were, it makes no difference to me: God does not accept man's person; for to me those who were conspicuous communicated nothing;

[7]but, on the contrary, seeing that the glad tidings of the uncircumcision were confided to me, even as to Peter that of the circumcision,

[8](for he that wrought in Peter for [the] apostleship of the circumcision wrought also in me towards the Gentiles,)

[9]and recognising the grace given to me, James and Cephas and John, who were conspicuous as being pillars, gave to me and Barnabas [the] right hands of fellowship, that we [should go] to the nations, and they to the circumcision;

[10]only that we should remember the poor, which same thing also I was diligent to do.

[11]But when Peter came to Antioch, I withstood him to [the] face, because he was to be condemned:

[12]for before that certain came from James, he ate with [those of] the nations; but when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing those of [the] circumcision;

[13]and the rest of the Jews also played the same dissembling part with him; so that even Barnabas was carried away too by their dissimulation.

[14]But when I saw that they do not walk straightforwardly, according to the truth of the glad tidings, I said to Peter before all, If thou, being a Jew, livest as the nations and not as the Jews, how dost thou compel the nations to Judaize?

[15]We, Jews by nature, and not sinners of [the] nations,

[16]but knowing that a man is not justified on the principle of works of law [nor] but by the faith of Jesus Christ, we also have believed on Christ Jesus, that we might be justified on the principle of [the] faith of Christ; and not of works of law; because on the principle of works of law no flesh shall be justified.

[17]Now if in seeking to be justified in Christ we also have been found sinners, then [is] Christ minister of sin? Far be the thought.

[18]For if the things I have thrown down, these I build again, I constitute myself a transgressor.

[19]For I, through law, have died to law, that I may live to God.

[20]I am crucified with Christ, and no longer live, I, but Christ lives in me; but [in] that I now live in flesh, I live by faith, the [faith] of the Son of God, who has loved me and given himself for me.

[21]I do not set aside the grace of God; for if righteousness [is] by law, then Christ has died for nothing.

3O senseless Galatians, who has bewitched you; to whom, as before your very eyes, Jesus Christ has been portrayed, crucified [among you]?

[2]This only I wish to learn of you, Have ye received the Spirit on the principle of works of law, or of [the] report of faith?

[3]Are ye so senseless? having begun in Spirit, are ye going to be made perfect in flesh?

[4]Have ye suffered so many things in vain, if indeed also in vain?

[5]He therefore who ministers to you the Spirit, and works miracles among you, [is it] on the principle of works of law, or of [the] report of faith?

[6]Even as Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness.

[7]Know then that they that are on the principle of faith, these are Abraham's sons;

[8]and the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the nations on the principle of faith, announced beforehand the glad tidings to Abraham: In thee all the nations shall be blessed.

[9]So that they who are on the principle of faith are blessed with believing Abraham.

[10]For as many as are on the principle of works of law are under curse. For it is written, Cursed is every one who does not continue in all things which [are] written in the book of the law to do them;

[11]but that by law no one is justified with God [is] evident, because The just shall live on the principle of faith;

[12]but the law is not on the principle of faith; but, He that shall have done these things shall live by them.

[13]Christ has redeemed us out of the curse of the law, having become a curse for us, (for it is written, Cursed [is] every one hanged upon a tree,)

[14]that the blessing of Abraham might come to the nations in Christ Jesus, that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

[15]Brethren, (I speak according to man,) even man's confirmed covenant no one sets aside, or adds other dispositions to.

[16]But to Abraham were the promises addressed, and to his seed: he does not say, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed; which is Christ.

[17]Now I say this, A covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which took place four hundred and thirty years after, does not annul, so as to make the promise of no effect.

[18]For if the inheritance [be] on the principle of law, [it is] no longer on the principle of promise; but God gave it in grace to Abraham by promise.

[19]Why then the law? It was added for the sake of transgressions, until the seed came to whom the promise was made, ordained through angels in [the] hand of a mediator.

[20]But a mediator is not of one, but God is one.

[21][Is] then the law against the promises of God? Far be the thought. For if a law had been given able to quicken, then indeed righteousness were on the principle of law;

[22]but the scripture has shut up all things under sin, that the promise, on the principle of faith of Jesus Christ, should be given to those that believe.

[23]But before faith came, we were guarded under law, shut up to faith [which was] about to be revealed.

[24]So that the law has been our tutor up to Christ, that we might be justified on the principle of faith.

[25]But, faith having come, we are no longer under a tutor;

[26]for ye are all God's sons by faith in Christ Jesus.

[27]For ye, as many as have been baptised unto Christ, have put on Christ.

[28]There is no Jew nor Greek; there is no bondman nor freeman; there is no male and female; for ye are all one in Christ Jesus:

[29]but if ye [are] of Christ, then ye are Abraham's seed, heirs according to promise.

4 Now I say, As long as the heir is a child, he differs nothing from a bondman, though he be lord of all;

[2]but he is under guardians and stewards until the period fixed by the father.

[3]So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under the principles of the world;

[4]but when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, come of woman, come under law,

[5]that he might redeem those under law, that we might receive sonship.

[6]But because ye are sons, God has sent out the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

[7]So thou art no longer bondman, but son; but if son, heir also through God.

[8]But then indeed, not knowing God, ye were in bondage to those who by nature are not gods;

[9]but now, knowing God, but rather being known by God, how do ye turn again to the weak and beggarly principles to which ye desire to be again anew in bondage?

[10]Ye observe days and months and times and years.

[11]I am afraid of you, lest indeed I have laboured in vain as to you.

[12]Be as I [am], for I also [am] as ye, brethren, I beseech you: ye have not at all wronged me.

[13]But ye know that in weakness of the flesh I announced the glad tidings to you at the first;

[14]and my temptation, which [was] in my flesh, ye did not slight nor reject with contempt; but ye received me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus.

[15]What then [was] your blessedness? for I bear you witness that, if possible, plucking out your own eyes ye would have given [them] to me.

[16]So I have become your enemy in speaking the truth to you?

[17]They are not rightly zealous after you, but desire to shut you out [from us], that ye may be zealous after them.

[18]But [it is] right to be zealous at all times in what is right, and not only when I am present with you --

[19]my children, of whom I again travail in birth until Christ shall have been formed in you:

[20]and I should wish to be present with you now, and change my voice, for I am perplexed as to you.

[21]Tell me, ye who are desirous of being under law, do ye not listen to the law?

[22]For it is written that Abraham had two sons; one of the maid servant, and one of the free woman.

[23]But he [that was] of the maid servant was born according to flesh, and he [that was] of the free woman through the promise.

[24]Which things have an allegorical sense; for these are two covenants: one from mount Sinai, gendering to bondage, which is Hagar.

[25]For Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and corresponds to Jerusalem which [is] now, for she is in bondage with her children;

[26]but the Jerusalem above is free, which is our mother.

[27]For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break out and cry, thou that travailest not; because the children of the desolate are more numerous than [those] of her that has a husband.

[28]But ye, brethren, after the pattern of Isaac, are children of promise.

[29]But as then he that was born according to flesh persecuted him [that was born] according to Spirit, so also [it is] now.

[30]But what says the scripture? Cast out the maid servant and her son; for the son of the maid servant shall not inherit with the son of the free woman.

[31]So then, brethren, we are not maid servant's children, but [children] of the free woman.

5Christ has set us free in freedom; stand fast therefore, and be not held again in a yoke of bondage.

[2]Behold, I, Paul, say to you, that if ye are circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

[3]And I witness again to every man [who is] circumcised, that he is debtor to do the whole law.

[4]Ye are deprived of all profit from the Christ as separated [from him], as many as are justified by law; ye have fallen from grace.

[5]For we, by [the] Spirit, on the principle of faith, await the hope of righteousness.

[6]For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision has any force, nor uncircumcision; but faith working through love.

[7]Ye ran well; who has stopped you that ye should not obey the truth?

[8]The persuasibleness [is] not of him that calls you.

[9]A little leaven leavens the whole lump.

[10]I have confidence as to you in [the] Lord, that ye will have no other mind; and he that is troubling you shall bear the guilt [of it], whosoever he may be.

[11]But I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why am I yet persecuted? Then the scandal of the cross has been done away.

[12]I would that they would even cut themselves off who throw you into confusion.

[13]For ye have been called to liberty, brethren; only [do] not [turn] liberty into an opportunity to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

[14]For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, in Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself;

[15]but if ye bite and devour one another, see that ye are not consumed one of another.

[16]But I say, Walk in [the] Spirit, and ye shall no way fulfil flesh's lust.

[17]For the flesh lusts against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these things are opposed one to the other, that ye should not do those things which ye desire;

[18]but if ye are led by the Spirit, ye are not under law.

[19]Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are fornication, uncleanness, licentiousness,

[20]idolatry, sorcery, hatred, strifes, jealousies, angers, contentions, disputes, schools of opinion,

[21]envyings, murders, drunkennesses, revels, and things like these; as to which I tell you beforehand, even as I also have said before, that they who do such things shall not inherit God's kingdom.

[22]But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kindness, goodness, fidelity, [23]meekness, self-control: against such things there is no law.

[24]But they that [are] of the Christ have crucified the flesh with the passions and the lusts.

[25]If we live by the Spirit, let us walk also by the Spirit.

[26]Let us not become vain-glorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

6 Brethren, if even a man be taken in some fault, ye who are spiritual restore such a one in a spirit of meekness, considering thyself lest thou also be tempted.

[2]Bear one another's burdens, and thus fulfil the law of the Christ.

[3]For if any man reputes himself to be something, being nothing, he deceives himself;

[4]but let each prove his own work, and then he will have his boast in what belongs to himself alone, and not in what belongs to another.

[5]For each shall bear his own burden.

[6]Let him that is taught in the word communicate to him that teaches in all good things.

[7]Be not deceived: God is not mocked; for whatever a man shall sow, that also shall he reap.

[8]For he that sows to his own flesh, shall reap corruption from the flesh; but he that sows to the Spirit, from the Spirit shall reap eternal life:

[9]but let us not lose heart in doing good; for in due time, if we do not faint, we shall reap.

[10]So then, as we have occasion, let us do good towards all, and specially towards those of the household of faith.

[11]See how long a letter I have written to you with my own hand.

[12]As many as desire to have a fair appearance in [the] flesh, these compel you to be circumcised, only that they may not be persecuted because of the cross of Christ.

[13]For neither do they that are circumcised themselves keep the law; but they wish you to be circumcised, that they may boast in your flesh.

[14]But far be it from me to boast save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom [the] world is crucified to me, and I to the world.

[15]For [in Christ Jesus] neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision; but new creation.

[16]And as many as shall walk by this rule, peace upon them and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

[17]For the rest let no one trouble me, for I bear in my body the brands of the Lord Jesus.

[18]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [be] with your spirit, brethren. Amen.

Ephesians

1 Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ by God's will, to the saints and faithful in Christ Jesus who are at Ephesus.

2 Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed [be] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenlies in Christ;

4 according as he has chosen us in him before [the] world's foundation, that we should be holy and blameless before him in love;

5 having marked us out beforehand for adoption through Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 to [the] praise of [the] glory of his grace, wherein he has taken us into favour in the Beloved:

7 in whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of offences, according to the riches of his grace;

8 which he has caused to abound towards us in all wisdom and intelligence,

9 having made known to us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he purposed in himself

10 for [the] administration of the fulness of times; to head up all things in the Christ, the things in the heavens and the things upon the earth; in him,

11 in whom we have also obtained an inheritance, being marked out beforehand according to the purpose of him who works all things according to the counsel of his own will,

12 that we should be to [the] praise of his glory who have pre-trusted in the Christ:

13 in whom ye also [have trusted], having heard the word of the truth, the glad tidings of your salvation; in whom also, having believed, ye have been sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise,

14 who is [the] earnest of our inheritance to the redemption of the acquired possession to [the] praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also, having heard of the faith in the Lord Jesus which [is] in you, and the love which [ye have] towards all the saints,

16 do not cease giving thanks for you, making mention [of you] at my prayers,

17 that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, would give you [the] spirit of wisdom and revelation in the full knowledge of him,

18 being enlightened in the eyes of your heart, so that ye should know what is the hope of his calling, [and] what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,

[19]and what the surpassing greatness of his power towards us who believe, according to the working of the might of his strength,

[20][in] which he wrought in the Christ [in] raising him from among [the] dead, and he set him down at his right hand in the heavenlies,

[21]above every principality, and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name named, not only in this age, but also in that to come;

[22]and has put all things under his feet, and gave him [to be] head over all things to the assembly,

[23]which is his body, the fulness of him who fills all in all:

2 and you, being dead in your offences and sins --

[2]in which ye once walked according to the age of this world, according to the ruler of the authority of the air, the spirit who now works in the sons of disobedience:

[3]among whom we also all once had our conversation in the lusts of our flesh, doing what the flesh and the thoughts willed to do, and were children, by nature, of wrath, even as the rest:

[4]but God, being rich in mercy, because of his great love wherewith he loved us,

[5](we too being dead in offences,) has quickened us with the Christ, (ye are saved by grace,)

[6]and has raised [us] up together, and has made [us] sit down together in the heavenlies in Christ Jesus,

[7]that he might display in the coming ages the surpassing riches of his grace in kindness towards us in Christ Jesus.

[8]For ye are saved by grace, through faith; and this not of yourselves; it is God's gift:

[9]not on the principle of works, that no one might boast.

[10]For we are his workmanship, having been created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God has before prepared that we should walk in them.

[11]Wherefore remember that ye, once nations in [the] flesh, who [are] called uncircumcision by that called circumcision in [the] flesh done with the hand;

[12]that ye were at that time without Christ, aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers to the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world:

[13]but now in Christ Jesus ye who once were afar off are become nigh by the blood of the Christ.

[14]For he is our peace, who has made both one, and has broken down the middle wall of enclosure,

[15]having annulled the enmity in his flesh, the law of commandments in ordinances, that he might form the two in himself into one new man, making peace;

[16]and might reconcile both in one body to God by the cross, having by it slain the enmity;

[17]and, coming, he has preached the glad tidings of peace to you who [were] afar off, and [the glad tidings of] peace to those [who were] nigh.

[18]For through him we have both access by one Spirit to the Father.

[19]So then ye are no longer strangers and foreigners, but ye are fellow-citizens of the saints, and of the household of God,

[20]being built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the corner-stone,

[21]in whom all [the] building fitted together increases to a holy temple in the Lord;

[22]in whom ye also are built together for a habitation of God in [the] Spirit.

3For this reason I Paul, prisoner of the Christ Jesus for you nations,

[2](if indeed ye have heard of the administration of the grace of God which has been given to me towards you,

[3]that by revelation the mystery has been made known to me, (according as I have written before briefly,

[4]by which, in reading it, ye can understand my intelligence in the mystery of the Christ,)

[5]which in other generations has not been made known to the sons of men, as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets in [the power of the] Spirit,

[6]that [they who are of] the nations should be joint heirs, and a joint body, and joint partakers of [his] promise in Christ Jesus by the glad tidings;

[7]of which I am become minister according to the gift of the grace of God given to me, according to the working of his power.

[8]To me, less than the least of all saints, has this grace been given, to announce among the nations the glad tidings of the unsearchable riches of the Christ,

[9]and to enlighten all [with the knowledge of] what is the administration of the mystery hidden throughout the ages in God, who has created all things,

[10]in order that now to the principalities and authorities in the heavenlies might be made known through the assembly the all-various wisdom of God,

[11]according to [the] purpose of the ages, which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord, [12]in whom we have boldness and access in confidence by the faith of him.

[13]Wherefore I beseech [you] not to faint through my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

[14]For this reason I bow my knees to the Father [of our Lord Jesus Christ],

[15]of whom every family in [the] heavens and on earth is named,

[16]in order that he may give you according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with power by his Spirit in the inner man;

[17]that the Christ may dwell, through faith, in your hearts, being rooted and founded in love,

[18]in order that ye may be fully able to apprehend with all the saints what [is] the breadth and length and depth and height;

[19]and to know the love of the Christ which surpasses knowledge; that ye may be filled [even] to all the fulness of God.

[20]But to him that is able to do far exceedingly above all which we ask or think, according to the power which works in us, [21]to him be glory in the assembly in Christ Jesus unto all generations of the age of ages. Amen).

4 I, the prisoner in [the] Lord, exhort you therefore to walk worthy of the calling wherewith ye have been called,

[2]with all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, bearing with one another in love;

[3]using diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in the uniting bond of peace.

[4][There is] one body and one Spirit, as ye have been also called in one hope of your calling;

[5]one Lord, one faith, one baptism;

[6]one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in us all.

[7]But to each one of us has been given grace according to the measure of the gift of the Christ.

[8]Wherefore he says, Having ascended up on high, he has led captivity captive, and has given gifts to men.

[9]But that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended into the lower parts of the earth?

[10]He that descended is the same who has also ascended up above all the heavens, that he might fill all things;

[11]and he has given some apostles, and some prophets, and some evangelists, and some shepherds and teachers,

[12]for the perfecting of the saints; with a view to [the] work of [the] ministry, with a view to the edifying of the body of Christ;

[13]until we all arrive at the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, at [the] full-grown man, at [the] measure of the stature of the fulness of the Christ;

[14]in order that we may be no longer babes, tossed and carried about by every wind of that teaching [which is] in the sleight of men, in unprincipled cunning with a view to systematized error;

[15]but, holding the truth in love, we may grow up to him in all things, who is the head, the Christ:

[16]from whom the whole body, fitted together, and connected by every joint of supply, according to [the] working in [its] measure of each one part, works for itself the increase of the body to its self-building up in love.

[17]This I say therefore, and testify in [the] Lord, that ye should no longer walk as [the rest of] the nations walk in [the] vanity of their mind,

[18]being darkened in understanding, estranged from the life of God by reason of the ignorance which is in them, by reason of the hardness of their hearts,

[19]who having cast off all feeling, have given themselves up to lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greedy unsatisfied lust.

[20]But ye have not thus learnt the Christ,

[21]if ye have heard him and been instructed in him according as [the] truth is in Jesus;

[22][namely] your having put off according to the former conversation the old man which corrupts itself according to the deceitful lusts;

[23]and being renewed in the spirit of your mind;

[24]and [your] having put on the new man, which according to God is created in truthful righteousness and holiness.

[25]Wherefore, having put off falsehood, speak truth every one with his neighbour, because we are members one of another.

[26]Be angry, and do not sin; let not the sun set upon your wrath, [27]neither give room for the devil.

[28]Let the stealer steal no more, but rather let him toil, working what is honest with [his] hands, that he may have to distribute to him that has need.

[29]Let no corrupt word go out of your mouth, but if [there be] any good one for needful edification, that it may give grace to those that hear [it].

[30]And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, with which ye have been sealed for [the] day of redemption.

[31]Let all bitterness, and heat of passion, and wrath, and clamour, and injurious language, be removed from you, with all malice;

[32]and be to one another kind, compassionate, forgiving one another, so as God also in Christ has forgiven you.

5Be ye therefore imitators of God, as beloved children,

[2]and walk in love, even as the Christ loved us, and delivered himself up for us, an offering and sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savour.

[3]But fornication and all uncleanness or unbridled lust, let it not be even named among you, as it becomes saints;

[4]and filthiness and foolish talking, or jesting, which are not convenient; but rather thanksgiving.

[5]For this ye are [well] informed of, knowing that no fornicator, or unclean person, or person of unbridled lust, who is an idolater, has inheritance in the kingdom of the Christ and God.

[6]Let no one deceive you with vain words, for on account of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience.

[7]Be not ye therefore fellow-partakers with them;

[8]for ye were once darkness, but now light in [the] Lord; walk as children of light,

[9](for the fruit of the light [is] in all goodness and righteousness and truth,)

[10]proving what is agreeable to the Lord;

[11]and do not have fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather also reprove [them],

[12]for the things that are done by them in secret it is shameful even to say.

[13]But all things having their true character exposed by the light are made manifest; for that which makes everything manifest is light.

[14]Wherefore he says, Wake up, [thou] that sleepest, and arise up from among the dead, and the Christ shall shine upon thee.

[15]See therefore how ye walk carefully, not as unwise but as wise, [16]redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

[17]For this reason be not foolish, but understanding what [is] the will of the Lord.

[18]And be not drunk with wine, in which is debauchery; but be filled with the Spirit,

[19]speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and chanting with your heart to the Lord;

[20]giving thanks at all times for all things to him [who is] God and [the] Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, [21]submitting yourselves to one another in [the] fear of Christ.

[22]Wives, [submit yourselves] to your own husbands, as to the Lord,

[23]for a husband is head of the wife, as also the Christ [is] head of the assembly. He [is] Saviour of the body.

[24]But even as the assembly is subjected to the Christ, so also wives to their own husbands in everything.

[25]Husbands, love your own wives, even as the Christ also loved the assembly, and has delivered himself up for it,

[26]in order that he might sanctify it, purifying [it] by the washing of water by [the] word, [27]that he might present the assembly to himself glorious, having no spot, or wrinkle, or any of such things; but that it might be holy and blameless.

[28]So ought men also to love their own wives as their own bodies: he that loves his own wife loves himself.

[29]For no one has ever hated his own flesh, but nourishes and cherishes it, even as also the Christ the assembly:

[30]for we are members of his body; [we are of his flesh, and of his bones.]

[31]Because of this a man shall leave his father and mother, and shall be united to his wife, and the two shall be one flesh.

[32]This mystery is great, but I speak as to Christ, and as to the assembly.

[33]But ye also, every one of you, let each so love his own wife as himself; but as to the wife [I speak] that she may fear the husband.

6Children, obey your parents in [the] Lord, for this is just.

[2]Honour thy father and thy mother, which is the first commandment with a promise,

[3]that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest be long-lived on the earth.

[4]And [ye] fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in [the] discipline and admonition of [the] Lord.

[5]Bondmen, obey masters according to flesh, with fear and trembling, in simplicity of your heart as to the Christ;

[6]not with eye-service as men-pleasers; but as bondmen of Christ, doing the will of God from [the] soul,

[7]serving with good will as to the Lord, and not to men;

[8]knowing that whatever good each shall do, this he shall receive of [the] Lord, whether bond or free.

[9]And, masters, do the same things towards them, giving up threatening, knowing that both their and your Master is in heaven, and there is no acceptance of persons with him.

[10]For the rest, brethren, be strong in [the] Lord, and in the might of his strength.

[11]Put on the panoply of God, that ye may be able to stand against the artifices of the devil:

[12]because our struggle is not against blood and flesh, but against principalities, against authorities, against the universal lords of this darkness, against spiritual [power] of wickedness in the heavenlies.

[13]For this reason take [to you] the panoply of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, having accomplished all things, to stand.

[14]Stand therefore, having girt about your loins with truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness,

[15]and shod your feet with [the] preparation of the glad tidings of peace:

[16]besides all [these], having taken the shield of faith with which ye will be able to quench all the inflamed darts of the wicked one.

[17]Have also the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is God's word;

[18]praying at all seasons, with all prayer and supplication in [the] Spirit, and watching unto this very thing with all perseverance and supplication for all the saints;

[19]and for me in order that utterance may be given to me in [the] opening of my mouth to make known with boldness the mystery of the glad tidings,

[20]for which I am an ambassador [bound] with a chain, that I may be bold in it as I ought to speak.

[21]But in order that ye also may know what concerns me, how I am getting on, Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful minister in [the] Lord, shall make all things known to you;

[22]whom I have sent to you for this very thing, that ye may know of our affairs and that he may encourage your hearts.

[23]Peace to the brethren, and love with faith, from God [the] Father and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

[24]Grace with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in incorruption.

Philippians

1 Paul and Timotheus, bondmen of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus who are in Philippi, with [the] overseers and ministers;

2 grace to you, and peace from God our Father and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thank my God for my whole remembrance of you,

4 constantly in my every supplication, making the supplication for you all with joy,

5 because of your fellowship with the gospel, from the first day until now;

6 having confidence of this very thing, that he who has begun in you a good work will complete it unto Jesus Christ's day:

7 as it is righteous for me to think this as to you all, because ye have me in your hearts, and that both in my bonds and in the defence and confirmation of the glad tidings ye are all participators in my grace.

8 For God is my witness how I long after you all in [the] bowels of Christ Jesus.

9 And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in full knowledge and all intelligence,

10 that ye may judge of and approve the things that are more excellent, in order that ye may be pure and without offence for Christ's day,

11 being complete as regards the fruit of righteousness, which [is] by Jesus Christ, to God's glory and praise.

12 But I would have you know, brethren, that the circumstances in which I am have turned out rather to the furtherance of the glad tidings,

13 so that my bonds have become manifest [as being] in Christ in all the praetorium and to all others;

14 and that the most of the brethren, trusting in [the] Lord through my bonds, dare more abundantly to speak the word of God fearlessly.

15 Some indeed also for envy and strife, but some also for good will, preach the Christ.

16 These indeed out of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the glad tidings;

17 but those out of contention, announce the Christ, not purely, supposing to arouse tribulation for my bonds.

18 What is it then? at any rate, in every way, whether in pretext or in truth, Christ is announced; and in this I rejoice, yea, also I will rejoice;

[19]for I know that this shall turn out for me to salvation, through your supplication and [the] supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ;

[20]according to my earnest expectation and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but in all boldness, as always, now also Christ shall be magnified in my body whether by life or by death.

[21]For for me to live [is] Christ, and to die gain;

[22]but if to live in flesh [is my lot], this is for me worth the while: and what I shall choose I cannot tell.

[23]But I am pressed by both, having the desire for departure and being with Christ, [for] [it is] very much better,

[24]but remaining in the flesh [is] more necessary for your sakes;

[25]and having confidence of this, I know that I shall remain and abide along with you all, for your progress and joy in faith;

[26]that your boasting may abound in Christ Jesus through me by my presence again with you.

[27]Only conduct yourselves worthily of the glad tidings of the Christ, in order that whether coming and seeing you, or absent, I may hear of what concerns you, that ye stand firm in one spirit, with one soul, labouring together in the same conflict with the faith of the glad tidings;

[28]and not frightened in anything by the opposers, which is to them a demonstration of destruction, but of your salvation, and that from God;

[29]because to you has been given, as regards Christ, not only the believing on him but the suffering for him also,

[30]having the same conflict which ye have seen in me, and now hear of in me.

2 If then [there be] any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of [the] Spirit, if any bowels and compassions,

[2]fulfil my joy, that ye may think the same thing, having the same love, joined in soul, thinking one thing;

[3][let] nothing [be] in the spirit of strife or vain glory, but, in lowliness of mind, each esteeming the other as more excellent than themselves;

[4]regarding not each his own [qualities], but each those of others also.

[5]For let this mind be in you which [was] also in Christ Jesus;

[6]who, subsisting in the form of God, did not esteem it an object of rapine to be on an equality with God;

[7]but emptied himself, taking a bondman's form, taking his place in [the] likeness of men;

[8]and having been found in figure as a man, humbled himself, becoming obedient even unto death, and [that the] death of [the] cross.

[9]Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and granted him a name, that which is above every name,

[10]that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of heavenly and earthly and infernal [beings],

[11]and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ [is] Lord to God [the] Father's glory.

[12]So that, my beloved, even as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much rather in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling,

[13]for it is God who works in you both the willing and the working according to [his] good pleasure.

[14]Do all things without murmurings and reasonings,

[15]that ye may be harmless and simple, irreproachable children of God in the midst of a crooked and perverted generation; among whom ye appear as lights in [the] world,

[16]holding forth [the] word of life, so as to be a boast for me in Christ's day, that I have not run in vain nor laboured in vain.

[17]But if also I am poured out as a libation on the sacrifice and ministration of your faith, I rejoice, and rejoice in common with you all.

[18]In like manner do ye also rejoice, and rejoice with me.

[19]But I hope in [the] Lord Jesus to send Timotheus to you shortly, that I also may be refreshed, knowing how ye get on.

[20]For I have no one like-minded who will care with genuine feeling how ye get on.

[21]For all seek their own things, not the things of Jesus Christ.

[22]But ye know the proof of him, that, as a child a father, he has served with me in the work of the glad tidings.

[23]Him therefore I hope to send immediately, as soon as I shall see how it goes with me:

[24]but I trust in [the] Lord that I myself also shall soon come;

[25]but I have thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-workman and fellow-soldier, but your messenger and minister to my need,

[26]since he had a longing desire after you all, and was distressed because ye had heard that he was sick;

[27]for he was also sick close to death, but God had mercy on him, and not indeed on him alone, but also on me, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow.

[28]I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that seeing him ye might again rejoice, and that I might be the less sorrowful.

[29]Receive him therefore in [the] Lord with all joy, and hold such in honour;

[30]because for the sake of the work he drew near even to death, venturing his life that he might fill up what lacked in your ministration toward me.

3For the rest, my brethren, rejoice in [the] Lord: to write the same things to you, to me [is] not irksome, and for you safe.

[2]See to dogs, see to evil workmen, see to the concision.

[3]For we are the circumcision, who worship by [the] Spirit of God, and boast in Christ Jesus, and do not trust in flesh.

[4]Though I have [my] trust even in flesh; if any other think to trust in flesh, I rather:

[5]as to circumcision, [I received it] the eighth day; of [the] race of Israel, of [the] tribe of Benjamin, Hebrew of Hebrews; as to [the] law, a Pharisee;

[6]as to zeal, persecuting the assembly; as to righteousness which [is] in [the] law, found blameless;

[7]but what things were gain to me these I counted, on account of Christ, loss.

[8]But surely I count also all things to be loss on account of the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, on account of whom I have suffered the loss of all, and count them to be filth, that I may gain Christ;

[9]and that I may be found in him, not having my righteousness, which [would be] on the principle of law, but that which is by faith of Christ, the righteousness which [is] of God through faith,

[10]to know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being conformed to his death,

[11]if any way I arrive at the resurrection from among [the] dead.

[12]Not that I have already obtained [the prize], or am already perfected; but I pursue, if also I may get possession [of it], seeing that also I have been taken possession of by Christ [Jesus].

[13]Brethren, I do not count to have got possession myself; but one thing -- forgetting the things behind, and stretching out to the things before,

[14]I pursue, [looking] towards [the] goal, for the prize of the calling on high of God in Christ Jesus.

[15]As many therefore as [are] perfect, let us be thus minded; and if ye are any otherwise minded, this also God shall reveal to you.

[16]But whereto we have attained, [let us] walk in the same steps.

17 Be imitators [all] together of me, brethren, and fix your eyes on those walking thus as you have us for a model;

18 (for many walk of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they [are] the enemies of the cross of Christ:

19 whose end [is] destruction, whose god [is] the belly, and [their] glory in their shame, who mind earthly things:)

20 for our commonwealth has its existence in [the] heavens, from which also we await the Lord Jesus Christ [as] Saviour, 21 who shall transform our body of humiliation into conformity to his body of glory, according to the working of [the] power which he has even to subdue all things to himself.

4 So that, my brethren, beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, thus stand fast in [the] Lord, beloved.

2 I exhort Euodia, and exhort Syntyche, to be of the same mind in [the] Lord;

3 yea, I ask thee also, true yokefellow, assist them, who have contended along with me in the glad tidings, with Clement also, and my other fellow-labourers, whose names [are] in [the] book of life.

4 Rejoice in [the] Lord always: again I will say, Rejoice.

5 Let your gentleness be known of all men. The Lord [is] near.

6 Be careful about nothing; but in everything, by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God;

7 and the peace of God, which surpasses every understanding, shall guard your hearts and your thoughts by Christ Jesus.

8 For the rest, brethren, whatsoever things [are] true, whatsoever things [are] noble, whatsoever things [are] just, whatsoever things [are] pure, whatsoever things [are] amiable, whatsoever things [are] of good report; if [there be] any virtue and if any praise, think on these things.

9 What ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, these things do; and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I rejoiced in [the] Lord greatly, that now however at length ye have revived your thinking of me, though surely ye did also think [of me], but lacked opportunity.

11 Not that I speak as regards privation, for as to me I have learnt in those circumstances in which I am, to be satisfied in myself.

12 I know both how to be abased and I know how to abound. In everything and in all things I am initiated both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer privation.

13 I have strength for all things in him that gives me power.

[14]But ye have done well in taking part in my affliction.

[15]And know also ye, O Philippians, that in [the] beginning of the gospel, when I came out of Macedonia, no assembly communicated [anything] to me in [the] way of giving and receiving save ye alone;

[16]for also in Thessalonica once and even twice ye sent to me for my need.

[17]Not that I seek gift, but I seek fruit abounding to your account.

[18]But I have all things in full supply and abound; I am full, having received of Epaphroditus the things [sent] from you, an odour of sweet savour, an acceptable sacrifice, agreeable to God.

[19]But my God shall abundantly supply all your need according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.

[20]But to our God and Father [be] glory to the ages of ages. Amen.

[21]Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren who [are] with me salute you.

[22]All the saints salute you, and specially those of the household of Caesar.

[23]The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ [be] with your spirit. Amen.

Colossians

1 Paul, apostle of Christ Jesus, by God's will, and Timotheus the brother,

2 to the holy and faithful brethren in Christ which [are] in Colosse. Grace to you and peace from God our Father [and Lord Jesus Christ].

3 We give thanks to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ continually [when] praying for you,

4 having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and the love which ye have towards all the saints,

5 on account of the hope which [is] laid up for you in the heavens; of which ye heard before in the word of the truth of the glad tidings,

6 which are come to you, as [they are] in all the world, [and] are bearing fruit and growing, even as also among you, from the day ye heard [them] and knew indeed the grace of God, in truth:

7 even as ye learned from Epaphras our beloved fellow-bondman, who is a faithful minister of Christ for you,

8 who has also manifested to us your love in [the] Spirit.

9 For this reason we also, from the day we heard [of your faith and love], do not cease praying and asking for you, to the end that ye may be filled with the full knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding,

10 [so as] to walk worthily of the Lord unto all well-pleasing, bearing fruit in every good work, and growing by the true knowledge of God;

11 strengthened with all power according to the might of his glory unto all endurance and longsuffering with joy;

12 giving thanks to the Father, who has made us fit for sharing the portion of the saints in light,

13 who has delivered us from the authority of darkness, and translated [us] into the kingdom of the Son of his love:

14 in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins;

15 who is image of the invisible God, firstborn of all creation;

16 because by him were created all things, the things in the heavens and the things upon the earth, the visible and the invisible, whether thrones, or lordships, or principalities, or authorities: all things have been created by him and for him.

17 And he is before all, and all things subsist together by him.

[18]And he is the head of the body, the assembly; who is [the] beginning, firstborn from among the dead, that he might have the first place in all things:

[19]for in him all the fulness [of the Godhead] was pleased to dwell,

[20]and by him to reconcile all things to itself, having made peace by the blood of his cross -- by him, whether the things on the earth or the things in the heavens.

[21]And you, who once were alienated and enemies in mind by wicked works, yet now has it reconciled

[22]in the body of his flesh through death; to present you holy and unblamable and irreproachable before it,

[23]if indeed ye abide in the faith founded and firm, and not moved away from the hope of the glad tidings, which ye have heard, which have been proclaimed in the whole creation which [is] under heaven, of which I Paul became minister.

[24]Now, I rejoice in sufferings for you, and I fill up that which is behind of the tribulations of Christ in my flesh, for his body, which is the assembly;

[25]of which I became minister, according to the dispensation of God which [is] given me towards you to complete the word of God,

[26]the mystery which [has been] hidden from ages and from generations, but has now been made manifest to his saints;

[27]to whom God would make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the nations, which is Christ in you the hope of glory:

[28]whom we announce, admonishing every man, and teaching every man, in all wisdom, to the end that we may present every man perfect in Christ.

[29]Whereunto also I toil, combating according to his working, which works in me in power.

2For I would have you know what combat I have for you, and those in Laodicea, and as many as have not seen my face in flesh;

[2]to the end that their hearts may be encouraged, being united together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to [the] full knowledge of the mystery of God;

[3]in which are hid all the treasures of wisdom and of knowledge.

[4]And I say this to the end that no one may delude you by persuasive speech.

[5]For if indeed in the flesh I am absent, yet I am with you in spirit, rejoicing and seeing your order, and the firmness of your faith in Christ.

[6]As therefore ye have received the Christ, Jesus the Lord, walk in him,

[7]rooted and built up in him, and assured in the faith, even as ye have been taught, abounding in it with thanksgiving.

[8]See that there be no one who shall lead you away as a prey through philosophy and vain deceit, according to the teaching of men, according to the elements of the world, and not according to Christ.

[9]For in him dwells all the fulness of the Godhead bodily;

[10]and ye are complete in him, who is the head of all principality and authority,

[11]in whom also ye have been circumcised with circumcision not done by hand, in the putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of the Christ;

[12]buried with him in baptism, in which ye have been also raised with [him] through faith of the working of God who raised him from among the dead.

[13]And you, being dead in offences and in the uncircumcision of your flesh, he has quickened together with him, having forgiven us all the offences;

[14]having effaced the handwriting in ordinances which [stood out] against us, which was contrary to us, he has taken it also out of the way, having nailed it to the cross;

[15]having spoiled principalities and authorities, he made a show of them publicly, leading them in triumph by it.

[16]Let none therefore judge you in meat or in drink, or in matter of feast, or new moon, or sabbaths, [17]which are a shadow of things to come; but the body [is] of Christ.

[18]Let no one fraudulently deprive you of your prize, doing his own will in humility and worship of angels, entering into things which he has not seen, vainly puffed up by the mind of his flesh,

[19]and not holding fast the head, from whom all the body, ministered to and united together by the joints and bands, increases with the increase of God.

[20]If ye have died with Christ from the elements of the world, why as [if] alive in [the] world do ye subject yourselves to ordinances?

[21]Do not handle, do not taste, do not touch,

[22](things which are all for destruction in the using [of them]:) according to the injunctions and teachings of men,

[23](which have indeed an appearance of wisdom in voluntary worship, and humility, and harsh treatment of the body, not in a certain honour,) to [the] satisfaction of the flesh.

3 If therefore ye have been raised with the Christ, seek the things [which are] above, where the Christ is, sitting at [the] right hand of God:

[2]have your mind on the things [that are] above, not on the things [that are] on the earth;

[3]for ye have died, and your life is hid with the Christ in God.

[4]When the Christ is manifested who [is] our life, then shall ye also be manifested with him in glory.

[5]Put to death therefore your members which [are] upon the earth, fornication, uncleanness, vile passions, evil lust, and unbridled desire, which is idolatry.

[6]On account of which things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience.

[7]In which ye also once walked when ye lived in these things.

[8]But now, put off, ye also, all [these] things, wrath, anger, malice, blasphemy, vile language out of your mouth.

[9]Do not lie to one another, having put off the old man with his deeds,

[10]and having put on the new, renewed into full knowledge according to [the] image of him that has created him;

[11]wherein there is not Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, bondman, freeman; but Christ [is] everything, and in all.

[12]Put on therefore, as [the] elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of compassion, kindness, lowliness, meekness, longsuffering;

[13]forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any should have a complaint against any; even as the Christ has forgiven you, so also [do] ye.

[14]And to all these [add] love, which is the bond of perfectness.

[15]And let the peace of Christ preside in your hearts, to which also ye have been called in one body, and be thankful.

[16]Let the word of the Christ dwell in you richly, in all wisdom teaching and admonishing one another, in psalms, hymns, spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to God.

[17]And everything, whatever ye may do in word or in deed, [do] all things in [the] name of [the] Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father by him.

[18]Wives, be subject to [your] husbands, as is fitting in [the] Lord.

[19]Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.

[20]Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is well-pleasing in [the] Lord.

[21]Fathers, do not vex your children, to the end that they be not disheartened.

[22]Bondmen, obey in all things your masters according to flesh; not with eye-services, as men-pleasers, but in simplicity of heart, fearing the Lord.

[23]Whatsoever ye do, labour at it heartily, as [doing it] to the Lord, and not to men;

[24]knowing that of [the] Lord ye shall receive the recompense of the inheritance; ye serve the Lord Christ.

[25]For he that does a wrong shall receive the wrong he has done, and there is no respect of persons.

4Masters, give to bondmen what is just and fair, knowing that ye also have a Master in [the] heavens.

[2]Persevere in prayer, watching in it with thanksgiving;

[3]praying at the same time for us also, that God may open to us a door of the word to speak the mystery of Christ, on account of which also I am bound,

[4]to the end that I may make it manifest as I ought to speak.

[5]Walk in wisdom towards those without, redeeming opportunities.

[6][Let] your word [be] always with grace, seasoned with salt, [so as] to know how ye ought to answer each one.

[7]Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful minister and fellow-bondman in [the] Lord, will make known to you all that concerns me;

[8]whom I have sent to you for this very purpose, that he might know your state, and that he might encourage your hearts:

[9]with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is [one] of you. They shall make known to you everything here.

[10]Aristarchus my fellow-captive salutes you, and Mark, Barnabas's cousin, concerning whom ye have received orders, (if he come to you, receive him,)

[11]and Jesus called Justus, who are of the circumcision. These [are the] only fellow-workers for the kingdom of God who have been a consolation to me.

[12]Epaphras, who is [one] of you, [the] bondman of Christ Jesus, salutes you, always combating earnestly for you in prayers, to the end that ye may stand perfect and complete in all [the] will of God.

[13]For I bear him witness that he labours much for you, and them in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

[14]Luke, the beloved physician, salutes you, and Demas.

[15]Salute the brethren in Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the assembly which [is] in his house.

[16]And when the letter has been read among you, cause that it be read also in the assembly of Laodiceans, and that ye also read that from Laodicea.

[17]And say to Archippus, Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in [the] Lord, to the end that thou fulfil it.

[18]The salutation by the hand of me Paul. you.
Remember my bonds. Grace [be] with 1st Thessalonians

1 Paul and Silvanus and Timotheus to the assembly of Thessalonians in God [the] Father and [the] Lord Jesus Christ. Grace to you and peace.

2 We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you at our prayers,

3 remembering unceasingly your work of faith, and labour of love, and enduring constancy of hope, of our Lord Jesus Christ, before our God and Father;

4 knowing, brethren beloved by God, your election.

5 For our glad tidings were not with you in word only, but also in power, and in [the] Holy Spirit, and in much assurance; even as ye know what we were among you for your sakes:

6 and ye became our imitators, and of the Lord, having accepted the word in much tribulation with joy of [the] Holy Spirit,

7 so that ye became models to all that believe in Macedonia and in Achaia:

8 for the word of the Lord sounded out from you, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place your faith which [is] towards God has gone abroad, so that we have no need to say anything;

9 for they themselves relate concerning us what entering in we had to you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve a living and true God,

10 and to await his Son from the heavens, whom he raised from among the dead, Jesus, our deliverer from the coming wrath.

2 For ye know yourselves, brethren, our entering in which [we had] to you, that it has not been in vain;

2 but, having suffered before and been insulted, even as ye know, in Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the glad tidings of God with much earnest striving.

3 For our exhortation [was] not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile;

4 but even as we have been approved of God to have the glad tidings entrusted to us, so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, who proves our hearts.

5 For we have not at any time been [among you] with flattering discourse, even as ye know, nor with a pretext for covetousness, God [is] witness;

6 nor seeking glory from men, neither from you nor from others, when we might have been a charge as Christ's apostles;

[7]but have been gentle in the midst of you, as a nurse would cherish her own children.

[8]Thus, yearning over you, we had found our delight in having imparted to you not only the glad tidings of God, but our own lives also, because ye had become beloved of us.

[9]For ye remember, brethren, our labour and toil: working night and day, not to be chargeable to any one of you, we have preached to you the glad tidings of God.

[10]Ye [are] witnesses, and God, how piously and righteously and blamelessly we have conducted ourselves with you that believe:

[11]as ye know how, as a father his own children, we used to exhort each one of you, and comfort and testify,

[12]that ye should walk worthy of God, who calls you to his own kingdom and glory.

[13]And for this cause we also give thanks to God unceasingly that, having received [the] word of [the] report of God by us, ye accepted, not men's word, but, even as it is truly, God's word, which also works in you who believe.

[14]For ye, brethren, have become imitators of the assemblies of God which are in Judaea in Christ Jesus; for ye also have suffered the same things of your own countrymen as also they of the Jews,

[15]who have both slain the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and have driven us out by persecution, and do not please God, and [are] against all men, [16]forbidding us to speak to the nations that they may be saved, that they may fill up their sins always: but wrath has come upon them to the uttermost.

[17]But we, brethren, having been bereaved of you and separated for a little moment in person, not in heart, have used more abundant diligence to see your face with much desire;

[18]wherefore we have desired to come to you, even I Paul, both once and twice, and Satan has hindered us.

[19]For what [is] our hope, or joy, or crown of boasting? [are] not ye also before our Lord Jesus at his coming?

[20]for ye are our glory and joy.

3Wherefore, being no longer able to refrain ourselves, we thought good to be left alone in Athens,

[2]and sent Timotheus, our brother and fellow-workman under God in the glad tidings of Christ, to confirm you and encourage [you] concerning your faith,

[3]that no one might be moved by these afflictions. (For yourselves know that we are set for this;

[4]for also, when we were with you, we told you beforehand we are about to be in tribulation, even as also it came to pass, and ye know.)

5For this reason I also, no longer able to refrain myself, sent to know your faith, lest perhaps the tempter had tempted you and our labour should be come to nothing.

6But Timotheus having just come to us from you, and brought to us the glad tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have always good remembrance of us, desiring much to see us, even as we also you;

7for this reason we have been comforted in you, brethren, in all our distress and tribulation, through your faith,

8because now we live if ye stand firm in [the] Lord.

9For what thanksgiving can we render to God for you, for all the joy wherewith we rejoice on account of you before our God, 10night and day beseeching exceedingly to the end that we may see your face, and perfect what is lacking in your faith?

11But our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct our way to you.

12But you, may the Lord make to exceed and abound in love toward one another, and toward all, even as we also towards you, 13in order to the confirming of your hearts unblamable in holiness before our God and Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.

4For the rest, then, brethren, we beg you and exhort you in [the] Lord Jesus, even as ye have received from us how ye ought to walk and please God, even as ye also do walk, that ye would abound still more.

2For ye know what charges we gave you through the Lord Jesus.

3For this is [the] will of God, [even] your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication;

4that each of you know how to possess his own vessel in sanctification and honour,

5(not in passionate desire, even as the nations who know not God,)

6not overstepping the rights of and wronging his brother in the matter, because the Lord [is] the avenger of all these things, even as we also told you before, and have fully testified.

7For God has not called us to uncleanness, but in sanctification.

8He therefore that [in this] disregards [his brother], disregards, not man, but God, who has given also his Holy Spirit to you.

9Now concerning brotherly love ye have no need that we should write to you, for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.

10For also ye do this towards all the brethren in the whole of Macedonia; but we exhort you, brethren, to abound still more,

11and to seek earnestly to be quiet and mind your own affairs, and work with your [own] hands, even as we charged you, 12that ye may walk reputably towards those without, and may have need of no one.

13But we do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them that are fallen asleep, to the end that ye be not grieved even as also the rest who have no hope.

14For if we believe that Jesus has died and has risen again, so also God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep through Jesus.

15(For this we say to you in [the] word of [the] Lord, that we, the living, who remain to the coming of the Lord, are in no way to anticipate those who have fallen asleep;

16for the Lord himself, with an assembling shout, with archangel's voice and with trump of God, shall descend from heaven; and the dead in Christ shall rise first;

17then we, the living who remain, shall be caught up together with them in [the] clouds, to meet the Lord in [the] air; and thus we shall be always with [the] Lord.

18So encourage one another with these words.)

5But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that ye should be written to,

2for ye know perfectly well yourselves, that the day of [the] Lord so comes as a thief by night.

3When they may say, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction comes upon them, as travail upon her that is with child; and they shall in no wise escape.

4But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that the day should overtake you as a thief:

5for all ye are sons of light and sons of day; we are not of night nor of darkness.

6So then do not let us sleep as the rest do, but let us watch and be sober;

7for they that sleep sleep by night, and they that drink drink by night;

8but we being of [the] day, let us be sober, putting on [the] breastplate of faith and love, and as helmet [the] hope of salvation;

9because God has not set us for wrath, but for obtaining salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, 10who has died for us, that whether we may be watching or sleep, we may live together with him.

[11]Wherefore encourage one another, and build up each one the other, even as also ye do.

[12]But we beg you, brethren, to know those who labour among you, and take the lead among you in [the] Lord, and admonish you,

[13]and to regard them exceedingly in love on account of their work. Be in peace among yourselves.

[14]But we exhort you, brethren, admonish the disorderly, comfort the faint-hearted, sustain the weak, be patient towards all.

[15]See that no one render to any evil for evil, but pursue always what is good towards one another and towards all;

[16]rejoice always;

[17]pray unceasingly;

[18]in everything give thanks, for this is [the] will of God in Christ Jesus towards you;

[19]quench not the Spirit;

[20]do not lightly esteem prophecies;

[21]but prove all things, hold fast the right;

[22]hold aloof from every form of wickedness.

[23]Now the God of peace himself sanctify you wholly: and your whole spirit, and soul, and body be preserved blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

[24]He [is] faithful who calls you, who will also perform [it].

[25]Brethren, pray for us.

[26]Greet all the brethren with a holy kiss.

[27]I adjure you by the Lord that the letter be read to all the [holy] brethren.

[28]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [be] with you.

2nd Thessalonians

1 Paul and Silvanus and Timotheus to the assembly of Thessalonians in God our Father and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We ought to thank God always for you, brethren, even as it is meet, because your faith increases exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all towards one another abounds;

4 so that we ourselves make our boast in you in the assemblies of God for your endurance and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations, which ye are sustaining;

5 a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, to the end that ye should be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for the sake of which ye also suffer;

6 if at least [it is a] righteous thing with God to render tribulation to those that trouble you,

7 and to you that are troubled repose with us, at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven, with [the] angels of his power,

8 in flaming fire taking vengeance on those who know not God, and those who do not obey the glad tidings of our Lord Jesus Christ;

9 who shall pay the penalty [of] everlasting destruction from [the] presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his might,

10 when he shall have come to be glorified in his saints, and wondered at in all that have believed, (for our testimony to you has been believed,) in that day.

11 To which end we also pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of the calling, and fulfil all [the] good pleasure of [his] goodness and [the] work of faith with power, 12 so that the name of our Lord Jesus [Christ] may be glorified in you and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and of [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Now we beg you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our gathering together to him,

2 that ye be not soon shaken in mind, nor troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as [if it were] by us, as that the day of the Lord is present.

3 Let not any one deceive you in any manner, because [it will not be] unless the apostasy have first come, and the man of sin have been revealed, the son of perdition;

[4]who opposes and exalts himself on high against all called God, or object of veneration; so that he himself sits down in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

[5]Do ye not remember that, being yet with you, I said these things to you?

[6]And now ye know that which restrains, that he should be revealed in his own time.

[7]For the mystery of lawlessness already works; only [there is] he who restrains now until he be gone,

[8]and then the lawless one shall be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus shall consume with the breath of his mouth, and shall annul by the appearing of his coming;

[9]whose coming is according to the working of Satan in all power and signs and wonders of falsehood,

[10]and in all deceit of unrighteousness to them that perish, because they have not received the love of the truth that they might be saved.

[11]And for this reason God sends to them a working of error, that they should believe what is false, [12]that all might be judged who have not believed the truth, but have found pleasure in unrighteousness.

[13]But we ought to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved of [the] Lord, that God has chosen you from [the] beginning to salvation in sanctification of [the] Spirit and belief of [the] truth:

[14]whereto he has called you by our glad tidings, to [the] obtaining of [the] glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

[15]So then, brethren, stand firm, and hold fast the instructions which ye have been taught, whether by word or by our letter.

[16]But our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and our God and Father, who has loved us, and given [us] eternal consolation and good hope by grace, [17]encourage your hearts, and establish you in every good work and word.

3For the rest, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also with you;

[2]and that we may be delivered from bad and evil men, for faith [is] not [the portion] of all.

[3]But the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you and keep [you] from evil.

[4]But we trust in the Lord as to you, that the things which we enjoin, ye both do and will do.

[5]But the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of the Christ.

[6]Now we enjoin you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw from every brother walking disorderly and not according to the instruction which he received from us.

[7]For ye know yourselves how ye ought to imitate us, because we have not walked disorderly among you;

[8]nor have we eaten bread from any one without cost; but in toil and hardship working night and day not to be chargeable to any one of you:

[9]not that we have not the right, but that we might give ourselves as an example to you, in order to your imitating us.

[10]For also when we were with you we enjoined you this, that if any man does not like to work, neither let him eat.

[11]For we hear that [there are] some walking among you disorderly, not working at all, but busybodies.

[12]Now such we enjoin and exhort in [the] Lord Jesus Christ, that working quietly they eat their own bread.

[13]But ye, brethren, do not faint in well-doing.

[14]But if any one obey not our word by the letter, mark that man, and do not keep company with him, that he may be ashamed of himself;

[15]and do not esteem him as an enemy, but admonish [him] as a brother.

[16]But the Lord of peace himself give you peace continually in every way. The Lord [be] with you all.

[17]The salutation by the hand of me, Paul, which is [the] mark in every letter; so I write.

[18]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [be] with you all.

1st Timothy

1 Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ, according to [the] command of God our Saviour, and of Christ Jesus our hope,

2 to Timotheus, [my] true child in faith: grace, mercy, peace, from God our Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 Even as I begged thee to remain in Ephesus, [when I was] going to Macedonia, that thou mightest enjoin some not to teach other doctrines,

4 nor to turn their minds to fables and interminable genealogies, which bring questionings rather than [further] God's dispensation, which [is] in faith.

5 But the end of what is enjoined is love out of a pure heart and a good conscience and unfeigned faith;

6 which [things] some having missed, have turned aside to vain discourse,

7 desiring to be law-teachers, not understanding either what they say or concerning what they [so] strenuously affirm.

8 Now we know that the law [is] good if any one uses it lawfully,

9 knowing this, that law has not its application to a righteous person, but to [the] lawless and insubordinate, to [the] impious and sinful, to [the] unholy and profane, to smiters of fathers and smiters of mothers; to murderers,

10 fornicators, sodomites, kidnappers, liars, perjurers; and if any other thing is opposed to sound teaching,

11 according to the glad tidings of the glory of the blessed God, with which I have been entrusted.

12 [And] I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who has given me power, that he has counted me faithful, appointing to ministry him

13 who before was a blasphemer and persecutor, and an insolent overbearing [man]: but mercy was shewn me because I did it ignorantly, in unbelief.

14 But the grace of our Lord surpassingly over-abounded with faith and love, which [is] in Christ Jesus.

15 Faithful [is] the word, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am [the] first.

16 But for this reason mercy was shewn me, that in me, [the] first, Jesus Christ might display the whole long-suffering, for a delineation of those about to believe on him to life eternal.

17 Now to the King of the ages, [the] incorruptible, invisible, only God, honour and glory to the ages of ages. Amen.

[18]This charge, [my] child Timotheus, I commit to thee, according to the prophecies as to thee preceding, in order that thou mightest war by them the good warfare,

[19]maintaining faith and a good conscience; which [last] some, having put away, have made shipwreck as to faith;

[20]of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have delivered to Satan, that they may be taught by discipline not to blaspheme.

2 I exhort therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings be made for all men;

[2]for kings and all that are in dignity, that we may lead a quiet and tranquil life in all piety and gravity;

[3]for this is good and acceptable before our Saviour God,

[4]who desires that all men should be saved and come to [the] knowledge of [the] truth.

[5]For God is one, and [the] mediator of God and men one, [the] man Christ Jesus,

[6]who gave himself a ransom for all, the testimony [to be rendered] in its own times;

[7]to which I have been appointed a herald and apostle, (I speak [the] truth, I do not lie,) a teacher of [the] nations in faith and truth.

[8]I will therefore that the men pray in every place, lifting up pious hands, without wrath or reasoning.

[9]In like manner also that the women in decent deportment and dress adorn themselves with modesty and discretion, not with plaited [hair] and gold, or pearls, or costly clothing,

[10]but, what becomes women making profession of the fear of God, by good works.

[11]Let a woman learn in quietness in all subjection;

[12]but I do not suffer a woman to teach nor to exercise authority over man, but to be in quietness;

[13]for Adam was formed first, then Eve:

[14]and Adam was not deceived; but the woman, having been deceived, was in transgression.

[15]But she shall be preserved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and love and holiness with discretion.

3 The word [is] faithful: if any one aspires to exercise oversight, he desires a good work.

[2]The overseer then must be irreproachable, husband of one wife, sober, discreet, decorous, hospitable, apt to teach;

[3]not given to excesses from wine, not a striker, but mild, not addicted to contention, not fond of money,

[4]conducting his own house well, having [his] children in subjection with all gravity;

[5](but if one does not know how to conduct his own house, how shall he take care of the assembly of God?)

[6]not a novice, that he may not, being inflated, fall into [the] fault of the devil.

[7]But it is necessary that he should have also a good testimony from those without, that he may fall not into reproach and [the] snare of the devil.

[8]Ministers, in like manner, grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not seeking gain by base means,

[9]holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

[10]And let these be first proved, then let them minister, being without charge [against them].

[11][The] women in like manner grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

[12]Let [the] ministers be husbands of one wife, conducting [their] children and their own houses well:

[13]for those who shall have ministered well obtain for themselves a good degree, and much boldness in faith which [is] in Christ Jesus.

[14]These things I write to thee, hoping to come to thee more quickly;

[15]but if I delay, in order that thou mayest know how one ought to conduct oneself in God's house, which is [the] assembly of [the] living God, [the] pillar and base of the truth.

[16]And confessedly the mystery of piety is great. God has been manifested in flesh, has been justified in [the] Spirit, has appeared to angels, has been preached among [the] nations, has been believed on in [the] world, has been received up in glory.

4But the Spirit speaks expressly, that in latter times some shall apostatise from the faith, giving their mind to deceiving spirits and teachings of demons

[2]speaking lies in hypocrisy, cauterised as to their own conscience,

[3]forbidding to marry, [bidding] to abstain from meats, which God has created for receiving with thanksgiving for them who are faithful and know the truth.

[4]For every creature of God [is] good, and nothing [is] to be rejected, being received with thanksgiving;

[5]for it is sanctified by God's word and freely addressing [him].

[6]Laying these things before the brethren, thou wilt be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished with the words of the faith and of the good teaching which thou hast fully followed up.

[7]But profane and old wives' fables avoid, but exercise thyself unto piety;

[8]for bodily exercise is profitable for a little, but piety is profitable for everything, having promise of life, of the present one, and of that to come.

[9]The word [is] faithful and worthy of all acceptation;

[10]for, for this we labour and suffer reproach, because we hope in a living God, who is preserver of all men, specially of those that believe.

[11]Enjoin and teach these things.

[12]Let no one despise thy youth, but be a model of the believers, in word, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity.

[13]Till I come, give thyself to reading, to exhortation, to teaching.

[14]Be not negligent of the gift [that is] in thee, which has been given to thee through prophecy, with imposition of the hands of the elderhood.

[15]Occupy thyself with these things; be wholly in them, that thy progress may be manifest to all.

[16]Give heed to thyself and to the teaching; continue in them; for, doing this, thou shalt save both thyself and those that hear thee.

5Rebuke not an elder sharply, but exhort [him] as a father, younger [men] as brethren,

[2]elder women as mothers, younger women as sisters, with all purity.

[3]Honour widows who are really widows;

[4]but if any widow have children or descendants, let them learn first to be pious as regards their own house, and to render a return on their side to [their] parents; for this is acceptable in the sight of God.

[5]Now she who [is] a widow indeed, and is left alone, has put [her] hope in God, and continues in supplications and prayers night and day.

[6]But she that lives in habits of self-indulgence is dead [while] living.

[7]And these things enjoin, that they may be irreproachable.

[8]But if any one does not provide for his own, and specially for those of [his] house, he has denied the faith, and is worse than the unbeliever.

[9]Let a widow be put upon the list, being of not less than sixty years, [having been] wife of one man,

[10]borne witness to in good works, if she have brought up children, if she have exercised hospitality, if she have washed saints' feet, if she have imparted relief to the distressed, if she have diligently followed every good work.

[11]But younger widows decline; for when they grow wanton against Christ, they desire to marry, [12]being guilty, because they have cast off their first faith.

[13]And, at the same time, they learn also [to be] idle, going about to people's houses; and not only idle, but also gossipers and meddlers, speaking things not becoming.

[14]I will therefore that the younger marry, bear children, rule the house, give no occasion to the adversary in respect of reproach.

[15]For already some have turned aside after Satan.

[16]If any believing man or woman have widows, let them impart relief to them, and let not the assembly be charged, that it may impart relief to those [that are] widows indeed.

[17]Let the elders who take the lead [among the saints] well be esteemed worthy of double honour, specially those labouring in word and teaching;

[18]for the scripture says, Thou shalt not muzzle an ox that treadeth out corn, and, The workman [is] worthy of his hire.

[19]Against an elder receive not an accusation unless where there are two or three witnesses.

[20]Those that sin convict before all, that the rest also may have fear.

[21]I testify before God and Christ Jesus and the elect angels, that thou keep these things without prejudice, doing nothing by favour.

[22]Lay hands quickly on no man, nor partake in others' sins. Keep thyself pure.

[23]Drink no longer only water, but use a little wine on account of thy stomach and thy frequent illnesses.

[24]Of some men the sins are manifest beforehand, going before to judgment, and some also they follow after.

[25]In like manner good works also are manifest beforehand, and those that are otherwise cannot be hid.

6Let as many bondmen as are under yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and the teaching be not blasphemed.

[2]And they that have believing masters, let them not despise [them] because they are brethren; but let them the rather serve them with subjection, because they are faithful and beloved, who profit by the good and ready service [rendered]. These things teach and exhort.

[3]If any one teach differently, and do not accede to sound words, those of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the teaching which [is] according to piety,

[4]he is puffed up, knowing nothing, but sick about questions and disputes of words, out of which arise envy, strife, injurious words, evil suspicions,

[5]constant quarrellings of men corrupted in mind and destitute of the truth, holding gain to be [the end of] piety.

[6]But piety with contentment is great gain.

[7]For we have brought nothing into the world: [it is] [manifest] that neither can we carry anything out.

[8]But having sustenance and covering, we will be content with these.

[9]But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and many unwise and hurtful lusts, which plunge men into destruction and ruin.

[10]For the love of money is [the] root of every evil; which some having aspired after, have wandered from the faith, and pierced themselves with many sorrows.

[11]But thou, O man of God, flee these things, and pursue righteousness, piety, faith, love, endurance, meekness of spirit.

[12]Strive earnestly [in] the good conflict of faith. Lay hold of eternal life, to which thou hast been called, and hast confessed the good confession before many witnesses.

[13]I enjoin thee before God who preserves all things in life, and Christ Jesus who witnessed before Pontius Pilate the good confession,

[14]that thou keep the commandment spotless, irreproachable, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ;

[15]which in its own time the blessed and only Ruler shall shew, the King of those that reign, and Lord of those that exercise lordship;

[16]who only has immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light; whom no man has seen, nor is able to see; to whom [be] honour and eternal might. Amen.

[17]Enjoin on those rich in the present age not to be high-minded, nor to trust on the uncertainty of riches; but in the God who affords us all things richly for [our] enjoyment;

[18]to do good, to be rich in good works, to be liberal in distributing, disposed to communicate [of their substance],

[19]laying by for themselves a good foundation for the future, that they may lay hold of [what is] really life.

[20]O Timotheus, keep the entrusted deposit, avoiding profane, vain babblings, and oppositions of false-named knowledge, [21]of which some having made profession, have missed the faith. Grace [be] with thee.

2nd Timothy

1 Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ by God's will, according to promise of life, the [life] which [is] in Christ Jesus,

2 to Timotheus, [my] beloved child: grace, mercy, peace, from God [the] Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I am thankful to God, whom I serve from [my] forefathers with pure conscience, how unceasingly I have the remembrance of thee in my supplications night and day,

4 earnestly desiring to see thee, remembering thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;

5 calling to mind the unfeigned faith which [has been] in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 For which cause I put thee in mind to rekindle the gift of God which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For God has not given us a spirit of cowardice, but of power, and of love, and of wise discretion.

8 Be not therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner; but suffer evil along with the glad tidings, according to the power of God;

9 who has saved us, and has called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to [his] own purpose and grace, which [was] given to us in Christ Jesus before [the] ages of time,

10 but has been made manifest now by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who has annulled death, and brought to light life and incorruptibility by the glad tidings;

11 to which I have been appointed a herald and apostle and teacher of [the] nations.

12 For which cause also I suffer these things; but I am not ashamed; for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep for that day the deposit I have entrusted to him.

13 Have an outline of sound words, which [words] thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which [are] in Christ Jesus.

14 Keep, by the Holy Spirit which dwells in us, the good deposit entrusted.

15 Thou knowest this, that all who [are] in Asia, of whom is Phygellus and Hermogenes, have turned away from me.

16 The Lord grant mercy to the house of Onesiphorus, for he has often refreshed me, and has not been ashamed of my chain;

[17]but being in Rome sought me out very diligently, and found [me] --

[18]the Lord grant to him to find mercy from [the] Lord in that day -- and how much service he rendered in Ephesus thou knowest best.

2 Thou therefore, my child, be strong in the grace which [is] in Christ Jesus.

[2]And the things thou hast heard of me in the presence of many witnesses, these entrust to faithful men, such as shall be competent to instruct others also.

[3]Take thy share in suffering as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

[4]No one going as a soldier entangles himself with the affairs of life, that he may please him who has enlisted him as a soldier.

[5]And if also any one contend [in the games], he is not crowned unless he contend lawfully.

[6]The husbandman must labour before partaking of the fruits.

[7]Think of what I say, for the Lord will give thee understanding in all things.

[8]Remember Jesus Christ raised from among [the] dead, of [the] seed of David, according to my glad tidings,

[9]in which I suffer even unto bonds as an evil-doer: but the word of God is not bound.

[10]For this cause I endure all things for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation which [is] in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

[11]The word [is] faithful; for if we have died together with [him], we shall also live together;

[12]if we endure, we shall also reign together; if we deny, he also will deny us;

[13]if we are unfaithful, he abides faithful, for he cannot deny himself.

[14]Of these things put in remembrance, testifying earnestly before the Lord not to have disputes of words, profitable for nothing, to the subversion of the hearers.

[15]Strive diligently to present thyself approved to God, a workman that has not to be ashamed, cutting in a straight line the word of truth.

[16]But profane, vain babblings shun, for they will advance to greater impiety,

[17]and their word will spread as a gangrene; of whom is Hymenaeus and Philetus;

[18][men] who as to the truth have gone astray, saying that the resurrection has taken place already; and overthrow the faith of some.

[19]Yet the firm foundation of God stands, having this seal, [The] Lord knows those that are his; and, Let every one who names the name of [the] Lord withdraw from iniquity.

[20]But in a great house there are not only gold and silver vessels, but also wooden and earthen; and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

[21]If therefore one shall have purified himself from these, [in separating himself from them], he shall be a vessel to honour, sanctified, serviceable to the Master, prepared for every good work.

[22]But youthful lusts flee, and pursue righteousness, faith, love, peace, with those that call upon the Lord out of a pure heart.

[23]But foolish and senseless questionings avoid, knowing that they beget contentions.

[24]And a bondman of [the] Lord ought not to contend, but be gentle towards all; apt to teach; forbearing;

[25]in meekness setting right those who oppose, if God perhaps may sometime give them repentance to acknowledgment of [the] truth,

[26]and that they may awake up out of the snare of the devil, [who are] taken by him, for his will.

3But this know, that in [the] last days difficult times shall be there;

[2]for men shall be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, arrogant, evil speakers, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, profane,

[3]without natural affection, implacable, slanderers, of unsubdued passions, savage, having no love for what is good,

[4]traitors, headlong, of vain pretensions, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God;

[5]having a form of piety but denying the power of it: and from these turn away.

[6]For of these are they who are getting into houses, and leading captive silly women, laden with sins, led by various lusts,

[7]always learning, and never able to come to [the] knowledge of [the] truth.

[8]Now in the same manner in which Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, thus these also withstand the truth; men corrupted in mind, found worthless as regards the faith.

[9]But they shall not advance farther; for their folly shall be completely manifest to all, as that of those also became.

[10]But thou hast been thoroughly acquainted with my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, longsuffering, love, endurance, [11]persecutions, sufferings: what [sufferings] happened to me in Antioch, in Iconium, in Lystra; what persecutions I endured; and the Lord delivered me out of all.

[12]And all indeed who desire to live piously in Christ Jesus will be persecuted.

[13]But wicked men and juggling impostors shall advance in evil, leading and being led astray.

[14]But thou, abide in those things which thou hast learned, and [of which] thou hast been fully persuaded, knowing of whom thou hast learned [them];

[15]and that from a child thou hast known the sacred letters, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which [is] in Christ Jesus.

[16]Every scripture [is] divinely inspired, and profitable for teaching, for conviction, for correction, for instruction in righteousness;

[17]that the man of God may be complete, fully fitted to every good work.

4 I testify before God and Christ Jesus, who is about to judge living and dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom,

[2]proclaim the word; be urgent in season [and] out of season, convict, rebuke, encourage, with all longsuffering and doctrine.

[3]For the time shall be when they will not bear sound teaching; but according to their own lusts will heap up to themselves teachers, having an itching ear;

[4]and they will turn away their ear from the truth, and will have turned aside to fables.

[5]But thou, be sober in all things, bear evils, do [the] work of an evangelist, fill up the full measure of thy ministry.

[6]For I am already being poured out, and the time of my release is come.

[7]I have combated the good combat, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith.

[8]Henceforth the crown of righteousness is laid up for me, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will render to me in that day; but not only to me, but also to all who love his appearing.

[9]Use diligence to come to me quickly;

[10]for Demas has forsaken me, having loved the present age, and is gone to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia.

[11]Luke alone is with me. Take Mark, and bring [him] with thyself, for he is serviceable to me for ministry.

[12]But Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus.

[13]The cloak which I left behind [me] in Troas at Carpus's, bring when thou comest, and the books, especially the parchments.

[14]Alexander the smith did many evil things against me. The Lord will render to him according to his works.

[15]Against whom be thou also on thy guard, for he has greatly withstood our words.

[16]At my first defence no man stood with me, but all deserted me. May it not be imputed to them.

[17]But the Lord stood with [me], and gave me power, that through me the proclamation might be fully made, and all [those of] the nations should hear; and I was delivered out of the lion's mouth.

[18]The Lord shall deliver me from every wicked work, and shall preserve [me] for his heavenly kingdom; to whom [be] glory for the ages of ages. Amen.

[19]Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the house of Onesiphorus.

[20]Erastus remained in Corinth, but Trophimus I left behind in Miletus sick.

[21]Use diligence to come before winter. Eubulus salutes thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and the brethren all.

[22]The Lord Jesus Christ [be] with your spirit. Grace [be] with you.

Titus

1 Paul, bondman of God, and apostle of Jesus Christ according to [the] faith of God's elect, and knowledge of [the] truth which [is] according to piety;

2 in [the] hope of eternal life, which God, who cannot lie, promised before the ages of time,

3 but has manifested in its own due season his word, in [the] proclamation with which I have been entrusted, according to [the] commandment of our Saviour God;

4 to Titus, my own child according to [the] faith common [to us]: Grace and peace from God [the] Father, and Christ Jesus our Saviour.

5 For this cause I left thee in Crete, that thou mightest go on to set right what remained [unordered], and establish elders in each city, as I had ordered thee:

6 if any one be free from all charge [against him], husband of one wife, having believing children not accused of excess or unruly.

7 For the overseer must be free from all charge [against him] as God's steward; not headstrong, not passionate, not disorderly through wine, not a striker, not seeking gain by base means;

8 but hospitable, a lover of goodness, discreet, just, pious, temperate,

9 clinging to the faithful word according to the doctrine taught, that he may be able both to encourage with sound teaching and refute gainsayers.

10 For there are many and disorderly vain speakers and deceivers of people's minds, specially those of [the] circumcision, 11 who must have their mouths stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which ought not [to be taught] for the sake of base gain.

12 One of themselves, a prophet of their own, has said, Cretans are always liars, evil wild beasts, lazy gluttons.

13 This testimony is true; for which cause rebuke them severely, that they may be sound in the faith,

14 not turning [their] minds to Jewish fables and commandments of men turning away from the truth.

15 All things [are] pure to the pure; but to the defiled and unbelieving nothing [is] pure; but both their mind and their conscience are defiled.

16 They profess to know God, but in works deny [him], being abominable, and disobedient, and found worthless as to every good work.

2But do thou speak the things that become sound teaching;

[2]that the elder men be sober, grave, discreet, sound in faith, in love, in patience;

[3]that the elder women in like manner be in deportment as becoming those who have to say to sacred things, not slanderers, not enslaved to much wine, teachers of what is right;

[4]that they may admonish the young women to be attached to [their] husbands, to be attached to [their] children,

[5]discreet, chaste, diligent in home work, good, subject to their own husbands, that the word of God may not be evil spoken of.

[6]The younger men in like manner exhort to be discreet:

[7]in all things affording thyself as a pattern of good works; in teaching uncorruptedness, gravity,

[8]a sound word, not to be condemned; that he who is opposed may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say about us:

[9]bondmen to be subject to their own masters, to make themselves acceptable in everything; not gainsaying;

[10]not robbing [their masters], but shewing all good fidelity, that they may adorn the teaching which [is] of our Saviour God in all things.

[11]For the grace of God which carries with it salvation for all men has appeared,

[12]teaching us that, having denied impiety and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, and justly, and piously in the present course of things,

[13]awaiting the blessed hope and appearing of the glory of our great God and Saviour Jesus Christ;

[14]who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all lawlessness, and purify to himself a peculiar people, zealous for good works.

[15]These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no one despise thee.

3Put them in mind to be subject to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient to rule, to be ready to do every good work,

[2]to speak evil of no one, not to be contentious, [to be] mild, shewing all meekness towards all men.

[3]For we were once ourselves also without intelligence, disobedient, wandering in error, serving various lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, [and] hating one another.

[4]But when the kindness and love to man of our Saviour God appeared,

[5]not on the principle of works which [have been done] in righteousness which we had done, but according to his own mercy he saved us through [the] washing of regeneration and renewal of [the] Holy Spirit,

[6]which he poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ our Saviour;

[7]that, having been justified by his grace, we should become heirs according to [the] hope of eternal life.

[8]The word [is] faithful, and I desire that thou insist strenuously on these things, that they who have believed God may take care to pay diligent attention to good works. These things are good and profitable to men.

[9]But foolish questions, and genealogies, and strifes, and contentions about the law, shun; for they are unprofitable and vain.

[10]An heretical man after a first and second admonition have done with, [11]knowing that such a one is perverted, and sins, being self-condemned.

[12]When I shall send Artemas to thee, or Tychicus, use diligence to come to me to Nicopolis; for I have decided to winter there.

[13]Zenas the lawyer and Apollos set forward diligently on their way, that nothing may be lacking to them;

[14]and let ours also learn to apply themselves to good works for necessary wants, that they may not be unfruitful.

[15]All with me salute thee. Salute those who love us in [the] faith. Grace [be] with you all.

Philemon

1 Paul, prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timotheus the brother, to Philemon the beloved and our fellow-workman,

2 and to the sister Apphia and to Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the assembly which [is] in thine house.

3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thank my God, always making mention of thee at my prayers,

5 hearing of thy love and the faith which thou hast towards the Lord Jesus, and towards all the saints,

6 in such sort that thy participation in the faith should become operative in the acknowledgment of every good thing which is in us towards Christ [Jesus].

7 For we have great thankfulness and encouragement through thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore having much boldness in Christ to enjoin thee what is fitting,

9 for love's sake I rather exhort, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10 I exhort thee for my child, whom I have begotten in [my] bonds, Onesimus, 11 once unserviceable to thee, but now serviceable to thee and to me:

12 whom I have sent back to thee: [but do thou receive] him, that is, my bowels:

13 whom I was desirous of keeping with myself, that for thee he might minister to me in the bonds of the glad tidings;

14 but I have wished to do nothing without thy mind, that thy good might not be as of necessity but of willingness:

15 for perhaps for this reason he has been separated [from thee] for a time, that thou mightest possess him fully for ever;

16 not any longer as a bondman, but above a bondman, a beloved brother, specially to me, and how much rather to thee, both in [the] flesh and in [the] Lord?

17 If therefore thou holdest me to be a partner [with thee], receive him as me;

18 but if he have wronged thee anything or owe anything [to thee], put this to my account.

19 I Paul have written [it] with mine own hand; I will repay [it]: that I say not to thee that thou owest even thine own self also to me.

20 Yea, brother, I would have profit of thee in [the] Lord: refresh my bowels in Christ.

[21]Being confident of thine obedience, I have written to thee, knowing that thou wilt do even more than I say.

[22]But withal prepare me also a lodging; for I hope that I shall be granted to you through your prayers.

[23]Epaphras salutes thee, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus;

[24]Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, Luke, my fellow-workmen.

[25]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [be] with your spirit.

Hebrews

1 God having spoken in many parts and in many ways formerly to the fathers in the prophets,

2 at the end of these days has spoken to us in [the person of the] Son, whom he has established heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds;

3 who being [the] effulgence of his glory and [the] expression of his substance, and upholding all things by the word of his power, having made [by himself] the purification of sins, set himself down on the right hand of the greatness on high,

4 taking a place by so much better than the angels, as he inherits a name more excellent than they.

5 For to which of the angels said he ever, Thou art my Son: this day have I begotten thee? and again, I will be to him for father, and he shall be to me for son?

6 and again, when he brings in the firstborn into the habitable world, he says, And let all God's angels worship him.

7 And as to the angels he says, Who makes his angels spirits and his ministers a flame of fire;

8 but as to the Son, Thy throne, O God, [is] to the age of the age, and a sceptre of uprightness [is] the sceptre of thy kingdom.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness and hast hated lawlessness; therefore God, thy God, has anointed thee with oil of gladness above thy companions.

10 And, Thou in the beginning, Lord, hast founded the earth, and works of thy hands are the heavens.

11 They shall perish, but thou continuest still; and they all shall grow old as a garment,

12 and as a covering shalt thou roll them up, and they shall be changed; but thou art the Same, and thy years shall not fail.

13 But as to which of the angels said he ever, Sit at my right hand until I put thine enemies [as] footstool of thy feet?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent out for service on account of those who shall inherit salvation?

2 For this reason we should give heed more abundantly to the things [we have] heard, lest in any way we should slip away.

2 For if the word which was spoken by angels was firm, and every transgression and disobedience received just retribution,

[3]how shall we escape if we have been negligent of so great salvation, which, having had its commencement in being spoken [of] by the Lord, has been confirmed to us by those who have heard;

[4]God bearing, besides, witness with [them] to [it], both by signs and wonders, and various acts of power, and distributions of [the] Holy Spirit, according to his will?

[5]For he has not subjected to angels the habitable world which is to come, of which we speak;

[6]but one has testified somewhere, saying, What is man, that thou rememberest him, or son of man that thou visitest him?

[7]Thou hast made him some little inferior to the angels; thou hast crowned him with glory and honour, [and hast set him over the works of thy hands;]

[8]thou hast subjected all things under his feet. For in subjecting all things to him, he has left nothing unsubject to him. But now we see not yet all things subjected to him,

[9]but we see Jesus, who [was] made some little inferior to angels on account of the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; so that by the grace of God he should taste death for every thing.

[10]For it became him, for whom [are] all things, and by whom [are] all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make perfect the leader of their salvation through sufferings.

[11]For both he that sanctifies and those sanctified [are] all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren, [12]saying, I will declare thy name to my brethren; in [the] midst of [the] assembly will I sing thy praises.

[13]And again, I will trust in him. And again, Behold, I and the children which God has given me.

[14]Since therefore the children partake of blood and flesh, he also, in like manner, took part in the same, that through death he might annul him who has the might of death, that is, the devil;

[15]and might set free all those who through fear of death through the whole of their life were subject to bondage.

[16]For he does not indeed take hold of angels [by the hand], but he takes hold of the seed of Abraham.

[17]Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like to [his] brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things relating to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people;

[18]for, in that himself has suffered, being tempted, he is able to help those that are being tempted.

3Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of [the] heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, Jesus,

[2]who is faithful to him that has constituted him, as Moses also in all his house.

[3]For he has been counted worthy of greater glory than Moses, by how much he that has built it has more honour than the house.

[4]For every house is built by some one; but he who has built all things [is] God.

[5]And Moses indeed [was] faithful in all his house, as a ministering servant, for a testimony of the things to be spoken after;

[6]but Christ, as Son over his house, whose house are we, if indeed we hold fast the boldness and the boast of hope firm to the end.

[7]Wherefore, even as says the Holy Spirit, To-day if ye will hear his voice,

[8]harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness;

[9]where your fathers tempted [me], by proving [me], and saw my works forty years.

[10]Wherefore I was wroth with this generation, and said, They always err in heart; and they have not known my ways;

[11]so I swore in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest.

[12]See, brethren, lest there be in any one of you a wicked heart of unbelief, in turning away from [the] living God.

[13]But encourage yourselves each day, as long as it is called To-day, that none of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin.

[14]For we are become companions of the Christ if indeed we hold the beginning of the assurance firm to the end;

[15]in that it is said, To-day if ye will hear his voice, do not harden your hearts, as in the provocation;

[16](for who was it, who, having heard, provoked? but [was it] not all who came out of Egypt by Moses?

[17]And with whom was he wroth forty years? [Was it] not with those who had sinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness?

[18]And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to those who had not hearkened to the word?

[19]And we see that they could not enter in on account of unbelief;)

4Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you might seem to have failed [of it].

[2]For indeed we have had glad tidings presented to us, even as they also; but the word of the report did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in those who heard.

[3]For we enter into the rest who have believed; as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest; although the works had been completed from [the] foundation of [the] world.

[4]For he has said somewhere of the seventh [day] thus, And God rested on the seventh day from all his works:

[5]and in this again, If they shall enter into my rest.

[6]Seeing therefore it remains that some enter into it, and those who first received the glad tidings did not enter in on account of not hearkening to the word,

[7]again he determines a certain day, saying, in David, 'To-day,' after so long a time; (according as it has been said before), To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

[8]For if Jesus had brought them into rest, he would not have spoken afterwards about another day.

[9]There remains then a sabbatism to the people of God.

[10]For he that has entered into his rest, he also has rested from his works, as God did from his own.

[11]Let us therefore use diligence to enter into that rest, that no one may fall after the same example of not hearkening to the word.

[12]For the word of God [is] living and operative, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and penetrating to [the] division of soul and spirit, both of joints and marrow, and a discerner of the thoughts and intents of [the] heart.

[13]And there is not a creature unapparent before him; but all things [are] naked and laid bare to his eyes, with whom we have to do.

[14]Having therefore a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast the confession.

[15]For we have not a high priest not able to sympathise with our infirmities, but tempted in all things in like manner, sin apart.

[16]Let us approach therefore with boldness to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and find grace for seasonable help.

5For every high priest taken from amongst men is established for men in things relating to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins;

[2]being able to exercise forbearance towards the ignorant and erring, since he himself also is clothed with infirmity;

[3]and, on account of this [infirmity], he ought, even as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

[4]And no one takes the honour to himself but [as] called by God, even as Aaron also.

[5]Thus the Christ also has not glorified himself to be made a high priest; but he who had said to him, Thou art my Son, I have to-day begotten thee.

[6]Even as also in another [place] he says, Thou [art] a priest for ever according to the order of Melchisedec.

[7]Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up both supplications and entreaties to him who was able to save him out of death, with strong crying and tears; (and having been heard because of his piety;)

[8]though he were Son, he learned obedience from the things which he suffered;

[9]and having been perfected, became to all them that obey him, author of eternal salvation;

[10]addressed by God [as] high priest according to the order of Melchisedec.

[11]Concerning whom we have much to say, and hard to be interpreted in speaking [of it], since ye are become dull in hearing.

[12]For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have again need that [one] should teach you what [are] the elements of the beginning of the oracles of God, and are become such as have need of milk, [and] not of solid food.

[13]For every one that partakes of milk [is] unskilled in the word of righteousness, for he is a babe;

[14]but solid food belongs to full-grown men, who, on account of habit, have their senses exercised for distinguishing both good and evil.

6 Wherefore, leaving the word of the beginning of the Christ, let us go on [to what belongs] to full growth, not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works and faith in God,

[2]of [the] doctrine of washings, and of imposition of hands, and of resurrection of [the] dead, and of eternal judgment;

[3]and this will we do if God permit.

[4]For it is impossible to renew again to repentance those once enlightened, and who have tasted of the heavenly gift, and have been made partakers of [the] Holy Spirit,

[5]and have tasted the good word of God, and [the] works of power of [the] age to come,

[6]and have fallen away, crucifying for themselves [as they do] the Son of God, and making a show of [him].

[7]For ground which drinks the rain which comes often upon it, and produces useful herbs for those for whose sakes also it is tilled, partakes of blessing from God;

[8]but bringing forth thorns and briars, it is found worthless and nigh to a curse, whose end [is] to be burned.

[9]But we are persuaded concerning you, beloved, better things, and connected with salvation, even if we speak thus.

[10]For God [is] not unrighteous to forget your work, and the love which ye have shewn to his name, having ministered to the saints, and [still] ministering.

[11]But we desire earnestly that each one of you shew the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end;

[12]that ye be not sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience have been inheritors of the promises.

[13]For God, having promised to Abraham, since he had no greater to swear by, swore by himself,

[14]saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee;

[15]and thus, having had long patience, he got the promise.

[16]For men indeed swear by a greater, and with them the oath is a term to all dispute, as making matters sure.

[17]Wherein God, willing to shew more abundantly to the heirs of the promise the unchangeableness of his purpose, intervened by an oath,

[18]that by two unchangeable things, in which [it was] impossible that God should lie, we might have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold on the hope set before us,

[19]which we have as anchor of the soul, both secure and firm, and entering into that within the veil,

[20]where Jesus is entered as forerunner for us, become for ever a high priest according to the order of Melchisedec.

7 For this Melchisedec, King of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from smiting the kings, and blessed him;

[2]to whom Abraham gave also the tenth portion of all; first being interpreted King of righteousness, and then also King of Salem, which is King of peace;

[3]without father, without mother, without genealogy; having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but assimilated to the Son of God, abides a priest continually.

[4]Now consider how great this [personage] was, to whom [even] the patriarch Abraham gave a tenth out of the spoils.

[5]And they indeed from among the sons of Levi, who receive the priesthood, have commandment to take tithes from the people according to the law, that is from their brethren, though these are come out of the loins of Abraham:

[6]but he who has no genealogy from them has tithed Abraham, and blessed him who had the promises.

[7]But beyond all gainsaying, the inferior is blessed by the better.

[8]And here dying men receive tithes; but there [one] of whom the witness is that he lives;

[9]and, so to speak, through Abraham, Levi also, who received tithes, has been made to pay tithes.

[10]For he was yet in the loins of his father when Melchisedec met him.

[11]If indeed then perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, for the people had their law given to them in connexion with it, what need [was there] still that a different priest should arise according to the order of Melchisedec, and not be named after the order of Aaron?

[12]For, the priesthood being changed, there takes place of necessity a change of law also.

[13]For he, of whom these things are said, belongs to a different tribe, of which no one has [ever] been attached to the service of the altar.

[14]For it is clear that our Lord has sprung out of Juda, as to which tribe Moses spake nothing as to priests.

[15]And it is yet more abundantly evident, since a different priest arises according to the similitude of Melchisedec, [16]who has been constituted not according to law of fleshly commandment, but according to power of indissoluble life.

[17]For it is borne witness, Thou art a priest for ever according to the order of Melchisedec.

[18]For there is a setting aside of the commandment going before for its weakness and unprofitableness, [19](for the law perfected nothing,) and the introduction of a better hope by which we draw nigh to God.

[20]And by how much [it was] not without the swearing of an oath;

[21](for they are become priests without the swearing of an oath, but he with the swearing of an oath, by him who said, as to him, The Lord has sworn, and will not repent [of it], Thou [art] priest for ever [according to the order of Melchisedec];)

[22]by so much Jesus became surety of a better covenant.

[23]And they have been many priests, on account of being hindered from continuing by death;

[24]but he, because of his continuing for ever, has the priesthood unchangeable.

[25]Whence also he is able to save completely those who approach by him to God, always living to intercede for them.

[26]For such a high priest became us, holy, harmless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and become higher than the heavens:

[27]who has not day by day need, as the high priests, first to offer up sacrifices for his own sins, then [for] those of the people; for this he did once for all [in] having offered up himself.

[28]For the law constitutes men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the swearing of the oath which [is] after the law, a Son perfected for ever.

8Now a summary of the things of which we are speaking [is], We have such a one high priest who has sat down on [the] right hand of the throne of the greatness in the heavens;

[2]minister of the holy places and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord has pitched, [and] not man.

[3]For every high priest is constituted for the offering both of gifts and sacrifices; whence it is needful that this one also should have something which he may offer.

[4]If then indeed he were upon earth, he would not even be a priest, there being those who offer the gifts according to the law,

[5](who serve the representation and shadow of heavenly things, according as Moses was oracularly told [when] about to make the tabernacle; for See, saith He, that thou make all things according to the pattern which has been shewn to thee in the mountain.)

[6]But now he has got a more excellent ministry, by so much as he is mediator of a better covenant, which is established on the footing of better promises.

[7]For if that first was faultless, place had not been sought for a second.

[8]For finding fault, he says to them, Behold, days come, saith the Lord, and I will consummate a new covenant as regards the house of Israel, and as regards the house of Juda;

[9]not according to the covenant which I made to their fathers in [the] day of my taking their hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they did not continue in my covenant, and I did not regard them, saith [the] Lord.

[10]Because this [is] the covenant that I will covenant to the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord: Giving my laws into their mind, I will write them also upon their hearts; and I will be to them for God, and they shall be to me for people.

[11]And they shall not teach each his fellow-citizen, and each his brother, saying, Know the Lord; because all shall know me in themselves, from [the] little one [among them] unto [the] great among them.

[12]Because I will be merciful to their unrighteousnesses, and their sins and their lawlessnesses I will never remember any more.

13 In that he says New, he has made the first old; but that which grows old and aged [is] near disappearing.

9 The first therefore also indeed had ordinances of service, and the sanctuary, a worldly one.

2 For a tabernacle was set up; the first, in which [were] both the candlestick and the table and the exposition of the loaves, which is called Holy;

3 but after the second veil a tabernacle which is called Holy of holies,

4 having a golden censer, and the ark of the covenant, covered round in every part with gold, in which [were] the golden pot that had the manna, and the rod of Aaron that had sprouted, and the tables of the covenant;

5 and above over it the cherubim of glory shadowing the mercy-seat; concerning which it is not now [the time] to speak in detail.

6 Now these things being thus ordered, into the first tabernacle the priests enter at all times, accomplishing the services;

7 but into the second, the high priest only, once a year, not without blood, which he offers for himself and for the errors of the people:

8 the Holy Spirit shewing this, that the way of the [holy of] holies has not yet been made manifest while as yet the first tabernacle has [its] standing;

9 the which [is] an image for the present time, according to which both gifts and sacrifices, unable to perfect as to conscience him that worshipped, are offered,

10 [consisting] only of meats and drinks and divers washings, ordinances of flesh, imposed until [the] time of setting things right.

11 But Christ being come high priest of the good things to come, by the better and more perfect tabernacle not made with hand, (that is, not of this creation,)

12 nor by blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood, has entered in once for all into the [holy of] holies, having found an eternal redemption.

13 For if the blood of goats and bulls, and a heifer's ashes sprinkling the defiled, sanctifies for the purity of the flesh,

14 how much rather shall the blood of the Christ, who by the eternal Spirit offered himself spotless to God, purify your conscience from dead works to worship [the] living God?

15 And for this reason he is mediator of a new covenant, so that, death having taken place for redemption of the transgressions under the first covenant, the called might receive the promise of the eternal inheritance.

16(For where [there is] a testament, the death of the testator must needs come in.

17For a testament [is] of force when men are dead, since it is in no way of force while the testator is alive.)

18Whence neither the first was inaugurated without blood.

19For every commandment having been spoken according to [the] law by Moses to all the people; having taken the blood of calves and goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, he sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, 20saying, This [is] the blood of the covenant which God has enjoined to you.

21And the tabernacle too and all the vessels of service he sprinkled in like manner with blood;

22and almost all things are purified with blood according to the law, and without blood-shedding there is no remission.

23[It was] necessary then that the figurative representations of the things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with sacrifices better than these.

24For the Christ is not entered into holy places made with hand, figures of the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God for us:

25nor in order that he should offer himself often, as the high priest enters into the holy places every year with blood not his own;

26since he had [then] been obliged often to suffer from the foundation of the world. But now once in the consummation of the ages he has been manifested for [the] putting away of sin by his sacrifice.

27And forasmuch as it is the portion of men once to die, and after this judgment;

28thus the Christ also, having been once offered to bear the sins of many, shall appear to those that look for him the second time without sin for salvation.

10For the law, having a shadow of the coming good things, not the image itself of the things, can never, by the same sacrifices which they offer continually yearly, perfect those who approach.

2Since, would they not indeed have ceased being offered, on account of the worshippers once purged having no longer any conscience of sins?

3But in these [there is] a calling to mind of sins yearly.

4For blood of bulls and goats [is] incapable of taking away sins.

5Wherefore coming into the world he says, Sacrifice and offering thou willedst not; but thou hast prepared me a body.

[6]Thou tookest no pleasure in burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin.

[7]Then I said, Lo, I come (in [the] roll of the book it is written of me) to do, O God, thy will.

[8]Above, saying Sacrifices and offerings and burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou willedst not, neither tookest pleasure in (which are offered according to the law);

[9]then he said, Lo, I come to do thy will. He takes away the first that he may establish the second;

[10]by which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

[11]And every priest stands daily ministering, and offering often the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins.

[12]But he, having offered one sacrifice for sins, sat down in perpetuity at [the] right hand of God, [13]waiting from henceforth until his enemies be set [for the] footstool of his feet.

[14]For by one offering he has perfected in perpetuity the sanctified.

[15]And the Holy Spirit also bears us witness [of it]; for after what was said:

[16]This [is] the covenant which I will establish towards them after those days, saith [the] Lord: Giving my laws into their hearts, I will write them also in their understandings;

[17]and their sins and their lawlessnesses I will never remember any more.

[18]But where there [is] remission of these, [there is] no longer a sacrifice for sin.

[19]Having therefore, brethren, boldness for entering into the [holy of] holies by the blood of Jesus,

[20]the new and living way which he has dedicated for us through the veil, that is, his flesh,

[21]and [having] a great priest over the house of God,

[22]let us approach with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, sprinkled as to our hearts from a wicked conscience, and washed as to our body with pure water.

[23]Let us hold fast the confession of the hope unwavering, (for he [is] faithful who has promised;)

[24]and let us consider one another for provoking to love and good works;

[25]not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom [is] with some; but encouraging [one another], and by so much the more as ye see the day drawing near.

[26]For where we sin wilfully after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains any sacrifice for sins, [27]but a certain fearful expectation of judgment, and heat of fire about to devour the adversaries.

[28]Any one that has disregarded Moses' law dies without mercy on [the testimony of] two or three witnesses:

[29]of how much worse punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy who has trodden under foot the Son of God, and esteemed the blood of the covenant, whereby he has been sanctified, common, and has insulted the Spirit of grace?

[30]For we know him that said, To me [belongs] vengeance; I will recompense, saith the Lord: and again, The Lord shall judge his people.

[31][It is] a fearful thing falling into [the] hands of [the] living God.

[32]But call to mind the earlier days in which, having been enlightened, ye endured much conflict of sufferings;

[33]on the one hand, when ye were made a spectacle both in reproaches and afflictions; and on the other, when ye became partakers with those who were passing through them.

[34]For ye both sympathised with prisoners and accepted with joy the plunder of your goods, knowing that ye have for yourselves a better substance, and an abiding one.

[35]Cast not away therefore your confidence, which has great recompense.

[36]For ye have need of endurance in order that, having done the will of God, ye may receive the promise.

[37]For yet a very little while he that comes will come, and will not delay.

[38]But the just shall live by faith; and, if he draw back, my soul does not take pleasure in him.

[39]But we are not drawers back to perdition, but of faith to saving [the] soul.

11Now faith is [the] substantiating of things hoped for, [the] conviction of things not seen.

[2]For in [the power of] this the elders have obtained testimony.

[3]By faith we apprehend that the worlds were framed by [the] word of God, so that that which is seen should not take its origin from things which appear.

[4]By faith Abel offered to God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained testimony of being righteous, God bearing testimony to his gifts, and by it, having died, he yet speaks.

[5]By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him; for before [his] translation he has the testimony that he had pleased God.

[6]But without faith [it is] impossible to please [him]. For he that draws near to God must believe that he is, and [that] he is a rewarder of them who seek him out.

[7]By faith, Noah, oracularly warned concerning things not yet seen, moved with fear, prepared an ark for the saving of his house; by which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which [is] according to faith.

[8]By faith Abraham, being called, obeyed to go out into the place which he was to receive for an inheritance, and went out, not knowing where he was going.

[9]By faith he sojourned as a stranger in the land of promise as a foreign country, having dwelt in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with [him] of the same promise;

[10]for he waited for the city which has foundations, of which God is [the] artificer and constructor.

[11]By faith also Sarah herself received strength for [the] conception of seed, and [that] beyond a seasonable age; since she counted him faithful who promised.

[12]Wherefore also there have been born of one, and that of one become dead, even as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the countless sand which [is] by the sea shore.

[13]All these died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them from afar off and embraced [them], and confessed that they were strangers and sojourners on the earth.

[14]For they who say such things shew clearly that they seek [their] country.

[15]And if they had called to mind that from whence they went out, they had had opportunity to have returned;

[16]but now they seek a better, that is, a heavenly; wherefore God is not ashamed of them, to be called their God; for he has prepared for them a city.

[17]By faith Abraham, [when] tried, offered up Isaac, and he who had received to himself the promises offered up his only begotten [son],

[18]as to whom it had been said, In Isaac shall thy seed be called:

[19]counting that God [was] able to raise [him] even from among [the] dead, whence also he received him in a figure.

[20]By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

[21]By faith Jacob [when] dying blessed each of the sons of Joseph, and worshipped on the top of his staff.

[22]By faith Joseph [when] dying called to mind the going forth of the sons of Israel, and gave commandment concerning his bones.

[23]By faith Moses, being born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw the child beautiful; and they did not fear the injunction of the king.

[24]By faith Moses, when he had become great, refused to be called son of Pharaoh's daughter;

[25]choosing rather to suffer affliction along with the people of God than to have [the] temporary pleasure of sin;

[26]esteeming the reproach of the Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt, for he had respect to the recompense.

[27]By faith he left Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king; for he persevered, as seeing him who is invisible.

[28]By faith he celebrated the passover and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn might not touch them.

[29]By faith they passed through the Red sea as through dry land; of which the Egyptians having made trial were swallowed up.

[30]By faith the walls of Jericho fell, having been encircled for seven days.

[31]By faith Rahab the harlot did not perish along with the unbelieving, having received the spies in peace.

[32]And what more do I say? For the time would fail me telling of Gideon, and Barak, and Samson, and Jephthah, and David and Samuel, and of the prophets:

[33]who by faith overcame kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped lions' mouths,

[34]quenched [the] power of fire, escaped [the] edge of the sword, became strong out of weakness, became mighty in war, made [the] armies of strangers give way.

[35]Women received their dead again by resurrection; and others were tortured, not having accepted deliverance, that they might get a better resurrection;

[36]and others underwent trial of mockings and scourgings, yea, and of bonds and imprisonment.

[37]They were stoned, were sawn asunder, were tempted, died by the death of the sword; they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins, destitute, afflicted, evil treated,

[38](of whom the world was not worthy,) wandering in deserts and mountains, and [in] dens and caverns of the earth.

[39]And these all, having obtained witness through faith, did not receive the promise, [40]God having foreseen some better thing for us, that they should not be made perfect without us.

12Let us also therefore, having so great a cloud of witnesses surrounding us, laying aside every weight, and sin which so easily entangles us, run with endurance the race that lies before us,

[2]looking stedfastly on Jesus the leader and completer of faith: who, in view of the joy lying before him, endured [the] cross, having despised [the] shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

[3]For consider well him who endured so great contradiction from sinners against himself, that ye be not weary, fainting in your minds.

[4]Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, wrestling against sin.

[5]And ye have quite forgotten the exhortation which speaks to you as to sons: My son, despise not [the] chastening of [the] Lord, nor faint [when] reproved by him;

[6]for whom [the] Lord loves he chastens, and scourges every son whom he receives.

[7]Ye endure for chastening, God conducts himself towards you as towards sons; for who is the son that the father chastens not?

[8]But if ye are without chastening, of which all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

[9]Moreover we have had the fathers of our flesh as chasteners, and we reverenced [them]; shall we not much rather be in subjection to the Father of spirits, and live?

[10]For they indeed chastened for a few days, as seemed good to them; but he for profit, in order to the partaking of his holiness.

[11]But no chastening at the time seems to be [matter] of joy, but of grief; but afterwards yields [the] peaceful fruit of righteousness to those exercised by it.

[12]Wherefore lift up the hands that hang down, and the failing knees;

[13]and make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not turned aside; but that rather it may be healed.

[14]Pursue peace with all, and holiness, without which no one shall see the Lord:

[15]watching lest [there be] any one who lacks the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble [you], and many be defiled by it;

[16]lest [there be] any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one meal sold his birthright;

[17]for ye know that also afterwards, desiring to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, (for he found no place for repentance) although he sought it earnestly with tears.

[18]For ye have not come to [the mount] that might be touched and was all on fire, and to obscurity, and darkness, and tempest,

[19]and trumpet's sound, and voice of words; which they that heard, excusing themselves, declined [the] word being addressed to them any more:

[20](for they were not able to bear what was enjoined: And if a beast should touch the mountain, it shall be stoned;

[21]and, so fearful was the sight, Moses said, I am exceedingly afraid and full of trembling;)

[22]but ye have come to mount Zion; and to [the] city of [the] living God, heavenly Jerusalem; and to myriads of angels,

[23]the universal gathering; and to [the] assembly of the firstborn [who are] registered in heaven; and to God, judge of all; and to [the] spirits of just [men] made perfect;

[24]and to Jesus, mediator of a new covenant; and to [the] blood of sprinkling, speaking better than Abel.

[25]See that ye refuse not him that speaks. For if those did not escape who had refused him who uttered the oracles on earth, much more we who turn away from him [who does so] from heaven:

[26]whose voice then shook the earth; but now he has promised, saying, Yet once will I shake not only the earth, but also the heaven.

[27]But this Yet once, signifies the removing of what is shaken, as being made, that what is not shaken may remain.

[28]Wherefore let us, receiving a kingdom not to be shaken, have grace, by which let us serve God acceptably with reverence and fear.

[29]For also our God [is] a consuming fire.

13Let brotherly love abide.

[2]Be not forgetful of hospitality; for by it some have unawares entertained angels.

[3]Remember prisoners, as bound with [them]; those that are evil-treated, as being yourselves also in [the] body.

[4][Let] marriage [be held] every way in honour, and the bed [be] undefiled; for fornicators and adulterers will God judge.

[5][Let your] conversation [be] without love of money, satisfied with [your] present circumstances; for he has said, I will not leave thee, neither will I forsake thee.

[6]So that, taking courage, we may say, The Lord [is] my helper, and I will not be afraid: what will man do unto me?

[7]Remember your leaders who have spoken to you the word of God; and considering the issue of their conversation, imitate their faith.

[8]Jesus Christ [is] the same yesterday, and to-day, and to the ages [to come].

[9]Be not carried away with various and strange doctrines; for [it is] good that the heart be confirmed with grace, not meats; those who have walked in which have not been profited by [them].

[10]We have an altar of which they have no right to eat who serve the tabernacle;

[11]for of those beasts whose blood is carried [as sacrifices for sin] into the [holy of] holies by the high priest, of these the bodies are burned outside the camp.

[12]Wherefore also Jesus, that he might sanctify the people by his own blood, suffered without the gate:

[13]therefore let us go forth to him without the camp, bearing his reproach:

[14]for we have not here an abiding city, but we seek the coming one.

[15]By him therefore let us offer [the] sacrifice of praise continually to God, that is, [the] fruit of [the] lips confessing his name.

[16]But of doing good and communicating [of your substance] be not forgetful, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

[17]Obey your leaders, and be submissive; for they watch over your souls as those that shall give account; that they may do this with joy, and not groaning, for this [would be] unprofitable for you.

[18]Pray for us: for we persuade ourselves that we have a good conscience, in all things desirous to walk rightly.

[19]But I much more beseech [you] to do this, that I may the more quickly be restored to you.

[20]But the God of peace, who brought again from among [the] dead our Lord Jesus, the great shepherd of the sheep, in [the power of the] blood of [the] eternal covenant,

[21]perfect you in every good work to the doing of his will, doing in you what is pleasing before him through Jesus Christ; to whom [be] glory for the ages of ages. Amen.

[22]But I beseech you, brethren, bear the word of exhortation, for it is but in few words that I have written to you.

[23]Know that our brother Timotheus is set at liberty; with whom, if he should come soon, I will see you.

[24]Salute all your leaders, and all the saints. They from Italy salute you.

[25]Grace [be] with you all. Amen.

James

1 James, bondman of God and of [the] Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which [are] in the dispersion, greeting.

2 Count it all joy, my brethren, when ye fall into various temptations,

3 knowing that the proving of your faith works endurance.

4 But let endurance have [its] perfect work, that ye may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing.

5 But if any one of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all freely and reproaches not, and it shall be given to him:

6 but let him ask in faith, nothing doubting. For he that doubts is like a wave of the sea driven by the wind and tossed about;

7 for let not that man think that he shall receive anything from the Lord;

8 [he is] a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways.

9 But let the brother of low degree glory in his elevation,

10 and the rich in his humiliation, because as [the] grass's flower he will pass away.

11 For the sun has risen with its burning heat, and has withered the grass, and its flower has fallen, and the comeliness of its look has perished: thus the rich also shall wither in his goings.

12 Blessed [is the] man who endures temptation; for, having been proved, he shall receive the crown of life, which He has promised to them that love him.

13 Let no man, being tempted, say, I am tempted of God. For God cannot be tempted by evil things, and himself tempts no one.

14 But every one is tempted, drawn away, and enticed by his own lust;

15 then lust, having conceived, gives birth to sin; but sin fully completed brings forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 Every good gift and every perfect gift comes down from above, from the Father of lights, with whom is no variation nor shadow of turning.

18 According to his own will begat he us by the word of truth, that we should be a certain first-fruits of his creatures.

19 So that, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath;

20 for man's wrath does not work God's righteousness.

[21]Wherefore, laying aside all filthiness and abounding of wickedness, accept with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls.

[22]But be ye doers of [the] word and not hearers only, beguiling yourselves.

[23]For if any man be a hearer of [the] word and not a doer, he is like to a man considering his natural face in a mirror:

[24]for he has considered himself and is gone away, and straightway he has forgotten what he was like.

[25]But he that fixes his view on [the] perfect law, that of liberty, and abides in [it], being not a forgetful hearer but a doer of [the] work, he shall be blessed in his doing.

[26]If any one think himself to be religious, not bridling his tongue, but deceiving his heart, this man's religion is vain.

[27]Pure and undefiled religion before God and the Father is this: to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, to keep oneself unspotted from the world.

2My brethren, do not have the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, [Lord] of glory, with respect of persons:

[2]for if there come unto your synagogue a man with a gold ring in splendid apparel, and a poor man also come in in vile apparel,

[3]and ye look upon him who wears the splendid apparel, and say, Do thou sit here well, and say to the poor, Do thou stand there, or sit here under my footstool:

[4]have ye not made a difference among yourselves, and become judges having evil thoughts?

[5]Hear, my beloved brethren: Has not God chosen the poor as to the world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to them that love him?

[6]But ye have despised the poor [man]. Do not the rich oppress you, and [do not] they drag you before [the] tribunals?

[7]And [do not] they blaspheme the excellent name which has been called upon you?

[8]If indeed ye keep [the] royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well.

[9]But if ye have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors.

[10]For whoever shall keep the whole law and shall offend in one [point], he has come under the guilt of [breaking] all.

[11]For he who said, Thou shalt not commit adultery, said also, Thou shalt not kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art become transgressor of [the] law.

[12]So speak ye, and so act, as those that are to be judged by [the] law of liberty;

[13]for judgment [will be] without mercy to him that has shewn no mercy. Mercy glories over judgment.

[14]What [is] the profit, my brethren, if any one say he have faith, but have not works? can faith save him?

[15]Now if a brother or a sister is naked and destitute of daily food,

[16]and one from amongst you say to them, Go in peace, be warmed and filled; but give not to them the needful things for the body, what [is] the profit?

[17]So also faith, if it have not works, is dead by itself.

[18]But some one will say, Thou hast faith and I have works. Shew me thy faith without works, and I from my works will shew thee my faith.

[19]Thou believest that God is one. Thou doest well. The demons even believe, and tremble.

[20]But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

[21]Was not Abraham our father justified by works when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

[22]Thou seest that faith wrought with his works, and that by works faith was perfected.

[23]And the scripture was fulfilled which says, Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness, and he was called Friend of God.

[24]Ye see that a man is justified on the principle of works, and not on the principle of faith only.

[25]But was not in like manner also Rahab the harlot justified on the principle of works, when she had received the messengers and put [them] forth by another way?

[26]For as the body without a spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead.

3 Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive greater judgment.

[2]For we all often offend. If any one offend not in word, he [is] a perfect man, able to bridle the whole body too.

[3]Behold, we put the bits in the mouths of the horses, that they may obey us, and we turn round their whole bodies.

[4]Behold also the ships, which are so great, and driven by violent winds, are turned about by a very small rudder, wherever the pleasure of the helmsman will.

[5]Thus also the tongue is a little member, and boasts great things. See how little a fire, how large a wood it kindles!

[6]and the tongue [is] fire, the world of unrighteousness; the tongue is set in our members, the defiler of the whole body, and which sets fire to the course of nature, and is set on fire of hell.

[7]For every species both of beasts and of birds, both of creeping things and of sea animals, is tamed and has been tamed by the human species;

[8]but the tongue can no one among men tame; [it is] an unsettled evil, full of death-bringing poison.

[9]Therewith bless we the Lord and Father, and therewith curse we men made after [the] likeness of God.

[10]Out of the same mouth goes forth blessing and cursing. It is not right, my brethren, that these things should be thus.

[11]Does the fountain, out of the same opening, pour forth sweet and bitter?

[12]Can, my brethren, a fig produce olives, or a vine figs? Neither [can] salt [water] make sweet water.

[13]Who [is] wise and understanding among you; let him shew out of a good conversation his works in meekness of wisdom;

[14]but if ye have bitter emulation and strife in your hearts, do not boast and lie against the truth.

[15]This is not the wisdom which comes down from above, but earthly, natural, devilish.

[16]For where emulation and strife [are], there [is] disorder and every evil thing.

[17]But the wisdom from above first is pure, then peaceful, gentle, yielding, full of mercy and good fruits, unquestioning, unfeigned.

[18]But [the] fruit of righteousness in peace is sown for them that make peace.

4Whence [come] wars and whence fightings among you? [Is it] not thence, -- from your pleasures, which war in your members?

[2]Ye lust and have not: ye kill and are full of envy, and cannot obtain; ye fight and war; ye have not because ye ask not.

[3]Ye ask and receive not, because ye ask evilly, that ye may consume [it] in your pleasures.

[4]Adulteresses, know ye not that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Whoever therefore is minded to be [the] friend of the world is constituted enemy of God.

[5]Think ye that the scripture speaks in vain? Does the Spirit which has taken his abode in us desire enviously?

[6]But he gives more grace. Wherefore he says, God sets himself against [the] proud, but gives grace to [the] lowly.

[7]Subject yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

[8]Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse [your] hands, sinners, and purify [your] hearts, ye double-minded.

[9]Be wretched, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and [your] joy to heaviness.

[10]Humble yourselves before [the] Lord, and he shall exalt you.

[11]Speak not against one another, brethren. He that speaks against [his] brother, or judges his brother, speaks against [the] law and judges [the] law. But if thou judgest [the] law, thou art not doer of [the] law, but judge.

[12]One is the lawgiver and judge, who is able to save and to destroy: but who art thou who judgest thy neighbour?

[13]Go to now, ye who say, To-day or to-morrow will we go into such a city and spend a year there, and traffic and make gain,

[14]ye who do not know what will be on the morrow, ([for] what [is] your life? It is even a vapour, appearing for a little while, and then disappearing,)

[15]instead of your saying, If the Lord should [so] will and we should live, we will also do this or that.

[16]But now ye glory in your vauntings: all such glorying is evil.

[17]To him therefore who knows how to do good, and does it not, to him it is sin.

5Go to now, ye rich, weep, howling over your miseries that [are] coming upon [you].

[2]Your wealth is become rotten, and your garments moth-eaten.

[3]Your gold and silver is eaten away, and their canker shall be for a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. Ye have heaped up treasure in [the] last days.

[4]Behold, the wages of your labourers, who have harvested your fields, wrongfully kept back by you, cry, and the cries of those that have reaped are entered into the ears of [the] Lord of sabaoth.

[5]Ye have lived luxuriously on the earth and indulged yourselves; ye have nourished your hearts [as] in a day of slaughter;

[6]ye have condemned, ye have killed the just; he does not resist you.

[7]Have patience, therefore, brethren, till the coming of the Lord. Behold, the labourer awaits the precious fruit of the earth, having patience for it until it receive [the] early and [the] latter rain.

[8]Ye also have patience: stablish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is drawn nigh.

[9]Complain not one against another, brethren, that ye be not judged. Behold, the judge stands before the door.

[10]Take [as] an example, brethren, of suffering and having patience, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of [the] Lord.

[11]Behold, we call them blessed who have endured. Ye have heard of the endurance of Job, and seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is full of tender compassion and pitiful.

[12]But before all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath; but let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay, that ye do not fall under judgment.

[13]Does any one among you suffer evil? let him pray. Is any happy? let him sing psalms.

[14]Is any sick among you? let him call to [him] the elders of the assembly, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of [the] Lord;

[15]and the prayer of faith shall heal the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he be one who has committed sins, it shall be forgiven him.

[16]Confess therefore your offences to one another, and pray for one another, that ye may be healed. [The] fervent supplication of the righteous [man] has much power.

[17]Elias was a man of like passions to us, and he prayed with prayer that it should not rain; and it did not rain upon the earth three years and six months;

[18]and again he prayed, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth caused its fruit to spring forth.

[19]My brethren, if any one among you err from the truth, and one bring him back, [20]let him know that he that brings back a sinner from [the] error of his way shall save a soul from death and shall cover a multitude of sins.

1st Peter

1 Peter, apostle of Jesus Christ, to [the] sojourners of [the] dispersion of Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 elect according to [the] foreknowledge of God [the] Father, by sanctification of [the] Spirit, unto [the] obedience and sprinkling of [the] blood of Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

3 Blessed [be] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who, according to his great mercy, has begotten us again to a living hope through [the] resurrection of Jesus Christ from among [the] dead,

4 to an incorruptible and undefiled and unfading inheritance, reserved in [the] heavens for you,

5 who are kept guarded by [the] power of God through faith for salvation ready to be revealed in [the] last time.

6 Wherein ye exult, for a little while at present, if needed, put to grief by various trials,

7 that the proving of your faith, much more precious than of gold which perishes, though it be proved by fire, be found to praise and glory and honour in [the] revelation of Jesus Christ:

8 whom, having not seen, ye love; on whom [though] not now looking, but believing, ye exult with joy unspeakable and filled with [the] glory,

9 receiving the end of your faith, [the] salvation of [your] souls.

10 Concerning which salvation prophets, who have prophesied of the grace towards you, sought out and searched out;

11 searching what, or what manner of time, the Spirit of Christ which [was] in them pointed out, testifying before of the sufferings which [belonged] to Christ, and the glories after these.

12 To whom it was revealed, that not to themselves but to you they ministered those things, which have now been announced to you by those who have declared to you the glad tidings by [the] Holy Spirit, sent from heaven, which angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore, having girded up the loins of your mind, [be] sober [and] hope with perfect stedfastness in the grace [which will be] brought to you at [the] revelation of Jesus Christ;

14 as children of obedience, not conformed to [your] former lusts in your ignorance;

15 but as he who has called you is holy, be ye also holy in all [your] conversation;

16 because it is written, Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if ye invoke as Father him who, without regard of persons, judges according to the work of each, pass your time of sojourn in fear,

18 knowing that ye have been redeemed, not by corruptible [things, as] silver or gold, from your vain conversation handed down from [your] fathers,

19 but by precious blood, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot, [the blood] of Christ,

20 foreknown indeed before [the] foundation of [the] world, but who has been manifested at the end of times for your sakes,

21 who by him do believe on God, who has raised him from among [the] dead and given him glory, that your faith and hope should be in God.

22 Having purified your souls by obedience to the truth to unfeigned brotherly love, love one another out of a pure heart fervently;

23 being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by [the] living and abiding word of God.

24 Because all flesh [is] as grass, and all its glory as [the] flower of grass. The grass has withered and [its] flower has fallen;

25 but the word of [the] Lord abides for eternity. But this is the word which in the glad tidings [is] preached to you.

2 Laying aside therefore all malice and all guile and hypocrisies and envyings and all evil speakings,

2 as newborn babes desire earnestly the pure mental milk of the word, that by it ye may grow up to salvation,

3 if indeed ye have tasted that the Lord [is] good.

4 To whom coming, a living stone, cast away indeed as worthless by men, but with God chosen, precious,

5 yourselves also, as living stones, are being built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Because it is contained in the scripture: Behold, I lay in Zion a corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believes on him shall not be put to shame.

7 To you therefore who believe [is] the preciousness; but to the disobedient, the stone which the builders cast away as worthless, this is become head of [the] corner,

8 and a stone of stumbling and rock of offence; [who] stumble at the word, being disobedient to which also they have been appointed.

9 But ye [are] a chosen race, a kingly priesthood, a holy nation, a people for a possession, that ye might set forth the excellencies of him who has called you out of darkness to his wonderful light;

[10]who once [were] not a people, but now God's people; who were not enjoying mercy, but now have found mercy.

[11]Beloved, I exhort [you], as strangers and sojourners, to abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;

[12]having your conversation honest among the Gentiles, that [as to that] in which they speak against you as evildoers, they may through [your] good works, [themselves] witnessing [them], glorify God in [the] day of visitation.

[13]Be in subjection [therefore] to every human institution for the Lord's sake; whether to [the] king as supreme,

[14]or to rulers as sent by him, for vengeance on evildoers, and praise to them that do well.

[15]Because so is the will of God, that by well-doing ye put to silence the ignorance of senseless men;

[16]as free, and not as having liberty as a cloak of malice, but as God's bondmen.

[17]Shew honour to all, love the brotherhood, fear God, honour the king.

[18]Servants, [be] subject with all fear to your masters, not only to the good and gentle, but also to the ill-tempered.

[19]For this [is] acceptable, if one, for conscience sake towards God, endure griefs, suffering unjustly.

[20]For what glory [is it], if sinning and being buffeted ye shall bear [it]? but if, doing good and suffering, ye shall bear [it], this is acceptable with God.

[21]For to this have ye been called; for Christ also has suffered for you, leaving you a model that ye should follow in his steps:

[22]who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth;

[23]who, [when] reviled, reviled not again; [when] suffering, threatened not; but gave [himself] over into the hands of him who judges righteously;

[24]who himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, in order that, being dead to sins, we may live to righteousness: by whose stripes ye have been healed.

[25]For ye were going astray as sheep, but have now returned to the shepherd and overseer of your souls.

3Likewise, wives, [be] subject to your own husbands, that, even if any are disobedient to the word, they may be gained without [the] word by the conversation of the wives,

[2]having witnessed your pure conversation [carried out] in fear;

[3]whose adorning let it not be that outward one of tressing of hair, and wearing gold, or putting on apparel;

[4]but the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible [ornament] of a meek and quiet spirit, which in the sight of God is of great price.

[5]For thus also the holy women who have hoped in God heretofore adorned themselves, being subject to their own husbands;

[6]as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord; whose children ye have become, doing good, and not fearing with any kind of consternation.

[7][Ye] husbands likewise, dwell with [them] according to knowledge, as with a weaker, [even] the female, vessel, giving [them] honour, as also fellow-heirs of [the] grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.

[8]Finally, [be] all of one mind, sympathising, full of brotherly love, tender hearted, humble minded;

[9]not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but on the contrary, blessing [others], because ye have been called to this, that ye should inherit blessing.

[10]For he that will love life and see good days, let him cause his tongue to cease from evil and his lips that they speak no guile.

[11]And let him avoid evil, and do good; let him seek peace and pursue it;

[12]because [the] eyes of [the] Lord [are] on [the] righteous, and his ears towards their supplications; but [the] face of [the] Lord [is] against them that do evil.

[13]And who shall injure you if ye have become imitators of that which [is] good?

[14]But if also ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed [are ye]; but be not afraid of their fear, neither be troubled;

[15]but sanctify [the] Lord the Christ in your hearts, and [be] always prepared to [give] an answer [to] every one that asks you to give an account of the hope that [is] in you, but with meekness and fear;

[16]having a good conscience, that [as to that] in which they speak against you as evildoers, they may be ashamed who calumniate your good conversation in Christ.

[17]For [it is] better, if the will of God should will it, to suffer [as] well-doers than [as] evildoers;

[18]for Christ indeed has once suffered for sins, [the] just for [the] unjust, that he might bring us to God; being put to death in flesh, but made alive in [the] Spirit,

[19]in which also going he preached to the spirits [which are] in prison,

[20]heretofore disobedient, when the longsuffering of God waited in [the] days of Noah while the ark was preparing, into which few, that is, eight souls, were saved through water:

[21]which figure also now saves you, [even] baptism, not a putting away of [the] filth of flesh, but [the] demand as before God of a good conscience, by [the] resurrection of Jesus Christ,

[22]who is at [the] right hand of God, gone into heaven, angels and authorities and powers being subjected to him.

4Christ, then, having suffered for us in [the] flesh, do ye also arm yourselves with the same mind; for he that has suffered in [the] flesh has done with sin,

[2]no longer to live the rest of [his] time in [the] flesh to men's lusts, but to God's will.

[3]For the time past [is] sufficient [for us] to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, walking in lasciviousness, lusts, wine-drinking, revels, drinkings, and unhallowed idolatries.

[4]Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with [them] to the same sink of corruption, speaking injuriously [of you];

[5]who shall render account to him who is ready to judge [the] living and [the] dead.

[6]For to this [end] were the glad tidings preached to [the] dead also, that they might be judged, as regards men, after [the] flesh, but live, as regards God, after [the] Spirit.

[7]But the end of all things is drawn nigh: be sober therefore, and be watchful unto prayers;

[8]but before all things having fervent love among yourselves, because love covers a multitude of sins;

[9]hospitable one to another, without murmuring;

[10]each according as he has received a gift, ministering it to one another, as good stewards of [the] various grace of God.

[11]If any one speak -- as oracles of God; if any one minister -- as of strength which God supplies; that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom is the glory and the might for the ages of ages. Amen.

[12]Beloved, take not [as] strange the fire [of persecution] which has taken place amongst you for [your] trial, as if a strange thing was happening to you;

[13]but as ye have share in the sufferings of Christ, rejoice, that in the revelation of his glory also ye may rejoice with exultation.

[14]If ye are reproached in [the] name of Christ, blessed [are ye]; for the [Spirit] of glory and the Spirit of God rests upon you: [on their part he is blasphemed, but on your part he is glorified.]

[15]Let none of you suffer indeed as murderer, or thief, or evildoer, or as overseer of other people's matters;

[16]but if as a christian, let him not be ashamed, but glorify God in this name.

[17]For the time of having the judgment begin from the house of God [is come]; but if first from us, what [shall be] the end of those who obey not the glad tidings of God?

18 And if the righteous is difficultly saved, where shall the impious and [the] sinner appear?

19 Wherefore also let them who suffer according to the will of God commit their souls in well-doing to a faithful Creator.

5 The elders which [are] among you I exhort, who [am their] fellow-elder and witness of the sufferings of the Christ, who also [am] partaker of the glory about to be revealed:

2 shepherd the flock of God which [is] among you, exercising oversight, not by necessity, but willingly; not for base gain, but readily;

3 not as lording it over your possessions, but being models for the flock.

4 And when the chief shepherd is manifested ye shall receive the unfading crown of glory.

5 Likewise [ye] younger, be subject to [the] elder, and all of you bind on humility towards one another; for God sets himself against [the] proud, but to [the] humble gives grace.

6 Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in [the due] time;

7 having cast all your care upon him, for he cares about you.

8 Be vigilant, watch. Your adversary [the] devil as a roaring lion walks about seeking whom he may devour.

9 Whom resist, stedfast in faith, knowing that the selfsame sufferings are accomplished in your brotherhood which [is] in [the] world.

10 But the God of all grace who has called you to his eternal glory in Christ Jesus, when ye have suffered for a little while, himself shall make perfect, stablish, strengthen, ground:

11 to him [be] the glory and the might for the ages of the ages. Amen.

12 By Silvanus, the faithful brother, as I suppose, I have written to you briefly; exhorting and testifying that this is [the] true grace of God in which ye stand.

13 She that is elected with [you] in Babylon salutes you, and Marcus my son.

14 Salute one another with a kiss of love. Peace be with you all who [are] in Christ.

2nd Peter

1 Simon Peter, bondman and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have received like precious faith with us through [the] righteousness of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ:

2 Grace and peace be multiplied to you in [the] knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord.

3 As his divine power has given to us all things which relate to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that has called us by glory and virtue,

4 through which he has given to us the greatest and precious promises, that through these ye may become partakers of [the] divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 But for this very reason also, using therewith all diligence, in your faith have also virtue, in virtue knowledge,

6 in knowledge temperance, in temperance endurance, in endurance godliness,

7 in godliness brotherly love, in brotherly love love:

8 for these things existing and abounding in you make [you] to be neither idle nor unfruitful as regards the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ;

9 for he with whom these things are not present is blind, short-sighted, and has forgotten the purging of his former sins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, use diligence to make your calling and election sure, for doing these things ye will never fall;

11 for thus shall the entrance into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ be richly furnished unto you.

12 Wherefore I will be careful to put you always in mind of these things, although knowing [them] and established in the present truth.

13 But I account it right, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting [you] in remembrance,

14 knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle is speedily [to take place], as also our Lord Jesus Christ has manifested to me;

15 but I will use diligence, that after my departure ye should have also, at any time, [in your power] to call to mind these things.

16 For we have not made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, following cleverly imagined fables, but having been eyewitnesses of his majesty.

[17]For he received from God [the] Father honour and glory, such a voice being uttered to him by the excellent glory: This is my beloved Son, in whom I have found my delight;

[18]and this voice we heard uttered from heaven, being with him on the holy mountain.

[19]And we have the prophetic word [made] surer, to which ye do well taking heed (as to a lamp shining in an obscure place) until [the] day dawn and [the] morning star arise in your hearts;

[20]knowing this first, that [the scope of] no prophecy of scripture is had from its own particular interpretation,

[21]for prophecy was not ever uttered by [the] will of man, but holy men of God spake under the power of [the] Holy Spirit.

2But there were false prophets also among the people, as there shall be also among you false teachers, who shall bring in by the bye destructive heresies, and deny the master that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction;

[2]and many shall follow their dissolute ways, through whom the way of the truth shall be blasphemed.

[3]And through covetousness, with well-turned words, will they make merchandise of you: for whom judgment of old is not idle, and their destruction slumbers not.

[4]For if God spared not [the] angels who had sinned, but having cast them down to the deepest pit of gloom has delivered them to chains of darkness [to be] kept for judgment;

[5]and spared not [the] old world, but preserved Noe, [the] eighth, a preacher of righteousness, having brought in [the] flood upon [the] world of [the] ungodly;

[6]and having reduced [the] cities of Sodom and Gomorrha to ashes, condemned [them] with an overthrow, setting [them as] an example to those that should [afterwards] live an ungodly life;

[7]and saved righteous Lot, distressed with the abandoned conversation of the godless,

[8](for the righteous man through seeing and hearing, dwelling among them, tormented [his] righteous soul day after day with [their] lawless works,)

[9][the] Lord knows [how] to deliver the godly out of trial, and to keep [the] unjust to [the] day of judgment [to be] punished;

[10]and specially those who walk after the flesh in [the] lust of uncleanness, and despise lordship. Bold [are they], self-willed; they do not fear speaking injuriously of dignities:

[11]when angels, who are greater in might and power, do not bring against them, before the Lord, an injurious charge.

12 But these, as natural animals without reason, made to be caught and destroyed, speaking injuriously in things they are ignorant of, shall also perish in their own corruption,

13 receiving [the] reward of unrighteousness; accounting ephemeral indulgence pleasure; spots and blemishes, rioting in their own deceits, feasting with you;

14 having eyes full of adultery, and that cease not from sin, alluring unestablished souls; having a heart practised in covetousness, children of curse;

15 having left [the] straight way they have gone astray, having followed in the path of Balaam [the son] of Bosor, who loved [the] reward of unrighteousness;

16 but had reproof of his own wickedness -- [the] dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the folly of the prophet.

17 These are springs without water, and mists driven by storm, to whom the gloom of darkness is reserved [for ever].

18 For [while] speaking great highflown words of vanity, they allure with [the] lusts of [the] flesh, by dissoluteness, those who have just fled those who walk in error,

19 promising them liberty, while they themselves are slaves of corruption; for by whom a man is subdued, by him is he also brought into slavery.

20 For if after having escaped the pollutions of the world through [the] knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, again entangled, they are subdued by these, their last state is worse than the first.

21 For it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than having known [it] to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them.

22 But that [word] of the true proverb has happened to them: [The] dog [has] turned back to his own vomit; and, [The] washed sow to [her] rolling in mud.

3 This, a second letter, beloved, I already write to you, in [both] which I stir up, in the way of putting you in remembrance, your pure mind,

2 to be mindful of the words spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of the Lord and Saviour by your apostles;

3 knowing this first, that there shall come at [the] close of the days mockers with mocking, walking according to their own lusts,

4 and saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for from the time the fathers fell asleep all things remain thus from [the] beginning of [the] creation.

5 For this is hidden from them through their own wilfulness, that heavens were of old, and an earth, having its subsistence out of water and in water, by the word of God,

[6]through which [waters] the then world, deluged with water, perished.

[7]But the present heavens and the earth by his word are laid up in store, kept for fire unto a day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men.

[8]But let not this one thing be hidden from you, beloved, that one day with [the] Lord [is] as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

[9][The] Lord does not delay his promise, as some account of delay, but is longsuffering towards you, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

[10]But the day of [the] Lord will come as a thief, in which the heavens will pass away with a rushing noise, and [the] elements, burning with heat, shall be dissolved, and [the] earth and the works in it shall be burnt up.

[11]All these things then being to be dissolved, what ought ye to be in holy conversation and godliness, [12]waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, by reason of which [the] heavens, being on fire, shall be dissolved, and [the] elements, burning with heat, shall melt?

[13]But, according to his promise, we wait for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwells righteousness.

[14]Wherefore, beloved, as ye wait for these things, be diligent to be found of him in peace, without spot and blameless;

[15]and account the longsuffering of our Lord [to be] salvation; according as our beloved brother Paul also has written to you according to the wisdom given to him,

[16]as also in all [his] epistles, speaking in them of these things; among which some things are hard to be understood, which the untaught and ill-established wrest, as also the other scriptures, to their own destruction.

[17]Ye therefore, beloved, knowing [these] things before, take care lest, being led away along with the error of the wicked, ye should fall from your own stedfastness:

[18]but grow in grace, and in [the] knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him [be] glory both now and to [the] day of eternity. Amen.

1st John

1 That which was from [the] beginning, that which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes; that which we contemplated, and our hands handled, concerning the word of life;

2 (and the life has been manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and report to you the eternal life, which was with the Father, and has been manifested to us:)

3 that which we have seen and heard we report to you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and our fellowship [is] indeed with the Father, and with his Son
Jesus Christ.

4 And these things write we to you that your joy may be full.

5 And this is the message which we have heard from him, and declare to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6 If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not practise the truth.

7 But if we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanses us from all sin.

8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us [our] sins, and cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

2 My children, these things I write to you in order that ye may not sin; and if any one sin, we have a patron with the Father, Jesus Christ [the] righteous;

2 and he is the propitiation for our sins; but not for ours alone, but also for the whole world.

3 And hereby we know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 He that says, I know him, and does not keep his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him;

5 but whoever keeps his word, in him verily the love of God is perfected.
Hereby we know that we are in him.

6 He that says he abides in him ought, even as he walked, himself also [so] to walk.

7 Beloved, I write no new commandment to you, but an old commandment, which ye have had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye heard.

[8]Again, I write a new commandment to you, which thing is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing and the true light already shines.

[9]He who says he is in the light, and hates his brother, is in the darkness until now.

[10]He that loves his brother abides in light, and there is no occasion of stumbling in him.

[11]But he that hates his brother is in the darkness, and walks in the darkness, and knows not where he goes, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

[12]I write to you, children, because [your] sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

[13]I write to you, fathers, because ye have known him [that is] from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked [one]. I write to you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

[14]I have written to you, fathers, because ye have known him [that is] from the beginning. I have written to you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abides in you, and ye have overcome the wicked [one].

[15]Love not the world, nor the things in the world. If any one love the world, the love of the Father is not in him;

[16]because all that [is] in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

[17]And the world is passing, and its lust, but he that does the will of God abides for eternity.

[18]Little children, it is [the] last hour, and, according as ye have heard that antichrist comes, even now there have come many antichrists, whence we know that it is [the] last hour.

[19]They went out from among us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have surely remained with us, but that they might be made manifest that none are of us.

[20]And ye have [the] unction from the holy [one], and ye know all things.

[21]I have not written to you because ye do not know the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

[22]Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? He is the antichrist who denies the Father and the Son.

[23]Whoever denies the Son has not the Father either; he who confesses the Son has the Father also.

[24]As for you let that which ye have heard from the beginning abide in you: if what ye have heard from the beginning abides in you, ye also shall abide in the Son and in the Father.

[25]And this is the promise which he has promised us, life eternal.

[26]These things have I written to you concerning those who lead you astray:

[27]and yourselves, the unction which ye have received from him abides in you, and ye have not need that any one should teach you; but as the same unction teaches you as to all things, and is true and is not a lie, and even as it has taught you, ye shall abide in him.

[28]And now, children, abide in him, that if he be manifested we may have boldness, and not be put to shame from before him at his coming.

[29]If ye know that he is righteous, know that every one who practises righteousness is begotten of him.

3See what love the Father has given to us, that we should be called [the] children of God. For this reason the world knows us not, because it knew him not.

[2]Beloved, now are we children of God, and what we shall be has not yet been manifested; we know that if it is manifested we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.

[3]And every one that has this hope in him purifies himself, even as he is pure.

[4]Every one that practises sin practises also lawlessness; and sin is lawlessness.

[5]And ye know that he has been manifested that he might take away our sins; and in him sin is not.

[6]Whoever abides in him, does not sin: whoever sins, has not seen him or known him.

[7]Children, let no man lead you astray; he that practises righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

[8]He that practises sin is of the devil; for from [the] beginning the devil sins. To this end the Son of God has been manifested, that he might undo the works of the devil.

[9]Whoever has been begotten of God does not practise sin, because his seed abides in him, and he cannot sin, because he has been begotten of God.

[10]In this are manifest the children of God and the children of the devil. Whoever does not practise righteousness is not of God, and he who does not love his brother.

[11]For this is the message which ye have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another:

[12]not as Cain was of the wicked one, and slew his brother; and on account of what slew he him? because his works were wicked, and those of his brother righteous.

[13]Do not wonder, brethren, if the world hate you.

14 We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren. He who does not love [his] brother abides in death.

15 Every one that hates his brother is a murderer, and ye know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

16 Hereby we have known love, because he has laid down his life for us; and we ought for the brethren to lay down [our] lives.

17 But whoso may have the world's substance, and see his brother having need, and shut up his bowels from him, how abides the love of God in him?

18 Children, let us not love with word, nor with tongue, but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we shall know that we are of the truth, and shall persuade our hearts before him --

20 that if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart and knows all things.

21 Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, we have boldness towards God,

22 and whatsoever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments, and practise the things which are pleasing in his sight.

23 And this is his commandment, that we believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and that we love one another, even as he has given us commandment.

24 And he that keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit which he has given to us.

4 Beloved, believe not every spirit, but prove the spirits, if they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby ye know the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesses Jesus Christ come in flesh is of God;

3 and every spirit which does not confess Jesus Christ come in flesh is not of God: and this is that [power] of the antichrist, [of] which ye have heard that it comes, and now it is already in the world.

4 Ye are of God, children, and have overcome them, because greater is he that [is] in you than he that [is] in the world.

5 They are of the world; for this reason they speak [as] of the world, and the world hears them.

6 We are of God; he that knows God hears us; he who is not of God does not hear us. From this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

7 Beloved, let us love one another; because love is of God, and every one that loves has been begotten of God, and knows God.

8 He that loves not has not known God; for God is love.

[9]Herein as to us has been manifested the love of God, that God has sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

[10]Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son a propitiation for our sins.

[11]Beloved, if God has so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

[12]No one has seen God at any time: if we love one another, God abides in us, and his love is perfected in us.

[13]Hereby we know that we abide in him and he in us, that he has given to us of his Spirit.

[14]And we have seen, and testify, that the Father has sent the Son [as] Saviour of the world.

[15]Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God.

[16]And we have known and have believed the love which God has to us. God is love, and he that abides in love abides in God, and God in him.

[17]Herein has love been perfected with us that we may have boldness in the day of judgment, that even as he is, we also are in this world.

[18]There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear; for fear has torment, and he that fears has not been made perfect in love.

[19]We love because he has first loved us.

[20]If any one say, I love God, and hate his brother, he is a liar: for he that loves not his brother whom he has seen, how can he love God whom he has not seen?

[21]And this commandment have we from him, That he that loves God love also his brother.

5 Every one that believes that Jesus is the Christ is begotten of God; and every one that loves him that has begotten loves also him that is begotten of him.

[2]Hereby know we that we love the children of God, when we love God and keep his commandments.

[3]For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments; and his commandments are not grievous.

[4]For all that has been begotten of God gets the victory over the world; and this is the victory which has gotten the victory over the world, our faith.

[5]Who is he that gets the victory over the world, but he that believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

[6]This is he that came by water and blood, Jesus [the] Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that bears witness, for the Spirit is the truth.

[7]For they that bear witness are three:

[8]the Spirit, and the water, and the blood; and the three agree in one.

[9]If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater. For this is the witness of God [which] he has witnessed concerning his Son.

[10]He that believes on the Son of God has the witness in himself; he that does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the witness which God has witnessed concerning his Son.

[11]And this is the witness, that God has given to us eternal life; and this life is in his Son.

[12]He that has the Son has life: he that has not the Son of God has not life.

[13]These things have I written to you that ye may know that ye have eternal life who believe on the name of the Son of God.

[14]And this is the boldness which we have towards him, that if we ask him anything according to his will he hears us.

[15]And if we know that he hears us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him.

[16]If any one see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life, for those that do not sin unto death. There is a sin to death: I do not say of that that he should make a request.

[17]Every unrighteousness is sin; and there is a sin not to death.

[18]We know that every one begotten of God does not sin, but he that has been begotten of God keeps himself, and the wicked [one] does not touch him.

[19]We know that we are of God, and the whole world lies in the wicked [one].

[20]And we know that the Son of God has come, and has given us an understanding that we should know him that [is] true; and we are in him that [is] true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life.

[21]Children, keep yourselves from idols.

2nd John

1 The elder to [the] elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth, and not I only but also all who have known the truth,

2 for the truth's sake which abides in us and shall be with us to eternity.

3 Grace shall be with you, mercy, peace from God [the] Father, and from [the] Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I rejoiced greatly that I have found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, not as writing to thee a new commandment, but that which we have had from [the] beginning, that we should love one another.

6 And this is love, that we should walk according to his commandments. This is the commandment, according as ye have heard from the beginning, that ye might walk in it.

7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, they who do not confess Jesus Christ coming in flesh -- this is the deceiver and the antichrist.

8 See to yourselves, that we may not lose what we have wrought, but may receive full wages.

9 Whosoever goes forward and abides not in the doctrine of the Christ has not God. He that abides in the doctrine, he has both the Father and the Son.

10 If any one come to you and bring not this doctrine, do not receive him into [the] house, and greet him not;

11 for he who greets him partakes in his wicked works.

12 Having many things to write to you, I would not with paper and ink; but hope to come to you, and to speak mouth to mouth, that our joy may be full.

13 The children of thine elect sister greet thee.

3rd John

1 The elder to the beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth.

2 Beloved, I desire that in all things thou shouldest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospers.

3 For I rejoiced exceedingly when [the] brethren came and bore testimony to thy [holding fast the] truth, even as thou walkest in truth.

4 I have no greater joy than these things that I hear of my children walking in the truth.

5 Beloved, thou doest faithfully [in] whatever thou mayest have wrought towards the brethren and that strangers,

6 (who have witnessed of thy love before [the] assembly,) in setting forward whom on their journey worthily of God, thou wilt do well;

7 for for the name have they gone forth, taking nothing of those of the nations.

8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.

9 I wrote something to the assembly; but Diotrephes, who loves to have the first place among them, receives us not.

10 For this reason, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he does, babbling against us with wicked words; and not content with these, neither does he himself receive the brethren; and those who would he prevents, and casts [them] out of the assembly.

11 Beloved, do not imitate what is evil, but what is good. He that does good is of God. He that does evil has not seen God.

12 Demetrius has witness borne to him by all, and by the truth itself; and we also bear witness, and thou knowest that our witness is true.

13 I had many things to write to thee, but I will not with ink and pen write to thee;

14 but I hope soon to see thee, and we will speak mouth to mouth. Peace [be] to thee. The friends greet thee. Greet the friends by name.

Jude

1 Jude, bondman of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to the called ones beloved in God [the] Father and preserved in Jesus Christ:

2 Mercy to you, and peace, and love be multiplied.

3 Beloved, using all diligence to write to you of our common salvation, I have been obliged to write to you exhorting [you] to contend earnestly for the faith once delivered to the saints.

4 For certain men have got in unnoticed, they who of old were marked out beforehand to this sentence, ungodly [persons], turning the grace of our God into dissoluteness, and denying our only Master and Lord Jesus Christ.

5 But I would put you in remembrance, you who once knew all things, that the Lord, having saved a people out of [the] land of Egypt, in the second place destroyed those who had not believed.

6 And angels who had not kept their own original state, but had abandoned their own dwelling, he keeps in eternal chains under gloomy darkness, to [the] judgment of [the] great day;

7 as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities around them, committing greedily fornication, in like manner with them, and going after other flesh, lie there as an example, undergoing the judgment of eternal fire.

8 Yet in like manner these dreamers also defile [the] flesh, and despise lordship, and speak railingly against dignities.

9 But Michael the archangel, when disputing with the devil he reasoned about the body of Moses, did not dare to bring a railing judgment against [him], but said, [The] Lord rebuke thee.

10 But these, whatever things they know not, they speak railingly against; but what even, as the irrational animals, they understand by mere nature, in these things they corrupt themselves.

11 Woe to them! because they have gone in the way of Cain, and given themselves up to the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.

12 These are spots in your love-feasts, feasting together [with you] without fear, pasturing themselves; clouds without water, carried along by [the] winds; autumnal trees, without fruit, twice dead, rooted up;

13 raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shames; wandering stars, to whom has been reserved the gloom of darkness for eternity.

14 And Enoch, [the] seventh from Adam, prophesied also as to these, saying,

Behold, [the] Lord has come amidst his holy myriads,

15 to execute judgment against all; and to convict all the ungodly of them of all their works of ungodliness, which they have wrought ungodlily, and of all the hard [things] which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their lusts; and their mouth speaks swelling words, admiring persons for the sake of profit.

17 But ye, beloved, remember the words spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, 18 that they said to you, that at [the] end of the time there should be mockers, walking after their own lusts of ungodlinesses.

19 These are they who set [themselves] apart, natural [men], not having [the] Spirit.

20 But ye, beloved, building yourselves up on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit, 21 keep yourselves in the love of God, awaiting the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

22 And of some have compassion, making a difference,

23 but others save with fear, snatching [them] out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 But to him that is able to keep you without stumbling, and to set [you] with exultation blameless before his glory,

25 to the only God our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord, [be] glory, majesty, might, and authority, from before the whole age, and now, and to all the ages. Amen.

Revelation

1 Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him, to shew to his bondmen what must shortly take place; and he signified [it], sending by his angel, to his bondman John,

2 who testified the word of God, and the testimony of Jesus Christ, all things that he saw.

3 Blessed [is] he that reads, and they that hear the words of the prophecy, and keep the things written in it; for the time [is] near.

4 John to the seven assemblies which [are] in Asia: Grace to you and peace from [him] who is, and who was, and who is to come; and from the seven Spirits which [are] before his throne;

5 and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. To him who loves us, and has washed us from our sins in his blood,

6 and made us a kingdom, priests to his God and Father: to him [be] the glory and the might to the ages of ages. Amen.

7 Behold, he comes with the clouds, and every eye shall see him, and they which have pierced him, and all the tribes of the land shall wail because of him. Yea. Amen.

8 I am the Alpha and the Omega, saith [the] Lord God, he who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.

9 I John, your brother and fellow-partaker in the tribulation and kingdom and patience, in Jesus, was in the island called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus.

10 I became in [the] Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great voice as of a trumpet, 11 saying, What thou seest write in a book, and send to the seven assemblies: to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamos, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.

12 And I turned back to see the voice which spoke with me; and having turned, I saw seven golden lamps,

13 and in the midst of the [seven] lamps [one] like [the] Son of man, clothed with a garment reaching to the feet, and girt about at the breasts with a golden girdle:

14 his head and hair white like white wool, as snow; and his eyes as a flame of fire;

15 and his feet like fine brass, as burning in a furnace; and his voice as the voice of many waters;

16 and having in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth a sharp two-edged sword going forth; and his countenance as the sun shines in its power.

17 And when I saw him I fell at his feet as dead; and he laid his right hand upon me, saying, Fear not; I am the first and the last,

18 and the living one: and I became dead, and behold, I am living to the ages of ages, and have the keys of death and of hades.

19 Write therefore what thou hast seen, and the things that are, and the things that are about to be after these.

20 The mystery of the seven stars which thou hast seen on my right hand, and the seven golden lamps. -- The seven stars are angels of the seven assemblies; and the seven lamps are seven assemblies.

2 To the angel of the assembly in Ephesus write: These things says he that holds the seven stars in his right hand, who walks in the midst of the seven golden lamps:

2 I know thy works and [thy] labour, and thine endurance, and that thou canst not bear evil [men]; and thou hast tried them who say that themselves [are] apostles and are not, and hast found them liars;

3 and endurest, and hast borne for my name's sake, and hast not wearied:

4 but I have against thee, that thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works: but if not, I am coming to thee, and I will remove thy lamp out of its place, except thou shalt repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7 He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. To him that overcomes, I will give to him to eat of the tree of life which is in the paradise of God.

8 And to the angel of the assembly in Smyrna write: These things says the first and the last, who became dead, and lived:

9 I know thy tribulation and thy poverty; but thou art rich; and the railing of those who say that they themselves are Jews, and are not, but a synagogue of Satan.

10 Fear nothing [of] what thou art about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to cast of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give to thee the crown of life.

11 He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. He that overcomes shall in no wise be injured of the second death.

12 And to the angel of the assembly in Pergamos write: These things says he that has the sharp two-edged sword:

[13]I know where thou dwellest, where the throne of Satan [is]; and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in the days in which Antipas my faithful witness [was], who was slain among you, where Satan dwells.

[14]But I have a few things against thee: that thou hast there those who hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a snare before the sons of Israel, to eat [of] idol sacrifices and commit fornication.

[15]So thou also hast those who hold the doctrine of Nicolaitanes in like manner.

[16]Repent therefore: but if not, I come to thee quickly, and I will make war with them with the sword of my mouth.

[17]He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. To him that overcomes, to him will I give of the hidden manna; and I will give to him a white stone, and on the stone a new name written, which no one knows but he that receives [it].

[18]And to the angel of the assembly in Thyatira write: These things says the Son of God, he that has his eyes as a flame of fire, and his feet [are] like fine brass:

[19]I know thy works, and love, and faith, and service, and thine endurance, and thy last works [to be] more than the first.

[20]But I have against thee that thou permittest the woman Jezebel, she who calls herself prophetess, and she teaches and leads astray my servants to commit fornication and eat of idol sacrifices.

[21]And I gave her time that she should repent, and she will not repent of her fornication.

[22]Behold, I cast her into a bed, and those that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works,

[23]and her children will I kill with death; and all the assemblies shall know that I am he that searches [the] reins and [the] hearts; and I will give to you each according to your works.

[24]But to you I say, the rest who [are] in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, who have not known the depths of Satan, as they say, I do not cast upon you any other burden;

[25]but what ye have hold fast till I shall come.

[26]And he that overcomes, and he that keeps unto the end my works, to him will I give authority over the nations,

[27]and he shall shepherd them with an iron rod; as vessels of pottery are they broken in pieces, as I also have received from my Father;

[28]and I will give to him the morning star.

[29]He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

3And to the angel of the assembly in Sardis write: These things saith he that has the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

[2]Be watchful, and strengthen the things that remain, which are about to die, for I have not found thy works complete before my God.

[3]Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and keep [it] and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come [upon thee] as a thief, and thou shalt not know at what hour I shall come upon thee.

[4]But thou hast a few names in Sardis which have not defiled their garments, and they shall walk with me in white, because they are worthy.

[5]He that overcomes, he shall be clothed in white garments, and I will not blot his name out of the book of life, and will confess his name before my Father and before his angels.

[6]He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

[7]And to the angel of the assembly in Philadelphia write: These things saith the holy, the true; he that has the key of David, he who opens and no one shall shut, and shuts and no one shall open:

[8]I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an opened door, which no one can shut, because thou hast a little power, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

[9]Behold, I make them of the synagogue of Satan who say that they are Jews, and are not, but lie; behold, I will cause that they shall come and shall do homage before thy feet, and shall know that I have loved thee.

[10]Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee out of the hour of trial, which is about to come upon the whole habitable world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

[11]I come quickly: hold fast what thou hast, that no one take thy crown.

[12]He that overcomes, him will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more at all out; and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven, from my God, and my new name.

[13]He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

[14]And to the angel of the assembly in Laodicea write: These things says the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God:

[15]I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot; I would thou wert cold or hot.

[16]Thus because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I am about to spue thee out of my mouth.

17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and am grown rich, and have need of nothing, and knowest not that thou art the wretched and the miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked;

18 I counsel thee to buy of me gold purified by fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white garments, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness may not be made manifest; and eye-salve to anoint thine eyes, that thou mayest see.

19 I rebuke and discipline as many as I love; be zealous therefore and repent.

20 Behold, I stand at the door and am knocking; if any one hear my voice and open the door, I will come in unto him and sup with him, and he with me.

21 He that overcomes, to him will I give to sit with me in my throne; as I also have overcome, and have sat down with my Father in his throne.

22 He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

4 After these things I saw, and behold, a door opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard as of a trumpet speaking with me, saying, Come up here, and I will shew thee the things which must take place after these things.

2 Immediately I became in [the] Spirit; and behold, a throne stood in the heaven, and upon the throne one sitting,

3 and he [that was] sitting like in appearance to a stone [of] jasper and a sardius, and a rainbow round the throne like in appearance to an emerald.

4 And round the throne twenty-four thrones, and on the thrones twenty-four elders sitting, clothed with white garments; and on their heads golden crowns.

5 And out of the throne go forth lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and seven lamps of fire, burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God;

6 and before the throne, as a glass sea, like crystal. And in the midst of the throne, and around the throne, four living creatures, full of eyes, before and behind;

7 and the first living creature like a lion, and the second living creature like a calf, and the third living creature having the face as of a man, and the fourth living creature like a flying eagle.

8 And the four living creatures, each one of them having respectively six wings;
round and within they are full of eyes;
and they cease not day and night saying,
Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, who was, and who is, and who is to come.

9 And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanksgiving to him that sits upon the throne, who lives to the ages of ages,

10 the twenty-four elders shall fall before him that sits upon the throne, and do homage to him that lives to the ages of ages; and shall cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art worthy, O our Lord and [our] God, to receive glory and honour and power; for thou hast created all things, and for thy will they were, and they have been created.

5 And I saw on the right hand of him that sat upon the throne a book, written within and on the back, sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who [is] worthy to open the book, and to break its seals?

3 And no one was able in the heaven, or upon the earth, or underneath the earth, to open the book, or to regard it.

4 And I wept much because no one had been found worthy to open the book nor to regard it.

5 And one of the elders says to me, Do not weep. Behold, the lion which [is] of the tribe of Juda, the root of David, has overcome [so as] to open the book, and its seven seals.

6 And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God [which are] sent into all the earth:

7 and it came and took [it] out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

8 And when it took the book, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell before the Lamb, having each a harp and golden bowls full of incenses, which are the prayers of the saints.

9 And they sing a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open its seals; because thou hast been slain, and hast redeemed to God, by thy blood, out of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation,

10 and made them to our God kings and priests; and they shall reign over the earth.

11 And I saw, and I heard [the] voice of many angels around the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and their number was ten thousands of ten thousands and thousands of thousands;

12 saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that has been slain, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And every creature which is in the heaven and upon the earth and under the earth, and [those that are] upon the sea, and all things in them, heard I saying, To him that sits upon the throne, and to the Lamb, blessing, and honour, and glory, and might, to the ages of ages.

14 And the four living creatures said, Amen; and the elders fell down and did homage.

6 And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying, as a voice of thunder, Come [and see].

[2] And I saw: and behold, a white horse, and he that sat upon it having a bow; and a crown was given to him, and he went forth conquering and that he might conquer.

[3] And when it opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, Come [and see].

[4] And another, a red horse, went forth; and to him that sat upon it, to him it was given to take peace from the earth, and that they should slay one another; and there was given to him a great sword.

[5] And when it opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, Come [and see]. And I saw: and behold, a black horse, and he that sat upon it having a balance in his hand.

[6] And I heard as a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, A choenix of wheat for a denarius, and three choenixes of barley for a denarius: and do not injure the oil and the wine.

[7] And when it opened the fourth seal, I heard [the voice of] the fourth living creature saying, Come [and see].

[8] And I saw: and behold, a pale horse, and he that sat upon it, his name [was] Death, and hades followed with him; and authority was given to him over the fourth of the earth to slay with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and by the beasts of the earth.

[9] And when it opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of them that had been slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held;

[10] and they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O sovereign Ruler, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell upon the earth?

[11] And there was given to them, to each one a white robe; and it was said to them that they should rest yet a little while, until both their fellow-bondmen and their brethren, who were about to be killed as they, should be fulfilled.

[12] And I saw when it opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as hair sackcloth, and the whole moon became as blood, [13] and the stars of heaven fell upon the earth, as a fig tree, shaken by a great wind, casts its unseasonable figs.

[14] And the heaven was removed as a book rolled up, and every mountain and island were removed out of their places.

[15] And the kings of the earth, and the great, and the chiliarchs, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and freeman, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains;

[16] and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, Fall on us, and have us hidden from [the] face of him that sits upon the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb;

17 because the great day of his wrath is come, and who is able to stand?

7 And after this I saw four angels standing upon the four corners of the earth, holding fast the four winds of the earth, that no wind might blow upon the earth, nor upon the sea, nor upon any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from [the] sunrising, having [the] seal of [the] living God; and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it had been given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 saying, Hurt not the earth, nor the sea, nor the trees, until we shall have sealed the bondmen of our God upon their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of the sealed, a hundred [and] forty-four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of [the] sons of Israel:

5 out of [the] tribe of Juda, twelve thousand sealed; out of [the] tribe of Reuben, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Gad, twelve thousand;

6 out of [the] tribe of Aser, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Nepthalim, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Manasseh, twelve thousand;

7 out of [the] tribe of Simeon, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Levi, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand;

8 out of [the] tribe of Zabulun, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Joseph, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Benjamin, twelve thousand sealed.

9 After these things I saw, and lo, a great crowd, which no one could number, out of every nation and tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palm branches in their hands.

10 And they cry with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God who sits upon the throne, and to the Lamb.

11 And all the angels stood around the throne, and the elders, and the four living creatures, and fell before the throne upon their faces, and worshipped God, 12 saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and strength, to our God, to the ages of ages. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying to me, These who are clothed with white robes, who are they, and whence came they?

14 And I said to him, My lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they who come out of the great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and have made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple, and he that sits upon the throne shall spread his tabernacle over them.

16 They shall not hunger any more, neither shall they thirst any more, nor shall the sun at all fall on them, nor any burning heat;

17 because the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall shepherd them, and shall lead them to fountains of waters of life, and God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

8 And when it opened the seventh seal, there was silence in the heaven about half an hour.

2 And I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them.

3 And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and much incense was given to him, that he might give [efficacy] to the prayers of all saints at the golden altar which [was] before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the incense went up with the prayers of the saints, out of the hand of the angel before God.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it from the fire of the altar, and cast [it] on the earth: and there were voices, and thunders and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves that they might sound with [their] trumpets.

7 And the first sounded [his] trumpet: and there was hail and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth; and the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded [his] trumpet: and as a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood;

9 and the third part of the creatures which were in the sea which had life died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded [his] trumpet: and there fell out of the heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters.

11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood; and the third part of the waters became wormwood, and many of the men died of the waters because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded [his] trumpet: and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so that the third part of them should be darkened, and that the day should not appear [for] the third part of it, and the night the same.

13 And I saw, and I heard an eagle flying in mid-heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to them that dwell upon the earth, for the remaining voices of the trumpet of the three angels who are about to sound.

9 And the fifth angel sounded [his] trumpet: and I saw a star out of the heaven fallen to the earth; and there was given to it the key of the pit of the abyss.

2 And it opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up smoke out of the pit as [the] smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened with the smoke of the pit.

3 And out of the smoke came forth locusts on the earth, and power was given to them as the scorpions of the earth have power;

4 and it was said to them, that they should not injure the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree, but the men who have not the seal of God on their foreheads:

5 and it was given to them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months; and their torment [was] as [the] torment of a scorpion when it strikes a man.

6 And in those days shall men seek death, and shall in no way find it; and shall desire to die, and death flees from them.

7 And the likenesses of the locusts [were] like to horses prepared for war; and upon their heads as crowns like gold, and their faces as faces of men;

8 and they had hair as women's hair, and their teeth were as of lions,

9 and they had breastplates as breastplates of iron, and the sound of their wings [was] as the sound of chariots of many horses running to war;

10 and they have tails like scorpions, and stings; and their power [was] in their tails to hurt men five months.

11 They have a king over them, the angel of the abyss: his name in Hebrew, Abaddon, and in Greek he has [for] name Apollyon.

12 The first woe has passed. Behold, there come yet two woes after these things.

13 And the sixth angel sounded [his] trumpet: and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which [is] before God,

14 saying to the sixth angel that had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound at the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were loosed, who are prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they might slay the third part of men;

16 and the number of the hosts of horse [was] twice ten thousand times ten thousand. I heard their number.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and those that sat upon them, having breastplates of fire and jacinth and brimstone; and the heads of the horses [were] as heads of lions, and out of their mouths goes out fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 By these three plagues were the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone which goes out of their mouths.

19 For the power of the horses is in their mouth and in their tails: for their tails [are] like serpents, having heads, and with them they injure.

20 And the rest of men who were not killed with these plagues repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship demons, and the golden and silver and brazen and stone and wooden idols, which can neither see nor hear nor walk.

21 And they repented not of their murders, nor of their witchcrafts, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

10 And I saw another strong angel coming down out of the heaven, clothed with a cloud, and the rainbow upon his head, and his countenance as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire,

2 and having in his hand a little opened book. And he set his right foot on the sea, and the left upon the earth,

3 and cried with a loud voice as a lion roars. And when he cried, the seven thunders uttered their own voices.

4 And when the seven thunders spoke, I was about to write: and I heard a voice out of the heaven saying, Seal the things which the seven thunders have spoken, and write them not.

5 And the angel whom I saw stand on the sea and on the earth lifted up his right hand to the heaven,

6 and swore by him that lives to the ages of ages, who created the heaven and the things that are in it, and the earth and the things that are in it, and the sea and the things that are in it, that there should be no longer delay;

7 but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound the trumpet, the mystery of God also shall be completed, as he has made known the glad tidings to his own bondmen the prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard out of the heaven [was] again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the little book which is opened in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea and on the earth.

9 And I went to the angel, saying to him to give me the little book. And he says to me, Take and eat it up: and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the hand of the angel, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth as honey, sweet; and when I had eaten it my belly was made bitter.

[11]And it was said to me, Thou must prophesy again as to peoples and nations and tongues and many kings.

11And there was given to me a reed like a staff, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship in it.

[2]And the court which [is] without the temple cast out, and measure it not; because it has been given [up] to the nations, and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty-two months.

[3]And I will give [power] to my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred [and] sixty days, clothed in sackcloth.

[4]These are the two olive trees and the two lamps which stand before the Lord of the earth;

[5]and if any one wills to injure them, fire goes out of their mouth, and devours their enemies. And if any one wills to injure them, thus must he be killed.

[6]These have power to shut the heaven that no rain may fall during the days of their prophecy; and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth as often as they will with every plague.

[7]And when they shall have completed their testimony, the beast who comes up out of the abyss shall make war with them, and shall conquer them, and shall kill them:

[8]and their body [shall be] on the street of the great city, which is called spiritually Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified.

[9]And [men] of the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations see their body three days and a half, and they do not suffer their bodies to be put into a sepulchre.

[10]And they that dwell upon the earth rejoice over them, and are full of delight, and shall send gifts one to another, because these, the two prophets, tormented them that dwell upon the earth.

[11]And after the three days and a half [the] spirit of life from God came into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon those beholding them.

[12]And I heard a great voice out of the heaven saying to them, Come up here; and they went up to the heaven in the cloud, and their enemies beheld them.

[13]And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and the tenth of the city fell, and seven thousand names of men were slain in the earthquake. And the remnant were filled with fear, and gave glory to the God of the heaven.

[14]The second woe has passed; behold, the third woe comes quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded [his] trumpet: and there were great voices in the heaven, saying, The kingdom of the world of our Lord and of his Christ is come, and he shall reign to the ages of ages.

16 And the twenty-four elders, who sit on their thrones before God, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 saying, We give thee thanks, Lord God Almighty, [He] who is, and who was, that thou hast taken thy great power and hast reigned.

18 And the nations have been full of wrath, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead to be judged, and to give the recompense to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to those who fear thy name, small and great; and to destroy those that destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God in the heaven was opened, and the ark of his covenant was seen in his temple: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and great hail.

12 And a great sign was seen in the heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars;

2 and being with child she cried, [being] in travail, and in pain to bring forth.

3 And another sign was seen in the heaven: and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads seven diadems;

4 and his tail draws the third part of the stars of the heaven; and he cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was about to bring forth, in order that when she brought forth he might devour her child.

5 And she brought forth a male son, who shall shepherd all the nations with an iron rod; and her child was caught up to God and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has there a place prepared of God, that they should nourish her there a thousand two hundred [and] sixty days.

7 And there was war in the heaven: Michael and his angels went to war with the dragon. And the dragon fought, and his angels;

8 and he prevailed not, nor was their place found any more in the heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast out, the ancient serpent, he who is called Devil and Satan, he who deceives the whole habitable world, he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a great voice in the heaven saying, Now is come the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ; for the accuser of our brethren has been cast out, who accused them before our God day and night:

11 and they have overcome him by reason of the blood of the Lamb, and by reason of the word of their testimony, and have not loved their life even unto death.

12 Therefore be full of delight, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the earth and to the sea, because the devil has come down to you, having great rage, knowing he has a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he had been cast out into the earth, he persecuted the woman which bore the male [child].

14 And there were given to the woman the two wings of the great eagle, that she might fly into the desert into her place, where she is nourished there a time, and times, and half a time, from [the] face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth behind the woman water as a river, that he might make her be [as] one carried away by a river.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was angry with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, who keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus.

13 And I stood upon the sand of the sea; and I saw a beast rising out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and upon its horns ten diadems, and upon its heads names of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw was like to a leopardess, and its feet as of a bear, and its mouth as a lion's mouth; and the dragon gave to it his power, and his throne, and great authority;

3 and one of his heads [was] as slain to death, and his wound of death had been healed: and the whole earth wondered after the beast.

4 And they did homage to the dragon, because he gave the authority to the beast; and they did homage to the beast, saying, Who [is] like to the beast? and who can make war with it?

5 And there was given to it a mouth, speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to it authority to pursue its career forty-two months.

6 And it opened its mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name and his tabernacle, and those who have their tabernacle in the heaven.

7 And there was given to it to make war with the saints, and to overcome them; and there was given to it authority over every tribe, and people, and tongue, and nation;

8 and all that dwell on the earth shall do it homage, [every one] whose name had not been written from [the] founding of [the] world in the book of life of the slain Lamb.

9 If any one has an ear, let him hear.

10 If any one [leads] into captivity, he goes into captivity. If any one shall kill with [the] sword, he must with [the] sword be killed. Here is the endurance and the faith of the saints.

11 And I saw another beast rising out of the earth; and it had two horns like to a lamb, and spake as a dragon;

12 and it exercises all the authority of the first beast before it, and causes the earth and those that dwell in it to do homage to the first beast, whose wound of death was healed.

13 And it works great signs, that it should cause even fire to come down from heaven to the earth before men.

14 And it deceives those that dwell upon the earth by reason of the signs which it was given to it to work before the beast, saying to those that dwell upon the earth to make an image to the beast, which has the wound of the sword, and lived.

15 And it was given to it to give breath to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should also speak, and should cause that as many as should not do homage to the image of the beast should be killed.

16 And it causes all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free and the bondmen, that they should give them a mark upon their right hand or upon their forehead;

17 and that no one should be able to buy or sell save he that had the mark, the name of the beast, or the number of its name.

18 Here is wisdom. He that has understanding let him count the number of the beast: for it is a man's number; and its number [is] six hundred [and] sixty-six.

14 And I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing upon mount Zion, and with him a hundred [and] forty-four thousand, having his name and the name of his Father written upon their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice out of the heaven as a voice of many waters, and as a voice of great thunder. And the voice which I heard [was] as of harp-singers harping with their harps;

3 and they sing a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders. And no one could learn that song save the hundred [and] forty-four thousand who were bought from the earth.

4 These are they who have not been defiled with women, for they are virgins: these are they who follow the Lamb wheresoever it goes. These have been bought from men [as] first-fruits to God and to the Lamb:

5 and in their mouths was no lie found; [for] they are blameless.

6 And I saw another angel flying in mid-heaven, having [the] everlasting glad tidings to announce to those settled on the earth, and to every nation and tribe and tongue and people,

7saying with a loud voice, Fear God and give him glory, for the hour of his judgment has come; and do homage to him who has made the heaven and the earth and the sea and fountains of waters.

8And another, a second, angel followed, saying, Great Babylon has fallen, has fallen, which of the wine of the fury of her fornication has made all nations drink.

9And another, a third, angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any one do homage to the beast and its image, and receive a mark upon his forehead or upon his hand, 10he also shall drink of the wine of the fury of God prepared unmixed in the cup of his wrath, and he shall be tormented in fire and brimstone before the holy angels and before the Lamb.

11And the smoke of their torment goes up to ages of ages, and they have no respite day and night who do homage to the beast and to its image, and if any one receive the mark of its name.

12Here is the endurance of the saints, who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus.

13And I heard a voice out of the heaven saying, Write, Blessed the dead who die in [the] Lord from henceforth. Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; for their works follow with them.

14And I saw, and behold, a white cloud, and on the cloud one sitting like [the] Son of man, having upon his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Send thy sickle and reap; for the hour of reaping is come, for the harvest of the earth is dried.

16And he that sat on the cloud put his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17And another angel came out of the temple which [is] in the heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18And another angel came out of the altar, having power over fire, and called with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Send thy sharp sickle, and gather the bunches of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripened.

19And the angel put his sickle to the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast [the bunches] into the great wine-press of the fury of God;

20and the wine-press was trodden without the city, and blood went out of the wine-press to the bits of the horses for a thousand six hundred stadia.

15And I saw another sign in the heaven, great and wonderful: seven angels having seven plagues, the last; for in them the fury of God is completed.

2And I saw as a glass sea, mingled with fire, and those that had gained the victory over the beast, and over its image, and over the number of its name, standing upon the glass sea, having harps of God.

3And they sing the song of Moses bondman of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and wonderful [are] thy works, Lord God Almighty; righteous and true [are] thy ways, O King of nations.

4Who shall not fear [thee], O Lord, and glorify thy name? for [thou] only [art] holy; for all nations shall come and do homage before thee; for thy righteousnesses have been made manifest.

5And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of witness in the heaven was opened;

6and the seven angels who had the seven plagues came out of the temple, clothed in pure bright linen, and girded about the breasts with golden girdles.

7And one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls, full of the fury of God, who lives to the ages of ages.

8And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from his power: and no one could enter into the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels were completed.

16 And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go and pour out the seven bowls of the fury of God upon the earth.

2And the first went and poured out his bowl on the earth; and there came an evil and grievous sore upon the men that had the mark of the beast, and those who worshipped its image.

3And the second poured out his bowl on the sea; and it became blood, as of a dead man; and every living soul died in the sea.

4And the third poured out his bowl on the rivers, and [on] the fountains of waters; and they became blood.

5And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Thou art righteous, who art and wast, the holy one, that thou hast judged so;

6for they have poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; they are worthy.

7And I heard the altar saying, Yea, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous [are] thy judgments.

8And the fourth poured out his bowl on the sun; and it was given to it to burn men with fire.

9And the men were burnt with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, who had authority over these plagues, and did not repent to give him glory.

10 And the fifth poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast; and its kingdom became darkened; and they gnawed their tongues with distress,

11 and blasphemed the God of the heaven for their distresses and their sores, and did not repent of their works.

12 And the sixth poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates; and its water was dried up, that the way of the kings from the rising of the sun might be prepared.

13 And I saw out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, as frogs;

14 for they are [the] spirits of demons, doing signs; which go out to the kings of the whole habitable world to gather them together to the war of [that] great day of God the Almighty.

15 (Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed [is] he that watches and keeps his garments, that he may not walk naked, and that they [may not] see his shame.)

16 And he gathered them together to the place called in Hebrew, Armagedon.

17 And the seventh poured out his bowl on the air; and there came out a great voice from the temple of the heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, such an earthquake, so great.

19 And the great city was [divided] into three parts; and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon was remembered before God to give her the cup of the wine of the fury of his wrath.

20 And every island fled, and mountains were not found;

21 and a great hail, as of a talent weight, comes down out of the heaven upon men; and men blasphemed God because of the plague of hail, for the plague of it is exceeding great.

17 And one of the seven angels, which had the seven bowls, came and spoke with me, saying, Come here, I will shew thee the sentence of the great harlot who sits upon the many waters;

2 with whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication; and they that dwell on the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 And he carried me away in spirit to a desert; and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was clothed in purple and scarlet, and had ornaments of gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and the unclean things of her fornication;

[5]and upon her forehead a name written, Mystery, great Babylon, the mother of the harlots, and of the abominations of the earth.

[6]And I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the witnesses of Jesus. And I wondered, seeing her, with great wonder.

[7]And the angel said to me, Why hast thou wondered? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast which carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns.

[8]The beast which thou sawest was, and is not, and is about to come up out of the abyss and go into destruction: and they who dwell on the earth, whose names are not written from the founding of the world in the book of life, shall wonder, seeing the beast, that it was, and is not, and shall be present.

[9]Here is the mind that has wisdom: The seven heads are seven mountains, whereon the woman sits.

[10]And there are seven kings: five have fallen, one is, the other has not yet come; and when he comes he must remain [only] a little while.

[11]And the beast that was and is not, he also is an eighth, and is of the seven, and goes into destruction.

[12]And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have not yet received a kingdom, but receive authority as kings one hour with the beast.

[13]These have one mind, and give their power and authority to the beast.

[14]These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them; for he is Lord of lords and King of kings: and they [that are] with him called, and chosen, and faithful.

[15]And he says to me, The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sits, are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues.

[16]And the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and shall burn her with fire;

[17]for God has given to their hearts to do his mind, and to act with one mind, and to give their kingdom to the beast until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

[18]And the woman which thou sawest is the great city, which has kingship over the kings of the earth.

18 After these things I saw another angel descending out of the heaven, having great authority: and the earth was lightened with his glory.

[2]And he cried with a strong voice, saying, Great Babylon has fallen, has fallen, and has become the habitation of demons, and a hold of every unclean spirit, and a hold of every unclean and hated bird;

[3]because all the nations have drunk of the wine of the fury of her fornication; and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth have been enriched through the might of her luxury.

[4]And I heard another voice out of the heaven saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye have not fellowship in her sins, and that ye do not receive of her plagues:

[5]for her sins have been heaped on one another up to the heaven, and God has remembered her unrighteousnesses.

[6]Recompense her even as she has recompensed; and double [to her] double, according to her works. In the cup which she has mixed, mix to her double.

[7]So much as she has glorified herself and lived luxuriously, so much torment and grief give to her. Because she says in her heart, I sit a queen, and I am not a widow; and I shall in no wise see grief:

[8]for this reason in one day shall her plagues come, death and grief and famine, and she shall be burnt with fire; for strong [is the] Lord God who has judged her.

[9]And the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication, and lived luxuriously with her, shall weep and wail over her, when they see the smoke of her burning,

[10]standing afar off, through fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for in one hour thy judgment is come.

[11]And the merchants of the earth weep and grieve over her, because no one buys their lading any more;

[12]lading of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and pearl, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet dye, and all thyine wood, and every article in ivory, and every article in most precious wood, and in brass, and in iron, and in marble,

[13]and cinnamon, and amomum, and incense, and unguent, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and cattle, and sheep, and of horses, and of chariots, and of bodies, and souls of men.

[14]And the ripe fruits which were the lust of thy soul have departed from thee, and all fair and splendid things have perished from thee, and they shall not find them any more at all.

[15]The merchants of these things, who had been enriched through her, shall stand afar off through fear of her torment, weeping and grieving,

[16]saying, Woe, woe, the great city, which [was] clothed with fine linen and purple and scarlet, and had ornaments of gold and precious stones and pearls!

[17]for in one hour so great riches has been made desolate. And every steersman, and every one who sailed to any place, and sailors, and all who exercise their calling on the sea, stood afar off,

[18]and cried, seeing the smoke of her burning, saying, What [city] is like to the great city?

[19]and cast dust upon their heads, and cried, weeping and grieving, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, in which all that had ships in the sea were enriched through her costliness! for in one hour she has been made desolate.

[20]Rejoice over her, heaven, and [ye] saints and apostles and prophets; for God has judged your judgment upon her.

[21]And a strong angel took up a stone, as a great millstone, and cast [it] into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall Babylon the great city be cast down, and shall be found no more at all;

[22]and voice of harp-singers and musicians and flute-players and trumpeters shall not be heard any more at all in thee, and no artificer of any art shall be found any more at all in thee, and voice of millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee,

[23]and light of lamp shall shine no more at all in thee, and voice of bridegroom and bride shall be heard no more at all in thee; for thy merchants were the great ones of the earth; for by thy sorcery have all the nations been deceived.

[24]And in her was found [the] blood of prophets and saints, and of all the slain upon the earth.

19 [1]After these things I heard as a loud voice of a great multitude in the heaven, saying, Hallelujah: the salvation and the glory and the power of our God:

[2]for true and righteous [are] his judgments; for he has judged the great harlot which corrupted the earth with her fornication, and has avenged the blood of his bondmen at her hand.

[3]And a second time they said, Hallelujah. And her smoke goes up to the ages of ages.

[4]And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and did homage to God who sits upon the throne, saying, Amen, Hallelujah.

[5]And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his bondmen, [and] ye that fear him, small and great.

[6]And I heard as a voice of a great crowd, and as a voice of many waters, and as a voice of strong thunders, saying, Hallelujah, for [the] Lord our God the Almighty has taken to himself kingly power.

[7]Let us rejoice and exult, and give him glory; for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife has made herself ready.

[8]And it was given to her that she should be clothed in fine linen, bright [and] pure; for the fine linen is the righteousnesses of the saints.

[9]And he says to me, Write, Blessed [are] they who are called to the supper of the marriage of the Lamb. And he says to me, These are the true words of God.

[10]And I fell before his feet to do him homage. And he says to me, See [thou do it] not. I am thy fellow-bondman, and [the fellow-bondman] of thy brethren who have the testimony of Jesus. Do homage to God. For the spirit of prophecy is the testimony of Jesus.

[11]And I saw the heaven opened, and behold, a white horse, and one sitting on it, [called] Faithful and True, and he judges and makes war in righteousness.

[12]And his eyes are a flame of fire, and upon his head many diadems, having a name written which no one knows but himself;

[13]and [he is] clothed with a garment dipped in blood; and his name is called The Word of God.

[14]And the armies which [are] in the heaven followed him upon white horses, clad in white, pure, fine linen.

[15]And out of his mouth goes a sharp [two-edged] sword, that with it he might smite the nations; and he shall shepherd them with an iron rod; and he treads the wine-press of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty.

[16]And he has upon his garment, and upon his thigh, a name written, King of kings, and Lord of lords.

[17]And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in mid-heaven, Come, gather yourselves to the great supper of God,

[18]that ye may eat flesh of kings, and flesh of chiliarchs, and flesh of strong men, and flesh of horses and of those that sit upon them, and flesh of all, both free and bond, and small and great.

[19]And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies gathered together to make war against him that sat upon the horse, and against his army.

[20]And the beast was taken, and the false prophet that [was] with him, who wrought the signs before him by which he deceived them that received the mark of the beast, and those that worship his image. Alive were both cast into the lake of fire which burns with brimstone;

[21]and the rest were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which goes out of his mouth; and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

20And I saw an angel descending from the heaven, having the key of the abyss, and a great chain in his hand.

[2]And he laid hold of the dragon, the ancient serpent who is [the] devil and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,

[3]and cast him into the abyss, and shut [it] and sealed [it] over him, that he should not any more deceive the nations until the thousand years were completed;

after these things he must be loosed for a little time.

4And I saw thrones; and they sat upon them, and judgment was given to them; and the souls of those beheaded on account of the testimony of Jesus, and on account of the word of God; and those who had not done homage to the beast nor to his image, and had not received the mark on their forehead and hand; and they lived and reigned with the Christ a thousand years:

5the rest of the dead did not live till the thousand years had been completed. This [is] the first resurrection.

6Blessed and holy he who has part in the first resurrection: over these the second death has no power; but they shall be priests of God and of the Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7And when the thousand years have been completed, Satan shall be loosed from his prison, 8and shall go out to deceive the nations which [are] in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war, whose number [is] as the sand of the sea.

9And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city: and fire came down [from God] out of the heaven and devoured them.

10And the devil who deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where [are] both the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night for the ages of ages.

11And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled, and place was not found for them.

12And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened; and another book was opened, which is [that] of life. And the dead were judged out of the things written in the books according to their works.

13And the sea gave up the dead which [were] in it, and death and hades gave up the dead which [were] in them; and they were judged each according to their works:

14and death and hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, [even] the lake of fire.

15And if any one was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21And I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and the sea exists no more.

2And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of the heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

[3]And I heard a loud voice out of the heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God [is] with men, and he shall tabernacle with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, their God.

[4]And he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall not exist any more, nor grief, nor cry, nor distress shall exist any more, for the former things have passed away.

[5]And he that sat on the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he says [to me], Write, for these words are true and faithful.

[6]And he said to me, It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give to him that thirsts of the fountain of the water of life freely.

[7]He that overcomes shall inherit these things, and I will be to him God, and he shall be to me son.

[8]But to the fearful and unbelieving, [and sinners], and those who make themselves abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their part [is] in the lake which burns with fire and brimstone; which is the second death.

[9]And there came one of the seven angels which had had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues, and spoke with me, saying, Come here, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.

[10]And he carried me away in [the] Spirit, [and set me] on a great and high mountain, and shewed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of the heaven from God,

[11]having the glory of God. Her shining [was] like a most precious stone, as a crystal-like jasper stone;

[12]having a great and high wall; having twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names inscribed, which are those of the twelve tribes of [the] sons of Israel.

[13]On [the] east three gates; and on [the] north three gates; and on [the] south three gates; and on [the] west three gates.

[14]And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

[15]And he that spoke with me had a golden reed [as] a measure, that he might measure the city, and its gates, and its wall.

[16]And the city lies four-square, and its length [is] as much as the breadth. And he measured the city with the reed -- twelve thousand stadia: the length and the breadth and height of it are equal.

[17]And he measured its wall, a hundred [and] forty-four cubits, [a] man's measure, that is, [the] angel's.

[18]And the building of its wall [was] jasper; and the city pure gold, like pure glass:

[19]the foundations of the wall of the city [were] adorned with every precious stone: the first foundation, jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald;

[20]the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprasus; the eleventh, jacinth; the twelfth, amethyst.

[21]And the twelve gates, twelve pearls; each one of the gates, respectively, was of one pearl; and the street of the city pure gold, as transparent glass.

[22]And I saw no temple in it; for the Lord God Almighty is its temple, and the Lamb.

[23]And the city has no need of the sun nor of the moon, that they should shine for it; for the glory of God has enlightened it, and the lamp thereof [is] the Lamb.

[24]And the nations shall walk by its light; and the kings of the earth bring their glory to it.

[25]And its gates shall not be shut at all by day, for night shall not be there.

[26]And they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations to it.

[27]And nothing common, nor that maketh an abomination and a lie, shall at all enter into it; but those only who [are] written in the book of life of the Lamb.

22And he shewed me a river of water of life, bright as crystal, going out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

[2]In the midst of its street, and of the river, on this side and on that side, [the] tree of life, producing twelve fruits, in each month yielding its fruit; and the leaves of the tree for healing of the nations.

[3]And no curse shall be any more; and the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him,

[4]and they shall see his face; and his name [is] on their foreheads.

[5]And night shall not be any more, and no need of a lamp, and light of [the] sun; for [the] Lord God shall shine upon them, and they shall reign to the ages of ages.

[6]And he said to me, These words [are] faithful and true; and [the] Lord God of the spirits of the prophets has sent his angel to shew to his bondmen the things which must soon come to pass.

[7]And behold, I come quickly. Blessed [is] he who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book.

[8]And I, John, [was] he who heard and saw these things. And when I heard and saw, I fell down to do homage before the feet of the angel who shewed me these things.

[9]And he says to me, See [thou do it] not. I am thy fellow-bondman, and [the fellow-bondman] of thy brethren the prophets, and of those who keep the words of this book. Do homage to God.

[10]And he says to me, Seal not the words of the prophecy of this book. The time is near.

[11]Let him that does unrighteously do unrighteously still; and let the filthy make himself filthy still; and let him that is righteous practise righteousness still; and he that is holy, let him be sanctified still.

[12]Behold, I come quickly, and my reward with me, to render to every one as his work shall be.

[13]I [am] the Alpha and the Omega, [the] first and [the] last, the beginning and the end.

[14]Blessed [are] they that wash their robes, that they may have right to the tree of life, and that they should go in by the gates into the city.

[15]Without [are] the dogs, and the sorcerers, and the fornicators, and the murderers, and the idolaters, and every one that loves and makes a lie.

[16]I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify these things to you in the assemblies. I am the root and offspring of David, the bright [and] morning star.

[17]And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that hears say, Come. And let him that is athirst come; he that will, let him take [the] water of life freely.

[18]I testify to every one who hears the words of the prophecy of this book, If any one shall add to these things, God shall add to him the plagues which are written in this book.

[19]And if any one take from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the tree of life, and out of the holy city, which are written in this book.

[20]He that testifies these things says, Yea, I come quickly. Amen; come, Lord Jesus.

[21]The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ [be] with all the saints.
